STORM TOSSES FLYING CLIPPER OVER ATLANTIC

200 MILES OFF IRELAND.

First All-daylight Crossing Gives Passenger Craft Rigorous Test.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—Stormy weather over the Atlantic today gave the Pan American Clipper III the most rigorous test of its flights to determine the feasibility of commercial air traffic between Europe and America.

Shortly after taking off from the River Shannon, at Foynes, Ireland, at 4.19 a.m. (11.19 p.m. EDT Thursday) on its return trip to North America, the giant flying boat ran into rain and mist.

Battling a 27-mile-an-hour headwind, the plane was 200 miles from Foynes at 2.00 a.m. EDT., Pan American Airway officials here reported. They said the ship had said it was flying only 500 feet above the waves because of a low ceiling.

It was the first all-daylight crossing of the test flights.

Captain Harold E. Gray, commanding a crew of seven, hoped to bring the Clipper down at Botwood, Nfld, about 3.00 p.m. E.D.T., after a 1,995-mile flight.

CENTRAL ONTARIO CROPS NEED RAIN

Tomato Yield Said Depending on Early Shower—Grain Ripening Too Fast.

TORONTO, August 6 — (A.P.). — Field crops in Central Ontario and Niagara Peninsula are "badly" in need of rain, it was stated to-day at the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The tomato crop yield is entirely dependent upon rain shortly, spring grains are ripening too fast in the hot weather, and the yield will not be so good as had been expected.

Early crops were damaged in Northern Ontario by lack of rain, and the fall wheat crop there was the tightest in years. There has been an abundance of rain there since mid-July and conditions have improved considerably, with late crops looking good.

Eastern Ontario had rain a week ago when it was urgently needed, and does not need rain at this time. Western Ontario "could do with rain" but does not urgently require it, the Department said.

Rust has damaged wheat in spots in Central and Eastern Ontario. Rust affects grain so that it does not fill out and in some counties along the St. Lawrence rust conditions are so bad fields were cut for fodder, according to P. H. Symons of the Statistics Branch of the Agricultural Department.

"Generally speaking for conditions throughout the province, spring grains will show an almost average crop," said Mr. Symons. "Fall wheat was a good average, but was not the bumper crop expected. "The yield of spring grain, particularly oats, will not be so great as expected a month ago. The grains have ripened too fast and rust has been a big factor in lowering the expected yield."

Find Man Slain In Hamilton Yard

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 6 —(C. P.). — The body of a man found in a yard of a Park Street house early to-day was identified later as that of John Truman, a former resident of Hamilton and known to the police as a transient.

Truman is believed to have met foul play.

Police learned two men were seen by taxi drivers to be carrying an unconscious form into the yard last night. The drivers paid little attention, thinking the man was intoxicated.

The yard adjoins a glass factory, and when workmen arrived to-day they saw the body and notified the police.

A superficial examination showed Truman suffered a blow across the forehead, cutting his face from the top of the nose to the crown of the head.

WANTS MORE MONEY.

But M-G-M Thinks $1,100 a Week Enough for Freddie Bartholomew.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6 (A.P.). — If Freddie Bartholomew wan't get for $1,100 a week at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he won't work for a rival studio either, according to a temporary injunction held by M-G-M.

Hearing whether the injunction shall be made permanent was set for next Thursday.

M-G-M. said it was paying the 13-year-old actor $350 salary and a $750 bonus a week, but that his aunt and guardian, Myllicent Bartholomew, has expressed intention of breaching his contract and seeking more money elsewhere.

Toronto Paralysis Outbreak Raises Alarm

Three New Cases Reported One Day Bring Total To 39

Ontario Health Department Officials Express Uneasiness Over Situation.

CALL FOR BLOOD.

Authorities Gather Donations From 115 and Ask 50 More to Assist.

TORONTO, Aug 6 — (CP).—Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported today by Dr. Gordon P. Jackson, Medical Health Officer. Two were in the city and one in suburban York County.

Cases reported today bring this year's total to 39 to date, including 21 in Toronto and 18 in suburbs. During 1936 only 32 cases were reported in city and district.

Officials of city and Ontario health departments said they were replying on convalescent serum for treatment and prevention of the disease. They said there are no successful preventative serums yet developed.

Provincial department officials expressed uneasiness over the outbreak. The department is gathering more convalescent blood from Toronto donors who number 115. Next week 50 more are being asked to give a second supply.

There is a difference of opinion among medical men in United States about the efficacy of convelscent serum, but the medical profession here has full faith in it according to Dr. Jackson and Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Ontario Minister of Health. "We have great faith in convalescent serum and we want our people to be alert to detect cases early and prevent paralysis," said Dr. Faulkner.

Typing Champion

The Dominion's perennial speed-typing champion, Miss Irma Wright (ABOVE), of Toronto, has set 100,000,000 words as her goal before she retires. Miss Wright made this announcement as she entered the International Typewriting contest to be held at the Canadian National Exhibition on August 28. Miss Wright, who won her first championship in 1924, estimates she has already written 50,000,000 words.

GARAGEMAN OPENS FIRE ON THIEVES TAKING GASOLINE

ESCAPED IN TRAFFIC.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Aug. 6.—Pistol shots disturbed the residents of the eastern section of the town Thursday morning when J. Reynolds, proprietor of a service station fired a fusilade after thieves who stole ten gallons of gas. Mr. Reynolds sleeps at the service station and was aroused by the activities of the men. The thieves drove away at terrific speed and escaped via the Toronto highway. It is understood that Mr. Reynolds secured the license number on the car. Prior to visiting the gas station the thieves, it is believed tried to enter Woolard's drug store at Bobcaygeon, but were chased by the village nightwatchman. The drug store was burglarized about ten days ago. Toronto police were notified and they gave chase after a car which was travelling at a lively rate along Danforth avenue. The men escaped and it is believed they headed for Hamilton.

Local police have been notified that the cheque artist who operated successfully in Port Perry and Uxbridge last week has been arrested at Willowdale. The accused had been working at that point and his activities, it has been disclosed covered a number of towns.

U. S. RENEWS PACT WITH THE SOVIET

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP).—President Roosevelt proclaimed today a new commercial agrement with Soviet Russia by which that country agrees to purchase $40,000,000 in United States' products during the next year.

This is an increase of $10,000,000 over the amount of goods the Soviet Government obligated itself to buy in a somewhat similar agreement which expired on July 12.

In return, the United States granted unconditional most-favored nation commercial treatment to Russia for the first time.

This means it will give the benefit not only of all tariff concessions out of all other commercial privileges and advantages it accords to other countries.

The State Department said the new compact became effective on Aug. 4 with an exchange of notes at Moscow between Ambassador Joseph E. Davies and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs.

It described the agreement as "evidence of the intention of the Soviet Government with respect to trade with the United States to continue to pursue policies and take actions in harmony with the purpose of the (American) Trade Agreements Act."

Pledge To His Mother Saves Belleville Boy

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 6. — (CP).—A boy's promise to his mother was responsible for the prevention of possible serious injury if not the loss of his life, it was learned here last night.

Some years ago, Ted Clarke, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clarke, promised his mother he would never leave home before telling her of his destination.

Returning to his home last Sunday, Clarke discovered his parents had gone out for a ride. A few minutes later two friends drove to the Clarke home and invited him to go for a ride. Remembering the promise made to his mother, Clarke refused.

Later he learned his friends, John Gunning, Toronto, and John Jackson, Belleville, had been involved in a serious motor accident. Gunning was severely injured.

WINDSOR GIRL MISSING.

18-Year-Old Girl Missing Along With Considerable Money

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 6.—(CP)—Relatives here have received no word concerning the whereabouts of 18-year-old Aileen Belinski, missing from Stratford since Monday. The girl's mother, Mrs. A. Belinski, Windsor, said her daughter had a considerable amount of money with her.

Miss Belinski went to Stratford to visit her sister, Mrs. A. Ellis, two weeks ago. Monday she left the house to go to a moving picture show and has not been seen since. She was also to transact some family business while at Stratford.

For Erie, Aug. 6 (CP).

ANOTHER link with the past is broken here in the death of Belle, a grey Percheron mare in her thirtieth year. The mare used to haul fire apparatus here before mechanized equipment was introduced.

Belle was brought to Fort Erie from Shedden, near St. Thomas, in 1918, along with a team-mate, Maude, by Frank Benner, local contractor. Both were employed to haul fire apparatus.

Maude died a year ago at the age of 29.

ALBERTA FLINGS GAUNTLET DOWN TO ITS BANKERS

Must Increase Province's Purchasing Power—If Unable Will Be Shown.

LICENSE BILL PASSES.

Social Crediters Deny Measure Will Hurt Confederation Ties —"Strengthen Them."

By J. F. Sanderson
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

EDMONTON, Aug. 6 (C.P.). — A four-day session of the Alberta Legislature was scheduled to end this afternoon with Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen assenting to a series of Bills unprecedented in Canadian history.

In a long day of fast action, the House yesterday advanced through committee stage several Bills designed by the Aberhart Government to pave the way for introduction of a Social Credit financial system. All that remained to-day was the formality of third reading.

All the excitement of the day related to the Bank-license Bill which Provincial Treasurer Solon Low said was designed to place the people of Alberta in control of the financial policies of banks operating in the province. Under its terms, bankers would be required to take out provincial licenses and subscribe to the supervision of the Provincial Credit Commission and local directorates, dominated by appointees of the Social Credit Board.

The Provincial Treasurer threw down the gauntlet to the chartered banks, saying it was up to them to devise means of increasing the $80,000,000 of purchasing power afloat in Alberta in comparison to $400,000,000 in debts.

Must Have Costs Cut.

The people of Alberta, Mr. Low said, were demanding $25 a month and a lower cost of living.

"It is not for the Government to tell the banks how it shall be done. They are the experts and that is their responsibility. But I might add that if the banks do not know how to do it, the Government will undertake to provide the necessary expert knowledge for them."

There were other features during the day including the prediction of Conservative Leader David Duggan the Bank-license Bill would lead to the secession of Alberta. Facing the Social Creditors across the floor, he told them: "If you are ready to say to the rest of Canada, we have no further use for Confederation, then you are running true to form in bringing down legislation of the sort."

Relief Minister Lucien Maynard challenged the threat of secession and also the claim of Gerald O'Connor, (Lib. Edmonton) the bill was unconstitutional.

The Bank Bill would not weaken the ties of Confederation, Mr. Maynard said. "We stand together with the people of Canada but we demand the right to look after the welfare of the people of this province."

Other Bills.

In addition to the Bank License Bill, the following were advanced through committee stage:

A bill empowering the Social Credit Board to appoint a temporary Provincial Credit Commission and devise means of distributing to the people the credit of the province in the form of dividends.

A bill blocking appeals to Alberta courts on the constitutionality of any provincial statute except with the permission of the Government.

The main defence of the bank-license came from the 3-year-old treasurer, a former school teacher and adherent of the Mormon church. He said the people of Alberta were determined to control financial policies affecting them and would brook no outside interference. The Government was equally determined to take over control "in order that the legitimate civil and property rights of Albertans may be protected."

"It is clear from conditions in Alberta, continued Mr. Low, "that those who control our banks are either out of touch with the demands of the people or they are deliberately thwarting their will. Whatever the reason, this state of affairs must be changed forthwith and control of policy must be assumed by the Government, on behalf of the people of the Province."

12 Pound 3 Ounce Pickerel Is Caught By D. White In Stoney

THE grandfather of all pickerel in the Stoney Lake region is reported caught by Dave White, Peterborough Bell Telephone employee, at Stoney Lake last evening. At 12 pounds and 3 ounces, the fish is believed to be the largest of its species ever taken out of Stoney Lake.

White was trolling past Hall's Island at Viamede when he made the catch, landing the big fish after a short battle. William Archibald, Alex. Watson and Roy Everett of Peterborough were on hand at the Viamede dock when the fish was brought in and vouch for its weight. Veteran fishermen and guides could not recall any pickerel of like size taken from those waters.

Reports circulated about Peterborough today that the fish was not a pickerel but a small-mouth black bass. Mislead by the report and knowing well that a 12 pound black bass would be a real record, a number of local persons set out for Hamilton's Landing, Stoney Lake, where the fish was stored on ice, to see the specimen this afternoon.

Sir John's Burial Plot Liable To Repossession

Payments For Maintenance of Grave Not Been Made Past Nine Years.

VISITED BY HUNDREDS.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 6 (CP)—Payments for maintenance of the grave of Sir John A. Macdonald in Cataraqui Cemetery here have not been made for nine years and the plot might legally be repossessed by the cemetery board, a superintendent said yesterday.

Cemetery officials have kept up the beautiful hillside spot where the famed "Father of Confederation" lies buried, but Superintendent E. K. Purdy said "Something should be done to insure the grave perpetual care." He believed there was little likilhood the plot would be repossessed.

He said the cemetery board had been paid no maintenance fees since the death of Sir John's son, Sir Hugh Macdonald, in Winnipeg in 1933. The grave is a shine visited every year by hundreds of persons with a love of political history. Sir Hugh, a magistrate in Winnipeg, had paid for the plot's upkeep prior to his death.

Under the cemetery act, Mr. Purdy said, any plot in which there has been no burial for 20 years and on which no maintenance fee has been paid for five years, the cemetery may repossess. This does not mean the grave would be disturbed, but the vacant land in the plot could be sold.

Sir John's grave is marked by a single column of granite and a plain white sandstone cross, bearing the inscription: "John Alexander Macdonald, 1815-1891. He rests." With him lie his wife, his sister, Lucia, his brother, Hugh; and his son and namesake, John.

Several other outstanding Canadians lie buried in the same cemetery. Not far from Sir John's grave is that of Sir Alexander Campbell, while others include Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir George A. Kirkpatrick and George Monro Grant.

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—(CP)—Garrett Tyrrell, secretary of the Central Conservative Association of Toronto, announced today he would accept responsibility for raising a fund to maintain the grave of Sir John A. Macdonald at Cataraqui cemetery Kingston, Ont.

Mr. Tyrrell said the small cemetery could not be expected to maintain the grave without remmeration and added: "Right here in Toronto I can raise enough money in a few hours."

Offer From Kingston.

KINGSTON, Aug. 6 (C.P.). — Directors of nearby Cataraque Cemetery to-day issued a statement they "feel it a privilege to maintain th last resting-place" there of Canada's first Premier, Sir John A. Macdonald. The cemetery company never had any intention to repossess any part of the burial plot of the late Premier although no maintenance payments have been made on it since 1926, they said.

W. F. Nickel, chairman of the Cemetery Company, issued the following statement on behalf of other directors:

"After the death of Sir John A. Macdonald, the cemetery authorities had correspondence with representatives of his estate when it was learned the necessary funds for perpetual care were not available. The then directors of the Cataraque Cemetery Company agreed the company would accept the responsibility on national and local grounds of maintaining the lot in perpetuity. Since that time the lot has always been maintained efficiently by the company.

Police Thermometer Hits 120 Degrees

SERGEANT John Thompson of the City Police Department really convinced himself this afternoon that it was too hot for comfort. He got the thermometer off the wall inside the office and placed it in direct sunlight on the rear of a parked auto behind the police station. The needle climbed from 82 degrees to 120 degrees and then quit because it could not register any higher. "Whew", he exclaimed brushing beads of perspiration from his brow. "Guess that's hot enough for me."

BRITISH, ITALIAN VESSELS BOMBED VICINITY ALGIERS

Three Monoplanes Drop 40 Projectiles and Machine Gun Britisher For Hour.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(AP).—Lloyd's reported from Gibraltar to-day that an Italian and British steamship had been bombarded by aircraft at almost the same spot off the coast of Algeria, near war-torn Spain.

The British tanker British Corporal flashed an SOS that she was being bombed, later cancelled it, and steamed into Algiers, 30 miles southeast. Her crew of 43 were safe and her wireless receiver, which she had reported smashed, was repaired.

A few hours later, Lloyd's said the Italian steamship Mongiola dispatched an SOS, saying she was bombarded from the air. The ship, of 6,113 tons, was bound from Genoa to New Orleans.

One Algiers report, not immediately confirmed said the Mongiola was trying to aid the British Corporal and that the Italian Commander, Luigi Ferrito, was wounded seriously.

The first flash from the Corporal, en route from the port of Abbadan in the Persian Gulf to Land's End, England, said: "We are being bombarded. Hurry!"

The British Corporals owners were advised from Algiers that "three monoplanes, nationality unstated, bombarded her for an hour. But there were no casualties and the gasoline-laden ship was but slightly damaged.

The monoplanes bombed the tanker from 5.20 a.m. to 6.15 a.m., dropping 40 projectiles. None of them made a direct hit, but the wireless apparatus was damaged by concussion and the tanker was sprayed with shrapnel. When the crew tried to take to the boats, the planes swept the decks with machine-gun fire.

Beyond the SOS nothing was heard from the Italian ship for several hours.

Baby Is Born Minute After Mother Passes

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6 (AP).—Doctors stood beside an incubator and oxygen tank today, fighting to save the life of a 3½ pound girl delivered in an operation performed one minute after the mother died.

Their first problem was to reduce the baby's temperature from 109 degrees.

That was the temperature of the mother, Mrs. Mary Boccassini, 27, at the time of her death from tuberculosis meningitis in hospital.

Five minutes before the mother's death, a nurse, stationed at the door of her room, summoned two doctors, waiting in an adjoining room for the woman to die.

For a few minutes they stood at the bedside while nurses brought into the room instruments that had been sterilized in advance for the operation.

The operation was performed in the room to save the loss of time involved in removing the body to an operating room. Speed was imperative. Doctors said the baby would have lived only a few minutes.

The tiny girl was placed in an incubator beside the bed in which her mother had died. Doctors did not immediately risk removing the incubator to another room.

Think Tot Escaped Disease.

They indicated the baby's temperature was their primary concern.

Two Large Bull Frogs Are In Training For Katchewanooka Hopping Contest

Two large bull frogs are reported to be in training at respective camps on Lake Katchewanooka. They are to be matched in a unique hopping contest in the near future.

Fred Marshall, former game and fisheries officer, said the contest was planned as part of the forthcoming birthday anniversary celebration of "Pop" Irons, his friend and neighbor at the summer resort.

"So far I'm betting the dough on my own entry", Mr. Marshall confided. His bull frog, named Dan Patch II after a trotting horse is being fed a special diet of black snakes, "to give him that weaving motion" by which Mr. Marshall hopes to outsmart the rival entry.

With a merry and mischievous twinkle in his eyes, Mr. Marshall claimed that "Pop's" entry Peter Direct (also named after a trotting horse) is kept chained to his owner-trainer's bed post most of the time.

It was for this reason, he said, that he had been unable to get a good look at him or sneak him away without "Pop's" knowledge in order to try the frog out against his own entry.

Rules of the hopping match call for an even start over a course 150-feet long. To his frog Dan Patch II, Mr. Marshall said that meant a mere three hops.

What it will mean to "Pop's" entry remains to be seen.

Up To Employers To State Position Before Any Action

Sees Comet Ending World On August 16

Paris, Aug. 6 (C.P.-Havas).

THE newspaper La Liberte last night quoted a stargazer as predicting the world will end Sunday, August 16.

The astrologist has discovered, the story stated, that the tail of the Finsler comet, now 50,000,000 miles from the earth and getting closer everyday, will wipe out this planet on the day indicated.

Workers Hope Industrial Board Will Make Effort to Solve Strike.

TORONTO, Aug. 6 (C.P.), — The Ontario Industry and Labor Board will take no action in the strike at Dominion Woollens, Peterborough, until both employers and employees agree to the board as arbitrators, it was stated to-day at the Queen's Park office of the chairman, E. J. Young.

"The employees want the board to arbitrate the dispute, but the employers have not yet stated their position," the office said. "So long as there is that indefiniteness on the part of the company, the Industry and Labor Board can take no action."

The board has received a request from G. N. Gordon, Peterborough, regarding the dispute. It has taken no action regarding the request and declined to comment on it or to state its content.

In a statement today, hearing upon the stalemate that has apparently developed in the local strike situation, Mayor George A. Macdonald said:

"The strike at the plants of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Company is now concluding its sixth week.

"I feel that I am but voicing the sentiment of the great majority of citizens in expressing the hope that an agreement should be quickly reached. Proposals submitted by the employers as well as others submitted by the employees have been considered at length, but, unfortunately, these were not acceptable to either party. Conferences have been held between representatives of the mills and the affected workmen.

"The Department of Labor through its conciliation officer, Mr. Louis Fine, and Mr. Cohen on behalf of the workers, have exercised their good offices but all these efforts appear to have failed in reaching a satisfactory agreement. It seems to me that the only course now left open is to submit the problem to the newly formed Industrial Board in the confident expectation that this Board will fix an agreement in the best interests of both parties concerned. However, it must be remembered that the Board in fixing a settlement will consider conditions as they pertain to the textile industry of Ontario.

"During the time that negotiations are in progress before the Industrial Board it would seem to me advisable for the employees to reopen their mills and for the employers to return to work.

"I hope that this statement by me will be received and considered by all parties concerned in the same spirit, one of co-operation to serve the best interests of all Peterborough, in which it is made."

PT. HOPE MECHANIC SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Faces Charge in Connection With Death of Two Women.

PORT HOPE, Aug. 6 (CP)—Cyrus Ashton, Port Hope garage mechanic, was committed for trial yesterday after preliminary hearing before Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell on a charge of manslaughter.

Ashton is charged in connection with the deaths of Mrs. Edgar Neal, Detroit, and Miss Kathleen Freer, Toronto, fatally injured when struck by a car here the night of July 23.

Two witnesses testified Ashton was lying alongside the death car after the accident. The car was identified as one stolen from the garage in which Ashton was employed.

Ashton testified he was walking along the roadside to go for a swim after work when he was brushed by a car and knocked into the ditch. The car continued on and crashed into a bridge, he said.

The women were struck just before the car hit the bridge, according to testimony.

Bail of $5,000 was set by Magistrate Campbell at the request of Crown Attorney F. D. Boggs.

SINO-JAP WAR SEEN TURNING UPON HANKOW

Capital of Hupeh Province, Terminus of Strategic Railway May Draw Attack.

ARMIES DRAW NEAR.

NANKING, Aug. 6—(AP).—Threat of armed conflict between Chinese and Japanese troops to-day spread to the Central China city of Hankow, capital of Hupeh Province.

Hankow is the southern terminus of the strategic railroad from Peiping along which the main body of the Japanese army is advancing from the north. The city has been the principal concentration point for Chinese armies being sent from the south and west to halt the Japanese advance.

Opposing forces along the Peiping-Hankow Railroad were reported to be nearing a meeting. A Japanese column 60 miles to the east was drawing nearer to Chinese forces advancing on the railroad from Pukow.

Isolation of Peiping, completely under the domination of the armies seeking to bring all North China under Japanese influence, was broken with the departure of the first train for Tientsin.

Service on the Peiping-Tientsin line has been interrupted throughout the month-old undeclared war for possession of the area. One hundred foreigners, including some Americans, were aboard the train.

The Japanese concession at Hankow was said to have been turned into an armed camp, with Japanese Marines erecting sandbag and barbed wire barricades.

The Marines were landed from the Japanese river patrol on the Hwang Ho after the 11th Torpedo Boat Flotilla declared a state of emergency existed in the area, hundreds of miles to the south of the North China war zone.

Japanese here charged that their Hankow concession had been ringed with Chinese barricades, manned day and night by Chinese soldiers with fixed bayonets and machine guns.

In view of these developments and the likelihood of hostilities spreading with the advance southward of the Japanese forces, the U.S. Consul at Hankow was said to have warned all Americans in his district north of the Yellow River to withdraw to places of safety.

New Mineral Found On Haliburton Farm

Gooderham, Aug. 6.

GREAT excitement prevailed here this week when it was learned that a valuable mineral was discovered on the farm occupied by Mr. Thomas Madill. Mr. Madill has built a road to it and they intend to start shipping the rock in a week or two. The rock contains valuable deposits of sodalite. It will employ a number of men from the village.

YOUNG TRENTON BOY HIT BY CAR

Jumps Off Wagon Into Path of Car Driven By Campbellford Man.

TRENTON, Aug. 6—Gordon Turnbull, 6, is in Belleville Hospital in critical condition as a result of an accident here late yesterday afternoon when he ran into the path of a car driven by Preston Hall, Campbellford.

He is suffering from concussion, lacerations of the head, broken leg and internal injuries.

Gordon, with his brother, David, 7, jumped onto the rear of a wagon in charge of Thomas Burns, Wooler Road, two blocks from their home. The wagon was going north and when opposite their residence at Front and Holland Streets, the young boys jumped off the back. Gordon running into the path of the southbound car.

Gordon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Turnbull, Trenton, who have had more than their share of misfortune through accidents to their children. Gordon was injured in another accident last winter, and Bobby, his 2-year-old brother, has just recovered from an accident in which he was seriously hurt.

CATTLE MARKET PRICES MOVE UP IN EVERY CLASS

Calves Open 50 Cents Higher —Hogs Start 25 Cents Up and Gain Another 10.

LAMBS HOLD STEADY.

TORONTO, August 6 — (A.P.). — All classes of killing cattle were steady to strong and better classes of stockers were 25 cents higher on the Toronto Livestock Market this week, the Dominion Livestock Branch reports. Calves opened 50 cents higher and remained steady. Hogs started the week 25 cents higher and gained a further 10 cents at the close. Lambs traded steady and sheep were unchanged.

The cattle supply of 7,400 head was practically the same as for last week. About 3,200 Westerns were included in the offering. Killing cattle were fairly active, with all offerings cleared at close of trading. Choice weighty steers sold from $9 to $9.50, with the six head reaching a top of $10.

Common steers sold downward to $7. Medium to good butcher steers and heifers brought $6.25 to $7.50, with a few choice light steers up to $8.25. Common butchers sold as low as $5, with some light thin cattle going as boners at from $3 to $4.

Good butcher cows reached $4.75 to $5.25, with a few at $5.50. Canners and cutters sold from $2.25 to $3. Good butcher bulls went at $4.75 to $5.25, and most bolognas sold at $3.50 to $4, although a few light bolognas went as low as $3.25. Fed calves were firm at $8 for medium and up to $11 for choice.

Store cattle trade was active with prices 25 cents higher, especially on the better grades. Common to medium stockers sold from $3.75 to $4.75, with a few good quality reaching $5.90. Odd lots of 800-pound feeder steers brought $6 to $6.50.

Milkers and springers were steady, with tops making around $65. Exports from Toronto were about 700 head to the United States and 100 to Great Britain. Buffalo reported receipt of 1,100 Canadian cattle, with three loads of 1,300 lb. good quality steers making a top of $14.25. The bulk of the Canadian cattle, however, sold below $11.

The calf run of 2,900 heads included 500 from he West. Good to choice vealers opened 50 cents higher at $8.50 to $9, with tops at $9.50. Common vealers sold downward to $5. Grassers went at $3.50 to 4.25. Exports of calves to the United States totalled 1,100 head.

Hog receipts during the week were 2,500 head. Opening 25 cents higher than last week, the market gained another 10 cents before the close. Closing sales were mostly $10.85, with a few long hauls up to $11. Sows brought $7.50 to $8 cwt.

Sheep and lamb receipts were 2,900 during the week. Lambs sold steady at $10.50 for good ewes and wethers, with culls at $8 to $9. Bucks went mostly at $9.50, with a few at $8.50. Sheep were firm at $1.50 to $2 for culls. Good light sheep mostly sold at $4, with a few lots at $4.50.

New Binder Gadget Cuts Straw Longer

Regina, Aug. 6.

WHILE Saskatchewan has a short crop in more ways than one, a good many of the farmers whose wheat is under a foot high will be able to harvest the greater portion and in places have something more than seed.

A gadget is being hurried onto the market for a small sum which, when attached to reapers, will cut the straw one inch from the ground instead of three inches, the regulation height. This will result in a greater length of straw which can be used as feed, and less damage to short heads.

Close gleaning should enable farmers to increase the amount of wheat or coarse grains taken off their fields. This will mean some farmers and in fact more than might be suspected will be a little better off than was expected.

ONE KILLED IN BLAST.

Two Score Injured in Paterson Manufacturing Plant Explosion.

PATERSON, N.J., Aug. 6—(AP).—At least one man was killed and two score injured to-day when an explosion demolished a brick building at a brake lining manufacturing plant and shook houses for blocks around.

The one known victim was John Loughree of Paterson, a workman. Several of the injured were in critical condition.

Police estimated about 175 workers were in the building when the explosion burst out the walls and shot bricks high in the air. Police and firemen pulled the injured men from the wreckage.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN GRAFTON CRASH

Two Toronto and Two New York Motorists Are in Cobourg Hospital.

COBOURG, Aug. 6—(CP).—Four motorists are in Cobourg Hospital following a head-on car collision near Grafton late Thursday afternoon.

The injured are: Mrs. Bessie Lake, 95 South Drive, Toronto, fractured kneecap and lacerations; Mrs. Mabel Moss, 106 Bernard Avenue, Toronto, broken ankle, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peables, Gloversville, N.Y., lacerations.

The Toronto car, which police say was on the wrong side of the road going west, collided with an Indiana car going east and then collided head-on with a New York car driven by Joseph Peables.

Provincial Constable F. Blucher of Colborne, who investigated, said Mrs. Moss was driver of the Toronto car. The Indiana motorists proceeded to Colborne, and their names are not available.

Deloro Children Picnic at Crowe

MARMORA, Aug. 6.—The annual picnic of Deloro Sunday school took place on Tipperary Hotel grounds at Crowe Lake on Thursday afternoon under ideal weather conditions. After many had enjoyed a swim, a short program of races was run off. Free ice cream and lemonade was liberally served to the gathering of scholars and parents which numbered about one hundred and twenty. 'Neath the shady trees on the shore line tables were set for the evening meal, for which everyone seemed to be ready.

Percy Farmer Suffers Broken Collar Bone

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 6. — Herman Johnston, Percy township farmer suffered a broken collar bone on Tuesday afternoon when his team of horses bolted while he was loading grain. The horses circled around the field by did no harm to the wagon or harness. Mr. Johnston cannot understand how he was struck as he was working alone and could not manage the horses. He was taken for medical treatment to Dr. Campbell and will be unable to work for some weeks.

Politician Dies

James J. Dooling, leader of Tammany Hall (Above), who died at Bell Harbor, L.I. He had been ill for several months but left his sick bed to stand at the helm of Tammany in the current mayoralty fight. Dooling created a political storm when he threw the support of Tammany behind U.S. Senator Royal S. Copeland, an inveterate new deal foe, against Grover Whalen, for the democratic nomination.

NEW CASES REPORTED.

Seven New Cases of Paralysis Reported in City of Toronto.

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—(CP).—Seven new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the Department of Health Thursday, Dr. Gordon Jackson, Medical Health Officer, announced. Five of the cases were within the city limits. There have been 21 city cases and 19 township cases this year, resulting in two deaths, Dr. Jackson said. Last year there were 23 cases in the city and nine outside with one death.

In Sport you are Courteous—

Try Courtesy in Driving

COURTESY and fair play are the very spirit of sport and sportsmen. Both "the gallery" and the contestants, and that includes nearly everybody, demand fair play.

But are you still "a good sport" when you are driving a car, truck or motorcycle? Do you still mete out fair play to your fellow-motorist by allowing him his rights and by not exacting your own when it is dangerous to do so? Do you keep well to the right side of the road, except when you pass the other fellow, and then do so at a safe distance after sounding your horn? Do you hand-signal your intention to slow down, stop or change direction? Do you refrain at all times from "pocketing", crowding or otherwise inconveniencing your fellow-motorists?

When every motorist can answer "yes" to all such questions then we can look forward to a great reduction in our shocking accident toll.

I earnestly request that you do your part and "Try Courtesy" every inch of the way.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

ANOTHER GREAT ROMANCE

By MARIE BLIZARD

Author of
THE ROMANCE RACKET
LADY, BE GALLANT
FLOWERS AT HER FEET
THE DAY THAT I FORGET

Enjoyed by Millions of Readers

Beginning Today Aug. 6
In the Examiner

Another enchanting love story from the pen of Marie Blizard, in which you watch the transformation of pretty Mary Barrett into the glamorous Mari Barat whose renown as a dress designer became world-wide. Wherever she traveled, Mari sketched as she went, every scene inspiring a color combination, a motif that became familiar to women everywhere. Yet it was merely the mechanical instinct in her, and not the woman herself, that created these treasures from scenes which should have stirred her inmost self. Something was lacking in her life.

Young Mountaineer Snapped Pictures Of His Rescuers

Spent 41 Hours Without Food On Rocky Mountain Ledge.

FELL THIRTY-SIX FEET.

MORLEY, Alta., Aug. 6.—(CP).—A cool young Calgary mountaineer who calmly snapped pictures of his rescuers as they came down the side of End Mountain to remove him from a ledge where he had been marooned nearly two days, Humprey Cooper was back at Camp Chief Hector to-day more worried about his stomach than his wounded head.

"I'm all right," he joked when he returned to camp near this Rocky Mountain town, 45 miles west of Calgary, last night following the rescue. "Just a headache and sore ribs. How about something to eat?"

His only injuries were a scalp wound and cut eye, suffered when he tumbled down the side of End Mountain to land on the narrow ledge.

Rescued By Guide.

The 21-year-old youth spent 41 hours without food on a ledge four feet wide and 15 feet long before he was taken off by Victor Kutschera, Austrian guide of Banff, and a rescue party. Without much water, he lay uncovered through two chilly nights, the hot sunshine of one day and half another.

Yet when the rescuers came down the side of the mountain to aid him, Cooper hauled out a vest-pocket camera he had been carrying and snapped several pictures.

With John Cansе of Regina, an experienced Alpinist, Cooper was attempting a hazardous descent of the 1,400-foot face of End Mountain when his hand slipped. He lost his hold, tumbled over the rocky surface, crashing 36 feet through a narrow gully to land on the small ledge.

"The first thing I knew," he said, "was John bending over me, washing my head with cold water from a miniature falls we had just passed."

"He bandaged my head, and then told me he was going for help. He said not to move from where I was and that he would be back soon. Then he was gone up the mountainside.

"I heard rocks rolling down for a while and then it was quiet for a long time. I just lay there and waited, without trying to move around."

Unable to Find Way Back

But Cansent was unable to find his way back in the darkness. He led the rescue party below the cliff by mistake.

"After a long time," Cooper said, "I heard someone about, and I could see flashlights moving below me. Then they were gone and I heard nothing more all night long."

Cansent led another rescue party to the scene on the next morning, but they were unable to reach the ledge. A messenger from the camp was sent to Morley to seek aid from Constable W. P. O. Solway of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Constable Solway called in Kutschera, the Austrian guide.

With full mountain climbing equipment, and using experience gained through years spent in his native Alps and in the Rockies, Kutschera easily made the descent to the ledge. He was aided only by Cansent.

A rope sling was fastened about Cooper's shoulder and after a five hour struggle over 1,200 feet of jagged rocks and cliff, he was returned to sheer ground. Then Kutschera left the work of returning Cooper to Camp Chief Hector to the other members of the party. He had to hurry back to Banff.

As he passed through the base camp, six miles from Camp Chief Hector and four from the ledge, he refused to discuss his achievements.

"The others are bringing Cooper down, he said. "He's O.K."

Hitch-Hiker Also Takes Risks On Highways One Of Them Relates

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6 (CP).—Hitch-hiking is just as risky for the hiker as for the motorist who picks him up, John Harris, 26-year-old Saskatchewan "road knight," said on a visit here. His travels have taken him to many parts of the world.

"Stepping into some cars is like taking your life in your hands," he said. "Usually when my temporary host is too reckless, I offer to relieve him at the wheel—it's easier on the nerves. That's why I carry a driver's and chauffeur's license.

"One pair that picked me up were 'hop-heads' and I was awfully glad to get out of that car. They were weaving all over the road.

"Salesmen and business women are a hiker's best friends," he said. "Nurses, too, are generous in picking up strangers on the road. Usually travelling alone, they like company."

"About seven cars in 10 will stop and give one a lift—except in the Prairie provinces where about seven of 10 will pass by."

Harris' two worst experiences were at Algiers, French North Africa, and in Tokio. He jumped ship in Tokio and was held at the immigration station for four months before being deported to the United States.

At Algiers recruiting point for the French Foreign Legion, Harris was lured into the backroom of a saloon where he was surrounded by Legionnaires. He said he made a wild dash, leaped through a window and succeeded in getting back to his ship.

DROWNED IN LAKE.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. — Provincial Police last night checked a report a Buffalo man drowned in the lake here. The Scourge Of Summer

Infantile paralysis, the scourge of the summer months, has once more raised its ugly head in various parts of Canada and from health departments the warning has gone forth to doctors and parents to be on the alert against the dread disease.

There have been a number of deaths in Toronto already, Manitoba reports an outbreak, several children in the Maritime provinces have been stricken so that it is evident that no particular district has the right to expect immunity.

While there is no occasion to become panic-stricken over the re-appearance of infantile paralysis it is well for the public and especially for the parents of young children to remain on guard and watch their families closely, in order that the disease may be detected in its early stages should it develop. The safest course is to seek medical advice when any unusual conditions arise, especially such symptoms as vomiting, a slight sore throat, a running nose and a pain in the back of the neck. In the opinion of health authorities such disturbances at this season justify seeking medical advice at once and it is a precaution that should not be neglected. In the majority of cases of course it will be found that there is nothing serious but in the event that the worst fears are realized then parents know that they have given their children the best possible chance for recovery by making sure that they have had medical attention at the earliest possible opportunity. One word of comfort is supplied in the statement of Hon. Dr. Faulkner, Ontario's Health Minister to the effect that ninety per cent. of people are immune to the disease.

They're Living Longer

Medical science, in the past generation has lengthened remarkably the average span of human life. Great gains have been made in saving the lives of young children. Thirty years ago the deaths of children under five years of age represented about a quarter of the total mortality rate. Now the proportion for the same age group is about seven per cent.

In the same thirty years the birth rate has declined considerably. According to the director of New York's division of vital statistics the lengthening of the life span and the lowering of the birthrate will soon be affecting unfavorably the death rate.

Putting it simply, more old people must eventually mean more deaths. A larger proportion of the population now lives out the lifespan of three score years and ten. But they do not live much longer and the maximum length of life has not been changed a great deal by medical progress. A much larger percentage of old folk than formerly are now nearing the inevitable end of life while fewer are being born to take their places.

Aldous Huxley, the author, compared the coming world to life on a cruising liner on a long voyage. Old folk and feeble may be in the majority. And it is a strange outcome of all that science has done to save and lengthen life that the death rate is inevitably doomed to rise. It will rise because so many more than formerly have survived the perils of infancy that the hazards of middle age but must die at last.

Here's Real Fishing News

With the quiet confidence we possess in the value of the fishing facilities of this district, we are usually satisfied to let that value be taken for granted and to allow papers in other sections to indulge in fulsome praise of their advantages from an angler's viewpoint. But when a tourist comes along as J. F. Clarke of Winnipeg has done and starts a personal "Where They Get Them Column" within three minutes of the post-office, that's news and it calls for us to drop our usual modest attitude and begin a little horn-tooting about the fisherman's paradise right at our door.

Mr. Clarke has been staying at the new tourist camp at Riverside Park and instead of merely making that spot his headquarters and travelling all over the district in search of fish the Winnipeg man took one look at the picturesque Otonabee and ejaculating something that sounded like "Here's my meat" went to work. When he was last interviewed his box score showed a total of over 50 pickerel and bass all taken in the neighborhood of the half million dollar bridge that still figures so prominently in our tax bills. We know folk who call themselves fishermen who fail to bag anything like that number in a whole summer around the various fishing resorts of the district so that Mr. Clarke has rather made history in bringing home half a hundred fish and the fact that he caught them where staid citizens travelling homeward on the Ashburnham bus could look out the window and perhaps get a glimpse of the capture renders his achievement all the more notable. We hope that in the next tourist-promotion publicity that is sent winging out over the continent there will be a notice somewhere in connection with the Peterborough tourist camp that will call attention to the fact that there is good bass and pickerel fishing right outside the doors of the tents and trailers of the tourist camp colony.

The Right Way To Tell Them

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario's minister of agriculture is wisely using the advertising columns of the newspapers to tell the farmers of the province that at the last session of the legislature steps were taken to protect the owners of cattle against losses through having their stock killed or injured by dogs. The course adopted by the Minister is wise because it is doubtful whether many farmers had heard about the change that was adopted by the Legislature giving cattle owners the same opportunity to recoup their losses as was always available to the owners of sheep attacked by dogs. For many years sheep were the only livestock so guarded by law, possibily because they seem to be especially marked out for canine assault but so many complaints had been heard from various sections of Ontario from farmers who had had cows injured in this manner the government decided it was time to do something about the matter.

Accordingly the Dog Tax and live-stock Protection Act was drawn up and passed, providing that if the owner of cattle attacked by dogs notifies the municipality within 48 hours the municipality is liable for the loss sustained as estimated by a valuer appointed by the municipal council. In the event no appointment has been made the amount of damage may be set by a valuer appointed by the government.

The new legislation is of considerable importance to the farming community so that Hon. Mr. Marshall is entirely justified in making sure that the details are brought to the attention of the folk for whose benefit the measure was passed. The newspaper of course is the most effective medium by which to accomplish that end.

Crossing The Street

The National Safety Council of the United States, after gathering many accident statistics, has reached the conclusion that the crying need of adults is to learn how to cross streets. There is much of course in that contention because the figures show that of the 37,800 motor fatalities in the United States last year 15,100 of the victims were pedestrians. It cannot be too strongly impressed upon everyone, children as well as adults, that greater care should be taken in travelling across city streets. It has been emphasized many times that it is in the interest of life to cross crossings carefully. But in too many cases the pedestrian doesn't use the crossing at designated places where there are traffic lights affording a measure of safety.

However after we have succeeded in teaching the man on foot to exercise care about how he gets across the street then remains the task of educating the man at the wheel to give the pedestrain a chance. We have much to learn in that respect for the usual technique of too many drivers when they see a person start to cross on foot is to sound a blast of the horn at them to stop and let the car through and to glare at the pedestrian if he is little slow about complying. The thought that the individual who is walking across the street at an intersection may have the right of way never seems to flash across the mind of this class of motorist.

Over in England the law emphasizes that point, and leaves nothing to guesswork. It is all set forth in two sections of the regulations which read as follows.

(3) The driver of every vehicle approaching a crossing shall unless he can see there is no foot traffic thereon proceed at such a speed as to be able if necessary to stop before reaching such crossing.

(4) The driver of every vehicle at or approaching a crossing where traffic is not controlled by a police officer or lights shall allow free and uninterrupted passage to any foot passenger who is on the carriage-way at such crossing and such foot passengers shall have precedence over all vehicular traffic at such crossing.

Protecting The Public

We imagine the public will support the Ontario Department of Health in its request to municipalities to pass bylaws requiring more effective and careful washing of glasses, dishes and other utensils in beverage rooms, restaurants and all other refreshment places, especially when it is learned that bacterial tests have resulted in the discovery that glasses and dishes in a number of cases contained harmful organisms.

Observation of the methods of washing dishes in a variety of places serving the public, cannot fail to impress the fact that too often the operation is decidedly sketchy. Patrons of beverage rooms and all other places supplying drinks and food have the right to clean containers and there is reason to feel that too often they get nothing of the kind. The mere dipping of a glass in a tub of none-too clean water and then taking it out again to serve the next customer is just going through the motions of washing but it is a practice that is all too common.

We believe that a checkup in this respect is entirely justified and that in the long run it will be in the interest of the proprietors of refreshment places of all kinds as well as of their customers that any suspicion of the standards of cleanliness followed in their establishments shall be removed. The Ontario Department of Health is on the right path when it starts a drive for more sanitary service and it should have the co-operation not only of the public and the heads of the businesses affected but also of the Liquor Control Board which should insist that so far as the premises operating on its authorities are concerned all objectionable conditions will be eliminated.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The two big questions in politics right now are (1) When will the Ontario election be held and (2) What is Mr. Bennett going to do?

A Dundas cow has just set four new world's records for milk and butter fat production. It is evident she has not been working on the five-day-week plan.

There is one thing to be said in favor of Mr. Sopwith's challenger for the America's Cup. At least she was consistent in her record.

China is beginning to prepare plans for a general war with Japan. What has been going on so far was apparently only the warmup.

They presented the new champion cow at Dundas with a garland of roses at the end of the day's test. We imagine she would rather have had something to eat.

William Rockefeller, brother of the late John D. left an estate of over $116,000,000. He was probably looked upon as one of the poor relations.

It might be just as well for a year or two to battle for the yacht racing championship by mail. That would save a lot of time and money.

King George took two chances the other day. He had an airplane ride for the first time since he came to the throne and he had a dinner of stew at a boy's camp.

The Alberta government proposes to control the banks but on the record of the administration most people would prefer to leave the financial setup as it is.

In the labor clash at Detroit two men were tossed out over the fence of an industrial plant. It seems a reasonable assumption that they were not wanted inside.

A Hamilton boy was injured by a bottle thrown from a a passing car. The only strange thing about the story was that the bottle was said to have contained pop.

The manager of a Quebec textile mill was dragged from his car by strike pickets. Just how that will contribute to an amicable and satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute is not immediately clear.

Mr. Bennett refuses to discuss the question as to whether or not he will remain as Conservative leader. He may perhaps have the idea that is a matter for the party and not the newspapers to discuss.

A noted Franch town planner has suggested some improvements for Ottawa and we have an idea that any Conservative chairman in the country would be able to add a few more suggestions to his list.

Lord Tweedsmuir has opened the new hospital at Akiavik, a Canadian outpost that a short time ago would have laughed at the idea that it was going to have an opportunity to welcome the Governor-General.

We imagine one of the most entertaining things about the next provincial election will be to watch the efforts of the politicians to select the issue that offers their own side the most advantage.

NIGHTINGALE

There is a nightingale within my breast
That would out-pour her music far and wide.
She beats her wings against the bars that hide
Her captive charms. Imprisoned, yea, suppressed,
And I her witless jailer,—cruel jest;
For I would free her to the mountainside
Where she might voice abroad the breathless tide
Of raptured singing with unbounded zest.
Sing, nightingale, within thy dungeon dark.
Sing, though each melody, each frenzied phrase
Emerge, distorted, from a wordless veil.
O inspiration, come, elusive spark!
Ignite these prison bars, inflame the blaze,
And free my yearning soul, my nightingale.

THE United Mine Workers recently filed a complaint before the National Labor Relations Board against the Clover Fork Coal Company in Kitts Ky., and introduced a new wrinkle when they protested that the company was luring good unionists away from union meetings with a kind of entertainment the union could not offer. The complaint alleged that the Coal company "did procure lewd and immoral women to perform free, indecent exhibitions known as strip-tease-dances and to otherwise engage in gratuitous licentious conduct at times when union meetings were scheduled for the purpose of enticing its employees from attending such meetings." The company denied the charge.

Being mayor of New York city is a big job. The man who holds it has jurisdiction over 299 square miles of territory and over more people than live in the fourteen least populous states of the Union.. There is attached a salary of $22,500 a year which is more than Uncle Sam pays members of the Supreme Court or of the Federal cabinet and more than any state except New York pays its governor.

About five comets on the average are discovered every year. Eleven were found in 1925 and ten in 1927. Most of these heavenly bodies are visible only in telescopes, and the average of naked-eye comets is less than one a year and a really conspicuous one whirls into the solar system about once a decade. Early this month a Swiss astronomer named Finsler discovered a moving speck not far from the bright star Algol in the constellation of Perseus. This new discovery, a short time ago only a fuzzy spot just visible to the unaided eye, on August 8 when it will be only 50,000,000 miles from the earth, will have attained a brightness about equal to that of Megrez the star at which the bowl of the Big Dipper is attached to its handle. The comet will then be brighter than since "1927" first sighted ten years ago in Australia and which was visible even in the daytime.

They're Rare Animals.

WHEN Mayor LaGuardia of New York got word recently that President Molina of the Dominican Republic was presenting New York with four solenodons, His Worship was not as excited as he should have been and neither was the Park department staff which had never heard of solenodons. As a matter of fact these little animals are the greatest tropical animal rarity in the Western hemisphere. They are little insectivorous beasts resembling the opossum, smaller but with a similar ratty tail and a limber prehensile snout. The solenodon dwells in rocky, mountain burrows on the islands of Haiti and Cuba only and it has been considered a victory for any United States zoologist to capture, transport and sustain one of these animals for any length of time. Collectors have asked as high as $10,000 for a specimen.

In Chicago William C. Bailey, 84 appeared at the home of his granddaughter after having bicycled from Underhill Vt., and announced he would pedal back. "Sober steady riding that's my system" said Mr. Bailey. "I can't even let loose one handlebar but I get there."

Lightning's Pranks

DURING recent thunderstorms lightning has been playing some of its characteristically queer pranks. In Jersey City N. J. a bolt struck the dome of temple Beth-el and split a scroll bearing a Hebrew inscription of the Ten Commandments while in Punxsutawney Pa. the steeple of the Methodist Church was set on fire and members of the congregation climbed up and chopped it off with axes.

The passing of old Fall River line of steamships means that a picturesque period in the history of the United States is definitely ended. The line was started away back in 1846 by a group of Boston and Fall River businessmen and it was called then the Bay State steamboat Company. Thousands of New England newlyweds got their first breathless glimpse of New York from the deck of a Fall River steamer occasional suicides bought tickets and jumped overboard.. United States presidents and statesmen from abroad enjoyed the luxury of travel on Long Island Sound and well-dressed financiers on board were mistaken for sports and gamblers. A great show for ordinary passengers and deck gawpers was the splendorous debarkation of socialities at Newport.

Germany may give the name "Hellos" to a new zeppelin now in course of construction, for the reason that it will be the first of its heavier than air dirigibles to be floated with helium, now being substituted for hydrogen. It will take an entire train of thirty cars, each loaded with twenty-eight steel tanks, to carry the helium from Amarillo, Texas, to a German ship at Houston, for the first filling of the LZ 130 when completed. Owing to the scarcity of steel in Germany the metal for these 840 helinum tanks has not yet been allotted.

THE COMING CONTEST

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The Toronto Telegram in its leading editorial of August 4, fiercely attacks Henry for trying to make it unpleasant for Hepburn by bringing up the Separate School question again and by declaring that it is the main issue at this coming election. The explanation is this. The Telegram is of the opinion that the C. I. O. is the danger fact and that Hepburn must be elected for the stand he has taken on that point. If the Separate School business is going to elect Henry and to defeat Hepburn the Telegram now wants that question buried. The agreement of both parties on the Rome amendment is enough the Telegram thinks, "Now let us concentrate on the C. I. O." Politics are a funny thing but not half as funny as the people led round by their political nose.

SAYS SIGNS NEEDED

Editor Examiner:

Sir: It was with interest that I read your editorial regarding the Lift Locks. No doubt they are a tremendous tourist attraction, and some plan by which they may be operated more often is to be commended.

But would it not be a good idea to first make it possible for tourists to find the Locks? Many times departing visitors have been asked if they saw the Lift Locks and they replied, "We couldn't find them."

I believe that signs at George and Lansdowne, George and Charlotte and at George and Hunter Streets would add much to those visitors who would like to see this world famous sight.

Let us hope that the City Council will show that it is awake to these needs and proceed to do something about them.

Thanking you, I remain,

M. BANKS.

THE WESTERN SITUATION

Editor Examiner:

Sir: This reader is glad to see those Canadian Press stories on Western Canadian conditions in The Examiner. The facts, in all conscience are dark enough; but, to read some of the sensational stuff being turned out against the prairie wheat farmer these days—mostly by feature writers who could not say offhand whether Moose Jaw is East or North of Regina! I would not blame the average Eastern Canadian, who may never have seen the prairies, for concluding that "wheat gambling" and "soil mining" is the whole story.

I imagine a good many urban Canadians here in the East will find the following table helpful in the direction of keeping that Prairie picture in fair focus. It seems fair enough to blend the figures for Manitoba-Saskatchewan-Alberta in contrasting them with those for Ontario, the combined population on the Prairies being 2,650,000 as compared with 3,600,000 in Ontario. The factual source is Dominion Bureau of Statistics (Ottawa) for February 1936:

	Ontario	"The Prairies"
Horses	562,900	1,928,500
Milch Cows	1,181,800	1,348,000
Other Cattle	1,287,000	2,501,000
Sheep	945,000	1,318,000
Swine	1,225,000	1,507,000
Poultry	22,100,000	20,850,000
Butter 'make' 1935	114,170,000 lbs.	110,236,000 lbs.
Eggs	62,961,000 doz.	85,104,000 doz.
Cheese	75,500,000 lbs.	4,345,000 lbs.

Obviously, Mr. Editor, there are other activities on those Prairies besides the famous field crops, which have been a basic factor in building Canada to her present front-rank position as "World Trader No. 5" among the nations?

Feature writers will be well-advised to remember that there are just as good farmers in Western Canada as in Ontario or anywhere else—dairymen fom Denmark, livestock breeders from Scotland and England and Germany and Scandinavia, as well as from Ontario and the Maritimes! Don't sell Western Canada "short", gentlemen. If you do, there are years coming up which will make you look ridiculous.

As Blood Flows In Russia

What's Going On Behind? Mass Murders By State.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

WHAT is going on behind the grim facade of Soviet Communism? One day we read of a blood purge of Army Generals, or high commanders being shot, or high officials being disgraced. The next day stories come of renewed attempts at Russian achievements in the air.

What does it all mean? What manner of men are they who, on the same day, turn from bloodletting to science! who while putting down a revolution, or an attempted revolution, evidently on a formidable scale, and find time for amazing experiments in world-encircling flights?

And what, one wonders—what must the common Russian think of mass murder by his state, which last year granted its people a "democratic" constitution? All pretences of democracy have been put by the board, with proof given that any form of dictatorship can survive by only one means, that means the direct opposite of democracy—tyranny.

Political observers have, for a number of years, commented on the increasing "democracizing" of Russia, a movement which reached its climax last year by the granting of the new constitution. Certain it is that it did not take long for the Soviet states to discover that true Communism is not practicable, and the subsequent movement was more and more in the direction of state Socialism, with Stalin as dictator ruling the whole structure. But when the real test of democracy appears—the right of people to oppose— we find that any "democratic grants" which were made have been merely gross deceptions, and that a dictator still rules by the threat of terror.

Nor does there seem much prospect of a counter-revolution against Stalin. It is not impossible, but, in the judgment of competent observers like Walter Duranty, improbable. The most to be expected, perhaps, is continued demonstration that what Moscow set out to do in the first place is a desperately hard thing to do—even in a land like Russia.

Picture of 1960 Traffic

Ribbon Cities Will Develop With Speedier Travel.

(From the New York Sun.)

ON what kinds of roads will motorists of 1960 travel? Charles F. Kettering sketched the highway system of the future for the American Society of Civil Engineers in Detroit recently, and drew a picture of a land laid out for speedier travel on wheels. It has its disconcerting aspects to those appalled by nearly 40,000 fatalities yearly in motor accidents. Yet Mr. Kettering was convincing in his argument that cities, and suburbs of the future will solve highway safety problems that now perplex us. He does not, however, attempt to guess how airplanes will affect the solution.

He said that by 1960, roads must be provided for 50 per cent. more vehicles than now are registered. In the decade preceding 1929 the number of motor vehicles increased 250 per cent. The population movement appears to be away from large cities. Mr. Kettering holds that traffic congestion and parking problems will quicken this movement; that "ribbon" cities may develop an almost continuous urban life on both sides of a trunk highway; that men may live in the country 50 miles from their work and commute on high-speed trunk highways; that cities of the future may require webs of elevated and underground roads to carry the heavier traffic; that many miles of highway between populous communities will be lighted economically and other means used to reduce hazards of night driving.

Highway programs must be drawn up in anticipation of a steady increase in motor bus traffic, and an increasing use of trailers will hasten the widening of highways and bridges and provision of better parking facilities for family treks.

As fascinating as this engineer's vision of the highways of the future is it may depress taxpayers who consider the present condition of roads throughout the country.

One recent estimate disclosed more than 3,000,000 miles of roads and highways in the nation. State highways, totalling more than 390,300 miles in 1935, have since been lengthened, but only 128,000 miles are classified as high-type surfaced roads—only four per cent. of the total road and highway mileage of the nation. Highway authorities of the future must devise ways to improve and maintain existing highways and obtain funds for additions.

A PARENTS DUTY

(Guelph Mercury)

AN outstanding feature of the present generation's efforts to reach the shining goal of the "better life" is the trend to be more realistic toward social relations. Therefore, it is strange that one unsavory by-product of our bustling era should not have been brought severely to task long ago.

That is the matter of abductions, beatings and attacks perpetrated on children. Criminals who create this problem usually invite the gullible boy or girl into a car and start out for a ride which often ends in tragedy. An ice cream cone or some other little favor may be the bait for the trap.

Prisons and asylums will take care of the guilty person after he is caught. But often that is too late to repair the damage. The fight must start with education of children to the dangers of quick friendships with strangers. And there is no one better fitted for that fight than parents themselves. Almost every good precept that arms a child for his battle with the world is taught by the father or the mother. Why should this one be left out of the curriculum?

THE FIVE-DAY WEEK

(Toronto Telegram)

A five-day week, of course, is designed to spread employment and give former unemployed persons buying power which they did not formerly have. Unless the reduction in working hours is accompanied by a reduction in pay, however, the cost of goods produced is increased and the sale prices must also be increased. If there is reduction in pay there is no increase in total purchasing power and consequently no increase in consumption. Employment has been artificially increased but collective buying power is not greater. Some may be able to buy more but others are obliged to be satisfied with less.

THE DOG TAX AND LIVE STOCK PROTECTION ACT

This legislation protects live stock owners against the ravages of dogs

This Act requires:—

The taxing of dogs and the issuing of dog tags.

—where live stock (Cattle and Sheep) are injured, the owner shall notify the local Valuer or the Reeve of the Municipality within forty-eight hours after discovery of the damage.

—the local Valuer must make two reports, one for the Municipality, and one for the owner of the livestock.

—if either of these is not satisfied with the report, he may appeal to the Minister of Agriculture for another Valuer by depositing $25.00. This money is returned if the appeal is successful but is forfeited if the appeal is lost.

—the award made by the Valuer appointed by the Minister is final.

WITHIN THE LAW TO CHASTISE WIFE

Magistrate Finds Old English Ruling Allows Reasonable Force Permissible.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 6.—(CP) —It is not unlawful to use reasonable force in chastising a wife, Magistrate H. A. Burbidge said in family court today when William McLeary, charged with assaulting his wife, was bound over for a year to keep the peace and refrain from the use of liquor.

McLeary pleaded through his counsel. J. J. Sullivan, the assault upon his wife was for corrective purposes only. Magistrate Burbidge said, "this is the first time I have heard such a defence in an assault case and I certainly do not want to create a precedent in disposing of it."

Basis for the defence was English common law of the 19th century and when it was raised a week ago in family criminal court Magistrate Burbidge adjourned the case one week pending reference to the common law. Today Counsel Sullivan said he had found only one test case in old files, and Magistrate Burbidge said that in instances some laws were accepted as obvious at that time and not written into the common law.

When he adjourned the case a week ago Magistrate Burbidge remarked to Crown Attorney G. W. Ballard, K.C.: "I think the common law of England as in effect in 1870 still holds good here. I think the husband, by this law, has the right to chastise or confine his wife to enforce certain right, excluding conjugal relationship."

CHARGES PREMIER IGNORING EMPIRE

B. C. Tory Says King Seemed More Interested in U.S. Trade at Imperial Parley.

HOPE, B.C., Aug. 6—(CP)—Dr. Frank Patterson, British Columbia Conservative leader, addressing a party picnic here yesterday, said Prime Minister Mackenzie King refused at the recent Imperial Conference "to commit Canada in the matter of defence and was apparently a good deal more interested in Canadian-United States trade than in Empire trade."

This, he said, was "while the leaders of all the other nations of the British Commonwealth expressed their willingness and desire to cooperate, not only in the defence of the Empire but in concentrating upon extension of Empire trade.

"Naturally, we all desire to remain on the most amicable terms with the republic to the south, but we must not forget that only a few years ago the United States also ruined the timber and copper producing industries of British Columbia by imposing exhorbitant duties on these products," he said.

"It was the Dominion Conservative Government which brought to fruition the Empire trade treaties which provided a new lease of life for British Columbia's lumber industry. Now Prime Minister King is prepared to sacrifice Canadian lumber sales to Great Britain and other Empire countries if by so doing he can improve Canada's trade with the United States," he said.

"The Liberal party does not attempt to achieve its ends by courageous planning and sound reasoning," he said. "It seeks to capitalize upon the mass emotions and local prejudices of the moment. Mr. King's friends and the Liberal press are still in doubt as to what he said in Europe with regard to Empire defence and what he meant by what was said."

ANGLO-ITALIAN AGREEMENT

ROME, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Italian government announced today British and Italian diplomats would meet in Rome for formal conversations to settle differences between the two countries.

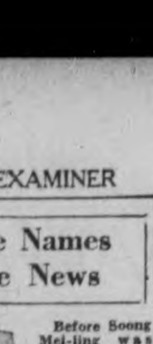
These Names Make News

Mme H. H. Kung

Before Soong Mei-ling was married to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek she forced the Chinese dictator to divorce his former wives. Following their marriage she educated and cultured him, making a different man from the one she married. She is a sister of Mme. Kung and Mme. Sun Yat-sen, both of whom are important Chinese figures.



Mme. Chiang Kai-shek

Said to be the guiding hand behind her husband the Chinese finance minister, Mme. H. H. Kung is an active strong-bodied woman, who wields considerable influence in China. At one time she was so prominent in public affairs that popular resentment caused her retirement from public activities, but did not stop her "working" behind the scenes.

Looks Upon Beer "Just Soft Drink"

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(CP)—George B. Lemon, 70, looked disdainfully upon her as just another soft drink when he appeared in court yesterday, charged with drunk driving.

"I don't count beer intoxicating," he told the court. He was convicted of the charge, but because of his age was given suspended sentence. Magistrate Hawkshaw said he would recommend to the Department of Highways that he be refused a license indefinitely.

Charged by High Constable Ben Milligan after his truck had crashed into the parked car of Jack Hilton, Lemon denied he was drunk.

"Why, I haven't had a drink of whiskey for night onto 10 years," he said. "It's longer ago that that, I guess. I've forgotten."

"What about beer?' 'asked the court.

"Oh, beer," he said. "I've had the odd beer. But I wouldn't call that intoxicating."

STRIKERS RETURN.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 6 (C.P.) —Management of the Ott Brick and Tile Company said that eight of its 18 striking employees returned to work to-day and that more would come back to-morrow and Monday. The terms under which the men returned were not revealed.

Eighteen of the 19 workers walked out yesterday after the dismissal of three employees brought dissatisfaction over wages to a head.

MAYOR URGES MEN RETURN TO WORK

tive effort toward solution of the Peterborough textile strike was raised in strike circles here today when it was learned Henry Barrett, managing director of the Dominion Woollens, was scheduled to interview the Board during the day. J. L. Cohen, strikers' legal adviser, met officials of the Board in Toronto this week and presented the strikers' case.

What part the Board could be expected to take in working for a strike solution is a matter of speculation among strike leaders. If the new minimum wage act were to be put into operation, it is believed the Board would then be in a position to take a strong-handed role. Premier Hepburn has been urged by G. N. Gordon, K.C., of this city to put the provisions of the act into immediate operation with this object in view.

Up to the present the terms of the act which provide for the setting of minimum wage schedules and bargaining between organized workers and employers have not been utilized, Department of Labor officials reporting that administration machinery is still lacking. Strike leaders here are of the opinion, however, that the Industry and Labor Board chairman, E. J. Young, may intend to crack the whip on the basis of the authority already in his hands.

Strikers informed the Board of their willingness to submit the strike dispute to arbitration when negotiations lapsed last week and at the subsequent meeting between Cohen and the Board officials it is understood the strikers' viewpoint was set forth. Today's scheduled meet- terpreted as evidence that the Board may intend to make an active effort to bring the company and workers together on some agreement.

Soliciting Of Funds

G. N. Gordon announced today the plan of the Textile Relief Workers Committee to solicit funds through girls stationed throughout the city on private property has been investigated and found practical. It will be placed before a regular meeting of the committee early this evening.

Restaurant proprietors, storekeepers and hotel operators have been approached for permission to station solicitors during Saturday and no refusal has been met, Mr. Gordon said. Stating that permission of the Police Commission for a regular tag day was not obtained, he commented:

"The Police Commission has jurisdiction to deal only with tagging on the streets and highways. Canvassing for contributions on private property is lawful, providing the owners consent to it, and several store-keepers, restaurant - keepers and hotel-keepers have intimated that they are willing to allow girls to remain on their premises for the purpose of obtaining contributions for the relief of women and children of the employees of the Bonner-Worth and Auburn mills."

Mr. Gordon said a generous response to the request to the public for contributions seems likely. Food is being sent to the relief depot by bakers, grocers, butchers and private individuals, he said. Citing a number of cash contributions, he mentioned a local carpenter as having undertaken to contribute $5 each week until the end of the strike.

that in 31 cases out of every 100 the wife dies before her husband. The man is left to struggle against all the unhappy conditions that arise in a home deprived of the directing hand of the wife and mother.

No amount of money can compensate for the loss sustained, but even a small amount of cash can ease the financial worry that follows illness and death. It can pay doctor's and nurse's bills, funeral expenses, and provide at least temporary care for the children. This problem has to be faced at some time or other by one out of every three married men.

Why not face the facts and discuss the matter with your wife and a Mutual Life of Canada representative today? (LAST OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT FIGURES SHOW THAT DURING 1936 CANADIANS BOUGHT MORE "ORDINARY" INSURANCE FROM THE MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA THAN FROM ANY OTHER CANADIAN COMPANY.)

Specially Designed Formal is Divided

Harriet Hilliard

By Central Press

Dress designers have on occasions designed pajama costumes for formal wear. The fashion has been adopted by a few folk who can afford to have many clothes, and who like something different and possibly a bit bizarre.

The idea has not "caught on" generally, however. Harriet Hilliard, screen and radio star, is wearing something novel along that line in a new picture. It was designed for her by Edward Stevenson, who makes costumes for the cinema stars. Harriet was called upon to do a rather strenuous dance in this picture, so Mr. Stevenson made her this pajama formal gown with trousers so full that they can hardly be distinguished from a regular evening skirt.

The dress is made of turquoise blue chiffon, the high waistline, V neck and short, puffed sleeves outlined with rows of tiny rhinestones.

Beach Pajamas

One-piece pajamas are being worn at the beach increasingly as the season advances. They are usually in prints, very full as to trouser, and the printed pattern used in an interesting manner.

As to pajamas for sleeping and lounging, for the former they are pretty evenly liked by women—some having gone back to the comfortable nightgown in modern form, and others preferring the pajama.

For lounging, just now the pajama type of negligee is having fierce competition in the house coat, and the latter seems to have the edge. Pajamas, however, will always be the choice for numerous occasions by many smartly dressed women.

Brock Street Summer Gardens Crowded

A bumper crowd enjoyed to the last minute the smart program provided at the Amateur Contest staged on Thursday night at the Summer Gardens on Brock street, with Andy Rutter, managing the event and Ed Ely, singing night club and radio star of Rochester, N.Y., as Master of Ceremonies.

The majority of the contestants were adults, with only two exceptions. One of the children scored a triumph by heading the list as first prize-winner. Little Shirley Fitzsimmons of Bonaccord street, a dainty figure in pink, danced and sang "Plenty of Money," and "went to town" with her performance, gaining first place from the quintette of judges, who, for one reason or another, prefer to remain anonymous.

Two young men received the other awards: Bill Guerin taking second place with his crooning of "Blue Hawaii," and Ray Parnell getting third placing, singing "Sailboats in the Moonlight."

The other adult contestants were Miss Betty Kirn, Miss Dorothy Lee, John Chest, Bernie O'Toole and Percy Ridley, while Jean DeCarlo was the second junior performer of the evening.

On Thursday night of next week, a Kiddies' Amateur Night will be held when the six best of the group will have the further honor of being included in the entertainment program of this year's Exhibition.

Winners at Kawartha Ladies' Games

Sunny weather made the weekly field day and tea of the Ladies' section of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club a pleasant event of Thursday afternoon.

The games were in charge of Mrs. L. Brown and Mrs. J. E. Girven. The prize for the lowest number of putts on the even holes was won by Mrs. C. J. Ray, while the lowest score on hidden holes, tied by several players, was drawn for, the prize going to Mrs. M. D. King.

At the tea hour, Mrs. H. A. Barker and Mrs. John Donaldson presided at a table arranged with a beautiful bouquet of vari-colored phlox and fern. Assistants were Mrs. C. J. Ray, Mrs. E. F. Riley and Miss Margaret Jackson.

The members have been selling tickets on a golf club. The draw was made yesterday by Mrs. F. M. Somerville and the club went to Frank Randall.

During the tea hour, a very interesting and instructive talk on handicaps was given, especially for the new players, by Mrs. C. J. Ray.

Canoe Club Outing

Members of the Canoe Club of the City's C.C.Y.M. (Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement) enjoyed a pleasant canoe outing this week, when six canoes were filled with young people for a trip down the river, and refreshments on the bank.

The members of the group are holding their activities out of doors at present, as they have lent their Charlotte street clubrooms for headquarters of the Strike Relief Committee.

For Cool Day Roast Beef

Rump Roast of Beef
Potatoes Baked With Meat
Buttered Spinach
Cucumber and Pineapple Salad
Peach Pie Coffee

Choose a cool day and have a roast of beef for dinner. I had a rump roast recently and it tasted good after a series of meals designed primarily to tempt sagging hot weather appetites. Light the oven and when it gets to 350 degrees temperature, put in roast, which you have wiped with a damp rag. I like an onion and a couple of small bay leaves to season it. Home economists now say that a roast need not be covered and no water need be added, nevertheless I covered this rump roast after about an hour, and after salting and peppering it. It weighed a little over three pounds, and was a rolled rump roast, therefore no bones and very little waste. It is delicious sliced and served cold.

Today's Recipes

PINEAPPLE AND CUCUMBER SALAD.—Thoroughly drain shredded pineapple, add an equal amount of chopped fresh cucumber, moisten with mayonnaise, season to taste and serve on lettuce. This combination may also be used as a sandwich spread, and be spread between slices of white or nut bread.

PEACH PIE.—Make enough pie crust for a two-crust pie, slice fresh peaches in the lower crust as if they were apples, sweeten and season with butter and a little lemon juice if you wish. Cover with second crust and bake.

WHITE TAILORED COSTUME LIKED IN SMART CIRCLES

Midsummer ensemble of white linen with lace blouse

By LISBETH

White is registering importantly in Paris as well as on this side of the water for these warm summer days.

White was seen many times on the recent Grand Prix day—a high spot in the Paris season. A great many well dressed women were present who divided the spectator's attention with the horses who were picked to win.

Patou designed this tailored suit of white linen that is worn with a white lace blouse. The pattern of the lace is one of the many interesting lace designs that are to be seen this season, and is the main interest of the blouse, which otherwise is very simple, with long sleeves and turnover, pointed collar.

The jacket of the suit is also smartly tailored, and a panama hat is worn with the costume.

New Evening Hat

A clever little evening hat worn in Paris is worth noting. It is a mob cap, almost as small as a calot or skull cap, and made of tulle with a frill of the same all around it and a chin strap. It is most effective.

Short jackets of lace are worn a great deal, and one costume with a three-quarter coat was very striking. The dress was severely tailored black lace with the coat in blue patterned lace on black faille.

Lace dresses that you see on the avenues range all the way from all black tailored costumes to fairly bright blue, violets, white and reds. This type of dress is usually quite simple and in no way looks out of place on the street. It is a good packer, not giving to wrinkling, and so often is chosen by tourists. This type of lace dress also serves for more formal occasions than the ordinary daytime dress, and so does double duty on occasion.

Lace is to be recommended for town frocks for hot weather. The style best suited to this kind of wear is light or pastel in color or navy. A turquoise lace dress, for instance, with gored skirt, short, full sleeves, and V neckline edged in brown, and with a brown taffeta sash and brown daisies at the neck, is practical and pretty as well.

We Noticed

. . . a stunning frock of navy sheer, with narrow white ric-rac braid trimming the tiny high collar, the puffed elbow sleeves, and the bodice sections at either side, as well as the two patch pockets on the skirt. But the charming note in this outfit, which was worn with a trim little hat of navy blue felt, was the rows and rows of little pearl buttons, for all the world like the Costermongers' King, which marched along the braiding lines. . . .

. . . that net and cotton are vieing with each other for favor for the coming season's evening gowns. And dress-up frocks are returning to a mode of recent years, when they dipped in the back and took a higher line in front. . . .

Chemical Warfare Talked by Nurses

LONDON, Aug. 6—(CP). — Disquieting rumors of war had their influence on discussions at the International Congress of Nurses held recently in London. At a special session delegates discussed protective measures in chemical warfare, gas and gas masks.

Miss Helen Dey, president of the League of St. Bartholomew's Hospital Nurses, said any nurse would be thankful for the power to prevent use of gas in warfare, and to prevent war altogether. "But we as nurses," she added "like to be prepared for any emergency, even if we hope it will never happen."

Dr. N. Hammer of the British Home Office, declared gas warfare could be robbed of all of its terrors by instructions and preparations against it. A population prepared was more likely to be spared than one unprotected and therefore liable to panic.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Satire is a sort of glass wherein beholders do generally discover everybody's face but their own, which is the chief reason for that kind reception it meets with the world.—Swift.

Dear Friends:

This quotation does not quite fit with what I want to tell you this morning, but it will have to do. What I dislike intensely is those people who jump to conclusions, and when you start a sentence, very kindly finish for you with something you did not mean, nor even had thought about.

They assume they know your thoughts better than you do yourself, taking the wrong meaning from what you say, and arguing with you if you attempt to explain. They know and nothing can convince them how little they do know.

And it all amounts to this, that they are sure you are thinking along the same lines as they are, when your thoughts had altogether a different trend.

It is the same also with something one writes. What that type of person cannot seem to understand is, that my mind or yours might have many different tracks in it, while theirs has only one track.

Every subject has many angles to it. Some see al or most of these angles, while others see but one or two, and to claim the few they see are the ones you also see and no others, is nothing short of ridiculous.

They say "Great minds think alike" but even great minds sometimes put their own interpretation on what we say or write, and usually in the doing of it contrive to put us in the wrong.

And when you come to think of it it is really a form of sarcasm, a taking you down by using your own words to belittle you, and "how you how superior they are by knowing what you are going to say, even before you say it.

The only sure way to treat people like that is not to let them vet away with it. They will not accept your words as the basis for your thoughts, but twist them around to suit themselves, so insist on what you meant to say whether they like it or not.

If you let them get away with it once or twice, they will take the stand they know better than you do what you are talking about, to your discomfort, and to making them more of a smart alec than they already are.

Sometimes you hear a child finish a sentence the mother or father has begun, and it does make the parent look foolish in the extreme. Not long ago I heard a child do just that, and was glad to hear the mother excuse herself, take the child into another room, and administer a well-deserved old-fashioned licking.

With a grown-up the nipper can't be used so effectively, and it is too bad it can't. Ignoring them makes them think they are right, so simply do not put up with it. Tell them you are capable of putting your own thoughts into words, that they are completely wrong, and that you simply will not continue a conversation if they keep on taking wrong words supposedly out of your own mouth.

Some people are in such a hurry to tell you what they have to say, that they also will take and finish a sentence for for you giving it an entirely different meaning from what you meant to say. The way to fix them is to wait until they are finished talking then say the thing all over again.

I have had letters telling me that "they" knew who I was writing about, when I was only writing in general, not about anyone in particular, and those letters I simply ignore. And so, when you are listening give the person a chance to finish and expect the same treatment yourself.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

HAVELOCK CUTS TWO MILLS OFF VILLAGE TAXES

Rate Will Be 48 Mills—2 For Relief, Almost 20 For Schools.

ACCOUNTS SETTLED.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 6.—The regular meeting of the Havelock municipal council was held on Wednesday evening in the council chamber, when all members were present with Reeve Ernest Seerey presiding.

The correspondence was read and in response to a communication from Mr. Hornsby, architect, of Peterborough, requesting permission to connect a drain from the new Post Office building to the town drainage system the council granted him this right, on motion of Councillors Chiles and McBurney.

The balance of the correspondence was ordered filed.

The reeve was authorized to order a few more tile of different sizes be made to replenish their stock. On motion of Councillors Squire and Wilde the council will purchase a few yards of rock dust from the Ontario Rock Company for making tile and repairing streets.

Bylaw 422, appointing a tax collector, was passed.

Mr. Edward Fennell, secretary to the Public and High School Boards was present and outlined the school requisitions which were accepted on motion of Councillors Chiles and McBurney.

A reduction of two mills in the village tax rate was decided, the rate for 1937 will be 48 mills as compared with 50 mills last year.

The rates are apportioned as follows: County rate, 7.4; village debentures, 7.48; street lights, 3.96; board of health, .64; park board, .50; direct relief, 2; public school, 11.14; High School, 8.68; village rate, 6.56.

The following accounts were passed and ordered paid on motion of councillors Squire and Chiles:

W. J. Aikens, July salary and phone, $53.14; Bank of Toronto, hydro town hall, $9.63; Dr. A. S. Thompson, indigents for July, $7.50; Jas. Wilde, wiring for Krantz store, $37.68; H. Revoy, fixing steps for Krantz store, $1.50; B. A. Curtis, funeral, S. McGill, $50.00; H. B. Puffer, phone, postage, tax sale fees, $27.36; Jos. Newton, delivering wood, $1.00; Neil Sarginson, paint and painting Krantz store, $5.77; Prov. treasurer marriage licenses, $20.00; A. Spencer and Son, plank, culverts, materials for Krantz store, $24.63; R. A. Buchanan, delivering wood and cartage, $2.00; Ray Scott, trip to Peterborough, Brown child, $5.00; Philip Greenley, engine to Anglican fire, $3.00; Art Russell, 3½ hours grading streets, $3.50.

Relief acounts: A. Leeson and Son, $14.75; F. J. Squire and Son, $14.00; Rae Williams, $12.00, G. W. Chiles, $14.00; John Scott, $13.00; M. Isaacs, $14.00; H. Wing, $1.75; Jas. Ketchen, $500.; Wm. Smith, $4.40; Norris Whitney, $3.75; Fuel, $23.75.

UNION RIOT SHUTS PLYMOUTH PLANT

Ten Men Are Injured—Factory to Stay Closed Till Differences Settled.

DETROIT, Aug. 6—(AP).—Chrysler Corporation's Plymouth plant remained closed to-day pending a settlement of differences which led to fighting between rival unions yesterday in which ten men were injured and a riot call for police.

Only a few men appeared for work this morning. The gates were not opened, and from a United Automobile Workers' sound truck, circling the plant, came instructions for the men to return to their homes.

Conferences between representatives of the U.A.W.A. and the management, which adjourned last night, was resumed to-day. The U.A.W.A. demanded the reinstatement of four men discharged for alleged participation in an attack yesterday on two officials of the independent association of Chrysler employees, whose claims of 26,000 members are disputed by the United Automobile Workers.

BABY IS BORN

There was little chance, they said, that the disease which took the mother's life had been transmitted to the tiny girl.

Dr. John Corbit, who performed the operation, appeared tired from his long vigil. He had been prepared for hours to operate.

Immediately after the operation he was reluctant to comment on the baby's chances to live.

Before dawn however, as the baby continued to breathe, he indicated the fact that she lived through the first few hours somewhat brightened the hopes she would survive.

Her temperature was reported as dropping gradually.

The oxygen tent in which the baby was placed was improvised by Dr. Corbit. He said she was too small for an ordinary tent and the pressure of the usual type of respirator would be too great.

If the baby continues to live, Dr. Corbit sai dshe would be fed a sugar and saline solution through a tube later to-day.

LINDSAY WILL NOT SEIZE MACHINERY

Fear Town May Become Involved in Legal Technicalities Solicitor Advises.

LINDSAY, Aug. 6. — The Town Council will take no action in regard to the seizure of the machinery at the Castle Motor Company on Wellington street, it decided on Tuesday evening.

His Worship Mayor Logan explained that following the July session when the former decision was made, the advice of the town solicitor had been sought on this matter and he had advised that the Council abandon this plan of collecting their taxes owing to the fact that the property had been the subject of litigation already and there was a possibility that the town itself might become involved in legal technicalities if this course were followed. He advised the taxes be charged to land, which course the council decided to follow.

1,500 Trout Placed In Millbrook Streams

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Aug. 6. — Local fishing enthusiasts are assured of plenty of good sport in the course of another year or two, since on Monday of this week 1,500 fish fry (brook trout) were placed in creeks of the village and vicinity.

Five hundred fry were put in the creek back of Jeffrey's Creamery; five hundred in the creek below the dam at Attwooll and Sheppard's mill; and five hundred in the pond above the mill-dam.

The fry, secured through the efforts of the Fish and Game Association, were one year old, and from the Fish Hatchery at Codrington, north of Brighton, the men who delivered them giving assurance that they were in good condition, and not one had died during transit.

The promise is they will provide good fishing in from two to three years' time.

Hold No Inquest Into Flyers Death

BELLEVILLE Ont. Aug. 6—(CP).—No inquest will be held into the death of Flying Officer J. L. Henning drowned when the airplane he was in charge of nose-dived into the Bay of Quinte Wednesday, according to Dr J. J. Roberson, Chief Coroner for Hastings county.

"An inquest is unnecessary" said Dr Robertson "as the Government will conduct an investigation through a Court of Enquiry, which will be as thorough as a civil inquest.

"I investigated for the Attorney General and found the deceased died from drowning as his lungs were filled with water.

"It now reamins a matter for the Dominion Department of National Defence to determine cause of death and this can be done by the Court of Enquiry.

Date for this court to sit has not been announced.

SCOUT JAMBOREE

VOGELENZANG, The Netherlands, Aug. 6 (AP).—Boy Scouts of 31 nations marched past Queen Wilhelmina and her son-in-law, Prince Bernhard, at their fifth world jamboree Wednesday.

THREATEN LINDSAY WITH LEGAL ACTION

Just as Interested in the Town as Mr Gordon Alderman Says.

LINDSAY, Aug. 6.—A letter was received from Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., of Peterborough, acting on behalf of James Healy, Lindsay intimating that he would file a write against the town if they refuse to establish a sewage disposal plant here.

The letter stipulated that some decision must be reached within a few weeks or the action would proceed.

"We are just as much interested in the welfare of the town as Mr. Gordon is," declared Alderman Claxton, "and I suggest that we write to him and point out that we are waiting for a report from the engineers on this matter which is expected in September."

This advice will be followed.

NOT PUBLISH MEMOIRS.

LONDON, Aug. 6—(AP). — Emperor Haile Selassie will not publish his memoirs, it was disclosed to-day. Michael Joseph, the Ethiopian Emperor's publisher, announced the Negus had withdrawn his autobiography from planned publication "on the advice of his political advisers."

Woman Has Narrow Escape

KENTVILLE, N.S.—Two slim strands of barbed wire were credited today with saving Mrs. Norman Rogers from injury in the collision of her car and a truck last night. The wife of Canada's Labor Minister crawled uninjured from the car as it teetered atop a 40-foot embankment, held only by the strands of barbed wire.

Company Officials Are Blamed For Continuance Of The Strike Refused To Go Even Half Way

LETTERS ARE SCORED.

Declaring themselves prepared for a long siege in their battle with the Dominion Woollens for higher wages Peterborough's textile strikers turned down proposals by Alderman R. M. Glover that they return to work pending the final outcome of the dispute, at a rally on the Market Square last night. Attempts to split the strike front along Liberal and Conservative political lines were alleged by Organizer Alex. Welch.

Alderman Glover's proposal was made through a letter to The Examiner published in Thursday's issue. Although at no time was a direct reference made to the proposal, the suggestion of a return to work under any circumstances other than a victory on the wage demands was scouted. Mr. Glover had asserted in his letter that a weekly payroll of $12,500 is being lost and had suggested that strikers return to teh mills for a 30 or 60 day period, taking advantage of the concessions already offered by the company and continuing negotiations on the unsettled question of increased wages.

South-End Parade.

The rally on the Market Square followed a parade which began at the Bonner-Worth plant, moved down Park to Wescott Sreet and up George to the Charlotte stregt intersection, led by a band of union men. In number of strikers participating, the parade and rally was the smallest yet held. About 150 marched, and they were joined by about 50 more at the Square. A crowd of about 60 curious or sympathetic citizens completed the rally gathering.

"Certain forces are at work trying to turn public support away from us," Welch charged. "The question is whether we are to go back now or not."

Strikers shouted "No" to this suggestion.

"No longer is this strike a protest against conditions in the Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills by the workers in those mills, but a protest by the entire citizenry of Peterborough," Welch continued. "To return to work now would be to betray the citizens who have given us their appport."

Scores Letters.

Letters appearing in the press during recent days and signed by employees of both mills, in which the writers said many employees are not in sympathy with the strike and are willing to return to work when the opportunity is provided, were termed by Welch "unprincipled attacks" sponsored by the plant managements in an attempt to win sympathy away from the strikers.

He laid directly at the feet of the company officials blame for the fact the strike was still in existence, claiming the strikers had instructed their legal adviser, J. L. Cohen, to accept any reasonable compromise settlement during last week's unsuccessful negotiations. The company would not budge an inch to meet the strikers even half way, he said.

"If this strike is broken it will be to the everlasting shame of the people of Peterborough and to the everlasting glory of the Dominion Woollens," he declared.

Warns of Split.

Calling for continued support from the citizens, Welch pleaded with them not to let political or religious differences influence them, claiming that attempts are being made to divide sympathies along such lines.

Tommy Tooms, former Labor member for Peterborough in the Drury Government, declared himself in full sympathy with the strikers. "If the firm cannot pay a fair wage it should not be in business," he said. "It should be put out to

MURDERED GIRL MYSTERY STANDS

Medico-Legal Expert Announces Renfrew Victim Criminally Assaulted.

RENFREW, Ont., Aug. 6.—(CP).—Pretty 13-year-old Ethel Hedderwick will be buried to-day, mystery of her death still unsolved.

Without clues, police meanwhile continued investigation into the death of the curly-haired child, whose ravished body was found near a clump of bushes in a field a mile west of here Tuesday.

A post-mortem examination conducted by Dr. E. R. Frankish, Ontario medico-legal expert, disclosed the child had been criminally assaulted and slain by a blunt instrument.

"Her skull was badly fractured, there were numerous abrasions on her body and she was criminally assaulted," said Dr. Frankish, who left yesterday for Toronto. He took with him vital organs of the childs body which he said would be subjected to further laboratory examination.

A five-pound stone which police believe may have been the death weapon was also taken to Toronto by Dr. Frankish.

FAMILY TRAGEDY BRINGS 4 DEATHS

Note Indicates Youth Shot Two Sisters and Mother, Then Suicided.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—(AP).—Frank Gregor found the bullet-pierced bodies of his mother, two sisters and a brother in a bedroom of their west end home to-day.

Homicide Detectives Fred Good and Edward Scanlon said they found a note signed by Bernard Gregor, the brother, saying:

"Oh, if there were some way other than this out of our misery."

Bernard lay near the bed, a rifle beside him. The sisters, Marian, 13, and Betty, 17, were sprawled close together, bullet wounds in their heads. They were in night clothing.

"At one time or other I've heard all these say something exactly like they wished they were dead.

"So maybe I am really right. There is absolutely nothing ahead.

"I am the only one who knows what I intend to do. I told mother to have some kind of a will made out in case something would happen to her at any time."

IRISH FLOCKING OVER TO ENGLAND

Being Readily Absorbed — Coming Mainly From Areas Opposing Valera.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(CP)— Irish people continue to move to England, Arnold Wilson, writing in the London Spectator, presents the following figures and conclusions:

The influx of able-bodied Irish men and women continues. From 1926 to 1930 the recorded net inward balance from the Irish Free State was 69,000; from 1931 to 1935, 50,000. The actual figures are probably higher; for 1936 it was probably nearer 30,000 than 20,000, and the stream is not slackening.

The immigrants are readily absorbed in every part of England, the girls as domestic servants and in factories, the men as farm and general laborers, sometimes in areas where the unemployed are present in large numbers.

The western coast of Ireland has suffered most from the drain on her reserves, and those areas which have lost most are those which have recently rejected President De Valera and his constitution. The gain on balance is ours, for we have not paid for their keep in early years and there is clearly a demand for their services. They work, and work hard.

Good Crop Yield Pontypool Area

(Examiner Correspondence.)

PONTYPOOL, Aug. 6.—Harvesting in this district is well under way. All fall grain, spring wheat, barley and early oats are cut, and a large amount of it stored away in the barns. There are, however, some late oats yet uncut, but with the warm, dry weather they are ripening fast and in a few days very few fields of grain will be left standing.

The threshing machines have started again and threshers are looking forward to a good season as the crops are very good. Many farmers will want to thresh early owing to the lack of feed.

The raspberry crop has been exceptionally good this year and if rain comes in the near future there will be a few more pickings. Berries are selling locally for 9 to 10 cents per quart.

Up to the present time the root crop has been looking well, but with the dry weather lately it is not doing so good. If rain does not come soon a light crop of potatoes is expected.

Sir Edward Beatty Here Wednesday

Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will visit Peterborough next Wednesday afternoon, Mayor Macdonald informed The Examiner to-day.

"Sir Edward has expressed a wish to meet civic and industrial representatives in an informal way," Mayor Macdonald said. "He will be here only an hour during the afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock, and arrangements are being made for a meeting at the Empress Hotel, to which representatives of our local industries are being invited with members of the Council. I understand that he is visiting a number of the cities of Ontario, and Peterborough has been included in his itinerary."

Where They Get 'Em.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, Aug 6.—The old time fishing has come back again. Three muskies were caught Wednesday evening in McCulloch's channel by Charles Cahier of "Dunwanderin". Bait used was a "river runt".

Two muskies weighing 7 and 8 pounds respectively were landed Wednesday at Mud Lake by Donald Kirk of Arden and Earl Ellis, bait used was an "Ellis Spinner."

ONE TO REMEMBER.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 6 (CP).—William Stewart thought he had caught the Loch Ness monster when he hooked a 26-pound pike and it broke water at Snug Harbor in Parry Sound district. He and Charles E. Greenig, also of Hamilton, lured the fish into the shallows, but floundering in only two inches of Georgian Bay the pike got loose and made a break for freedom.

Then Mr. Greenig made a flying tackle, caught the pike in his arms, and the pair heaved it ashore.

Hand Of Censor Felt On Photograph From China

Censorship on news and photographs has already begun in northern China, where Japanese troops and Chinese forces have had several skirmishes. This photograph taken in northern China shows Japanese troops on their way to the "front." The censor, in passing the photograph at Tokio before shipment to Canada, left out the name of the city, presumably to make identification difficult. The photo is one of the first to come from the "war area."

FLORAL NOTE.

Worthy of horticultural mention is the floral display in front of the terrace on the west side of George Street between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke Streets; and also the colorful border of portulaca at the northwest corner of Queen and Simcoe Streets.

AT PLOWING CONFERENCE.

J. J. Duffus went to Ottawa on Thursday to attend a plowing conference at the Central Dominion Experimental Farm, and while in the Capital City will consult several of the Departments regarding matters of interest to Peterborough County and city.

SHIRT SLEEVE SESSION

With the thermometer soaring over the ninety mark members of Peterborough Kiwanis Club held a shirt sleeve session at Empress Hotel today noon, and dispensed with a guest speaker. After luncheon the menu of which was featured by cold plate dishes and copious drafts of iced tea a brief report on the Kiwanis Jackson Park Health Camp was tendered by L. J. Pettit and William English. It was announced that the camp committee for next week will be John I. Allen, Harold Matthews and Wilfred Hardill. The meeting which will be remembered as one of the shortest on record was under chairmanship of Jack Lewis.

WRONG ADDRESS

Through a regrettable error a person convicted of a drunk-driving charge in magistrate's court was stated to live at 399 Park Hill Road. It was his former address, but he has since moved to Park street. The Examiner offers an apology to Mr. LaPointe of that address who had no connection whatsoever with the case in question.

FACT AND OPINION.

Seasonal: Mens straw hats, "skimmers" or boaters, quoted at 79 cents in a main street window, and the market weak at the decline.... It is only gossip but an opinion was expressed the other day that the Canadian Nepheline mill at Lakefield may eventually approach the size of the old cement mill.... One of Allin's ice houses will be emptied this week-end, but there are several others filed to the roof. And people were worrying about the ice crop last winter.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A builder who appreciates ingenuity in handling a difficult job says Harold Fry displayed a lot of skill in razing the top floor of the Zellers Store. The new roof at the lower level was built in before the old one was lifted off.... If you run into Carl Salmonsen you are almost certain to get a line of enthusiastic chatter about the trout fishing in Little Lake away up in the north-eastern section of Hastings County.... Rumor says T. H. G. Denne is returning to Peterborough, and is taking an apartment on Water Street. When he was Mayor the Council bought the land now occupied by the C.P.R. for $50, and a later company sold it to the railway people for $10,000.... Alderman Dutton, manager of Stocks Bread, moved into his new offices on Stewart Street this week, and is getting "straightened around."

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Judgment was reserved following a hearing in magistrate's court this morning of a charge of unlawfully selling liquor against Leslie Steer, 891 Water street which was the sequel to a police raid on the premises on the night of July 23 last. The accused who entered a plea of not guilty was represented by T. J. Carley, K.C. Francis Leight pleaded not guilty to a vagrancy charge and was remanded for trial. James Prince also charged with vagrancy, David Prince charged with unlawful possession of liquor and Clive Meeks held on a vagrancy count were each remanded until Monday next on pleas of not guilty. Roderick Cameron charged with intoxication as a third offender was remanded without plea.

BATTERY ENTRAINS

The officers and thirty other ranks of the 4th. Battery Canadian Field Artillery left here this morning by Canadian Pacific Railway for their annual period of training at Petawawa Camp. The unit was under the command of Major J. Walton Stevenson, other officers being Captain J. A. Harstone, M.C., second-in-command; and Lieut. H. S. Rogers and A. R. Stevenson. Despite the intense heat members of the Battery marched from the Armouries to the station. They made a smart showing in their sun helmets. While the officers wore khaki drill uniforms, the men sweltered in khaki service dress, which they will exchange for lighter uniforms when they get into camp.

IN THE DISTRICT.

A quick leap to safety brought escape from serious injury for Jack Luck, 13, of Newmarket, a visitor in Port Hope when the dairy truck on which he was riding figured in a bad collision. Held at Little Lake Brighton on Wednesday the Mutton Family annual re-union had an attendance of 118 persons; three branches of the old pioneer family of Brighton Township were represented.

TWO CHEERFUL NOTES.

J. K. Hughes is throwing a picnic for his entire staff Wednesday, August 18, engaging the "Stoney Lake" for an afternoon trip down the river. Their efficient co-operation has also been appreciated by a one-week holiday with pay for everyone something new in local garage circles.

A doctor bought $25 worth of tickets for the Peterborough Exhibition to-day, and will present them to the nurses of the city's two hospitals. And to circumvent his modesty he may be identified by intimating that he is tall and strapping and good looking, and has a propensity for whistling a cheerful tune as he drives along in his car. And his patients think the world of him.

Chemong Cottagers Lay Regatta Plans

Dinghy and sloop sailing is scheduled at Chemong for Saturday afternoon of this week, and all sailors in the Kawarthas are invited to participate.

On Wednesday afternoon of next week, the Children's Regatta is being run off under auspices of Chemong Park Cottagers' Association, and there are to be forty events on the program for children from cradle age up to 16 years. Silver cups are being offered for the contestant in each of the various age limits piling up the most points. The regatta is timed to start at 1.30 p.m. in front of J. K. Hughes' cottage.

The same afternoon will witness the open one-mile swim and also the men's single canoe championship. The latter event is for Chemong Park summer residents only.

UNITED KINGDOM EATS MORE FRUIT EMPIRE BOUGHT

89 POUNDS PER HEAD.

LONDON, Aug. 6 — (C.P.).— The United Kingdom is eating more fruit. And buying it imperially.

A survey for 1936, made by the Imperial Economic Committee, shows that of the total fruit imports in that year, no less than 55 per cent were of Empire origin. So high a proportion has never before been reached. In each of the past two years, Empire countries have found in the United Kingdom a market for more fruit than was imported from all countries before 1914.

Supplies from South Africa showed a further expansion and constituted a new record.

Imports from Australia and New Zealand are heavier than in 1935, but there was a reduction in consignments from Canada, the British West Indies and Palestine.

British West Indies, principal supplier of bananas, again sent a greater tonnage of fruit than any other country.

Raw fruit available for consumption in 1936 was equivalent to 89 pounds per head of the population of the United Kingdom. This figure is below the 1934 record, but 10 pounds higher than the 1935 record.

It is abundantly clear, the report says, that fruit consumption has greatly increased since the war.

Canada was the principal source of supply for apples. Imports from the Dominion, however, amounted to only 1,960,000 hundredweight (34.7 per cent of total), as against 2,764,000 hundredweight (38.92 per cent of total) in 1934.

Parking Period Is Extended 1 Hour

Revision of the traffic by-law by the special committee of the Council, of which Alderman Cotton is chairman, extended on Thursday night the packing period limit from three to four hours, restricted parking of cars to the south side of Brock, Murray and McDonnel Streets, decided to include Charlotte Street from Aylmer to Water Streets in the area in which parking is confined to half-hour periods during the business hours, and also prohibited parking on the south side of Albert Street.

FORMER FLINTON YOUTH IS KILLED

Harold Yanch Dies, Kenneth Champagne Badly Hurt in Crash Near Guelph.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 6.—Harold Yanch, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yanch of Flinton, met a sudden and untimely death, when the auto which he was driving crashed into a pole on the Georgetown-Milton road, near Guelph late Monday night. Kenneth Champagne, also of Flinton, is lying in Guelph Hospital in a critical condition, although hopes are held out for his recovery.

The two boys, both of whom have been employed at Burlington for the past two years, were members of the Volunteer Fire Department at that place and had been attending a convention at Georgetown. Details of the fatality received here were meagre, but it is understood that when the driver lost control of the vehicle, near Hornsby, it careened across the highway, smashing into two poles. The injured men were immediately rushed to Guelph Hospital, where it was found that Yanch had suffered a fractured skull; while Champagne suffered internal injuries as well as a fractured skull. Yanch died a few hours later, before his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yanch arrived. Champagne was still unconscious on Wednesday, but physicians informed his relatives by telephone that he would probably survive.

Both boys are particularly well-known in Tweed and Flinton, since they lived in the latter village all their lives until two years ago when they went to Burlington to make their home. Champagne who is twenty-two is a brother of Norman Champagne of the Lesage Motor Sales staff, Tweed.

The remains of the late Harold Yanch were brought by C.P.R. to Tweed on Wednesday and transferred to his parents' home at Flinton. The funeral was held on Friday morning of this week at 9 o'clock.

The deceased was born at Flinton 22 years ago, and was well known, his death coming as a great shock to his numerous friends. His father is the popular proprietor of the Stewart House, Flinton.

Besides his parents, he is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Odie, Hamilton; Stafford, Flinton; Mrs. J. R. Caldwell, Toronto, and Yvonne, Flinton.

He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church, Flinton, and his pastor, Rev. Fr. Kinlin conducted Requiem Mass.

Association Head

Dean of women at the University of British Columbia, Miss L. M. Bollert (ABOVE) has been elected president of the Pan-Pacific women's Association whose next triennial convention will be held in Auckland, New Zealand, during January, 1940. Dean Bollert succeeds Madame Tsune Gauntlett, Japanese wife of a prominent English resident of Tokio.

NORTH SCHOOL

Miss Lena Buchanan, who is attending Summer School in Toronto, spent the week-end at her home here.

Miss Marjorie Cross spent a few days last week with Miss Anna McNeely.

Mrs. Williamson Burgess and daughter Ruth were recent visitors with Mrs. Howard Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan, accompanied by Kenneth McNeely, spent one evening last week with his brother at Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McLaughlin and daughter Emma attended the Upper Stoney Lake Regatta on Saturday at Crowe's Landing.

Miss Maude Morton of Peterborough has returned home after spending a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson Burgess.

Harl Miles of Lakefield spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott.

Miss Lila Burgess of Norwood spent one evening last week with Mr. and Mrs. G. McNeely and family.

Mrs. E. McLaughlin and the Misses Lillian, Emma, Julia, and Dorothy O'Carroll were Friday afternoon visitors with Mrs. W. Burgess and Miss Ruth Burgess.

Mrs. George Would and daughter Jean are spending a few days with friends at Cobourg.

FARMHAND HELD FALSE PRETENSES

Shannonville Man Involved in Disposal of Bicycle on Two Counts.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 6.—Wanted on a charge of false pretense, William Masterson, Shannonville, farmhand was arrested in Tweed on Tuesday, and is being held pending trial.

Provincial Constable Wm. McBrien of Belleville, detachment O.P.P. preferred a second charge of false pretenses against Masterson in connection with the purchase of a bicycle procured in Belleville on a recent date. Provincial authorities allege Masterson purchased the bicycle in Belleville and disposed of it before completing the entire deferred payments owing. Following his trial in Tweed the accused man will be taken to Belleville to stand trial.

A twenty pound lunge was taken from Stoco Lake this week by Paul King. Mrs. Donald Casey, his niece was holding the trolling line when the fish took hold but Councillor King promptly came to the rescue and brought the big fellow in safely. It was an object of interest at Tom Beatty's butcher shop.

Lawrence and Art Ables of Akron, Ohio, have been enjoying true fisherman's luck during the past week, while camping at Kanata Beach. They have taken out four big fellows during the past week, ranging from fifteen to twenty-five pounds, besides a number of smaller fish, including a seven pound pike.

Average maximum, 85 degrees; average minimum, 59 degrees; highest temperature, 97 degrees, on 10th; lowest temperature, 48 degrees, on 1st. Rainfall registered on 11 days during the month, totalling .40 of an inch, being .01 of an inch below the all time low of 1936, thus setting a new record of being the driest month on record. The average rainfall for July is set at 3.35 inches, thus this July was 2.95 inches below normal. Heaviest precipitation .16 inches on the 26th.

7—WORLD'S BIGGEST AND BEST GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS—7

THE FIVE ALBANIS
The Five Albanis, aerial motorcyclists, who will introduce insuperable feats atop a flimsy track high in midair, an imposing feature of the grandstand show at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. The Albanis, intrepid vaillants of the ether, presented their cycle pageantry at the Japanese Exposition recently, scoring a sensational success in the Orient. They are now enroute from Asia to fill their North American engagements.

SILVER THE WONDER HORSE
Silver the Wonder Horse has that quality called "Horse Scents" in abundance. Silver is a Satanic steed of the "prop" variety that causes its beautiful lady trainer plenty of worry and hardship before it's all over. Silver assumes every conceivable kind of pose and character and is one of the funniest acts in the entertainment world.

CLIFTON & JULES
A team of brilliant buffoons bouncing hither and yon, Clifton & Jules feature the grandstand show at the Peterborough Exhibition. These professional lunatics are paid to demolish themselves (all in fun, of course) in one of the real comedy acrobatic sensations of 1937. The clothes they wear are positively guaranteed not to win them this year's Beau Brummel award.

ARISTOCRATIC GOATS
A rarity in circus performances is the work done by the famous Aristocratic Goats, who present half a dozen pure white charges whose horns and hoofs are tinted with a rich gold. They construct pyramids, roll on barrels, walk the tight wire and execute pretty statuary number, an especial delight for the younger generation. In a second act, Pat and Mildred Chrisman indulge in breathtaking cracks of the big whips, in addition to a sterling variety of trick roping.

BRENGK'S GOLDEN HORSE
Brengk's Golden Horse, featuring Bella Donna, in a spectacular and pictorially beautiful posing novelty in which femininity and equine are painted in a rich gold. When multiple lighting effects play on the pageantry of poses and tableaux, the result is striking, almost fascinating. The statues produced seem almost like actual sculpture.

GOLDA HONEY
Golda Honey, golden-haired gladiatress, is a tightwire artist of world renown. This mistress of grace and daring is a member of the celebrated Honey Family of Australian acrobats and tumblers. She twirls and dances on a silver thread, mounts a ladder and balances herself thereon, leaps through a set of small hoops and prances on the thin cord as if she were merely engaging in chores on the ground.

HONEY FAMILY
The Honeys specialise in tumbling and the vast repertoire of acrobatics that goes with it. Working with a springboard and high pedestal, they perform graceful leaps and twists through space singly, in pairs and in groups, and are particularly adept at midair exchanges which have the shoulders of their teammates as their destination. A feature of their act is a triple aerial somersault, ending in a chair supported by a high pole.

QUEBEC OFFICIAL MAKES PROPOSAL TO TEXTILE HEAD

10,000 INVOLVED.

MONTREAL, Aug. 6—(CP)—Confidential overtures designed to send nearly 10,000 workers back to the darkened mills of Dominion Textile Company Limited have been opened between company officials and Labor Minister William Tremblay.

Disclosure of the latest development in the four-day-old strike called by the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers to demand collective bargaining rights, increased wages or shorter hours and improved working conditions, was made late yesterday by G. Blair Gordon, Managing Director of the company.

Gordon, who denounced the attacks on company officials and non-strikers during the last two days at two of the company plants, and declared he was prepared to keep the mills closed "until Christmas," made public a brief statement.

Suggestions Made.

"I have been in communication with Hon. Mr. Tremblay, Minister of Labor, in the course of the day by telegram and telephone. He has made certain suggestions to which the company has agreed in principle, and it now remains for those who are responsible for calling the strike to let Mr. Tremblay know whether the suggestions are acceptable."

But at headquarters of the National Catholic Syndicate, parent body of the Textile Workers' Organization, officials said they were unaware of the negotiations between the company head and the Labor Minister.

"No word has come to us, either from Mr. Tremblay or Mr. Gordon," said Alberte Cote, leader of the textile union. "We have been anxious to open negotiations but so far no attempt has been made by the Department of Labor or the company. We shall be pleased to consider such proposals whenever they are advanced."

From the nine company plants, scattered through the Province, came word that all was quiet. At Sherbrooke the workers lolled around the big lawns surrounding the plants and played cards. There was no repetition of the acts which brought condemnation from Gordon, who said today he thought there was little need for him to comment "on further actions of the union's strike organization.

"By this time any thinking person will have pretty well sized up the situation. It is very evident this group which has prevented our mills from operating during the last three days, hope to achieve their ends by force and intimidation."

COWBOY DIDN'T LIKE IT.

Protests to Comedian for Using Pig With His Name.

KERNVILLE, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP).—Comedian Bob Burns, on location here, was eating breakfast. A cowboy approached and said:

"You're the guy who's caused me all this trouble."

"Don't get you," said Bob.

"Everybody told me 'I saw your namesake in a picture,' so I went to see it, and darned if you didn't have a pig named Wafford."

Bob still didn't get it.

"My name's Irvin L. Wafford," the cowboy said.

Bob explained he pulled the name out of the air years ago.

Scratching the face of M. Maclean, a peddler, near Argyll, Scotland, in the dark, a hug bird, believed to be a buzzard or owl, followed the man to his home and injured him so seriously that he had to seek medical attention.

PREACHES MORE THAN 66 YEARS

NOW AT AGE OF 83.

REGINA, Aug. 7.—(CP)—Oldest active minister at a convention of the Western Union of Baptists, Dr. C. C. McLaurin, of Calgary, has been preaching for 65 years during which he has only missed seven Sundays in the pulpit.

Born and reared in the Ottawa Valley, 30 miles from Ottawa, Dr. McLaurin, hale and hearty and still a vigorous speaker at the age of 83, first came west in 1897 as pastor to the Brandon, Man., church.

In 1903, he travelled from Carnduff to Edmonton via Regina and Saskatoon with a wagon and tent, organizing four churches along the route of his two months journey.

Dr. McLaurin recalls "the smallest Baptist church ever to be organized in Western Canada." The church began functioning at Lavoy, Alta., 80 miles east of Edmonton, with total enrollment of four members. Now it has a membership of 40 or 50.

During the years 1898 to 1923, Dr. McLaurin was the superintendent of Baptist missions for the west. A hard worker even to-day, he has just published a book entitled "My Old Home Church: A Story of the Ottawa Valley."

Asked to what he attributed his good health and capacity for work, the veteran replied:

"Just right living I suppose. I always worked hard and lived fairly plainly. We were pretty poor, you know, on the farm in Ontario where I was raised. I remember one year the wheat crop froze—well, we just lived on oatmeal—ate it three times a day.

LICENSE SUSPENDED.

Action Follows Smuggling Charges Against Pelee Island Club

TILBURY, Ont., Aug 5 (CP).—In view of the fact that the Pelee Island Club is implicated in charges of smuggling its license has been suspended, Esmond G. O'Dette, Ontario Liquor Commissioner announced today.

His statement followed reports of the seizure of the steamship Pelee and the imposition of penalties totalling $3,000 for violations of customs regulations.

"I have given instructions that the Pelee Club's license be suspended immediately," said Mr. O'Dette. "If a conviction is registered against the Club on charges of smuggling the suspension will be no longer a suspension but a cancellation."

MILLBROOK

Misses Thelma and Muriel Ball and Jean Burnham are taking a motor trip for their vacation to various points in Western and Northern Ontario.

E. H. Barnes, accountant at the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, is at present relieving at the Bethany branch during the manager's holidays.

George Hunter, who was at the Coronation as representative of the Collegiate Institute at Norwood, Manitoba, is at present visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs V. R. Hunter, Ninth Line, Cavan, on his way to his home in the West.

Mrs. H. D. Bigelow and daughter Eleanor and Mrs. (Dr.) J. W. Wright, were visitors to Peterborough on Thursday.

Civic Holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Richards included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell, and her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dolby and little daughter of Toronto. Laureen and Ralph Richards, who have been onto, accompanied them to the village when they motored here for the holiday week-end. Ted Campbell of Toronto was also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richards for the holiday.

Evidently the Women's Institute of East Durham is not afraid of being "jinxed," for it has chosen Friday, August 13, for a very special day when the "Refinished Furniture," which was a project carried through with zest and excellent results last year, will be on display. Included also will be an explanation of the various stages in the work with lantern slides as an added instructive feature. The meeting will be open to the public, and will begin at 1.30 p.m. (standard time).

Little Miss Doris Harrington of Toronto has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Eakins, their daughter Mary, and Miss Margaret Armstrong motored to Wasaga Beach for Civic Holiday week-end.

Miss Beatrice M. Turner, B.A., who is holidaying with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Turner, at their summer home, near Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake, was home for a brief visit on Wednesday. Miss Isaaca, of Toronto, a guest of the family, accompanied Miss Turner to the village.

Miss Lazelle Brown, A.T.C.M., of Belleville, was in the village for a short time on Thursday on her way home from Oshawa, and called on a number of friends. Miss Brown is the only daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs George Brown, the former having been pastor on the Millbrook circuit some years ago.

The local School Board has engaged Charles J. Ireton, B.A., of Ottawa, as teacher for the Continuation School staff taking the place of E. D. Fennel, B.A., who resigned to take a position on the staff of the Boys' Vocational School at Timmins, Northern Ontario.

Dr. L. J. Stuart of Peterborough and J. N. McGill have returned from a fishing trip to Eel Lake.

A QUAILNAPPER.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 6 (A.P.)—Charles B. Hughes' bantam hen strutted home a "quailnapper" after a week in the desert. In her wake were 11 quail chicks.

Apparently taking readily to their new life, the chicks, usually difficult to domesticate, go scratching about as freely as their foster-mother, Hughes said.

WARKWORTH

The following were holiday guests at Mrs. W. J. Baker's on Monday: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson and baby Donald of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Baker and Jackie of Rochester, Mr. Morley Baker of Picton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker have returned home after spending six weeks with friends in England and Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barker returned from Picton and are visiting their mother, Mrs. W. J. Baker for a few days before returning to Niagara Falls.

Miss Sara McComb and her friends Miss Cora Goderich of Toronto and Miss Nellie Watson of Havelock are enjoying a motor trip to the 1,000 Islands and other points.

Miss Knott of Peterborough is visiting at the home of Mrs. W. Barringer.

Mrs. C. C. Armstrong has returned after visiting friends in Montreal.

N.Y. Sports Scribe Succumbs 'Covering' Saratoga Events

HOCKEY PROMOTER.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 6 (CP)—William J. (Bunk) MacBeth' top-ranking race writer, is dead and today a new signature went on the New York Herald-Tribune's stories from this famous old spa race course.

MacBeth, a native of Ingersoll, Ont., who rose to prominence in sports writer, wrote his last race Wednesday. Then he suffered an internal hemmorrhage, was taken to Saratoga hospital, almost within sound of the racing hooves, and died last night.

A veteran of 33 years in newspaper work, he would have been 53 Aug. 19. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Jean.

He was credited with being instrumental in bringing Babe Ruth to New York Yankees and starting professional hockey in New York city.

Before entering newspaper work MacBeth taught district School in Ontario. Then he joined the Detroit Free Press and in 1905-06 was sports editor of the Montreal Herald.

He returned to Detroit to write baseball for the Detroit Times and successively wrote for the New York American, the New York Sun, the New York Tribune and the Herald-Tribune.

Colorful Career

His host of friends in sports and journalism called him "Bunk" and a mass of anecdote and legend grew up around him and his career.

One such story concerned the visit of a fight promoter when MacBeth was acting sports editor of the Tribune. He informed the promoter space would be given "the champion of South Africa if the scrapper was any good. A few days later the promoter returned, his fighter in tow, and announced, "Here's the champion of South Africa."

Bunk, so the story goes, rose from his chair, hung a long-count haymaker on the fighter's chin and announced:

"Now I'm the champion of South Africa."

In the winter of 1919 it was Bunk who convinced Colonel T. L. Huston and Colonel Jake Ruppert, then joint owners of the Yankees, that Babe Ruth should be purchased from the Red Sox, the team he socked 27 homers for the previous season.

The race writer played hockey as a youth in Canada and in 1925, after operating a successful professional club in Boston in co-operation with the late Tom Duggan, Canadian promoter, MacBeth induced Bill Dwyer to put up the money to bring professional hockey to New York.

He helped found the Baseball Writers Association and the Turf Writers Association.

OUR SCHEDULE book shows us that the main events at our local club next week will be the local twilight doubles on Monday evening at 7 p.m.—50 cents per pair...The open mixed tournament on Wednesday, Aug. 11 at 2 p.m., 3-14 end games to be payed and the fee $5.00 per rink. Notices of this tournament are posted up at the club house.

WE UNDERSTAND that the ladies game committee are busy drawing up a further schedule for skip-vice, Lead-seconds competition and these games will get underway next Tuesday. Most likely there will be a card posted up in the clubhouse tonight (Friday) or tomorrow giving the personnel of the rinks and the draw for games. Ladies interested are asked to look up the information.

THE FOLLOWING ladies schedule games are still to be played:

Mrs. G. Borland vs. Mrs. L. Yeates

Mrs. H. Staunton vs. Mrs. G. Borland.

Mrs. H. Graham vs. Mrs. G. Borland.

TONIGHT IS Friday night and all the men members of our club known what that means—7.30 p.m. is the hour.

KEENE FORCES LOOP DEADLOCK

16-3 Victory Over Omemee Places Villagers in Tie With Cobourg.

FOR GROUP LEAD.

Final girls' softball standing:

Westclox	8	6	2
Cobourg	8	5	3
Keene	8	5	3
C.G.E.	8	3	5
Omemee	8	2	6

Keene defeated Omemee 16-3 at the Bowl last night to earn a tie with Cobourg in the standing and force these teams to play a sudden-death game—which will be here tonight—to declare a sectional finalist against Westclox. The top two teams in each half play off for sectional honors, the ultimate victors then meeting for the league championship.

Bea McDowell pitched good ball last night and was aided by plenty of Omemee errors in a loose contest. Her teammates outhit the O's and had an edge in fielding, with the issue never being in doubt. She fanned six and walked one. J. Hickson started for Omemee, giving way later to M. Hannah, each fanning three, but the former walking three to the latter's one. H. Nelson, M. Belle, and D. Cocks had two hits apiece for the winners; while M. Fisher led the losers with two bingles. The teams:

Omemee — R. McQuade, ss; E. Morcombe, rf; M. Fisher, c; E. Bigelow, 2b; I. Sisson, 3b; J. Hickson, p; M. Hannah, p; J. Magee, cf; M. Magee, lf; M. Deyell, 1b; M. McQuade, rf, ss.

Hoofs Beat A Tattoo As Field Makes Turn At Saratoga

They're thundering all right as this field comes down the back-stretch toward the last turn in a race at Saratoga, N.Y., now holding the spotlight of American racing fans. Birdlea, with Jockey Cooper riding, took the $1,000 purse in this event, with Sun Flo and One Jest crossing the line behind him in that order. It's a swell cloud of dust they raise too.

Dizzing Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

AUBURNS play Norwood here tonight at nine in a lacrosse fixture. The locals are rolling along merrily through their schedule without anything yet that even looked like a reverse. In fact, it took Orillia Terriers to hand 'em their only defeat of the season so far. Norwood is not likely to lick them here this eve, but it ought to be a tidy tilt just the same. The old Tri-County League rivals—remember their nectic playoff in Millbrook last semester?—will dish up a flock of heated action and a lot of good lacrosse. Anl, as the A's are minus Chute and E. Creighton tonight, it might be a pretty close contest. Anyway, local gutted-stick fans turn out in goodly numbers every time the classy Auburns play at home. And no one yet has asked for his or her ducat dough back.

TOMORROW aft at Riverside, Napanee and the Petes tangle in an important ball fixture. The Petes are but half a game up on the Gibbards now and the locals have only three more games to play in the schedule. Since they are both battling bitterly for that thied-place playoff berth, it is a cinch that this tussle will be a torrid one. The Petes play the Naps here in this fixture, then go to Napanee next Wednesday and finally finish it up 'gainst Kingston here the following Saturday. Which makes every engagement now as important as a groom at a wedding. This one tomorrow is the "croocial" one of the season for ye Petes.

JOE JAKAFBY will probably pitch for the Petes. The big guy looked quite impressive early in the season but hit a long slump on the slab that was gosh-awful. In a recent start in Kingston, Joe made a fine comeback to hurl three-hit ball, and if he can do something similar tomorrow, all will be strumberries with cream. Pointer or Blazeotch should get the assignment for the Gerowmen. We're not predicting a fine display of ball nor a bumper crowd of fans, but we do say that this ought to be a real scrap as these teams tangle for the coveted money position. So, youse fans, suit yourselves!

WONDER what is Kingston's idea in piling up postponed games. They seem to do it every season, sort of locking the situation over in the final week and just winning what games they then want to—when possible. There is a C.O.B.L. ruling this year that all postponed games must be caught up by the end of the schedule. Right now, Kingston has six more to play by Aug. 14th. Is the C.O.B.L. executive going to enforce that ruling or let 'em get away with it?

KNOTTY LEE has written Secretary Jim Dorris that it might be possible to arrange to transfer a Smiths Falls-Ogdensburg pro ball game to Peterborough Aug. 28th. It would be in connection with the annual C.P.R. excursion which may come here, bringing some 2500 employees. Seems the Smiths Falls' club is sponsored by the C.P.R. and, if the big picnic could be obtained here, such a ball game would go over big, no doubt. Plenty of local fans would like to see Knotty's team in action and get a load of the class of ball played in this pro circuit. According to the financial stipulations, the local club would risk losing very little and might rake in a hefty chunk of shekels. They are checking up on the possibilities. Old Knotty would like to perform in Peterborough again where he has many friends.

AT CENTRAL last p.m., Westclox men softballers took a 12-2 win over Young Petes in their first round-robin series sotto. Tom Parsons hurled three-hit ball while his buddies socked the spheroid here and there to run up the count. But it wasn't a bad game and was much enlivened by a verbal cross-fire throughout by Chuck Dorrington and Pat Calladine. "Ya sound like a nickel midway!" and "Close the trap or we'll lose the only ball we got!", and so on—these were but a few of the cracks tossed back and forth like gossip at a sewing circle. Tonight Westclox and Motorista meet there and tomorrow its Omemee vs. Motorista at Central. These are round-robin games and not the playoff series to declare an O.A.B.A. squad.

* * * * * *

KEENE gals kept in the softball race for a playoff berth last e'en at the Bowl by copping a 16-3 win over Omemee. A lot of loose play on both sides but the O's were wobbler—it's a new word—than a sailor on shore leave. B. McDowell twirled pretty fair ball for the Fletcher femmes to keep 'em in the hunt. The Keene squad is now tied with Cobourg for second place as the second-half schedule ends. These teams play here tonight to settle that berth and the winner ankles into the sectional finals 'gainst Westclox. The ultimate victor then plays off for the league championships with Cobourg, the team that won first-half honors. Ye Cobourg scribe, who manages their team, is a bit bitter about some things in the loop—and we'll deal with them (and him) tomorrow. So don't go away for 24 hours, Ernie!

* * * * * *

OSHAWA 222-ers took a soft 22-6 verdict over Belleville's Flying Rovers—who fly like Rhode Island Reds!—in a lacrosse struggle the other p.m. in the Motor City. Cooper got eight goals, with Sanders, Cooke, Oke and Barron also helping themselves liberally to markers. Clarke was bad news to Belleville in the home cage. George Campbell, the playing writer—or is it writing-player?—pulled a lovely rush to weave through the Rovers like a fish in the reeds; pulled the goalie out of the net and then doggone it if he didn't fall flat on the floor as he prepared to shoot—imagine his embarrassment. There was much merriment, and that is one of the reasons we refuse to play anything more strenuous than checkers; after all, there are too many lowbrows just aching to get something on a sports scrivener.

HITHER and yawn: Roy Dodge of Cobourg has written a letter of thanks to the local ball club for playing there during the Centennial....Dit Clapper has arranged to have Toronto Leafs' puckists play a softball game in Hastings on Aug. 11th....Les Burton may be out of town for tomorrow's tilt....Oshawa lacrosers were due to play in Belleville this e'en....Napanee and Kingston may stage their oft-postponed ball game tonight....Young Petes ought to make quite a splash in junior O.A.B.A. playdowns....The O.H.A. has sent back word for Peterborough to arrange its own puck groupings for this winter....Orfuns' grid executive is moving rapidly now in plans for the coming season ...Westclox gals' first-sacker nearly got bumped out of softball playoffs last p.m. by a car....'Twas a typographical error in this pillar last twilight—we mean when they left the "g" out of bridge; but boyoboyoboy the beating we took!

Remember When—

(By the Canadian Press.)

Gertrude Ederle of the United States became the first woman swimmer to conquer the treacherous English Channel 11 years ago to-day. She negotiated the tide-swollen waters in 14 hours 31 minutes. Eight women have performed the feat since, but none achieved the fame of "Trudy," who was acclaimed on her return to New York.

Cricket Notes

Peterborough C.C. will play Woodgreen (Toronto) on Saturday in Toronto. Players are requested to meet at the Paragon at 12.30. A punctual start is essential, otherwise opponents are kept waiting unnecessarily, and this will increase the difficulty of arranging a schedule in the future. There is no game at the Oval.

HASTINGS

VANDALS BREAK STREET LIGHTS

Commission Offers Reward For Information Regarding This Property Damage.

CHANGES IN RATES.

HASTINGS, Aug. 6.—A postponed meeting of the Hastings Hydro Electric Commission was held on Thursday evening with W. M. Fowids, chairman of the board, and Dr. W. E. Wilson and H. G. Fairman, the three commissioners, present.

Everett Hess, the village lineman, reported to the commission that there seemed to be an epidemic of vandalism in breaking the street light bulbs and damaging the shades. A lengthy discussion followed and it was thought advisable by the commission that in order to have it stopped, drastic measures must be adopted. It was moved by Dr. Wilson and seconded by Mr. Fairman, that a reward of ten dollars be offered to anyone giving information leading to the conviction of person or persons destroying Hydro property and lights in the village.

The matter of the various changes in the Hydro rates were announced officially as follows: The domestic rates will be 5c for the first 45 kilowats hours used and 1.5c for each additional hour. The minimum monthly charge will be $1.25 and the usual monthly service charge of 33c has been discontinued. A rebate of 10 p.c. is being given to all local consumers on ther 1936 total net bill.

The power rate has been reduced $4.50, bringing it to $42.00 per horse power. The village are at present using 97 horse power and at this rate it will mean a saving of $437.00 per year. The street lighting flat rate of $16.00 per 100 watt lamps and $20.00 per 500 watt lamp remains as it was before. However, the village will receive a rebate of $152.92 on their account for street lighting for 1936.

H. G. Fairman obtained permission from the commission for the putting up of extra lighting for the street dance on Aug. 11th, on behalf of the Sports and Entertainment committee.

E. M. Hess drew the attention of the commission to a meter installed in one of the cottages that was running backwards and as a result he was unable to read it properly. An estimation of 147 hours was set as the reading and the secretary was instructed to write the electrician and have the meter loops wired properly. Their attention was also drawn to one user who, it is alleged, was selling power to outsiders. The chairman said he would warn the offender that such was done only by permission from them.

A sketch was presented to the board received from the C.N.R. of how they wanted two guy wires attached to a pole in front of Mrs. Graham's cottage. The move received its okay from the board, and the lineman was instructed to attach same.

As an enticement to have more users of electric ranges of 50 amps or over, the commission have decided and passed a motion to the effect that anyone installing an electric range of 50 amps or over will be allowed $1.00 per month for twenty months on their Hydro bills.

The matter of appointing a secretary for the ensuing year was left over till the next meeting.

The following accounts were read: T. A. Coughlan, salary, $12.50; E. M. Hess, salary, $37.50; E. M. Hess, labor, $22.60; G. Herrington, $1.50; I. Bond, $9.88; Bell Telephone, $3.10; Express 45c, $2.49, $2.55; A. Lemoire, $1.13; Postage, $6; Power account, $330.53.

Napanee Has Chance to Displace Seniors

C.O.B.L. standing to date:

Kingston	18	13	5	6
Oshawa	21	14	7	3
Petes	21	7	14	3
Napanee	18	5	13	6

Napanee plays the Petes here tomorrow afternoon (Saturday) at three o'clock in Riverside Park. It will be the final appearance here this season of the Gibbards and the locals' second last scheduled fixture. Since the Petes are but half a game ahead of Napanee in the scramble for that third-place playoff berth, and with but three games left for them to play, they must win this to keep in the race. It is a highly important contest.

Joe Jakafby and Lefty Pointer are expected to be the starting pitchers. Joe twirled a fine game last Monday in Kingston, holding the Ponies to three hits. With fair support at bat and afield, he should take the Gerowmen in this fray. With so much depending on the outcome—and the Petes due to snap back to winning form—a good crowd of fans is expected.

NEWARK BEARS 22 GAMES AHEAD

Yankee Farmhands Hang Up No. 7 of Current Streak By Defeating Bisons 4-2.

TORONTO, Aug. 6 (CP)—There isn't much incentive for a team to go out and hustle when it's 18 games in front of the field. So when Newark Bears passed the half-way mark of the International League campaign with that much of a lead over Montreal, they began to go into a slump. For a couple of weeks they played under the .500 mark and the other clubs were beginning to perk up. But it seems the Bears were only fooling.

They're hotter than a heat wave now. They've won their last seven games in a row and have boosted their league leadership to 22 games over Royals.

Bears hung up victory No. 7 yesterday with a 4-2 win over the skidding Buffalo Bisons, who went down to their fifth consecutive defeat. Joe Beggs, Newark fledgling, garnered his 15th win of the season with a five-hit performance. Montreal went down to its third straight defeat at the hands of the ambitious Baltimore Orioles, losing out 10-5.

Toronto and Syracuse had an off day.

QUAKERS SLICE ONE FULL GAME OFF CUBS' LEAD

PIRATES LOSE 9-6.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Chicago's Cubs had another game lopped off their National League lead when they dropped their second straight to the Philadelphia Phillies 4 to 2. Bucky Walters turned the Cubs back with four hits and the Phils got to Shoun, Bryant and Root for ten, clinching the game with a three-run burst in the first inning. A double, two singles and a pair of walks off Shoun spelled defeat for the pace-setters. Martin later homered for the Phils and Demaree for Chicago.

Giants Blank Reds 2-0

The defeat trimmed their margin to five games over the New York Giants, who blanked the Cincinnati Reds, 2 to 0, in a twelve-inning struggle. It was a duel between Lefty Lee Grissom and Clydell Castleman. The latter scattered eight hits to the Reds, while the Giants got to Grissom for ten, bunching four of them in the twelfth for the decision. A two-bagger by Leslie and singles by Danning, Ryan and Whitehead furnished the margin. It was Castleman's first appearance since an injury July 21, and he still wore an abdominal brace.

Brooklyn gained an even break in their four-game series with Pittsburg when the Dodgers captured the wind-up, 9 to 6, today. The Pirates outhit Brooklyn, but they made six errors afield, three of them coming in the seventh, which the Dodgers coupled with three hits that gave them a lead they never relinquished.

Errors Costly.

Timely hitting and two St. Louis Cardinal errors gave the Boston Bees a 4-to-1 decision. The Bees, outhit 11-8, took the lead when Vince DiMaggio homered in the fourth, then scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth on singles by DiMaggio, Cuccinello and English.

YOUNG PETES LOSE TO WESTCLOX 12-2

Westclox men softballers took a 12-2 win over Young Petes last night at Central before a good crowd of fans. It was a round-robin series struggle and puts the Clockmakers on top at present. They bunched hits in three frames to earn the nod handily while getting fine pitching and fair fielding. The losers were weak at the platter and had only fair flinging as they bobbled five behind their hurler. Westclox scored one in the second, two in the third, three in the fifth, four in the eighth and two in the final frame. The losers got their lone tallies in the fourth.

Tom Parsons pitched three-hit ball for the victors, no two to an inning. He struck out three and walked two. Lefty Fleming was nicked for 18 hits, several of them scratchy, while fannig three and issuing three free tickets. Parsons collected two triples and a double, while Currie, Starr, and P. Calladine had three singles each. W. Calladine hit a double. Coursey, O'Leary and Cleary got the only hits for Young Petes. Catches by Foster and Starr were defensive features. The teams:

Score by innings:

English Cricketeers In Action

Cricket fans throughout Canada will be able to get a glimpse of how Englishmen perform with the broad bats, for a selected team from England is touring the Dominion this month in a series of friendly matches. They will play exhibition matches in such cities as Winnipeg, Regina, Vancouver, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. In this picture, taken during a game in Toronto, "Tiger" Taylor of the Marylebone Cricket Club of England, is seen playing a forward stroke with R. C. Dobson, the Toronto stumper, behind the wicket.

BOSTON RED SOX DISPLACE CHISOX FROM 2ND PLACE

GEHRIG HOMERS TWICE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Boston's fast-moving Red Sox scored their ninth straight victory yesterday and dislodged the Chicago White Sox from second place in American League standings.

The Sox edged the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 4, to sweep the four-game series. Buck Newsom went the distance, distributing eight hits, while Boston batsmen nicked Hudlin for 11. The Tribe rallied in the ninth and scored one run, but failed to push the tying tally across when Pytlak, on an attempted squeeze play, popped to Foxx, who threw Campbell out for a double play. Boston scored the winning run in their half when Melillo's single scored Foxx.

Drop Fourth Straight

The White Sox fell to third when they lost their fourth straight to the New York Yankees, 13 to 8. The Yanks were outhit, but five of their wallops were for extra bases—including home runs 23 and 24 by Lou Gehrig, who drove in five runs. DiMaggio hit a triple, and two-baggers were clouted by Dickey and Henrich. Monty Stratton started for Chicago and had the Yankees well in hand until he beaned Jake Powell in the fourth inning. Powell did not lose consciousness, but was sent to St. Elizabeth's Hospital to be X-rayed. Stratton was shaky after the incident and was removed in the fifth.

The Detroit Tigers bested the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 3, to climb within na game and a half of Chicago. Elden Auker scattered nine hits to the A's. Hank Greenberg's timely home run in the eighth inning with Fox and Gehringer aboard, clinched the game. Fox also hit a four-bagger for Detroit, and Johnson got one for Philadelphia.

St. Louis' Browns made it two out of three over the Washington Senators, 7 to 4. Four singles, a walk and a sacrifice in the second inning sent the Browns away to a four-run lead and they were never headed. Kousal, who pitched the first seven innings for St. Louis, was the winner, and Appleton, who started for Washington, the loser.

Havelock Wreckers Lose To Hastings

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 6. — The Wreckers suffered a 7 to 3 defeat last evening at the hands of the Hastings Juniors in a regular Kawartha Junior League fixture. A large crowd of fans was on hand to watch the local boys in action, and although they came out at the wrong end of the scoring column, a good brand of softball was shown.

The game was very close, there being no score until the fifth inning when the visitors took advantage of the breaks and some timely hits to chalk up seven runs. From then on the locals held them scoreless, but failed to account for more than three runs themselves during the remaining three innings.

The teams:

Hastings — Radford, 1b; Brinklow, 2b; McKee, c; McCoy, p; Kelley, ss; R. Scriver, lf; Blackburn, cf; Stickles, 3b; G. Scriver, rf.

Score by innings:

Sports Spice

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(CP)— No American League batter hit for the cycle (single, double, triple and home run) in 1936 . . . Three have done it this year— Gerald Walker, Joe DiMaggio, and Lou Gehrig . . . Just to make it look good, DiMaggio contributed a second homer . . . Well, the yachting races are over and how is your starboard tack? . . . Mike Jacobs' wife gave him merry "L" for taking over the Garden . . . Said he had been working too hard, anyway . . . Mike was afraid to go home after signing the lease.

New York baseball writers with the Giants wire back Bill Terry has given up on Memphis Lou Chiozza and is eyeing Joe Stripp of the Dodgers as his 1938 third-sacker . . . Don't go pitying Jimmy Johnston for losing out at the Garden . . . The guy is likely to wind up as director of sports for the forthcoming world's fair—the job slated to go to the late Jack Curley . . . So far the Yankees have belted 126 home runs, of which 76 were contributed by Messrs. DiMaggio, Gehrig and Dickey . . . What are you going to do with a team like that? . . . The Cardiff Western Mail, leading newspaper of Wales, has shipped a large Welsh flag to Tommy Farr and it will fly from his corner when he goes against Joe Louis.

Cardinal Prince, the fastest pacer in America, is as black as his famous trotting stablemate, Greyhound, is light . . . but there is a lot of difference in the hosses . . . Greyhound is a perfect gentleman, but Cardinal Prince is a bad actor . . . They won't let you within three feet of his stall, he's that ornery . . .

Auburns Optimistic On Unbeaten Record

Lacrosse standing to date:

	P.	W.	L.
Auburns	11	11	0
Oshawa	13	9	4
Belleville	13	7	6
Norwood	13	4	9

Norwood plays the Auburns here to-night (Friday) at nine o'clock under the lights in the George Street Arena. It is a regular C.O.L.A. fixture and the final appearance of Norwood here this season. Another good crowd of followers of the gutted-stick sport is anticipated this evening.

The locals hope to continue their undefeated string in group tilts, while Norwood is battling hard to climb in the standing. The Auburns are expected to win, but it promises to be a lively game all the way as these old rivals press throughout in their clashes. Chute and E. Creighton are off the local lineup through injuries, and Norwood will bring a full team here to-night. Bud Fisher is slated to do the refereeing.

AMERICA'S CUP BID BY BRITAIN AGAIN FAILURE

Ranger Sets Two Records in Fourth Straight Win Over Endeavour.

MARGIN SMALLEST YET.

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 6 (C.P.). —Harold Stirling Vanderbilt to-day was recognized in a class by himself as an amateur skipper with his white-hulled Ranger crowned queen of the racing sloops.

The United States yacht's all-conquering performance against T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavor II. removed all doubt the big ship is the fastest ever built for Class J competition. She won her fourth straight race from the British challenger yesterday to defend successfully the America's Cup.

In a final stand Endeavour proved she was not outclassed and had it not been for a premature start, the first in cup-racing history, the result might have been reversed. The British boat outsailed Ranger after the American boat's record performance for the 10-mile windward beat over the 30-mile triangular course.

Makes Bad Start.

Sopwith was trapped before the start between the buoy and his rival and was virtually forced to cross the line to avoid a foul. Caught much like a base-runner between bases, the Briton went across the line before the starting signal sounded to allow Vanderbilt a wide advantage, as he had to bring Endeavour around the buoy for a fresh start.

Ranger's accomplishment yesterday against keener competition followed three previous triumphs, two of which were by the biggest margins in 50 years of cup racing. Sopwith's failure marked his second and Great Britain's 16th unsuccessful attempt to regain the "Old Mug."

Endeavour II. was approximately 1,000 yards behind Ranger as Vanderbilt sailed his boat across the finish line for a course record of 3 hours 7 minutes 49 seconds. It was the British boats best performance, having lost the first three by two, three, and one-mile margins respectively.

Sopwith's poor start gave Vanderbilt an opportunity to build up a windward margin that settled the outcome, and it converted what might have been a close race into another parade. The challenger outfooted Ranger over the last 20 miles, sailed in breezes of from 12 to 16 miles an hour. Sopwith's boat showed superiority for the first time in the best-of-seven race series.

But the spurt came too late to have much effect and all it did was keep the British boat from being outclassed and reduce the final margin by half a minute.

Breaks Former Records.

Both records toppled by Ranger were previously held by Sopwith's first Endeavour, being established in the second race with Vanderbilt's Rainbow in 1934. By eclipsing these marks Vanderbilt got revenge for the defeat administered by Sopwith's former challenger in a club cruise two days before the current Cup matches.

The defeat by Endeavour I. in feathery airs, with Sherman Hoyt, American seaman, at the wheel, is the only setback Ranger has suffered since she was launched this spring.

Thomasburg Defeats Ivanhoe Club 11-8

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 6.—Thomasburg nosed out their old rivals from Ivanhoe in a tight battle at the Memorial Park, Tweed, by a score of 11 to 8. The outcome was in doubt until the last out in the seventh. Stafford Meraw, in the box for Ivanhoe, got off to a shaky start and was nicked for seven hits including two four-base knocks by Dudgeon and Carleton, which netted five runs. Thomasburg added two more in the third; three in the sixth and a single run in the seventh.

Ivanhoe got to Dudgeon, the Thomasburg pitcher for a single in the first, then added three runs in the second. Going scoreless for the next three innings, they loosed a barrage of hits coupled with some loose fielding to score four runs. This ended the scoring; the final score: Thomasburg, 11; Ivanhoe, 8.

Nearly $750,000,000 is being spent on summer sports in England this year.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

CHAPTER I

THE UNMUTED murmur of well-bred voices, the circumspect clatter of china and silver in expert serving hands rose and fell in concerted waves against the music of the string quartet. The latter was screened by palms on the dais at the entrance to the luncheon room at the Ritz.

For the briefest moment there was a lull in the sound as the three appeared there and paused.

There were two women and a man toward whom Fritz, now an obsequious autocrat, hurried, his whole being an expression of his desire to please.

They stood there only a moment; the beady-eyed old lady in her ancient black, her withered throat covered with glowing pearls; the tall, bronzed young man in faultless morning attire who gave his arm to her light, arrogant touch. And the young woman with the cool, appraising eyes that were seemingly oblivious of the eyes turned upon her.

The young woman had seen such eyes before. Had heard the same faint rising crescendo in the murmurs. She knew what they were saying. She had seen and heard in high-ceilinged, glittering rooms like this one in London, in Paris, at Monte Carlo and in Cairo.

But it hadn't been exactly the same then. Mrs. Suydem Sutherland, she of the ancient black and pearls, had not been her hostess then. And her eyes had not searched the room as they would soon. Because HE would not have been in Europe.

Tony Castle might be in this room at this moment.

The thought made her lift her chin a little as she followed the other two down the carpeted steps and across the floor to their table. With that slight movement, she lent a new accent to the hat that swooped low over her eyes and rose daringly on her smooth copper-colored head; and to the swinging grace of the yellow coat banded richly with silver fox. Over the velvety blackness of her suede gloves, a single wide diamond bracelet gleamed on each wrist.

"Humph!" Mrs. Suydem Sutherland snorted at the menu in French at an American hotel! I'll take lamb stew if they've got any."

The young woman smiled. "I'd like the same thing."

"You've good sense, my dear. From all the things Mark said about you, I was afraid you couldn't have."

"Who is she?" The woman in green velvet asked the woman in brown tweed.

"Mari Barat."

"The famous Parisian couturier? But, my dear, she's so young!"

"She rose quickly. Four years ago no one had ever heard of her. Now she's beginning to be a rage. She's an American, you know. I heard she was a debutante from out west somewhere. Had lots of money, went to Europe and became an overnight success."

The Green Velvet raised her eyebrows slightly. "An overnight success? She seems to have done well for herself socially. Isn't that Mark Sutherland with her?"

"It is! More importantly, that is also the dowager, Mrs. Suydem Sutherland. The girl must have been someone acceptable or the old lady wouldn't be taking her up."

Mari smiled. "The crest isn't mine. The case was a gift to me," she said. She didn't add that it was the gift of an Indian maharajah. She added, "I dont believe the Barretts of Brooklyn went in for crests."

"I like your Mari Barat," Mrs. Sutherland said to her grandson. She hadn't liked many of the things—or people—Mark had liked. She hadn't liked his hard riding polo, his speed flying, his motor racing, or the associates who had made his name a by-word to the gossip columns as well as the sports and society pages.

The waiter held a match to Mari's cigaret so that, at first, she didn't see Tony Castle. He was at her side when she looked up. Looked up with the exact note of cool, pleased surprise that she had rehearsed against this moment.

"Tony!" Just the right note in her cool, clipped voice as she held out her hand. "So nice to see you!" Then turning, "Mrs. Sutherland, may I present...?"

"You may not!" That lady answered crisply. "I've known this boy since he was an impudent pup who wanted to paint me in fire engine red! That's why I've never been near his shop. If he has as much charm as a merchant as he had as a painter, he'd sell me a red dress." She gave him her withered hand.

He smiled on her charmingly, shrugged his beautifully tailored shoulders.

Marie, aware of Mark's eyes upon her, said nothing. And saw everything that Time had done to Tony Castle, saw the new lines in his face, saw the half-mocking smile that she could never forget. And saw, with something inside her wrenching her as if the pain were not old, that seeing her was—she searched for the word and found—nothing.

"Are you going to be in America for very long?" he asked her.

"I'm sailing Friday."

"I'd like to call if you..."

"I'm not sure..." she murmured uncertainly.

Quickly then, his dark eyes darted from Marie to Mark who had closed his hand over Mari's which lay on the table. Mari saw him note the gesture, and if she thought she saw something in his eyes that had been there four years before, she observed that it was extinguished when they fell on her covered hand.

For an instant the smooth patina, the control to which she had schooled herself, wavered and she wanted to cry out that it meant nothing, that Mark had no right to that possessive gesture. Then she remembered herself and was all coolness and copper, and she said, "Mrs. Sutherland, it was Mr. Castle who gave me my start."

"I began my apprenticeship in his shop."

"Well, then," the old lady said, "You two must have much to say to each other. You should be very proud of her, Tony."

That Tony Castle would be proud of her, Mari did not hope. But that he would recognize her as an artist was the very purpose of her life, Mari Barat, poised in the flower of her beauty and success, was consumed with that ambition that would never be satisfied until Tony Castle recognized her. That was what he had left her with six years before when—she had been Mary Barrett then — he had let her and her love for him go out of his life.

Six years before...

There had been dreams then back of her deep gray eyes, milling around under the coppery curls that escaped from under a shabby beret. Dreams of beauty to be created out of fabrics rich to touch, destined to float, to enwrap, to enhance. These had crowded into her mind for these were to her what clay is to the sculptor, paint to the artist, words to the writer.

She had had dreams as she clutched her unwieldly portfolio closer under her arm that February night. Dreams that were extravagant, but none so fantastic as the pattern that was even then beginning to weave for her.

If Tony Castle hadnt.

CHILDREN AID SCIENTISTS IN RESEARCH WORK

Dr. Brooks' Family Collect Snails And Plants In Newfoundland

CARNEGIE PROFESSORS

FERRYLAND, Nfld., Aug. 6.—(CP).—The three youngest collectors for the Carnegie Museum of Pittsburg scrambled over rocks in search of a multitude of beetles, snails and plants to-day in one of the oldest settled sections of Newfoundland, 50 miles south of St. John's.

Hunter, aged seven, and his sisters, Barbara, five, and Anne, three, are the children of Dr. Stanley Truman Brooks and Dr. Betty Brooks of Pittsburgh. Their father is Curator of Recent Invertebrates at the Carnegie Museum, and both he and Mrs. Brooks are doing research and collection work in Newfoundland during the summer—aided by the children.

It is Dr. Brooks' third summer in Newfoundland, but it is the first for Mrs. Brooks and the children. They arrived in the middle of June and will remain until the end of September. Dr. Brooks is at present away on a study of the northern section of Labrador, while Mrs. Brooks continues her work here.

Far from being a hindrance, the children have proved themselves "a great help" claims Mrs. Brooks—That's why they are now officially collecting for the Carnegie Museum, Hunter started them when he discovered a type of snail where snails ordinarily are least expected; on inland soil with a high acid content. He had been helping Mrs. Brooks collect plant life at the time.

"Everything the children find will be submitted to the Museum under their own names," the Brooks decided after that discovery. So the children are taking their work seriously now, following their mother around the country, gathering beetles and snails while she concentrates on more minute forms of life. Already they have a sizeable collection to their credit.

The children have quite fallen in love with life in Newfoundland, and say they are never going back to Pittsburgh. All they ask is that the maid, cat, dog and turtle pack up and come see them "on a boat" and all will be well.

But Hunter does more than collect insects. For one thing he has taken a liking to the big Bankers that come into Ferryland for supplies, and never a schooner enters port, but he is down to meet her. One of the greatest thrills of his life came when Lunenburg's famous Bluenose slid gracefully up to the wharf one morning and he was able to go aboard and eat cake with Captain Angus Walters.

Dr. and Mrs. Brooks both received their Ph.D. degrees from University of Pittsburgh. Historically, their most important work this year has been the discovery of what is believed to be the site of the home of Lord Baltimore, founder of the Ferryland colony, and father of Cecil Baltimore, the founder of the state of Maryland.

Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S DANDELION MUSIC

"Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig!"

A little voice was calling to the rabbit gentleman. Right well he knew to whom it belonged.

"That's Baby Bunty," he said with a jolly little twinkle of his pink nose. "Baby Bunty is the only one who calls me that way."

Indeed it was the little orphan rabbit calling to Mr. Longears who was hopping through the woods wondering what sort of an adventure he might find.

"Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig!" called Bunty again. Though she was a sort of kindergarten orphan rabbit she was only allowed to use just those two words of "baby talk."

"What is it, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears as he saw Bunty hopping toward him amid the trees and bushes.

In a Hurry

"Oh, I can hardly wait to tell you, Unkie Wig," said Bunty.

"My goodness me sakes alive and an ice cream cone full of jelly beans!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I hope no Bad Chaps are chasing Baby Bunty. She surely is in a hurry."

I am glad to tell you no Bad Chaps were chasing Bunty. The little orphan rabbit hopped to where Uncle Wiggily was waiting for her and the first thing she asked him was this:

"Where can I find some music, Unkie Wig?"

"Music?" questioned the jolly rabbit gentleman.

"Music, if you please," said Bunty.

"Did you lose your music as Jackie lost his puppy collar?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh, not" said Baby Bunty and she laughed a jolly laugh that made her little pink nose twinkle like Uncle Wiggily's larger one. "I haven't any music to lose, but I want some for our party."

"What party?" asked Mr. Longears.

"A party we are going to give for Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow," answered the orphan rabbit, "and also for Johnnie and Billie Bushytail and their new little brother Earlie."

"Hum! Yes!" chuckled the rabbit uncle. "The little squirrel who dropped a baseball on my nose thinking it was a nut."

"Did Earlie think your nose was a nut, Unkie Wig?"

"No, he thought the baseball was," laughed Mr. Longears. "But what about this music for the party."

Needs Music

"I thought maybe you could get some for us, said Bunty. "We have no money to hire a band but we need music for the party."

"Did you ever think of dandelion music, Bunty?"

"No, Unkie Wig. I never did. What is dandelion music?"

"Come with me and I shall show you," said Mr. Longears.

He led Bunty to a meadow near the camping woods. In the meadow grew many tall dandelion stems. Long since the bright yellow blossoms had faded and changed into fluffy white balls of seeds, each one with a tiny parachute to carry it to a new field.

Uncle Wiggily picked up a long dandelion stem. He nipped off the fluffy seed head. Putting the thin end of the dandelion stem in his mouth, Uncle Wiggily blew through it. Out came a sound like:

"Umpah-ah! Umph!"

"You blow through one," invited Uncle Wiggily. Bunty blew a smaller stem and she made a sound like:

"Tootie-toot-ah!

"If all you rabbit children will blow on different sized dandelion stems, Bunty," said Uncle Wiggily, "you shall have fine music for the party."

The orphan rabbit was delighted. And if the auto will turn upside down and twirl its wheels to stop the baby goldfish from crying, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's music party.

JAPANESE SPEED MECHANIZED UNITS TO HALT CHINESE

Defenders Sweep Out From Behind Great Wall in Surprise Move to the North.

MISSIONARIES UNEASY

By J. D. White
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

PEIPING, Aug. 6 (AP).—Mechanized columns of Japanese troops rolled north today to halt a surprise Chinese advance from behind the 2,000-year-old ramparts of the Great Wall.

Motorized columns were moving through Peiping and armored trains from the Japanese headquarters city of Tientsin where bringing new contingents of troops and equipment.

The main body of the Japanese advance was reported 20 miles north of Peiping, filing through low-lying hills of the heavily fortified Chinese positions at Hankow Pass. Advance Japanese troops were 10 miles from the Great Wall.

Japanese communiques reported warplanes were bombing Chinese troops and trains near Kalgan in an effort to halt the advance of central army troops from the capital of Chahar province.

Foreign missionaries expressed fear Japanese domination of north China would spell the doom of generations of efforts and millions of dollars of social investments.

Want No Missionaries

The Japanese, American missionaries said, are believed to consider foreign missionaries an obstruction to their desires of expansion on the Asiatic continent. The missions involved are those of the Methodist, Presbyterian, Adventist and Catholic churches and the American Board of Missions.

The Chinese move from the north on the Kalgan-to-Peiping railroad was reported to have taken the Japanese commanders in North China by surprise. The main Japanese advance, consolidating the conquest of the north China area from Peiping to Tientsin, was to the south.

Reports from Nanking, capital of the central Chinese government, said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was meeting with his ministers and army commanders in emergency session.

Unofficial information of the conferences varied. Some reports called it discussion of terms to bring peace in the undeclared war while others said the officials were speeding plans for a punitive expedition against the Japanese in the north.

HASTINGS

Mr. and Mrs. John Fallon and son Gerrard of St. Petersburg, Fla., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Coveney, Cobourg road.

Kidnap Victim

Torn from his mother's arms two and one-half-year-old Donald Horst (ABOVE), of Chicago, was kidnapped by two men and a woman who demanded $5,000 ransom under penalty of death, but who later returned the baby to Chicao police authorities. Quick action by the police was made by a check on the license plates of the automobile used by the kidnappers. John Regan who returned the child to the police claimed the child as his own, stating the boy had been born out of wedlock and that the attending doctor had turned it over to the Horst family. He claimed also to searching for two years for the child.

July's Home Loan Set Up New Record

OTTAWA, Aug. 6—(CP)—Loans under the Dominion Housing Act in July exceeded those in any month since the Act was passed, Finance Minister Dunning announced today. In 207 loans a total sum of $1,036,493 was put out to provide housing accommodation for 247 families. The average loan per family unit was $4,196.

Compared with the peak month of 1936, the loans made in July this year increased by more than 100 per cent. in number and nearly 50 per cent. in total amount.

Total loans to date show that $9,835,759 has been borrowed under the Act, providing housing accommodation for 2,247 families. During the year ending July 31, 1937, nearly $7,000,000 Housing Act loans were made, providing accommodation for 1,674 families.

1,000 STEEL MEN AND SHIPMAKERS STRIKE IN SOREL

Walkout Brings Total of Jobless in Quebec Tie-up to 11,000.

MONTREAL, Aug. 6—(CP)—Labor reached Thursday into the steel and shipbuilding plants of Sorel to bring the number of strikers throughout Quebec to more than 11,000.

As the six-city strike of 10,000 Dominion Textile Company employees moved into its fourth day, five plants in the St. Lawrence River town, 50 miles below Montreal, were idle as 1,200 heeded the call of the National Catholic Syndicate of Steel Workers.

Meanwhile, Labor Minister William Tremblay came to Montreal to-day from Quebec City, from where he telephone his willingness to act as mediator in the walkout of the textile employees for a collective Labor agreement, higher wages and shorter hours.

Whether the company or the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers would accept the minister's offer, remained unknown.

Probability the union would accept was expressed by Alfred Charpentier, president of the National Catholic Syndicates with which both the textile and steel unions are affiliated. Company heads remained silent.

The steel plants affected at Sorel are the Sorel Steel Foundries, Limited; Sorel Mechanical Shops, Limited; Sorel Cast Iron Foundry; Manseau Shipyards and General Dredging Contractors, Limited. All but the dredging company previously were tied up for a month in two strikes earlier this year, when the union won its fight for recognition and arbitration of wage questions.

The latest walkout came swiftly yesterday.

Though Ludger Simar, president of the Sorel Steel Foundries, said he had not been told why the men walked out of the plants, a union official declared cause of the strike was dissatisfaction with recently-regulated wage schedules fixed by a board of arbitration after the two-day walkout two months ago.

FRENCHMAN ARRESTED.

Pair Charged With Spreading Disease Germs Among Franco's Troops.

FUENTERRABIA, Spain, Aug. 6.—(AP).—Two French men charged by Spanish insurgents with plotting to spread disease germs among General Franco's troops were brought here to-day from Pamplona.

The men, identified as Louis Chabrat and Jean Boujennec, were held pending further investigation.

They had been sentenced to death by an insurgent court at Pamplona, but official sources indicated execution of the sentence depended upon a further investigation.

Albert Christopherson, who was H. M. Stanley's right hand man in the search for Dr. Livingstone in "darkest Africa," has died in Copenhagen, Denmark, aged 78.

Conservatives From All Parts of Canada Rally in Ottawa.

CALLED BY "THE CHIEF."

Almost 10 Years Since Winnipeg Convention Handed Him Meighen's Mantle.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (C.P.). — Exactly seven years after Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett was sworn in as Prime Minister of Canada, Conservatives in all parts of Canada looked to a meeting of their representatives in Parliament to-day for word as to the future of the Party.

Summoned by Mr. Bennett, Conservative members of the House of Commons met to hear whether he wishes to drop the mantle of leadership and retire from politics or continue and prepare to lead the Party against Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Liberal following the next general election.

Mr. Bennett's health, indifferent since the serious illness he passed through on the eve of the 1934 election, is a major factor in whatever decision may be reached. Before leaving Canada for the Coronation last year Mr. Bennett informed his followers in the House he would take the advice of British and European specialists on his health and be guided by their advice as to his future in public life.

It is now nearly 10 years since Mr. Benneth was chosen Leader of the Conservative Party. In 1927 a national convention at Winnipeg placed upon him the mantle of Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Robert Borden, and Arthur Meighen.

Three years later he led the Party to a smashing victory in the general election of 1930.

MOTHER DESERTS HER 2 CHILDREN

Held After Leaving Them at Police Station—Couldn't Live on $15 Month.

CALGARY, Aug. 7. — (CP).—A dark-eyed Russian women, whose husband, a farm laborer, makes insufficient money to suport her and two children, pleaded not guilty to a charge of desertion before Magistrate A. L. Miller in City Court yesterday. Judgment was reserved.

Mrs. Lydia Chutskoff, when refused relief because her husband had a job, left her two young daughters in the police building here, and two days later she was arrested charged with deserting them.

"She did what was in the best interests of her children,' said Norman Dingle, K.C., her counsel, at the Court Session. "What she did was for their benefit. She had no food to feed them."

Mr. Dingle said the mother had tried to care for herself and children on less than $15 a month.

Relief Officers testified Mrs. Chutskoff could not be considered indigent because her husband had a farm job. They had offered to give her transportation to the country but she had refused it.

Hold-Up Men Rob Oshawa Station

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP)— Two men early today smashed the operator's window of the Canadian National Railways station here and held up Eccles Joynt, night operator, with revolvers. A third man, a negro, kept a lookout on the platform while his companions proceeded to unlock the station door.

Two robbers ordered Joynt to stand behind a stove while they scooped money out of the ticket drawer. They took $96 in bills and silver. They broke two telephones in the office and the telegrapher's key.

The three crossed the railway track and disappeared in the brush.

2 Brothers Drown One Trying Rescue

PORT STANLEY, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP)—Double drowning which took the lives of John and Hugh Todd, London children, was attributed in part today to Hugh's attempt to rescue his younger brother.

Fellis believe six-year-old John, paddling around in the shallow water of Lake Erie near the harbor channel, stepped into a hole and eight-year-old Hugh went to the rescue. Both were drowned.

A section of John's fishing line was found tangled about his body when it was found six or seven hours after the tragedy.

Edward J. Dunn, the sociologist who forecast the wealth of the Rand in South Africa before the goldfields were opened up, has died in Australia at 85.

An emergency meeting of town council was called for noon today to consider the latest development.

COMPANY IS READY FOR INVESTIGATION BY LABOR BOARD

Co-operate With Authorities in Opening Mills Barett Declares.

ABIDE BY DECISION.

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, August 7—Henry Barrett, managing director of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds told The Examiner today in commenting on Mayor George A. Macdonald's statement that the company is prepared to abide by any decision the Ontario Industry and Labor Board may render if an investigation is made into the textile industry in Ontario.

"I have read with interest the statement made by Mayor George A. Macdonald in Friday issue of the Peterborough Examiner. The company has pointed out in conferences which have been held that it is financially unable at the present time to give a general increase in wages. That to its best knowledge and belief it pays wages at least equal to if not in excess of wages paid by its competitors. It has signified its willingness to the Industry and Labor board to facilitate in every way an investigation into the textile industry in Ontario and will of course have to abide by any decision it may render. The company will cooperate with the authorities in Peterborough in reopening its mills at the earliest possible moment," Mr. Barrett said.

Silver Candelabra Presented Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(CP).— The public archives of Canada announced last night it had received the gift of a solid silver candelabra made in 1842 and presented to Hon. William Morris, Member of the Legislative Council of Canada.

The gift was made by Miss Elizabeth Phillips of Toronto, in accordance with the wishes of the statesman's grandson, William Morris, who died in 1936.

Hon. Morris was prominent in the public life of Upper Canada from 1820 until his death in 1858. He was particularly outstanding as a champion of the Church of Scotland in Canada.

Sir Malcolm Campbell abandoned his speedboat trials on Loch Lomond, Scotland, because storms had increased the amount of driftwood.

SLIDES BLOCK ROADS.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—Southwestern Ontario today surveyed damage wrought by a heavy rainstorm that swept the district early last night. Resident in many parts of the city mopped up their cellars while officials examined the high level bridge at the city's western outskirts to determine how badly it was undermined.

Railway gangs were clearing the Canadian National Railways main line near Bayview where tons of sand were carried down over the tracks and for hours interrupted traffic on the C.N.R. and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo line.

A London-bound train which left here at seven p.m. and the Buffalo-bound T.H. and B. passenger from Toronto due here at 6.45 p.m. were delayed and finally re-routed across Hamilton Beach to Stoney Creek and via the Port Dover line over the mountain.

The cloudburst extended through the Niagara peninsula, innundating highways a foot deep in low spots. At Brantford it was extremely heavy. A street car and a transformer were hit by lightning there and many cellars were flooded.

Sand Blocks Road

About 3,000 tons of sand was washed across the Longwood and old Guelph roads under the high level bridge on the highway coming into Hamilton from the west. The rain partly undermined the huge structure and traffic guards warned motorists to proceed with caution.

An airplane piloted by Bob Byers was brought safely to the Hamilton Aero Club at the height of the storm, while Pilot Morley Gains of St. Catharines, who was following Byers, was forced down in a field near Oakville. Out in the bay nine motor boats were upset, but their passengers rescued.

In the city several streets were closed and watchmen guarded bad spots after hundreds of cars were stalled. The storm sewer system was most heavily taxed since it was put in 10 years ago.

Toronto got a taste of the storm, too, but a welcome one. There it relieved oppressive heat that had sent the mercury to 86 and was blamed as a contributing factor in two deaths.

King Liberal Chief For 18 Years Today

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP) — Congratulations were received today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King on completion of 18 years as leader of the Liberal party in Canada.

Mr. Mackenzie King could already look back over an extensive career in the science of government when in 1919 he was chosen as successor of the illustrious Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

He was first elected to parliament for North Waterloo in 1908 and was minister of labor in the Laurier administration from 1909 to 1911. But he had also been deputy minister of labor from 1900 to 1908, giving him one of the longest records in the empire in ministerial service.

Few Wives In Toronto Likely To Be Beaten

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Taken all in all in all it seems that Toronto wives will have little fear from spanking husbands.

Magistrate Burtsdge in Hamilton Family Court yesterday resurrected English Common Law of 1870 to rule that it is not unlawful "to use reasonable force in chastising a wife." But faced with the question, "Is it okay?" Toronto women seem unwilling to recognize the law and Toronto men appear fearful about its effective enforcement.

"It would take a brave man to try it," chuckled Wilfrid Heighington, K.C., M.L.A. "In other fields we have done away with capital punishment — it seems time for changes in this field too."

Recommends Attempt.

"Yes!" declared Mrs. James Cotton, secretary of the Central Council of Ratepayers. But she added the rider, "If he can get away with it!"

"I wouldn't recommend it," said Fred. I. Malone, Assistant Crown Attorney. From the safety of bachelorhood he went on to say that the status existing between husbands and wives has moved a long, long way since 1870, that women no longer will "suffer the indignity" of a chastisement, and husbands had better watch their step, regardless of legal rulings.

"So absolutely no, no matter

ALWAYS GETS HIS VICTIM.

Model Dog Chases Woodchuck Into Sewer.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Aug. 7 (AP) —Bono was pointed out today as a model dog who always gets his prey, come sewer pipes and high water.

Bono chased a woodchuck into an eight-inch pipe which led to a street catch basin. Fifty feet in both became wedged. Howls brought the fire department.

A hose was lowered into the catch basin and pressure turned on. Out the end they entered were flushed the dog and the woodchuck. Dripping, but game, Bono pounced on the chuck and felled it.

FIND DOCTOR DEAD IN CELL

BELAIR, Md., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Dr. Armen Greenhut, convicted by a circuit court jury of criminal attack on a 13-year-old schoolgirl-patient, was found dead this morning in his cell.

Sheriff Granville C. Boyle said "I would not term it suicide until the coroner's jury has completed its investigation." He added he was not able to give the cause of death. The sheriff said he found Dr. Greenhut dead on the prisoner's cot when the officer went to call him for breakfast this morning.

Miracle Budget of $18 Gets Inventor Business

People Making Less a Week Ask Advice, Some Making More Think it Crazy.

NEWLYWEDS INTERESTED.

WINDSOR, Aug. 7 (C.P.).—When Angus Buchanan, Windsor 'Y' Community Centre secretary, drew up a "miracle" budget, whereby newlyweds are supposed to live on love—and $18 a week—he found himself in the same spot as the fabled mechanical genius who built a better mousetrap and found the world making a one-way path to his door.

Scores of new brides and prospective ones have shuffled the nap off the carpet leading to the Buchanan office in recognition of his building a better "man trap."

Letters of protest and praise have reached the Buchanan office, and the mail boxes of others on the "Y" staff.

There has been even a number of young men call around to learn all the angles of the $18 a week home-making.

Thought It Good.

Outstanding in the Buchanan air mail is a letter from a citizen of London, Ont., which reads:

"I was quite interested in your miracle budget. I thought it was very good, and after carefully studying it, I decided to ask you if you might budget by income.

"We have five children in our family, whose ages run from 2 to 15 years. I make $16.25 per week. I have had this position for the past two years, and find it pretty hard to get along, never being able to afford a show and carrying no insurance.

"I have yet to be given a holiday, and find it very disheartening trying to finance. Dollars won't stretch, and I am more than willing to listen to any suggestion you have to offer."

Of another stamp is a communication from a Windsor woman, reading:

"Your $18 weekly budget is ridiculous. My husband makes $40 a week and we're always broke. You must be figuring in rubber dollars."

$10.00 Not Enough.

Still another, from a young man in Windsor, follows:

"I have been married eighteen months. I make $10 weekly. We live in a small apartment, but have been forced to sell my coupe. While it has its drawbacks, I don't think I made any great mistake in becoming a married man."

Commenting on these letters, Mr. Buchanan said:

"I don't advise marriage on $10 a week. Far from it. But I do say it can be done on $18, provided the parties are willing to discipline their wants."

Statue Of A Mule Stands With Heroes

Rome, Aug. 7 (UP). ITALY has immortalized the army mule. Alongside the busts of Italy's greatest heroes, savants and artists in the famous gardens of the Villa Borghese, a bronze statue of an army mule, symbolizing all war mules in Italian service, was unveiled yesterday.

BRITAIN WIRES FRANCO PROTEST ON SHIP BOMBING

Same Three Planes Blamed For Attack on Italian and French Vessels.

TWO OF CREWS WOUNDED.

LONDON, Aug. 7. (CP).—A strong protest was sent to the insurgent regime in Spain today. The protest followed a report from the British Consul General at Algiers the machine gun and bomb attack "probably" was executed by "anti-government" aircraft.

Three monoplanes of unidentified nationality dove at the British Corporal in the Mediterranean, 30 miles northwest of Algiers, sprayed the decks with machine-gun fire and dropped bombs close to the vessel.

The same three planes were believed responsible for a similar attack on the Italian steamer Mongoia and a machine gun onslaught against a French cargo boat, the Djebel Amour.

The Consul's report to the Admiralty said: "Markings on the aircraft indicate they were probably anti-government. A strong protest is being made to local authorities at Palma today."

Palma is an insurgent naval and air base on one of the Balearic Islands about 150 miles east of Valencia in the Mediterranean within easy flying distance of the scene of the attacks.

The captain of the Italian ship, one of two persons wounded board the Mongoia, was in an Algiers hospital, seriously injured by a bomb splinter that struck him in the chest.

An officer of the Spanish non-intervention system was the other victim. He had a broken arm.

Abraham Lincoln's Historic Phrase Tops London Poll Of Famous Sayings

London, Aug. 7 (CP).

THE historic phrase "government of the people, by the people, for the people," written by Abraham Lincoln on a scrap of paper as the peroration to his celebrated Gettysburg speech, will endure forever, on the basis of a poll of famous sayings conducted by a London newspaper.

Lincoln's remark is the most significant, according to the consensus, but the honor of second place was keenly contested.

Nelson's inspiring signal at Trafalgar, "England expects that every man this day will do his duty," was given a slight lead for the runner-up award, over the last words attributed to Cecil Rhodes, "So much to do, so little done."

Here are some of the other favorites quoted:

"Call no man happy until he is dead."—Solon.

"Veni, vidi, vici."—Caesar.

"Take away this bauble."—Cromwell.

"Now God be praised, I will die in peace."—Wolfe at Quebec.

"Roll up the map of Europe."—Pitt.

"A scrap of paper."—Von Bethmann Hollweg.

"Wait and see."—Asquith.

14 DAYS NO RAIN SEES BRITAIN HANG DROUGHT SIGN OUT

Mercury Climbs to 87 Forcing Diehards to Drop Clothes They Wear in Winter.

THOUSANDS FLEE LONDON.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (CP Cable)—Like mariners running up a storm signal, an official of the British Department of Agriculture today ran up an "oficial drought" signal in many parts of England, provoked by 14 days of no rain.

Actually the drought still was harmless but crop reports recognize its existence. Not all of England has been free of rain for the fortnight but the greater part has had no showers.

It is the heat, not the lack of rain, that is monopolizing conversation in English cities.

The last five days produced the hottest weather of the summer with the thermometer going steadily higher until yesterday it reached 87 degrees in the shade—a point that broke down the determined efforts of diehards insistent upon wearing the same clothes they wear in winter.

Nice Day in Canada.

A temperature of 87 is a nice summer day in Canada, but it is uncomfortably hot in London where shade is given, not by trees but by the sultry shadows of buildings, where buses and trams are filled with sickly, heavy air due to the humidity. Newspapers are rallying to the public aid as in winter time when they volunteer advice on how to avoid influenza. Now they are advising light, loose clothing, hot tea rather than cold drinks, and so forth—all old gags in hot countries

Farmers' Day Back Stock Prices Booming

TORONTO, August 7 — (C.P.). — Retail meat prices are due for further increases—beef soon and pork later—Secretary S. E. Todd of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers, an association of packing companies, said to-day, in an interview.

"The farmer's day is coming," he predicted, quoting figures that prevailed on the price lists of recent years and comparing them with the upswinging prices of this summer. Farmers are being paid nearly 50 per cent more for good butcher steers and select bacon hogs than last October.

Wholesale prices of beef advanced nearly 40 per cent. and retail prices approximately 20 per cent. in that period. Mr. Todd said wholesale pork prices had increased only 16.5 per cent and retail prices much less. "But watch the rise in the next six weeks," he added.

"It takes time for retail prices to show the increased price paid farmers for cattle and hogs," the packing official said. "Cattle prices have been steady for six weeks with little net change, but wholesale prices have risen steadily to catch up with them. Retail prices are following closely behind."

It should be borne in mind also that a 50 per cent. increase in the price of a steer means 100 per cent. increase in the retail price of steaks. Steaks take up most of the brunt of

Auto Is Wrecked In 10-Foot Ditch Dodging Barrier

He Guessed 3 Times And All Were Wrong

New York, Aug. 7 (AP). ANTHONY PALANIO, 32, arrested for disorderly conduct after he climbed into the apartment of Mrs. Sylvia Brown in West Ninetieth Street, made thre wrong guesses in Police Court today.

"I'm sure the lady doesn't want to press this charge," he told the court.

"I certainly do," Mrs. Brown responded.

"You know I really didn't mean to kick you," Palanio said, turning to Patrolman James Doherty, who arrested him.

"You certainly did," said Doherty.

"I know you'll be easy on me, Judge," Palanio said.

"Guilty as charged and remanded for sentence Aug. 11," snapped Magistrate Peter A. Abeles.

BLAME COMPANY FOR CONTINUANCE TEXTILE STRIKE

Organizer Issues Statement Saying Company Has Refused to Arbitrate.

STRIKE WILL CONTINUE.

Full responsibility for continuation of the Peterborough textile strike stalemate was laid at the door of the Dominion Woollens management by Alex. Welch, textile organizer, in a statement condemning the company for its refusal to submit the strike dispute to the Industry and Labor Board for arbitration, issued this morning.

The statement read:

"I am informed by our counsel, Mr. J. L. Cohen, that the Industry and Labor Board have advised him that they have not been able to obtain the consent of the Dominion Woollens to arbitration by the board of the wage item of the present dispute. This refusal of the company speaks for itself and is a final confirmation of the steady contention of the employees that there is no defence for the wages now being paid to workers of the Dominion Woollens Company.

"So far as the employees are concerned this refusal to arbitrate only means that the strike continues in full force until all just demands are satisfied. The solid position of the workers, the widespread support which they enjoy—both from the general public and from the organized labor movement—assures victory and it is only unfortunate that the stubborn attitude of the company involves continued delay. Our membership throughout the province is determined to carry on the struggle to the ultimate victory of an assured livelihood and security for textile workers of Canada.

"In the meantime we have the situation that a company dependent throuzh tariff upon public subsidy for years mistreats its employees by starvation wages and excessive working hours, arrogantly refused to bargain collectively with its employees or to redress their just grievances and refuses now with impunity to permit any public authority to review its wage policy."

G. N. Gordon, K.C., announced today he intended to go to Toronto Monday to interview either Premier Hepburn or E. J. Young, chairman of the Industry and Labor Board, possibly both, to find out "what's been going on up there." He had in mind several requests he has wired to the Premier and Chairman

S. Sullivan, J. Waldron and H. Elliott Involved in Pile Up on Way to Greenhurst.

BOUND FOR DANCE.

Two Men Feared to Have Fractured Skulls—Other Cut, Bruised.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Aug. 7. — Three Peterborough men and three Lindsay girls were injured late last night when a car driven by Stafford Sullivan, 90 Hunter Street West, Peterborough, crashed into a ten-foot hole off the newly constructed Lindsay-Bobcaygeon Highway. Sullivan, accompanied by Joseph Waldron, Lock Street, Peterborough, owner of the car, and Harry Elliott, 221 Charlotte Street, Peterborough, came to Lindsay early in the evening, where they picked up Blodwen Owens, 132 Lindsay Street South, Margaret Lynch, address unknown, and another local girl, whose identity is unknown, and started out for a dance at Greenhurst.

According to Sullivan, he was driving at about 35 miles per hour when he came to the Snug Harbor turn, he told Constable Alfred Hodgson of Lindsay, who investigated, that there was a barricade across the new road, which he failed to see until he was almost upon it. In an endeavor to miss the barricade, he flung the car to the left and crashed off the road into a deep pit.

Lorne Bell, Russell Street, Lindsay, and Jack Capstick, Albert Street, Lindsay, were returning from Snug Harbor, and picked up the injured persons and removed them to the Ross Memorial Hospital, where they were treated by Mayor Dr. H. D. Logan.

Waldron and Elliott are suffering from possible fractured skulls, face and body cuts and bruises, while Sullivan and the three girls escaped with cuts and bruises. The car was totally wrecked.

CUSTOMS, EXCISE REVENUES HIGHER

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP).—Substantial increases in customs and excise revenue in customs and excise revenue were announced yesterday by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of National Revenue. Customs-excise collections during July last amounted to $28,830,076, compared with $23,736,317 collected in July, 1936, an increase of $5,093,750.

CONSTABLE HURT BY WILD DRIVER

Sudbury Man Held After His Car Plunges Into Police Patrol.

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP) — Night Constable John Anderson was rushed to hospital early today suffering injuries received when an automobile allegedly driven by B. Peterson crashed into a Sudbury police patrol car.

Peterson was charged with furious and wanton driving causing actual bodily harm when he appeared before Magistrate J. S. McKessock today. He was remanded a week.

Constable Anderson, with Constable Tinkis driving the patrol car, noticed a car swerving down the street about two blocks away. Tinkis slowed down his machine when he saw the car heading directly for his car. Tinkis shifted gears and went to the opposite side of the street, over some street car rails, to avoid an accident.

BENNETT'S AIM ON LEADERSHIP AWAITED TODAY

Conservatives From All Parts of Canada Rally in Ottawa.

CALLED BY "THE CHIEF."

Almost 10 Years Since Winnipeg Convention Handed Him Meighen's Mantle.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (C.P.).—Exactly seven years after Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett was sworn in as Prime Minister of Canada, Conservatives in all parts of Canada looked to a meeting of their representatives in Parliament to-day for word as to the future of the Party.

Summoned by Mr. Bennett, Conservative members of the House of Commons met to hear whether he wishes to drop the mantle of leadership and retire from politics or continue and prepare to lead the Party against Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Liberal following the next general election.

Mr. Bennett's health, indifferent since the serious illness he passed through on the eve of the 1925 election, is a major factor in whatever decision may be reached. Before leaving Canada for the Coronation last year Mr. Bennett informed his followers in the House he would take the advice of British and European specialists on his health and be guided by their advice as to his future in public life.

It is now nearly 10 years since Mr. Bennett was chosen Leader of the Conservative Party. In 1927 a national convention at Winnipeg placed upon him the mantle of Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Robert Borden, and Arthur Meighen.

Three years later he led the Party to a smashing victory in the general election of 1930.

MOTHER DESERTS HER 2 CHILDREN

Held After Leaving Them at Police Station—Couldn't Live on $15 Month.

CALGARY, Aug. 7. — (CP).—A dark-eyed Russian women, whose husband, a farm laborer, makes insufficient money to support her and two children, pleaded not guilty to a charge of desertion before Magistrate A. L. Miller in City Court yesterday. Judgment was reserved.

Mrs. Lydia Chutskoff, when refused relief because her husband had a job, left her two young daughters in the police building here, and two days later she was arrested charged with deserting them.

"She did what was in the best interests of her children,' said Norman Dingle, K.C., her counsel, at the Court Session. "What she did was for their benefit. She had no food to feed them."

Mr. Dingle said the mother had tried to care for herself and children on less than $15 a month.

Relief Officers testified Mrs. Chutskoff could not be considered indigent because her husband had a farm job. They had offered to give her transportation to the country but she had refused it.

Hold-Up Men Rob Oshawa Station

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP)—Two men early today smashed the operator's window of the Canadian National Railways station here and held up Eccles Joynt, night operator, with revolvers. A third man, a negro, kept a lookout on the platform while his companions proceeded to unlock the station door.

Two robbers ordered Joynt to stand behind a stove while they scooped money out of the ticket drawer. They took $95 in bills and silver. They broke two telephones in the office and the telegrapher's key.

The three crossed the railway track and disappeared in the brush.

2 Brothers Drown One Trying Rescue

PORT STANLEY, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP)—Double drowning which took the lives of John and Hugh Todd, London children, was attributed in part today to Hugh's attempt to rescue his younger brother.

Police believe six-year-old John, paddling around in the shallow water of Lake Erie near the harbor channel, stepped into a hole and eight-year-old Hugh went to the rescue. Both were drowned.

A section of John's fishing line was found tangled about his body when it was found six or seven hours after the tragedy.

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, August 7—Henry Barrett, managing director of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds told The Examiner today in commenting on Mayor George A. Macdonald's statement that the company is prepared to abide by any decision the Ontario Industry and Labor Board may render if an investigation is made into the textile industry in Ontario.

"I have read with interest the statement made by Mayor George A. Macdonald in Friday issue of the Peterborough Examiner. The company has pointed out in conferences which have been held that it is financially unable at the present time to give a general increase in wages. That to its best knowledge and belief it pays wages at least equal to if not in excess of wages paid by its competitors. It has signified its willingness to the Industry and Labor board to facilitate in every way an investigation into the textile industry in Ontario and will of course have to abide by any decision it may render. The company will cooperate with the authorities in Peterborough in reopening its mills at the earliest possible moment," Mr. Barrett said.

Silver Candelabra Presented Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(CP).— The public archives of Canada announced last night it had received the gift of a solid silver candelabra made in 1842 and presented to Hon. William Morris, Member of the Legislative Council of Canada.

The gift was made by Miss Elisabeth Phillips of Toronto, in accordance with the wishes of the statesman's grandson, William Morris, who died in 1936.

Hon. Morris was prominent in the public life of Upper Canada from 1820 until his death in 1858. He was particularly outstanding as a champion of the Church of Scotland in Canada.

Sir Malcolm Campbell abandoned his speedboat trials on Loch Lomond, Scotland, because storms had increased the amount of driftwood.

Nine Motorboats Upset Off Hamilton But All Occupants Rescued.

SLIDES BLOCK ROADS.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—Southwestern Ontario today surveyed damage wrought by a heavy rainstorm that swept the district early last night. Resident in many parts of the city mopped up their cellars, while officials examined the high level bridge at the city's western outskirts to determine how badly it was undermined.

Railway gangs were clearing the Canadian National Railways main line near Bayview where tons of sand were carried down over the tracks and for hours interrupted traffic on the C.N.R. and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo line.

A London-bound train which left here at seven p.m. and the Buffalo-bound T.H. and B. passenger from Toronto due here at 6.45 p.m. were delayed and finally re-routed across Hamilton Beach to Stoney Creek and via the Port Dover line over the mountain.

The cloudburst extended through the Niagara peninsula, innundating highways a foot deep in low spots. At Brantford it was extremely heavy. A street car and a transformer were hit by lightning there and many cellars were flooded.

Sand Blocks Road

About 3,000 tons of sand was washed across the Longwood and old Guelph roads under the high level bridge on the highway coming into Hamilton from the west. The rain partly undermined the huge structure and traffic guards warned motorists to proceed with caution.

An airplane piloted by Bob Byers was brought safely to the Hamilton Aero Club at the height of the storm, while Pilot Morley Gains of St. Catharines, who was following Byers, was forced down in a field near Oakville. Out in the bay nine motor boats were upset, but their passengers rescued.

In the city several streets were closed and watchmen guarded bad spots after hundreds of cars were stalled. The storm sewer system was most heavily taxed since it was put in 10 years ago.

Toronto got a taste of the storm, too, but a welcome one. There relieved oppressive heat that had sent the mercury to 86 and was blamed as a contributing factor in two deaths.

King Liberal Chief For 18 Years Today

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP) — Congratulations were received today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King on completion of 18 years as leader of the Liberal party in Canada.

Mr. Mackenzie King could already look back over an extensive career in the science of government when in 1919 he was chosen as successor of the illustrious Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

He was first elected to parliament for North Waterloo in 1908 and was minister of labor in the Laurier administration from 1909 to 1911. But he had also been deputy minister of labor from 1900 to 1908, giving him one of the longest records in the empire in ministerial service.

Miracle Budget of $18 Gets Inventor Business

People Making Less a Week Ask Advice, Some Making More Think it Crazy.

NEWLYWEDS INTERESTED.

WINDSOR, Aug. 7 (C.P.).—When Angus Buchanan, Windsor 'Y' Community Centre secretary, drew up a "miracle" budget, whereby newlyweds are supposed to live on love—and $18 a week—he found himself in the same spot as the fabled mechanical genius who built a better mousetrap and found the world making a one-way path to his door.

Scores of new brides and prospective ones have shuffled the nap off the carpet, leading to the Buchanan office in recognition of his building a better "man trap."

Letters of protest and praise have reached the Buchanan office, and the mail boxes of others on the "Y" staff.

There has been even a number of young men call around to learn all the angles of the $18 a week homemaking.

Thought It Good.

Outstanding in the Buchanan air mail is a letter from a citizen of London, Ont., which reads:

"I was quite interested in your miracle budget. I thought it was very good, and after carefully studying it, I decided to ask you if you might budget by income.

"We have five children in our family, whose ages run from 2 to 15 years. I make $16.25 per week. I have had this position for the past two years, and find it pretty hard to get along, never being able to afford a show and carrying no insurance.

"I have yet to be given a holiday, and find it very disheartening trying to finance. Dollars won't stretch, and I am more than willing to listen to any suggestion you have to offer."

Of another stamp is a communication from a Windsor woman, reading:

"Your $18 weekly budget is ridiculous. My husband makes $40 a week and we're always broke. You must be figuring in rubber dollars."

$18.00 Not Enough.

Still another, from a young man in Windsor, follows:

"I have been married eighteen months. I make $10 weekly. We live in a small apartment, but have been forced to sell my coupe. While it has its drawbacks, I don't think I made any great mistake in becoming a married man."

Commenting on these letters, Mr. Buchanan said:

"I don't advise marriage on $18 a week. Far from it. But I do say it can be done on $18, provided the parties are willing to discipline their wants."

Statue Of A Mule Stands With Heroes

Rome, Aug. 7 (UP).

ITALY has immortalized the army mule. Alongside the busts of Italy's greatest heroes, savants and artists in the famous gardens of the Villa Borghese, a bronze statue of an army mule, symbolizing all war mules in Italian service, was unveiled yesterday.

BRITAIN WIRES FRANCO PROTEST ON SHIP BOMBING

Same Three Planes Blamed For Attack on Italian and French Vessels.

TWO OF CREWS WOUNDED.

LONDON, Aug. 7. (CP).—A strong protest was sent to the insurgent regime in Spain today. The protest followed a report from the British Consul General at Algiers the machine gun and bomb attack "probably" was executed by "anti-government" aircraft.

Three monoplanes of unidentified nationality dove at the British Corporal in the Mediterranean, 30 miles northwest of Algiers, sprayed the decks with machine-gun fire and dropped bombs close to the vessel.

The same three planes were believed responsible for a similar attack on the Italian steamer Mongola and a machine gun onslaught against a French cargo boat, the Djebel Amour.

The Consul's report to the Admiralty said: "Markings on the aircraft indicate they were probably anti-government. A strong protest is being made to local authorities at Palma today."

Palma is an insurgent naval and air base on one of the Balearic Islands about 150 miles east of Valencia in the Mediterranean within easy flying distance of the scene of the attacks.

The captain of the Italian ship, one of two persons wounded board the Mongola, was in an Algiers hospital, seriously injured by a bomb splinter that struck him in the chest.

An officer of the Spanish non-intervention system was the other victim. He had a broken arm.

14 DAYS NO RAIN SEES BRITAIN HANG DROUGHT SIGN OUT

Mercury Climbs to 87 Forcing Dishards to Drop Clothes They Wear in Winter.

THOUSANDS FLEE LONDON.

LONDON, Aug. 7 (CP Cable)—Like mariners running up a storm signal, an official of the British Department of Agriculture today ran up an "oficial drought" signal in many parts of England, provoked by 14 days of no rain.

Actually the drought still was harmless but crop reports recognize its existence. Not all of England has been free of rain for the fortnight but the greater part has had no showers.

It is the heat, not the lack of rain, that is monopolizing conversation in English cities.

The last five days produced the hottest weather of the summer with the thermometer going steadily higher until yesterday it reached 87 degrees in the shade—a point that broke down the determined efforts of diehards insistent upon wearing the same clothes they wear in winter.

Nice Day in Canada.

A temperature of 87 is a nice summer day in Canada, but it is uncomfortably hot in London where shade is given, not by trees but by the sultry shadows of buildings, where buses and trams are filled with sickly, heavy air due to the humidity. Newspapers are rallying to the public aid as in winter time when they volunteer advice on how to avoid influenze. Now they are advising light, loose clothing, hot tea rather than cold drinks, and so forth—all old gags in hot countries

S. Sullivan, J. Waldron and H. Elliott Involved in Pile Up on Way to Greenhurst.

BOUND FOR DANCE.

Two Men Feared to Have Fractured Skulls—Other Cut, Bruised.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Aug. 7. — Three Peterborough men and three Lindsay girls were injured late last night when a car driven by Stafford Sullivan, 90 Hunter Street West, Peterborough, crashed into a ten-foot hole off the newly constructed Lindsay-Bobcaygeon Highway. Sullivan, accompanied by Joseph Waldron, Lock Street, Peterborough, owner of the car, and Harry Elliott, 221 Charlotte Street, Peterborough, came to Lindsay early in the evening, where they picked up Blodwen Owens, 132 Lindsay Street South, Margaret Lynch, address unknown, and another local girl, whose identity is unknown, and started out for a dance at Greenhurst.

According to Sullivan, he was driving at about 35 miles per hour when he came to the Snug Harbor turn, he told Constable Alfred Hodgson of Lindsay, who investigated, that there was a barricade across the new road, which he failed to see until he was almost upon it. In an endeavor to miss the barricade, he flung the car to the left and crashed off the road into a deep pit.

Lorne Bell, Russell Street, Lindsay, and Jack Capstick, Albert Street, Lindsay, were returning from Snug Harbor, and picked up the injured persons and removed them to the Ross Memorial Hospital, where they were treated by Mayor Dr. H. D. Logan.

Waldron and Elliott are suffering from possible fractured skulls, face and body cuts and bruises, while Sullivan and the three girls escaped with cuts and bruises. The car was totally wrecked.

He Guessed 3 Times And All Were Wrong

New York, Aug. 7 (AP).

ANTHONY PALANIO, 32, arrested for disorderly conduct after he climbed into the apartment of Mrs. Sylvia Brown in West Ninetieth Street, made thre wrong guesses in Police Court today.

"I'm sure the lady doesn't want to press this charge," he told the court.

"I certainly do," Mrs. Brown responded.

"You know I really didn't mean to kick you," Palanio said, turning to Patrolman James Doherty, who arrested him.

"You certainly did," said Doherty.

"I know you'll be easy on me, Judge," Palanio said.

"Guilty as charged and remanded for sentence Aug. 11," snapped Magistrate Peter A. Abeles.

BLAME COMPANY FOR CONTINUANCE TEXTILE STRIKE

Organizer Issues Statement Saying Company Has Refused to Arbitrate.

STRIKE WILL CONTINUE.

Full responsibility for continuation of the Peterborough textile strike stalemate was laid at the door of the Dominion Woollens management by Alex. Welch, textile organizer, in a statement condemning the company for its refusal to submit the strike dispute to the Industry and Labor Board for arbitration, issued this morning.

The statement read:

"I am informed by our counsel, Mr. J. L. Cohen, that the Industry and Labor Board have advised him that they have not been able to obtain the consent of the Dominion Woollens to arbitration by the board of the wage item of the present dispute. This refusal of the company speaks for itself and is a final confirmation of the steady contention of the employees that there is no defence for the wages now being paid to workers of the Dominion Woollens Company.

"So far as the employees are concerned this refusal to arbitrate only means that the strike continues in full force until all just demands are satisfied. The solid position of the workers, the widespread support which they enjoy—both from the general public and from the organized labor movement—assures victory and it is only unfortunate that the stubborn attitude of the company involves continued delay. Our membership throughout the province is determined to carry on the struggle to the ultimate victory of an assured livelihood and security for textile workers of Canada.

"In the meantime we have the situation that a company dependent through tariff upon public subsidy for years mistreats its employees by starvation wages and excessive working hours, arrogantly refused to bargain collectively with its employees or to redress their just grievances and refuses now with impunity to permit any public authority to review its wage policy."

G. N. Gordon, K.C., announced today he intended to go to Toronto Monday to interview either Premier Hepburn or E. J. Young, chairman of the Industry and Labor Board, possibly both, to find out "what's been going on up there." He had in mind several requests he has wired to the Premier and Chairman

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP).—Substantial increases in customs and excise revenue in customs and excise revenue were announced yesterday by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of National Revenue, Customs-excise collections during July last amounted to $28,830,076, compared with $23,736,317 collected in July, 1936, an increase of $5,093,759.

Receipts in detail were: Customs duties, $7,809,162, an increase of $1,239,660; excise taxes, $16,283,396, an advance of $3,235,817, excise duties, $4,862,169, up $589,136, and sundry collections $95,350 a gain of $29,206.

Revenue for the first four months of this fiscal year, ending July 31, amounted to $102,397,592, as against $81,592,635 for the same period last year, a net gain of $20,804,957. Customs duties totalled, $31,151,533 an increase of $4,738,584; excise taxes, $53,095,987, again of $13,661,789; excise duties, $17,886,675, an advance of $2,398,265 and sundry collections at $263,378, were up $16,210.

CONSTABLE HURT BY WILD DRIVER

Sudbury Man Held After His Car Plunges Into Police Patrol.

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 7 (CP) — Night Constable John Anderson was rushed to hospital early today suffering injuries received when an automobile allegedly driven by B. Peterson crashed into a Sudbury police patrol car.

Peterson was charged with furious and wanton driving causing actual bodily harm when he appeared before Magistrate J. S. McKessock today. He was remanded a week.

Constable Anderson, with Constable Tinkis driving the patrol car, noticed a car swerving down the street about two blocks away. Tinkis slowed down his machine when he saw the car heading directly for his car. Tinkis shifted gears and went to the opposite side of the street, over some street car rails, to avoid an accident.

Few Wives In Toronto Likely To Be Beaten

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Taken all in all in all it seems that Toronto wives will have little fear from spanking husbands.

Magistrate Burbidge in Hamilton Family Court yesterday resurrected English Common Law of 1870 to rule that it is not unlawful "to use reasonable force in chastising a wife." But faced with the question, "Is it okay?" Toronto women seem unwilling to recognize the law and Toronto men appear fearful about its effective enforcement.

"It would take a brave man to try it," chuckled Wilfrid Heighington, K.C., M.L.A. "In other fields we have done away with capital punishment — it seems time for changes in this field too."

Recommends Attempt.

"Yes!" declared Mrs. James Cotton, secretary of the Central Council of Ratepayers. But she added the rider, "If he can get away with it!"

"I wouldn't recommend it," said Fred I. Malone, Assistant Crown Attorney. From the safety of bachelorhood he went on to say that the status existing between husbands and wives has moved a long, long way since 1870, that women no longer will "suffer the indignity" of a chastisement, and husbands had better watch their step, regardless of legal rulings.

"No absolutely no, no matter

ALWAYS GETS HIS VICTIM.

Model Dog Chases Woodchuck Into Sewer.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Aug. 7 (AP) —Bozo was pointed out today as a model dog who always gets his prey, come sewer pipes and high water.

Bozo chased a woodchuck into an eight-inch pipe which led to a street catch basin. Fifty feet in both became wedged. Howls brought the fire department.

A hose was lowered into the catch basin and pressure turned on. Out the end they entered were flushed the dog and the woodchuck. Dripping, but game, Bozo pounced on the chuck and felled it.

FIND DOCTOR DEAD IN CELL.

BELAIR, Md., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Dr. Armen Greenhut, convicted by a circuit court jury of criminal attack on a 13-year-old schoolgirl patient, was found dead this morning in his cell.

Sheriff Granville C. Boyle said "I would not term it suicide until the coroner's jury has completed its investigation." He added he was not able to give the cause of death. The sheriff said he found Dr. Greenhut dead on the prisoner's cot when the officer went to call him for breakfast this morning.

Abraham Lincoln's Historic Phrase Tops London Poll Of Famous Sayings

London, Aug. 7 (CP).

THE historic phrase "government of the people, by the people, for the people," written by Abraham Lincoln on a scrap of paper as the peroration to his celebrated Gettysburg speech, will endure forever, on the basis of a poll of famous sayings conducted by a London newspaper.

Lincoln's remark is the most significant, according to the consensus, but the honor of second place was keenly contested.

Nelson's inspiring signal at Trafalgar, "England expects that every man this day will do his duty," was given a slight lead for the runner-up award, over the last words attributed to Cecil Rhodes, "So much to do, so little done."

Here are some of the other favorites quoted:

"Call no man happy until he is dead."—Solon.

"Veni,vidi, vici."—Caesar.

"Take away this bauble."—Cromwell.

"Now God be praised, I will die in peace."—Wolfe at Quebec.

"Roll up the map of Europe."—Pitt.

Farmers' Day Back Stock Prices Booming

TORONTO, August 7 — (C.P.). — Retail meat prices are due for further increases—beef soon and pork later—Secretary S. K. Todd of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers, an association of packing companies, said to-day, in an interview.

"The farmer's day is coming," he predicted, quoting figures that prevailed on the price lists of recent years and comparing them with the upswinging prices of this summer. Farmers are being paid nearly 50 per cent more for good butcher steers and select becon hogs than last October.

Wholesale prices of beef advanced nearly 40 per cent. and retail prices approximately 30 per cent. in that period. Mr. Todd said wholesale pork prices had increased only 16.5 per cent and retail prices much less. "But watch the rise in the next six weeks," he added.

"It takes time for retail prices to show the increased price paid farmers for cattle and hogs," the packing official said. "Cattle prices have been steady for six weeks with little net change, but wholesale prices have risen steadily to catch up with them. Retail prices are following closely behind."

"It should be borne in mind also that a 50 per cent. increase in the price of a steer means 100 per cent. increase in the retail price of steaks. Steaks take up most of the brunt of

Galt Farmer's Wheat Averages 44 Bushels

Galt, Aug. 7 (CP).

JOHN J. STEWART, Rural Route 7, Beverley, has a bumper crop of wheat this year. Threshing started Wednesday morning and night. From a twenty-three-acre was not completed until Thursday field, 1,021 bushels where shrunken, an average of forty-four bushels to the acre. Yields reported to date average between thirty and thirty-five bushels per acre.

Record and Forecast of Weather

LOCAL TEMPERATURES

Night	—Yesterday—
Low	Noon.	Highest.	Lowest
67	75	86	62
This date last year 68		85	55

It is not unusual for August to pass without a maximum temperature registration in the 90's. In recent years yesterday's high of 86 degrees has been exceeded only once in August—in 1918, when on the 13th day of that month 96 was recorded.

Lower Lake Region and Georgian Bay —Moderate variable winds; partly cloudy and continuing warm to-day and Sunday, with high humidity, and probably local thunderstorms.

Northern Ontario — Fair and decidedly warm, Sunday; Monday fair and decidedly warm, probably local thunderstorms.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley — Partly cloudy to-night and Sunday; probably local thunderstorms and continuing warm.

Saskatchewan — Mostly cloudy and somewhat cooler, showers in some districts.

London, 8 a.m. — Temperature, 68; fair, calm.

Paris—Temperature, 66; fair, calm.

CORNWALL STRIKE LEADERS IN FAVOR OF FEDERAL PLAN

Agree to Norman Rogers Setting Up Board of Conciliation to Handle Affair.

NEXT MOVE COMPANY'S.

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—Prospects for an early settlement or at least the return to work shortly of the 1,700 striking employees of Canadian Cottons were brighter today following intervention of the Dominion Government.

The employees, who walked out 19 days ago demanding higher wages, better working conditions and recognition of the Cornwall Textile Union, last night agreed to the proposal of Labor Minister Norman Rogers to set up a board of conciliation.

Providing both sides agreed and the board is set up, it will be conditional upon the strikers returning to work at once pending findings of the board or settlement of the dispute.

The company's decision on Mr. Rogers' proposal announced yesterday at Ottawa, was not made known here.

FARMERS' DAY IS COMING BACK

The upward swing in retail beef prices started earlier than pork, but retail pork prices will show greater increases during the next six weeks. Farmers last week received 43.5 per cent. more for select bacon hogs than they received October 31, 1936, but wholesale prices were advanced only 16.6 per cent. Retail prices were advanced even less, but within six weeks probably will show the advance of nearly 50 per cent. already paid farmers for hogs.

Some Hog Figures.

In October select bacon hogs sold at $7.77 per hundred pounds. In March the price had advanced to $9.25, on July 8 it was $10.61, and on July 29 it was $11.02. Wholesale prices for fresh pork carcasses were $12 in October, $12.19 in March, and $14 on July 8 and July 29.

The drought in United States in 1934 and 1936, the drought in Western Canada, and the Canada-United States Treaty effective on January 1, 1936, providing reduced tariff on cattle imported from Canada into United States combined to cause the increase in beef cattle prices in Canada, according to the Meat Packers' Association. The reduction in duty applies to only a limited number of cattle, the Association said.

Cattle are usually "finished off" on grain for two or three months to bring them up to top grade. "But there is not the corn to feed them now," said Mr. Todd. "Very high-grade cattle in United States are like diamonds because of the small corn crop last year. Cattle which were only grass-finished are being slaughtered now."

Mr. Todd illustrated the difference between the 1936 corn crop and the estimated 1937 crop by stating that "the additional 1,900,000,000 bushels of corn in United States would be sufficient to raise 90 million pigs."

CLIPPER MAKES FOURTH CROSSING

Reaches Botwood in 16 Hours in First Daylight Trip Over Atlantic.

BOTWOOD, Nfld., Aug. 7 (CP Cable)—Pan-American Clipper III rose from the placid waters of Botwood Harbor at 7.35 a.m. E.D.T. today enroute to Port Washington via Shediac, to complete her fourth trans-Atlantic crossing in connection with the proposed commercial service across the Atlantic.

The giant flying boat arrived here last night to complete a 16 hours, 21 minute daylight hop across the ocean from Foynes, Ireland. The flight, Clipper III's fourth crossing, was the first all-daylight trip of the present series of joint test flights of Pan-American and Imperial Airways.

Heavy showers and clouds alternating with patches of brilliant sunshine greeted the Clipper as she made her fourth trans-ocean flight. Captain Harold Gray and his crew of seven, however, said the flight was "mere routine."

TWEEDSMUIR SEES ESKIMO VILLAGE

Pays Visit to Spot By Plane That Baron Byng Visited By Boat.

PORT NORMAN, N.W.T., Aug. 7 (CP)—Delayed by fog, the Governor-General's touring party spent more time in this section of the Far North than expected—but the time was not wasted so far as seeing the Northland was concerned.

Undismayed by the thick weather and unfavorable flying conditions, Lord Tweedsmuir found much to interest him. The party came here Wednesday after a flight from Aklavik took the Governor-General and his party to the Eskimo village of Tuktoyaktuk, east of the Mackenzie River delta on the Beaufort Sea, where there is a Hudson's Bay Company post.

Lord Tweedsmuir enjoyed the trip to the village, which was visited by Baron Byng when he was Governor-General in 1925. But where Baron Byng used a gasoline boat piloted by an Eskimo, Lord Tweedsmuir used a plane.

When Baron Byng made the trip, the party was overtaken by fog and lost several hours, but returned safely. Baron Byng also gave credit to the Eskimo for his skilful handling of the boat and picking his way to safety.

Lord Tweedsmuir was welcomed by white men and natives throughout his Northland travels, Cameron Bay, on Great Bear Lake, is the next point on his flying visit.

OBITUARY

ROBERT FOX
(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 7—After a brief illness death claimed Robert Fox, known and respected by countless citizens for many years. Mr. Fox was born near Cobourg, Ont., nearly seventy-five years ago and subsequently moved to Campbellford with his family, where he has resided to the time of his death. Surviving him are his wife, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Little; two sons, Gordon and John of town, and there daughters, Mrs. Eddison Wynn and Mrs. Russell Emmans of town and Mrs. William Harriott of Percy Township. The funeral service was conducted from the family residence on Grand Road, this (Saturday) afternoon by the Rev. B. Court To Settle Future Of Boy

Mrs. John Regan and two-and-one-half-year-old Donald Horst are shown (ABOVE) in the state attorney's office at Chicago after the young boy had been returned to police officers. Mrs. Regan and her husband, parents of the child returned Donald after snatching him from the arms of his foster mother, Mrs. Otto Horst. The young boy had been raised by the Horst family since his birth. The future of the boy will be determined by a civil court when Mrs. Regan begins court action to have the lad returned to her.

MAN HIT MOTHER IS GIVEN LECTURE

Port Hope Cadi Fined Clarence Bassett $20 on Each of 4 Charges.

PORT HOPE, Aug. 7.—"Striking any woman is bad enough, but striking your mother is very much worse," Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell admonished Clarence Bassett, of Port Hope, when he appeared before him on six charges in magistrate's court here Thursday.

Bassett, who has been held in custody since his arrest, July 19, pleaded guilty to assaulting his mother, assaulting his brother, Ralph, and to causing damage to property in his mother's home. On each of three counts he was fined $20 and costs or 17 days in jail, with sentence to begin from the date of his arrest. Three other charges, of theft, vagrancy and drunkenness, were dropped.

"You let me know if he doesn't conduct himself properly," Magistrate Campbell told the prisoner's mother.

"I had intended to give you a term in the reformatory," the bench told Bassett. "I am not going to do that because of the way you have acted today. You're free when you go out this door, but you've got to watch yor step."

HASTINGS

MOTOR IS TAKEN FROM BOATHOUSE

Property of 'Dit' Clapper, Valued By Owner at $135.

HASTINGS, Aug. 7.—An outboard motor, the property of "Dit" Clapper, was stolen on Thursday night from W. Clapper's boathouse, where it had been stored along with a motor belonging to Mr. Bassman of Toronto. Mr. Bassman made the discovery early Friday morning when he noticed the boathouse door wide open. The lock could not be found and it is not known whether it had been broken or a key used to gain entrance to the boathouse. Mr. Bassman's motor was not touched and was right in the doorway where the thief or thieves had to step over it to get "Dit's" motor. Provincial Officers Campbell of Campbellford and Sylvester of Peterborough were summoned. "The motor cost me $185.00 and I do not think it could be replaced for less than $135.00," "Dit" said Friday night when interviewed on the matter.

An extensive search was being carried out yesterday but without any apparent clues. A rifle belonging to "Dit" was stolen from a parked car in front of his father's store on Sunday night last.

Sailors Receive Rum Rations

A tradition of the British navy, these members of the crew of the H.M.S. Curacca are shown (Above) receiving their rum rations aboard ship. The rum was ladled out after the ship had engaged in the navy, army and air force defence of England from an "attack" by a theoretical enemy 600 miles out in the Atlantic.

Treasurer's Sale of Lands for Taxes

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH

TO WIT:

BY VIRTUE OF A WARRANT made under the hand of the Warden and Seal of the County of Peterborough, and to me directed, bearing date the 8th Day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-seven, I am commanded under the authority of the Statutes in that behalf, to levy on the land hereinafter mentioned and described, for the arrears of taxes due thereon, with the costs as hereinafter directed by the said Act. Therefore I give notice that unless the said arrears and costs are sooner paid I will proceed to Sell, by Public Auction, at the Court House, in the City of Peterborough, on the Fifth Day of October, 1937, at the hour of Ten o'clock in the Forenoon, the said lands or so much thereof as may be necessary for the taxes, and all lawful charges incurred, in and about such sales, and the collection of the taxes.

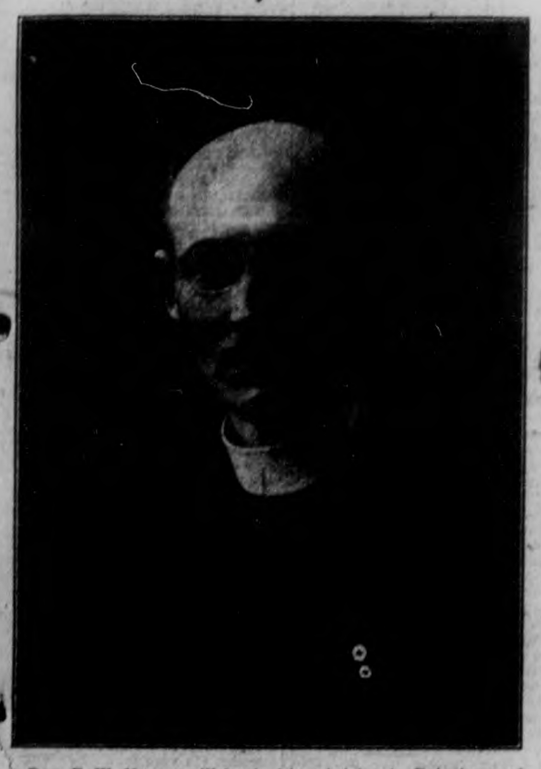
SERVICES IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES TO-MORROW

Starts Ministry In St. Andrew's



Rev. E. W. Young will begin his ministry in Peterborough tomorrow (Sunday) by conducting the Union Service of Trinity and St. Andrew's congregations to be held in Trinity church at 11 a.m. Mr. Young has just concluded nine years ministry in Dundas St. Centre church, London, to which he was called in 1928 from Carlisle Memorial church, Belfast, Northern Ireland. During his ministry in Ireland he was pastor of congregations in Belfast, Dublin and Cork cities. Mrs. Young is a native of Cork city. He was officially connected with young people's work in Ireland and whilst pastor of a city church served as Sunday School secretary and convener of the committee which regulates all branches of Young People's work for the entire church. Since coming to Canada Mr. Young has been prominently connected with Religious Education work, and also that of the Committee of Evangelism and Social Service. He was chairman of the latter committee for the London Conference for several years, and also a member of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service for the United Church of Canada. He has just concluded a year as chairman of the Middlesex Presbytery which embraces the city of London, and the rural districts of the county.

God Feeds a People

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 8 is Exodus 16:1-17:7, especially 16:11-20; 17:3-6, the Golden Text being James 1:17, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father.")

IN THE month and a half since they left Egypt the children of Israel had seen one continuous succession of mighty works of God wrought in their behalf; their deliverance at the Red sea; the destruction of the Egyptian hosts of Pharaoh; the guidance of the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night; the sweetening of the bitter waters at Marah; and yet, despite all these, at the first sign of hardship they murmur against Moses and Aaron and wish themselves back in Egyptian slavery.

Israels Murmuring.

"And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron; and said unto them, would that we had died by the hand of the Lord in Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger." How ungrateful to their God, and how unappreciative of their self-sacrificing leaders. Did not the overshadowing cloud testify to them that God was with them, even the God of their salvation of whom they sang at the Red Sea? How wicked of them to thus murmur against Him. And yet, how gracious is their God under this provocation. There is no rebuke upon them, "for he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust." Instead of punishing, he provides.

"Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a day's portion every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law or no." God caused great flocks of quails to cover the camp, and the people had flesh to eat in the evening. And in the morning God sent them bread, covering the ground with the dew. "Manna?" said the people, as they saw it, or "What is it?" and Moses said unto them, "It is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat."

God rationed this heavenly bread, an omer to each person. He also taught them to look to him for "daily bread." For this heavenly bread was not to be hoarded, but gathered each day except the Sabbath. When this provision was violated "it bred worms, and stank." Thus through forty years they ate from the hand of God and were sustained and saved.

Jesus pointed back to this gift of the manna and declared it a type of himself, saying: "I am the bread of life.... I am the living bread which came down out of heaven; if any man eat of this bread he shall live forever; yea and the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world." (John 6:48-51.)

Rock of Ages.

Again Israel murmured for water and God commanded Moses, saying, "Thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink." Paul finds here, too, a type of Christ, saying, in I Cor., 10:4, "They drank of a spiritual rock that followed them; and the rock was Christ." He was smitten for us on the cross, and we sing, "Let the water and the blood, from Thy riven side which flowed, be of sin the double cure, cleanse me from its guilt and power."

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

While the Ancient Wisdom bids us to "seek out the way," yet even here we need to discriminate and analyse our motives. Do we seek the way in purity of heart for its own sake or have we dreams of great heights to be scaled, or of a great future to be attained personally? In this we must be clear. The Way is forever hidden from us as long as we desire it for our own glorification. It is open only for those who see in utter self-abnegation and humility; to those who desire nothing for themselves, not even their own salvation but are in their hearts even as little children. This rule seems hard but all the great masters including Jesus taught it and its truth is not to gainsaid. It is one of the eternal laws of the spiritual realm. He who seeks to be great in the Kingdom shall be lower than the least for he is actuated by the lower self and knows not the light.

What is the Way that, as Jesus said, so few are able to find and enter upon? How shall it be sought? Without entering upon esoteric technicalities, in brief it is the way from knowledge of self to the knowledge of God, a shifting of the phase of consciousness, or rather an extension from the material to the spiritual sides of our nature. It is a crucifixion of the self and resurrection of the Christ. It is all that we get more for there is no human language capable of conveying more than a hint of what it really is. As well try and explain shades and hues of color to a blind man. The Ancient Wisdom says: "Seek the Way by retreating within.... It is not found by devotion alone, by religious contemplation alone, by earnest purpose, by self-sacrificing labor or by studious observation of life.... Seek it by plunging into the mysterious and glorious depths of your own being ...by study of the laws of nature, the laws of being and the laws of the supernatural. Seek it by making profound obeisance of the Self to the dim star that burns within. Steadily, as you watch and worship, the Light will grow stronger. Then you may know you have entered the Way. And when you have found the end the light will suddenly become the Infinite Light." This may sound obscure, but if one remembers that the Kingdom of Heaven is within, and that redemption is a matter of actual becoming something other than mortal self, it is more clear, especially to those few who are ready to enter upon the quest of the Holy Grail. By readiness we do not mean intellectual readiness, but that inner growth and flowering of the Rose upon the Cross by reason of which one is led and shaped by destiny to the degree of unfoldment necessary. To such we repeat the ancient maxim, "Man! Know thyself."—Lactanthus III., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

THE LEAVEN

Jesus said, The Kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened.—St. Matthew 12, 33.

Merely the acts of bread making familiar to every one of Our Lord's hearers. Some man listening intently mutters in his beard: "What does He mean? Why does He not explain?" Our Lord the Divine Teacher, would have men think out the lessons. Men must pay the price of thinking if they want to know the secrets of this and other parables. "Lord, open the eyes of our understanding that we may see."

1. The woman took and hid the leaven in the meal. The leaven is placed in the centre of the meal to work outwards. The same Lord in another place said: "The kingdom of heaven is within you." The Spirit of God must enter into your heart, into the very centre of your being, in order to do His wonderful work. The message to the Virgin Mary applies in a lower sense to you: "The power of the Highest shall overshadow thee and that Holy Thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God." St. Paul teaches the same truth when he prays "that Christ may be formed in you." A new and spiritual power must enter into you and work outwards.

2. Again the woman hid the leaven in the meal. A new power, from outside enters into the meal. It does not turn the wheat into barley or any other flour. So often as we look upon life we think if we were someoody else how happy, how brilliant, how successful we would be. This is a common mistake. The leaven enters into the flour to bring out its best qualities and most useful.

The Holy Spirit desires to enter into your heart to develop your powers to the fullest. All through the centuries God has taken plain, everyday people and has transformed and developed their powers so that they did marvellous things for Him, proving His own claim "My strength is made perfect in weakness." The Lord knows your gifts and talents. He desires to develop them to the uttermost for His Kingdom. This is the work of the Holy Spirit, the Divine Leaven.

3. "Till the whole was leavened." Time must pass for the leaven works slowly. There must be patience, waiting quietly, confidently, knowing that the work will be finished in due time. God is in no hurry. This is an important lesson for our age. We live so fast and expect results almost the next day. The principles and ideals taught by Our Lord take time to develop.

Slavery was the greatest cancer in the days of Our Lord. Yet no word is said against keeping slaves. St. Paul returns Onesimus, a runaway slave to his master, Philemon. But the teaching is given. The slave is now a brother in the Lord. As time went on and men thought out the principle of brotherhood they found they could not keep slaves. The New Testament principle "Love they neighbor as thyself" does its work in due time.

4. What happens when the leaven is hid in the meal? Science tells us that the leaven immediately begins to ferment, to seethe in the dough. It creates a stir, a conflict. When the Spirit of Christ enters your heart immediately there is agitation, commotion, strife. "I came not to send peace but a sword", said the Lord. The Divine invasion of God's ideals must create opposition in the heart. Christianity is a revolutionary religion. "These that have turned the world upside down are come hither" was the charge brought against the Christian missionaries. The Holy Spirit will make room for Himself if you will let Him. He will dislodge the enemy. He will conquer sin in you and the fruits of His indwelling will be seen in you.

5. Finally the leaven must be fit for its work. It must be fresh. Stale leaven or yeast will not do its work. Just as the manna was gathered daily sufficient for the day so is it in the Christian life. Daily you must offer prayer, read His Word, use all the help He gives you, worship regularly and according to your needs grace and strength will be given you. Too many forget that God does not waste His spiritual gifts. There is a spiritual economy. Then slowly, gradually something of the Lord's tenderness, purity, compassion, charity, loving kindness will be seen in you and "men will take knowledge of you that you have been with Jesus"

A National Message

Those who believe the Bible to be such a highly spiritual Book, and that it deals only with the mythical and heavenly, will hold up hands of horror and exclaim, "Blasphemy," at what we are about to write. But, notwithstanding all that, what we are about to say is simple Bible truth. Never is the Bible so spiritual, as to be cut off from the temporal. Never is the Bible so temporal as to be divorced from the spiritual. Always the Bible embraces the natural and the spiritual in one man and in one nation, and also in one doctrine. To attend to the natural only is to become a materialist. To attend to the spiritual only is to become an impractical mystic. But to attend to eac hin due proportion is to become "A workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth."

"The shadow of the Almighty."

Every such beautiful phrase of the Bible has a very real foundation in life experience. The phrase under consideration looks at the overahadowing pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night under the shadow and light of which Israel dwelt in the wilderness journeyings. The camp abided under the shadow of the Almighty.

He whose shadow was there seen dwelt with Israel and walked with Israel through all the dusty journeyings of the wilderness. He continued to dwell with Israel during all the years of their sojourn in Palestine. He followed Israel into the wilderness "to cause her to rest." He is in the midst of Israel still, for He has promised to abide with His Kingdom nation for ever.

The history of the presence of the Glory of God in the midst of Israel is a glorious one. He came and established his throne in Israel for ever at Mount Sinai, as recorded in the nineteenth and twentieth chapters of Exodus. He declared in the message to David centuries later that He had walked with Israel in all places up to that time. Isaiah centuries later saw the glorious Presence of Jehovah in the temple when he went there to worship. This is recorded in the sixth chapter of Isaiah. Ezekiel saw the same glory of the Lord present with Israel in captivity on the banks of the River Chebar. True, he left Jerusalem departed from the Temple there, and the reason for his withdrawal is shown clearly in the description of the defilement of the Temple and of those who worshipped therein, as recorded in the eighth chapter of Ezekiel. But his departure was not an ascension to heaven, but a departure eastward where the captivity of Israel dwelt. We have the record of the departure and ascension of Christ from the earth to heaven But we have no such ascension of Jehovah, God, and King of, and in, Israel. Neither are we acquainted with any statement which would indicate such withdrawal from His Kingdom nation; indeed the reverse is the case.

Where, then, is the Glory of God dwelling at the present day? Surely it is brooding over "the secret place of the Most High." It is hovering over the especial treasure hid in the field. It is spreading its protection over the Kingdom nation; the devoted nation; the House of Jacob; the children of Israel.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7—(AP)—Pet shops were searched today for a double of Louie, a $5 collie pup, whose death by a hit-run driver halted production of a $1,000,000 movie.

Louie, brought here from a location ed from the studio lot yesterday. In his haste to see Hollywood he dashed from the studio, in front of a speeding automobile.

Director Leslie Seelander said several important sequences could not be filmed until Louie's double was found

Strongest Power In Japan

Condensed By World Digest

Japan finds itself in one of the hardest moments of its modern history. The limitations of the national territory are fast becoming a growing danger to the development of the Japanese people. The flourishing industries and the growing export trade of Japan, contrast vividly with the difficult agricultural position of the country.

The national finances handicapped by increasing military expenditures, are headed for a first rate crisis. In addition there are many difficulties in the foreign policy of Japan, which runs counter to the interests of important great powers, all of which means more dangers.

In this difficult situation Japan is politically without leaders. Its Governments for years have been a mixture of militarist, bureaucratic big business, and partisan influences, without any inner strength and cohesion.

The political parties that years ago were so strong, have been reduced to helplessness, owing to their corruption and to internal strife. The majority of the people have lost every respect for them. The Governmental bureaucracy, which more and more is becoming the real power, is wavering between the political parties and the military, without any promise of development.

The younger organizations of fascist or national socialist leanings, are hopelessly divided. At the same time, the supremacy of the Throne standing above everything in the Nation, makes it very difficult for any great leader to come from the people and offer a lasting and effective solution to the many practical problems that beset the life of Japan.

Another part of the people is wasting its energies in medieval romantic activities, without profit for anyone. The peculiar institution of the Elder Statesmen, that acted as counsel to the Emperor is dying, and the ninety-year-old Marquis Saionji is the last remnant of the old councillors, who have served the Emperor Meidji.

Anyone who is interested in Japan, knows that the present anomalous situation cannot last much longer. While this condition obtains, the Army is the only visible strong power, which is trying to find a way whereby it will play an important role, in shaping the internal policies of the country in a different and better fashion.

The national defense of Japan is made up of the army and navy now in active service; and is further strengthened by the millions of reservists who are organised and led, even politically by the active members of the national forces. The men in all services come mostly from the farming class and 99 per cent. of them are of financially poor origins.

A very small percentage comes from the middle and professional classes. Even the officer corps, in its vast majority comes from the slightly better off families. The descendants of the Samurais are very seldom rich.

The financial worries of these officers and their families are just as keen as those of the averasge privates, although they all lead the same frugal spartan life. The pay of the soldiers is very low, and the salaries of the officers little better. Under these conditions, the difference between the higher and lower branches of the military heirarchy is established by a tradition in which the social position of the one defines the attitude of the others.

Simplicity of living, intense loyalty, a limitless self-denial in battle, here are the elements that came down to the Japanese of to-day, from the old feudal times. A burning patriotism has developed in the nation after the feudal times and is characteristic of the Japan of today.

The Japanese army has actively participated in every progress that the country has made. Neither the army nor the navy took a share in the political life of the country, although they watch over it very carefully. Incidentally, the ministers of War and the Navy are always independent of the political ministries, and have nothing to do with parliamentary party relationships.

Since the occupation of Manchuria and the creation of Manchoukuo the position of the Army has become exceedingly strong and it now remains to be seen what use it will make of its strength, in times to come.

200 Persons Attend Re-union At White Church, Rush Point

Praises of God Put Forth in Prayer and Song at Sunday Worship.

SPLENDID ADDRESSES.

On Sunday, July 25th, over two hundred persons, past and present adherents of the Rush Point Sabbath School, assembled at the White Church to enjoy a day of christian fellowship and friendly unity.

Earl Pollock, present superintendent, opened the morning service with a few words of welcome to all present. Community singing of the grand old favorite hymns was much enjoyed by all, with Mrs. Jennie Spencer as organist, and many members of the old choirs in their accustomed place, namely: Mrs. John Cochrane, Mrs. W. J. Beeney, Mrs. Arthur Beatty, Mrs. Thomas Menzies, Mrs. Fred Toms, Mrs. Wm. Hubble, Messrs. Herbert Hoard, Charles Harnden, Harry Balfour, George Newton.

Order of Service

Prayer, Herbert Hoard; violin solo, Miss Helen Buchanan; moment's silence, to the memory of those Sunday School members who have passed the great divide; scripture reading (S.S. lesson) read in unison; discussion of the Lesson, Mrs. John Cochrane, Herbert Hoard, James Beeney, Mrs. E. Curtis, Miss Mary Beeney and Mr. Thistlewaite spoke very earnestly on the great spiritual truths of the lesson. An expression of thanks and appreciation for the material gifts and spiritual confidence tendered by the past members was spoken by Mrs. Earl Pollock in a few well chosen words. Dialogue, "The Model Church" which was spendidly rendered by Misses Margaret Johnston and Allie Smith with Miss Blanche Johnston playing their accompaniment.

After the benediction, the people gathered in the dining hall and in friendly groups on the lawn, to sing praise to God for their daily bread, before partaking of luncheon.

The afternoon worship service opened at 2.30 p.m. with a community sing-song of favorite hymns followed by prayer, with the Lord's Prayer in unison. Solo by Mrs. Harold Wilde. Impromptu speeches on Bible Truths, by many of the past members, with a splendid recitation, "In the Road," by Miss Mary Beeney. A recitation of real moral value by James Beeney. Duet, Misses Verna Buchanan and Luella Keating with Miss Helen Buchanan and Reginald McQuigge playing violin accompaniment. A Temperance Pledge of the Rush Point S.S., dated 1904, read by Mrs. E. Curtis. Anthem, "The Church by the Side of the Road," by the Young People's Choir.

Before closing with the benediction all joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." The friendly gathering dispersed amid hearty handshakes and sincere repeatings of "God Bless You."

Among re-union guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beatty and family of Niagara Falls; Marion Olmstead, Castleton; Beryl Walker, Radisson, Sask.; Mrs. George Hubble and family of Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sargent, Arran, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Harnden, Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. James Collins, Lloyd Collins of Warkworth; Vivin and Tom Coon of Belleville.

On the evening of July 25th, Mr. Cyrus Gates, well-known radio evangelist and singer, was guest speaker at the Young People Union worship service.

His inspiring message, "The Most Important Thing in Our Lives," warmed the hearts of the many people who crowded the church to hear him. All felt it had been good to worship God through his messages of sermon and song.

God Feeds a People

Scripture—Exodus 16:1-17:7.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell
And Alfred J. Buescher

A month and a half after God delivered the children of Israel from the Egyptians at the Red sea and guided them into the wilderness, they murmured against Moses and against God because they were hungry.

God provided them bread from heaven, which they called "manna", sending it with the dew for them to gather every morning except on the sabbath. Thus he fed them for 40 years on this "bread from heaven."

Jesus fed the multitude in the wilderness and then referred to the manna God sent the Israelites, and said he was the true bread from heaven given for the life of the world

God also provided water for his people by commanding Moses to smite a rock from which came water for the people. This also represents Jesus "the Rock of ages cleft for me."

A Double Challenge

Two developments of the last twenty-four hours in the local strike situation would seem to have put the issue squarely up to the company in one case and to the employees in the other. In the first place the announcement of the Ontario Industry and Labor Board that it is willing to act as an arbitration body if a request to that effect is made by both employers and employees turns attention upon Dominion Woollens and Worsteds for the striking employees have already requested the board to arbitrate the dispute. The official statement from the Ontario body is that "so long as there is indefiniteness on the part of the company the Industry and Labor Board can take no action."

That is clear and definite enough and it shows that if this channel for reaching a settlement of the strike is to be explored the next step must come from the company.

The second challenge is directed at the employees in the suggestion from Mayor Macdonald that the plants should be re-opened and the employees return to work while the question of an acceptable settlement is being considered by the Industry and Labor Board. That is a proposal that should not be dismissed in haste. It is worthy of serious consideration. Already over five weeks' earnings have been lost—the adoption of the mayor's suggestion would prevent a further loss while arbitration proceedings were being held.

The Examiner of course presumes that the return to work proposed would be contingent upon the company's application for arbitration by the Ontario board. The two issues must hang together.

But It Was A Good Story

The story that was circulating around town about the catching of a twelve pound black bass at Stoney Lake was the sort of a yarn we could not believe but one that we certainly wanted to believe. What we could not have done in the way of publicity for the Kawarthas with a twelve pound bass! How we could have crowed over other fishing districts, what a display the picture of the monster would have made, what an agitation there would have been for the Chamber of Commerce to have the big fellow mounted and kept permanently on display, in the intervals between trips to potential tourist sources for advertising purposes!

The biggest bass on record around this part of the world, if we remember correctly, was a little over seven pounds. That was rightly considered an enormous fish. A five-pounder is a regular he-man of a bass. He has all the fighting ability of a Joe Louis, the appetite of a Bucko McDonald and the endurance of a Tom Longboat when he was in his Marathon-winning form. To land him with a fine line and a slender steel rod takes skilful handling indeed. The kind of a battle that would be staged by a twelve-pounder can therefore be imagined. The angler that got hold of him would think that he had hooked on to the granddaddy of all the muskies in the district and if he succeeded in bringing him safely into the boat would probably be too exhausted to finish him off.

But what's the use of talking about twelve pound black bass. There aint no sich animal—at least around these waters.

What About The Tax?

Car-owners will undoubtedly read with a sense of relief the announcement of the American Petroleum Institute that "no national crisis caused by a shortage of petroleum products now impends or is likely to occur." That puts it all straight. You can go ahead and step on the gas with an easy mind, knowing that there is lots more where that came from.

Of course there is nothing particularly permanent about statements of that kind. They have a habit of bobbing up every now and then in a changed form and there is no guarantee that there will not be issued, in two or three years, another bulletin giving apparently authentic figures to show that a petroleum shortage is about to descend upon us. If we remember correctly, shortly after the end of the war the Smithsonian Institute gravely informed the motoring public that the beginning of the end of the United States' great store of petroleum was only fifteen or twenty years off. These varying forecasts are great things for the statisticians for they keep them at work and after all statisticians, like other folks, have to make a living.

Nevertheless there is a reassuring sound about this latest forecast with its prediction that the motorist of the present generation will have no cause to worry about his supply of gasoline. There is apparently to be plenty of gas and that suggests the thought that what the motorist is really interested in is the tax on gasoline, rather than the supply. What he would like to know is just how much longer he will be expected to pay a heavy levy upon the gas he uses to propel his car. There seems to be no danger of the gasoline reserves disappearing and by the same token there is little more likelihood, barring the advent of an election, of the tax taking wings either.

Doing A Fine Job

The mission of bringing training in arts and crafts to rural Ontario that has been undertaken by the Community Welfare Council of Ontario is an effort that deserves success and apparently, judging from reports from a number of districts, is attaining a worthwhile measure. In various rural sections of the province summer recreation schools have been established and through that means hundreds of men, women and children have been taught how to work in various kinds of handicraft and at the same time have been learning songs and folk dances, dramatics, story-telling, games and directed play.

A valuable feature of this campaign is the social side. The recreation schools have knitted the people of the sections they serve more closely together and especially in the case of children and young people a new enjoyment of a social character has been the result. The children have been taught to play together and in that way a spirit of sportsmanship has been built up that should be an asset, not only to the youngsters, but to the community when they grow up and take their places in the bigger game of life. And more than that in the isolated districts where this campaign has been concentrated the opportunity of learning leather working, glove making, weaving, woodwork, wood carving and metal work and other craftsmanship means that some of the loneliness of life in remote sections will be banished. The movement seems to be doing good work and deserves encouragement and support.

Scaring Them To Safety

The attempt of the Ontario Department of Highways to shock careless and reckless motorists into mending their ways is a development that will be watched with interest. For a long time the department has followed the other tack. It has appealed to the better nature of the driver, pleaded with him to drive safely and sanely and to exercise courtesy, and it has produced some unanswerable arguments as to why he should do so and yet the curve on the accident chart has continued to arch upward. The appeals and the pleadings have apparently fallen upon too many pairs of deaf ears. The increase in automobile killings in Ontario during the first seven months of this year has, as a matter of fact, been so great that if it is continued to the end of the year, 1937 will have seen some 800 lives snuffed out in traffic accidents.

As the Toronto Star has pointed out this means that motor cars will have killed approximately as many people as diabetes, typhoid fever, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough and diphtheria combined.

In addition the same rate of increase will mean that by the end of the year 14,000 persons will have been injured.

Surely that prospect of 800 dead and 14,000 injured, is shocking enough to justify the Highways Department attempting to frighten drivers into doing what appeals to their common sense and better nature utterly failed to accomplish. The method chosen of publishing pictures of serious accidents and the pointed nature of the warning that accompanies these photographs, along with the suggestion that citizens co-operate by reporting promptly instances of reckless driving that come to their attention, warrant hope the new campaign may get results. We are in danger of becoming so callous to death on the highway as to accept it as inevitable. The Department's pointed publicity may do something to shake us out of that indifference.

A National Obligation

The story that comes out of Kingston that because payments for the maintenance of the grave of Sir John A. Macdonald in Cataraqui Cemetery have not been made for nine years the plot might legally be repossessed by the cemetery board, leaves a good many elder Canadians with a sense of shock.

Now of course that the situation has been brought out into public view there will be no doubt about the payments being made for there are admirers and friends enough of the Father of Confederation left to make sure that the money required will be speedily forthcoming.

Contributions from private sources however, should not be needed for surely it should be a national obligation to see that the grave of one of the greatest of Canadians should be for ever cared for by the country for which he did so much. Other countries bury their distinguished statesmen in abbeys and cathedrals as a final tribute to men who had worthily served their nation. This young Dominion should regard it as a solemn duty to perpetually look after the last resting-place of the leader who made the Dominion possible, and we will be greatly surprised if Premier Mackenzie King does not take that view of the situation, now that public attention has been directed to the affair. It would be a graceful and significant gesture on the part of his government to assume the obligation and we are convinced that it will do so

Another sign that winter is not so far away is the fact that burglars in Montreal have stolen three winter overcoats.

A Paris star gazer has predicted the end of the world for August 15. If he should prove to be right a lot of folk will have to go without their holidays.

With cemetery workers on strike we are morally certain that the Toronto Star columnist will remark that it seems to be a grave affair.

Two French-Canadian paddlers have covered 75 miles in nine hours, a performance that would be regarded with respect even if it had been done by a light outboard.

Hon. Ian Mackenzie disputes Russia's reputed claim of ownership of the North Pole. So far as we are concerned we are quite willing to let the Soviet have the place.

An old fire horse has died in Fort Erie at the age of 30 and it is a safe bet that the motorized apparatus that replaced the horses will not last nearly that long.

A school teacher from Saint John N. B. won a big rifle match at the Quebec Rifle Association meeting. He should have no trouble in teaching the young idea how to shoot.

Major Douglas has given the Aberhart bank legislation a pat on the back and by this time Alberta's premier will probably be taking another look at the bill and wandering what is the matter with it.

Premier Duplessis is getting into trouble with his Quebec followers because of his friendly relations with Ontario's Mr. Hepburn. One way or another the premier of Canada's banner province always seems to stir up excitement.

Two dozen Americans in London paid an average price of $125 for twenty-four top hats that were supposed to have been worn by the Duke of Windsor. The significance of the transaction needs no emphasis.

The only trouble with the race for the America's cup is that it doesn't last long enough. The British boat was making each heat closer and eventually might have found a way to get home in front.

Montreal firemen have laid a complaint against a woman loan broker in that city that she exacted exorbitant interest rates. A charge of 240 per cent. is high enough to make even firemen burn up.

It makes a difference when you are famous. The official announcements said that Emilie Dionne was suffering from a respiratory infection. If it had been Mickey McGuire's sister she would have had a sore throat.

President Hungerford announces that the C. N. R's. operating revenues were $10,000,000 greater for the first seven months of this year than for the same period last year. Canada can accept a lot of that kind of news without flinching.

Stories from Ottawa that the Federal government may intervene and block the Alberta bank bill should be taken with a grain of salt. The boys at Ottawa may not like the measure but they are not accustomed to doing anything so drastic as to over-ride provincial legislation.

LAURENTIAN NIGHT

A midnight moon has topped the mountain firs,
And trailed her saffron radiance, narrow, straight,
Along the lake; a sleepy motor purrs
Its way across the water, homing late.

Nestled in dark the summer cabins dream
Beside the brink, where ferny odours rise;
A solitary window holds a gleam;
A laugh upon the stillness echoes, dies.

On roads that lift, pine-scented after rain,
Through granite-shaded curves to this far height,
The shackles soon release the tired brain,
The spirit flows to meet the mystic night.

And now a breath has brushed my shelter by,
And snuffed the flickering ray that shines no more;
The boat has found its anchorage, and I
Am one at peace with night and lake and shore.

IT IS evident that the telephone has come back after the slump of recent years. A report recently compiled shows that by the beginning of this year the total of telephones in service throughout the world was within one per cent. of the peak attained in 1931 and there is every reason to think that by this time that peak has been left behind. The United States leads in the number of phones in proportion to population. That country has 13.69 to each 100 of population or about six times the ratio for Europe while Canada with 10.99 phones for every 100 of population holds second place. Denmark is a close third with 10.64. The real telephone centre of the world seems to be Washington which actually has 36.71 machines for every 100 people living within its borders.

The men of science are always coming along with discoveries to upset the ideas long held by humanity. Thus someone solemnly announces that kissing originated when primitive man nibbled at himself and his neighbors in his search for Vitamine D exuded from the skin. You have often heard of a cat washing herself? Well the scientists tell us she is doing nothing of the kind. When she seems to be performing her toilet they say tabby really is absorbing oil, a form of food, distributed on her fur. Then again it is stated that fleas are valuable for dogs not because as the humorist has said "they keep him from worrying too much over the fact that he is a dog" but because when the dog starts hunting for the fleas he absorbs valuable vitamins produced on the hair by glands.

Long-lived Canadians.

ACCORDING to a recent announcement by an English publication there are 163 persons in Canada today who are aged 100 years and over. They had begun their young lives when young Queen Victoria ascended the throne just one hundred years ago this coronation year. The population of Canada at that time was 1,250,000. There were 200,000 in Nova Scotia, 600,000 in Lower Canada and 397,000 in Upper Canada. There are 3,666,000 persons alive in Canada at the present time who were alive at the accession of King Edward VII in 1901. The population of the Dominion at that time was 5,371,000. There are 4,355,000 persons living in Canada today who were alive when George V came to the throne in 1911 and the population in that year was 7,207,000. It is now over 11,000,000.

Professor Kravkov of Moscow has been experimenting with the human eye. He has found out that sound affects sight. For example when a man works in the midst of noise his eyes become more sensitive to greens and blues and less sensitive to reds. As a result says Kravkov, red traffic signals at noisy streets seem but half as bright as the same signals in quieter streets. The professor's investigations are more important in Russia than in any other country in the world because five per cent. of Russia's male population suffer from color blindness.

It is interesting to learn that Sinclair Lewis, the author, was considered an outsider by his classmates at Yale. He was not snubbed but ignored. He succeeded however in becoming editor of the Yale Literary magazine. Afterwards he wrote poems and prose in enormous quantities and sold one item in six months—a joke to a humorous magazine for $3. Then he went to the San Francisco Bulletin for $30 a week and resigned because he was about to be fired. Joining the Associated Press he was actually discharged in two months on the ground that he was incompetent.

Speed Doesn't Pay.

IT has been discovered that speed does not pay from the view point of human safety but that it does not pay either in the matter of car operation costs. As part of its safety education program the American Automobile Association has dug up figures, derived from experiment to show that a car which gets 18 miles to the gallon when driven 30 miles an hour, will get 12.6 miles to the gallon at 60 miles an hour and only 8.6 miles to the gallon at 80 miles an hour. Making tests with thirteen types of automobile the Association also proved that 6.9 times as much oil was consumed when driving at 85 miles an hour as was required at 30 miles an hour.

REJECT THEORY OF FORCE

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The Examiner last night contained a letter from Mr. Alex. Murray in which Mr. Murray says, for my benefit, that craft unionism has lived its day and that the C. I. O. or the "One Big Union" is the only effective means of solution of the problems between labor and the employers.

Canadian citizens generally, do not accept the theory of force and what follows the C. I. O.

Men and women who are seeking to settle the differences between the employer and the employee believe in the ordinary lawful way of negotiation.

We recognize that every man has the right to earn his own living without interference and that the employees have the right to organize for the purpose of bargaining with the employer.

Mr. Murray will find himself practically alone in this City in his advocacy of the C. I. O. policies and what has followed them.

Yours truly,
O. S. GORDON.

MR. GORDON REPLIES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Mr. Bob Townsley in last night's Examiner stated that married men have not received 18c an hour.

I have a photograph of a cheque recently issued by the Auburn Woollen Mills for one man who received $18.18 for one hundred hours.

I do not doubt that certain employees who have suffered injuries and receive Workmen's Compensation, are receiving work at a wage added to the compensation which gives them enough to live upon. Those, I understand, are the compassionate jobs which are not, in fact, compassionate at all but given for the purpose of saving money.

Mr. Townsley misquoted me when he states that I said that the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited paid the lowest wages in the industry. What I said was that they paid the lowest and poorest wages in the City.

There is no need of arguing with a man who either through ignorance or deliberately misquotes your statements, so I do not intend to waste much time or ask the Examiner to waste much space upon Mr. Townsley.

Mr. Townsley asks me what the Company is doing with its profits and I would suggest to him that he had better ask his employers who probably wrote the letter that he signed.

The fact remains that this Company issued $2,117,000 at 6% of first mortgage bonds and that the issuance of first mortgage bonds together with $254,040 of bonds to cover defaulted interest demands were shrunk down to $1,058,500 by a new bond issue, which means that the people who loaned their money got bonds of 50% of the value of their original advance.

In addition to that, the Company issued under Mr. O. A. Dawson and his directors $1,270,000.00 of 6% preferred stock at a par value of $20.00 and this has shrunk down to $3.50 per share, so the unfortunate shareholders got stung for $17.50 a share.

The bondholders received $50.00 in new bonds and three new preferred shares for each $100.00 in bonds they held, so you can see what a rimming Mr. Dawson and his fellow directors gave these people who put their money in the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds.

There is outstanding today 155,000 shares of Common stock which is only sold on the curb and bought by a bunch of pikers.

The first requirements of the employers should be to pay his help a living wage because they are necessary in the production of the products he sells.

Instead of that, however, Mr. Dawson and his friends pay themselves first, and we know what the employees have been receiving and also the unfortunate investors in his company.

I might say for the benefit of Mr. Townsley and the Company that he is the only man in the City who has been defending it and that the circulation of the story that these two mills will close down unless their employees agree to the terms imposed, means that I intend to organize, with a number of my friends in the legal profession, a Shareholders and Investors Protective Association, with the object of kicking Mr. Dawson and the other directors out, and placing directors in charge of this Company who will operate it in a way that it should be managed.

As I said before, the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds' Directors have created a class consciousness that is likely to affect the management of other companies in this City, where working conditions are good, and unless these labor unions are headed by men and women of good judgment and good sense, we are likely to have labor conditions, in this City, develop which will put factories in a continuous turmoil, because Mr. Dawson and his assistants paid the lowest scale of wages in the City and developed a condition of desperation which forced the employees to go out on strike.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

A Red Leader Is Cured

Views the Russian Scene And Turns Thumbs Down.

(From the Niagara Falls Review.)

MANY men, sincerely in favor of the system presently in vogue in Russia, have gone there and returned disillusioned, disgusted and disappointed. Many of those who have made the trip have expected to find an earthly paradise but in fact have discovered a system in which no man is free and there is a complete lack of individual freedom. And some of them have been brave enough to confess their past errors and paint a true picture of what they found.

There was a red leader, for instance, in Lowell, Mass., who spoke so much about Russia as an earthly paradise that the Lowell Daily Sun paid his passage to Russia, on condition that, on his return, he would tell a true story of what he found there. After making an extended tour of Russia, Germany and France, he wrote in part as follows:

"You know, my friends, that I was a Red, with the belief firmly established in my own mind that our country would be a better place for the average man under a Socialistic or Communistic form of government. Well, those ideas have been so badly shattered that it positively nauseates me to think of the glib way I used to talk about 'Production for use,' ownership and control of the means of production,' and other such terms. I simply want to say that if you can obtain a close-up of the bloodshed and suffering we used to talk about, and still think that a world revolution would be ideal, you are better men than I am.

"When I learned of workers shooting the leaders of other workers who were fighting for the common enemy, my zeal for the worker diminished. When I saw Anarchists fighting Communists and both fighting the Trotskyites when all are supposed to be a unit, I was compelled to believe that the outstanding characteristic of left-wing leadership in Spain is stupidity.

"When I visited France and Germany and saw forces at work that will eventually tear those countries to pieces if they succeed, it made me almost sick.

"What's the answer? I don't know. I used to know all the answers, but I don't know them any more. I know that my mind is forever closed to a dictatorship. Take it from me—I mean this more than I ever meant anything in my life—you are living in God's country."

The cost of that trip to the Lowell newspaper was money well spent, for that former Red leader now is opposed to all dictatorships and sees the United States as "God's own country." Probably many a Canadian communist would have a similar story to tell if he made the trip to Russia. Probably he would return, after making the discovery that Canada is a pretty good place in which to live.

Mickey Mouse Goes to School

Films Will Be Employed Educators Like Them.

(From the New York Herald-Tribune)

PROFESSORS Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Three Little Pigs are soon to be added to the list of teachers of happy youth throughout the United States. A committee of educators has viewed films of these creations of versatile Walt Disney with personal delight, and has decided professionally that they have value for the schoolroom. Indeed, Dr. Carl W. Bigelow, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, is enthusiastic about their possibilities. "We have come to the conclusion that Disney is the Aesop and Fontaine of the twentieth century, he said. "His films present, in elementary terms, problems of human relationships which little children can easily grasp and discuss together. We are prepared to introduced Mickey into the public schools."

Thus, for once, what is highly agreeable is declared to be beneficial as well—an extremely rare combination. That the decision was not hastily arrived at is shown by the fact that many films of possible educational character have been viewed, and about thirty have been selected as suitable. The search is being made by a committee appointed on behalf of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, co-operating with Dr. Mark A. May, director of the Institute of Human Relations of Yale University, and Miss Marie Spotswood, principal of the Fieldston Lower School, Riverdale. "Mickey Mouse can teach children," she said, "because he has a child's point of view. Both must look up at a doorknob, and both see other things from similar perpectives."

Thus, from the day when Mary's Little Lamb caused a commotion in school, as told in Mrs. Hale's immortal poem, to the immediate future, when youngsters and teachers alike are to see all the members of the film cartoon family as part of their schooling, we have made real progress. The departure in pedagogy should encourage many a tired teacher to keep up the struggle, and should reduce truancy lists to nothing at all.

THE SILLIEST YET

(New York Daily News)

THE silly season's silliest exhibit to date, we'd say, is the so-called "honest names" bill, introduced by some humorless gent in the Massachusetts Legislature. This bill would compel the real names of movie stars and other entertainers to be used in Massachusetts theatres.

It goes to show how ridiculous censorship-minded people can be when they try hard. Why do we go to movies and plays? Because they aren't real life; because we want to be fooled, kidded, bemused, inspired, taken out of ourselves. And glamorous names adopted by the stars are part of the illusion. Even as most of us like to indentify ourselves with the hero or heroine, so probably many of us subconsciously if not consciously, hate our own prosaic or downright ugly names and would like to answer to such rippling rhythms as Myrna Loy, Lionel Barrymore, Fredric March, Claudette Colbert, Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers.

We all know those aren't the stars' real names, but what of it? We hope this attempt to take some harmless glamor out of life will be confined strictly to Massachusetts, and killed off there.

81 ARE DEAD

(Ottawa Journal)

JOURNAL reporters have kept a record of motor vehicle accidents in the Ottawa area this year and last. Their report is not encouraging. They have included Ottawa and its neighboring municipalities, parts of Eastern and Northern Ontario, the Pontiac and Gatineau districts of Quebec, and in the first seven months of this year they find 81 persons were killed in traffic accidents, 310 were injured, in 928 accidents. For the twelve months of 1936 there were 69 killed, 563 injured, in 386 accidents.

The month of July accounted for one-third of the total, its 27 deaths being more than double the total for last July and setting a new record for one month.

ENGLAND'S FOREIGNERS

(Daily Express)

ONE aftermath of all the trouble in Europe is the extraordinary influx of foreigners into Britain. Once East London was the home of the strangers within our gates. But now North London accommodates them. Try travelling on a bus, Baker street way. You would think you were in Berlin or Cracow or Rome. The folk look well and prosperous and not at all like the poor exiles of romance. By the way, there are 30,000 Italians here. Mussolini's anti-British bellowing may not make things more pleasant for them.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7 (C.P.).—Bearish Continental crop reports and intimation Australia's wheatcrop was larger than originally estimated resulted in declines at Liverpool, and encouraged liquidation on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange on Friday. The irregular session, during which October wheat dropped 4¼ cents, finished 3 to 3½ cents lower.

Export business in Canadian wheat was small, and market support failed to hold prices steady after early two-cents losses were nearly recovered in the first hour. Liverpool's final quotations were 1¼d to 1½d lower. Buenos Aires recovered from Thursday's setbacks, and at noon was ¾ to 1¼ cents up. Despatches indicated needed rains in the Argentine wheat-growing areas did not materialize.

G. J. S. Broomhall's comment states Russia was favored with better harvesting weather, and ideal conditions in France were reported. Australian shipments this week were placed at 1,800,000 bushels.

Cash wheat trading was dull again yesterday. Widely fluctuating rye futures featured coarse grain trading, but all other commodities moved at levels below the previous close. Rye futures closed 1⅝ to 2⅜ cents lower.

C. J. CROWE FALLS BOWNESS TENNIS

Roy Tranter Triumphs For Singles Championship of Kawartha Club.

Roy Tranter Friday night defeated Cyril J. Crowe in two straight sets to win the F. W. Bowness trophy emblematic of the men's singles championship of the Kawartha Tennis Club.

Although the match was not productive of outstanding tennis on the part of either player, at times both men did come through with some very good shots. The real deciding point of the play came in the form of a twisted ankle sustained by Crowe in the seventh game of the second set. The 21 year old Tranter, playing with calmness and precision had won the first set 6-3 and Crowe had evened the count in the second set when he took a bad fall. In a quarter of an hour play resumed, and although the veteran Crowe rallied to take the next game, Tranter ran out the set quite easily at 6-4 by means of accurate placements. The injury to the older man was an unfortunate feature of the match, but it could not take anything away from the youngster's fine win. He looks and plays like a real comer in local tennis circles and with some more practise should soon be on top of the heap. His work last night was very comparable to that of his semi-final joust when he disposed of J. T. Donaldson in three well played sets. Crowe, on the other hand, rather surprised onlookers in his preliminary match by turning back the hard hitting Rolly Hull in quite easy fashion.

It was not until the second set that Crowe realized he had to come into the net to make his shots count. In the first test, he tried to play Tranter's game of baseline drives but it was no go. The latter dropped his first service and his older opponent obliged by losing his. This continued till a three-all score was reached after which Tranter held service and breezed through the remaining games. In the rallies, the winner was easily the best, keeping Crowe running from side to side on fine cross court shots. In the second set the older man was coming along well with some tricky net play and accurate chopping till he took his tumble.

J. T. Donaldson acted as umpire and at the conclusion of the match F. W. Bowness congratulated the winner and presented his handsome cup which will be for annual competition. It will be remembered that Mr. Bowness was at one time one of the leading players of the city and district and he is using this method of keeping alive his interest in the game.

what she does," firmly pressed Mrs. J. P. Hynes, prominent social welfare worker. "It is terrible—a thing of the past, and it would be a backward step to recognize such a law. Too many men might take advantage of it."

A Great Idea.

"Ha," snorted R. H. Greer, K.C., "I never tried it but I think it would be a great idea!"

"What?" gasped the reporter, "Do you think we should keep this old law?"

"Certainly," he replied firmly, "for the protection of men."

"Don't know a thing about it," said Dr. W. E. Blatz, Director of the St. George's School for Child Study and professor of psychology. "I am only interested in the relation of spankings to children, and if the wife were a child I presume it wouldn't work there."

"Would it give a wife a complex?"

"I certainly think it would—a husband should only strike in self defense."

And then came Dr. Minerva Reid with the shortest remark of all: "No man ever does." There was considerable emphasis on the noun.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

ON TUESDAY, Aug 10, the ladies section will commence their skips-vices, lead-seconds competitions. The rinks have been drawn and the schedule is completed, all this is posted up inside the club house. Skips are asked to get in touch with their players immediately so that there will be no misunderstanding.... The draw has also been made for the annual handicap singles competition, which is also posted up inside the clubhouse. Just so it will be a little clearer, the twilight doubles for Monday night will be run along the same lines as the previous ones—7 p.m. and $1.00 per pair.

THE WINNING skips at last night's tourney were E. Boulby, G. Glenblett, C. Williamson and R. Anderson. Each received a basket of fruit.

THE LOCAL ladies just about made it a grand slam on the Cannington greens. Entering seven rinks at the annual tournament they were successful in walking away with four of the five prizes. Twenty rinks from all around the district made up the draw. The winners:

First—Peterborough, Mrs. J. Reid, Mrs. H. Beatty, Mrs. L. Beare, Mrs. H. Staunton, skip, (silk bed spreads).

Second — Peterborough, Mrs. T. Doughty, Mrs. W. Jeffries, Mrs. A. Nelson, Mrs. R. Hendry, skip, (silver plated relish dishes).

Third—Outside rink.

Fourth — Peterborough, Mrs. H. McIlmoyle, Mrs. W. Zelnr, Mrs. N. Killingbeck, Mrs. J. Arnold, skip, (linen table clothes).

Fifth—Peterborough, Mrs. F. Ford, Miss L. Allen, Miss N. Murphy, Mrs. H. Graham, skip, (pyrex bake dish).

Local Rotarians Secure Game Lead

Rotarians took a 7-1 win over Cobourg on the latter's diamond last night in the first game of the Lakeshore Junior Baseball League playoffs. It is a two out of three series, with the next game being in Peterborough next Wednesday. Plenty of arguments featured last night's tilt, with spectators getting into things twice. The score was 2-1 for Rotary going into the eighth frame, after a smart struggle, but the Ralph boys broke through them for five runs.

The heavy-hitting of the visitors in the eighth featured the close contest, Giardino, Kelly, Vitarelli hitting triples, with Thorburn and Edmunds clouting doubles and Connelly a single. Gee Clark pitched four-hit ball for the winers while fanning a dozen and going good in the field. Bateman hurled neat ball till the eighth. The fielding on both sides was good most of the way. Score by innings:

Rotary	200 000 000—7	12	1
Cobourg	000 000 100—1	4	2

but which provoke rabid discussions in a land where the tailor contends the best summer suit is prickly tweed or heavy flannel; where restaurants present the usual soup, fish, meat, potatoes and bread pudding which may be welcome in the damp of winter but are a far cry from the tomato salad sort of thing that is popular in North American heat waves.

London is quiet in August anyway but the heat has further stilled it. Remaining workers in Downing street are said to be brooding calmly with most of the government executives absent.

Good News Scarce.

Consequently the "silly season" is gripping papers that are making efforts to retain their circulation despite a lack of real news. They feature odd and sometimes fantastic stories.

The failure of T. O. M. Sopwith, defeated four straight in the America's Cup races, did not help the news situation, of which perhaps the best story of the slack season thus far is of a 14-year-old girl who persistently pressed the emergency button in telephone booths during the evenings to talk to male operators at the exchanges.

She told them she fell in love with their voices.

She was released when she promised not to repeat the offence.

JAPAN ORDERS ALL OFFICIALS FROM HANKOW

Other Cities Along Yangtze Waterway Being Evacuated By Nipponese.

SEE WAR EXTENDING.

HANKOW, China, Aug. 7.—(AP) —Japanese naval and consular officials today ordered evacuation of all Japanese in this important commercial city and international treaty port at the confluence of the Yangtze and Han rivers.

The Japanese officials, reportedly acting on orders from Tokyo, decreed all Japanese nationals must quit Hankow before noon Sunday leaving administration of the Japanese concession to Chinese authorities.

Although Hankow is hundreds of miles south of the Northern China hostilities, Japanese have expressed apprehension for the safety of her citizens in Central China, asserting that large bodies of Chinese soldiery were concentrated in the region.

Other cities along the great Yangtse waterway to the sea have been evacuated by the Japanese as a precautionary measure. The order meant the remaining Japanese community, numbering several hundred persons and an estimated 400 marines and soldiers, would board ship for the coast in an unparalled abandonment of a long-established colony here.

Evacuation proceeded at Hankow and 500 Japanese departed this morning and a majority of the remaining Japanese were concentrated on a river barge waiting evacuation down the river.

It was reported the United States consul-general and advised all Americans in the part of his consular district above the Yellow River to withdraw to places of safety.

The report came soon after official intimations in Tientsin that the Japanese campaign might extend to all Chinese territory north of the river advised that foreigners in the vast region should be warned.

CRASH VICTIM'S SPINE FRACTURED

Corporal M. Collins Escaped Death When Flying Officer Killed.

BELEVILLE, Aug. 7.—X-rays, taken yesterday afternoon, revealed that Corp. M. Collins, had a fractured spine, as a result of the crash at the Trenton Air Force camp, on Wednesday. Corp. Collins, riding in the seaplane as a mechanic, escaped possible fatal injuries when he was thrown clear of the craft when it hit the water and he was able to swim the 100 yards to the shore, while Flying Officer J. L. Henning, pilot of the aeroplane, was killed.

Dr. G. S. Stobie, attending physician, stated that Corporal Collins was resting very comfortably, late last night.

There will be no inquest into the death of Flying Officer J. L. Henning, who was drowned in the crash, stated Chief Coroner Dr. J. J. Robertson, yesterday. The government authorities will probably conduct a thorough investigation into the case, said Dr. Robertson. He said the deceased man died from drowning.

BLAME COMPANY FOR CONTINUANCE

Young for immediate institution of the new Ontario minimum wage provisions and for the assistance of the Industry and Labor Board toward a strike solution here.

"I want to get this strike settled and get these people back to work," he commented. "I hope to be able to report the result of my visit to Toronto to the strikers Monday evening."

Fred Tuggey, chairman of the Textile Workers Relief Committee, and Alderman James Hamilton, a member of the committee, consented yesterday at a meeting of the committee to a suggestion by Mr. Gordon that they approach the local plant heads of the Auburn and Bonner-Worth mills to determine what further can be done to bring the management and the strikers together. They stated they would undertake to meet the managers today.

Mr. Tuggey yesterday called attention to the offer of the strikers to arbitrate made last week. "This showed a spirit of fairness on the part of men, women, boys and girls who are on strike," he said. He regretted that the company has not responded to the offer.

The tag day effort was the principal concern of the main strike body today. At nine o'clock this morning, twenty-five girls gathered at the direction of G. E. Gordon, K.C., at the Trades and Labor Hall and received instructions from Mr. Gordon, acting as secretary of the Textile Workers Relief Committee, as the tag boxes were handed out.

Strict instructions to station themselves only on private property in seeking contributions were given the taggers by Mr. Gordon. Permission had been obtained from numerous store, restaurant and hotel proprietors for location of the girls.

Everytime Cow Involved in Accident Governor Be Wired

DELAND, Fla., Aug. 7—(AP). — Governor Fred Cone will be notified by telegram every time a cow is involved in a Volusia County highway accident.

The Deland Junior Chamber of Commerce joined in unsuccessful efforts to pass laws at the recent legislative session to bar cattle from Florida's roads.

Just to keep the matter before the Governor, the chamber's board of directors voted last night to wire him the bad news every time a cow is bumped on the county's roads.

BASE METALS TOP SPURT IN BUYING ON TORONTO MART

GOLDS EASE OFF.

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (C.P.). — The Toronto Stock Market in the last week developed its first group action in more than a month with the base metal shares spurting to higher price levels on the impetus of much heavier buying.

The action appeared to be based on the assumption that the slump in metal prices that began early in March and progressed through April had not only hit bottom for this year but that a substantial recovery was in the offing.

Rising through the fall months of 1936 and the early months of this year, metal prices moved forward until the second week in March when they cracked, partly because, it was surmised, of the Washington announcement that the President was opposed to any further advance of commodity prices for the present.

On March 11 Electrolytic Copper stood at f80 a long ton on the London market and by April 29 the price had dropped to £60 10c. Lead declined in practically the same period from £36 2s 9d to £22 15s, and zinc from £36 17s 6d to £21 17s 6d.

Sherritt Makes Up.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting has a gain of $4 for the week to $85. Noranda is up $2.50, and Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting about $1.50. The heavy trading, however, appeared in the medium-priced issues, notably Pend Oreille, Waite-Amulet, and Sherritt, and these all registered net gains of 36 to 80 cents. Sudbury Basin added 45 cents, and Coast Copper about 75 cents. The smaller issues, Aldermac, Chromium, Mandy, and Reeves-Macdonald all reflect the more optimistic note. Gains in the base metals were mainly responsible for an advance of more than seven points to 171.97 in the exchange index in the week.

Gold shares, as measured by the exchange index, registered a minor decline in the period. There were no gains of importance aside from 25 cents each for Teck-Hughes and

Frenchmen Make Best Lovers

Mme. Jeanne Voilier.

(By Central Press.)

A great number of American girls visiting the French Exposition in Paris fall in love with Frenchmen. That is a statement made by Mme. Jeanne Voilier, beautiful French novelist, who is in the United States to get material for her new book, when interviewed in her suite at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York. Later she will visit Canada, going to Montreal and Quebec.

"The are attracted to Frenchmen because with Frenchmen love is an art," she declares. "With Frenchmen, love comes first. They are courtly, and they speak to girls of things that interest girls, things of the heart, for instance. The Frenchman does the unexpected every day.

"The American boy may say to his sweetheart, 'I love you' or 'You are a darling,' but with a kind of accustomed blase, while by his gesticulations and his passionate tone, the Frenchman really convinces her that he loves her. The American tells his girl about his business, what a big shot he is, while the Frenchman talks of sentimental subjects, and of his absorption in her. Frenchmen make the best sweethearts, the most interesting lovers. They seem to know women and how to win their love."

Mme Voilier is one of the few feminine lawyers in France. She will, while on this side of the water, visit the juvenile courts and see how they differ from those in her country. Her husband, Pierre Frondaie, is a novelist and scenario writer.

Fashion Service

With Paris delighting with all manner of lovely crisp wool plain and printed sheer fabrics, you won't be able to wait for this pattern to arrive.

Sherring of the full skirt confines the fulness so prettily over the hips and the back of this navy sheer dress. The basque bodice is "laced" down the front from the girlish collar to the waist. Or if you like, it can have a collarless vee neck.

With the same pattern you can make a sheer cotton dance dress with demure square neck and extremely wide flaring skirt.

Sheers as nets, chiffons, marquisettes, laces, printed lawns, dotted swiss are especially popular. Crepey linens, rayon-challis prints and washable summer silks are other nice mediums for your choice.

Style No. 3396 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 4 yards of 39-inch material with 3 yards of 2-inch ribbon.

Silver Bowls Useful

Ginger Rogers has a group of medium-sized silver bowls which she wouldn't be without. The star groups them, with flowers or fruit in them, to make attractive table decorations. She also uses them separately for a number of purposes.

Now is Time For Corn

Corn is now on the market and what is more delicious than fresh picked corn? Those who can pick it as they need it, husk and cook it at once are fortunate. Most of us have to depend upon the markets, and are not sure just how fresh our corn is when we serve it. Corn should be boiled as soon as it is picked to be at its best. The rules for succotash are the same whether you use lima beans with the corn or green.

Local Ladies Elected To Moose Offices

The annual convention of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Women's Association of the Moose was a recent event in London, Ontario. The formal opening was held in the ballroom of the Hotel London, with Invocation by the Rev. Mr. Payne, chaplain of the Church of England at Mooseheart, Illinois. Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Thomas Kingsmill; Major Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Fred Betts, M.P.; Dean Jeakins; Rev. Father Morrison; Paul Schmitz of Mooseheart, Illinois; Archie Duncan, M.P.P.; Miss Kathleen Smith, Grand Recorder, of Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Josephine Jackson, Deputy Grand Regent, of Toronto; Mrs. Lucy Miterlla, of St. Thomas, president of the Women's section, and Norman Heyd of Toronto.

The members enjoyed an excursion trip through the city and attended services held at St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Paul's Cathedral, with the Mooseheart Cadet Band of sixty members leading the parade. Senator J. J. Davis, General Director at Mooseheart, initiated candidates into the Academy of Friendship. Mrs. Josephine Jackson of Toronto was made Dean of the Academy in Canada. Mrs. J. Glaum of Peterborough was a candidate for the office. Presentations were made to the retiring president, Mrs. L. Miterlla, of St. Thomas; to Mrs. B. Hungerford of London and Mrs. J. Jackson of Toronto. Delegates from Peterborough were Mrs. W. Pallant and Mrs. J. Glaum.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Robertson of London, president; Mrs. McCloud of Windsor, vice president of the Western Division; Mrs. Gell of Toronto, vice president of the Central Division; Mrs. E. Roberts of Peterborough, vice president of the Eastern Division; Mrs. C. Walker of Cochrane, vice president of the Northern Division; Mrs. B. Hungerford of London, secretary.

Lynch—Henry

Quietly solemnized at eight o'clock this (Saturday) morning by the Rev. P. J. Kelly at St. Peter's Cathedral, a pretty wedding united in the bonds of matrimony Madeline Irene Henry younger daughter of Mrs. M. Henry of Brock street and the late Myles Henry, and Thomas Joseph Lynch of Ottawa, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lynch of McDonnel street, Peterborough.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Leo Henry of Buffalo, wore a lovely frock of daffodil yellow chiffon, made in peasant style with full bodice and full skirt, the latter banded with grosgrain yellow ribbon. The sleeves were short and puffed. Her hat was a pleated net halo of the same vivid yellow and she wore silver slippers and yellow lace mittens. Her bouquet was a combination of varied shades of mauve sweet peas, centaurea and scabiosa.

The matron of honor, Mrs. W. C. Buist of Toronto, sister of the bride, wore brown net over taffeta, a crownless velvet turban, brown gabardine slippers and brown lace mittens. She carried a bouquet of brown-eyed Susans.

The best man was James P. Lynch of Peterborough, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Gordon Cathcart of Toronto and Joseph J. Ahearn of Peterborough.

Miss Veronica Scollard, A.T.C.M. played the wedding music and Miss Geraldine Collins sang during the progress of the Nuptial Mass.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at Walkerfield House, attended by members of the two families. Assisting the bridal party were Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Lynch, the former in black net over satin, with a black velvet turban, black slippers and gloves and a corsage bouquet of white sweet peas, the latter wearing blue marquisette trimmed with white eyelet embroidery, a white hat, white slippers and gloves, and a corsage of pink sweet peas.

The table from which refreshments were served was done with a bouquet of white gladioli, mauve liatris and mauve scabiosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch left later by train for a trip to Quebec, the latter travelling in a dress of California Print flowered in wine shades, with a wine-colored 'off the face' felt hat, matching accessories and a grey swagger coat. They will live in Ottawa.

Toronto Wedding of Local Interest

An interesting wedding of this afternoon at Wycliffe College Chapel, Toronto, was that of Walter Squires and Miss Lenore Lancaster of Vancouver. Walter David Squires is a son of the late Walter Squires of Toronto (formerly of Peterborough) and Mrs. Squires, a brother of Miss Sadie Squires and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Squires of Peterborough. The family is well known here. They have for years past summered at their cottage at Hatrick's Bay, Rice Lake.

Among those who entertained for Miss Lenore Lancaster, before leaving Vancouver for Toronto were: Mrs. John DeLong and Mrs. Herbert Dunmore, at luncheon; members of the Victorian Order of Nurses staff, tea and presentation; Mrs. Leslie Brooks and Mrs. James Taylor, at a linen shower; Miss May Thompson, an evening party and presentation; Mrs. Greenlees and daughters, at a buffet supper and handkerchief shower; and Mrs. Kenneth Brandon, formerly of Toronto at tea. Since coming to Toronto Miss Lancaster has been entertained by Miss Sadie Squires, at an evening bridge; Mrs. Fred Mills of Hamilton, at a luncheon; Mr. Stewart Lundy and Mr. Leslie Evans, at the supper dance at the Royal York hotel, and Mrs. Squires, who entertained at dinner for the bridal party at Crofton Villa.

Among the guests from out-of-town at the Squires-Lancaster wedding at Wycliffe College Chapel this afternoon were Mr. Walter Douglas, New York City; Mrs. W. Greenlees and Miss Winnifred Gilbert, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Dobbin and Mrs. George Duncan, Peterborough; Miss Kathleen McDonald, Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. B. Lancaster and family; Mr. and Mrs. E. Lancaster and family; Mr. Franklin Barrett; Mrs. Thomas Lancaster, St. Marys, Ont.; Mrs. John Douglas and Mrs. Annie Britton, Newcastle; Dr. and Mrs. W. J. R. Fowler, Guelph; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Jackson, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Daly, Napanee; Miss Amy Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills and Mrs. F. G. Pennel, Hamilton.

Annual Re-Union McDonald Family

BRIGHTON, Aug. 7.—The McDonald family of this district held their fifth annual re-union picnic at Little Lake Grove, north-west of Brighton, yesterday. One hundred members of the family attended and enjoyed renewing old acquaintances. After this the company gathered in the pavilion and one minute's silence was observed in memory of those of the family who have died since the re-union last year. Those so remembered were: Mr. and Mrs. John L. McDonald, Thornhill; Mr. Jay Langdon, Brighton; Baby Gerald Branscombe, Colborne. Congratulations were extended to those parents who had had children born during the year, namely, Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Athol Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reddick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mutton.

All sorts of amusements and diversions were provided during the afternoon. The children were particularly delighted with a pony and cart supplied by Douglas Rutherford and George McDonald's small pony was kept more than busy by the youthful riders. An amateur entertainment provided amusement while the Turney and Chapman members of the clan formed an orchestra and provided music for the occasion. Sam Black gave a solo; Marjory Goodrich, accompanied by Lenore Welton, also sang, and Dorothy McDonald and Ruth Morgan executed a lively tap dance, after which Jimmy McDonald gave a short recitation. Sports were under the leadership and direction of Neil McDonald.

Prizes were awarded to: William Ives, the oldest member present; William McDonald, the oldest McDonald present; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman, for the largest family present, received a first aid kit; Hiram Purdy, for having come the longest distance, also was awarded a first aid kit; Verna Blanche Montgomery, for having the youngest child present, received a rattle.

It was decided to again hold the re-union at Little Lake Grove in 1938. Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Neil G. McDonald; honorary presidents, William Ives, Mrs. Ella Fortune, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Melissa McDonald, Mrs. Katherine McDonald, William McDonald; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. J. Reddick; business committee, Neil Mutton, James Black, Argyle Rutherford, Ira Purdy, Hiram Purdy, Archie Chapman, Clarkson McDonald, Lorne McDonald; food committee, Mrs. Frank Goodrich, Mrs. Clara Turney, Mrs. Claude Ives, Mrs. Lorne McDonald.

Centreton Visitors

The Y.P.S. met in the S.S. room on Tuesday night, when a social meeting was held with Miss Roberta Webb as convenor. Rev. H. W. W. Bromwich led in prayer. Readings were given by Miss Hazel Blodgett and George Seymour. The topic was taken by Rev. Mr. Bromwich. A social time was then spent playing games and contests.

The W.A. met at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon. A committee was elected to buy a stove for the Sunday School room. It was decided to make several articles of clothing for to sell at the school fair in September. Donations were asked from each member. It was decided to send for surprise packages from friends at a distance, to be sold also. Program committee for August: Mrs. F. Etcher, Mrs. J. Merriam, Mrs. Wm. Chapple and Miss Maud Wolfraim. Readings were then given by Mrs. Merriam and Mrs. H. McAlley. Piano solo, Mrs. Bromwich. Collection was then taken and some fees were paid.

The King's Own Mission Band met on Sunday morning. It was decided to hold the picnic the latter part of the month.

The Joice family held their annual re-union in Victoria Park, Cobourg, on Sunday with fifty-nine present. It was decided to organize the clan to hold a re-union on a week day hereafter. Officers were elected: President, Mrs. W. Fraser, Centreton; vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Joice, Academy Hill; sports convenor, Mrs. R. Tapscott, Eddystone; corresponding secretary, Miss Ethel Joice, Academy Hill.

Mrs. Ernest Joice has been the unofficial manager for some years and as it was her birthday the main table decoration was a beautiful cake made and iced by Mrs. Bella Joice, Eddystone. The table boasted several fine bouquets of flowers.

After tea Mrs. Archie Birney, Centreton, read an address of appreciation to Mrs. Joice and Mrs. C. Hobart presented her with a sum of money. Mrs. Joice was completely surprised but made a suitable reply.

WORN FOR AUGUST DAYS

Paris Smartness Apparent in Play Spots Where Well Dressed Women Wear Models From Salons of the Noted Dressmakers

(By Central Press)

MIDSUMMER MADNESS they call it—the play spirit that consumes us at this time of year.

By whatever name it goes, however, it is very sweet, and that in spite of a touch of sadness at the thought that the warm, bright days are drawing to a close and autumn and then winter will soon be upon us.

But why repine? "This life is most jolly," as Brother William Shakespeare once said. Enjoy the summer while it is here—and then have an equally good time in the brisk fall weather and later on enjoy the invigorating snow and frost of winter. That is a good philosophy.

Maria Guy's panama hat, shown at lower left of our picture, is a very smart model for August days. Notice the becomingly droopy brim and the squared crown, also the smart banding.

Then there is Schiaparelli's popular little white printed linen jacket worn over a dark skirt, upper right. That is one of the most popular stylings of the summer season, and comes in many different interpretations.

Black, White Popular

Black and white continues to be a favorite midsummer costume. Smart women are wearing it wherever they gather, for lunch, tea, shopping. Black and white prints were seen worn by three society women recently lunching at a smart New York hotel at one table, at another a black and white printed suit, and at a third, a black background print with red and green flowers.

Hats worn on these occasions vary from wide-brimmed straws to small bailiburtls with veils. The crownless hat has also appeared in velvet recently, with streamers down the back.

If you are a bit weary of your summer frocks, why not brighten them up a bit with new bunches of flowers? The flowers with which the stores are replacing their stocks for the new season are "different." "Unexpected" is the word best describing them, for the classic rose, violet and gardenia is being replaced by nasturtiums, edelweiss, geraniums, all rather prim looking but in gorgeous colors and extremely decorative and new looking. If you have a dress from last year that you are planning on wearing at the start of this season, why not modernize it with such posies?

Glances at Autumn

Glancing into the autumn picture, woollens and velvets are carrying a great deal of prestige in the picture. Smooth woollens have a definite importance while many angora fabrics, small embroidered designs and striped effects are being used. Wool crepes are more sheer and formal.

Black holds its popularity in the fall dress picture, as the whole family of ribbed crepes are prominent—bengalines, surah, faille and novelty weaves of bengaline and satin stripes on wool. These fabrics make the black dress more interesting and newer.

Colors for fall dresses include many forest tones, such as browns, greens, rust and yellow. Blue, which has been a prime favorite all spring and summer, is shown with slate blue, coronation and purplish blue versions. Browns take second place in this color galaxy. Mahogany, spice and purplish browns are important. In greens, a spruce shade, trotteur green, peacock and chartreuse are used for high style, and gray is the preferred neutral.

Wedding of Interest Takes Place in Omemee

A wedding of great community interest took place recently in Omemee when Florence Anna, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Laidley, was married to Weston William Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid of Reaboro. Above is shown the bride and groom with their parents. Beside Mr. Reid stands his father and mother and beside the bride her father and mother.

We Noticed

...all sorts of jewelled doodads in brilliants—tiny penguins with black enamel heads and wings, brilliant chests and little yellow feet; elephants and boxing kangaroos in the same glittering stones; pairs of love birds billing and cooing in green enamel... and farther on, in another jewellery store window, those fascinating strings of shaded pearls, three-stranded bracelets and necklaces, some with smoky grey, amber and pearl combinations, other shading from mauve to pale orchid...

...black grape earrings and pins are another novelty of the moment, combined with brilliants... and there are delightful little brilliant pins shaped just like a bowknot...

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

A gift is a pleasant thing, rightly given, most pleasant and dear and sacred whether its value be much or little.....It is so sweet to be remembered....But gifts carelessly given—merely to gratify a love of giving which some people have to a a disease—given without thought of whether they will be useful or not, whether the receiver will care for them or not, are between friends often a great vexation; between strangers, or any who are not exactly equals, a burden of obligation simply intolerable.—Craik.

Dear Friends:

Today a few of us were talking about the giving of gifts, and I told about a habit I had of giving gifts at one time, just for the love of giving. It never occurred to me that I was putting people under an obligation and that they would resent it, for hadn't I done it with a good heart, not looking for anything in return.

And then, some time later I found myself in the same position I had put others in, by having gifts given me which I neither expected nor wanted, so that I was under obligation to the givers, and I did not like it a little bit. But I had to learn my lesson, and I learnt it alright. And haven't we all at some time or other been put in the same fix by gifts we neither wanted or expected? Especially around Christmas is this likely to occur. Someone who never was or never would be on our list gives us something and we have no pleasure in it at all.

It is just as if we were having a private conversation with our own particular friends, and some complete stranger insisted on joining in every so often, so that we became intensely annoyed with them.

And truly, gifts given simply to gratify the desire to give on the part of anyone, you or me or the other fellow, are simply an intrusion on the privacy of the ones who receive them. Where we meant to please, we simply annoy, so when you have the urge to do a little giving, stop and think if you would like someone you were not intimate with to do the same to you.

Consider if you would like to be put under an obligation to them, to have to thank them, to have also to use the gift, or be classed as to proud or snobbish if you didn't use it, and even after you have thought all that over, consider also whether it is in good taste to give at all.

Don't misunderstand me. I love a gift as well as anyone, I hate to be forgotten when all those around me are getting gifts, but I also hate to be put under too much obligation to anyone, especially if we have not been in the habit of exchanging gifts at certain times.

My friend in the west said my most glaring fault was that I paid back anything that was done for me or given me, too quickly. And I told her that the burden of obligation was too heavy to carry, so she told me if I couldn't take things I shouldn't give, and that was how I learned.

Now I am more chary in giving. I could see clearly that I got more pleasure out of it than the recipients did, and that it could be very embarrassing to have gifts in season and out.

As I said before, our Lord does not force His gifts on us, thereby leaving us obligated too much to Him, but He waits until we ask, and until we tell Him exactly what we do want, before He gives His gifts. What good would a horse be to use if we wanted a car, and what good would an invitation to a dance be if we did not care for dancing, or were too old for it? What good would the offer of any job that we could not do, or the love of someone we detested? None at all, so that is why we were told to "ask and we would receive." So, use some sense in your giving, do not give just so that you will get satisfaction, but consider the other fellow's point of view.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

SOLUNAR THEORY IS SUCCESSFUL IN PIGEON RIVER

John Alden Knight, Noted Sportsman, Described Outing at Fee's Landing.

NOT A NEW THEORY.

In the August number of the National Sportsman, published at Mount Morris, Illinois, a fishing story with a Kawartha background and locale by John Alden Knight presents, rather sketchily it is true, the author's solunar theory which he originated, briefly in effect that the habits of fish, and particularly in regard to feeding and biting, are influenced by the sun and moon.

Mr. Knight's interesting narrative under the heading "Muskies Can't Tell Time" sparkles with action and requires no preface. The scene of the incident which he relates is Fee's Landing about a mile east of Omemee, Wilbert Fee's popular resort, and one of the most productive fishing grounds in this district.

"Fee's Landing, Ontario, Canada, is situated near the head of an artificial lake made by damming the Pigeon River. Here the stream has been backed up so that it overflows the meadows, making an ideal home for King Musky. The lake bottom is covered with a profuse growth of water weed and the shores are lined with overhanging rushes. Natural food is there in abundance and the muskelunge thrive in this deluxe, man-made habitat.

We arrived at the Landing in the afternoon, and I was fortunate in securing the services of Bill Taylor as guide. Bill is a full-blooded Ojibway Indian, a college alumnus, and a World War veteran. He stands six feet in his socks and weighs over two hundred pounds, all of which is bone and good, hard muscle. Shaking his hand is much like picking up a piece of hardwood plank. I've seen him clamp that big right paw of his around his stubby five foot paddle and hold a square-ended guide canoe up into a stiff breeze with one hand while he lighted his pipe with the other. All in all, Bill is mucho muchacho.

I arranged with Bill to take me fishing as soon as I could change clothes and get a bite of supper, and we had been out only a short time when I saw a huge wake follow my spoon out from a pocket in the rushes. The big musky was more curious than hungry, and, after following the spoon halfway to the canoe, he touched it lightly. As soon as I felt him I raised the rod and struck. He was on just long enough for me to feel his weight; then he turned with a vicious swirl and the hook pulled out.

"Never mind," said Bill. "We know where he lives now. Tomorrow I'll get you a big one, sure."

After continued casting until dark, with only one small fish showing himself, Bill paddled the canoe into a small bay for one last try before starting for home. The spoon landed well in toward shore and had barely started on its return journey before there was a swirl and a smashing strike that set the hooks of itself. After some spectacular aerial acrobatics, we landed and released a small musky of perhaps six pounds.

"Well, that's one, anyway," Bill swung the canoe, and pointed it toward camp.

As we paddled homeward over the placid surface of the lake, we chatted of "lunge" fishing.

"Bill," I asked, "have you seen these schedules of daily feeding times of fish called Solunar Tables?"

Bill spat contemptuously over the gunwale. "I had one of those things a fellow left with me. They're not worth Hell room; I gave it to a man down Toronto way."

"Did you ever use it?"

"No," he admitted. "Too much trouble. I've been fishin' musky over thirty years now. Can't anybody come and tell me when muskY'll bite and when they won't bite. Why, that's my business, knowin' those things and then — Lordamighty—muskies can't tell time."

The next morning I showed up at the float at about eight o'clock. Bill was frankly impatient.

"You should ha' been here about seven," he said. "This way, we get too late a start."

"Never mind, Bill," I told him. "The morning Solunar period isn't due until 10:45. No use starting too early."

"That's all right," he mumbled, "but I want you to get a big one today, so let's forget about the time table and go fishin'."

Although Bill had attached the outboard to the stern of the canoe, he did not use it. Instead, we began fishing about fifty yards from the float.

"Isn't this pretty close to home?" I inquired.

"Sure. That's what everybody thinks, so—nobody fishes it much. Just as good here as anywhere in the lake."

Using the spoon of the night before, we worked our way along the center of the old river channel, casting to the rushes that marked its edge and fishing carefully, but despite our best efforts we saw no sign of fish. Bill worked hard and so did I. Dozens of "hot spots" failed to produce. At about 10:30 Bill pushed the nose of the canoe into a bay that was formed by a sharp curve in the old stream bed.

"We'll try this and the place where we took that 'lunge last night," he said. "Then we'll go down lake."

He had hardly spoken when a fish swung behind the spoon with a broad swirl and disappeared. I recast and the fish swung again, this time farther down and with less interest.

"Rest him," said Bill, "we'll come back after him later."

I cast to the other side of the bay and hardly had the spoon began its journey back to me when it was hit with a wrist-jarring strike.

Bill grunted "'At's a baby!" and headed the canoe for deep water.

The fish proved to be a small one, four or five pounds at best, and we released him. Bill slid the fish into the water. I looked at my watch.

"Bill," I said, "it's 10:50. Solunar period's lure. Now we'll go to town."

In the next hour and fifteen minutes we raised four 'lunge, two of which were hooked, landed, and released. One that came short and would not come again was a much heavier fish than any we landed. After releasing the third I looked at my watch again.

"It's 11:30, Bill," I said. "The good fishing's about over for the morning."

Bill was stubborn. "Maybe so, but we'd better fish awhile longer, anyway."

So fish we did. We combed the other side of the channel on the way back to camp, but nary a 'lunge did we see, although we covered the water thoroughly all the way back to the float.

At 1:30, having had lunch and a short rest, we were in the canoe once more. Bill used the motor this time and we ran two miles down the lake. Meanwhile the sky clouded over and a strong wind whipped the water. When Bill stopped the motor, tiny white-caps danced on the surface of the lake.

The spot he had selected for the afternoon's fishing is a place I'm going to fish again some day before I die. The marshy bank was cut away by the action of the waves, and tall rushes hung out over the water's edge, affording splendid cover. While the water wasn't deep, it was deep enough, as Mr. Musky doesn't care for deep water so long as he has ample depth in which to move about.

Casting into the wind was hard work, and before long my right thumb needed reinforcing with adhesive tape. Bill was having a hard time of it, too, as he put his big shoulders into the job of holding the canoe up into the wind. We stuck with it until a little after four o'clock, when I suggested that a cup of hot tea and a sandwich might not come amiss. Accordingly, we pulled up under the lee of the rushes, made the canoe fast by twisting some rushes about the stays, and leaned back to eat, drink, and relax. While we ate we talked.

The events of the morning must have been on Bill's mind. "Mr. Knight," he said, "do you honestly think that there's anything to that Bolunar business?"

"It certainly looks like it today, doesn't it? Six fish showing and three landed during the morning Bolunar period and not a sign of a fish before or since. That must mean something."

Then I explained to him how the Bolunar theory of the daily positions of moon and sun seemed to be the controlling factors of the feeding habits of fish. The fish in salt water adhere strictly to the schedule, but the cause has always been attributed to the tides. Observations, however, show that the tides are merely the physical manifestation of solar and lunar attraction, and that the real control is not the tides themselves but the cause of the tides.

I explained that the system was not new in any way. The only novelty about it was the scientific charting of the Solunar periods as compared with the older method of loose approximation that had prevailed in the past. Of the Northern tribes of Indians, the Hurons, at least, were familiar with this scheme of fishing and hunting when the moon was "up" or "down," while in the South the Seminoles knew of it and used it. For many generations the natives of Florida and Georgia had been following out the general schedule in both their hunting and fishing.

Bill listened intently as I talked. When I had finished he shoved back his battered cap and scratched his head. Then, without comment, he stowed away the lunch box and cast off from the shore. As he did so I looked at my watch.

"Nearly five, Bill," I said. "Almost Solunar time again. We'd better get busy if we want that big one."

After about ten minutes of casting a 'lunge swung behind the lure, leaving two small whirlpools in his wake.

"Show it to him again," Bill said. He'll grab on next time."

I did, and the cast was rewarded with a heavy strike. The fish proved to be a stubborn fellow, not large but big enough to do as he pleased against my light outfit. Three times I had him almost within reach of Bill's "persuader"—a heavy piece of hickory that he carried in the canoe within easy reach. The fourth time the musky made the mistake of coming within reach. One lusty tap between the eyes and he was my fish.

Not so good, 'said Bill. "About eight pounds."

Just as he spoke, a huge 'lunge hurdled a nearby weed bed in pursuit of a smaller fish, showing his big dorsal fin and tail as he did so. The fin itself looked as big as my hand, and the tail bigger. Bill hastily manoeuvered the canoe into position, and I cast the spoon so it fell approximately in the line of travel the 'lunge had taken. No action. Again I cast, this time farther out into the lake. Still no action.

"Maybe he went back home," Bill suggested. "Try him next to the shore."

I arched the spoon well in under the rushes that overhung the shore line and started the retrieve. Suddenly the lure stopped. I raised the rod and pulled, not sure whether I had a fish or a snag. The pull was answered by a heavy surge against the line and the big musky started down the lake parallel with the shore.

"Give him all the line he wants. If you don't, he'll bust something, sure."

I acknowledged Bill's advice with a nod as the big 'lunge swung away from the shore and ran out into the lake. My light tackle only seemed to make him angry. Certainly it didn't hamper his movements to any marked extent. Then, suddenly, he stopped and sulked for a moment. Evidently deciding that there was little to gain in that direction, he swung about, leaving behind him a swirl as broad as a dining-room table. Then he started back toward his home under the rushes, and as he did so, my line went slack. It's a sickening feeling. One moment I had him, and the next moment I didn't. Sadly, I reeled in my line and lit a cigarette.

"D——n, but that's tough," Bill mourned. "You hooked him on the outside of his mouth and the barbs wouldn't set. When they take from the side like that they strike at the spoon and sometimes overshoot and get hooked outside the mouth in their tough, bony face. You can't set the barbs in solid bone."

Evidently that was exactly what had happened. So long as the musky swam to the right, he was hooked. If he had turned his head away from me he would still have been hooked, but when he turned with his head toward me, he had only to open his mouth and he was free.

We cast doggedly for the next hour, but no more fish showed themselves. At about six-thirty a rain squall came along and we decided to call it a day. As we were breaking out the raincoats shortly before the squall hit, Bill said: "You haven't got an extra one of those Solunar books have you—one that you could spare? I'd kind o' like to follow it for a while and see what happens."

"You can have this one," I told him, taking a Solunar Table from my tackle box. "I've another at camp."

Bill thanked me, crammed the booklet into his hip pocket, started the motor. We had our raincoats on just in time and the trip back to the float was made in a driving rain that blew over just before we arrived at the landing. While I was unloading my gear on to the float, Bill held the canoe steady with one hand while with the other he pulled the Solunar Table out of his pocket. I saw him looking at the lower part of the cover where appeared the words:

Published by J. A. Knight.

Finally he spoke.

"Gee." He looked very much a small boy who had been caught stealing jam. "I didn't know this was your idea or I'd never said the things I did. I hope you're not sore about it."

"Forget it, Bill," I told him. "I've been called names and told things a lot worse than that. Just take it along with you after this so you'll know how to plan your day."

"You bet I will," Bill grinned. "Maybe those 'lunge can tell time after all."

Money Belt Stolen

LINDSAY, Aug. 7.—The village of Bobcaygeon was visited again by thieves Thursday night, and it is thought possible that the hold-up men were the same trio that visited there on Wednesday night and later were chased to Toronto, where they were lost by the city police. Last night three young men drove into Devitt's Service Station and made away with a purse containing $10. The men, in a 1929 sedan, asked to have a tire changed. The attendant, Harold Devitt, removed his money belt and laid it on a table in the garage while he proceeded to change the tire. The men paid for the job and drove away. After they had gone Mr. Devitt missed the money belt.

RICHARD H. BOLIN DIES IN ROCHESTER IN HIS 65TH YEAR

Well Known in Keene District Deceased Spent Vacation There in July.

BORN IN OTONABEE.

The funeral of Richard H. Bolin who was born in Otonabee township took place in Rochester Saturday, July 31. He died Thursday, July 29, at the Elks Club, Rochester, where he had lived for twelve years.

Mr. Bolin was the son of the late John Bolin and Bridget Quinn of Otonabee, and was sixty-five years old. He was well known in the Keene district where he had spent a vacation early in July, and he had also many friends in Peterborough.

"Elks and Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation representatives bowed heads today at funeral services for Richard H. Bolin, 65, prominent Elk for 24 years and foreman of the electric company's motor department.

Mr. Bolin died Thursday at the Elks Club, 113 Clinton Avenue North, his residence for 12 years. He had been an Elk for 20 years, but never held office.

Funeral services were conducted at 7.30 a.m. at the Flannery funeral home, 17 Phelps Avenue, and at 8 a.m. at Sacred Heart Church.

Mass was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. George B. Burns.

T. Edward Freckleton represented a delegation of Elks.

Surviving are two sons, Richard A. and William M. Bolin; two sisters, Mrs. John Gartland of Rochester and Mrs. John Doherty of Keene, Ont., and two brothers, Hugh of St. Louis, Mo., and Frank of Saskatoon."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 8

Sunday's horoscope is a very important one, judging by the prevailing lunar influences. These seem to have a radical and revolutionary effect on the affairs, inciting to sudden, abrupt and wholly unforeseen and unpredictable denouements.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of the unusual, surprising and abrupt, which may have a far-reaching effect on the life and its destinies.

A child born on this day may be talented and versatile to the possible degree of genius, which may win it renown, travel, adventure and romance.

For Monday, August 9

Monday's astrological forecast is for much enterprise and achievement, with goals of cherished ambitions reaching gratifying fulfillments. And despite some setbacks, anxieties and difficulties, it is a time for expansion and attainment, where shrewdness, acumen, constructive efforts and practical plans are assured indorsement of those in high places.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a year of outstanding progress, prosperity and achievement despite some unsettling, disturbing and distressing moments, the latter possibly due to a bereavement or anxiety about an elderly woman.

A child born on this day may be progressive, ambitious and capable, and at the same time have noble, generous and kindly sentiments. It should attain great popularity and prestige, winning particular preferment from its elders, largely because of its cheerful, helpful and lovely disposition.

AN UNUSUAL CASE.

Indian Lacrosse Player Met Death in Most Unusual Way.

LONDON, Aug. 7—(CP Cable)—A Lance Isaacs, Indian lacrosse player, who collapsed during a game here July 23 between Brampton Excelsiors and Toronto Marlboros, died as a result of a blow "delivered or received from causes unknown," a coroner's jury decided last night.

Reporting on the findings of an autopsy, Dr. W. L. Robinson said he had "never seen a case like it." Isaacs, he testified, had apparently received a blow from a sharp object on the chest at the moment when his heart contracted during breathing as the lower tip of it pounded against the chest wall between the ribs. The blow ruptured the coronary artery, Dr. Robinson said.

Sparks from the Preacher's Anvil

For a guilty sinner (and such we are, if we listen to the dictates of our consciences and the Word of God) what could be more essential to peace of mind for this life and hope for the next than forgiveness? But from an holy God, against Whom we have sinned, this cannot be secured arbitrarily. God could not deal with sin capriciously and remain righteous. There must needs be a just ground of forgiveness. The Scriptures state without equivocation how forgiveness can be secured and how the guilty one can know without doubt a complete and personal release from a condemned conscience. For this human merit and mediums are insufficient and mere church connections fall far short. A sacrifice of death is needed to meet the Broken Law. So "without the shedding of blood there can be no forgiveness." The good news is that God in Christ Jesus became on Calvary (the place of judgment, punishment, and death) the sinner's substitute and Saviour. The only reason for the pouring forth of the life blood of the Son of God was that man might be forgiven. There is redemption through His blood, even the forgiveness of sins. Forgiveness cannot be worked, for it is offered as a gift, even to the vilest offender. When the sinner receives this gift, God receives him. The rejection of this Calvary offer is the highest sin of the ages, the one for which man receives eternal damnation. Receive the Gospel, Rest in the Gospel, that peace and pardon may be yours.

JULY'S RELIEF BILL CUT IN OVER HALF OVER A YEAR AGO

209 Families Cost the City $4,745.99 in Relief During the Past Month.

$25,395 ALREADY SPENT.

Peterborough's relief bill for July was $4,745.99 as compared with $9,768.29 for the corresponding month a year ago, a reduction of $5,022.29, or slightly more than 50 per cent.

At the same time the number of families on relief was 209 as against 388 a year ago, a reduction of 179 families; and the total number of persons was 883, or 838 less than the total of 1,721 in July 1936. The number of single men was 23 in July as compared with 29 a year ago, a reduction of six, but there were three more single women, the number being 37.

Cost of maintaining indigent patients at the two hospitals was slightly higher last month than in July 1936, but hospitalization expenses for seven months shows a decrease of $1,382.16 from the amount for the same period last year.

In the general relief bill provisions were down from $5,907.56 in July 1936 to $2,856.94 last month, a reduction of $3,050.62 in that item alone. All the other expenses were less last month, rent bills declining from $2,089.50 to $940.62.

Total relief expenditure for the last seven months was $69,349.95, and the rebate from the government, including approximate amount for July was $43,954.78, leaving $25,395.78 to be paid out of the city treasury.

The council appropriated for relief this year the sum of $56,000, and the amount already spent is $25,395.17, leaving $30,604.83 for the remaining five months.

July's relief bill of $4,745.99 was the lowest for the middle month of summer since 1932, virtually the beginning of Peterborough's relief disbursements, the largest outlay being in July 1935 when it amounted to $13,764.10.

The members present at the meeting of the relief committee Friday evening at which A. G. Metheral's report was read were Alderman Dutton, chairman, Mayor Macdonald and Aldermen Wilson, Hamilton, Stocker, Glover and Juby.

In anticipating a shortage of houses later in the year it was suggested that possibly some families who had come from adjoining townships could be sent back to those municipalities to occupy available houses. It was felt that they might prefer to live in the country, and also that satisfactory arrangements could be made with the authorities in the outlying municipalities.

TOKYO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Japan prepares for war with China. Shimezo Maho, a prominent merchant, committed suicide so the government might have his $3,000 life insurance to carry on hostilities in North China. Before casting himself into the sea from the suicide island of Oshima, Maho left a note saying he was unable to serve at the front because of physical disability and he was sacrificing his life to assist financially.

Miss Rita Sullivan and Miss Ann Schiarizza have an office in the suite of G. N. The Committee desires to provide for all needy cases and any person who can obtain employment on farms or other occupations will not be assisted.

"In fierce storms, said an old seaman, "we must do one thing; there is only one way: we must put the ship in a certain position and keep her there." This is what we, as Christians must always do. We must put our soul to one position and keep it there. Let us put our confidence in the Lord Jesus Christ, for He will not fail us and will bring us safely to our destination. 'Abide in Him." Napanee Advances Closer To C.O.B.L. Play-Off Berth

JAMIESON'S FIRST LOSS.

KINGSTON, Aug. 7.—(CP).—Napanee Gibbards advanced a step closer to a playoff berth in the Central Ontario Baseball League here Friday evening when they scored a 6 to 1 victory over the league-leading Kingston Ponies. The defeat dropped Kingston into a virtual tie with Oshawa for first place in the standing.

Tommy Pointer, tall southpaw of the Gibbards pitched a smart game to register his first win of the season over the Ponies. At the same time Yammy Jamieson, after winning six straight games, suffered his first defeat of the season.

FELLER GETS STEADY WORK

Bob No Longer Sunday Pitcher But Fears 'Bean Ball.'

ILLNESS IMAGINARY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—(AP).—Bob Feller no longer is a bird in a gilded cage. By order of Club President Alva Bradley, the Iowa schoolboy will cease being a Sunday pitcher and take his turn on the hill for the Cleveland Indians every fifth day. Feller still claims his arm is a bit lame, but Manager Steve O'Neill figures the lameness is mostly imaginary.

Feller admits his 'beaning" of Hank Leiber, New York Giant outfielder, last spring, has worried him considerably.

'I hit Hank with a slow curve ball and am worried over what might happen if one of my fast ones beaned someone,' he said today as he warmed up for a try at the Yankees.

Cleveland baseball writers believe Manager O'Neill may yet save his job. They denote a new wave of sympathy for a man who must manage the Indians, who seem cracking up all around.

Feller's worry about beaning batters is one of the causes for the bumper crop of homers, thinks Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox. "The only way to beat a hitter is to pitch 'em in close," says Jimmy. 'I don't mean to say a pitcher should deliberately bean a batter, but he should keep him away from the plate. But after the recent bean ball epidemic everyone is afraid to pitch 'em close."

Marylebones Down First Day's Play

TORONTO, August 7 — (C.P.). — The touring Marylebone Cricket Club team went into the second day's play of the two-day match against Hon. R. C. Matthews' Canadian Eleven needing 282 runs to pass the home team's first-innings total. Batting nearly all day the Canadians hit up 288 runs yesterday; the visitors replying with seven for one wicket before bad light stopped play.

To-day's play marked the end of the M.C.C.'s visit in Central Ontario. Tomorrow the team leaves for Winnipeg and will not appear in the province again until near the end of the month, when a match is scheduled against an Ottawa Valley Eleven.

SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS

Second game of the men's final playoff series—to declare an O.A.S.A. team—will be played Monday night at Central between Westclox and Motorists. A round-robin series contest will be staged here Tuesday between Young Petes and Omemee, a replay of their previous tie game.

TOP TOSSERS In the Majors

CY BLANTON

Although they use opposite wings in tossing the ball to the plate, Darrell Elijah (Cy) Blanton, the Pittsburg Pirates' ace pitcher, and Carl Hubbell, Giants' ace, are tops among screwball pitchers in the majors.

Elijah, like Hubbell, is an Oklahoman, (born in Waurika), and known particularly for his strikeout ability. Whiffing batters has been his forte ever since he was in the minors and today he keeps it up, at the same time piling up victories to take a place among pitching stars of the season.

Cy's screwball also is called a sinker. His pitching arm follows a straight overhand motion. He has loads of speed.

Cy's strikeout artistry in his semi-pro days gave him his chance in the pro field. In 1929, in semi-pro games in Texas, he pitched four no-hit games and in one of them fanned 23 batters!

Cardinal scouts signed him. He was sent to Shawnee and there won 12 games. Until 1934, when Pittsburg purchased him from Albany of the International League, Cy travelled around the minors pitching great ball.

In the International League, where he won 11 games while losing eight for Albany, Cy led the loop in strikeouts. In successive appearances on the mound Cy struck out 20, 19 and 18 batters per game.

Cy won 13 and lost 15 last season. He struck out 127 batters. He won nine games this season and his strikeout ball is still working.

He is one-half inch under six feet and weighs 180 pounds. He his curly hair. He gives Guy Bush, Pirate pitcher, much of the credit for his development as a pitcher in the majors.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(CP Cable)—Middlesex remained at the top of the 1st-class county cricket standings Friday pulling out a win over Somerset by an innings and 113 runs.

Lancashire, Nottinghamshire, Glamorgan, Surrey and Yorkshire were other winners, while Derby won on first innings only over Northamptonshire, and the match between Warwickshire and the touring New Zealanders was drawn.

Warkworth Quartet Wins At Hastings

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 7.—Ten rinks took part in the open mixed bowling tournament in the sweltering heat of 100 degrees in the sun at the local green on Friday afternoon. Towards evening the temperature cooled down some to make it considerably more pleasant for the bowlers. Rinks were present from: Warkworth, Brighton, Madoc, Norwood, Havelock and the local club. The tournament was run on the system of three twelve end games played and the winners were decided by the most games won and the high score.

O. Phillips of Warkworth was winner of first prize with three games and a total of 56 points. O. Sharpe of Brighton was second with three games and 50 points. Third prize went to H. Matheson of Havelock with 2 games and 41 points. Fourth winner was J. Watson of Madoc with 2 games and 41 points. Harry Dodd, the lone local winner, was fifth with 1 game and 38 points.

COBOURG LOSES TO KEENE TEAM

Keenesters Cop 4-3 Decision to Qualify For Softball Sectional Playoffs.

LOSERS ELIMINATED.

Keene beat Cobourg, 4-3, at the Bowl last night to qualify for the second-half playoffs in the Girls' Softball League. They will now meet Westclox in sectional playoffs, probably starting Monday, while the loss eliminates the Cobourgites. The latter and Keene had previously been tied for second place in the standing, and the sudden-death game was ordered played last evening here. A big crowd saw a classy contest.

B. McDowell allowed only six hits while fanning three and walking one in a good mound performance. She had fair support from her teammates. R. Slater also twirled nice ball to scatter 10 hits as she struck out one and walked none. Her support was shaky in spots. Keene got two runs in the third frame, added one in the sixth and scored the winner in the seventh. Cobourg counted twice in the third and once in the fifth. Buddy Rowden was thrown out in the ninth trying to stretch a single to retire the side.

W. Hoskin, B. Rowden, M. Belle and M. Miller all looked smart defensively. W. Hoskin had a double and single for Cobourg while B. Rowden and M. Perrin hit two singles each. For Keene, D. Darling had three hits, and H. Nelson and D. Cocks two apiece. The teams:

Keene: H. Nelson, ss; M. Belle, 2b; D. Cocks, c; B. McDowell, p; Irene Short, 1b; T. Mills, cf; M. Miller, lf; I. Short, 3b; D. Darling, rf.

CHURCH PLAYOFFS SET FOR AUG. 25

Janetville District Softball League Popular Among the Fans.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

JANETVILLE, Aug. 7.—A church softball league has been formed among the neighbouring churches including Yelverton United Church, Fleetwood United Church and Janetville Presbyterian and the United churches.

Four games have been played. The local United Church won from Yelverton, at Yelverton. the local Presbyterians were successful at Fleetwood and on Thursday evening Fleetwood and Yelverton scored a tie 6-6 at Yelverton.

The same evening the two local churches played in the community park here and it was anybody's game until the very last minute when the United Church managed to pile up another run, making it their victory to the tune of 5-4.

The line-up:

Presbyterians—N. McNeil, c; J. Jackett, G. McGill, p; J. Walker, 1b; R. Carson 2b; R. Walker, 3b; J. McNeil, rf; R. Deyell, lf; F. McNeil, c.

United Church—Roy Crawford, c; L. Hall, p; G. McGill, 1b; P. Hamilton, 2b; C. Howe, 3b; H. Bradburn, rf; J. Bradburn, lf; C. Bradburn, c.

The playoffs will be a special feature at the Orangemen's Field Day here on August 25th.

OUTLAWS GAINING ON TOP TANNERS

Second Place Club Hands Clerks 9-8 Setback in Hastings League.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, August 7.—The Outlaws advanced to within one game of Tanners last night (Friday) when they handed the Clerks a close 9 to 8 setback.

The Outlaws scored 4 runs in the third innings on 5 hits and a walk. They scored another four in the fifth on four hits and an error and they chased the winning run across in the sixth when Ponds singled, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored on a passed ball.

The Clerks scored their first in the third on two hits and two walks. They scored two more in the fifth on a hit and two errors. A big five run rally in the sixth on four singles. "Spook" Scriver's double and an error tied it up for the Clerks only to have them lose out when the Outlaws shoved over the odd one in the sixth.

McKee on the mound for the Outlaws gave the Clerks 10 hits while he struck out three and walked three. G. Gibson for the Clerks allowed the same number of hits while striking out four and walking one.

The teams:

Clerks—L. Gibson, lf, c; J. Gibson, c,lf, Stevenson, 3b; L. Scriver, ss; Crate, 2b; G. Gibson, p; Whitred, cf; Wilson, 1b; Tape, rf; Herrington, 1b.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

WELL, as the lady said while taking the hair-brush to her erring offspring, there are two sides to everything. And so we will deal with some agonized yelps from Cobourg. Ernie Foote is sports editor there and also manages the gals' softball team. He writes a tale of woe this week. First of all he hollers that Cobourg has had to put up all season with two Peterborough umpires. But he knew this was the plan at the organization meeting this Spring and agreed to it. Twice through the season, he was asked if he wanted one Cobourg umpire for games in the Lakeshore town but he said he was satisfied with Umps Batley and Bennett. Recently, with his squad not going so well in the second half, he has been demanding a change and thinks other umps should be injected into the playoffs. But the loop moguls and the other teams in the circuit are satisfied and will make no changes at this late date.

* * * * * *

ANOTHER kick concerns Ernie's request some time ago to postpone a game since the juniors were playing there that e'en. It was refused as not being an important enough reason. Despite our scribbling pal's intimation to the contrary, other clubs have also been refused postponements, Omemee even being forced to default a game to Cobourg—which if the O's had played and won it, would have kept Cobourg out of second-half playoffs. As for the other clubs "refusing to play any more games in Cobourg this season," that was understood early this Spring. All playoffs were to be here, except the finals—and they will be home and home. In fact, Westclox conceded something to Cobourg when they played a first-half playoff game in Cobourg, though not being required to do so.

* * * * * *

THIS item is an example of the Cobourg manager's odd plaint: "President Ev. Thomas also informs us that should Omemee lose to Keene in the one game left to play, or forfeit it, Cobourg will be tied with Keene for second place, and ordered a sudden-death game to be played in Peterborough, the winner to meet Westclox for the second-half championship. If the Cobourg club isn't satisfied with the arrangement it can drop out." Come, come, now Ernie, let's be reasonable. Take a look at the standing and you will see that such an arrangement is perfectly fair—it couldn't possibly be figured any other way. Omemee did lose and so Cobourg was tied with Keene. So they played last night here to settle second place. What did you want the prexy to do—tell Keene to kindly drop out and let Cobourg waltz into playoffs?

* * * * * *

SO, summing it all up, Cobourg hasn't a real kick at all this year. They've been treated as well as, if not better than, any other club in the league. They have a good team and we were glad to have 'em in the loop; but they must not look for any gifts. The umping has been okay and apparently satisfied the Lakeshore lasses in the first half, when they were winning. As a matter of fact, the Cobourg fans are far more hostile than those here or in Keene or Omemee. Ask Manager Ab Delahaye of Westclox, who was choked quite strenuously by a half-baked rooter in Cobourg recently! Lots of keen rivalry is what we like—and we like Ernie's scrappy spirit—but let's be fair about things. President Ev. Thomas and his cohorts have been efficient and impartial all season in their handling of league matters.

* * * * * *

MOST playoff series in sports these days are screwier than six corkscrews. It all started with the N.H.L. system and, since fans went for it in a big way—despite jeers from sports writers—they have spread all over. For instance in men's softball here this summer, the present round-robin playoff system puts four of the five teams in the money serial. Seems the loop ran all season to eliminate the Barons, who dropped out at the last, anyway! The C.O.B.L. sees four teams playing a heavy 24-game schedule over three months just to eliminate one team from playoffs! And the lacrosse setup appears to be aiming to include every club in the playoffs! Well, if the customers crave playoffs, they'll sure get 'em around here.

* * * * * *

TONIGHT is the last evening for entries to be accepted for the local and district tennis championships, which commence on Monday. Anyone interested is invited to get busy at once and put in his or her entry. Give it to Max Cotton, Don Emery or Claire Sullivan. Matches will be played on the courts of the Peterborough, Kawartha and Quaker Clubs, all events being staged in singles and doubles. So far, we understand, a good entry list is in but the more the merrier in this big over-the-twine tourney. City champs will be declared via the elimination route in each event. Max Cotton took the men's singles last year and Vi Davidson won the ladies' singles. We can't recall the doubles champions. Some fine net play may be looked for on these courts all next week.

* * * * * *

NORWOOD put up a stiff battle before being rubbed out by Auburns, 13-8, in their lacrosse clash here last e'en. A goodly gathering of fans saw the lads swelter away in a tussle that was hardly worth telegraphing home about. It was a fair sort of struggle but draggy in spots. Quite even in the first quarter and again in the third and fourth. But Auburns piled up a safe lead in a big second inning. If they would just a pare a few counters—which they don't need—to the Petes' ball team, which decidedly needs a flock, all would be okay. A sort of Share-Your-Wealth plan, eh? It was the 12th C.O.L.A. win for Auburns, plus three out of four exhibition matches. Quite an impressive victory string.

* * * * * *

PRETTY nearly everybody on the local lineup was in on the scoring and there were no outstanding players. But Buster Whitton looked about the most consistent. The scrappy Norwoodians kept battling away and were never much out of the hunt. They all looked okay. Several Marmora lads were added to their squad for this game. Emmett Creighton was in action, though we had previously been informed he would be unable to play. There was one tidy fist fight between Red Dallin and Edmunds, and later a brief flurry between a couple of other dudes. But mostly it was a clean contest.

LOCAL BOWLERS HOLD NEILL CUP

CLOSE TRUNDLING.

LINDSAY, Aug. 7.—Peterborough lawn bowlers retained the Neill Cup, emblematic of interclub championship with the Lindsay Community Club when they defeated two rinks of local trundlers here last night by seven shots. Art Williams's Lindsay quartette won their game from H. Northrop's Peterborough four, but this was not sufficient to overcome the 11-point lead which J. French's rink gained over the four skipped by H. Norton. Rinks and scores:

CUBS TAKE PAIR FROM BOSTON B'S

Nationals Pound Out Thirty Base Hits During Afternoon's Doubleheader.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—The Chicago Cubs added a half-game to their National League lead when they took both ends of a double-header from the Boston Bees. They outslugged the McKechnie men 12 to 6 in the opener, then trounced them 6 to 2 behind Parmalee's five-hit pitching in the nightcap. The Cubs rapped four pitchers for 18 hits in the first game, with Demaree Hartnett and Hack contributing circuit blows.

Giants Win 6-3

The New York Giants won 6 to 3 over the Pittsburg Pirates as Carl Hubbell, scattered nine hits for his 15th victory of the year. The Giants got to Lucas for 13, Jimmy Ripple setting the pace with two doubles and a single. The Giants put together three hits and a brace of errors for four runs in the eighth to win.

Spotting the Philadelphia Phillies a seven-run lead, the St. Louis Cards came back to take a 10 to 7 decision. After scoring two runs in the third, the Cards knotted the count with a five-run assault in the fourth, and clinched it with three more in the sixth, when Mize walked, Terry Moore and Medwick doubled, and Padgett singled.

450 Sharpshooters Prepare For Event

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—More than 450 sharpshooters, schooled in all shooting angles, turned their rifles here to-day for an attack along a half-mile front Monday at the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

Until next Saturday the marksmen, gathered from all parts of the Dominion, will match their shooting skill for major prize awards and a berth on the 1938 Bisley team. The meet ends with the shooting of the Governor General's match, feature event of the six-day meet.

Yesterday's Stars

(By the Associated Press)

Pinky Higgins, Red Sox — Hit two homers and single, driving in four runs to beat White Sox 7-3.

Carl Hubbell, Giants—Allowed Pirates nine hits for 6-3 win, and singled to drive in run in winning rally.

Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—Gehrig's homer in ninth tied score and DiMaggio's two-run double in 10th whipped Indians 7-6.

Nick Ryba, Cardinals—Pitched shutout ball in 6 2-3 inning relief trick, and hit three singles, driving in two runs, in 10-7 win over Phillies.

Charley Oehringer, Tigers — Drove in four runs with double and two singles in 10-3 win over Senators.

INTERNATIONAL RUGBY DATES

CARDIFF, Wales—(CP).—At the annual meeting of the Welsh Rugby Union it was decided to play the international match with England next season at Cardiff, January 15, and the game with Ireland at Swansea, March 12.

Hockey Veteran, Eddie Gerard Succumbs To Throat Ailment

Gerard Passes

EDDIE GERARD

Famous defense star of the National Hockey League with Ottawa and manager of Montreal Maroons in 1926 when they won the championship, who died of a throat ailment early today.

N.H.L. Defense Star and Manager of Other Years Passes at 47.

HELD LEAGUE RECORD.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (CP) — Eddie Gerard, who skated to victory with four Stanley Cup teams in the National Hockey League, died early today.

The once-great defenceman, pilot of a championship team when his days on the ice were over, yielded to a throat ailment that blocked his breath. He was 47 years of age.

For three years, the veteran Ottawan had been away from the sport that once called him one of its greatest stars. Hockey knew him last as a pilot of the ill-starred St. Louis Eagles after he had managed Montreal Maroons into the cup title.

But it was as an iron man of hockey's rough and rugged days that Gerard gained his greatest renown. A power on the rear-guard, he was a scintillating figure in the days of Bendict, the Cleghorns and the Bouchers.

A product of the public school rinks in Ottawa's Edinburgh, district, Gerard first rode through to the Stanley Cup with the capital city club of 1920 and 1921. His battering-ram defensive work and his ability as a forward played a big role in carrying the Ottawans to the cup.

Next year, Toronto's finalist team ran up against trouble in the playoffs with Vancouver. Riddled by injuries, the eastern representatives needed someone to fill the gap. They got permission to use Gerard, and then shoved the Westerners out of the running.

An N.H.L. Record

Back with Ottawa the next year, Gerard again saw his team march to the N.H.L. championship. Thus, he became the only player before or since to play with four consecutive Stanley Cup winners.

After that 1923 title, the doctors told Gerard his throat condition had washed him up as a player. He took up the coaching and Cecil Hart promptly made him coach of the Montreal Maroons.

When Hart left to manage Montreal Canadiens, Gerard took over the managership and the Big Red team rolled to a cup championship in 1926. From Maroons, then, he went to the New York Americans for two years and then he went back to the Montrealers.

Under him there developed the powerhouse "S Line" of Babe Siebert, Nels Stewart and Hooley Smith. The methodical Gerard helped mold them in the hard-hitting tradition of his own Ottawa days.

Gerard was something more than a hockey player in his long career of sport. He was a noted footballer, an outstanding paddler, and he played baseball and cricket above the average.

Inside Sportin' Dope

BY A. WISE CRACKER

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well Mac, I aint had nothing particularly against that Oshawa ball club—that is up to last Wed. Right now I feel like climbing all over the same owing to them transferring a game here that should oughta been played in Oshawa and then the danged thing blowing right up in our face. The Motors licked our lads, with a lotta help thrown in by the lads, 15 to 4 and I for 1 wished the thing had been staged on the Oshawa diamond for believe you me, Mac, that is the kinda game I'd rather read about than look at.

The Soarest Yet

I've seen a lotta messy baseball but that twilight affair was about the sourest display I kin think of at the moment of writing. The home talent just naturally fell to pieces before the 1st frame was finished. Our Mister Kitchen didn't seem to have much stuff and behind him the infield performed like it was the 1st workout of the season. The Motors bagged 5 in the 1st and not 1 of them was earned and they come back with 2 in the 2nd and a big 6 in the 3rd which seen Mister Kitchen out and Mister Whitehill in—and out. The Gunner went in there like a guy what expected to have his ears pinned back and he wasn't disappointed. Finally Mister Calladine had to be called in from 3rd base to stop the riot and he put the breaks on the Oshawa attack fairly effectively for the rest of the game.

Tossing Them High

The Oshawa fielding wasn't any better than that of the Petes and between the 2 outfits they tossed more wild throws around than any of the fans could remember seeing in 1 contest but Oshawa's mistakes didn't do much harm for the Petes couldn't do a great deal against the offerings of Mister Turner while on the other hand the Motor gang was swinging their war clubs with a vengeance. It was a screwy ball game all the way and everybody was glad when it was over.

Sixth in a Row

It was the 6th loss in a row for the home talent and as a result they has got theirselves in a place where they better go out and trim this Napanee outfit twice or start looking for some moth balls to store their monkey suits away for the winter. They played good ball against Oshawa in Cobourg last Sat. and wasted a 3-hit game by Mister Jackafby in Kingston Mon. and all they got outa both was 2 losses so that their record with Oshawa reads 2 wins as against 6 defeats while against Kingstone the Petes has lost all 7 games played which is sub-par for the course.

Can Get There Yet

The lads can still get in there if they put some fight and hustle in the remaining games. They're a better ball club than the actual standing shows and they gotta lot brakes coming to them on the run of bad luck they been having all seasons.

It's too early to toss in the sponge and get out the crying towels and I for 1 will be sadly disappointed if the gang doesn't snap outa their slump in time to make sure of a playoff berth.

Well old-timer, they aint much else. Them Yanks is home-running themselves into the American League pennant but right now the Giants, the other end of the Wisecracker yearly double, aint going so hot. However the Cubs has skidded before and they kin do it again.

Sportfully yours,
A WISE CRACKER.

BILL PEDLAR WINS HONORS

Vancouver Netter Captures Southern Ontario Junior Title.

AT HAMILTON CITY.

HAMILTON, Aug. 7—(CP).—Bill Pedlar of Vancouver, Canadian men's junior tennis champion, added another title to his list yesterday when he won the Southern Ontario junior title by defeating Gordon Sullivan, Hamilton City champion, 6-0, 6-3, in the final.

Walter Senior, Californian, who recently won the Canadian senior singles title, will meet Gordon Robinson of Niagara Falls, Ont., in the senior Southern Ontario final today.

The rangy player from San Francisco defeated John Forman of Chicago, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0, in one semi-final yesterday, while Robinson was eliminating Joe O'Hara of Ottawa, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

FACE TOUGH MATCH

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—(CP)—The hardest match of their Canadian tour faced the Marylebone Cricket club eleven here today on the morrow of their first victory after three draws. The English cricketers embarked today upon a two-day match with Hon. R. C. Matthews's Canadian eleven. Yesterday at Waterloo they defeated a Western Ontario eleven by four wickets.

Auburns Beat Norwood In Lacrosse Fixture

Locals Take 13-8 Decision to Continue Unbeaten C.O.L.A. String.

ONLY FAIR TILT.

Auburns won their 12th straight C.O.L.A. game here last night before 600 fans when they nudged out a 13-8 nod over Norwood. It was a loosely-played fixture most of the way with the scrappy Norwoodians keeping the locals jumping to keep in front a good part of the fray. Auburns were below form and frequently looked sad on passing and shooting.

The visitors took an early 2-0 lead, which was tied at the end of the first quarter. Auburns had a 5-0 scoring edge in the second heat but could only outscore their rivals by 5 to 4 in the third. Norwood had a 2-1 margin in the final frame. Play was not too fast, and fairly clean though twice, fights, broke out through close-checking. There were no outstanding stars.

NORWOOD STARTS IT.

Hunter scored early for the villagers on a pass from Chuck Puffer. Rathwell got another one shortly when he circled the net on a neat try. Auburns looked sloppy in this quarter. Rathwell was gated for slashing and later King scored twice, one on Dallin's pass and once aided by Dundas. The homesters clicked better in the second quarter to get five and hold Norwood scoreless. Crowe got the first on Vitarelli's assist. King passed to Whitton for a nice one and then the latter raced through to sink one, and Robers had to go off temporarily for repairs. Whitton got the last one on Dundas' pass.

The third stanza saw Auburns first sweep through for five goals and then Norwood get going and collect four. Magee tallied twice, once on a pass from Vitarelli. Crowe counted on a pass from Magee and then Anderson took Miller's toss to bulge the twine. Crowe got another aided by Whitton. Baker started it for Norwood with two goals, one on C. Puffer's pass. Whitton got the finger for charging and C. Puffer scored, followed shortly by Smith. Dallin and Edmunds drew major penalties for fighting as the quarter closed. Smith went off for cross-checking early in the fourth, a frame which saw play slow up to a walk with close checking. Whitton got the only local goal on Miller's assist. Richardson scored once for Norwood and G. Puffer took a pass at midfield from Rogers to wind it up. A minor fight broke out but no damage was done and no penalties passed out.

The teams:

Norwood: Goal, Rogers; defence, Rathwell and Smith; centre, C. Puffer; wings, G. Puffer and Hunter; rover, Baker; alternates, Godin, Edmunds, Richardson and Scott.

Auburns: Goal, Meyette; defence, Miller and Sloan; centre, Dundas; wings, King and Dallin; rover, Whitton; alternates, Magee, Crowe, E. Creighton, G. Creighton, Vitarelli, Cadd and Anderson.

Referee—R. Ennis.

LEAFS BEATEN BY BALTIMORE

Howleyites Held to 5 Hits as Vandenburg Scores 6-1 Triumph.

ROYALS SLIPPING.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—(CP).—Rabbit Maranville's Montreal Royals are picking the wrong time to go into a tailspin.

If the second place Montrealers, only other team besides the league-leading Newark Bears to keep consistently above the .500 mark, keep on skidding they're apt to find themselves in the midst of the battle royal now raging for International League playoff berths.

Royals have dropped their last four games, three of them to Baltimore Orioles, who knicked them slightly punch-drunk with a 32-run barrage, and are now only seven games in front of the seventh place Birds.

Jersey City, only club just playing out its schedule, handed Royals their fourth straight loss yesterday, as the veteran Leo Mangum handcuffed them with three hits and gained a 4-1 decision.

My Dandenberg, suspended by the Baltimore management the past few days, came out of the "doghouse" to pitch the Orioles to their fifth consecutive victory with a five-hit effort against Toronto Leafs. Orioles won 6-1, belting Johnny Wilson for nine hits.

Rochester Red Wings stopped the red-hot Bears 4-3 in the second game of a night doubleheader after Bruins had won the first game 8-6 and ran their victory string to eight. The Buffalo-Syracuse double-header was rained out.

BOSTON RED SOX GAINS 10TH WIN

But Fail to Advance in American Race as Yankees Win 7-6.

GEHRIG ADDS TO LIST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Boston Red Sox scored their tenth straight victory yesterday, beating the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 4, but failed to gain in the American League race as New York Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians.

Pinky Higgins hit two homers, accounting for four runs, to lead the Red Sox to victory. Jack Wilson, hurling tight ball in the pinches, distributed eleven hits to the Chicagos.

The Yanks were extended to ten innings to lick the Tribe, 7 to 6. Young Bob Feller was breezing along on a 5 to 2 lead going into the last half of the ninth, but Rolfe tripled to drive in one run, then Lou Gehrig clouted his 26th homer to tie the score. Hal Trosky hit his second home run in the tenth to put Cleveland back ahead, but Hoag opened the Yanks' half with a single and Feller was replaced by Heving. Pinch-hitter Jack Saltzgaver also singled, then Joe DiMaggio, who had beaten Feller with a ninth inning homer the last time he faced New York, smacked a two-bagger to left scoring Hoag and Saltzgaver with the tying and winning runs. Feller fanned 12, and responsibility for the loss fell upon Heving; Murphy, who hurled only a half-inning, was credited with the win.

Tigers Win 10-3

The Detroit Tigers sunk the Washington Senators, 10 to 3, under a 16-hit attack, while Jake Wade scattered nine safeties. Walker and Gehringer, with three hits each, paced the attack, and Rudy York got a homer.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES
By Alex Morrison

The Southport and Ainsdale Links was the scene of the 1937 Ryder Cup matches. A description of the course written by an English golfer brings to mind an old English custom. They have a habit of referring to holes by names.

For instance, the second hole is called The Terrace; the ninth, Old Dog Leg; another is called Gumbley's, and the seventeenth Ainsdale. Amusing as this custom may seem to North Americans it has a decided value. The British are out to maintain the spirit of adventure which is one of the game's great attractions and the names given to the various holes are chosen with a view to conveying some description of the layout and something the player can look forward to when he comes to playing the hole.

The custom was followed to some extent in United States in years gone by. I can remember when the tee boxes on some of the old courses carried names of the holes, likewise the score cards were printed with such names as the Grand Canyon hole. In those days players wore bright-colored and striped jackets called blazers.

To-day the experts are interested mainly in the length of the hole, but I do think that even a partial description of the hole indicated by a name would be helpful both in playing the hole as well as in talking about it.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Now a famous couturier in Paris, on a visit back to America, Mari Barat looks back six years.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 2

Mary Barrett tucked her curls securely under her beret, clutched her unwieldy portfolio more tightly under her arm and savored the excitement that rippled through her that February night.

Her foot was on the first rung of the ladder. Under her arm were the completed sketches of six frocks—her first commission as a designer for an obscure dress manufacturer. These were to be delivered the next morning.

She had worked late on them. A clock struck 10 times as she rounded the corner of Fifth avenue and turned west into Fifty-seventh street. She pushed her way against the cold, relentless driving rain, not feeling it particularly, or the wind that whipped her voluminous polo coat against her shapely legs. She braved them to lend tangibility to her thoughts. She wanted to see the physical shape of the smart shops which were counterpart to the one in her dream on which one day would appear her name.

Mary Barrett had never possessed or purchased anything from Tony Castle's. Not for her were the $300 or $400 gowns, the $50 hats. There were no French labels in her wardrobe.

The satin curtains were draped and drawn back in the Castle window before which the girl, a solitary gazer on that rain-swept street, stood. Within, a mink coat was carelessly folded over an Empire chair. On the single form was a print gown. The kind of little thing you'd think you could pick up for a song if you didn't know it was a Paris original.

Then she stepped back to survey the effect.

"Very nice."

Turning coolly and quickly, she saw that the eyes belonging to the voice were traveling swiftly and very completely over her.

Muttering, "Masher!" she turned crisply on her heel. But not before she noted—with no pleasure whatsoever—that the rest of him was darkly handsome, expensively tailored and late thirty-ish. A cinematic version of the man-about-town, she thought, unimpressed.

Her retreating heels tapped angrily on the sidewalk. As angrily as is possible when a girl is trying to muster her dignity while the wind whips her skirts above her knees. Mary clutched at hers.

The wind and her skirts got beyond her control and her portfolio caught in a gust, flew out of her arms. The tapes released, the sketches scattered and skittered over the wet sidewalk.

She clutched, grabbed, snatched at them as they blew.....

She was on her knees to capture the last of them when a well-shod foot was planted firmly on the precious sheet.

Speechless with dismay and gathering fury, she saw her recent annoyer pick it up. Still speechless, she took it from him.

Hot, angry tears sprang to her eyes as they settled on the mark of that footprint.

"You beast! Look what you've done!"

"You're an ungrateful brat!" He returned amiably. "And I ought not let this chivalry go any farther, but I will. Come along and I'll fix these up so that you'll hardly know the difference."

Mary, too surprised to protest other than feebly, followed him when he led the way back to Tony Castle's shop and let them in through the bronze doors, on through the richly carpeted, perfumed salons into the office at the back.

She sat quietly thoughtful while he rubbed, pressed and repaired with artist's tools.

"It's awfully nice of you to do this," she said hesitantly.

"A pleasure," he answered politely.

"It was really your fault."

"Really?" he repeated disinterestedly. He went on carefully outlining a blurred line.

"Certainly it was! If you hadn't tried to pick me up, I wouldn't have hurried and lost control of my portfolio.

"Better that than your morals," he contributed cheerfully.

"My morals were in no danger," she retorted coldly.

"Quite right! They were not. I wasn't trying to pick you up. I thought the name Mari Barat very fetching. Is that your name?"

"In a way," she said, mollified. "That's the way it sounds, anyway. Someday when I'm a famous couturier I'm going to spell it that way."

He held the sketch up to the light and studied the repairs carefully. "So you're going to be a couturier? Why? Good Lord! Why should an artist want to be a dressmaker?"

"I don't want to be just a dressmaker." Something came into her voice. "I want to be a creator. That's an art. You—you are an artist, aren't you? You should understand."

He sighed. "In a way I am. I work here. I used to be an artist—of sorts." He pasted tissues over the finished sketches.

"Used to be? But you're an artist now! Aren't you proud to be an artist in an establishment like this? I mean . . ."

His wry smile looked down at her from immense heights. "It was more fun being a portrait painter."

"Oh portraits! Of course. You did them?"

He fished in his pocket for a cigaret case, opened it and offered it to her.

"Why did you give it up?"

He looked at her steadily for a moment, lit a cigaret, drew in the smoke. No one had ever asked him that question before. Not even Eve. His last portrait had been of her, of Eve who had loved him! He corrected his mental phrase. That Eve had not existed, she had married another man. "You've got to understand, darling. I thought I loved you but we'd be so poor. Who'll buy portraits?"

He curved his mouth and blew away a perfect ring of smoke. "There wasn't enough money in it," he said aloud, forgetting Mary. Her eyes, dark and sympathetic, drew him back. He remembered to smile again. "You see I had a particular talent for knowing the right clothes for women."

"But if you wanted to paint . . . if you could paint . . ." she persisted.

Perhaps it was because her eyes were questioning him. He did something he had never done before. He opened a drawer in the big desk, fumbled in its contents and drew out something. It was a red ribbon. He gave it to her.

She held it for a moment. Then she spoke and her voice was hushed: "An award in the American Art Gallerias!"

He tried not to look as pleased and proud as he felt when he nodded.

Her glance went again to the ribbon. Then she said in a little excuse-it-please voice, "Why you're . . . you're Tony Castle!"

He said he was and looked away from her eyes. Somehow he felt that being Tony Castle, owner of New York's smartest shop, didn't quite measure up to what those eyes expected of him.

"Look here," he said quickly "you've got something in those sketches. Do you really mean all you said about that big ambition of yours? Enough to come to work here in the workroom?"

Her lips parted but she couldn't say anything.

"It won't be easy. It will be hard, manual labor. You'll only be an apprentice—sewing, basting, pressing, running errands. And there will be no privileges."

"But that's the way they all began." Her voice was breathless and her eyes were like stars in heavenly company.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S MUSIC PARTY.

Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit, was hopping up and down in the air and singing:

"I am so happy! I am so happy!"

"Why are you so happy?" asked Buster, one of Uncle Wiggily's boy rabbits. He was gnawing a whistle out of a piece of elderberry bush so he could play traffic rabbit.

"I am so happy," replied Baby Bunty, "because Unkle Wig showed me how to make dandelion music for the party we are going to give the puppy dogs and the squirrel boys who are visiting our camp."

"Ho! Ho!" laughed Buster. "What do you mean by dandelion music?"

"I'll show you," offered Bunty. She picked a long dandelion stem and blew from it the fluffy ball of seeds that had taken the place of the bright sunshine blossom of Spring. Then Bunty blew through the small end of the stem. Out of the large end came:

"Tweedle, deedle, eedle!"

"That's funny!" said Buster.

Tries It

"I think it's nice," laughed Bunty. "You try a dandelion horn."

Buster picked a larger stem and when he blew through it, being a boy, he made a sound like:

"Boomity! Ommity! OOm!"

"Oh, lovely!" said Bunty. "Now pick a lot of stems and we'll get up a dandelion band."

"It sounds queer but maybe it will work," said Buster.

He and Bunty picked many dandelion stems. They called to others of the rabbit boys and girls of Uncle Wiggily's camp in the woods near Blue Lake to pick more.

"Now we must make a surprise of this," said Baby Bunty. "I don't want Jackie and Peetie Bow Bow nor Johnnie or Billie Bushytail and their little brother Earlie to know about this party."

"I think they already know about it," said Buster. "For Nurse Jane was baking a chocolate carrot cake and Peetie asked her who it was for and she said never mind and for him to run along. So he said to me: 'I guess maybe there's going to be a party,' and there is."

One Surprise

"Well, all right. Maybe our visitors know about the party," said Baby Bunty, "but we can surprise them with dandelion music."

"Sure we can," said Custer. So the rabbit children, when the visiting puppy dogs and squirrels weren't near, practiced. Soon they could play very well.

Even though Peetie sort of guessed there was going to be a party, he and the others were jolly well surprised when Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears set the chocolate carrot cake and other good things to eat on tables under the camping tent. They began to eat.

Baby Bunty and the others picked up from where they had hidden them under the table, the long dandelion stems.

"Toot toot!" blew the orphan rabbit on her stem.

"Tweet tweet!" blew Jingle and Jangle on their stems.

"Oompha! Oomphal Oom!" blew the boy rabbits.

"Oh, what beautiful music!" shouted the visiting dogs and squirrels as Uncle Wiggily led the band. And it surely was.

Now if the traffic light doesn't think it's a Christmas tree just because it's colored red and green, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the fight.

PROTECT CATTLE FROM DOGS UNDER NEW ONTARIO ACT

Owners of Both Cattle and Sheep Are Entitled to Compensation.

INJURED OR KILLED.

All owners of cattle or sheep killed or injured by dogs are entitled to compensation either by the dog owner or by the municipality, according to legislation sponsored and piloted through the Ontario Legislature at the last session by the Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture. "Injured" or "injuring" applies to injuries caused by wounding, worrying, terrifying or pursuing.

Up until the last session of the Legislature, the Act applied only to sheep. So many reports of cattle being killed or maimed by savage dogs were received by Hon. Mr. Marshall, that he decided legislation should be introduced to provide compensation for these cattle owners, the result being "The Dog Tax And Live Stock Protection Act," which clearly defines the responsibilities of dog owners and municipalities in cases where animals are killed or injured.

Whether or not the owner of any dog killing live stock is known, the municipality in which the live stock were killed or injured shall be liable to the live stock owner for the amount of damage as ascertained by live stock valuers appointed by the municipality.

In order to collect, the owner must notify the municipality within 48 hours after he has discovered the killing or injuring, and the carcass must not be destroyed until it has been seen by the valuer for the municipality.

If the owner or the municipal council is dissatisfied with the report of the valuer, they may appeal to the Minister of Agriculture,—The Hon. Duncan Marshall,—within thirty days of the award. This appeal must be made in writing, accompanied by a $25 deposit, and the Minister may name a valuer to make a further investigation. The report of this valuer shall be final and conclusive as to the extent and amount of the damage done. The money is returned if the appeal is successful, but forfeited if the appeal is lost.

If no live stock valuer has been appointed by the council or clerk of any municipality, the Minister of Agriculture, on application of the owner of live stock, may name a valuer whose report shall be final and conclusive, the council being liable for the cost of valuation as well as amount of award. Reports of the award will be forwarded to both council and live stock owner.

Where live stock has been killed or injured in territory without municipal organization, the owner of the dog shall be liable for damage, and it will not be necessary to prove the dog was vicious or accustomed to worry live stock.

BOYS' WORK IS MOST IMPORTANT

Should Be Great Community Force To Ensure Youths Learning

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 26.—(CP)—"Boys' work is the most important work in the community," Nelson MacEwen, a Montreal National Boys' work secretary of the Canadian Y.M.C.A., declared in an address here.

"Adults who are best adapted to do this work have a tremendous responsibility and a wonderful opportunity," he said. "Boys' work does not mean taking out a group of boys or amusing them. It does not mean lecturing, rescuing, and uplifting them, checking up on them, but it means social engineering in the motivation of boyhood."

All boys' work agencies should come together in a great community force to care for boys, he believed. "Boys have a right to healthy recreation, skill rather than intensive competition being the objective. Damage is often done by too many prizes.

"They have a right to camp, to belong to something; they have a right to education, the right to a philosophy of life."

Famous Reindeer Drive Nears An End Final Round-Up Is Set For Next Fall

THE PAS, Man., Aug. 6.—(CP).—The final round-up far up toward the Arctic Circle will be held this fall and the job of Andy Bahr and his gallant band of herders which drove 3,000 reindeer 2,000 miles across northern tundras will be finished.

Bahr and his Lapp helpers herded the animals from Alaska to the Mackenzie Delta to provide permanent meat supply for the Eskimos in the delta region. Wolves, blizzards, treacherous ice conditions dealyed progress at times, and in one of the four years the trek has been under way they advanced only 90 miles.

At the final round-up the reindeer will be driven into a huge corral and counted. It is expected this check will require a week or more.

Last summer's check showed the herd had increased from 2,000 to 3,800 in 16 months, and it is expected the next count will bring the total over 5,000.

Four Laps will remain behind as herders and they will instruct Eskimos in the work. They are aided by shepherd dogs. Actually the herders do not "drive the reindeer, but keep in front to prevent stampeding.

In summer insects at times madden the beasts and they rush about in a circle to create a current of air to drive off their tormentors.

Winter herding is easier but vigilance is required. There are nightly wolf patrols on skis, for the big wolves attack only at night and may slaughter as many as 50 deer in a night.

Stolen For Joyride Car Kills Youth

Lethbridge, Alta., Aug. 7 (CP). A "JOYRIDE" in a car which police say was stolen, ended in the death of Joe Mandel, 18-year-old Hutterite of Raymond, and the serious injury of a companion, Joe Kleinsasser, near here last night.

No. 13 Terrorless For Retired Italian

Halifax, Aug. 7 (CP).

JOSEPH ZAFFINI, native of Italy who lived in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for several years vacationed here today safe in the knowledge that number 13 holds no terrors for him.

Zaffini came to Canada Dec. 13, 1906.

He started work in a butcher shop at the age of 13.

He worked in the shop for 13 years.

His mother had 13 children.

He has 13 children.

He had two sisters and three sisters-in-law, each with 13 children.

He started his butcher shop in Sault Ste. Marie in 1913.

He retired after 15 years in the business in Canada.

One of his children was born April 13, another June 13.

He has 13 grandchildren.

"And nothing startling has ever happened to me," he remarked triumphantly today.

Halifax is waiting to see if anything happens Friday, Aug. 13.

FIRE PREVENTION POSSIBILITIES IN SCHOOLS ARE LOST

Teachers Should Make Pupils Familiar With Department Equipment

ALSO TEACH PARENTS

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 26 (C. P.). — John W. O'Hearn, Watertown, Mass., of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, believes possibilities of fire prevention education in the Public Schools have been overlooked and an opportunity lost that is of great value in their work.

During an address on "Fire Prevention in the Schools," told of his first attempt at fire prevention in a section of his home town which included about one-third of the population made up almost entirely of foreigners "mostly Armenians and Italians, with some Greeks, Turkish and Polish people and a few Irish which, of course, should not be classed as foreigners.

"The Armenians were hard to reach, because practically none of them spoke English and knew nothing of fire prevention. In their own country there are few fire departments. When a fire occurred they just moved out and let it burn."

By communicating information to the parents through the children who were very good pupils the problem was solved in that section of the town and their troubles cut to a minimum, he said. "From that time education has extended to every school in the town in an organized way."

He suggested speaking to pupils in groups in the Assembly Hall with the stage filled with tools and appliances used by the Department, with at least four men in uniform. Two could come out dressed as hose men, and the next two ladder men, with coats, boots, hats, and the usual tools carried in belts or otherwise. Explain why they are dressed differently and give an example of work with the hose, how much it weighs filled with water, etc.

"Close all talks with a question period, and you will at once come to the conclusion that even though they are only children, they are rapidly becoming an aid to the service of fire prevention."

Gardens Burned Up In Omemee Village

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, Aug. 7.—Omemee had the warmest day of the year on Friday. One east end resident reported at noon the mercury reached 104. What promised to be excellent gardens earlier in the season are burning up for want of rain. Omemee has only had one rain in nearly two months. Many of the wells and cisterns are dry.

COMPANY PLANS TO OPEN TWO TEXTILE MILLS

FIVE CHILDREN AMONG 16 DEAD WEEK-END TOLL

Upwards of 50 Are Injured in One of Ontario's Blackest Two Days.

ONLY TWO DROWNINGS.

Woman and Girl Are Killed When Thrown While Standing on Running Boards.

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.).—Fourteen persons were dead to-day and upwards of 50 injured after one of Ontario's blackest week-ends for traffic accidents. Bringing the fatality list to 16 were two drownings.

Jack MacDonald, Toronto Hydro lineman, was drowned in the Muskoka Lakes district near Bala, while the waters of Lake Timagami claimed Sherman R. Thorpe, Hudson's Bay Company factor on Bear Island, in Northern Ontario.

Tragic feature of the week-end toll was the death of five children, two of them babies. The automobile accidents ran the gamut from head-on collisions to crashes caused by blowouts, a smash with a radial car, and the death of two women who rode on the running-boards of machines.

Mrs. E. Thomas of Guelph asked a passing motorist in Hamilton to give her a lift to overtake a bus she just missed. She insisted, the driver told police, in standing on the running-board and then jumped to the street before the car stopped. She fractured her skull on a street car rail and died on the way to hospital.

On a concession road north of Toronto Gertrude Coveyduck, 15, of Richmond Hill, was riding on the running-board of another car when it swerved to avoid a collision. Her head hit an oak tree and she died of a fractured skull. The driver was arrested on a manslaughter charge

Two Babies Victims.

Similar were circumstances in which the two babies were killed. Near Haileybury, Lucy James, eight months, was sitting in the lap of her mother, Mrs. A. James of Dane, Ont., when their automobile collided with a taxicab. The child was killed and several others hurt.

Near Espanola Bernadine Anderson, 19 months old, was riding in a car with her mother, Mrs. Stella Anderson of Espanola, when it went into the ditch. The baby was killed and four others were hurt.

A mother and daughter, Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Betty, aged 19, of London, died when a blow-out sent their automobile crashing into a ditch near Clinton. Several other passengers, including Mr. Hamilton, were badly hurt.

Mrs. Harry Hawkins, 70, Pembroke, was thrown through the top of her car when it crashed with another machine near North Bay.

Thrown from his bicycle when it was hit by a car, Stanley Strickland, 54, Oakville, was killed. The car then hit a truck, injuring three others, passengers in both machines

Other Child Casualties.

The other three child victims were Margaret Stevenson, six, London, killed at Welland; William Churchhill, Jr., three, Forest, killed in a head-on crash in which four others were hurt near Cobourg; and Elaine Needham, four, London, struck by an automobile in the Western Ontario city.

While returning from a dance, Frank Brine, 34, Sudbury, was killed and three fellow-employees in a Northern Ontario refinery were hurt when their car turned over in loose gravel. Brine, native of St. Marys, was a graduate of Queen's University and an expert metallurgist.

Three were hurt, Mrs. Ida Fisher, Doon, Ont., fatally, when their car collided with a radial train near Kitchener, while at Guelph, Daniel McGinnis, Desbarats, Ont., died after falling from a moving truck.

Non-fatal accidents were reported from a dozen or more centres with the casualty list containing more than two-score names.

Jap Army Take Complete Control of Peiping

Conquest of Hopeh Sees New Regime Being Established

Stays As Leader

Nipponese Officials Also Assume Authority in City of Tientsin.

PLANES DROP NOTES.

Leaflets Assure Population of Protection From Wicked Nanking.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Japanese army completed its conquest of Northeastern Hopeh Province today while Japanese administrators moved slowly toward establishment of a permanent civil government in the rich Chinese region.

A Japanese brigade of 3,000 men marched into the city of Peiping yesterday with 50 trucks, 15 tanks and considerable cavalry, took the ancient capital of China's Manchu emperors under its protection and made it, for all practical purposes, a Japanese city.

The Japanese troops, commanded by Major General T. Kawabe, paraded along the boulevards and under arches of triumph that proclaimed imperial China's glories. Then the various units deployed throughout the city, taking up their garrison duties.

In Tientsin, army headquarters of the Japanese who have wrested Northeastern Hopeh from Chinese troops in a month of undeclared war, the judiciary, police and communication administrations were brought under complete Japanese control.

No More Wicked Rulers.

As Gen. Kawabe's brigade took over Peiping, Japanese planes circled overhead, dropping leaflets:

"Both the Chinese people and North China always will be North Chinese. The Japanese army has driven out your wicked rulers and their wicked armies and will keep them out.

"Although Nanking is preparing to make a destructive war, do not be afraid. The Japanese army will protect you."

(The correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Nichi reported from Nanking Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shekk "has decided to order Chinese troops along the whole line to start advancing in a major offensive.

("The Chinese troops will advance from three directions, along the Peiping-Suiyuan, Peiping-Hankow, and Tientsin-Pukow railways. Fifty thousand Chinese Communists will operate as a detached force. Irregular forces, such as the Blue Shirt Society, will harass the Japanese."

QUEBEC'S EFFORT TEXTILE STRIKE ENDS IN DEADLOCK

Better Mills Stay Closed Than Let Union Win, Says One Company Head.

GOVERNMENT GOES LIMIT.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9. —(CP).—Government efforts to settle the province-wide textile strike that has kept 10,000 workers idle for a week ended in a deadlock to-day with no immediate settlement in view. Labor Member William Tremblay said after a conference with Managing-Director G. Blair Gordon of the strike-fettered Dominion Textile Company.

The Minister said afterwards the Government had done all it could to settle the dispute between the company and the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers, which called the walkout in nine companiny plants last Monday. Next move, he said, was up to either one of the parties.

"It would be better for all concerned," Gordon said after his interview with Tremblay, "and that applies to industry throughout the province, that the mills remain shut for some time rather than permit the union with its subversive methods to appear successful."

Alfred Charpentier, president of the National Catholic Syndicates, parent body of the union that sounded the strike call, and Albert Cote, head of the N.C.F.T.W., said they would issue a statement later.

Minister's Statement.

After the conference Tremblay, who had met union officers in a closed conference Saturday, issued the following statement:

"The two parties are seemingly unable to reach an agreement. The syndicates wish to be recognized as signatories of a collective (labor) agreement and representatives of the company maintain they were obliged to base any discussion with the workers on the Fair Wage Act, which comes into effect September 1.

"The company wishes to base any negotiations on the Fair Wage Act because it has not desire for a repetition of the reprehensible scenes at Sorel (where property was damaged by workers during a steel strike two months ago). The company believes if it signs a contract with the union it will give strength to the workers. 'Under the Fair Wage Act the workers will be given all the justice to which they are entitled.

"I told both the company and the union it was the government's desire that the industry should not be handicapped and that the employees receive fair treatment. I urged both sides to refrain from any provocation action.

"The government has gone as far as it can. It can do nothing further unless requested by either of the parties."

STETSON LEASES PRESCOTT PLANT

Will Move Women's Hat Division From Brockville Result of Strike.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 9. —(CP).—Announcement was made today by the John B. Stetson Company (Canada) Limited, where a strike has been in progress six weeks, that it had taken a yearly lease on a building at Prescott where its women's hat division will be situated in future.

It was added that the company had been offered options on other buildings in the same neighborhood.

The company, it is stated, is engaged in altering its new premises in Prescott with a view to an early start on manufacturing operations. The announcement was made in pursuance of the decision reached last week by the company to move its women's hat division from Brockville because of labor difficulties experienced.

EMILIE RECOVERS BUT SISTERS ILL

Suffering Mild Colds and Effects of Present Heat—No Tourists Allowed.

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP).—The Dionne quintuplets have developed mild colds their physician, Dr. A. R. Dafoe, said to-day. Dr. Dafoe said that Emilie, who had been "under the weather" for a week with a sore throat, is now well, but her four sisters, Yvonne, Annette, Cecile and Marie have slight colds and the five will not be visible to the tourist public for two or three days.

Dr. Dafoe empahsized that no anxiety is felt, and said it is not likely Dr. Alan Brown, Toronto child specialist, will be called in for consultation as he was in Emilie's throat case. The quintuplets have been feeling the heat and are "not quite up to the mark," so the daily inspection by tourists has been suspended for the time being.

No change has been made in their diet and they are allowed the run of the play yard as usual but under direction of the nurse in charge, who guards against their getting too tired.

"Emilie is now quite well," the doctor said, "but there's no point in bringing one of them out alone to look at the crowd. Besires, the others would be lonesome."

The Quints are not confined to bed except for their normal sleeping hours.

Dr Dafoe said that the statement issued last week in connection with Emilie—it attributed her illness to an outside source—"holds for the others at this time."

BAIL AT $3,000.

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 9 (C.P.). — Mrs. Emily K. Drakes, former Oshawa resident brought here from Luton, Bedfordshire, England, charged with forgery, was remanded until August 17 by Magistrate E. A. Gee to-day. Mrs. Drakes did not plead, and bail was fixed at $3,000.

Mayor Promises Protection To All Returning Employees

Mayor Macdonald Reviews His Efforts to End Textile Strike.

ASKS MEN TO RETURN.

Guarantee of "adequate protection" for all employees of the Dominion Woollens who answer the call of the company to return to work at the Auburn and Bonner-Worth plants at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning was given by Mayor George Macdonald this afternoon. What the nature of the protection would be, was not revealed.

In a statement the Mayor made to The Examiner shortly before he learned of the company's definite intention to open to-morrow morning, he expressed the opinion it would be advisable for the employees of the two plants to return to work pending a possible adjustment of the dispute by the Industry and Labor Board after a survey of the entire textile wage situation in the Province.

"I feel confident that the company is prepared to co-operate fully with the Ontario Industry and Labor Board in settling this important problem," Mayor Macdonald said in his statement. "However, the solution may take some time and it will not just be applicable to Peterborough. In the mentime I think it advisable that the employees should return to work.

"If the company should decide to open its plants here and employees desire to return to work, I give assurance as Mayor that facilities will be provided for them to do so. No one can prevent a person from working, if he has a job and desires to go to it. I am confident that the majority of citizens will support me in this policy."

The main part of the Mayor's statement consisted of a review of his official part in the strike dispute from the outbreak to the present.

Committee Named

"The strike had only commenced when on the evening of June 29, at a meeting of the Legal committee of the City Council, on motion of Alderman Gordon, seconded by Alderman Cotton a motion was passed appointing Aldermen Dutton, Hamilton, Juby and myself, as a committee to offer its services to mediate between the striking employees and the company," said the Mayor. "On July 3rd, a letter was sent to Mr. Michael English, chairman of the Strike committee, informing him of the formation of this committee and its offer to be of service in mediating for settlement of the strike.

"Mr. English replied by letter, dated July 6th, thanking the Council for the appointment of this committee, but suggesting that the services of the committee were not de-

Licking For Mischievous Bride 9 Brings Hubby Down Upon Teacher

Sneedville, Tenn., Aug 9 (AP). A SWITCHING for "general mischievousness"—so her teacher said—was the reason Mrs. Eunice Johns, Tennessee's nine-year-old child bride, was not at her desk in the Fairmount grade school today.

Eunice, who gained the spotlight last January when she and Charlie Johns, 22, were married, was a pupil at the grade school several miles from here in a remote section of Hancock county—for two days only.

Wade Ferguson, her teacher, said the child quit school last week after he switched her. The incident he said, brought her lanky husband to the two-room schoolhouse where Ferguson teaches 40 children.

"Why, you can't whip another man's wife" Ferguson quoted Johns as saying when he came to protest against the punishment.

"Oh, yes, I can whip another man's wife if another man sends his wife to school to me," Ferguson said he told Johns.

INSURGENTS OPEN FINAL OFFENSIVE

Aim to Mop Up Provinces of Austurias and Santander, End Basque Resistance.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 9.—(AP).—General Franco's northern forces to-day launched what insurgent officers called their "final offensive" against the provinces of Asturias and Santander, last government stronghold in North Spain.

Insurgent planes and artillery bombed government defence lines in the Biscayan sector in an effort to wipe out government resistance on the Basque-Asturian front.

Insurgent reports declared the bombardment was as intense as the deadly fire poured on to the iron ring of fortifications encircling Bilbao before that Basque capital fell in June.

The northern sector has been quiet since the insurgents advanced through Bilbao and a short distance along the highway to Santander. It was believed renewed hostilities meant Franco hoped to mop up the region before fall in order to release his northern concentration of troops and war equipment for use on the Madrid front or elsewhere.

Insurgent officers at Irun, though terming it the final offensive, declined to reveal the point from which the drive started.

100 Watch Girl Stage Flogging Of Man She Says Told Lies Of Her

New Orleans, Aug. 9 (AP). PRETTY Eloise Willis, 17, accused of publicly flogging Oscar Kay, 47-year-old Works Progress administration worker, after her relatives had tied him to a tree, defended her action today by saying Kay had spread "lies" about her.

The girl said Kay circulated "false tales" after she went to a hospital June 3 for appendicitis operation.

My father did not hear about it until yesterday, and then he decided to do something about it," she told police.

Kay, threatening to "wear out a warrant against them for attempted murder," charged Miss Willis flayed him with a steel cable before a crowd of 100 persons after members of her family had beaten him and lashed him to a thimberry tree at the Willis home.

Woman Rendered Unconscious When Lightning Hits House

Mrs. A. Whiteside, 513 Park street, was rendered unconscious by shock from lightning which struck a chimney of the house during Sunday afternoon's electrical storm. Although she escaped the bolt which hit the house, it was said Mrs. Whiteside was affected by its concussive force.

The chimney was split about fifteen feet by the lightning which tore plaster off a wall, broke a light socket in the bathroom and the top off a switch in the hall. In the cellar it blew out six fuses, four of them being shattered into small pieces.

The fire department was called with its pulmotor, and Mrs. Whiteside regained consciousness under medical treatment and was able to walk upstairs to bed.

Peiping, Aug. 9 (UP). U. S. MARINES and Japanese soldiers fought a camera engagement on the borders of the U.S. Marine Corps compound this afternoon.

Honors were even.

When a long column of Japanese infantry started marching past the Marine Corps compound a dozen marines, off duty, climbed the wall and began taking pictures. A gold-braided Japanese officer halted his car and demanded that the picture taking be stopped but the marines kept right on clicking their shutters.

The Japanese General finally went back to his automobile, summoned staff photographers of his own, and spent 10 minutes photographing the marines.

PRAYER MEETING BAN STIRS BERLIN PROTESTANTS' IRE

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (A.P.). — Redoubled interest was centered to-day on the trial of Rev. Martin Neimoeller, Protestant Confessional leader, after several hundred churchgoers demonstrated in the streets against a ban on prayer meetings for their imprisoned leader.

The long-smouldering Protestant church opposition flared in a dramatic outburst on Sunday in suburban Dahlem when members of Mr. Niemoeller's parish paraded in protest against the prayer meeting ban.

Hastily summoned police broke up the spontaneous demonstration and hurried 115 of the paraders off to jail. They were released, however, after their names had been recorded.

It was the first Protestant demonstration of any size venting the church membership's ire against Nazi efforts to regulate church affairs. In the Catholic controversy with the German government there have been such outbreaks.

Some mystery was added to the Dahlem demonstration because the Ministry of Propaganda admitted the occurrence, while the Gestapo (Secret Police) professed ignorance of the incident.

Berlin's morning newspapers ignored the story, but the news spread rapidly throughout the capital.

PEACOCKS KNOW GAME.

Fan-Tailed Birds Are Baseball Fans

Usually the ball park's pet birds watch sleepily from fence perches at night games progress. Last night, however, when the stand reaked with the traditional seventh inning stretch, the players gaped at the peacocks.

The fowls had solemnly stretched their legs, spread their huge tails, then settled back in unison with the cash spectators.

Employees Instructed By Notices in Mails Where to Assemble.

PARADE TO MILL.

Strikers Re-affirm Willingness to Follow Lead of Union.

Announcements that the Bonner-Worth and Auburn plants of the Dominion Woollens will be reopened at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and that all those desirous of returning to work will be welcomed, were mailed by the two managements to all employees this afternoon.

Employees were instructed to assemble into unit groups near the two mills in order that they may be escorted into the buildings "under adequite protection." Bonner-Worth workers were requested to meet at the intersection of Park and McDonnel Streets, and Auburn workers were requested to assemble at Nicholls Oval.

The two announcements contained the same text, the one for Bonner-Worth employees signed by D. G. H. Melton, Bonner-Worth manager, and the one for Auburn employees signed by H. S. Leybourne, Auburn controller. Separate instructions to employees of the respective plants were appended.

Instructions to Bonner-Worth employees were:

"All Bonner-Worth employees, both day and night shifts, desirous of returning to work are requested to meet at 8 a.m., Tuesday August 10th, at the intersection of Park and McDonnel Streets, where they will be assembled and escorted as a group into the mills under adequate protection."

Instructions to Auburn employees were:

"All Auburn employees, both day and night shifts, desirous of returning to work are requested to meet at 8 a.m., Tuesday, August 10th, at Nicholls Oval at the intersection of Armour and Park Hill Roads, where they will be assembled and escorted as a group into the mill under adequate protection."

The text of the announcement was as follows:

"The company in its mills in Peterborough has employed 750 people and some of our workers six weeks ago walked out without giving proper notice, thus preventing others who desired to work from containuing to do so.

"Although feeling that a representative committee of all its employees was not formed, the com-

DEATH TAKES TOT BORN IN DEATH

Double Funeral Planned—Baby Kept Alive 2 Days After Mother Died.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Double funeral services were planned today for Mrs. Mary Boccawaini and her tiny daughter, Frances Mary, who lost a valiant struggle for life 46 hours after being introduced to the world by death.

Lifted from her mother's body in a 60-second post mortem caesarian operation, Frances Mary lived on "borrowed time" from 3:16 a.m. Friday until 1:05 a.m. Sunday. Her death was a direct result of her 27-year-old mother's death, which stopped completion of her development a month short of scheduled birth.

"Death was from natural cause, the result of her premature birth," said Dr. John Corbit, the young obstetrician who held life in the "death baby" for nearly two days.

Last Minute News Flashes

TORONTO—The Daily Star said today it had been told by a physician that a 13-year-old Toronto girl gave birth Saturday night to an 8-pound baby in a Toronto hospital. Both mother and child are progressing "excellently" and are resting now at home, the Star said. The baby's father is said to be 26 years old.

BERLIN — Havas News Agency said today it is reported the correspondent of a leading British newspaper has been ordered to leave Germany. The action was understood to have been taken in reprisal for expulsion of three Nazi journalists from England, Havas said.

BENNETT WILL CONTINUE TORY PARTY LEADER

Conservatives Prepare to Launch Nation-wide Organization Program.

WORK EVERY PROVINCE.

Chieftain's Health Much Improved Decision to Carry On Indicates.

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 (CP).—With Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett remaining at the helm, the Conservative party prepared today to launch a nation-wide organization program in preparation for the next general election.

That Mr. Bennett, improved in health, was willing to continue to devote his efforts to public service and retain active leadership of the party for the time being was indicated following a meeting of Conservative members of the House of Commons.

The meeting was called Saturday to deal with the question of Mr. Bennett's leadership and other matters concerning the party. Ever since he suffered a serious illness in 1936 the possibility of his retirement has been more or less prominent in the minds of party members.

Text of a resolution adopted unanimously which made no direct mention of leadership or of party organization was the only official statement given out after the meeting, attended by 37 of the 39 members of the House.

"The meeting," the resolution read, "of Conservative members of the House of Commons, assembled to greet our chieftain, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, on his return from Europe, records its profound pleasure to learn of his improved state of health and of his willingness to devote his remarkable ability, great experience and unequalled knowledge of public problems to the service of the Canadian people."

R. S. White, veteran member for St. Antoine-Westmount, Montreal, who acted as spokesman, said organization matters were discussed at length. The meeting appointed committees to get the nation-wide organization under way. In every province committees will function and eventually the organization will be centralized under a national office at Ottawa.

54,000 JAPANESE TROOPS IN CHINA

PEIPING, Aug. 9—(AP)—Japan North China war machine, strengthened by 15,000 new troops in the Tientsin area, as estimated to-day by informed Asiatic observers to total 54,000 men.

Reliable reports said the 15,000 new troops arrived in Tientsin recently to reinforce the Japanese military forces steadily spreading out north-west and south through Hopeh Province.

Army reinforcements came as Japan disarmed the Chinese police of Peiping and Japanese nationals were allowed to leave during daytime their embassy compound where they sought sanctuary when the Sino-Japanese trouble arose.

Lieut.-Col. Takeo Imai, attache of the Japanese Embassy, told the Associated Press that "peace is impossible in the Peiping area while Central (Nanking) Chinese troops are operating in the vicinity of Nankow Pass near the Great Wall and maintain a challenging attitude toward the Japanese army."

It was believed Nankow Pass, about 30 miles north-west of Peiping, a gateway to Chahar Province, might be the scene of the next serious Sino-Japanese clash since forces of the contending armies were moving in that direction.

MOUNTIES RESCUE EXHAUSTED CREW ADRIFT IN ARCTIC

FREEZING TEMPERATURES.

BERNARD HARBOR, N.W.T., Aug. 9 (CP by Wireless). — Locked in the strangling grasp of Arctic ice floes, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police schooner St. Roch staggered toward Coronation Gulf in a fierce north-west gale to-day after rescuing the crew of the foundered Hudson's Bay schooner Fort James.

Crushed in the grinding masses of ice, the Fort James sank on Thursday three miles north of Chantrey Island off the northern border of Canada's mainland half way between Hudson Bay and Alaska.

Fighting their way through a bitter wind in freezing temperatures, the Mounties of the St. Roch pulled the six men of the freighter's complement from the peril of tumbling ice and frigid seas.

They gave up their bunks to bring some comfort to the exhausted sailors who had lost their ship and their belongings.

Peril had not abated, however, either for the rescued or the rescuers. Ice conditions off this Arctic harbor are bad. Piled by a pursuing gale out of the far Arctic, great masses of ice were wrenching at the stout steel of the Mounties' vessel.

Officials Keep in Touch.

The station at Coppermine in Coronation Gulf was instructed by Departmental headquarters at Ottawa to keep in constant communication with the St. Roch in case the situation becomes desperate.

Sergt. H. A. Larsen, seagoing Mountie, in charge of navigation, said he was confident his sturdy 90-ton vessel would survive. Specially built to withstand the vicious ice, the St. Roch has heavy steel plates and a round bottom like an ice-breaker.

Larsen and Sergt. J. U. Eddy, who has charge of police administration, led the eight other policemen of the ship's complement to the aid of Captain Summers and the crew of the Fort James after hundreds of tons of ice had stove in her bows like pincers.

First Mate W. Starkes, engineer L. G. White, and three Eskimo deck hands were the others saved. Captain Summers grieved over the loss of his 117-ton trading schooner which had successfully battled her way through eight years of Arctic seas.

To cut expenses Stornaway, in the Hebrides, decided to extinguish all street lights when there is a bright moon, and at the end of the first month found its lighting bill higher than ever because bad weather had cut off the moon most of the time.

At a children's theatre conference in Moscow, Russian playwrights were accused of not keeping abreast of young people's minds, the charge being made by Natalia Satz of the Moscow Central Children's Theatre.

Lost Rochester Dog Aid Phone Revenue

GANANOQUE, Aug. 9. — This is the story of a dog and a ferry and lots of telephone calls between Gananoque and Clayton and Rochester, N.Y. It has a happy ending.

One principal, and possible the villian, depending how you look at it, is "Nigger," a three-year-old black water spaniel. His mistress, Ruth Hohnann of Rochester boarded the steamer Champion on Saturday, homeward bound. She took Nigger with her. But in the midst of farewells to the dock-crowd Nigger jumped ashore.

Miss Hohnann discovered his departure when it was too late to do anything about it. She was out in the harbor. Once on the other shore she 'phoned a description. Not one 'phone call, but half a score. Six from Clayton. Four from Rochester.

And the hunt went on for Nigger.

Saturday afternoon a citizen reported the dog in his backyard. A. A. Wood, Queen's student, summering on the ferry staff, rushed to the scene.

"Just say 'Nigger,' and then 'Ruth,' and he'll come to you."

That's what Miss Hohnann had said. And that's what Wood said. And the dog halted in the midst of flight.

Judge Frees Woman Police Rejail Her

WHITBY, Aug. 9. — Twenty-four hours after her release had been ordered by Mr. Justice Jeffrey in Supreme Court on Saturday morning, on the grounds that she was not the woman charged with uttering a forged cheque, Mrs. Emily K. Drakes of Luton, Bedfordshire, England, and one time of Oshawa, walked out of the Whitby Jail to be met by police officers who arrested her again on a new warrant charging uttering of the same forgery.

Following the signing of the release order by Mr. Justice Jeffrey, a new information was sworn out by Joseph Nesbitt, at the request of the Crown Attorney's office, charging Mrs. Emily Drakes with uttering a forged cheque.

Remand Ordered.

Mrs. Drakes was whisked away by car from the Whitby Jail by the police officers to Oshawa where she appeared before William Igel, Justice of the Peace, at Oshawa Police Station, was remanded and sent back to the Whitby Jail.

Mrs. Drakes had been brought back from England under the Fugitive Offenders Act on the basis of two informations charging "Nora B. Drakes alias Emily K. Drakes alias Daisy Drakes" with forgery and uttering a $500.00 cheque made payable to Nora B. Drakes and purporting to be signed by Joseph Nesbitt, groom in Parkwood Stables and

Arctic Shipwreck Tale 'Gummed' for Governor

Trading Schooner's Skipper Loses His Teeth as Vessel Founders.

MOUNTIES STAGE RESCUE.

COPPERMINE N.W.T. Aug. 9.—(CP) — Twelve persons, including five children were brought ashore here Saturday from the wrecked Hudson's Bay Company auxiliary schooner Fort James which crushed in ice, sank early Friday off Chattry Island near Bernard Harbor, 100 miles northward.

Captain R. J. Summers of Brighton, England, his crew of four and an Eskimo family of seven were rescued from the sinking vessel by the crew of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police schooner St. Roch, which was fast in the ice nearby and in imminent danger herself.

The Fort James, bound for Fuktoyaktima near Mackenzie, became icebound July 27 in Dolphin Strait and drifted in the pack until August 5 when terrific pressure lifted her, turning her on her side, shearing away the keel and splitting her rudder.

Stove Starts Fire.

As she heeled over a galley stove upset, setting fire to the woodwork, but the crew quickly extinguished the blaze. Thursday the ship filled rapidly but held atop the ice until early Friday when she sank in 10 fathoms of water.

All hands worked frantically to get the Eskimo family out of the hold as water poured in and men from the St. Roch, under command of Sergeants J. U. Eddy and Henry Larsen, rushed over the ice to help in the rescue. There was no cargo aboard except a few bales of fox skins which were submerged before they could be removed.

Captain Summers, veteran Arctic navigator, was second officer aboard the Baychimo, ghost ship of the Arctic which, lost in the ice in 1931 off Point Barrow, Alaska, showed up in the pack two years ago.

"The Fort James took terrible punishment before the end," Summers said after being brought here. "A weaker vessel would have gone down long before. The ice was as heavy as I've seen off Point Barrow."

The captain's account of the wreck, told to Governor-General Tweedsmuir on His Excellency's visit to Coppermine, was related with difficulty. His speech was rendered loose because his false teeth are at the bottom of the Arctic ocean with his ship.

GERMAN GRAIN CROP ONLY 90 P.C.

Government Issues Drastic Decree to Farmers As To Its Use.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.— (AP) —Faced with the prospect of grain harvests at least 10 per cent below average, Germany today applied rigid control of her farm output to ensure adequate food supplies for the coming winter.

"Give us this day our daily bread," was the official slogan issued to Reich farmers, but it was a command, not a prayer, and was backed by iron-clad decrees as to what the farmer could do with his own crop.

Government Control

The entire wheat and rye crop was ordered placed at the disposal of the Government Marketing Organization except for small amounts to be held for family needs and next spring's sowing. No bread grains may be fed to livestock.

The Nazi bread-grain policy is to use all the Reich's available grains for bread and then to import only enough foreign grains to make up the deficiency and to import corn as live stock feed.

In addition sugar beet acreage, which in 1933 produced 130,000 tons of fodder, had been greatly increased and is expected to yield 600,000 tons for German livestock.

The sugar situation, too, seemed better. An increase of 400,000 in available pigs since June, 1936, made possible the storing of what officials said would be adequate winter supplies.

QUICKLY SOLVED STRIKE.

Ordered Berry Patch Plowed Up When Pickers Struck.

JORDAN STATION, Ont., Aug. 9 (C.P.). — M. C. Sackrider, a local fruit-grower, adopted a stern but successful method of dealing with sit-down strikers. His raspberry pickers demanded wages of two cents a box and sat down on the job. Quick calculation showed the grower that there would be no profit if he acceded to their demands, so he ordered one of his men to plough up the berry patch. "Don't plough them up and we will pick them for 1¼ cents a box," said the pickers' spokesman.

WORK COMPLETED ON PARKING LOT

Full Length Sidewalk Adds to Convenience of Motorists.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9.—With the work being completed this week under the supervision of Councillor J. O'Sullivan, chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee, the town can now boast of a parking lot second to none. Although the lot was previously lighted the work of levelling the western end of the lot which was formerly little more than a mud hole has made a remarkable improvement. During the past week a fine layer of crushed rock has been placed on the lot which has been rolled and graded to give a smooth surface. A cement sidewalk extending the whole length from Front to Rear street gives added convenience to the two hundred motorists who will find room for their cars.

Mayor Long derived considerable satisfaction in telling the Examiner today that Rotarians would find the ground in excellent condition for their carnival to be held on Monday.

YOUNG'S POINT

Valuable Bull Lost In Electric Storm

(Examiner Correspondence.)

YOUNG'S POINT, Aug. 9.—Quick action on the part of a truckload of volunteers saved the barn on the farm of Robert Freeburn, 15th Concession of Smith Township, from a total loss by fire during Sunday afternoon's severe electric storm. The barn was struck by a bolt of lightning, and Mr. Freeburn suffered the loss of a valuable bull, which was tied in its stall at the time. Only part of the upper storey of the building was damaged by fire.

Warkworth Bowlers Win Brighton Prize

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, Aug. 9. — Two rinks from Warkworth took part in the men's bowling tournament at Brighton on Wednesday and again Warkworth was successful in bringing home the prize. Messrs. Morley Smith, A. M. Smale, C. Churchley and William Mowat won second prize in the consolation and received electric toasters.

Messrs. Ben Buchanan, Oscar Phillips, J. F. Dingman and Dr. Allen composed the other rink.

Choir Leader Halts Performance As Late Comers Arrive.

MACHYNLLETH, Montgomeryshire, Aug. 9 (CP Cable).—Sir Adrien Boult, distinguished British conductor wielding the baton last night over a choir at the Welsh National Eisteddfod, rebuked late comers for disturbing the performance.

"A few of you have ruined one of Mendelssohn's finest songs," he said hailing a duet during the performance of "Elijah." Sir Adrien was conducting the Montgomeryshire County Choir of 500 with an orchestra of 30.

WHITBY MOTHER DIES FROM BURNS REKINDLING FIRE

Throws Gasoline On It and Flames Puff Out Enveloping Clothes.

NEIGHBOR HURT AIDING.

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 9—(CP). — Burns suffered Saturday when she threw a cup of gasoline on a smouldering wood fire in her kitchen stove proved fatal to-day to Mrs. Stewart Sleeman, 24, Whitby. She died in hospital here.

WHITBY, Aug. 9.—Her condition described as "precarious," Mrs. Stuart Sleeman of Whitby, 24, mother of two children, lies in the Oshawa General Hospital fighting for her life as a result of severe burns received Saturday afternoon when her clothes caught on fire when she sought to rekindle a dying fire by throwing gasoline on it.

Flames from the stove shot out and enveloped Mrs. Sleeman, who ran to the back kitchen frantically trying to beat out the flames. Attracted by her screams, Mrs. Bert Harlow, mother, and Bill Harlow, Mrs. Sleeman's brother, endeavored to wrest the burning clothes off her and at the same time throwing water upon her.

Hearing the screams, Mrs. A. Brown, a neighbor, turned in a general alarm for the Whitby Brigade who upon their arrival, found that the fire had been extinguished. Dr. R. T. McLaren attended Mrs. Sleeman and had her rushed to the Oshawa Hospital by ambulance.

Mrs. Bert Harlow received burns about her hands as a result of putting out the flames. Barbara, 2, and Stuart, 3, children of Mrs. Sleeman, were in an adjoining room at the time the fire took place, having just been put to bed by their mother.

Aunt May Solve Lost Dancer Case

PARIS, Aug. 9—(AP).—The worried aunt of 22-year-old Jean De Koven, missing New York dancer, for whose return a $500 ransom was demanded, said she might be able to "explain everything" to-day.

Speaking from her Montparnasse apartment, the relative, Miss Ida Sackheim, 55, declined to discuss the case further until "everything is ready."

A series of ransom demands, through the mails or delivered by taxi drivers, came after the girl walked away two weeks ago from a hotel where she and her aunt were stopping.

RAILWAY RATES UP.

Five Per Cent. Jump Granted Four Major British Lines

LONDON, Aug. 8 (CP Cable).—A request by Great Britain's four major railways for a five per cent. increase in fares and freight charges was granted yesterday by the railway rates tribunal.

The tribunal's report contended that rising prices of materials and an increased wages bill was likely to offset largely the anticipated gross receipts increase over 1936.

The increase will be effective October 1. It was requested by the London, Midland and Scottish; London and North Eastern; Great Western, and Southern Railways.

ALBERTA BANKERS GIVEN TILL AUG. 27 TO GET LICENSES

Lieutenant Governor Signs Bill—Bank Heads Expected to Fight.

WAIT OTTAWA STAND.

EDMONTON, Aug. 9—(CP).—Alberta bankers have until Aug. 27 to take out the licenses prescribed in legislation passed through the Provincial Legislature yesterday and signed by Lieutenant-Governor John Bowen before proroguing the House.

In the formal ceremony yesterday, the Lieutenant-Governor signed the Social Credit Act passed in the four-day special session, and removed all doubt of his willingness to assent to the bank-license legislation.

Speculation was aroused here as to the next step in the inevitable constitutional struggle springing from the Aberhart government's determination to control banking policies in Alberta. Two possible courses were considered open—disallowance of the legislation by the Federal government or an appeal to the Supreme Court on the power of Alberta to pass the licensing statute.

Fight Expected.

It was taken for granted here the chartered banks would not subscribe to licensing and control without a concerted fight, but it was considered likely they would take no action until the attitude of the Federal Government was known.

Although the Federal Government has not used its veto over Provincial statutes for many years, the power was deeded by the British North America Act as a check against irresponsible legislation.

The Bank Act would require bankers to take out licenses within 21 days of the Lieutenant-Governor signing the Bill and be subject to the control of the Provincial Credit Commission and local directorate dominated by appointees of the Social Credit Board. All through the debate on the bill in the Legislature it was made plain by Cabinet Ministers they considered the legislation would permit the Government to control banking policies in Alberta.

BETHEL

Splendid Reports At Bethel Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

EAST EMILY, Aug. 9.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association of Bethel United Church was held on Tuesday evening, August 3rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Jackson, with a large attendance present. Mrs. Sayward Switzer conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ira Switzer.

The different reports were then given, which were very satisfactory. The chapter from the study book was read by Mrs. F. G. MacTavish.

The following program was given as follows: Instrumental, Miss Mary Darling; duet, Mrs. Elwood Faulkner and daughter, Miss Jean. The meeting was closed with the benediction, after which refreshments were served by the hostess of the evening.

The Bethel ladies have accepted an invitation to attend a silver tea which is to be held by the Women's Association of the United Church in Mount Pleasant next Wednesday afternoon.

Other relatives from the city who attended the wedding included the bridegrooms brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Theobald of Brock Street; his sisters, the Misses Dorothy, Mary and Kathleen Theobald, of Dufferin street, and his brother-in-law, Eugene Hurtubise, Jr., of Dublin street. Another brother, Clayton Theobald of Cleveland, Ohio, who is at present visiting his home here, was present also, and a friend, Allan Holmes of Aylmer Street.

Theobald—Pearce

OSHAWA, Aug. 9. — St. Gregory's Church was the scene of one of the mid-summer's loveliest weddings Saturday morning when Miss Sadie Caulfield Pearce, R.N., daughter of Mrs. Pearce and the late Charles Frederick Pearce, became the bride of Dr. Joseph Charles Theobald, M.A., of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Theobald, of Peterborough. Rev. Father Gregory Kelly, rector of St. Michael's Cathedral, officiated.

Given in marriage by her only brother, Frederick Charles Pearce, of Windsor, the bride was charmingly gowned in a French model of deep ivory brocaded satin cut on princess lines with a high cowl neckline and braided medieval girdle. Her French tulle veil was simply arranged and fell gracefully over the full triangular train of her gown. The bride carried in addition to a shower bouquet of Talisman roses and lily-of-the-valley a pearl rosary, the gift of her mother.

Mary Cecilia Pearce, sister of the bride, made a charming bridesmaid, gowned in a picture frock of Tyrol blue taffeta trimmed in fuchsia and wore a bonnet hat of fuchsia taffeta trimmed in Tyrol blue, and carried a bouquet of Briarcliff roses. Mr. Terry Flahiff, Toronto, acted as best man, while Dr. Dearl Slaton and Mr. James Colton, both of Toronto, were ushers.

The church was prettily decorated with pink and white gladiola for the occasion, while the wedding music was played on the organ by Miss Mary McBrady, with Miss Marguerite Callaghan soloist.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Hotel Genosha, attended by many out-of-town guests, who were received by the bride's mother, who wore a gown of Majorca blue chiffon with a shell tucked jacket, the back fullness of the gown forming a short train, and wore black accessories and a corsage of Butterfly roses. The groom's mother wore a black and white figured triple sheer chiffon over taffeta gown with matching accessories and a corsage of Butterfly roses.

The bride and groom left on a motor trip through the Laurentians and a boat trip up the Saguenay River. For travelling the bride wore a navy blue dress trimmed with Irish linen applique on short puffed sleeves and matching accessories and carried a beige coat with fox collar. Upon return Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Charles Theobald will reside in Toronto.

Bride Receives Gifts

Miss Frances Pollard of Dunlop Street entertained on Thursday evening at her home in honor of Mrs. Vincent Millen, formerly Miss Winnifred Norton. Games and refreshments were enjoyed and the bride was presented with a large number of gifts, in the form of a pantry shower, for which she made an appropriate acknowledgment.

Octogenarian is Honored

Mrs. Joseph Lee of Orpington Road, who was eighty-six years old on Friday, was guest of honor at a pleasant gathering of her neighbors, on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. E. Houghton of Orpington road. The affair took the form of a surprise afternoon tea, when Mrs. Lee was presented with a lovely bouquet of red roses, accompanying an address read by Mrs. W. Simmons.

Miss Walker is In China

Miss F. D. Walker, local delegate of the Canadian Teachers' Federation at the World Conference of Educational Associations, held at Tokyo, Japan, this summer, writes home that she is visiting friends in Shanghai, China. The weather at the time of writing was very hot, and Miss Walker says there was little chance of making a projected visit to Peiping, owing to the lack of trains and war activities. Miss Walker is one of a group of four teachers who are at present in the Orient —Miss Lillian Esplen and Miss Madge Lees of Peterborough, and a friend from St. Catharines, comprising the party. They are expected home early in September.

Mrs. Robert McAdam Is 90 Years Old

Mrs. Robert McAdam, of Keene, celebrated her 90th birthday on Thursday, August 5, when sixteen immediate members of her family gathered with her to celebrate the occasion.

Although Mrs. McAdam is not in good health, she enjoyed the occasion very much indeed.

Those from Peterborough who attended the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. David McAdam, Albert McAdam and son Harold and daughter Dolly, also Miss Jean Whitney, another granddaughter. Those from Havelock included her daughters, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Tom Bannon, Mrs. Henry Whitney, Mrs. Gerald Whitney and small daughter.

Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Tom McAdam and sons Donald and Jim, with whom Mrs. McAdam makes her home.

INTERESTING WOMEN

A series of sketches of the lives and careers of women who are outstanding in the annals of Peterborough commences today in this column. Senator Iva Campbell Fallis, who has won major political honors for herself and for this city, is first in the list.—C.L.M.

HONORABLE IVA FALLIS

Just as other children imbibe household lore at the knees of their mothers, so it might well be said that Iva Campbell Doyle drank in the rules and tenets of Conservatism as she listened to the political talk that eddied back and forth between her father and his friends in the Northumberland county home where she was born. Little did her father reck that the enthusiasm he brought to bear in his arguments with friends and neighbors was to bear illustrious fruit one day, when his small daughter would be the second woman in the far-flung Dominion to enter the Red Chamber at Ottawa, and there sit down with the solons of the masculine world to consider the problems of Canada . . .

Born at Castleton, county of Northumberland, daughter of Michael John Doyle, (warden of the county and ardent advocate of the policies of Sir John A. Macdonald), and of Jessie Stewart, Senator Fallis can lay claim to a heritage of sound Irish-Scotch blood. Educated at Colborne High School and the Normal School in Toronto, she taught school thereafter for five years, near Toronto and in Bethany and Cobourg. Then she met and "ensnared" Howard Taylor Fallis of Bethany (as she remarks herself, with a twinkle of her blue Irish eyes). They were married at Cobourg on December 8th, 1909, and lived for several years in Cobourg and in Bethany before leaving for Western Canada, to farm for seven years on the Soo line south of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, before returning to the East in 1920, to live in the old Brealey homestead on R.R. No. 3, in North Monaghan, where they spend their summers, and to which the Senators looks forward to quiet hours in the wear and tear of public life and many speaking engagements which constitutes her winter existence.

The political ability which has made her a power in the election arenas of many years past lay dormant, curiously enough, while Senator Fallis abode in the West. Harking back to those years, she will tell you that she was far too busy with duties on the farm to engage in any active political work. Soon after her return to Ontario, however, she began taking an enthusiastic interest in Conservative activities for women.

Senator Fallis, who voted for the first time while in Saskatchewan, which was the initial Canadian province to grant the vote to women, thinks that western women take a more personal interest in political matters and laws for their own sex, on account of the fact that the early laws of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, molded on those of England, bore down more heavily on womenkind, especially with regard to property rights, than those of the East. Necessity, therefore, caused the women of the West to be up and doing on their own behalf, and much of the leadership exercised by women has come from the West.

The Senator deplores the fact that women are lethargic in matters pertaining to the political arena.

The first election campaign in which she took an active part was waged in 1923 and thereafter, no campaign was complete without the participation of Mrs. Fallis. She was for six years president of the local Women's Conservative Association, for three years she was first vice president of the Provincial Conservative organization for men and women both, and was Organizer of Women later for the party, campaigning in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick in provincial elections, also in Manitoba and Saskatchewan in Federal campaigns.

A signal honor was vouchsafed Mrs. Fallis in the Winnipeg convention of 1927, when, for the first time in the history of the Dominion, a woman was placed on the agenda of a National convention to speak in conjunction with men. She was bracketed as a speaker with Sir Thomas White, Madam Fremont of Quebec, speaking in French, was the only other woman to address the convention.

It was at that convention that one of the leading men of the Conservative party intimated to Mrs. Fallis that some day her ability would be recognized by her inclusion in the personnel of the Senate.

And it was on July 20th, 1935, that the appointment of the second woman Senator in the history of Canada was made by the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, and Mrs. Fallis received the congratulations of Conservatives and Liberals alike. The first woman Senator (a Liberal appointee) was the Hon. Cairine Wilson of Ottawa.

Mrs. Fallis enjoys her work in the Senate, as she regards it as the safeguard of the minority and sectional rights in Canada, and a place where independence of thought may be exercised, as the members are not compelled to curry favor in any way, nor to seek re-election, so that they are free to work toward the best interests of the country as a whole. She regards it as possible that the question of wider divorce grounds for Canada may be up for consideration in the coming session of the House and later, in the Senate, owing to the fact that England has now taken a decisive step in this direction.

Outside of her quiet home life and her abiding and wide interest in politics, Senator Fallis is chiefly interested, perhaps, in the work of the Women's Institute. Last year, when the Associated Countrywomen of the World (the world-wide Women's Institutes) met in Washington and came later to Toronto, she was invited to speak at their luncheon in the latter city. This Autumn, she has been invited to speak at Hamilton for Western Ontario, and at Ottawa for the Eastern section of the province, by the Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Fallis is a member of the United Church of Canada (and of Trinity Church in Peterborough), and has only one close relative in the world, a brother, W. Stewart Doyle, living in North Dakota.

In a special article which appeared in the Mail and Empire at the time of Senator Fallis' appointment to the Senate, the writer remarked: "The new Senator is unassuming in manner but with that assurance that makes her words 'ring true', and she has a rare wisdom in sensing an atmosphere. Usually she is most affable, but does not hesitate when the occasion demands to cross swords with those whom she believes are under a misapprehension and are worthy of conversion. Her elevation to the Senate should add prestige to the women who take their politics seriously and who are interested in serving their native land.

In her local utterances, the Senator has gained a reputation for a wide knowledge and canny common sense which bespeak her mother's Gaelic blood, and for a rare spicing of humour and cheerful give and take a heritage of the 'little green isle' from which her father's folks drew their being.

Bride-Elect Is Tendered Shower

NORWOOD, Aug. 9.—Miss Lillian Greenbanks, B.A., a bride of the month, was given a shower at the home of Mrs. Gerald Baker, Peterborough street, on Thursday afternoon.

The afternoon was spent by working contests, and a mock wedding being performed, after which Miss Greenbank was shown to a table laden with gifts as remembrances of her school days in Norwood. Miss Greenbanks thanked each one individually as she unwrapped the parcels. Mrs. Baker then served a delicious lunch.

Those present were all old school mates: Mrs. G. Baker, Mrs. L. Freeburn, Mrs. H. Morgan, Misses Laura Cuthbertson, Olive Webster, Josephine McGee, Edith Stewart, Lila Burgess, Bertina Beavis, Lillian Greenbanks, also Mrs. A. B. Greenbanks and Mrs. Carbrey.

Trousseau Tea For Bride-Elect

(Examiner Correspondence)

NORWOOD, Aug. 9.—On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Josephine McGee, whose marriage takes place on Saturday, August 7 in Belleville United Church, entertained her friends at a trousseau tea at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. McGee. The guests were met at the door by the Misses Blanche and Mary Elmhurst, little nieces of the bride.

Miss McGee with her mother, Mrs. McGee received the friends in the living room, while sisters of the bride, Misses Helen, Marguerite, and Doris were in charge of the linens. China and the bridal trousseau which were attractively arranged.

The dining room was attractively decorated with summer flowers, where a dainty lunch was served from a lace covered table, tea being poured by Mrs. Bradshaw, and Mrs. Matt Knox, other assistants in the dining room were, Mrs. Andy McGee of Toronto, Mrs. S. Elmhurst and Mrs. T. McGee.

SUFFRAGETTE HONORED

LONDON—(CP)—The roll of honour at Charlotte Despard's 93rd birthday contained 2,500 signatures. Mrs. Despard was first president of the Women's Freedom League.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"In the hours of distress and misery, the eyes of every mortal turn to friendship, in the hour of gladness and conviviality, what is our want? It is friendship. When the heart overflows with gratitude, or with any other sacred sentiment, what is the word to which it would give utterance? A Friend." Landor. Dear Friends:

This is an answer to the many letters I have received in recent weeks. Some I have already answered in articles, and have not mentioned whom they were for by request of the writers.

Some I shall answer in later articles, so keep watching for them, as I keep your letters handy until I get inspiration to help you best. Others who desired private replies and enclosed stamped addressed envelopes have had replies sent to them.

It is amazing and surprising how many things you, my friends, ask me. Sometimes I have to search around and enquire before I get the desired information. But you must all look on me as a friend, and as the Peterborough Examiner as the means of contact, else you would not write as you do. (A letter of appreciation to the Examiner would not be amiss.)

There is a letter this morning from North Bay, but the real name is not enclosed. Please send correct name and address, as I would like to send a private reply. The article you request is not suitable for a newspaper. Your name and address will be kept confidential.

Now I would like to make a rule if I may, and that is, that everyone sending a letter to Roberta, choose a pen-name, but write their own name also. No one reads your letters but myself, so you need not hesitate. Otherwise I am afraid your letters will not be much good.

Thank you "Guid Eat" for all your encouragement. You have raised my spirit many times. To "S. A. Lassie" your letter is completely absurd, and cannot be answered. Oh yes, I got your other letters, but had to ignore them. After all, you are writing a newspaper, and they cannot print stuff like that.

To "Ange" Glad you liked that particular article, our letter was interesting although rather extreme. Do write again. To "C. P. F." I do hope the letter I sent came up to expectations.

To Mrs. R. M. N. Your letter was very sorrowful, and altho you asked for a private reply, you did not enclose a stamped addressed envelope. In fact all you did give were your initials. Look for an article soon.

In reply to letter signed "Six neighbors" please sign your names next time wont you? I shall give you more about my travels from time to time. To "Young Fellow" would it not be possible to talk this over with your Father? (Sometimes Mothers understand better than you think) I entirely agree that parents keep to much silence about certain things. Look for an article soon, which I hope will help you.

And to all the others who sent letters of appreciation, but asked for no special articles or advice, thank you from my heart. It is nice to know I fill a place in your lives, and that I write of something which you feel is meant especially for you and you alone. It is quite possible it WAS meant just for you, for many times I sit down to the typewriter not knowing what to write until God inspires me, and it is likely He has you in mind when He sends the ideas to me.

It is only by sorrow we understand another's sorrow, only by being misunderstood we can sympathize with another, so never think you are boring or wearying me. I am interested in all of you, and pray for many. And it is nice to know that when I address you as friends, you all feel that I am really, Your Friend, ROBERTA. (Write again Soon.)

Precious youngsters can't have too many little washable cotton frocks like this easy to launder pinafore. The panties make it such a complete cool outfit. The saucy buttons right up the sides and on the shoulders afford smart trim and are always amusing to tiny girls. Sleeveless also, to show off her chubby arms.

So simple to sew . . Mummy could almost run it up on the sewing machine before breakfast — and never notice it. See diagram. Cut it out and sew bias bands around the edges—hey presto. It's finished. Peterborough's Big Fair

It seems perhaps a little unkind to break into the midst of a lot of folk's holidays with an intimation that Peterborough's fall fair is just a little over a week away. Fall fairs do not seem to fit into the picture when the thermometer has been maintaining lofty heights and yet the fact remains that the annual exhibition will be staged next week. There is every indication that with good weather provided this year's event should register one of the most outstanding successes in the history of the Industrial Exhibition. Certainly this will be the case in so far as the quality of the livestock exhibits is concerned and in that department in which the local fair has already achieved such a fine record—junior farmers' work. Entries indicate a very fine showing in all departments so that the success of the agricultural side of the affair is already assured.

At the same time the entertainment end of the Peterborough Industrial has not been neglected. The directors have made sure of a most attractive program for the patrons of the grandstand and there will be fun and color aplenty along the Midway and generally throughout the Exhibition grounds. It is expected that the attendance of outside visitors will prove to be the largest the local fair has ever registered for not only will the people of Central Ontario flock to Peterborough next week but cottagers and tourists from all the lake resorts in the district have the fair listed among the attractions that they simply must see before they return home.

The Seat Of The Pharaohs

At a time when the king business is experiencing difficult days and most of the monarchs still occupying thrones serve chiefly as the symbols of departed glory, the beginning of the reign of Farouk I becomes an event of world interest.

This dignified, enlightened, handsome, self-reliant youth is the ruler of fifteen million people, the first king of a free Egypt in four centuries, the inheritor of sixty centuries of traditions since the grandeur of the Pharaohs.

If there is any magic left in legend it is to be found in this boy who has become King of Misr, Lord of Nubia and the Sudan, Sovereign of Kordofan and Darfur, the leader of a people whose origins go back to the days when the world was young and civilization was in its cradle.

From contemplating the splendor of the scene in Cairo, the minds of the thoughtful will turn to the future with speculative interest. What does it hold for the young boy who is the first ruler of a free land since Egyptian independence was wiped out by the Turkish hordes?

It is impossible to survey the troubled state of the world and at the same time predict with any reasonable degree of confidence a happy and a successful reign.

Relief For The West

The statement from Dr. Peter Bryce, moderator of the United Church in Canada, that the churches are prepared to send 300 to 500 carloads of fruit, vegetables and clothing to the drought-stricken areas of Western Canada, calls attention to the seriousness of the situation in large sections of the prairie provinces. Year after year there have been fervent hopes that a good crop would help to put the hard hit districts on their feet again and year after year has seen this optimism killed for the time being as whole sections of the west have been left without a crop at all. The courage of the people in the face of this continued bad luck has been remarkable. Looking ever forward to the coming year they have steeled themselves against hardship and deprivation and kept their faith in the ability of the west to eventually come through.

The relief that folk in the East have been able to send forward in a constant supply each summer for the past few years has done much to maintain Western morale and to ameliorate the worst effects of the crop-less seasons. In a sense good has come out of evil because the evidence furnished by the hundreds of carloads of food contributed by Canadians in the east to the assistance of the harassed Westerners that the East is not indifferent to the welfare of the West, has helped materially to create a better understanding and to kill the old impression that the folk in one part of Canada cared little or nothing about what happened to people in another.

Fantastic Legislation

The theory advanced by Alberta's provincial treasurer that it is the responsibility of chartered banks to see that the people of Alberta are supplied with $25 a month each that they have not earned and to bring about a lowered cost of living is not any more Alice-in-Wonderlandish than the other features of Premier Aberhart's fantastic bank legislation.

The whole financial program adopted at the recent special session of the Legislature is so absurd as to make it almost obligatory on the part of the Federal government to step in and put an end to the farce.

What Premier Aberhart is obviously attempting to do is to circumvent the British North America Act which has left banking under Federal administration. His bill proposes to control bank managers and employees who are to be required to take out a license and when applications are made for these licenses the legislation sets for that a local directorate appointed by the Social Credit board will be detailed to run things for the manager—a nice little arrangement by which the Alberta government hopes to run the 210 branches of chartered banks in Alberta to suit its own purposes.

To make this extraordinary legislation stand up Mr. Abernart has borrowed a leaf from the book of Premier Hepburn of Ontario who used this same method in connection with his Quebec power contracts stand. Mr. Hepburn started the fashion of placing his government above the constitution and now Alberta's premier is doing exactly the same thing for he has had introduced and passed a bill to make it impossible for any one to attack the legality of an Alberta measure in the courts without the consent of the government.

The whole situation, involving provincial interference with banks that were chartered by the Federal government, and the attempt to make the Alberta legislature a law unto itself, calls for action, from Ottawa. Alberta looks to the Federal government for financial assistance and yet its every action in this financial program suggests that the province is virtually withdrawing from Confederation. How can its government expect further assistance from the Federal treasury under such circumstances?

Stiff Penalties Needed

Magistrates in Ontario are beginning to crack down upon individuals convicted of the theft of outboard motors and it is well that they are doing so because there is evidence on every hand that this particular kind of stealing is becoming too popular. There is no mystery as to why this should be the case. The outboard motor is easily accessible to the thief, it is easily transported in a motor car and apparently it is easily disposed of in a market where no questions are asked. A couple of dishonest men can slip out of Toronto in an old car, drop into a river or lake resort at night, detach half a dozen outboard engines from the boats, pop them in the back of the car and be back in the city before morning. Once in Toronto there seems to be an underground channel for disposing of the stolen property without any trouble.

Under the circumstances therefore the courts are justified in giving convicted offenders the full penalty of the law. In fact it may become necessary in view of the prevalence of the racket and the fact that most of the thefts are committed in outlying districts where there are no police and owners have no means of protecting their property against theft, to provide for special penalties in such cases, penalties stiff enough to act as a deterrent. Otherwise this stealing of outboard motors, already a serious matter, may get out of hand altogether.

Not So Simple

The Brantford Expositor says that the government should do something to clear up the daylight saving muddle and asks how if it cannot deal with as relatively as simple a matter as that, how in the world can we expect it will ever solve the problem of unemployment, tax rates or even what do do with the C.I.O.

We must beg leave to take exception to at least part of this statement.

Daylight saving may be relatively simple but at the same time it is one of the most controversial issues of the day and politicans instinctively shy away from anything that is controversial.

It is that very fact that keeps both Canada and the United States from operating on continent-wide summer time basis, as do most of the countries of Europe.

The governments of the two countries know that daylight saving is obnoxious to the farming community and because there are many farmers and they all have votes and use them the powers-that-be quite rightly regard the question of juggling the clocks in the face of rural opposition as political dynamite—and it is just that.

And by the way while we are on this matter of daylight saving we might as well say for the benefit of the Expositor and other papers that have made the same mistake that it was not the Peterborough city council but the Peterborough county council that passed a resolution calling upon the Ontario Government to declare daylight saving illegal. Somehow or other the city fathers have been receiving all the credit or otherwise for inaugurating this attack upon the summer time plan whereas the demand for action from the government originated among the county legislators.

According to one newspaper expert the inexperience of Sopwith had a lot to do with the defeat of Endeavour II in the America's Cup race. Still it must be admitted that the British owner has had mugh more experience in losing than his American opponent.

NOTE AND COMMENT

CLEANS THE FISH

There's one in every group and clan,
A willing, happy-hearted man
Who gets the wood and lights the fires,
First quits his bed and last retires
He makes the coffee, fries the ham,
And opens every jar of jam.
And while a round of cards we play
He cleans the fish we caught that day.

The most of us who fishing go
But little of the burdens know.
We proudly talk in easy chairs
Of rods and reels and lures and snares
And where the speckled beauties lurk.
We love the sport but not the work.
But he knows best what fishing means
Who does the work behind the scenes.
Give him a knife and board and pail
And every fish we catch he'll scale.
While we go in and bathe and dress
He cleans the evening supper mess.

Pigs Is Pigs In this Case.

TWENTY years ago the corporation of Watford England established a small piggery to provide allotment holders with young pigs. Today that piggery is Watford's 300 acre pig farm. It has 250 pedigree pigs and they are exported all over the world. "The pigs are bred for profit" one of the officials stated and there is no doubt of the truth of that statement for at a recent sale of pigs the handsome total of 1,265 guineas was collected. One pig bred at the Watford farm has been champion boar at the Royal show for three years in succession. It is claimed that there are pigs that were bred at this municipal farm in every country of the world.

Five days before death he won his last battle for Tammany nominated anti-New Deal Senator Royal C. Copeland for mayor of New York.

A Friendly Gesture.

IN St. Mary the Virgin's church in Oxford a short time ago His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury did something no Primate of England had ever done before, something that the Archbishop had frostily disapproved when upon previous occasions it had been done, or proposed by lesser Anglican churchmen. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang celebrated communion at St. Mary's altar for anyone—Orthodox, Russian, Swedish Lutheran, United States Baptist or African Methodist—who cared to partake, and many a non-Anglican from all parts of the world did partake, for this friendly gesture, coming from one ordinarily so strict in churchmanship brought to a lofty end the World Conference on Church and States.

For those who think archery is an effete sport the recent contest for the men's championship of the United States should prove an eye-opener. In this three-man event each contestant fired 466 arrows at distances from 40 to 100 yards. Each shot was the equivalent of lifting 44 to 52 pounds—the average "weight" or pull of a longbow—and holding it at arm's length for 15 or 20 seconds. The result is that fatigue and nervousness often cause "archer's freeze" which paralyzes the bowman's arm and prevents him from lifting it to the point of aim.

It may not be generally known but there is a British school at Ypres which serves the purpose of affording an English education to the children of the British families who reside in that part of Belgium and who are for the most part there as a result of the war. The greater number of the men are, in fact, gardeners who tend the British war cemeteries of the Salient. So numerous are the graves that some 500 persons are thus occupied. In the years immediately following the war those who had children had no chance of bringing them up at an English educational institution but the happy idea of a group of old Etonians resulted in the opening of this British school in 1929. It was a bold experiment but from the first about 50 children attended and now there are over 100. Moreover English is now definitely the language of the playground as well as of the class room. Many of the children who first played there were almost ignorant of their native tongue.

Hay-Drying Machines.

BRITISH farmers are now making use of hay drying machinery with very satisfactory results. The drier is arranged to dry the grass in two successive stages. The wet grass is first placed on a tray having the bottom formed of a perforated plate, through which hot gases from a furnace are passed and discharged to atmosphere above the grass. After the grass has been partially dried on this tray it is transferred by hand to a second tray to complete the drying process. The second tray is similar to the first.

WHY MEN FALTER

Editor Examiner:

Sir: By some strange mistake in reasoning many people arrive at the idea that Christianity must be "believed" as we would believe a result in simple arithmetic. It seems that it is necessary to give unqualified assent and therefore causing rebellion against it. St. Paul it will be remembered says that faith is the evidence of things hoped for, an entirely different proposition. In the first place it is not a matter of deductive demonstration and cannot be but of inference. It is clearly stated in the Bible that a contrite heart and a willing mind are the first consideration and after that we are assured we "shall know of the doctrine." Nor is it a theory. There is something that we see and experience in nature which we cannot explain and it is upon this plain and probable foundation that we proceed to fill up the voids in our lives.

WARNING WHISTLES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: In regard to the report in The Examiner on August 2 of an accident at the corner of Romaine and George Streets on the evening of August 2 I would like to correct some statements, which were made, to the effect that the car that I was driving was almost completely wrecked when it ran into a box car just behind the locomotive of the train. That was an error. What happened was this. I was coming up town on George Street an when approaching Romaine Street slowed down to about ten miles an hour. I heard no whistle or bells and saw no headlight from the locomotive, as the lights from Bogue's drug store and the garage across the street made everything bright. There was considerable traffic and noise. I thought everything was O. K. to cross, and just as the head of the car was on the track the locomotive struck the left side at the front door and threw the auto over against the post and the locomotive passed on. The auto was not dragged a foot as the post held it clear of the cars behind. Now I would like to say that I have always depended on warnings from the whistle at all level crossings except those that are protected. The council persuaded by Mr. Gordon passed a bylaw to prohibit locomotives from blowing whistles at the level crossings in the city, about 80 in all and hundreds of motorists are confused as a result.

Does Mr. Gordon think that a whistle in the early part of the night means more to a person walking on the street or in bed than warning at the crossings means to the thousands of autoists who depend upon whistles as a safeguard?

The Man With the Hose

A Garden May Mean Work But It Brings Its Reward.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

IF urged only by a sense of duty then one who waters a garden may be forgiven if he classes his job with the other chores in any day's doings. He deserves a certain amount of sympathy, as do all unfortunates who mistakenly make work out of what should be play. But to the happy lover of green things growing, treating them to regulated showers until they are all agleam and aglow ranks always with pleasures, and never with tasks unwillingly done.

For the greatest enjoyment the undertaking needs a garden so circumscribed by a close setting hedge, or a grey, time-weathered fence, that every corner is easy of access. Each plant must get a full share when watering is done skilfully, and a patched and friendly old hose sends fountains fluttering upwards, or little rivers flying through the air. Always it is a work of love to one who has planted with care, weeded in anguish, and de-insected with a diligence bordering on frenzy.

A garden may mean work but it brings its reward, to those in whom a bit of flower love lingers. It lies in part in watching sprinkled foliage react to pseudo-rain. In seeing it give thanks so evident that almost it is audible to ears well attuned. Blossoms, too, show their gratitude, as they lift their lovely heads, shake away the tears they did not shed, and flirt and smile, and bow and bend.

Whether the sun is rising for the day, or sinking out of sight to leave a trail of darkness, a garden freshly watered is surely a place of peace. Birds are its untrained choristers, and incense is never lacking.

In the domain he makes his own the man with the hose is all powerful. He can prevent an oasis from sinking back to a desert—he is master of a little world full to overflowing with grace, and charm and beauty.

And this being so, why in certain cities, great and small, must there be arid spots adjacent to homes? Places that know no hum of bees, and lacking blossoming things, bear ugly crops of tins and waste, and possibly a weed that braves conditions where beauty can find no refuge.

Moderate Eating In Summer

Too Many People Forget The Value of Light Diet.

(From the Galt Reporter.)

ONE of the largest life insurance companies of this continent had its medical director send out information to policyholders on matters relative to their health. The object in that is to conserve the lives of the clients so that they may continue to pay premiums and not become a liability to the concern. The information is likely to be worth consideration and one of the subjects being dealt with in some detail is the matter of summer diet.

It is well known that many people have attacks of digestive trouble as soon as the weather becomes intensely hot. They are uncomfortable and miserable until cooler weather sets in.

The medical man of the insurance concern says that these people could avoid the digestive disturbances by paying more attention to what they eat and drink during the summer months. He points out that it is unwise to keep on a winter diet in summer but that it is also inadvisable to reduce the ration too greatly. What he advises is three balanced meals with a preponderance of fruit and vegetables.

One of the summer habits is the resort to attacks of digestive discomfort is the resort to drinks that are too cold. People are cautioned to avoid that habit but are advised to drink plenty of fluid in order that the moisture of the body lost through evaporation, may be promptly restored.

The majority of people have an idea that very cold drinks are necessary as an antidote to the high temperatures. The point which they miss is that the shock of this cold fluid may be too severe for the system and it may arrest the natural processes of digestion in a way that might have grave results.

Most of the advice on diet can be summed up in the term, moderation. Those who are inclined to over-eat are going to have trouble whether the season be winter or summer while those who have mastered the art of keeping their appetite under control are likely to build up a healthy constitution which will be fairly immune to the onset of disease.

Protect the Beaver Dams

Would Be Tourist Lure If Left Unmolested.

(From the Kitchener Record.)

ALTHOUGH the beaver now have the protection of an entire closed season for the whole of Ontario, the department of game and fisheries should go a step further and make some provision whereby the dams built by these animals are left unmolested.

Commenting on this subject, the Owen Sound Sun-Times says: "The sole argument against the beaver seems to be that his dam backs up water which in some cases floods as much as from 30 to 35 acres." The owner of property where the dam is constructed may demand damages; if so, the department apparently has no alternative when damages are sought but to destroy the dams.

Our contemporary points out that the beaver invariably builds its dam on a clear, cool spring creek, and the land it floods is rarely of much value. There is generally a loss of the poorer type of swamp trees, but to compensate there is a small lake created that is of much reservoir value to adjacent land, and perhaps capable of becoming a speckled trout sanctuary. "If the towns near these beaver dams were looking for a high type of tourist attraction," suggests the Sun-Times, "they might do worse than buy this land and establish a beaver park."

The suggestion of the Owen Sound paper is somewhat in line with the views expressed recently by a former reeve of one of the townships of Simcoe county. This man is greatly interested in the beaver. Having kept close tab on a dam built by these industrious little animals near his own property. One morning he discovered that the dam was destroyed and the beavers' efforts were nullified. He is convinced that if beaver were left unmolested the dams they construct would go a long way in checking forest fires.

It would be a fine thing if we had a "hands off" regulation anent beaver dams. Many of us have never seen the work of the beaver and would no doubt get quite a kick out of seeing a beaver dam in its natural setting. Trapping of these animals is prohibited the year round. Why not afford them this additional protection?

MEN AND DOGS.

(Detroit Free Press)

IN the course of the last week or two, there has been a great deal of discussion about what a motorist should do when he finds himself in danger of hitting a human being unless he hits a dog.

It doesn't seem to have occured to any of the disputants that the real thing to do is to drive in such a manner that it will be possible to avoid hitting either a man or a dog.

And may we suggest in passing that the person who is callous about hitting a dumb beast and is deaf to the cries of injured animals, is apt to be the same way about human beings.

The person who hits a dog and runs is of the same stuff that other hit-run drivers are made.

OUTLAW STRIKES.

(New York Times)

WHEN the General Motors Corporation reported last [illegible] that there were just ten days during the second quarter of this year on which its plants were wholly free from one kind of "outlaw" strike or another, it emphasized a question of increasing concern to American industry. Probably most of the business leaders of the country believe that the organized trade union movement is here to stay and likely to grow. Doubtless many of them would agree that its growth along constructive lines ought plainly to be welcomed. But the prevalence of an attitude of irresponsibility on the part of some of the trade unions, and the experience of making contracts which are promptly broken, have created obstacles which would not otherwise appear in the path of labor movement.

JOHN D. DID.

(Port [illegible] thur News-Chronicle)

NOTICED from an observation point on the walk in front of the Prince Arthur Hotel:

An apparently well to do guest was standing in the doorway, waiting for a garage attendant to bring his car that he and his party might leave the city on completion of their visit to Port Arthur.

A boy brought the car. The owner proceeded to pay him. In the transaction a one cent piece dropped from the garage boy's hand to the roadway. He made no effort to retrieve it. The car owner noticed and asked the lad "Aren't you going to pick up your money?"

"We don't pick up coppers in this country," was the boy's reply as he walked away on his return to the garage.

The reply was an act of discourtesy to the visitor. It was more than that. Among other things it pointed to the improbability that the boy who disdained to pick up the copper would ever in his own life be standing in the doorway of a first class hotel waiting for some garage attendant to bring around his car.

John D. Rockefeller used to save his coppers.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Lower Liverpool cables and late weakness of United States markets prompted selling on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, leaving final wheat prices 2⅝ to 2½ cents lower. October closed at $1.22¾, December $1.10¾ and May $1.21½.

Liverpool wheat eased on reports of rains in Argentina and partially reacted when later reports revealed moisture in Argentina was insufficient in some wheat growing sections.

Wheat future here declined more than a cent on opening trades due to light outside and local selling. Though firmness was noted around mid-session when small sales to seaboard interests and purchases of October wheat by Chicago interests, general support was virtually absent.

When United States prices eased toward the close, the losses were fully reflected here.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, August 9 — (C.P.). — Trade was slow on the Toronto Livestock Market to-day, with many classes of cattle showing easier prices. Calves were strong, while bids were lower on sheep and lambs and no definite prices were established for hogs. Cattle holdover from Thursday was 400 head.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 8,500; calves, 1,800; hogs, 1,700; sheep and lambs, 2,500.

Good weighty steers made $9 to $9.50, with common selling down to $7.25. Butcher steers and heifers sold at $7.50 to $7.75, with a few steers as high as $8. Common grades sold down to $5.50. Cows went at $4.75 to $5 for good down to $2.25 for canners. Bologna bulls were from $3.50 to $4.25, with good butcher bulls, selling for export, at $4.75 to $5.25.

Fed calves were strong, good and choice bringing $10 to $11, odd sales reaching $11.50. Plain quality were as low as $8. Store cattle sold fairly actively, 25 cents lower at $3.50 to $4.50 for common and at $5.50 to $5.75 for good.

Good veal calves were strong at $7 to $9.50. Common ranged down to $5.50. Grassers sold from $3.50 to $4.50.

Previous close for off-truck bacons was $10.85 to $11.

There were no sales on sheep and lambs early in the day and bids were lower.

URGES ECONOMY

Suspect Sabotage When 100 Killed In Wreck

Volunteers are shown aiding injured persons beneath the wrecked coaches of the Punjab-Calcutta express after the train had plunged over an embankment near Patua, India, killing over 100 and injuring 200 persons. The disaster, the worst in Indian railroad history, was caused by a torn-up rail. Authorities are conducting an investigation into rumors of sabotage.

PROTECTION IS PROMISED

pany nevertheless agreed to negotiate with this committee in order to avoid unnecessary delay and thus ensure a speedy return to work of those of its employees who had been forced into idleness through no fault or wish of their own.

"Negotiations followed during the whole of which the company expressed its desire for a speedy and amicable settlement and thus avoid unnecessary distress among our workers.

"As the result of these negotiations the company submitted a proposal embodying many points of benefit to its employees, explaining, that under existing conditions, this proposal represented all that the company is financially able to do, maintaining also, to the best of its knowledge and belief, that the wages paid in its mills in Peterborough are as high, if not higher, than those paid elsewhere in similar classes of work.

"The company has further stated that it will facilitate in every possible way any inquiry which may be made by the Industry and Labor Board relative to conditions in the Textile Industry in Ontario and will naturally abide by any findings that this board may make.

"This notice therefore advises that instructions have been received by the undersigned from the management of our company to re-open these mills on Tuesday, August 10th, at 8.00 a.m., to again provide employment for those who desire to return to work, which action it is considered, is in the best interests of all concerned."

Mr. Leybourne and Mr. Melton stated that they had been promised protection for their employees by Mayor Macdonald. Mayor Macdonald declined to state what form the protection would take and it was not learned whether or not the recent offer of Premier Hepburn to send in any number of Provincial police necessary was being considered. Police Chief Newhall refused to reveal his plans.

First hint that the company was planning to open its plants today came over the week-end.

In reply to his request last Friday for an interview with Premier Hepburn on the subject of the strike here, G. N. Gordon, K.C., received a communication from Mr. Hepburn Saturday. He was invited to meet the Premier and J. F. Marsh, Deputy Minister of Labor, this morning at Queen's Park at 11 a.m., and to bring with him a deputation.

It is understood Mr. Gordon invited Henry Barrett, managing director of the Dominion Woollens, Mr. Leybourne of the Auburn plant, Mr. Melton of the Bonner-Worth, Fred Tuggey, chairman of the Textile Workers Relief Committee which Mr. Gordon organized, and Alderman James Hamilton, a member of the Relief Committee.

Mr. Leybourne and Mr. Melton informed Mr. Gordon they would not accompany him to the meeting by reason of the urgency of "other plans." It is reported Mr. Gordon was informed that Mr. Barrett would be absent from Toronto today by reason of the pressure of business elsewhere. Alderman Hamilton declined to make the trip, stating his intention to leave the district on vacation and Mr. Tuggey said his work here today would not leave him free for the trip.

Before his departure for the meeting in Toronto, Mr. Gordon said he would ask the Premier that minimum wage rates be established for the textile industry in Ontario and that efforts to obtain a 15 percent increase in wages and rates for Auburn and Bonner-Worth workers in Peterborough be made.

Strikers re-affirmed a solidarity and willingness to follow the lead of their union at a mass meeting in the Paragon Hall Sunday evening. In the nature of an inspirational rally rather than a business meeting, the event saw the small hall packed to the doors with an overflow on the sidewalk outside. The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the assembly:

"That we endorse the actions of our union leaders and representatives with respect to negotiations, and further resolve that we will be guided only by the recommendations of union representatives regarding settlement of the strike and further resolve that we call upon our organized brothers and sisters in the international trade union movement for assistance in utilizing all available means of effecting a speedy and satisfactory settlement of the strike and to help to maintain us pending this settlement."

Mr. Gordon declined to reveal the total amount collected by taggers for strike relief on Saturday, but it was learned from strikers that the total was a few cents over $300. Mr. Gordon issued the following statement concerning the tag day which was sponsored by the relief committee:

"The amount of the tag day receipts were considerably lower than the week before because of the shortage of taggers, but not through the unwillingness of people to give. Although it was arranged for tagging to take place on Saturday night in the doors of the larger stores, restaurants and beverage rooms, only six of the Auburn and Bonner-Worth employees appeared on the scene to collect money, so the receipts are down through the lack of organization of the employees of the two plants."

Mr. Gordon said to supplement this he expected a garden party and bazaar would be held next Wednesday, organized by some of the women and workers' friends of this city.

Mr. Tuggey and Alderman Hamilton joined with Mayor Macdonald in expressing the opinion it would be wise for employees to return to work pending action by the Industry and Labor Board, after their meeting at the Mayor's office with Mr. Melton and Mr. Leybourne on Saturday. At the meeting the two company managers reviewed the situation for the benefit of the Mayor and the two members of the Textile Workers' Relief Committee, and explained the concessions which the company offered strikers previous to the breakdown of the last negotiations.

MAYOR PROMISES TO AID WORKERS

sired at that time 'since we have communicated our request for negotiations to the company and are awaiting a reply.' Mr. English desired that the offer of the committee's services be kept open 'pending further developments.'

"However," said Mayor Macdonald, "those further developments spoken of by the Strike committee never materialized apparently, because the committee's services were never called upon. It is my conviction that the Council's committee if given the opportunity at the proper stage in the developments would have obtained greater results for the strikers than anything obtained for them by the course instituted by Mr. Welch and Mr. Cohen and with much better feeling on all sides.

"During the first week of July I had several conferences with representatives of the company in which I urged on behalf of the strikers and the welfare of the citizens as a whole, that the company do everything in its power to arrange a satisfactory settlement. This I was assured, the company was endeavoring to do, but that the wage problem involved must be considered as it applied to the textile industry of the Province, that wages could not be increased in the Peterborough plants, without the company suffering loss of markets, unless wages in the industry throughout Ontario were increased proportionately.

"I continued my interviews with executives of the company in an effort to try and solve the problems of the strike and to alleviate the situation for employees and the city generally.

"In the meantime," stated the Mayor, "a sympathetic friend to the strikers approached me regarding the securing of a tag day for the unemployed workers of the company. I immediately took the matter up with my two fellow members of the Police Commission and a tag day was granted. The tag day brought, I believe $832.00 for relief for employees of the company.

"This same man suggested at the conclusion of the tag day that I should appoint an independent citizen of high repute who would help to administer the funds received by the tag day. I consulted the chairman of the Strike committee on this point and he agreed immediately that the appointment of such a person to aid in the administering of the funds was desirable and he asked me to name such a person. I prevailed upon a man whom I respect to act in this capacity submitted his name to the chairman of the Strike committee, who said this person was completely satisfactory to him and thanked me for my action."

"A day or two later to my surprise I read in The Examiner that Alderman Gordon has been accepted to head a committee to secure funds for relief and to manage the funds secured from the tag day. I asked Mr. English about this and he said that when Mr. Welch and others who had been out of the city when we made our arrangements, had returned they disapproved of the appointment. Mr. English stated that he was told he had acted without proper authority. This is but an example of the outside interference which I believe is mitigating against a settlement of the strike.

Continued Effort

"I continued my efforts with executives of the company in endeavoring to secure a settlement of the strike.

"In a desire to have a conference between the Council's committee and the Striker's Committee I had the Deputy City Clerk write the chairman of the Strike Committee on August 4th asking for an interview with him. Mr. English and I conferred that afternoon. I asked Mr. English to arrange to have the Strike Committee confer with the Council's Committee so that we might discuss the situation relative to the strike. Mr. English said he did not think he could answer as to whether or not such a conference could be arranged until Monday, August 9th. He said he must refer it to the Strike Committee and Mr. Welch and consider such a conference in respect to matters already underway.

"On Friday a letter from the Strike Committee was delivered to my office at the City Hall. Again in this letter the Strike Committee did not accept the services of the committee, but stated that later the strikers might find the committee helpful in deliberations.

"I am giving this statement to The Examiner in fairness so that the public may be informed of what has been transpiring.

"May I say that from my interviews with executives of the company," continued the Mayor "I believe they are fully appreciative of the loss to the city as a whole due to the strike. It appears that the company from the records is of the opinion that the wages paid at its plants in Peterborough are as high as those prevailing in similar plants throughout the province and that no increases in wages can be granted in Peterborough unless wages are similarly increased in the plants of their competitors. Further, I have every reason to believe that proposals as submitted by the company to the bargaining committee will be put into effect at the earliest possible time.

"Mr. Henry Barrett, Managing Director, has stated that he is willing to have the Ontario Industry and Labor Board study the textile industry of the Province and will abide by the Board's ruling in respect to wages, providing such regulations will apply to the industry of the Province.

CALGARY CHINESE FILES HIS ENTRY CANADIAN BISLEY

One Woman, Mrs. J. N. Dow, Will Take Part in Connaught Rifle Shoot.

STARTS TO-DAY.

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont., Aug. 9—(CP)—An international contingent of more than 450 riflemen were ready to start competition to-day in the premier shooting event of the country, the Dominion of Canada Rifle Associations annual event.

One woman, Mrs. J. Neal Dow of Saint John, N.B., and one Chinese, Frank Ho Lem of Calgary, were among the entries, which were received from Australia, England and the United States.

After spending nearly all yesterday cleaning and getting their shooting equipment in order, the numerous youngsters entered this year, as well as the veterans, were eagerly awaiting their turn to start one week of competition that will be climaxed by the Governor Generals match, carrying a gold medal—the King's Prize of Canada.

Returning from Bisley just in time to file his entry, C.S.M. George Emslie was ready to defend honors he won last year in a shoot-off with Sergt. Jim Kier of Vancouver and Capt. A. W. Hunt of Winnipeg. Another favorite was Capt. Jack Steele of Guelph, Ont., winner of the Grand Aggregate at the Quebec meet which finished Saturday.

Friday fifth day of the meet, will be a big day for the Cadets. Shooting will be suspended on all ranges while the English and Canadian Cadets battle for possession of the Michael Faraday Trophy, held by Canada. Eight-men teams will fire 10 rounds each at 300 and 500 yards.

JUDGE RELEASES WHITBY WOMAN

friend of the Drakes family. The informations were sworn out by Joseph Nesbitt.

At the preliminary hearing in Oshawa two weeks ago Lewis Duncan, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Drakes, protested that the informations were sworn out for Nora Drakes, daughter of Mrs. Emily Drakes, and that the wrong woman had been arrested. Magistrate Ebbs, at the request of Crown Attorney Gordon Conant, altered the informations to read: "Emily K. Drakes alias Daisy Drakes," of which Mr. Justice Jeffrey in Supreme Court on Saturday morning pointed out that the effect was to substitute an entirely different person from the person named in the information.

Forgery Charge Quashed.

At a previous hearing His Lordship had quashed the forgery charge, leaving that of uttering, which he dealt with on Saturday. Meanwhile, Mrs. Drakes was held in custody at the Whitby Jail, with bail at $6,000, which was not met.

Mrs. Drakes was remanded until this morning when she will appear before Magistrate Gee of Lindsay, who is taking the bench in the absence of Magistrate F. S. Ebbs, who is on holidays.

bound ferry, and took him to Clayton.

There one, O. E. Hellman, agent for Miss Hohnan, was waiting.

He took one look, said "That's not the dog."

So, Mr. Wood and the spurious Nigger went back to Gananoque.

Came the night. And another day. And more 'phone calls from Miss Hohnann. And more search for Nigger.

Then twenty-eight hours after the search started Nigger was reported to be scampering around in another garden. Again Wood voiced his formula of identity. Again the dog halted in flight. Again a trip to Clayton.

Now Miss Hohnann has her "Nigger." This was the right dog.

There was one more 'phone call. She telephoned from Rochester to say she was sending a reward.

TWO TORONTO CARS ARE IN COLLISION

Automobiles Meet at Corner of Reid and Stewart Streets Sunday Afternoon.

Two Toronto cars were extensively damaged in a head-on collision at Reid and Stewart streets intersection on Sunday at 1.15 p.m., but the respective drivers and their passengers escaped injury with exception of a Miss McLaughlin, 599 Willard avenue, who complained of a strained back.

Miss McLaughlin was a passenger in a car that was proceeding on Reid street in the direction of Chemong driven by Frank Berry, 650 Willard avenue, Toronto. Other passengers in the Berry car were Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Yates.

The accident was thought to have been caused when a car proceeding into the city from the opposite direction and driven by E. S. Walker, 1 Traymore avenue, Toronto, proceeded over the intersection onto Stewart street believing that the highway continued on in that direction. Passengers in Walker car were Both cars were stated to be insured.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN BARLOW.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 9—The funeral of the late Georgina Mumby, wife of John Barlow, was conducted on Saturday afternoon, from the B. A. Curtis Funeral Parlors, thence to the Havelock United Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. W. G. Swayne, Anglican minister, from Tweed, in the absence of Rev. R. E. Lemon. The use of the church was kindly extended, since St. John's Anglican Church, of which Mrs. Barlow was a member, is temporarily closed, due to damages sustained in a recent fire.

The late Mrs. Barlow, born near Bonarlaw, some seventy-five years ago, died at Nicholls Hospital in Peterborough on Thursday morning. She had been removed to the hospital two weeks previously when her condition became quite critical, following a fall on June 18th, in which she suffered a fractured shoulder.

A very sad feature in connection with her death was the circumstances which prevented her husband from attending the service. Mr. Barlow being critically injured in an automobile accident last Tuesday afternoon, when returning from Peterborough, following a visit to the hospital.

Left to mourn her passing, besides her sorrowing husband, are two daughters, Mrs. C. Timmerman of Kingston and Mrs. Johnston of Victoria, B.C., and two sons, Stanley of Town and Fred of Vancauver, B.C.

Following the service at the church, interment took place at Maple Grove Cemetery. Pall-bearers were: Messrs. E. J. Leeson, H. Wing, J. Burnett, G. Watson, F. Watson, and W. Hill, all of town.

Among relatives and friends attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barlow and daughter Muriel, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty, of Stirling; Mrs. Cooper, of Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. Frost, of Frankfort; Miss Irene Barlow of Kingston; Miss Winifred Barlow, of Toronto; Mrs. Dan. Kennedy, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Grey of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Brown, of Trenton; Mr. Vernon Wood, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, of Peterborough; Mrs. James Fowler, of Peterborough; Miss Beatty of Trenton.

MRS. HENRY REED

The death occurred at Lakefield on Sunday morning of Hannah Marshal Weaver the dearly beloved wife of Charles Henry Reed, in her seventy-fifth year. She passed away after a lengthy illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Ruttle.

Besides her husband she leaves four daughters, Mrs. W. D. Ruttle, Lakefield, Mrs. A. R. McWilliams, Toronto, Mrs. A. E. O'Rielly and Mrs. Percy Schweir both of Peterborough and three sons, Herbert H. Reed, Elcho, Wisconsin; Percy Reed, Peterborough and Wilbert Reed, Lakefield, and also four sisters and five brothers.

The funeral is to be held from the residence of Mrs. Ruttle at Lakefield on Tuesday at 2 o'clock p.m. (Standard Time) to Lakefield Cemetery for interment.

MRS. THOMAS EDGAR

A lifelong resident of this district passed away in the person of Mrs. Thomas Edgar at Nicholls Hospital on Saturday, August 7. The deceased, who was born Martha Dion, lived for a number of years on the Chemong road and leaves to mourn the loss, seven brothers and one sister. She was a devout member of the United Church at Hall's Glen.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2.30 (D.S.T.) from the residence of her brother, David Dion, Lot 30, Concession 5, Dummer, with the Rev. Mr. Wilkinson officiating.

Couriers of Progress

The value of the service rendered by the newspaper is greater now than at any time in history. The pace of progress has quickened; things foreign and distant yesterday are near and neighbours today. Therefore, a constant source of reliable, last-minute news has become more essential than ever before to the welfare of the individual, community and nation alike.

The daily newspapers continue to satisfy this need. They are the couriers of progress, providing intimate contact between the man in the street and all phases of human endeavour.

The newspapers interpret the scientist, the laboratory worker, the engineer. They report quickly and impartially the development of new products and services which individually and collectively bring about higher standards of living.

The news and information thus made available increase a man's ability to produce and permits a greater enjoyment of living.

Consequently, every daily newspaper is blazing trails to new heights of individual and national achievement. More than two million Canadian families keep pace with progress in all phases of international, national and local affairs every day by means of their newspapers.

REV. E. W. YOUNG OPENS MINISTRY AT ST. ANDREW'S

New Minister Conducts Union Service of St. Andrew's and Trinity.

NEW HEART NEEDED.

Rev. E. W. Young opened his ministry in Peterborough at the union service of Trinity and St. Andrew's Churches held on Sunday morning. Mr. Young thanked the members of the congregation for the cordial welcome they had given to him. He had found it hard to leave many kind friends in London after a nine years' pastorate, but he was sure that he would meet many fine people in Peterborough. He was glad to know that there was a spirit of fellowship between the two congregations united for the summer months. He would do his utmost to foster that spirit of co-operation. He had always realized that he was a minister of the whole church rather than of one congregation. He hoped to prove himself a loyal member of the Presbytery and Conference.

Mother Heart of Church.

Mr. Young's sermon was on "The Mother Heart of the Church." Two of the greatest creations of God were the mother and the church — one a monument of unfailing love, the other the repository of divine wisdom. Paul's pastoral spirit, the yearning tenderness, were the fifth ... ces of the mother heart in the time ... church.

... functions of the mother and the church were similar in many respects. To care for the young is the primary office of motherhood. We find it in the animal world. The little bird makes countless journeys to provide food for her offspring. The wild lion will fight to the death to save her cubs. The human child is longer in coming to maturity than any other species, yet the mother's patience never dreams down, her sacrificial spirit is endless.

Training of the Young.

The most important function of the church is the training of the young. There are other necessary duties, such as the missionary spirit, the Christianization of the social order, the provision of funds for various enterprises. The highest function, however, is to put the stamp of Christ upon the plastic material of youth. It is a merciful fact that there is a succession of young people always coming into the world. Sometimes it is a disturbing fact to older people. Consider how moribund and stale the world would be without the fresh ideas of young people. It is only Christian youth that can build a new world after the pattern of Jesus Christ.

Compassion for the weak and helpless is involved in true motherhood. The mother's solicitude for a sick child is magnificent. She sleeps at night in a fitful manner. The noises outside do no waken her, but one moan from the child's cot will arouse her at once. The mother will often shield the erring son, and sometimes her heart will master her judgment. The defective child in a family is the chief object of the mother's solicitude. The church should possess the mother heart in caring for those who are moral truants. Timothy was weak in some respects, and we find that Paul's nature was specially ... ched by that weakness. Jesus identified himself with Zaccheus and Mary Magdalene. The shepherd seeks the lost sheep, the physician tracks disease to its hiding place that he may cast it out. The church is not a social club in which nice people get to enjoy one another's company. The true saints are people with yearning passion for the sinful and degraded.

Immortal Dreamer.

The mother is the immortal dreamer. In her heart she believes that there never was child like hers. No matter what other people think she carries the dream in her heart. Baby contests are becoming unpopular, they should never have been tolerated. They wound mother love in its tenderest area. Mary pondered in her heart concerning the Child Jesus. A popular legend says that she saw the shadow of a cross in the carpenter's shop. We cannot measure the agony of the Madonna. The mother believes in the worthless scapegrace when everybody else has lost faith in him. Jesus had faith in unpromising people. His disciples became great because of their Master's confidence in them. A boy was playing with a worthless stone in Kimberley; an expert saw the glistening diamond, and the famous mines were discovered. The church needs dreamers more than it needs anything else. Where there is no vision, the people perish. The mischievous boy may become a successful missionary of the Gospel. We should think of what worthless people may become if they are touched with the magic wand of Jesus. The great leaders of the church have been mystics and dreamers who worked hard to realise their dreams.

The church needs the mother heart, a new emotion to quicken her energies and awaken her powers. Emotion is the driving power of life. Love has accomplished greater things than hate. The church is composed of individuals and each one of us should pray God to give us a new heart this morning. We are sure that He will answer that prayer.

Farmers In Brant Uneasy Over Rains

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP).—Brant farmers, who had looked confidently to a good harvest this year, looked with dismay on the weather to-day.

Following cloud burst Friday and Saturday and a heavy rain Sunday, to-day turned up with more rain which will make difficult the harvest and possibly sprout cut grain yet in the fields.

The ground is saturated as it was in the late spring, delaying the seeding, and no implements can get on the land for any purpose. Corn, potatoes and late roots, will benefit providing that the excess moisture does not bring rot.

Seven thousand people of the Koryak and Lamut tribes in the Kamchatka district of Asia saw their first show when a cutpoet theatre mounted on dogs and reindeer sledges gave 68 performances in a tour of 1,200 miles this year.

Indian M.P.

Pretty enough to give most film queens a run for their money, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pundit, ABOVE, is also possessed of more than the usual amount of brains. She is the first woman in the political history of India to be appointed to a political post. Mrs. Punlit recently won a seat in U.P. cabinet congress, which roughly corresponds to an English member of parliament.

JUNIOR CAPTURE J. J. DUFFUS CUP

Youth Has Its Day in Sailing Races of Chemong Regatta.

Sailing races at Chemong Lake on Saturday afternoon were featured by the victory of the sloop "Skidley."

Although manned by a crew of juniors racing in competition for the first time she crossed the finishing line, to win the J. J. Duffus Trophy, leaving the "Bootlegger" and "Resolute" trailing in second and third places respectively.

The winning sloop which was ably managed by the lads despite the lack of a breeze favourable to racing conditions, was skippered by Craig Somerville. Other members of the youthful winning crew were his brother Frank Somerville and Harold and Gordon Matthews.

"Bootlegger" in second place was skippered by Gordon Matthews, Sr., with the regular crew consisting of Jerry and Carl Duffus and Graham Eastwood. And while Mr. Matthews did not have the satisfaction of seeing his sloop win the trophy, he had the unusual satisfaction of seeing it awarded to his sons and nephews who comprised the crew of the "Skidley".

Tom Vanatta, stated to be an instructor at West Point Military Academy skippered the "Resolute" which he owns, being assisted by his wife and by Bill Willoughby of Washington.

In the second open sloop race postponed from Sturgeon Lake Regatta, Mr. Vanatta's "Resolute" finished in first place, with the "Skidley" still manned by its youthful crew in second place. The "Bootlegger" was a poor third.

The Peterborough Canoe Cup for 14-foot dinghies was won by the Hopkins crew from Sturgeon Lake. Second place was taken by Dave Flavelle of Sturgeon Lake who was accompanied by his sister Miss Betty Flavelle. A Lakefield dinghy skippered by George Cooke finished third.

FORM FILM COUNCIL

LONDON—(CP).—A British Films Advancement Council, whose object is to further the interests of British films, was formed at a meeting of representatives of both Houses of Parliament.

THIEF IS UNABLE TO "JIMMY" INTO SAFE IN GARAGE

Six Watches and Several Flashlights Stolen From Hood & Cumming Garage.

NO MONEY TAKEN.

A safe in the floor of Hood & Cummings' service station on George Street resisted the "jimmying" and inexpert attacks of a thief who froze a rear window to enter the building early on Sunday morning.

Five or six watches were stolen and several flashlights are also missing, but apparently no money was found by the intruder, who may have had a companion.

The safe is of cylindrical form, about six inches in diameter, and is sunk in the floor about one foot. It is placed at the south-east corner of the office, and probably only a few customers were aware of its location. The handle of the safe with which it could be lifted out of the floor was broken off, some of the tiles were split, and there were other signs of the bludgeoning the little bank resisted. A grease gun was also damaged.

The door of the office of the service station was open when Jack Peck arrived on Sunday morning at 7.30 o'clock and apparently it had been left open by the thief.

WAR IN EUROPE TO ENGULF WORLD

Anti-Nazi German Authority Claims Continent Too Closely Tied Abroad.

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP).—A discussion on the present European outlook begun Sunday by Dr. Hans Simons, New York School of Social Research, eminent anti-Nazi German authority on foreign affairs, was continued to-day at the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics in Geneva Park here.

Dr. Simons told the gathering yesterday there was no chance of disarmament in Europe. The only chance for peace was the stopping of armament building at a given point and then placing trust in the status quo.

'If war does occur it will not be a European war but a world war, for European countries are basically interested in other parts of the world," he said.

Dr. Simons will be followed tonight by Lord Eustace Percy, member of the British House of Commons, who yesterday spoke on "How Shall Democracy Educate for Citizenship?" His conception of a democracy was a government immediately responsive and sensitive to the desires of its citizens.

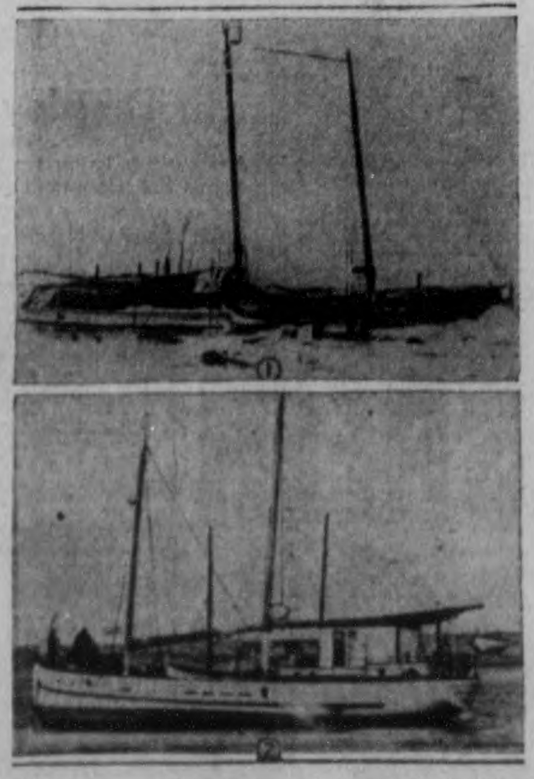
"Those desires must control all legislation and taxation," he said. "Too, we believe in a strong executive which must be both at the same time responsible to parliament and independent of passing currents of popular opinion."

"The authority" in a British Commonwealth Government was not simply the will of the majority, said Lord Percy. It was partly the British tradition of common law as the custom of a folk, "the mould in which our lives are set, and partly because behind those laws or commands we recognize an authority which has a stamp upon it from God."

MADE ISLAND AGAIN

MONT ST. MICHAEL, France—(CP).—The much-discussed dyke which joins Mont Saint Michel with the mainland is to be cut for a distance of 1,700 feet, giving it the status of an island, as originally.

R.C.M.P. Boat Effects Rescue



A thrilling rescue by members of the crew of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police schooner St. Roch saved the lives of six men as their ship was sinking in the frozen wastes of Canada's north land. Locked in the grinding ice near Bernar Harbor, N.W.T., the Hudson's Bay schooner, Fort James, sank shortly after the six members of the crew had been taken aboard the Mounted Police boat. The St. Roch, which effected the rescue is shown in the Upper photograph, while a sister ship of the St. James, the Fort MacPherson, is shown Below.

Soviet Boys Form Strange Friendship With Lion

A strange friendship is this between an almost full-grown lion and two boys of Tbilisi, capital city of the Georgian Soviet socialistic republic. The boys are Yura and Grisha, Biogo, father of whom is an instructor at the zoological park. The lion was brought home by the elder Bioko when it was born 15 months ago. As it grew it formed an attachment for the boys, and the attachment seems to be mutual.

GIVEN TWO MONTHS ON SELLING COUNT

Magistrate Finds Leslie Steer Guilty of Selling Liquor.

Convicted on a plea of not guilty of a charge of unlawfully selling liquor, Leslie Steer, 891 Water Street, was this morning sentenced to two months' imprisonment when he appeared on remand before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. The penalty was ordered to date from July 29 last, following representations made by T. J. Carley, K.C., defence counsel. His Worship told Steer that in deciding to record a conviction he had no doubt about the matter even though a technical point had been raised by the defence. Steer was arrested at the Water Street address where he is a sub-tenant, in a police raid on the night of July 23 last. Some beer was seized by police and also a number of empties.

With the Boy Scouts

Next Thursday is the Scouters' Club summer picnic, to be held at Fowlers' farm. The ladies in charge would like to know how many Scouters, Cubbers and assistants will be there. They have to get in supplies. Phone Miss Bull, or yours humbly.

St. John's group of Cubs, Scouts and Rovers attended camp. The Cub camp was the first of its kind held by the local Association. The Scouts spent a week on the farm of James Irwin at Sandy Lake and when they vacated, the Cubs moved in for the holiday week-end. The Rovers attended the Bald Lake Moot and had a splendid time.

It is reported that St. Paul's, St. James', The 12th and a few boys of Sacred Heart Troop attended a joint week-end camp somewhere east of the city.

All Scouts are asked to give serious thought to the forthcoming Apple Day effort and to save ½-lb and 1-lb cocoa tins for use as cash boxes.

It has been decided by the Association that registrations will be paid only if the Apple Day returns warrant such an expenditure. So it is up to us all as Scouts or officers to get behind the Apple Day effort and give it our best.

Next in line is the window display contest. Although I have not yet applied for windows I am offering prizes for the best of the following:

Model Scout Camp Measurements, 18 x 24 inches. Built by a patrol; each boy doing something toward same. Poster advertising Apple Day, 12 x 18 or 15 x 20 inches. These must be done entirely by the boy submitting same. Map Work, as in First-Class test; not in city itself. Knotboard.—Must have all Tenderfoot knots and as many others as possible; all to be named distinctly. Photographs.—For troops, camping, etc. Other items will be put forward later but I would ask the P.L.'s and Scouters to start working on these things. Let us put Scouting in front of the people of our city.

Patrol Leaders and Seconds who want to attend the coming patrol leaders' conference, should ask their Scouters all particulars. The conference will last about two days.

Assistant District Commissioner Lew Grant is in full charge, under Field Secretary Edgar Jones. Scout Officers, Scouters, Akelas and Group Committeemen are invited to attend the banquets on Friday and Saturday evenings of the conference. Special speakers are being secured by D.C. J. T. Hornsby and the conference promises to be the best yet held.

Out-of-town visitors will be billeted with the city troops. P.L.'s will be expected to entertain the visitors for bed Friday night, breakfast and lunch on Saturday. Patrol Leaders and seconds please phone me at 2535-J re the billets.

Brian Casemaker of Sea Mills, Bristol, suggests that two short slits be made close together in the crown of our Scout hat, the strap to be inserted through to stop slipping off. I think it would be a saving to some boys.

Well, Good Scouting; The Skipper.

TRIPLET THEOLOGIANS

REGINA—(CP).—Born on a farm near Parry, Sask., 55 miles south of Regina, on September 18, 1912, triplet brothers, Donald, Grant and Cecil McMillan, have all chosen a career in theology. Donald and Grant are graduates of a Winnipeg institute, while Cecil is in Portland, Ore., finishing his studies.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By an Examiner Reporter.

A POPULAR HALT.

Tourists from the United States and from other points of Canada are nightly visitors to the Filtration Plant, where they admire the illuminated fountain and Ross Dobbin's interesting collection of animals and birds, as well as visiting the filtration building.

SOME DISCOMFORT.

The sharp electrical storm on Sunday caused a certain amount of damage in local confectionery stores. In some cases the electric cooling system ceased to function, causing ice-cream to melt, milk to turn sour, and pop to become too warm for sale.

GIVES FINAL WARNING.

Inspector James F. Reid warned today that a police check-up is to be launched this week against dog owners who have failed to buy license tags. To date, he said, a total of 664 tags have been sold, while it is estimated the city's dog population is over the 800 mark.

RETURNS HOME.

Joseph Waldron, who was injured when his own car in which he was a passenger crashed into a 10-foot hole off the newly-constructed Lindsay-Bobcaygeon Highway on Friday night returned to his home on Lock street over the week-end, it was learned. His injuries necessitated sixteen stitches in his head.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

On pleading guilty to a vagrancy charge James Prince was sentenced to 7-days imprisonment, and his son David Prince was fined $10 and $3 costs for unlawful possession of liquor. Olive Meeks who appeared on remand to enter a plea of guilty to a vagrancy count received 7 days, and a warning from the Cadi that she would get a reformatory term next time.

DOG CATCHERS ON JOB.

A rumor has been circulated that the city's dog catchers have been withdrawn from duty. As a matter of fact they are still on the job, and it is said they are regarded by some persons as being altogether too active. C. W. Holland, one of the officials, told the Examiner a few days ago that opposition had been raised by some citizens whose dogs were rounded up. "All dogs look alike to me if they are on the loose," Mr. Holland said, "and I refuse to discriminate. On the other hand people have told me that they appreciate the way dogs are being kept off the streets. The council has given us a certain work to do, and that is all we are trying to do. It is not a matter of pleasing or offending people."

WATER FLOODS STREETS.

Sunday's heavy rain overflowed many of the catch basins of the city's surface drainage system and overflowed onto sidewalks. At the corner of London and Stewart streets and also at Bethune street the water reached the highest level reported to him, Alderman Juby, chairman of the Board of Works, told the Examiner. He was out in the storm looking over some of the north end streets, and was stalled by the dampening of the ignition system of his automobile, and had to be pushed down Reid street to a garage.

LEGION PARADE SUNDAY.

Peterborough branch of the Canadian Legion will parade to St. Peter's cemetery next Sunday afternoon for the annual decoration of the graves of former soldiers. By permission of Adjutant Warrander the band of the Salvation Army will accompany the Legion and the speakers at the cemetery will be Mayor Macdonald and Rev. P. J. Kelly. The parade will leave the Legion Hall at 2 p.m., and after a brief service at the cenotaph and war memorial, will proceed to the cemetery. Wreaths will be placed on the memorial and on the Captain Brown monument in Confederation Square.

SPIRIT.

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday. The Golden Text was, "No man hath seen God at any time. .... Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit." (1 John 4:12,13.) Selections from the Bible included the following from Psalms 143:10, "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook included the following, "The only excuse for entertaining human opinions and rejecting the Science of being is our mortal ignorance of Spirit, ignorance which yields only to the understanding of divine Science, the understanding by which we enter into the kingdom of Truth on earth and learn that Spirit is infinite and supreme."

HARRY L. BEATTY SUFFERS INJURY

Can of Creosote Exploded While He Was Inspecting It in Utilities Yard.

Harry L. Beatty, superintendent of Peterborough Utilities Commission was admitted to Nicholls Hospital on Saturday afternoon suffering from painful though not serious injuries to his eyes, face, neck and arms. It was expected that he would return home from hospital to-day. Mr. Beatty was injured when a can of creosote he was inspecting in the yard at the Aylmer street sub-station exploded, presumably on account of the hot weather. He was rushed to the surgery of Dr. H. M. Yelland by Ross L. Dobbin, general manager of the Utilities and was subsequently ordered into hospital.

The Rambling REPORTERS

ON HIS HORSE.

We don't know who he was, nor where he was going, but he looked as if he thoroughly enjoyed himself. He was a small boy, jogging along on the back of a large-footed, old white farm horse — no saddle, only a lagging bridle — and he made his way, with the aid of a flapping green leaf switch, along the main thoroughfare this morning. Curiously enough, high up on his contented perch, he made the smart, glistening cars that passed him so swiftly look just a little bit out-moded, for he represented that certain something that is new and different—C.L.M.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, August 10

A day of quite sudden and probably startling and surprising adventures is forecast from the inciting planetary aspects, having this singular presage both by lunar and mutual operation. The influence is a disturbing, disrupting and dynamic one, necessary to galvanize a crystallized state of affairs blocking the wheels of progress. Illness may be at the root of this inertia obstruction. With sagacity and vigilance to subtle situations, there should be benefits, although there may be some doubtful reactions on the private affiliations.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of unusual or surprising developments, with stagnations and obstacles shattered in a very abrupt and unforeseen manner. This makes way for definite progress if acumen and alertness to peculiar situations be exercised. Surprising contracts or writings figure.

A child born on this day may have a studious, profound and probably aloof nature, although original and talented in unusual lines. It may be romantic and adventurous and may make outstanding success in writings of such experiences.

SUNDAY'S RAIN IS AID TO ROOT CROP

Buckwheat Fields Also Are Greatly Aided By Sunday's Heavy Rain.

Sunday's rain at 1.13 inches flattened some of the late grain fields, but on the balance side of the agricultural account it revived the root crop and buckwheat. Potatoes, turnips and mangolds were wilting under the sun siege of last week, and farmers were also becoming anxious about their fields of buckwheat now in bloom, and needing a "pick-up" to carry them through to maturity. A splendid crop of corn will also show a big improvement from the heavy rain, pasturage will take on new greenness, and market gardens with the tomatoes ripening should also show new life, which will also be extended to the cabbage crop.

EXCELLENT CROPS IN SOUTH ALBERTA

Over Sixteen Million Dollar Yield Expected From Wheat Alone.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Southern Alberta wheat farmers in the Lethbridge Railway Division, busy harvesting or preparing to start after the week-end, had reason to smile today. All indications pointed to 1937 as a "prosperity year" compared with the "poor year" of 1936.

Prospects were that the growers would be paid between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000 for their wheat crop, while coarse grains and beets from irrigated lands would add thousands of dollars to the farm revenue.

From the district there will be available for shipment 16,000,000 bushels of wheat, with 2,000,000 bushels retained for seed, and 1,000,000 bushels of coarse grains, according to an estimate made by the Lethbridge Herald crop reporter. Some areas, he estimated, will have wheat crops of from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre and he placed the general average yield at 10 bushels an acre.

For the crop year 1936-37, marketings on the Lethbridge Railway District totalled 7,500,000 bushels of wheat and only 250,000 bushels of coarse grains.

POLICE ORDERED EXHIBITION CARS AWAY FROM TWEED

"Pick Up Your Tickets and Get Out" was the Peremptory Police Order.

MERCHANTS NOT KICKING.

"Pick up your tickets and get out," was the peremptory police order that hurried the Peterborough Exhibition fleet of four automobiles out of Tweed on Friday afternoon.

Alf McKee, who is in charge of the publicity squad, told The Examiner that he was only a few minutes in Sam Currie's town when the "scram" edict overtook him in a hardware store.

"I didn't find one merchant who refused the tickets," Mr. McKee said. "Most of them wanted them. In fact, they had distributed their first supply and we went down to hand out enough to do them for this week. The tickets were given to the merchants without any charge, and in turn they were given to customers. The Chief of Police seemed to be quite hostile in spite of the fact that our reception by the merchants was favorable. The constable said we were running a lottery, and Tweed wasn't going to encourage it."

The Exhibition Board consulted their solicitor on Saturday afternoon and it seemed clear to him that no clause of the statutes was being infringed by the Exhibition's plan of publicity which was adopted last year for the first time.

Tom Brown, president, told The Examiner this morning that the cars would not be sent back to Tweed.

"If that is the way they feel about it, there is no use in giving them an argument," the president said. "We have the support of such a large area in this district that we don't need to worry about a small sector of it, although we would appreciate the friendly co-operation of Tweed in our efforts to promote our Exhibition. We believe the merchants as a whole are favorable to us, and we hope to have a lot of visitors from that section of Hastings County next week."

Two Horses Killed In Electric Storm

In the severe electrical storm that swept Peterborough and district shortly after noon on Sunday, two horses were struck and killed by lightning as they stood side by side in their stall at the farm of Lawrence Cranley, of Douro township.

Mr. Cranley said the bolt of lightnings struck the barn, loosening some boards on the east gables and killed two of his horses outright. A calf in a nearby pen was uninjured.

Wilbert A. Roseborough of Smith township, was reported to have lost three head of cattle which were struck and killed by lightning.

At Loon Lake.

A terrific rain storm, accompanied by wind, lightning and thunder passed over Loon Lake and district Sunday. Rain fell for over three hours, and for a time assumed the proportions of a cloudburst. The fish have not been raising to any kind of bait for the last few days, and a wise guy opined they would not do so until it rained. The lake is at least one inch higher to-day, and these big fellows should rise to the occasion.

OBITUARY

CHARLES LLOYD.

Sportsdom of this city lost a valued member and keen follower in the death of Charles Lloyd, who passed away at his home in the Charibond Apartments on Saturday, August 7, in his 76th year, following an illness of two weeks' duration. The deceased, who was born in Llanobrodwell, Wales, came to this city 27 years ago, and was an employee of the Canada Packers, Limited, from that time until 15 months ago, when he was voluntarily retired by the company. He was a staunch Conservative in politics, and a member of All Saints' Anglican Church and the Woodmen of the World.

He leaves to mourn the loss, besides a number of loyal friends, one daughter, Miss E. B. Lloyd, of Cardingshire, Wales.

The funeral, attended by a number of sportsmen of the city, was held this afternoon (Monday), August 9, from Nesbitt's Funeral Home at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Canon J. D. Paterson officiating. Interment in Little Lake Cemetery. The following were the pall-bearer: James McDonald, William Clarke, Fred Craig, Angus Murray, William Calladine and Eddie Starr.

Peterborough Tennis Club Falls To Belleville Team

Last Minute Victory Breaks Tie to Give Quinte Club 6-5 Decision.

PLAY ON LOCAL COURTS.

The Peterborough Tennis Club were host to the Bay of Quinte Tennis club from Belleville in the return match Saturday afternoon at the Peterborough courts. Belleville was again successful winning out 6-5 on the day's events. The play was tied until the last event was played. As it was nearly dark it was decided to play only one set and Odell and Cole of Belleville finally took a marathon set from Kirkwood and D. McPherson 9-7.

The singles events were in favor of Peterborough. Max Cotton defeated Bud Odell after dropping the first set 7-9, 6-4, 6-4. Bill McPherson had a long match with Art Cole, coming out from under to finally win 4-6, 8-6, 9-7. Kirkwood lost to D. McLean 2-6, 4-6 and Andy Rutter pulled out on top defeating Murray Mitchell 6-1, 4-6, 7-5. The ladies' singles split, Vi Davidson defeating Grace McCreery 6-2, 6-1 and Anna McKenzie losing to Jean Catcher 6-3, 3-6, 4-6. Belleville won both mixed doubles and lost the ladies' doubles. The two remaining men's doubles were split.

Results of day's events:

Max Cotton won from Bud Odell, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4.

B. McPherson won from Art Cole, 4-6, 8-6, 9-7.

J. Kirkwood lost to D. MacLean 2-6, 4-6.

A. Rutter won from M. Mitchell 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.

Vi Davidson won from G. McCreery 6-2, 6-1.

A. McKenzie lost to J. Catcher 6-3, 3-6, 4-6.

J. Kirkwood and D. McPherson lost to A. Cole and B. Odell 7-9.

G. Scott and B. Swartz won from S. Evans and H. Kerr, 6-1, 6-1.

A. Rutter and Dr. McGee lost to M. Mitchell and D. MacLean 4-6, 3-6.

P. McClellan and H. Cole defeated J. Catcher and E. Moncrief 6-2, 6-3.

L. Reed and H. McDonald lost to S. Burrows and G. Edwards 2-6, 0-6.

B. Middleton and H. Steer lost to G. McCreery and A. Cole 0-6, 2-6.

The Peterborough Club has a return match with the C.N.R. Club of Toronto in two weeks. In the meantime the city tournament is starting and all entries should be turned in immediately to ensure a large enough entry to make the tournament worthwhile.

Number 58

Golf used to be spoken of as a gentlemen's game. David Forgan event went so far as to claim that only a gentleman could become a real golfer. This might be too broad a statement for these times but the main idea still holds—golf is a game of courtesy.

Courtesy should be the sort that finds every player giving due consideration to the other fellow. In many foursomes this matter of thoughtfulnness is sadly neglected. One trick that some players have is that of leaving the ball in the cup for another player to pick up. After holing out he will stand by while the other fellow bends over to get the ball out of the hole. This is not only impolite but also a hindrance to the play of others.

If the cup happens to be shallow the presence of one ball in the hole may cause another to bounce out. Even if this doesn't take place, the ball in the cup may serve as a hazard to the next player. It all comes under the heading of carelessness. It is to be classed with playing out of turn, walking in front of others when they are playing, and doing anything to distract the other fellow.

It may be all right in other games, but it doesn't belong in golf. The player who is thoughtful about others on the course gets the most out of the game.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

To the boys who are going to bowl in our twilight doubles to-night (Monday) we ask that they be out on time. This little act of consideration will not only be appreciated by the committee, but by other bowlers who are taking part in the contest. One or two pairs coming late upsets the whole machinery. It will be four and one-half hours of good solid bowling. The time, 7 p.m. The fee 50c per player. The prizes will be up to the standard that has made these twilight tournaments so popular.

About Wednesday's open mixed tournament. Three 14-end games, 2 p.m. is the hour, and $5.00 is the fee. We know the women will play if they are only asked; so now, with this little hint to the men, we leave it with them for "Faint heart ne'er won fair lady, or a mixed tournament."

There are several games that have been postponed on account of rain. It would be a nice gesture if the skips could arrange these games and get them played before the games committee starts putting on the pressure. Beat the committee to it. Let's put a little pep and enthusiasm into this organization. Let everybody dig in and do their share. After that wonderful storm yesterday, we believe the air will be a lot healthier. If your skip won't call you, call the skip; it takes four men to make up a rink; and no matter whether you play vice or lead, you are 25 per cent. of that rink. You have paid (?) your fees and you are entitled to your games. Come out to the greens and you will be sure of a game, no matter if you are scheduled to play or not.

We are glad to report that the condition of Harry Beatty, who met with a nasty accident on Saturday, is greatly improved.

Our club will be represented at the Paris tournament on Wednesday, with a rink skipped by G. Gimblett, and supported by Judge Smoke, Dr. Dr. Long, and E. L. Sackville. Their first game is against a rink from Windsor.

In the passing of Charlie Lloyd, the sporting fraternity of this city has lost a loyal and faithful friend. Maybe in baseball and hockey circles he was best known, but he was always willing to help any other organization. While he was not a member of our bowling club, he took a great interest in the progress of our sport. We will miss Charlie around our corner.

KINGSTON BEATS C. C. F. TEAM 5-0

Experience Counts as Limestoners Secure 5-0 Soccer Victory.

Peterborough C.C.F. soccerites were whitewashed 5-0 by Kingston in an exhibition match played on the Old Cricket Field in the Limestone City on Saturday. The homesters with their more experienced players were the better team and showed some brilliant football at times and made the most of their opportunities, whereas the locals played a good game on the whole but lacked the necessary finish around the nets. Kingston plays the return game here on Saturday, August 28.

Peterborough won the toss and kicked towards town goal, and the opening exchanges were fairly even, with both sides playing good football. After fifteen minutes' play, Kingston made tracks for Petes' goal, and after an interchange of passes by the three inside forwards, Haggerty, inside left, scored with a nice cross shot high in the left hand corner of the net. The Petes came back to the other end and forced two corners, but were fruitless. Then Kingston pressed, and Proctor booted a hard, high drive at Tarkington, who saved splendidly. Twenty-five minutes of this half had gone by, when Kingston increased their score, Procter banging a daisy-cutter from 12 yards out into the right hand corner. Haggearty, inside-left, with another grounder, registered No. 3 for Kingston after 28 minutes. Petes came back fighting hard, and nice combination by Lawrence, Jobe and Henwood, nearly resulted in a score. But Kingston came again and Procter scored his second goal, after 32 minutes. With Peterborough pressing, the first half came to a close, with the score reading: Kingston 4, Peterborough 0.

Adds To Count.

End-to-end play followed after the interval. Petes were determined to wipe that big lead out, and after a nice dribble by Thorne and his parting pass to Dyer, who kicked by McDonald, and Thorne ran through cleverly with no result. Lawrence, with a long range shot, hit the crossbar, a nice effort. Two minutes later Dyer hit the upright with a terrific drive.

Castle, who was moved into the forward line, was putting lots of pep into the game at this stage, whilst Thorne was making some fine plays. Petes were having the better of the argument up to this point. Again Thorne came close with a hard ground shot to see Brown (who was playing a fine game in goal) dive full length and turn it round the post for a corner, and the pressure was relieved by the Kingston back, Armstrong, who booted it up the field. Belsed by the Kingston forwards, the ball was cleverly passed from man to man up the field, but the resultant shot was saved by Tarkington. Back they came again. Adams cleared, and the ball came out to Haggerty, Kingston inside left, and from 30 yards he banged the ball high into the top left hand corner of the net for his third goal and Kingston's fifth. As the play was drawing to a close, Peterborough was striving valiently to get a goal, but it was of no avail, and the game ended: Kingston 5, Peterborough 0.

Canadian Speedboat King Seeks Gold Cup

Canada's speedboat king, Hal Wilson, will again try to capture the American Gold Cup this year when he races his speedy Miss Canada II. over the waters at Detroit. Last year Wilson failed to start due to his arriving on the scene of the race only a few hours before race time. This year things are different, for his craft will soon be shipped to the scene of the races. He is so pleased with trial performances of his boat, that he has also entered it in the President's Cup race, to be run in Washington late in September. Wilson is also planning to wed his mechanic-sweetheart, Miss Lorna Reid, some time between the two cup races. Wilson is seen here with his bride-to-be, along with a picture of Miss Canada II.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

THE PETES punched their way out of the shadows of C.O.B.L. oblivion here on Saturday with a 4-3 nod over Napanee and kept in the race for a playoff berth. They are now a full game ahead of the Neps and if they take 'em in Gibbardsville on Wednesday, they can't be blasted out of that third-place slot with a ton of T.N.T. They are not safe yet, but at least they have a fighting chance—and what more can onyone expect there days? Even if Napanee wins its remaining games—outside of next Wednesday—the locals are safe. Joe Daley can do his darndest in jockeying around for a second-place berth (with Napanee no doubt his favorite in the semi-finals) but the Petes have only to beat Napanee at home that day to cinch the spot. It shouldn't be too large an order if the locals get in there and battle as they did on Saturday. If they don't—well, rugby will soon be here!

* * * * * *

IT WAS a tidy tilt all the way, that 4-3 win. Both sides had some downright expensive errors—only one run of the game being earned — but they played pretty fair ball. The slim crowd of fans saw a nice tussle. For a change we had some fine pitching and timely hitting. And the fielding was good most of the way. Starr had a timely single in the third and Calladine came through with a money blow in the eighth to tie it up. Even Clark's fly in the second and Jakafby's grounder in the ninth helped plenty, each scoring a run. We don't mind errors if a team is hitting the apple and the pitching is fair, you can't expect everything to be perfect.

* * * * * *

JOE JAKAFBY hurled fine ball, his second three-hit job within a week. He was in top form and the Cerrowmen didn't get an earned run off him. Even when behind, Joe kept throwing his Sunday pitches and, if he just keeps it up, all will be lovely. He was a long time arriving but seems to be throwing first-rate ball now. Blazetich also pitched pretty fair ball as he kept the hits well scattered and fanned seven. The Petes only had one earned run from his delivery. Yeah, it was an okay game to watch—and win.

* * * * * *

LES BURTON stayed over for the game—leaving town right after—and he helped with a run, a hit and a fine catch. That's the kind of team spirit we like. Clark had a couple of miscues but he opened the ninth with a million-dollar single and scored the winning run. Whatley played a bangup game at second. All the boys did well. Perhaps they have snapped out of their slump—which certainly hit the depths here 'gainst Oshawa last Wednesday—and will do something yet. We hope so far goodness' sake, surely to gosh and by golly!

CHARLIE LLOYD died Saturday and was buried this afternoon. Probably the greatest sports fan in Peterborough, Charlie will be missed by local athletes in several lines of sports. Born in England, the old gentleman had lived here a long time and hated to miss a game in which a local team participated—no matter where that game was played. He followed the Petes around in hockey and baseball and loved nothing better than to travel with the team. Not infrequently, he dipped deep into his pocket to treat the boys after a victory. Softball, soccer and cricket were also sports in which he was keenly interested. Bill Calladine was Charlie's favorite athlete over a period of years. Mr. Lloyd was a real gentleman and a Peterborough sports booster par excellence.

TORONTO MAPLE LEAFS' pucksts play softball in Hastings on Wednesday. It is a sort of softball tourney there with squads entered from Norwood, Havelock, Keene and Hastings, the winner to meet the Leafs at 6.15 sharp. Street dancing,etc., in the eve, with proceeds being used by the softball club to improve their park. Toronto players expected are Chuck Conacher, Busher Jackson, Art Jackson, Syl Apps, Gordie Drillon, Jimmy Fowler, Jack Shill, Red Horner, Reg. Hamilton and Hap Day. The gang promised Dit Clapper to be on deck for the game. This is a lot of puck talent—and they are supposed to be softballers, too.

LOCAL softball playoffs go merrily on this week. Westclox and Keene gals tangle Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at the Bowl in their sectional playoffs, all tilts being at the Bowl at seven bells. Two out of three, the winner to meet Cobourg in loop finals. At Central tonight, Westclox and Motorists meet at seven in the second of their four-in-seven series to declare an O.A.B.A. playdown team. Westclox won the first. Tuesday sees Young Petes and Omemee here in a replay of their round-robin series tie game. The O's took a 3-2 win over Motorists on Saturday p.m. in seven innings—Omemee arriving late and the game being called at the end of seven. Fans shouldn't pass up any of these tight tilts these days.

THERE will be a Junior Lakeshore Baseball League playoff inside here Wednesday night at six in Riverside between the local Rotary crew and Cobourg. It will be a nine-inning game, the second of this serial. Rotarians won the first and hope to make it two straight as they should meet Belleville in O.B.A.A. playdowns about Saturday. If a third Lakeshore Loop fray is necessary, it will be Friday. Herb Ralph expects to start his regular lineup with Roy Armour pitching. It ought to be a good ball game and deserves a big crowd of fans at two bits per head. The Ralph lads for several seasons now have been unbeatable in scheduled struggles but have had lousy luck in playoffs to lose out; we hope they get a decent break this time.

TORONTO ELEVEN DEFAULTS MATCH

Woodgreen C.C. Fails to Show On Field After Local Club Makes Trip.

Though the Peterborough Club had rather a disastrous experience in Toronto on Civic Holiday, from a cricket point of view they experienced a worse misfortune on Saturday when they travelled there to play Woodgreen C.C. Having worked hard to get a good team and succeeded in making a punctual start they found, upon arrival no Woodgren team to meet them nor any representative from that club with any explanation.

As the M.C.C. team from England was playing the All-Canadian team in Toronto on Friday and Saturday it had been announced that all Toronto League matches on Saturday would be cancelled. The Peterborough-Woodgreen was a friendly and not a league fixture.

To make sure the local secretary wrote at the beginning of the week that the Peterborough Club would keep their date on Saturday. As he received no reply the executive naturally concluded the match was "on" and made the trip accordingly with the result stated. It was the duty of the Woodgreen Club to notify the local club if the match was cancelled. It was doubly discourteous, after the local club had notified them that they were keeping the appointment, that no intimation was sent the local club, and that no Woodgreen representatives was on hand on their arrival.

Selwyn Outfit Ties Long Pointers 8-8

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WESTWOOD, Aug. 9.—The second softball game between Long Point and Selwyn was staged here on Thursday evening, but owing to the late hour when the game began, it was called on account of darkness at the end of the fourth inning. Although the score was an 8-8 tie the Selwyn boys showed their very decided lack of practice in comparison with the Long Pointers.

The latter team started out with Harry McConkey on the mound and finished with Don McConkey hurling them in, while Selwyn started with Clayton Fitzgerald, then Neil Blewett and finally wound up with Fitzgerald.

A fair crowd was in attendance to cheer their favorites to victory. Gordon Nichols was the official umpire. The line-ups:

Long Point: J. McConkey, c; B. Mann, lf; B. Davis, 3b; S. Lowe, 1b; D. McConkey, p, ss; H. McConkey, p, ss; Morun, 2b; B. Huffman, cf; D. Traynor, rf.

Selwyn: A. Preston, c; C. Fitzgerald, p, rf; M. Elliott, 1b; C. McIlmoyl, 2b; P. Davis, 3b; P. Ireland, lf; H. McIlmoyl, ss; N. Blewett, p, rf; H. Bell, cf.

The deciding game is to be played on Wednesday next at the Sunday school picnic at Wm. Elliott's.

CANADIAN ELEVEN GETS CRICKET WIN

Hon. R. C. Matthews' Team Triumphs With 288 and 7 For No Wickets.

TORONTO, Aug. 9.—(CP).—With a two-day respite from cricket, the touring Marylebone Cricket Club team was en route to Winnipeg today. To-morrow they will oppose the St. George club in the Manitoba city in a two-day match.

Five matches were played during the first week of the tour, the visitors winning one, drawing three, and losing to Hon. R. C. Matthews' eleven by 10 wickets in a match at Armour Heights concluded Saturday.

The week's play will be of tremendous value to the team for the heavy schedule arranged before they returned to England early in September. With one or two exceptions the players had had no previous experience on matting wickets and found the bright sunlight a handicap after the duller light to which they are accustomed in England.

The Englishmen failed badly against the Matthews' team at the week-end. But for the sterling play of W. A. Seller, Navy and Essex hitter, the defeat would have been even more decisive. With wickets falling like ninepins, the former England Rugby full-back mastered all the Canadian bowlers had to offer, making 111 out of a second illing total of 137. He attacked the bowling vigorously despite a facial injury received early in the innings and hit 15 fours.

M.C.C.'s first turn at the wickets netted 157 runs, the Canadians making 288 and seven runs for no wickets.

Petes Keep In C.O.B.L. Running With Ninth Inning 4-3 Victory Over Battling Napanee Team

Win Puts Locals Full Game Ahead of Gibbards in Fight For Playoff.

GOOD PITCHING.

Joe Jakafby Hurls His Second Three-hit Game For Seniors Within Week.

The Petes pulled out a ninth-mning 4-3 win over Napanee here on Saturday to keep in the running for a third-place C.O.B.L. playoff berth. Some 400 fans were treated to an exciting scrap as the rivals for this coveted playoff position fought it out on even terms over most of the route. The locals are now a full game ahead of Napanee.

Fine pitching, some timely hitting and fair fielding figured in the homesters' victory. Napanee battled hard to come from behind with a three-run spiurge in the fifth and keep the Petes stepping till the ninth before the latter won out. The ; ·is got a run each in the second ; third, tied the score at 3-all in the eighth and won in the last frame.

Joe Jakafby hurled his second three-hit game within a week for the Collins' crew, the big right-hander going fine all the way. He showed neat control, a change of pace and an effective hook to strike out four while walking one. Two of the hits came off him in the big fifth. His support was shaky at times. Udy Blabetich also pitched well, scattering 10 hits, except for three in the third and fanning seven while issuing one free ticket. His support was wobbly at times, too.

Calladine, Long and Jakafby led the local hitters with two each, the former getting a double. Whatley also hit a two-bagger. None of the visitors got more than one safety. What looked good defensively on two hard-hit grounders, and Burton and Weir pulled off smart running catches. Napanee got the only double-play of the game. A Card-to-Gerow play in the fifth that cut the Petes' off suddenly.

Both sides went down in order in the first frame and Napanee went back one-two-three in the second. The Petes got a run when Calladine singled, was sacrificed by Whatley, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Clark's fly to right. Bennett's two-bagger in the third was wasted but the locals got another run when Kearns reached second on a two-base error by Handford and scored on Starr's single to left.

Jeffers' walk in the fourth and a walk for Whatley and Long's single in the homesters' half all came to naught. Napanee scored three runs to take the lead in the fifth. Weir was safe at second on Clark's two-base miscue and scored on a double by Ford. The latter moved up on a wild pitch and came home on Calladine's error on Bennett's roller. The latter was sacrificed by Blazetich and raced in on Scarlett's double.

In the sixth, Gerow reached first for Napanee on an error at short and Whatley doubled for the Petes but both died on the paths. Each side was retired in order in the seventh, and Napanee had only three men face Jakafby in the eighth. Burton scored the tying run in the Petes' half of this frame when he reached first as Card missed his roller and tore all the way around when Calladine hit a third and timely double to deep left. Napanee went down one-two-three in the ninth, but the Petes pushed over the money marker in their end of this windup stanza. Clark led off with a single to left and moved up as Long, planning a sacrifice, bunted safely for a hit. Hollingsworth flied out. Jakafby hit a grounder to second and Hanford threw to Ford to cut off Long at second. In attempting a double-play, Ford threw wild to first and Clark, who had raced to third, trotted over the plate with the deciding run.

Leafs Lose Three To Baltimore Team

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 9.—The Orioles grabbed a doubleheader from the Toronto Leafs here yesterday to win four of the five games played, and, as a result, climbed ahead of Rochester and drew nearer the fifth place Leafs. Sunday's scores were 5 to 3 and 6 to 5 in eight innings.

Jimmy Walsh did his best to keep the Leafs in the first game when he homered in the fourth inning with Don Ross on third base, the result of a rousing trip to right field.

Together with Joe Ganterbein's third-inning home run, over the left field wall that gave Howleyites a three to nothing lead which looked very sizeable with Woodrow Wilson Davis twirling very effectively.

Boxer Dies Following Bout

Blood trickling from the corner of his mouth, Johnny Page, Chicago boxer, is pictured with his second after he had been knocked out by Eddie Zivic, Pittsburg boy, during their bout at Pittsburg, Pa. When Page did not recover consciousness he was taken to a hospital, where he died a few hours later. A preliminary coroner's examination revealed that Page died of concussion, sustained when his head struck the ring floor.

Boston-Owned Desota Is Favored For Top Honors At Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The buggy whip derby, officially known as the Hambletonian Stakes, had its 12th running Wednesday—if it doesn't rain too much.

The big race, as important to trotters as the Kentucky Derby is to runners, is named in honor of an ugly duckling colt that made more than good. Hambletonian 10th was the son of a lame mare. His owner didn't think he'd amount to much so he sold him for peanuts and hay.

Hambletonian was no great shakes as a trotter but as a pappy he was supreme. He earned more than $200,000 at stud for his new owner, siring 1,331 horses before his death at 27 in 1876. To-day more than 90 per cent of the trotters and pacers are his descendants.

Goshen, a town of 3,500, manages to entertain 40,000 customers on the big day.

Ten are expected to start this year. Desota, owned by Paul Bowser, Boston wrestling promotor, is favored. W. N. Reynolds, tobacco tycoon from Winston-Salem, N.C., thinks he'll write himself another winner's cheque. Reynolds, treasurer of the Hambletonian Society, won the event four years ago with Mary Reynolds and believes he's a cinch to repeat Wednesday with Schnapps.

Another entrant with a good chance is Twilight Song, the two-year-old champ of 1936 owned by Bill Strang of Brooklyn.

Winner's share of total purse of nearly $40,000, will amount to about $20,000 this year.

SAILORS SECURE ONE GAME LEAD

Port Colborne Defeats Top St. Catharines in First of Playoffs.

TORONTO, August 9 — (C.P.). — Port Colborne Sailors, in fourth place at the end of the Niagara District Senior Baseball Loop schedule, were out in front of St. Catharines to-day. The Sailors whipped the Saints, who finished in first place, 8-1, Saturday in the first game of the playdowns.

In the other Niagara semi-final, Merritton Alliance failed to show the form which brought them from the cellar to second position in a great late-season rush, and the Paper Town team lost to Falls Cataracts, 4-0.

Other senior leagues were straightening away for the playoff stretch, too. In the Intercounty, Brantford was finally eliminated from hope of a playoff spot when they took a 13-0 trouncing from London. Young Howard Edworthy tied up the Brant batters.

A win by Stratford over Strathroy Wednesday—last game of the Intercounty schedule—will put the Nationals in a first-place tie with London, in which case a sudden-death game will be played in Stratford Saturday. Second and third teams will play a best-in-three series to decide which meets the top club in the finals.

CLEVER PITCHING WINS FOR BISONS

Sewell, Jacobs and Harris Hurl Buffalo to 5-0 and 1-0 Victories.

TORONTO, August 9 — (C.P.). — Newark Bears had little trouble keeping well ahead of the International pack. They trimmed Rochester Red Wings, 8-4 and 4-1. Steve Bundra won his 14th victory in the opening with his mates getting seven runs in the first five innings. Vito Tamulis' five-hit pitching was good enough to subdue them in the second game.

Two top-notch pitching performances gave Buffalo Bisons victories over Syracuse Chiefs, 5-0 and 1-0. Truett Sewell and Art Jacobs pitched the opener and Hard Luck Bill Harris changed his luck and beat Lloyd (Whitey) Moore of the Chiefs in the nightcap.

Hal Lee's single in the 13th inning gave Jersey City Giants an even split with Montreal Royals. The Giants won the second game on Lees hit, 1-0, after losing to Royals in the opener, 2-0.

Keene Ball Club Defeats Nats 5-3

(Examiner Correspondence.)

KEENE, Aug. 9. — The Keenesters defeated the Nationals 5 to 3 in a fast tussel on the local diamond recently. Hunter, the pitcher for the losers, was hit for 13 safeties, issued one free pass and struck out one. Rolland Rennie, in centrefield, was the pick of the losers.

Donald McCarthy pitched good ball, allowing but 4 scattered hits, walked 6 and sent 12 out swinging. B. Wood and D. McCarthy opened Keene's score with two consecutive homers in the second. Thompson, Pilling, Coursey and Rennie all hit one safety for the losers, the latter getting a double. B. Wood, B. Renwick, A. Nelson, J. Gall and D. McCarthy connected for 2 hits each. Nelson got a triple, D. McCarthy a homer and triple, Gillespie a double and B. Wood a homer.

The line-up:

Keene—B. Wood ss, B. Renwick c, C. Gillespie 1b, F. Whalen cf, A. Nelson lf, V. Powers 2b, N. Hayes rf, J. Gall 3b, D. McCarthy p.

Nationals—Thompson 2b, Parson ss, Pilling lf, Coursey 1b, Masters c, Wedlock rf, Adamson 3b, R. Rennie cf, Hunter p.

No Easy Cinch For Chicago To Get World Series 'Gate'

As in Other Years Giants Liable to Upset Applecart in Next 10 Weeks.

13TH WIN FOR RED SOX.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(CP)—All over the baseball map they're climbing aboard the bandwagon for a Yankees-Cubs world series this fall, and the way things shape up now that's not a bad guess.

A lot of applecarts can be upset in the 10 weeks still to go before they start commuting between New York and Chicago for their peanuts, hot dogs and homers, particularly in that National League race, but at the current pace of the Cubs and Yanks it's going to be tough to turn the trick.

Standout possibility to kick over the dope bucket are New York Giants. For one thing, they always have that annoying habit of riding along within shooting distance of the top until the final weeks, and then belting the ears off everything in sight.

No Cinch for Cubs

So it's not going to be any too much of a dead cinch for the Cubs at best, despite their current 5½-game lead. The Cubs knocked off Boston's Bees in both ends of a double-header yesterday 3-0 and 3-2 on a one-hit pitching performance by Tex Carleton in the opener and a clouting comeback by Phil Cavarretta in both games.

The twin win boosted the Cubs' lead by half a game, since the Giants could get no better than an even break with their favorite "stooges," the Pirates. They won the opener 10-2, but Jim Weaver's three-hitter blanked them 3-0 in the nightcap.

It's far easier to settle the American League business in advance. Nine and a half games in front, the Yankees looked like a shoo-in from here. They squeezed through with a 6-5 win over Cleveland Indians yesterday for their eighth success in a row.

13th Straight Win

Boston Red Sox, in second place, stretched their undefeated run to 13 games by taking the White Sox 7-6 in their opener, but then had the string snapped with a 13-0 walloping in the nightcap.

Ducky Medwick belted two homers in the first game and the Cards took a 3-2 decision from the Phillies, but the best they could get was a 6-6 draw in the nightcap, despite Ducky Wuck's third round-tripper of the day. The Reds and Dodgers also went to a nightcap deadlock, at 1-1, after the Reds won 6-4 in the curtain raiser.

The Tigers topped the Senators 5-1 in a game cut to five frames by rain. The Athletics surprised with a double triumph over St. Louis Browns, 5-4 and 7-3.

(By the Associated Press.)

Deuckey Medwick, Cardinals. — Medwick walloped three homers in double-header, winning opener 3-2 and helping tie nightcap 6-6.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

Joe Louis smashed King Levinsky, Chicago fish peddler, to the floor in one round at Chicago two years ago today. He had been fighting professionally only two years. Last June 22 he became the world's second negro heavyweight champion when he dropped Champion Jimmy Braddock in eight rounds at Chicago.

Gehrig Passes Another Milestone

FORSYTH. — In loving memory of dear Husband and Father, Douglas Lorne Forsyth, who died just one year ago, August 10, 1936.

"He was called from this world of sorrow,
Leaving sweet memories behind;
But his soul shall live on forever,
In that beautiful world above.
Our lips cannot speak how we miss him,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss him
In a home that is lonesome to-day."

Remaining Games

Monday—Maple Leafs vs De Laval.
Tuesday—Hawks vs Keene.

If either of the above games are postponed on account of bad weather they will be run off Wednesday.

The executive will hold an important meeting Tuesday at 8.15 p.m. to set playoff dates and clean up any other business on hand. The meeting will be held at Barracks Booth across from the Brinton diamond.

Last week's games saw the Cards and Nats lose both their games to be eliminated from playoff berths. Keene, by winning both their tilts, remained at the top of the second half standing. De Laval split their two games, defeating the Cards by a one-sided score and losing to the Cogs 9-4. This second game was awarded to the De Laval after the game was over when they protested the Cogs used an unsigned player. Cogs claimed De Laval's manager gave them permission to use player in question as they were a man short. This game will be aired at Tuesday's meeting, but stands as a De Laval win till then, giving them a tie with Keene for first place.

The Hawks by defeating the Nats stand tied with the Leafs for second place, leaving four teams in the running this half for the three playoff berths, with but two games left in the schedule. These four teams all participate in these games, which should be hard fought tussles. Keens being the only one of the four sure of a berth.

CLYDE SHOUN

By WALTER JOHNS
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

Like Clydell Castleman, fellow Tennessean, Clyde Mitchell (Dutzer) Shoun, Chicago Cubs' left-hander, came up to the majors ticketed as a natural ball player and a swell pitcher.

And, while Dutzer faltered on his first trial, he now is one of the National league's leading hurlers.

Shoun, who pronounces his name as in "noun," was pitching semi-pro baseball in North Carolina when a scout for the Birmingham team of the Southern association grabbed him. He tutored him in fundamentals, and in no time at all the big left-hander was throwing winning ball and becoming the find of the loop. That was in 1934.

The Cubs got a line on him and for a reputed $15,000 lifted him into the majors. But Clyde wasn't ready and promptly was shipped back to Birmingham. With the Barons last season Clyde threw in 19 wins against 11 loses for his trial this season.

Lefty Shoun is in some respects a Lefty Grove. His fast ball is typical of the Robert Moses' fireball. Both are about the same height and weight and lean and willowy.

The Cub rook was born in Mountain City in 1915. He makes his home in that town.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to be a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 3.

The lilac man eyed Mary Barrett and stepped briskly around to the front of his cart. Mary eyed the lilacs, looked at the contents of her slender purse and sighed. She pretended to look into the windows of the Flea Market, and her nose wrinkled deliciously as the perfume of the fragrant flowers came to her.

It was no use to resist them she knew. Fifty cents was half a dollar, an important sum, but she had to have the lilacs because who can deny that lilacs were April itself? She crossed the street with the coin in her hand.

She had to have them because she had to bring the spring into her home. In other Aprils she had gone out to meet it, walking long distances in the April twilights, her dreams lending wings to her feet. In those days her dreams had been vague things, the romantic visions that even now were within her grasp. Now they were coming to her; she was not going out to capture them only in fancy.

To the models, the seamstresses, the tailors and Tony Castle, she was the new apprentice. She was, "Hey, girlie! Watch that iron!" or, "Miss, run down to Farber's and get eight spools of silk to match this violet."

But to Mary Barrett, swinging along this April evening on her sensible low-heeled shoes, her eyes bright and gay above the lilacs in her arms, she was an apprentice only to art.

If her tasks were menial and her pay barely enough to pay the rent on the studio apartment overlooking the river and to purchase her few needs they represented no limits to her sphere.

In a little while she would be free to take out and spread before her the treasures that she gleaned from those same menial tasks, so happily undertaken.

There were drawbacks to this opportunity that had come to Mary Barrett—so let us see and accept and dismiss them as she did. There was the back-breaking fatigue of lifting heavy irons. There was the incessant torture of being on her feet long, weary hours. There were indignities too numerous but too small to mention.

But—

There were the hours, when rested by her bath, after her light supper she stretched on her lounge and had her day to review, her growing knowledge to parade across her memory. The big, little things she was learning—the intricacies and mechanics, the trick of getting lines, the manipulation of fabric that distinguished a gown from a dress. Oh, she was an apprentice wielding heavy irons, hopping about in a crowded, dusty, hot workroom with needles and scissors and pins. But she was learning and saving her knowledge against the day when she was going to need it.

She owed it all to Tony Castle. Tony who had smiled as one does to a child when she had confided to him that she was going to be great one day.

An American had no chance, he had said. "Americans don't have the feeling for it."

The only chance she wanted was right where she was. In Tony Castle's workroom. So she thought the next night when already the lilacs had faded.

Out of doors, in the April twilight, the world was quickening. Once-weary feet on high stilted heels tapped a spritely cadence along the sidewalks and disappeared into the subway kiosks. Head waiters surveyed the window tables beningedly. Telephone bells were beginning to twinkle summons to April galeties. The cherry trees blossomed along the wall of Central park and, from across the way in the mansions on Fifth evenue, eyes of servants and masters alike gazed on their beauty with a sense that something new was beginning.

The night made you think of violin music and fragile frocks, of white flowers and delicious foods and cocktails sparkling in thin-stemmed glasses.

Perhaps it made you think of that. But to all this chartreuse newness of the earth, this champagne in the air, Mary Barrett gave an unheeding ear.

The wrist watch in the pocket of her smock—placed there because it was heavy on her aching arm—marked 7 o'clock. The last of the girls had left, she thought. It was dark and cool and blessedly quiet in the workroom back of the perfumed saloons of the Castle shop when Mary came back from her locker where she had gone to get her small bottle of milk and the sandwich she had brought in at noon.

She was not as alone as she thought. In the shadowy dimness, Louise, the tallest of the blond models, was wriggling herself into a svelte frock.

Oh dear, she thought, if she's working, I can't stay. Aloud, she said, "Need any help?"

"And how! Only they don't make shoe horns big enough to use on dresses." Her head emerged and she saw Mary, sandwich in hand.

"Old Legree keeping you working tonight?"

"No, I'm not working," Mary answered. "I'm staying to study the Boucher gown Mrs. Long brought back from Paris. I can't figure out how that under-sleeve is cut. I thought I'd study it."

"Well, you're a queer one! On a night like this you think of sleeves. Well, sleeves are better than broken hearts. I think I'm going to get my heart broken to-night at that!"

"Not if you look as pretty as you do now," Mary said honestly, watching Louise improve expertly onnature.

"Look out for Francine Long," Louise warn, moved to a friendly gesture. "That gal's dynamite and she didn't hire you personally, so beware!"

Mary continued to eat her sandwich placidly. Francine Long did not disturb her and she saw no reason why she should disturb the designer.

Mrs. Long was Tony Castle's foreign buyer and his right hand. She was brittle, chic, cold as ice and as perfect a machine as Mary ever expected to meet. She hoped that someday when she owned a shop like Tony's she'd be lucky enough to have someone like Mrs. Long to work for her.

It was true that Tony had engaged her while Mrs. Long had been in Paris, Mary remembered with a slight, swift feeling of insecurity, but then she remembered Tony and felt secure again. After all, even though she didn't like Mrs. Long, there was no reason to fear her.

She brushed the crumbs up into her paper napkin, rinsed out the milk bottle and washed her hands. Then she went over to the Boucher gown which had been left on a form and studied it from all angles. A small frown grew on her forehead. She rubbed her chin on her hand, trying to find the solution to the problem that bothered her. How could you get a diagonal twist like that? The frown cleared away; she'd make a pattern and work it out that way. She worked with muslin, cutting jaggedly, pinning and then drawing with her soft pencil, clipping the pagged edges away, basting together. It wasn't good enough to do the sleeves; she'd have to do the whole thing.

She didn't even notice the passage of time, didn't hear the tower clock strike 9. At last it was finished and she held it up to herself. So completely engrossed was she, that she didn't hear the sharp click of heels.

It was Francine Long's scream of rage that startled her so that she dropped everything and turned white, frightened and looking very guilty as Francine—no longer cool—but in a fury, white-faced with anger, snatched the pattern from her.

"Get your things and get out of here! We have no place for spies around here!"

Somehow in that nightmare, she thought she saw Tony Castle's face.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FIGHT

"Listen!" called the Bob Cat to the Fox.

"Not if you're going to sing," snarled the Fox for he was in a bad humor not having had any rabbit ears to nibble.

"Wouldn't you like to hear me sing," mewed the Bob Cat. He was as proud of his voice as he was ashamed of his silly tail.

"No, I wouldn't, so let's don't talk about it," suggested the Fox. "What else do you want me to listen to, Bobbie?"

"Hark! Don't you hear music?" whispered the Bob Cat. The two Bad Chaps were in the woods. They had been looking for Uncle Wiggily but had been unlucky. It was unlucky for them but lucky for the jolly old rabbit gentleman.

"Yes, I hear music," said the Fox. "It seems to come from over there," and he pointed to a clump of trees near the shore of Blue Lake where Uncle Wiggily had set up his camping tent.

"That's just where the music comes from," said the Bob Cat. "Let's go see who is making it."

"Well, perhaps it will stop me being hungry," whimpered the Fox. "Come on, Bobbie."

The two Bad Chaps crept slinkingly through the woods. Soon they reached the little glade in a dingly dell where Uncle Wiggily was giving a party with music made by having the animal children blow through different sized dandelion stems.

"Oh, what luck," mewed the Bob Cat when he saw the merry party.

"What do you mean—luck?" asked the Fox.

"Listen again," whispered the Bob Cat. "Uncle Wiggily and the others are so busy having fun they'll never hear us sneaking up behind them as we are going to do. And they will be so surprised when they do see us it will be easy for each of us to grab a rabbit."

"Well, maybe. Let's try it," agreed the Fox.

So the two Bad Chaps began sneaking up.

Meanwhile Uncle Wiggily and his friends were having grand fun. They played all sorts of games and finally Baby Bunty said:

"Let's play bean bag."

"We have no beans," said Buster.

"Here are many little white stones that will do for beans," said Bunty, gathering them in her paws from the edge of a little brook that ran into the lake. "Can you make a bag to hold some of these stones Uncle Wig?" said the orphan rabbit.

"I think so," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll make a stone bag of some strong leaves sewed together with grass thread. Bring me plenty of stones, please."

Uncle Wiggily had a pile of stones in front of him. Around him were gathered the animal children with the big hollow dandelion stems they had been blowing on to make music.

"Now is our chance!" whispered the Bob Cat. "Come on, Foxie!"

The two Bad Chaps made a rush for the rabbits. Uncle Wiggily saw them just in time.

"Quick! We must fight them!" said the rabbit gentleman. "Blow stones through the dandelion stems at the Bad Chaps. Pretend you have beanblowers. Fight! Fight! Fight!"

In a moment Uncle Wiggily's fight started. Hundreds of the hard stones were blown through hollow dandelion stems at the Fox and Bob Cat. The Bad Chaps were stung on their noses. They howled and ran away very fast. Mr. Longears had won the fight. And if the mosquito will bite some holes in the lollypop to make it a coffee strainer I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's cushion.

Council will meet on Monday, August 30, 1937, at the hour of 10 a.m. (daylight saving time).

THE OTHER WOMAN LIVES JUST AROUND THE CORNER

IT may seem unreasonable, but most men cannot understand why a woman who is usually happy and loving should have recurring periods when her whole character seems changed. He cannot appreciate the distress, the discomfort that all women must endure. He does not know what it is to do housework with an aching back and failing energy. All he does know is that other women seem more cheerful by comparison.

Are you such a three-quarter wife?

Don't let the ordeals that all women face cause you avoidable discomfort or endanger your home. Do as so many wise women have—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go Smiling Through.

Canadian To Attempt 'Bat Flying'

Canada's first "bat man," Cecil McKenzie, (ABOVE), Vancouver parachute jumper, is not dismayed by the fate of the late Clem Sohn, who crashed to his death in Europe. McKenzie has built a special set of wings and plans to do spins, loops and rolls as he plunges down from 10,000 feet at the Western Canada Air Show to be held in Vancouver. Although this will be his first attempt at flying with wings he has made numerous parachute jumps since 1930. That 'chute he is wearing is only one of the two which will open at 3,000 feet after gliding some 7,000 feet.

HITCH-HIKER SETS ENGLAND AS GOAL

Saskatchewan Grandmother Makes Way Towards Old Home By Easy Stages

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9 (CP).—Slight energetic 47-year-old Mrs. Ada Jenkins Carter, who is working her way as best she can toward her old home in England from Goodsoil, Sask., 125 miles northwest of Saskatoon, is now on her way from Winnipeg to Montreal.

She left her home in Goodsoil on February 9. A dog sled piloted by her son Philip took her to Woodsall, Sask., and a truck loaded with hogs to St. Walburg. There illness kept her until March 18, and she made her living by selling beadwork, watch fobs and book marks.

She journeyed to Saskatoon by train and worked for a time until she obtained her passport, and then hitch-hiked to Winnipeg.

Mrs. Carter says she is "jack of all trades" and it quite evident she is very versatile. With the help of her sons she has built two campers' cottages and the family is now building a complete summer resort. The beadwork she sells is her own. She learned how to do it from a book. "I've sawed, hammered, dug cellars—everything," she said.

PONTYPOOL

Mr. and Mrs. Calver Kellett of Belleville were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kellett on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Malley of Newcastle spent the week-end with friends in the village.

On Sunday, August 8th, the annual decoration services were held at the Falls cemetery. Special music for the afternoon was provided by the Salvation Army Band from Lindsay.

On Wednesday night, August 4th, a very successful dance was held in the Orange Hall, Pontypool, under the auspices of the Pontypool flute band. Jack Galloway's orchestra provided the music for round and square dancing.

The members of the band had been selling tickets on a hundred-weight of sugar and at about 11 o'clock the draw was made, Mr. James Mackie of Lotus held the lucky ticket. Dancing was then continued until the early hours of morning.

Doctors Deliver Baby after Mother Died

After a fight during which Philadelphia courts declared the life of an unborn baby should be saved if possible, surgeons performed a caesarean operation on the dead body of Mrs. Mary Boccawsini (LEFT), within a few moments of her death and delivered a baby girl whose weight is estimated at about three pounds. Mrs. Boccawsini, an expectant mother, was in the hospital suffering from tubercular meningitis and had been given only 15 minutes to thirty hours to live. Surgeons planned to operate following her death, but Mr. Boccawsini (RIGHT), said if the mother died the baby would have to die with her. It was the will of God and there would be no operation, he claimed. Hospital authorities consulted a Philadelphia judge who ruled a unborn child had certain legal rights. Following the death of Mrs. Boccawsini and the saving of her baby, her husband claimed hospital authorities would have to take the child.

Bombings Mark Royal Visit To Ireland

While, in other parts of the city, bombs were bursting, allegedly as a mark of protest by Republican extremists, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England are shown being officially welcomed to Belfast by Sir Crawford McCullagh (RIGHT), Lord Mayor of the Northern Irish Metropolis. Extraordinary precautions were taken for the safety of the royal visitors during their brief visit.

15 ARRESTED AS POLICE OPEN TEXTILE MILLS TEAR GAS, CLUBS USED TO FORCE WAY INTO PLANT

All Is Quiet At Auburn Plant Opens

No Opposition to 52 Returning Workers at the Auburn Woollen Mill.

30 POLICE ON HAND.

Cat-Calls and Hoots From 150 Picketers Greet Non-Strikers.

The whistle of the Auburn woollen mill blew at 8.50 o'clock this morning for the first time in the six weeks of the textile strike, presumably as a signal to fifty-two returning employees to begin work.

From the main highway it was greeted with derisive hoots, virtually the last incident of the morning's strike-breaking demonstration on the Auburn front where the display of concentrated Constabularly force failed to stir up any disturbance from the ranks of the men whose complaints of inadequate and unfair wages were the basis of the walk-out during the last week in June.

At 7.30 o'clock 150 men and women were grouped around the main gate. Others arrived later, and about 8 o'clock Michael English, chairman of the strikers' committee, briefly addressed the gathering after they had moved out to the entrance off the highway.

Wanted No Violence

"There's just a negligible bunch down at the Oval" Mr. English said. "They are not enough to carry on any operations in the plant. I would only say that if we all stick together a while longer we should be able to get what we have been after. Remember when they come up here, no violence."

Some one in the crowd had asked Mr. English what he thought ought to be done.

"That's for you to say", he replied, and others called out, "We're not going in."

Mr. English's final injunction to the men was "Keep moving as pickets. They can't prevent that."

In the meantime the employees who had decided to return to work had assembled inside the north east gate of the Nicholls Oval.

According to a reporter's count there were 52 of whom about 20 were men. The obvious majority were women and girls. A squad of 11 provincial constables, 1 traffic officer and eight city police were the nucleus of a body guard which was increased to thirty by the arrival of ten other constables, who came with Chief Newhall from the Bonner-Worth sector.

The police formed an embracing escort, lining up beside the employees on all four sides.

It had all the compactness and force of a phalanx as with Chief Constable Newhall at the head it marched away from the Oval up the old Auburn Road.

As the phalangists approached the mill property the continuing strikers raised shouts of "scab, scab" with howls and boos.

The phalanx turned off the county road into the Auburn lane lined with men and women who have been striking for six weeks.

The march of the police escort continued toward the mill gate, and as the strikers fell in behind shouting "scabs," the rear line of police wheeled and ordered them back into the highway.

At the factory gate a smaller crowd echoed the derisive epithets, but the first workers to pass through into the mill in six weeks parted from their police detail and went on inside.

The demonstration of shouting was snuffed out in the lane and altogether lasted only a few minutes.

From a reporter's point of observation, the Auburn incident was a mild affair. Chief Newhall put the finger on three men, ordering police to take them into custody. They were Mr. Michael English, Gordon Grisdale and Joe Vinette, according to information received from several of the strikers.

No untoward incident was seen or heard by two Examiner reporters who were nearby, but Chief Newhall stated that he heard the men shout "Stone the ——."

The police mopped up the highway, keeping the crowd moving along, and beyond the indignation of the body of strikers the Auburn incident was just another day of the strike.

"None of the weavers have gone in," one of them told The Examiner, "and the company can't do anything without them."

DISORDER MARKS RE-OPENING BONNER-WORTH MILLS.

The layout shows some of the scenes of grave disorder that marked the re-opening of the Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills this morning. (1) Strike-breakers accompanied by an escort of provincial and city police with drawn batons are seen advancing west on McDonnel street as the eight o'clock whistle signalled them to the mill. (2) Alex Welch, U.T.W. organizer on remand on two charges is seen attempting to give Mayor George A. Macdonald safe conduct through picket lines at the main entrance gates. (3) A tear gas bomb effectively disperses the crowd that had gathered about the mill gates and hold up a westbound bus. (4). Police clear a way at the main gates for strike-breakers. (5) Strike-breakers found their entry to Auburn plant was a mere walkover. There was no disturbance there by comparison with scenes of disorder at the Bonner-Worth mill. (6) Alex. Welch, U.T.W. organizer is seen about to enter the police car following his arrest.

WOUNDED HEADS.

Mayor Receives Mauling — He Attempts to Go Through Lines.

Tear gas and clubs were used by a squad of 17 provincial and city police to force a way through picket lines of hysterical girls and shouting men for sixty workers who answered the call of the Bonner-Worth plant whistle at 8 o'clock this morning. Escorted by an even large police detachment, 109 workers were at the same time marching down Armour road and into the Auburn plant unmolested.

Arrest of Organizer Alex Welch and 11 strike pickets, and minor injuries to a score of strikers and police were the net result of the wild scene at the Bonner-Worth Gordon Dundas and Lon Coughlin, two of the arrested pickets were treated for head wounds.

Mayor Receives Mauling.

Efforts of Mayor George A. Macdonald to address the strike mob and convey to them Premier Hepburn's promise of immediate institution of a minimum wage scale averted violence at the Auburn plant but failed at the Bonner-Worth. The Mayor received a severe mauling at the hands of picket girls as he attempted to break through the picket line.

By 7.30 o'clock the Bonner-Worth scene was alive. Police had gathered in readiness for action and hundreds of mill employees were milling about in front of the plant, intermixed with a large gathering of curious spectators. Pickets were marshalled in front of the plant administration building and fifty girls started a rotating picket line on the sidewalk.

By 7.50 o'clock a substantial body of the workers who wished to enter the plant had assembled at the corner of Park and McDonnel Streets in accordance with instructions of the company published yesterday. The Provincial Police in their khaki uniforms, armed with long clubs, and blue-uniformed city police, herded the workers into a solid unit.

As preparations to bring the workers up the street through the milling mob of strikers and spectators were made, Mayor Macdonald arrived on the scene from the Auburn plant where he had made his successful appeal to the strikers to avoid violence and consider Premier Hepburn's proposals of a minimum wage.

Showed Violence.

He advanced from his car across McDonnel Street, intending to pass through the rotating picket line of girls and mount the stairway landing to the east wing of the building in order to gain a point of vantage for his address. Girls lunged at him and shoved him violently back to the street as he reached the picket line. Several followed him as he attempted to withdraw to the road, pummelling him until Provincial Police hurried to the spot and threw them aside.

A great shout arose a moment later as the mob concentrated mainly in front of the main gateway by the administration building saw the workers advancing under heavy police escort up the street. Girls with a liberal sprinkling of men packed themselves tightly in front of the gateway.

Fight Was On.

WOMEN CAUSED TROUBLE.

Mayor Macdonald was prevented from addressing the strikers at the Bonner-Worth plant although he had been given a courteous hearing earlier at the Auburn plant.

"The girls and men shoved me back," Mayor Macdonald said. "I was trying to get through to the gate to get up on a platform and given them Premier Hepburn's message, but they refused to hear me.

"The women caused all the trouble. They were yelling and squealing. They were the disturbers. They are more excitable and they got the men excited by yelling. Welch tried to get order, too, so I could speak to them, but it made no difference.

"I got a wonderful hearing at the Auburn plant and explained to them I had a communication from the Premier asking them to go back to work. I told them they had his assurance of a province-wide textile investigation and his promise that if they went back to work quietly now they would not be the losers."

Asked Questions

"They asked me questions at the Auburn plant, but they gave me a fine hearing and everything was quiet. I tried to give the same message at the Bonner-Worth plant. I wanted to place the Premier's proposals before them, but they wouldn't let me.

"The police were a short distance away guarding the men who wanted to go back to work. They saw what

King To Play Role Of a Private Guest

Angus, Scotland, Aug. 10 (CP).

THE KING, it is understood, has informed his father-in-law, the Earl of Strathmore, that he desires to be treated as a private guest when he joins the Queen and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret at the Earl's seat here, Glamis Castle, probably tomorrow.

According to custom a British sovereign is always host, never guest unless staying with persons of royalty.

LOSS ALL AROUND.

One Truck Is Wrecked and House Burns.

ALLIANCE, Neb., Aug. 10.—(AP).—The volunteer fire department said it was a "complete loss" all the way around.

The new chemical truck was virtually demolished in a collision while speeding to a fire at the Rev. W. H. Jackson's home.

E. P. Woods, the driver, suffered a fractured leg.

A pumper truck was called to the fire, but the residence was out of the hydrant area.

The home burned to the ground.

HUNTING A BOY.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP).—Police have been asked to look for Loci Fekete, 13, missing from his home here. Loci left a note, according to Louis Fekete, his father, saying he was going to visit another city. Fekete said his wife lived in Toronto and he thought the boy might be planning to visit there.

Cornwall Strikers May Buck Proposal

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.).—Premier Hepburn's suggestion of textile workers returning to work pending an investigation into wage schedules, met with some disfavor here to-day from strikers of the Canadian Cottons Limited.

No statements were made from strike headquarters, but a meeting will be held to-morrow to discuss the plan. Meanwhile, it was intimated unofficially the men were unlikely to return to work pending the inquiry.

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.).—Arthur Laverty, leader of Cornwall textile strikers, left for Ottawa to-day to confer with A. Charpentier, representative of Quebec textile strikers. It was suggested here there was a possibility of the two organizations joining forces and appealing directly to the Federal Department of Labor for intervention and settlement of the strikes.

ROBES TO BE CHANGED.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. — (AP). — Mayor Kelly ordered the robes worn by Father Marquette on a commemorative plaque on the Michigan boulevard bridge changed from those of a Franciscan monk to a Jesuit priest in "conformity with history." Someone called His Honor's attention to the error and an artist was instructed to get busy with his chisel.

A Perfect Set-Up That Didn't Work

Tulsa, Aug. 10.

"What for?" Reif inquired.

"Well," the woman said, "Mrs. So-and-So next door has been talking about me and the neighbors and I are going over and break her windows out. We want the police there so if she should attempt to hurt us they can stop her."

Reif explained the police would be glad to stop her instead. He demanded her address.

THREE HORSES KILLED.

Ennismore Swept By A Violent Thunder Storm.

ENNISMORE, Aug. 10.—Ennismore was swept by a violent electric storm on Sunday that did considerable damage. Joseph Costello who lives a mile east of the church had three horses killed by lightning in a field. Thomas Cavanagh's house was struck by a bolt which came in over the telephone wires but did not set the place on fire.

LONDON DEMANDS REBELS RELEASE 3 BRITISH CRAFT

Note is Second—Insurgents Answer First By Saving Crew "Reds."

INDEMNITY INCLUDED.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (CP-Havas).—Sir Henry Chilton, British Ambassador to Spain, today was instructed to demand the immediate return of three British freighters seized by the Spanish insurgents.

The instructions were conveyed to the Ambassador at Hendaye, France. The ships involved are the 3,091-ton Molton, the 2,539-ton Mirupanu and the 2,414-ton Candleston Castle. The demand for return of the Molton was the second that has been sent to insurgent authorities in connection with this ship. The Mirupanu was captured July 22 and the Candleston Castle July 18.

The Molton was captured by the insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera July 14 while it was en route to Santander to evacuate Basque refugees. On July 19 Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons that release of the ship and indemnity for any damage resulting from its capture had been demanded.

In a reply to the first British note, insurgent authorities charged 32 members of the Molton's crew "were known for their Red sympathies."

FOUR ARE KILLED IN FLORIDA CRASH

Six Others Hurt—Pilot Hits New Power Line Up That Night.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Aug. 10 —(AP)—A 14-passenger eastern airlines plane crashed into a newly-constructed power line near the airport here early today, fluttered helplessly into a thicket and was wrecked, killing four persons, Peter Dygert, airport manager, said the power line was strung at 11 p.m. last night and that he had not been notified. It was not there last night.

Killed in the crash were: Captain Stuart Dietz of Baltimore, chief pilot; Robert Reed, co-pilot; J. F. Philpots, Kingston, Jamaica, passenger; W. G. Marian, Mexico City, passenger.

The big Douglas airliner, en route from Chicago to Miami, struck the power line pole after making a scheduled stop here. It was Eastern Airline's first fatal accident. Dygert said the overhead line was put up by the Florida Power and Light Company as a temporary measure because of power failure in an underground cable.

Strikers To Be Freed From The County Jail

MAYOR George A. Macdonald made representations to Crown-Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., this afternoon with the result that the strikers under arrest and lodged in the county jail on remand "who are Peterborough citizens will be let out on their own cognizance.

COBOURG SMASH TAKES MAN'S LIFE

Kingston Motorist is Victim as Napanee Truck Hits His Car.

COBOURG, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Second traffic victim in this district in two days, Phillip Kirck, 40 Durham street, Kingston, died in hospital here last night after an automobile truck crash on No. 2 Highway, seven miles east of here.

Police said Kirck was at the wheel of an automobile owned by William Hugil, Golden Lake, Ont., who had stopped to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Kirck at Napanee. Hugil suffered slight injuries in the crash, while Mrs. Kirck also received lacerations.

The truck was driven by Charles Amodeo, Napanee fruit dealer. Dr. G. Peacock opened preliminary inquiry and the inquest proper will be held later. Constable Fred Blucher investigated. Kirck was about 35.

WANTED—A MOUSE.

Woman Appeals For One Her Cat Will Play With, Not Eat.

MACKAY, Idaho, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. C. A. Jensen asked neighbors to help her find a "suitable mouse" for her cat Archibald, who has been moping around since his playmate, Timothy, a mouse, died.

Mrs. Jensen said she has tried to replace Timothy three times, but that Archibald didn't like the substitutes.

He ate them.

Fourteen Picketers Enter Pleas Of Not Guilty In Police Court

Twelve Men and Three Women Appear Before Magistrate Campbell.

SOME REFUSED BAIL.

Twelve men and three women arrested in connection with the disturbance at the Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, were this morning arraigned before Magistrate W. R. F. Campbell on various charges.

The accused who either entered pleas of "not guilty" or declined to plead to charges, are all employees of Dominion Woollens with exception of Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer who gave a Toronto address.

Welch is held for preliminary hearing next Tuesday on two charges. He is accused of obstructing Chief Constable Newhall in the execution of his duty; and also of preventing workers from going to their work at the Bonner-Worth Mill by following the workers in a disorderly manner on McDonnel street. Represented by E. F. Sheehy, Welch elected trial before the next court of competent jurisdiction and pleaded not guilty. He was one of several accused who was refused an application for bail.

Others taken into custody and who will either appear on remand, bail or adjournment on Tuesday next, are: Alphonse Coughlin, who stood in the dock with a bandaged right elbow; a bloodstained shirt; and an injured scalp to face three charges of assault, including one of assaulting Mayor George A. Macdonald in the execution of his duty;

Milk Bottle Saves Woman From Death

Bracebridge, Aug. 10.

MRS. JOSEPH HILLIER, farmer's wife living about four miles from this Muskoka town, had a bottle of cream knocked from her hand by a bolt of lightening during an electric storm Sunday.

She herself was unharmed except for suffering shock.

The house was not damaged, but when Mrs. Hillier recovered from a daze a moment later, she was still holding half the bottle in her hand.

The other half was on the floor at her feet, and so was the cream.

The glass, it was said, acted as an insulator, thus saving Mrs. Hillier from death or serious injury.

PRIEST IS FINED.

10 Days In Jail Is Alternative For Insulting Nazi Newspaper.

STUTTGART, Germany, Aug. 10 (AP).—Rev. Gregor Watschle, a Catholic priest, was sentenced today to pay a $60 fine or serve 10 days in jail for "insulting a newspaper."

Father Watschle was charged with telling a woman parishioner who wanted to resign from the Church because of the immorality trials that the Nazi newspaper in which she read of the prosecutions was "the most scoundrelly, mendacious sheet yet printed."

The name of the paper was not mentioned at the trial.

Quints, Sick or Well Continue as Magnet

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP).—Ill or well, the Dionne quintuplets keep a steady stream of dollars pouring into the Ontario tourist industry. Their current illness, instead of decreasing their power as an attraction has increased it.

There was no drop in the number of visitors to the Dafoe nursery last week when Emilie was ill. In fact hundreds came only on the chance of seeing the ailing quint at her isolation ward window.

Today hundreds of tourists are in the district to see the famous three-year-olds and few have been discouraged by Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe's announcement yesterday that head colds would keep them from entertaining visitors for two or three days.

The majority of the tourists decided to stay in the district until the quints got well and the tourist camps and hotels are reaping a harvest. Many of the visitors have gone north to fishing camps to wait out the two or three days.

SOCIABLE SKUNKS

Posties Carry Egg 1,000 Miles—Whole

Winnipeg, Aug. 10 (CP).

WESTERN Canada postal clerks are very careful about the handling of his Majesty's mail, it became apparent here today when evidence showed that a Northern Alberta woman had mailed a hat with an egg in it, and when the package was opened here after a 1,000-mile journey, there wasn't a crack in the egg's shell.

SALES TAX G S UP.

2 Per Cent Cut off 1 onth Earlier Due to Slump in Buying

EDMONTON, Aug 10 — (CP). — Alberta's two-per-cent sales tax, instituted May 1, 1935, has been suspended, Hon. Solon Low, Provincial Treasurer, announced last night.

The Minister had announced in the Alberta Legislature last week that the tax would be dropped Sept. 1, but as a result of representations by business houses, he said the buying public had stopped buying and was waiting until that date, the suspension is now in effect."

Total mileage of the world's highways is equal to 375 times around the earth, according to statistics issued in London.

STRIKE ENDS IN JAIL.

Newsdealer Socks Wrong Customer —A Policeman.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The one-man strike of Dave Rubinsky, 21-year-old newsdealer, ended in jail today because he socked the wrong customer.

Patrolman John Bou, in plain clothes, bought a paper at the news stand. He said Rubinsky then approached and punched him on the jaw, demanding "What do you mean by buying a paper here Can't you see I'm on strike?"

Rubinsky was held on a disorderly conduct charge.

Ontario To Start Probe Of Textile Industries

Peterboro' Plants Three, Cornwall Are First in Line

Firms Agree Wage Changes To Be Effective From Day Men Go to Work.

PLEAD HALT IN STRIKES.

Inquiry to be Spread Out After to Cover Every Mill in Province.

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP).—Ontario's new Labor and Industries Board was faced today with its first big task—an inquiry into wages paid in the textile industry in the Province. Under legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature, the board may set up minimum wages for men in any industry.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn last night announced he had ordered the inquiry with settlement of two knotty textile strikes as its immediate objective—those in the Peterborough plants of Dominion Woollens and Textiles, Limited, and in the Cornwall plants of Canadian Cottons, Limited.

As a first step towards settlement, every effort will be made to get the strikers back to work, with the companies undertaking that any wage adjustments ordered by the board will be effective as of the date the men return to work.

Premier Hepburn said, however, that the investigation would go beyond the Peterborough and Cornwall companies, into every textile plant in Ontario. Included would be the large Hespeler and other mills.

Treasury Men to Aid

The board, headed by E. J. Young, formerly of Weyburn, Sask., will be aided in its determination of "fair" wages in the textile industry by experts from the Ontario Treasury Department. Chester S. Walters, controller of finances, conferred with Premier Hepburn and J. P. Marsh, Deputy Minister of Labor, before announcement of the inquiry was made.

R. G. Tolmie of Canadian Cottons formerly requested the investigation.

False Alarm Cause Town Excitement

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10.—Local fire fighters answered a false alarm at 8 o'clock Sunday evening when a citizen thought the cold storage warehouse situated on the railway siding here was on fire. Seeing a burst of flame from the direction of the warehouse the person who gave the alarm did not wait to investigate but called the department which made a record run followed by a great many fire chasers, only to find that the flame was caused when William Carr who fires the boiler, owned by a construction company blew a fuse in order to clean out the boiler.

LOST FOR 24 DAYS BUSHMAN FOUND STILL CRAWLING

Starved Down 45 Pounds, Victim is Almost Blind After Ordeal.

NEAR SUNDRIDGE.

SUNDRIDGE, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP).—Only an unusually strong constitution has enabled Paul Czuck, 50-year-old woodworker, to survive 24 days in the bush, according to R. L. Gallagher. Found Saturday after wandering in the woods since July 14, the emaciated man remained under treatment here today. Sundridge is 45 miles south of North Bay.

His sight almost gone, and weakened by a starvation diet of leaves and bark, Czuck was crawling dogedly through the bush when James Parks found him. It is estimated Czuck lost 45 pounds in the period of nearly four weeks that he struggled in dense woods.

Woodsmen said they could not understand why Czuck had failed to strike the highway at one point or another in his wanderings. There are also several farms in the neighborhood, and automobile roads completely surround the area.

Nobody searched for the missing man, who came here from Toronto last spring, because it was thought he had left his pulpwood camp job to return to the city.

He said he ate bark and leaves and sucked muddy water from depressions in the soggy ground. He smoked dried leaves in his pipe until his lighter ran out of fuel. Czuck cannot remember the last few days of his ordeal, but said his sight began to fail and he bumped blindly into trees and stumbled over boulders.

ONTARIO'S FALL WHEAT HARVEST MUCH ABOVE 1936

Ottawa Figures Crop 5 Million Bushels Up—Dominion Yield Only 35 P.C.

OTHER GRAINS UP.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP).—Current condition figure for spring wheat is the lowest in 30 years of continuous records, said a crop report issued yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. On July 31 the crop was only 35 per cent. of the long-time average yield per acre compared with 51 per cent. on June 30, and 45 per cent. on July 31, 1936.

With the exception of spring rye and flaxseed other coarse grains, including oats at 60 per cent. and barley at 63 per cent. showed slightly better prospects on July 31, than on the same date a year ago. This was due to the comparatively better conditions in Ontario, Manitoba, and Alberta. Compared with June 30, 1937, the condition figures for practically all grains were lower.

The fall wheat crop in Ontario is estimated at 17,248,000 bushels, which is an increase of nearly 5,000,000 bushels over the small crop of 1936. Fall rye in the whole of Canada is placed at 4,276,000 bushels, an increase of more than 1,000,000 bushels over last year's production. The first cutting of alfalfa is slightly higher this year at 1,520,000 bushels.

All Crops Improved

The situation in Ontario is in sharp contrast to that of last year when the Province suffered from severe drought. All crops showed marked improvement and there has been practically no reduction from the ample prospects evident a month ago.

Apart from the seasonable decline in pastures, which is usual during the hot weather, peas and buckwheat are the only crops showing a perceptible decline from the condition figures shown at the end of June. In Northern Ontario, crops were retarded by dry weather, which was broken by good rains around the middle of the month.

For all Canada, the condition of field crops expressed percentages of

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE AT BEACHES

Fourteen Others Injured—Doctor Finds Scene "Like Battlefield."

NEW YORK, ARug. 10 — (AP). — Fourteen persons were recovering today from the stunning shock of lightning bolts that took a toll of three lives at nearby beaches.

Jagged prongs of one great lightning fork struck apparent simultaneously yesterday afternoon among widely separated groups of bathers.

Robert Andrews, Jr., 5, was killed as he and his father huddled with a score of others in a wooden shack at Rockaway Beach. A mile away, Walter Polwarczny, 23, and Stanley Maciejczyk, 17, both of Brooklyn, were killed instantly.

The bolts also bowled over men and women huddled beneath rain-drenched beach umbrellas. A doctor rushed to the scene said he found the beach "like a battlefield."

Husband Jailed After marriage

William H. Grimes, 67, and his 11-year-old bride of a week, Mary Frances Grimes, are shown Above at Poplar Bluff, Mo. She is attired in what she said was her "wedding frock." The bride's former name was Alexander. Grimes was jailed, charged with making false affadavit and contributing to the delinquency of a child. The little bride, who is reported to have declared that she loved her "dolly" more than her husband, was placed in custody of juvenile authorities.

TWO AIR FORCE AVIATORS KILLED MANITOBA CRASH

Craft, on Aerial Photography, Was Enroute Cormorant Lake to Sioux Lookout.

WINNIPEG, August 10—(CP).—Reports received by Royal Canadian Air Force authorities here last night said Flying Officer C. H. Porter and leading Aircraftsman E. G. Doran from the R.C.A.F. station in Ottawa were killed when their plane crashed near Grand Rapids, Man., on the north-western corner of Lake Winnipeg.

The plane was operating on aerial photography and was being flown from Cormorant Lake, Man., to Sioux Lookout, Ont., when the crash occurred.

Winnipeg authorities would give no further details of the crash.

Porter's home was Salcoats, Sask., and Doran was from Toronto.

MUSSOLINI TESTS SICILY'S DEFENCES

Extensive "Games" Will See Army Attack Strategic Island in "Mock War."

ROME, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Premier Mussolini, acting as his own Minister of War, took charge to-day of preparations for large scale war games to test the strength of the strategic Sicilian fortifications to protect Italy against invasion from the Mediterranean.

The Premier was given a tumultuous welcome when he arrived at Messina.

The island city was decked with flags and bunting and Fascists predicted Il Duce's visit would be turned into a triumphal tour of the island, which lies like a football at the toe of the Italian "boot."

Mussolini sailed yesterday from Gaeta on the yacht Aurora, escorted by 11 warships.

For the Premier it was a return to the scene of one of his most dramatic triumphs—the liberation of Sicily from the grip of the Maffia 13 years ago. But the prime business at hand was the "shadow boxing" manoeuvres of more than 50,000 picked soldiers, sailors and airmen.

The mock warfare in Western Sicily is scheduled to start on Friday when a "blue" army of three divisions, supplemented by forces of home defence and coast defence militia, will try to destroy or rout a "red" army of two divisions which will attempt to land under the big guns of a convoying fleet.

Military observers said the manoeuvres are expected to demonstrate how modern Italian defences could protect Western Sicily from overseas invasion.

THAT GYPSY TOUCH.

Fortune Teller Adds to Widow's Grief as $500 Vanishes

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—(AP).—Mrs. Alice Regan's grief over being left a widow with three children was doubled after visit by gypsy fortune teller who promised she could restore happiness to the woman's life.

Mrs. Regan told police she removed $500 savings from a bank and tied it in a stocking around her waist as instructed by the gypsy woman. The fortune teller said her "touch" would "charm" away the grief. Ten days later Mrs. Regan looked in the stocking. She found only a roll of brown wrapping paper.

RINK PROPERTY SOLD.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP). — The Auditorium property here was purchased to-day by R. P. Hill, K.C., for interests Mr. Hill declined to name. The price was not divulged, Mr. Hill made it quite plain that the big rink would operate next winter. Claire Brunton, who managed the rink for some years, said the prospects for the return of professional hockey to Ottawa were none too bright, but amateur hockey would be on the bill of fare.

Reckless Driving Case Is Enlarged

Dawson Paul of Smith Township surrendered to bail on Monday on a charge of reckless driving. On application of his counsel, B. D. Hall and with consent of the Crown the case was further enlarged until September 14 next, bail being renewed in the sum of $1,000. The charge against the accused arises out of a collision between a car and a motorcycle at the intersection of George and McDonnel streets on the night of June 23 last, as a result of which Miss Jean Connolly of Oshawa sustained a compound fracture of the leg. The young woman was pillion passenger on a motorcycle ridden by H. Guppy, and it was stated she is still in hospital. Police allege that Paul was driving a car that did not have adequate brakes, and that in making a turn he cut the corner.

SHANGHAI TENSE AFTER JAPS SHOT

Both Sides Claim Other Opened Fire Without Provocation.

SHANGHAI, Aug 10 (AP).—Bodies of a Japanese naval officer and seaman, killed in a clash with Chinese guards t the entranne to the Hungjao Military Airdrome, were turned over to Japanese authorities today. This action caused an appreciable relaxation of the tension in this metropolis of China.

Chinese and Japanese officials worked to curb the mounting tension and both announced they had agreed to settle the incident by diplomatic means in order not to aggravate the situation caused by a month of undeclared war between the two powers in North China.

Popular feeling remained acute with Chinese residents of neighboring sectors—scenes of heavy fighting in the 1932 Shanghai war between China and Japan—in near panic. Both Japanese and Chinese officials continued their conflicting stories of the incident but it was noticeable that each avoided making charges that would place the other in an untenable position.

Chinese charged the Japanese officer opened fire on Chinese sentries at the airdrome, wounding one, when entry was refused his motorcar. Japanese declared the Chinese guards had fired without provocation.

STIFFER FINES.

Windsor Proposes to End Parking Violations

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP).—In a drive to relieve congestion in areas where parking has become a serious problem, Windsor city traffic committee has decided to increase fines for violations of parking regulations. Fire Chief Clarence Defields reported an instance during last week-end when parked cars blocked a fire station so that for seven minutes it would have been impossible for the apparatus to answer an alarm.

CORONATION FLOWERS

CHARLOTTETOWN — (CP). — Quite in keeping with Coronation Year, a design in flowers, "Long Live The King" has been arranged in a bed in front of the post office here. Cup-shaped green plants, Semper-Vivum, have been used to form the letters, while the entire space between the letters was filled with plants of a reddish color called Altunanthera.

BIG FISH HURTS ANGLER

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C.—(CP) —A 400-pound sturgeon caught with a gill net in the Fraser River here put up a desperate battle for freedom before being subdued with a club. One fisherman received severe cuts and scratches.

SWALLOW TRAVELS FAR

WYNYARD, Sask. — (CP) — A swallow captured here bore the band tag "Biological Survey, Washington, D.C., B 68297," showing the little traveller a long way from home. The tag was sent to Washington.

Special Speaker To Address Lakefield Women's Institute

Warsaw Branch Members Will Be Guests at September Meeting.

VISIT THREE PLANTS.

LAKEFIELD Aug. 10—There will be a special speaker at the September meeting of the Lakefield branch of the Women's Institute, and members of the Warsaw branch will be guests of the local society, it was decided at the August gathering of the local branch of the Institute which was held on Wednesday, Aug. 4.

The August meeting took the form of a picnic, as had been planned. About 1 p.m. on Wednesday the ladies of the Institute and their guests, the members of the Junior Institute, met at the Memorial Hall where they were picked up by automobiles and transported to Peterborough. Here they visited three Canadian industries, namely, the Nashua Paper Co., the Colonial Weaving Co., and the National Individual Mausoleum Co., where they were shown through the works and given the privilege of watching the manufacture of different products and the various stages in their production. At the Nashua Paper Co.'s works they saw paper gummed, printed and waxed, ready for wrapping bread, and milk bottle tops cut, printed and packed in cartons, reading for shipping.

At the Colonial Weaving factory the members saw silk being woven into labels of every possible size and shape for use on merchandise. Here, too, they saw fancy elastics and rick rack braid in the making.

At the National Individual Mausoleum Company's plant they were shown the new concrete mausoleum which holds a coffin and preserves the remains intact through the years, safe from rain and weather. Here the ladies were treated to ice cream and each was presented with a rose-bud by courtesy of the company.

Picnic at Nicholls Oval.

After the tour of these industries the ladies and their guests—forty-one in all—were driven to Nicholls Oval where they enjoyed a delicious picnic lunch. Here, after the picnic they held an open air meeting and completed any business at hand.

Mrs. J. H. Moore of Douro, offered her home for the September meeting and her offer was accepted on motion. It was decided that the Lakefield branch should invite the members of the Warsaw branch of the Institute to be their guests at this meeting, at which there will be a special speaker. The theme of the meeting is "Legislation," and it is probably that the speaker will outline the benefits derived by the people from certain governmental departments, such as the Welfare Dept., and the Dept. of Health, etc., and will show how these function in co-operation with the Women's Institutes.

Talent money was turned in at this meeting, each lady who brought her donation telling how she earned it. Some of the ladies cut and trimmed lawns while others recorted cutting their husband's hair, and still others washed the family car to earn their share. Over $7.00 talent money has been received up-to-date.

Overseas Visitors.

The Institute was honored in having two persons from Scotland in their picnic. The first, Mrs. Russell, is a guest of Mrs. O. E. Kingdon, of Lakefield, and the second, Mrs. McTaggart, went as a guest of Miss Marjorie Frankish.

Institute members who wish to attend the September meeting are reminded that they are to meet at the Memorial Hall at 1.30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 1.

3,300 Silk Workers Quit Jersey Mills

PATERSON, N.J. Aug. 10—(AP)—Thousands of silk workers quit their looms today to join a C.I.O.-called strike which representatives of both employers and employees quickly called "successful."

Begun so peacefully that police called it the "quietest" strike walkout of the many that have marked the Passaic Valley silk area, the strike brought what both sides said was a near-complete stoppage of the 500 mills here.

Irving Abramson, Paterson head of the Textile Workers organizing committee, C.I.O. affiliate, estimated 95 per cent of the 4,000 weavers in this zone had joined the strike and said "practically every shop is closed down."

De Luxe Cafe Is Ultra Modern Restaurant

Silver Gray And Soft Browns In Charming Interior Harmony

Old Dominion Restaurant Completely Vanishes Behind Bright Colors of New Vitrolite Front.

COMFORT IN APPOINTMENT

Accepting the challenge of a changing George street in the new and unconventional designs of store fronts, the De Luxe Cafe was formally opened this morning by the proprietor, Jim Hum, Peterborough restaurateur in the old Dominion Cafe since the year prior to the war.

The former premises have completely disappeared under the magic touch of contractors who with a free hand have employed in the furnishings the latest ideas that may be classed as "art modern". The exterior of the De Luxe Cafe is a striking color design of vitrolite in canary yellow, deep royal blue with a narrow orange trim, with Neon sign and inset windows that represent a new architectural departure that is revolutionizing main streets from Montreal to Miami.

Although color has been accentuated in the exterior of the De Luxe, it halts at the threshhold, dissolving into a pleasing harmony of soft tones that lend an agreeable and graceful atmosphere to restaurants and the smartest dining places. In this blend the mildly dominant note is the silver gray finish of the wood trimming which is entirely of select birch. Above the woodwork the walls extend in Donnacona board colored with successive and receding shades of soft brown that extend to the cream of the arched ceiling.

The silver grey of the wood trim is heightened by the gleaming chromium fittings in the slender hat racks, the edges of the new type of tables and in some of the wall fittings, including six beautiful mirrors of several different designs.

The restaurant affords sufficient privacy for diners in the separate compartments which are equipped with green leather upholstered seats that tilt, as in a theatre, and slender Neon lights are sconced in the wall at each compartment. These lights are of pale orange color. The new furnishings also afford a special party table with accommodation for fifteen persons. Its leather seats are a bright red, another of the delightful color surprises that greet the diners in the De Luxe.

There is also a comfortable window seat with telephone desk, additional conveniences for patrons.

However, these are all achievements on the side of appearance. With Jim Hum cleanliness and sanitary refinements come first. The kitchen has been as thoroughly modernized as the dining room, including new range, an additional new refrigerator, oak floor, and bright walls. Washrooms in the basement are finished in tile and marble, and special attention has been given to ventilation which is a feature of the De Luxe.

Jim Hum has actually scrapped the old Dominion Cafe in which he built up his reputation as a restaurant man and in the De Luxe he has given Peterborough a restaurant that will compare favorably with the smartest in the country. The material alterations are simply a new back ground for the service and cuisine that made the Dominion a popular resort for nearly twenty-five years.

One Of Hastings' Veterans James Convey Is 88 Today

Grand Old Man Recalls Early Days Along Lakeshore, Born in Hamilton Township.

ARISES AT 6 A.M.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 10—James Convey, one of Hastings' oldest residents, celebrates his 88th birthday today- August 10. In good health, Mr. Convey is quite active, getting up every morning at 6.00 o'clock to attend mass. Mary Jones, his niece, does the housekeeping duties for him.

He was born in Hamilton township, three miles east of Cobourg, the son of John Convey and Rosan Farmer, who came to Canada from Ireland in 1839. In the year 1841, many of the Irish who came to Canada died from eating diseased potatoes as there was a potato scourge in Ireland at that time.

Mr. Convey received his schooling, which was about three months each winter, at Vernonville. They were too busy in the summer months to attend school. He and his brothers moved to Percy township in 1869 and took up farming for themselves on 400 acres. Fifty acres had alreadv been cleared and they cleared 150 more. It is Mr. Convey's opinion, that if the land had to be cleared by modern day youth it would never be cleared.

Saw First Train

Mr. Convey saw the first train go through on the main line between Toronto and Montreal. He laughed as he told of how he and his dog ran when the whistle blew. No one in that district had ever seen a train before, and of how he and his chums would try to steal rides on the trunk rack of the stage coach that ran at that time from Kingston to Toronto.

He cites the Eucharistic Congress, held in Montreal in 1910, as the most impressive sight he ever saw. One hundred and forty-seven special trains carried pilgrims into Montreal in one day and the procession lasted for 5½ hours and was seven people deep. Every nation in the world was represented, even the Eskimo [illegible] attended the worlds fair [illegible] ago.

When asked what he contributed his longevity to, he said: "Lots of hard work, temperate in all habits and outdoor exercise." He has never been sick in his life except for colds. He eats three good meals a day and weighs 175 pounds. His wife, Ellen Coughlan, died 6 years ago. They were married in June, 1904, by Father Peter McGuire.

Mr. Convey has travelled some, covering the prairie provinces six years ago. He has also been in nine states and covered the Great Lakes several times.

SELWYN

On Thursday evening the Woman's Association of the Selwyn United church held a very delightful pie and ice cream social in the church sheds. This social evening was held in place of the regular monthly meeting of the W. A. Individual tables for four were placed around in the shade, each covered with pretty luncheon cloths and centred with bouquets of summer flowers. Each table was capably taken care of by charming waitresses and the various assortment of pie and ice cream was delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Atkins of Hamilton, called on relatives in the vicinity on Tuesday.

Mrs. Wellbourne of Lakefield, was a visitor to Selwyn last week and called on friends on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, of Omemee, have spent the past week with Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. McIlmoyl.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woods of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Andrew Wilson of Young's Point, called on relatives in the vicinity on Tuesday.

Mr. Ray Crapp of Hamilton spent last week-end with relatives in Selwyn and vicinity.

Mr. Reg Bell began his threshing activities for the season on Wednesday of this week, when he threshed for Louis McIlmoyl. The crop of fall wheat is reported to be very abundant and of excellent quality.

Mr. W. J. Moore, cheese factory inspector of Peterborough, visited the local factory on Wednesday.

MILLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kerr and son, Donald, leave on Sunday morning for their summer vacation to be spent at Wasaga Beach,Ottawa and motoring through Quebec province. Billy Kerr will join the party a week later at Ottawa, where he is all next week competing at the D.C.R.A. matches with the local rifle team. Miss M. E. Needham accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Kerr as far as Orillia going on from there to Muskoka where she will spend the week-end.

Mrs. Arthur Campbell, of Calgary, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Campbell, and friends at other points, before returning to her home in Alberta by the end of August.

Lorraine Davidson of Fleetwood is visiting her aunt and cousin, Mrs. T. C. and Miss Vanita Ingram, Anne street.

Such Men Are Needed

The announcement that Mr. Bennett intends to remain as leader of the Conservative party in Canada was welcome. The Examiner feels sure, not only to the vast majority of his own followers but to thousands of other Canadians who have never voted for the party led by the chieftain from Calgary and probably never will. The reason is that the qualities which Mr. Bennett has demonstrated during his public career and the vast store of knowledge of Canadian conditions and Canadian problems he has demonstrated are rightly regarded as assets that should be preserved in public life as long as possible.

The Conservative leader may not always have reached the right conclusion; his policies may not all have been 100 per-cent. sound but his honesty of purpose, the sincerity of his desire to be of service to Canada and his readiness to sacrifice his time and talent, and even his health, in that service have never been doubted. The House of Commons would be bereft of a striking personality and a most useful and hard-working member were Mr. Bennett to retire to that rest that he has so richly earned. It is gratifying therefore to Canadians of all shades of political opinion to learn that his physical condition is such as to permit him to remain at the helm of the Conservative party and to give for the benefit of the country the same untiring attention to public affairs as has distinguished his record at Ottawa. Probably no one in the House has such a grasp of so many problems or is so familiar with the details of so many questions and it would have been a pity if this intimate knowledge had been cut off abruptly and permanently. Canada needs men of his calibre.

The Wrong Way To Do It

It is to be hoped that the suggestion made the other day that the Imperial Veterans of the Great War residing in Canada should organize a pilgrimage to Ottawa in an attempt to persuade the Canadian government to give them better pensions will not be taken seriously.

In the first place it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that, so far as those imperial ex-servicemen who have come to Canada since the war are concerned, the responsibility of looking after them in the matter of pensions lies at the door of the British government and nowhere else. They enlisted in Britain, fought in British regiments and did not become residents of this country until after the conflict was over, some of them many years after. These men are on a different footing than Britishers living in Canada before 1914 and who as reservists were called back to their old regiments when the war drums sounded.

Supposing however there was some responsibility on the part of the Canadian government to do something for these particular veterans who became residents of Canada since the end of the war this business of organizing a trek upon Ottawa would certainly be the wrong way to go about seeking better treatment. There have been a number of such expeditions in Canada—not of veterans, it is true and the greater part of them accomplished absolutely nothing and in several cases created troublesome conditions. If there is any merit in the contention of the Imperial veterans they will have no trouble in securing champions in the House of Commons and that is the proper place to have the whole matter threshed out. Mass treks upon the capital create a wrong impression even before they get under way and friends of the ex-service men who have come to Canada since the war would do them a valuable service by pointing out the folly of such tactics before they are committed to a venture of that doubtful nature.

A War Lord Of Yesterday

Reports from Doorn telling of the life of Wilhelm Hohenzollern just twenty-three years after he declared war on Russia and signed the general mobilization order lend added substance to the theory that human justice falls far short of perfection.

The former Emperor of Germany, now in the twilight of life, is leading an idyllic sort of existence. He lives in a setting of beauty on a fifty-acre estate, attended by a devoted wife and with a corps of servants to minister to his material needs. He is a great lover of nature and on these bright Summer days spends much time in his garden, particularly his rosarium, noted for the great variety and the beauty of the roses. For a while each day he engages in his favorite pastime of chopping wood and in the evening reads the classics. He maintains a correspondence with many old friends, some of whom visit him occasionally. The life of the former war lord is, in most respects, comfortable and happy.

This doesn't seem quite right, ...

sidered from the viewpoint of even-handed justice. It was Wilhelm of Germany who gave a blank check to Berchtold of Austria, and sent the invading armies sweeping over the borders of Serbia, more than any other one man, who started the World War. And it was Wilhelm who, when the tide of battle turned against him and the great structure of his ambitions came tumbling into ruins about him, fled like a craven from the beloved Fatherland into the safe refuge of Holland, where he has lived peacefully ever since.

It seems only fair that Wilhelm should have experienced some of the misery that he brought to others—the cold of the Winter trenches, the mental anguish of the impending attack, the hunger, the filth, the physical suffering, the yearning for home and loved ones. It is unfortunate for the good of the world that war lords know so little of war and that, having plunged their people into the depths of misery, they are permitted to spend their declining years amidst the beauty of their roses.

A Black Record

If any justification were needed for the aggressive policy that is being adopted by the Ontario Highways Department in its new drive for safety it was tragically supplied by the black record of the past week-end. Fourteen persons, five of them children slain by motors in two days and in addition over half a hundred human bodies, torn and maimed, many of them crippled for life in hospital beds is the ghastly indictment of 48 hours travelling on the roads of Ontario. Without a complete report on all these accidents, of course, it is impossible to say how many of them were occasioned by recklessness or carelessness on the part of motorists but on the average of past records it is safe to say that a large proportion of those fourteen funerals and of the 50 or more hospital cases could have been avoided if the human element that is the main factor in disaster on the highway had not broken down.

How long are we going to continue this slaughter? Are we to keep on reaching new peaks in highway deaths each year or are we going to act like sensible people and in a common endeavour to make highway travel safer eliminate the chief causes of this steadily increasing casualty list? We will have to tighten up on the inspection of applicants for drivers' licenses, chase the temperamentally and the physically unfit motorists off the road, permanently cancel the permits of those who try to drink and drive, suspend drivers who are constantly reported as indulging in dangerous practices, and juries and courts must crack down upon individuals guilty of recklessness endangering life and limb. We have been pussyfooting too long, just playing around with the whole business and meanwhile we have been killing and maiming people until the accident record approaches in horror the casualty list of some of the old wars. The motor car should be a blessing to humanity but unless we hurry up and learn how to handle it safely it promises to develop into a worst scourge than smallpox used to be until medical science found a way to control it.

Too Much Front?

Under the heading "Too Much Front at Ottawa" the Woodstock Sentinel-Review in referring to the engaging by the King Government of a French town-planning expert to advise the administration on the selection of a site for a national war memorial, the location of the proposed new supreme court building and the re-routing of certain traffic lanes is inclined to be critical. "A certain amount of attention to matters of this kind is desirable but federal capitals can be housed, embellished and beautified to an unjustified extent, since it is the money of the whole country's population that goes to pay for the job," says the paper.

There is some truth in that of course, but we are inclined to think that until there has been piled up a great deal more evidence of extravagance in making the nation's capital worthy of a great country that has hitherto been adduced the criticism is unwarranted. Ottawa is the seat of Canada's parliament and it is only fitting and proper that the Federal government should take adequate steps to see that within reason the setting is worthy of the nation's government. We may be wrong but we feel that the vast majority of Canadians, no matter where they live, are satisfied that the capital of Canada should be made a show place to which they can be proud to direct the stranger within their gates and where on their own visits they can visualize the greatness of their country in the beauty of the surroundings of the home of the government. We do not mean that the administration should toss away public money like a drunken sailor. There is no need for wasteful expenditure. On the other hand surely a young and up-and-coming country like this wants its capital to look like the seat of the government of a prosperous and progressive nation. There should be no extravagance but again there should be no skimping or false economy.

A Stuffy Little Man

Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, the clergyman who married the Duke of Windsor and then said he did not do it for the publicity involved but was businesslike enough to cash in on the advertising through the medium of a speaking tour in the United States has been saying some things about Toronto. He had been told, he told newspapermen, that Toronto is "a stuffy little city of very dull people."

We have said some things about the Queen City and its people on occasions ourselves but in this particular case it might help to explain that Mr. Jardine's views of Toronto cannot be separated from the fact that his Toronto sponsors cancelled his appearance in that city after the cleric had been quoted as making some very injudicious remarks about the Archbishop of Canterbury in an American address. Had not this development occurred we cannot conceive of Mr. Jardine calling Ontario's capital a "very stuffy little city" and addressing his audience there as "my dear dull people." The simple truth is that the much-advertised clergyman seems to be a stuffy little man who found himself a world figure by defying the wishes of his church superiors and who has since been capitalizing on the notoriety he gained, at the same time demonstrating by his public address that he has nothing much to offer his audience but a glimpse of the clergyman who married a former king. Toronto lost nothing by cancelling his appearance there and in his reference to that city Mr. Jardine has merely proved that the grapes were sour.

WORLD'S END

Some day I'll do it—I will go away,
From all the old, heart-broken, tired days;
I'll piece together all my broken heart;
Perhaps I'll laugh and sing in strange, new ways.

Some day you will awaken at the dawn,
And then, despite bright skies and nesting birds,
You all will realize that I have gone,
And it will be too late for kindly words.

I could not leave you all at eventide,
When limpid stars come silent o'er the hill,
For I would have you rest, though I had gone,
And let you think that I was with you still.

Of course, my dear, some day I'll do that thing,
But you must never weep for me that day;
For I'll have gathered up my broken life,
And I'll go laughing, singing, on my way.

A manufacturer of razor blades computes that in Great Britain a total of 50,000 miles of hair is shaved from 125 acres of faces daily, the assumption being that the average man, including those with long faces, grows 48 square inches of bristles, 25,000 in number and that these combine to yield 20 feet of hair each day. Any reader who is sceptical of these figures is reminded that he can do his own counting and thereby check them.

An Important Discovery.

LAST winter an expedition from the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago unearthed an ancient palace at Megiddo (Armageddon) biblical battle site of Western Palestine. In the corner of an out-of-the-way room spades first uncovered a gleam of gold then a cache of gold and jewelry. The hoard, including lapis lazuli and ivory objects, was hidden away by royalty more than 3,000 years ago to keep it safe from the looting of invading armies.

The largest newspaper publishers in the world are two British brothers Lords Camrose and Kemsley who surpass both Lord Rothermere and Lord Beaverbrook on circulation alone. Lord Camrose, who started life as William Ewert Berry and his business career as office boy and reporter for the Merthyr Tydfil Times, launched the Advertising World in London in 1901 with an office boy as the only member of his staff. Later his brother Gomer Berry, now Lord Kemsley, joined the outfit and they began to climb the ladder until in 1915 they were able to buy their first great newspaper The Sunday Times. Later the brothers were in a position to pay $27,000,000 for the Daily Sketch and $47,500,000 for the Amalgamated Press. Between them they now control 32 papers whose subscribers total 9,700,000. Their closest rival is Rothermere whose nine papers including the Daily Mail—are bought by 5,300,000 Britons.

It's Not So New.

MOST people think of air conditioning as an "infant industry." As a matter of fact air-conditioning system was installed in the British House of Commons in 1836, two years before the accession of Queen Victoria. Utilizing ice or water sprays the ingenious mechanism filtered, washed and humidified the air which was admitted into the hall through 300,000 tiny holes bored in the floor. During most of the next century the infant suffered from retarded growth. A decade ago air-conditioning sales in the United States amounted to only $7,500,000. Since then, and particularly within the past couple of years the industry has grown up and last year's installations were estimated as having totalled $53,000,000 which exceeded the 1935 total by 50 per cent.

Harvards endowment is $128,000,000. Yale's $36,000,000. Columbia's $69,500,000 and Chicago's $50,000,000 while Pennsylvania has only $21,000,000.

NEED SOMETHING LIKE C. I. O.

Editor Examiner:

Sir: I noticed in Saturday's paper an article by O. N. Gordon, condemning the C.I.O. and saying it has no place in the city. Mr. Gordon is doing splendid work in taking the part of the strikers and their relief situation. But does he really understand the C. I. O., maybe if he studied it up more he would have a different view of it. I have found the real reason most people are against it is simply because it is from the States, and they don't understand it, some people don't even know what the initials mean, but like everything else that succeeds and is new there is opposition to it. Look at the wage raises and shorter hours it is getting for the men over there. About violence and force there is always a bit of that in almost every strike, it is hard to stop human nature. But the C. I. O. is getting results, and that is what the average worker wants. I am not saying to have the C. I. O. in Canada, but we need a similar form over here. As Mr. Murray says the day of the old craft unions is about done. Here is an example. I work in a south end factory, there is a craft union there it works for the skilled men. Now most of us in the factory are unskilled. This skilled body of men work as an exclusive body, and don't even allow the unskilled men to join them. They enjoy regular hours. While we, and the girls department a good many days last winter have worked 12 to 13 hours a day, and our department has many days worked the noon hour, and even the odd Sunday. Now you see the value to organize the industry as a whole and every one shares in the results. Thanking you for your valuable space. I am your sincere subscriber.

EX. TEXTILE WORKER.

DEFENDS THE STRIKE

Editor Examiner:

Sir: I should very much appreciate the privilege of expressing a few of my views on the local strike situation through the medium of your column.

Through their statements to the public, the management of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. has endeavoured to lead the citizens of Peterborough to believe that the strike is the result of a spontaneous walk-out on the part of the weavers of the Auburn Mills. The facts are that the strike situation is the result of years of dissatisfaction through working for starvation wages.

The management fails to inform the public that the weavers walked out without giving notice only after their previous requests for wage increases had been refused.

True, the workers did not give notice to the officials of the company before walking out, but within an hour of the time they left the plant a committee was elected to present their demands to the management. This committee was curtly refused any wage increase whatsoever. They were informed that their rates were designed so that they would earn 35c to 45c per hour, which is not true, because the average weaver simply cannot make that much under the present piece work schedule.

Many citizens believe the employees should have organized and presented their demands to the company before going out on strike. This was an impossibility however as the company at all times has done its utmost to prevent the establishment of a union among the workers, realizing that once a union was formed the workers would present a collective demand for a living wage.

There is no reason why the textile workers of Canada should be forced to accept such a low standard of living as compared with that of workers in other industries. Apparently their only hope is a strong nation wide textile union which will alleviate these distressing conditions.

Any organization that cannot, or will not pay better wages than the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds has no right to exist or operate, as they are merely parasites on society, retarding our economic and social progress.

The suggestion that the workers return to work pending a settlement is not as practical as it may sound. The employees have never yet been able to negotiate successfully with the company while working, apparently the only way to bring the company to terms being to stop production until such time as they are willing to pay a living wage.

Yours truly,
J. H. STEPHEN.

MR. TOWNSLEY COMES BACK

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Mr. Gordon's suggestion that Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. employ me to write letters on their behalf is flattering. The truth is that the company had no knowledge of this particular letter until it appeared in your paper, and it would appear that Mr. Gordon has taken the information conveyed by my neighbors too literally. Unlike the illustrious Mr. Gordon I am not in a position to retain a stenographer to type my correspondence. Mr. Gordon's answer to my statement about married men working for 18 cents per hour is a direct evasion, how does he know that the person whose name appeared on the cheque worked 100 hours. I am quite sure that time clock records would prove otherwise.

The reply by Mr. Gordon regarding compassionable jobs is a slur at me personally, but the six specific cases I mentioned have no connection whatever with the Workmen's Compensation Board, and he carefully avoids my statement about the elderly men who received employment at the Auburn plant because their work was of a light nature.

Mr. Gordon's allegation that Dominion Woollens and Worsteds pay the lowest wages in the city is misleading. It is very improbable that other plants in Peterborough have their payrolls open for his inspection, and assuming this to be correct, his comparison of wage scales cannot be founded on a knowledge of all the facts.

Contrary to Mr. Gordon's belief I did not ask what Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. were doing with their profits, because we have the company's reliable statement that this has been an easy task. I merely pointed out the fact that any company making enormous profits such as Mr. Gordon alleges Dominion Woollens and Worsteds are doing, that brokers would be besieged with offers for their stocks, and yet he claims that their shares are worthless.

Mr. Gordon, apparently is not too conversant with public opinion in the city when he states I am the only defendant of the company. Correspondence, phone calls and verbal comments received by me from Peterborough citizens in the past few days, confirms the fact that Mr. Gordon has much more opposition than he imagines. If Mr. Gordon's knowledge of the textile industry extends along practical lines and he and his legal friends are successful in kicking out Mr. Dawson and other directors of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds as he asserts they intend doing, we might expect to see Mr. Gordon's name appearing as president of a model textile concern.

Mr. Gordon's statement regarding class consciousness is considerably wide of the mark. Having been employed at the Auburn Mills for the past 13 years I am surely in a position to speak with greater authority on subjects pertaining to the employees than Mr. Gordon. Class consciousness certainly did not exist previous to the present dispute, but undobtedly the attitude of Mr. Gordon, coupled with the agitation of C. I. O. lieutenants in the persons of Messrs. Welch and Cohen will certainly foster such a condition rather than promote harmony and goodwill. Should class consciousness become a reality among the people of Peterborough Mr. Gordon will be forced to accept his full share of responsibility.

Thanking you for the opportunity to discuss this situation through the medium of your valuable paper.

Yours truly,
BOB TOWNSLEY.

FOOD FIT FOR MAN.

(Winnipeg Tribune)

IT is the considered opinion of many a he-man that some strange fads and fancies have been flourishing in our kitchen in recent years. Our forefathers waxed great and strong on solid fodder that would back up against a fellow's chest bones and stay there, letting him know that he had had a meal. But we, their unworthy descendants, are facing a world in which the kitchen has become an experimental laboratory for a ladies' bridge club, so that a plateful of cream-colored fluff on a wilted lettuce leaf is actually held to be suitable nourishment for a hard-working adult human being.

The he-man, of course, probably knows little about the modern discovery of vitamins. So he cannot be expected to enter into the spirit of cookery of the "chiffon school"—as one iconoclast has aptly described it. The he-man may be all wrong, but being a he-man he likes to know when a meal is over by the feeling of fullness inside him rather than by the emptiness of his plate. . . . . .

Dietary ideas of the past could not have been wholly wrong. We might try re-discovering some of the old-fashioned recipes for old-fashioned foods, and give the can-opening wrist a chance to relax.

BARN COMES EASY.

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

"THEY bought everything. All Mrs. Newman and I had to do was provide the tea and sugar."

It was William Newman, of Lorneville, member in the Ontario Legislature for the riding of Victoria, who spoke as quoted.

"They" were 200 neighbors who had "raised" a fine new barn on the Newman farm, to replace the one destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

At that time these most neighborly neighbors promised to erect the building—and they kept that promise to the letter.

In fact, they more than kept their promise. For they brought along their own dinner on the day of the barn raising. Worked for nothing and boarded themselves, as it were.

All that the popular parliamentarian, farmer and creamery proprietor and his good wife had to provide was tea and sugar as the dinner beverage.

From which we gather that Mr. Newman is getting a pretty cheap barn—because he has mighty fine neighbors.

ELIMINATING NOISE.

(Niagara Falls Record)

CONSIDERABLE effort is being made everywhere to cut down noise and this city, like many other municipalities has special ordinances governing noises of many kinds. For instance, those in charge of trains are forbidden, within limits of the city of Niagara Falls, to blow or sound steam whistles, unless in the event of imminent danger. Bells may be rung during the daytime when approaching highway crossings but not otherwise, but the continual ringing of bells automatic or otherwise, is prohibited.

Then there is another by-law which prohibits, between the hours of ten at night and seven in the morning all ringing of bells and the blowing off of steam. Penalties are provided for violation of the by-laws ranging up to fines of fifty dollars for each violation.

OLD FASHIONED.

(Windsor Star)

CHINESE soldiers are using big swords to fight the Japanese. The swords are the old-fashioned long weapons, something like the cavalry used to wield in charges in old-time warfare.

The strong Chinese can make one sweep with a sword and cut off an opponent's head. The only difficulty is that before they do the chopping, they have to get to hand-to-hand grips with their enemies.

And, in these days of machine-guns, artillery and aeroplanes, the task of getting close enough to use a sword is complicated. While the swords are terrifying, it would be better for the Chinese if they had more modern equipment.

And the chances he takes are much longer than even in a sweepstakes for he is risking his life and the lives of anyone in the car with him.

FINSLER'S COMET NOW OVER DIPPER

New Celestial Object Plainly Visible To-night if Sky Clear.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—To-night and tomorrow night the whole world has grandstand seats for seeing the new Finsler Comet. They are virtually the only nights when there is a good chance for the layman to spot this celestial object.

The comet, discovered by the Swiss astronomer Finsler a month ago, is now at its brightest, but even so is unlikely to be seen unless the watcher knows the exact spot.

On these two nights it is passing along the only constellation which every person in the world knows—the Big Dipper. It is just above the Dipper, passing toward the handle. Above means over the side which would be the top if the Dipper were full of water.

Look at the star which joins the handle to the bowl of the Dipper. The comet tonight, according to the diagrams in popular astronomy, is right above this star. It is exactly the same distance above this handle-joint star as the space from this star to the one below marking the bottom of the Dipper. It is in a dead straight line, some time to-night, made by these two stars.

Tomorrow night will be even easier to fix the comet's position. Look for the outermost star in the Dipper's handle. Count one star inward along the handle. This is the star, Mizar, very distinct, where the handle makes its familiar downward bend.

Some time during the night, rather late, the comet will pass directly under Mizar. It will cut the Dipper's handle about one-third the distance between Mizar and the next "handle" star, the third one, counting the outermost handle star as one.

The comet was brightest last night. But it probably can be seen better tonight and tomorrow. After that it will fade rapidly.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, August 10 — (A.P.) — Wholesale cheese prices were unchanged to-day as dealers bought large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 14½ cents.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New, large, 15¼c; twins, 15½c; triplets, 15¾c. Old, large, 19c; twins and triplets, 19¼c; medium, 18½c; twins and triplets 18¾c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Skyrocketing wheat prices came back to the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day after nearly a month's absence and all wheat futures shot up the full five-cent limit. Canadian wheat export sales of 1,000,000 bushels was one of the major bullish factors. Final prices were 4 to 4½ cents higher, October $1.27 ⅝b, December $1.24¾b, and May $1.26¾a.

Local buying forced values up around three cents in trades on stimulation from Liverpool where wheat climbed more than twopence. Both Winnipeg and other world wheat markets were influenced by the bullish Canadian official crop report, which stated spring wheat condition was the lowest in 30 years at July 31; 35 per cent of a long-time average yield per acre compared with 51 per cent a month previous.

REFUSED TO LET THE MAYOR SPEAK

was happening and knew it was no use for me to continue trying to get to the platform. They rushed the workers through the opening they made in the picket line."

Eggs and Tomatoes

"I saw eggs and tomatoes thrown at the police and I saw some strikers hit police officers, but I couldn't say who did it. Everything happened so quickly. No worker was hit though. I didn't see anybody knocked down. I was in the centre of everything but I wasn't touched although I was shoved around a bit.

"If they had given me a hearing, there would not have been any trouble. I know the Premier intends to do what he says," he said.

Mayor Macdonald said he would "not back down one iota" on his promise of continued protection to those workers wishing to return to the plant.

"I promised they would be amply protected, and they will be," he said.

The Mayor said he had given Michael English, chairman of the strike committee, a copy of Premier Hepburn's proposals to the strikers. "I gave him a copy at 6 o'clock last night and another at 9.30 which was phrased even stronger," he said.

"But I have every reason to believe he did not tell the strikers what the statement contained.

"I still claim that if they knew what the Premier offered, if they know his promise that they would be looked after, there would have been no trouble. They should know the Premier intends to do what he says, and they should have faith in him and the government."

ROTARY GREAT AID IN THE PROMOTION OF WORLD PEACE

Fred L. Roy Addresses Rotary Club on Impressions of International Convention.

3,117 CLUBS REPRESENTED.

In his address to the Rotary Club today, Fred L. Roy, reporting impressions of the international convention of Rotary in Nice, France, during the first week of June, transported the members on a swift and delightful travelogue punctuated by his appreciation of some of the most beautiful scenery in Europe, and his gift of imparting his memories with humor and what seemed to be almost photographic vividness.

It was compact of entertaining detail, and at that was only an earnest of the illustrated address he has promised to give later in the season.

Mr. Roy said that 3,117 clubs from 52 countries were represented by 6,200 delegates, and the theme of the convention was international friendship and goodwill. Ten years ago, Mr. Roy recalled, W. R. Morris returned from the convention at Ostend, and expressed the opinion that Rotary's greatest opportunity for good lay in the direction of promoting understanding and peace among the nations of the world. At that time there were only 80 Rotary Clubs in Europe. That number has increased to 450 in a decade, and Rotary has become a great adventure in trying to harmonize national divergencies and jealousies. It is becoming recognized as a medium through which peace may be fostered and maintained and understanding and goodwill created.

The two storm centres of the world at present are China and Central Europe, especially the Balkan area. In China Rotary is making hopeful progress, and one prediction suggests that 2,000 clubs will be organized in that country. Rotary is also a promising influence through its representatives and clubs in Jugoslavia, Rumania, and Czechoslovakia.

Mr. Roy's graphic descriptions of Nice, Cannes and Monte Carlo, the blue of the Mediterranean, the palms and flowers, and the rugged background of the Alps were excellent, and his limning of Lake Killarney requires only the sunset and other pictures to win the hearts of any audience of Irishmen he may address.

Dominant impressions of his three months' journeying, he said, were the world-wide vision and influence of Rotary and its leaders, the necessity of members attending district meetings and conferences to become as deeply imbued with its spirit as the members of foreign clubs, and finally his conviction that Canada is the finest country to live in both in its own right and also as an integral part of the British Empire.

14 PICKETERS ENTER PLEAS

Edwin Sanders, Gordon Dundas, James Dorrington, Joseph Vinette, Gordon Grisdale, Michael English, Ray O'Brien, Harry Brooks, Harry Walsh, Clifford Hutchinson, Mrs. Edith Frizzelle, Ethel Easton and Dorothy Walwork.

First to appear Coughlin elected trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction and entered pleas of guilty on three charges of assault. He was remanded for preliminary hearing of charges for one week. Bail was refused.

Charges against Coughlin allege that he assaulted Police Officers Arthur Diamond, and John McGretrick and also Mayor Macdonald in the execution of their duty.

Edwin Sanders of Smith Township elected trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction on a charge of assaulting Emmett Travis. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded in custody for one week.

Gordon Dundas also elected trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction on a charge of assaulting Chief Constable Samuel Newhall in the execution of his duty. On a plea of not guilty he was remanded in custody for one week. On a second charge of preventing workers from going to work at Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited a similar course was taken.

Obstructing Workers

Michael English, chairman of the Central Strike Committee, and Joseph Vinette, James Dorrington, Clifford Hutchinson, and Gordon Grisdale were all charged with preventing workers from returning to their work. The first three accused all elected trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction and pleaded not guilty, while the other two did not elect or plead. They were similarly remanded until Tuesday next.

Ray O'Brien, Harry Brooks and Harry Walsh each pleaded not guilty to joint charges of causing a public disturbance, and on giving an undertaking not to go near the picket lines were granted their release on a weeks adjournment.

On giving a similar undertaking to keep away from the picket lines, the three women were released charges against them being adjourned for one week. Mrs. Edith Frizzelle, member of the employee representatives' negotiating committee and Ethel Easton pleaded not guilty to charges of preventing workers from returning to their work at Dominion Woollens, while Dorothy Walwork entered pleas of not guilty to charges of preventing workers from returning to work, and also to a charge of assaulting Chief Constable Samuel Newhall by throwing pepper or some other noxious powder in his face.

Automatic radio weather stations will be placed on drifting ice in the Arctic Ocean to report temperature, wind and drift.

SPECIAL FORCE OF PROVINCIALS

hall. Alderman Tuggey, and others called repeatedly to the strike pickets, urging them to disperse as the escorted workers moved into the gateway, police with their sticks poised, forming a spearhead. Their appeals were lost in the uproar and in an instant the fight was on.

Police pushed ahead and swung their sticks in earnest after brief warnings that they meant business. Girls lunged at them, struggling, swinging their fists, scratching and biting. Gordon Dundas went down under a heavy blow on the head from one of the police sticks. Lon Coughlin attacked Chief Newhall with heavy blows, and went down a moment later when a Provincial officer broke a stick over his head.

Pickets and spectators staggered back when the one tear gas bomb used during the incident was released. By the time the acrid blue gas had cleared away, the core of the mob had been broken and the body of workers had been admitted through the gateway.

Chief Newhall and city police under his direction effected the eleven arrests in quick succession, picking from the mob those who had been spotted a moment before in the thick of the struggle. These seized were Edith Frizelle, a member of the strike committee, James Dorrington, Ethel Easton and Dorothy Walwork, in addition to Dundas and Coughlin. They were marched into the plant grounds and guarded by a squad of police before removal to the police station in cars.

The arrest of Welch occurred after the scene had quietened. Welch stepped up to the sidewalk where the main body of police were assembled and demanded of Chief Newhall that he be allowed to see the arrested pickets. Newhall ordered him to move along.

"Are you going to move on?" Newhall asked.

"No. I have a right to see those men," Welch replied.

"Lock him up," Newhall directed his men, and the strike leader was hurried into the plant grounds.

Chief Newhall said the charge against Welch would be obstructing while the charges against the others would be assault.

D. G. H. Melton, manager of the Bonner-Worth, reported at noon to-day that a total of 109 workers were in the plant, 57 girls and 52 men. Few left the plant during the day before quitting hour, some having brought their lunches and lunches being supplied by the company for others. H. S. Leybourne, Auburn controller, said at noon a total of 77 were at work in the Auburn, 14 of which were girls.

C.I.O. In Civil Service Is News To Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP).—Civil Service organizations in Ottawa have no knowledge of attempts by the C.I.O. to organize government employees.

Premier Hepburn stated last night in Toronto the committee for industrial organization was "trying to get in" the Ontario Civil Service.

"We have no knowledge of the C.I.O. attempting organization of civil servants," said V. C. Phelan, president of the Civil Service Federation. "If a start had been made, I'm sure we would have heard about it. It is possible that an organizer may have approached an individual civil servant, but I doubt if any headway has been made."

Officers of other organizations in the Civil Service also denied knowledge of C.I.O. activity.

QUEBEC STRIKERS LAY THEIR CASE BEFORE CABINET

GETTING PAY TO-DAY.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10—(CP).—Leaders of close to 10,000 textile strikers prepared to-day to lay before Federal Cabinet members their side of a strike that has tied up nine Quebec province mills more than a week.

Union spokesmen were to confer with Prime Minister King and two of his ministers at Ottawa Wednesday. Alfred Charpentier, general president of the Catholic Syndicates, said last night he had arranged for the interview after collapse of negotiations here.

Failure of the Montreal conference, in which Quebec Labor Minister William Tremblay played the role of mediator, left the strike deadlocked on the salient issue of union recognition. Bargaining rights were demanded of Dominion Textile Company by the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers an affiliate of the parent syndicates.

To-day after violence on the Montreal strike front, quiet dawned as the strikers made ready to get their pay for the last fortnight they worked.

Must Pay Outside.

Strike leaders threw up one provision to the employees' receiving pay. It will not be accepted, Federation President Albert Cote said, unless the money is distributed outdoors. "If the company wishes to pay inside," he said, "the workers will not enter the mills."

Closed tight, so far as production is concerned, the plants were guarded by pickets. Attempts to truck goods in and out of the mills also were fought by the strikers, who yesterday stoned a fleet of trucks carrying materials out of the company's Montreal-St. Henri Mill.

Flying bricks injured a truck driver, but the lorries got through with their cargoes, swaying through the streets behind a screaming police motorcycle escort. Balked in their attempt to stop the trucks, the strikers set fire to a big bale lying in the street and threw three more bales into the Lachine Canal. Com-

Fruit Salads Must Be Made By An Artist

Vigorous Stirring and Heavy Handedness Never Made Salad Chef.

DOORN FRUIT SALAD.

By MARY MOORE.

A salad chef must have a light touch—vigorous stirring and heavy-handedness never made a salad chef. And a fruit salad chef must also be an artist. Many times I lament being unable to give you pictures of ice salads I describe in their bright colors—but you will just have to draw on your imagination to visualize them and add a few ideas of your own.

The following fruit course was served at a Premier's luncheon—the excellence of every course was of the same high standard.

Doorn Fruit Salad.

All ingredients should be chilled.

Large Byng cherries with stems, slices of white or yellow peaches, canned drained pineapple cubes, mandarin orange sections (canned), honey dressing for fruit salads.

When preparing the fruit have ready a small portion of the dressing in bottom of bowl—as peaches are peeled and sliced drop them immediately into it, so that they do not discolor because the dressing coats them; add also equal amount of drained pineapple and the orange sections (these could be substituted for fresh orange sections removed from tough skin or sections of skinless grapefruit). Carefully see that dressing coats each piece of fruit without smothering it. Have ready well cupped choice lettuce leaves, and with slotted spoon lift out about ½ or 2-3 cup of the fruit for each serving. Very little dressing should cling to the fruit—none should drain from it over the lettuce. Garnish with the cherries, by placing them in a row at one side of salad mound—laying stems down so they do not look unsightly — and covering the stems with the row of cherries—they can be held to eat the cherries. Serve with fine white cheese and toasted Fraser crackers. (See Honey Dressing below.)

Mrs. Sloop's Verdant Summer Salad.

All ingredients but the almonds are chilled.

The blanched and toasted almonds are cut into about three pieces lengthwise—making little spears of them. Lime Dressing is put in the bottom of bowl and the apples are peeled and cut into pieces the same shape as the almonds and immediately dropped into the dressing to prevent them browning. Honey Dew Melon is cut into balls with a ball cutter and immediately dropped into the bowl with the dressing and the last addition is seedless imported green grapes cut in halves and dropped in the bowl of dressing. When all fruits are prepared using equal parts of each, scoop them out of the bowl with a slotted spoon on to well cupped lettuce leaf and around top edge of mound of fruit insert the almonds so that they make a sort of a sort of halo—some of the little apple spears can be picked out of the salad and inserted into the top to carry out this porcupine effect.

Honey Dressing (For Fruit Salads).

Two well beaten eggs, 3 oz. strained honey (about 1-3 cup), 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-5 teaspoon salt, 1-6 teaspoon paprika, 1½ cups whipped cream (about ¾ cup before it is whipped). Beat whites and yolks separately then mix and whip in the honey, lemon juice, salt and paprika. Now place in top of double boiler and whip over boiling water until it thickens. Remove from heat and partially cool, then fold in whipped cream and place in refrigerator until needed.

The above is such an excellent dressing for fruit salads that once a cook has it she or he seldom ever forgets to use it whenever possible.

Lime Dressing (For Island Fruit Salads.)

This is simple—you merely add 1 tablespoon of unsweetened lime juice to French Dressing made by mixing together thoroughly ¼ teaspoon each paprika, salt, and sugar with 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 4 tablespoons pure cold olive oil. Shake well before using to marinate fruit.

Melon Salad Supreme.

There are plenty of times when you want to impress the ladies in your fridge club with your up-to-dateness—this salad will definitely go toes for you.

Since Honey Dew Melons are mercifully coming down a little in price, I dare to say buy one—a big one, and chill it overnight. About one hour before ready to serve, cut it in halves lengthwise and scoop out seeds and stringy portions. With melon ball cutter scoop out as many balls as you possibly can then with curved grapefruit knife, remove remaining pulp and reserve for some other meal. Drop the melon balls into honey dressing (see above) and add water melon balls and sections of canned, drained grapefruit, and long pieces cut from ripe pears. Carefully lift and turn these that all pieces of fruit are coated and put all into the honey dew melon skins. Garnish edge by piping cream cheese around edge of honey dew skin—mash down a 4-oz. bar of white cheese with raw cream until it is of consistency to force through pastry bag and tube. Serve the two halves of Honey Dew Melon on large platter at table—using patty fruit dishes to serve it into. Pass cheese straws. The whole salad should be thoroughly chilled.

Pear Salome.

This salad proved so popular with hostesses I am impelled to put it in because you might have missed it—it is very good, too.

On leaves of lettuce place a slice of water melon (the original recipe calls for a slice of Boston Brown Bread, but I don't fancy it) or two pieces of banana cut from banana once crosswise and one lengthwise—one banana will do two salads (this piece of bread or water melon or banana is supposed to represent the silver salver Salome carried St. John the Baptist's head on), place a freshly peeled and cored pear. Stuff the pear with a mixture of Roquefort cream cheese, and raw cream and chopped pecans. Serve with Lorenzo Dressing (see below).

Lorenzo Dressing (For Pear or Pineapple Salads).

One-quarter teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, 1 tablespoon good vinegar, 4 tablespoons pure olive oil, 1 tablespoon extremely finely chopped watercress, ½ teaspoon chili sauce. Shape all well before using. Serve chilled.

Tested Favorite Recipes

(By MARY MOORE.)

My new interest in liver discovered the following which extends it some and can be used for both beef and calves' liver.

Calves' or Beef Liver French Style

Have the liver sliced rather thin. Lay it out on baking pan which has been generously buttered and make the following sauce to pour over: One tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce, 1 tablespoon catsup, 1 tablespoon finely diced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and if procurable ¼ cup finely diced mushrooms. Mix well, spread over slices of liver, bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for two minutes, then reduce heat to 300 to finish—if the liver is thin this takes only about eight minutes.

Delicious for Sunday morning breakfast.

Enquiry Column

Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Thank you for your prompt reply to my letter re tutti-fruitti, which is still the source of worry.

Is it possible to add one whole quart of each fruit mentioned? It seemed so much for 1 pint of brandy. Would Aylmer's grated pineapple do instead of fresh pineapple? If so, would I add more sugar? Do I bottle this after all fruit is added or is it all right in the crock? Thanking you.—(Miss) E. A. M.

ANSWER: So sorry the tutti-fruitti is not going smoothly.

One pint of brandy is enough, no matter how much fruit you add for it acts as a starter, making the juices of the added fruits ferment too. Keep the whole in a stone jar and cover the top of the jar with a heavy cloth before putting on the lid. To each quart of fruit added add same quantity of sugar—stirring the whole each morning until all the fruit is added. Yes, Aylmer's pineapple would make a nice addition—very little sugar if any would need to be added with it.

Write whenever I can be of assistance.

QUESTION: It is needless to say how much I appreciate your Cookery Page—for years I have been using your recipes, in fact were you to see the shelves in my cellar you would (by the labels) recognize most of them.

I have never written to you before, although many times I would have liked to, both to thank you and to ask advice, that is now exactly what I am about to do.

The recipe "Tutti-Fruitti" that appeared a few weeks ago I have followed. I find the cherries all wrinkled up; I used the large Byng cherries. First I put the brandy in the crock, next measured the sugar and the fruit—I dissolved the sugar in the brandy before adding the fruit, the rest of the fruit has shrunk a bit also, but it is very tasty. Also how many quarts of Tutti-Fruitti does one pint of brandy make?

Today I have made up Rhubarb Conserve—it is very nice.

Tomorrow I will pick underripe apples from our one apple tree and make "Enem's Cherry Jam" — it sounds good.

One more question if you please—about the New Zealand Spinach. Would that be the name of it? I would like to buy some of that seed. I hope this is not too much to ask all at once.

I will now thank you in anticipation of an answer to all those questions, as well as all other interesting things I have read on your page—wishing you the best of luck and good health.—Mrs. W. W.

ANSWER: Your letter is very heart-warming—thank you so much for your praise—so genuine and so appreciated.

Will you kindly look at my answer to the question above regarding Tutti-Fruitti? I think you must cover yours more closely—excluding the air will keep the fruit from wrinkling—also stir it very often until all fruit is added. One pint of brandy will make up 8 or more quarts of different fruits.

After reading your letter I called three seed stores on the telephone to enquire regarding New Zealand Spinach. Two of them told me they stocked it "now," one other told me they had stocked it for years. I blush to my neckline when I think that I have been sending money to a busy friend of ours in Missouri to send me seed every year for about 10 years—down there it is perennial—up here I have had it winter killed about every other year. If it were manured in the Fall I am sure it would live through the winter even here.

No doubt the stores where you deal will have it or can get it for you. It can be cut from the ends of the branchy tips and sprouts keep growing out of the stalk. The flavor is superior to our common type. If you intend trying to keep it over winter—some of it must be allowed to go to seed.

Do not wait so long to write next time.

QUESTION: I have been reading your column in The Examiner each week and have made a collection of recipes, now as I intend to get married the last week of August, I would like a recipe for a dark wedding cake, three storey — also an icing for it.

Should this mixture stand overnight before being baked? Hoping I am not asking too much.—E. V. B.

ANSWER: Thank you for your letter.

Though we are correspondence acquaintances, may I offer you my best wishes for a happy married life. I hope the cookery page will continue to be helpful.

Dark Wedding Cake (3-Tier).

One lb. butter, 1 lb. sugar, 12 eggs, 1 lb. flour, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ¾ teaspoon each nutmeg, allspice and mace, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon cloves, 3 lbs. raisins, seeded and cut in half (Valencias are hard to get now—you will probably have to use Lexias), 1 lb. clean currants, 1 lb. citron, thinly sliced and cut in long strips, 1 lb. figs finely chopped (some do not like the figs—they could be left out), ¼ cup brandy or ¼ cup grape juice.

Cream the butter very well and sift in the sugar gradually, and beat thoroughly. Separate the yolks from the whites of eggs, beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, whites until stiff and dry, and add to first mixture. Add flour (excepting one-third cup which should be kept out to dredge over fruit), mixed and sifted with spices, then add the brandy and lemon juice. Then add the dredged fruit, except the citron. The citron should be dredged too but put on in layers over the batter as you ladle it to the pan. The pans should be lined with buttered paper.

Steam for 3 hours—using covered roaster, standing cakes on trivet with about 1 inch water in bottom of pan. The steaming can be done in the oven. At end of three hours remove from steamer and bake in oven of 300 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour to dry it off.

Frosting (Ornamental).

(I think you would be well advised to buy the almond paste which is usually spread over the cake before the frosting is spread. This is rolled out to size of cake and put on just one or two days before the cake is needed).

Two cups sugar, 1 cup water, whites 3 eggs, ¼ teaspoon tartaric acid (to be purchased at drug store). Boil the sugar and water until syrup when dropped from tip of spoon forms a long thread. Pour syrup gradually on beaten whites, beating constantly; then add the acid and continue beating. When stiff enough to spread put a thin coating over the whole cake which has been piled in tiers. Beat remaining frosting until cold and stiff enough to keep in shape after being forced through pastry tube (buy this at hardware store or department in department store). After first coating on cake has hardened cover with a thick layer. If frosting is too thick to spread smoothly, thin with a few drops of water. With a pastry bag and variety of tubes, cake may be ornamented as desired. Little silver pellets to insert in centre of swirls may be bought at Mason's.

All These Meals Have Been Served, Eaten and Approved

Sunday
Boiled Cottage Roll (Note)
Whole Cauliflower with Hollandaise
Fried Green Tomatoes
Open Face Raspberry Pie and Ice Cream
Coffee

NOTE—Since ham has so little waste and since it is sold in such large portions cooks often make the mistake of buying too much of it—sure enough it is nice sliced cold the first time but when this is overdone many of the family turn against it. When buying cottage roll only buy enough to serve two meals—one hot and one either cold or the basis for a made dish.

Monday
Ham Custard Pie with Cheese Crust

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Incivility is not a vice of the soul, but the effect of several vices, of vanity, ignorance of duty, laziness, stupidity, distraction, contempt of others, and jealousy—La Bruyere.

Dear Friends:

Some people think that incivility shows a strong character. They would never dare show it to someone in a higher position than themselves, nor to anyone with more money than they have (Although none of this money would ever trickle into their own pockets.)

But altho' it shows ignorance in the one using it, and puts the one getting it into a false position, altho' it begets more enemies than friends, yet they persist with it until they haven't a friend left.

And it is vanity pure and simple, a sort of showing everyone how much cleverer or wiser the uncivil one is, when all they really do is show how little they really know. It is just like a little boy or girl making a nuisance of themselves by trying to show how smart they are.

It is a lack of courtesy and a lack of knowledge of how much value there is in politeness. It is just as if a person dressed up a store-window with all kinds of nice things to entice people in, then when they got inside they found a lot of trash.

Personally I think those uncivil people are so conscious of their own short-comings, and so fearful of others finding it out, that they use this as a sort of defence mechanism. In other words, they are trying to make everyone including themselves, believe there is strength where there is only weakness.

And after all, haven't we all some weakness or other? Don't we all fall down in our own estimation in certain things? But if the consciousness of this made us all uncivil to one another, what a ghastly thing life would be for all of us.

Some use this form of defence only in the home, being brusque and snappish with their own, but very nice with strangers. They do not realize that people are inclined to copy what they hear day after day, so that in a little they are getting back what they give out. Then, of course, it is everyone' fault but theirs.

Haven't you ever felt more congenial with a person who came right out and admitted some fault, than you did with one who by his or her manner led you to believe they had no faults at all? Haven't you been drawn to the one and repelled by the other just by the tone they use towards you? I have.

But, the uncivil ones are the first to resent it if the same tone is used to them. They want to impose this ugliness on others, but hate when it is imposed on them. (Or as the moderns would say, they can hand it out but they can't take it.)

Candidly, I feel sorry for people who have let themselves get that way, for they are missing the best in life. I find when I sow a smile, I reap a whole harvest of them. When I show some interest and understanding, even if it is only in listening to other's woes, the kindness and understanding that comes back to me is surprising.

And anyone who uses this form of torture just because they are in a higher position than the one they are using it on, will find one day, that someone in a higher position than they are in, will recognize this ugliness in them, and give them a good stiff dose of their own medicine.

People with even a little culture would never lower themselves to be uncivil, for they know that courtesy opens many doors. And those who do use it, are simply admitting that all they use it on are better than they are. So let us resolve we will be civil, courteous, and friendly, and all three things will be added unto us.

You Friend,
ROBERTA.

Smart Pyjamas Can Sure Hold Their Own Place In The Sun

By LISBETH.

HELEN VALKIS.

Pyjamas do not seem to be the Big News in the fashion world this season. But, nevertheless, they have a very definite place and are preferred by many very smart women.

Those worn here by Helen Valkis, young screen actress, are, as you can see, decidedly chic. Blue piping trims the pockets, wide lapels and short sleeves. The jacket is smartly and trimly cut, and a navy blue slide with a jewelled clip at the neckline gives the ensemble a still sharter air.

For the sleeping and lounging pyjamas, rayons are great favorites, salespeople find. Satin pyjamas are always popular, and one model I saw recently in wine satin had a number of features that are used in dresses—button-link closing and trim on cuffs of the short sleeves. Large patch pockets were effectively placed, too.

Another model was in marine blue satin, and it, too, had many of the features of the tailored type of dress with novelty pockets, stitched in white at the edges, and closing with a slide fastener. Brief tucked sleeves gave width to the shoulders.

WEDDINGS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, August 10.—A quiet wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the United Church parsonage when Florence Seabrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Seabrook of Belmont, became the bride of Wilfred Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Ellis, of Belmont. The bride and groom were attended by the bride's sister, Mrs. A. Bronkey, of Kingston, and the groom's brother, Mr. Donald Ellis, of Belmont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Kemp. The couple left shortly after the ceremony on a honeymoon trip to Kingston, and on their return will reside in Belmont.

Ceremony Re-Enacted After 50 Years

Perfect weather marked the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pavy of McGill Street, when, in the presence of a large number of their relatives—children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and in-laws—a gathering took place on the lawns of the residence of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Northey of Smith Township.

After a re-enactment of the wedding ceremony of half a century ago, solemnized by a nephew of Mr. Pavy, the Rev. Walter Pavy of Danforth, Maine U.S.A., the celebrants were affectionately congratulated and a purse was presented by their granddaughter, Melba Pavy, an address being read by Mrs. Edward Armstrong.

Tables beautifully decorated with flowers (gifts of friends in Peterborough) were placed on the spacious lawns and the golden wedding breakfast was served in this fashion, the bride of fifty years cutting the wedding cake. Mr. Pavy, acknowledging gifts and congratulations, expressed deep gratification that no break had taken place in a family of twelve children, and expressed regret at the absence of one daughter, Mrs. E. Walker, through illness.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Northey and son Elton, and daughter Bonnie, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. William Pavy and daughter Melba, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pavy and sons, Gerald and Ronald, of Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Death of Native Son In California

The news of the death of Samuel Holden, eighteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Holden of Burlingame, California, will be received with much sympathy for the bereaved parents, who lived on Mark street, Ashburnham, for many years. Mr. Holden was at that time manager of the local branch of the Vermont Marble Company and his son Sam was born in Peterborough. They moved to California in 1927.

The account, as printed in the Burlingame press, says, in part: "Death's one month's holiday in San Mateo County ended abruptly yesterday (August 1st), as Samuel Hiland Holden, Jr., 18-year-old Burlingame High School student, was thrown out of a car in collision, incurring instant death with a broken neck.

"It was the year's thirtieth traffic accident in San Mateo County".

It appears that young Holden and a friend, Lawrence Day, were riding in the rumble seat of a coupe driven by another friend, Richard Ray. The latter had been forced to halt his car in a narrow causeway, to allow the passage of a car driven by Mack Fall. Suddenly, Ray's car was struck in the rear by another automobile driven by James L. Fee, assistant manager of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who is now booked on a technical charge of manslaughter. The impact of the car behind forced Ray's car into the path of the oncoming car driven by Fall. Flying through the air from his rumble seat position, young Holden struck the pavement on his head. With a snapped neck, death was instantaneous. All the passengers in the cars driven by Ray and Fall were injured. Fee later admitted that he had been drinking prior to the accident.

Young Holden, who is survived by his parents and one brother, James M. Holden of Reno, was a popular high senior at Burlingame High School, a member of the swimming team and clarinetist in the school orchestra. He was also on the water polo team and was a member of the Burlingame Chapter of De Molay. He had returned the Friday previous, from military training camp at Fort Scott, San Francisco Presidio, where he was a corporal. There he had been high point man in gun sighting, winning third place in coast competition. He also had won two medals for his swimming prowess, one for the 50-yard and another for the 100-yard dash.

Squires—Lancaster

A wedding of wide interest took place on Saturday afternoon in Wycliffe College Chapel, Toronto, when Anne Lenore, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Lancaster, of Vancouver, B.C., became the bride of Walter David (Bud) Squires, only son of Mrs. Squires and the late Walter J. Squires, of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed amid a setting of palms and tall standards of summer flowers by Professor B. W. Horan, of Wycliffe College. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a simple French model of stiffened ninon made on sweeping Grecian lines with flowing skirt, a large "Gone With the Wind" hat of soft straw, Grecian satin sandals and lace mitts. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The only attendant, Miss Sadie Squires, sister of the groom, wore dulce blue stiffened ninon, made redingote style over taffeta with golden yellow hat, shoes and mittens. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and blue cornflowers. Mr. Stewart Lundy was the best man, and Mr. Leslie Evans and Mr. Gordon Dobbin, of Peterborough, ushers. The wedding music was played by Mr. H. H. Troop, organist and choirmaster of Howard Park United Church, of which the groom is a member, and during the signing of the register Mr. Eric Tuer, cousin of the bride, sang "Because." After the ceremony a reception was held in the gardens of the Old Mill where the bride's parents and the groom's mother received with the bridal party. Mrs. Lancaster was gowned in pearl gray chiffon over American Beauty crepe, large black hat and black accessories, corsage of "Better Times" roses. Mrs. Squires wore an empire model of black and white chiffon, black hat and accessories, and carried a bouquet of pansies. For travelling the bride wore black and white printed silk with black and green accessories. After a motor trip through the Eastern States and the Adirondacks, the couple will live on Rivercrest Road, Toronto. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. Walter Douglas, New York City; Mrs. W. Greenless, Vancouver, B.C.; Miss Winnifred Gilbert, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Dobbin and family, and Mrs. George Duncan and family, Peterborough; Miss Kathleen McDonald, Thornton, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. B. Lancaster and family; Mr. and Mrs. E. Lancaster and family; Mr. Franklin Barrett; Mrs. Thomas Lancaster, St. Mary's, Ont.; Mrs. John Douglas and Mrs. Annie Britton, Newcastle; Dr. and Mrs. W. J. R. Fowler, Guelph; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Jackson, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Daly, Napanee; Miss Amy Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mills and Mrs. F. G. Pennel, of Hamilton.

Brass Money Good For Juniors

The second annual picnic of the Westclox employees was a gay affair of Saturday at Wallace's Point, when the steamer Stoney Lake conveyed a capacity crowd and many more went down in cars. For the adults there was dancing on board and in the hall at the Point.

A feature of the gathering was the "money" for the children which consisted of brass slugs about the size of a dime, salvaged from a plant operation. With this they "purchased" thirty gallons of ice cream, a crate of oranges, innumerable cases of pop, and shelves full of peanuts, candy and popcorn.

Under chairmanship of D. Wyatt, the committee in charge of arrangements included J. McCormick, W. J. Smith, R. Ferguson, W. H. Yelland, E. J. Hotston, R. Kitchen, C. Chapman, N. Stanger, F. Barrie, S. O. Payne, R. Simmons, Jr., and C. Evans.

HIPS ARE SLIM AND HEMS WIDE

Black cire satin dress designed by Edward Stevenson, Hollywood dressmaker, with matching paradise trimmed dinner hat.

White evening dress decorated with circles of white mousseline sewn with gold sequins, Harriet Hilliard modeling.

By LISBETH

And now the glamor girls of the great Hollywood spaces are worried for fear we of the hoi polloi copy their clothes! Not much danger, I imagine as long as they wear the expensive and often elaborate things they do in the majority of pictures.

But at the same time, why should we not copy some little details—if they are becoming to us? After all we the public, pay the salaries of the stars, and why should we not attempt to glisten—in our feeble way—and in our own little spheres? Ten to one the Gorgeous Creatures in Filmland will never know it if we do, as we have no way of being seen by them as we see them.

Both gowns shown here are a little extreme for the likes of us, but we may, nevertheless, get some suggestions for our modest wardrobes from them. At the left is Mary Frances Gifford dressed for a new role. Her gown is cire satin in sleek black. The material is moulded to the figure to the hips, from which point the skirt flares into sudden fullness by means of widening gores.

Deep V Neck

The bodice is sleeveless, as you see, with a deep V neckline. Mary Frances wears with it a saucy little evening hat of cire satin, to match the dress, trimmed with two artfully placed bird-of-paradise feathers.

Now the white dress, at the right. Thousands of circles of white mousseline, handsewn with gold sequins, are used to band the hem and shoulders of this lovely creation. Bunches of the circles are stitched through a band of horsehair stiffening so that the petals away gracefully back and forth. This gown was especially created for Harriet Hilliard, screen and radio star and wife of Ozzie Nelson, orchestra leader.

Fashion Service

This fresh-looking cotton breakfast or morning frock will make housekeeping very pleasant and cooking much simpler. You'll find it hard to equal.

It's one-piece and wrap-over that does slimming things to your figure. A sash makes it hug the waist. It may have a cool vee neck or button up to a little girl collar.

Sewing instruction diagrammed chart included.

Style No. 2810 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44-inches bust. Size 16 requires 4¼ yards of 39-inch material with 1 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Miss H. Thompson Is Given Shower

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LILY LAKE, Aug. 10.—Miss Enid Hancock entertained at a delightful linen shower at her home on Wednesday afternoon, in honor of her cousin, Miss Helen Thompson whose marriage is to take place shortly.

During the afternoon the guests enjoyed a short program, including an Hawaiian guitar duet by the Misses Dorothy Rowland and Rhea Wilson; recitation, Miss Jean Hancock; vocal solo with guitar accompaniment, Mrs. R. Bate. Mrs. William Steinkrauss spoke a few words of appreciation of the work the bride-to-be has done in connection with the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Society.

The gifts were presented to the guest of honor in a "three-storey wedding cake," prettily decorated in green and white. After the gifts were opened and displayed, Miss Thompson thanked her many friends for their gifts.

During the afternoon, a novel idea was introduced when a loose-leaf booklet was passed to the guests, who contributed favorite recipes and also points for the bride-elect to remember, in order to keep her husband in a pleasant mood.

The serving of tea at individual tables, prettily decorated, concluded an enjoyable afternoon.

At The Theatres

AT THE REGENT. WARREN WILLIAM IN "OUTCAST."

Warren William, Lewis Stone and Karen Morley have parts in this picture, which opens with the trial of a physician (Warren William) on a technical murder charge, as one of his patients has taken an overdose of sleeping medicine administered by him. Then the woman's husband takes up the cudgels of revenge and pursues the physician to various places in which he has started practice again.

Lewis Stone is the retired lawyer who befriends him, in the little village to which he finally drifts. And Karen Morley, sister of the dead woman, brings the hounds of Fate once more to his heels, as she finds him out in his latest refuge.

There is one memorable scene in this picture, in which the three main actors spring to sudden life and stage a remarkable bit of acting. It features that queer actor, Warren William, who always seems to stop short of being really fine. And it gives one a glimpse of the mob spirit. It is an interesting and vital production.—C. L. M.

HIDING OUT.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Aug. 10. (AP).—A Friday the 13th jinx that has pestered Alfred J. Coty for the last five years will have to hunt for him this year.

Coty, head of a roofing concern, said he would close his business Aug. 13 and "hide away" at the sea shore. In other years he has been involved in automobile accidents on his jinx day.

SOCIAL SERVICE AMONG CHILDREN SUBJECT OF TALK

Gordon Alt, Chicago Social Worker, Addresses Campbellford Club.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10. — Social Service work particularly among problem children was the subject discussed at the noon-day luncheon of the Rotary Club by Gordon Alt, Chicago Social Worker, visiting in Campbellford. "There is no more effective way of dealing with juvenile delinquency than this placing of problem children in foster homes," explained Mr. Alt, who is a graduate of the University of Toronto and a former Canadian citizen. The placing of children in foster homes is done only after efforts to erase the problems in the home which are contributing or may contribute to the delinquency of the child. The foster home offers a normal environment and the unhappy deprived child is enabled to grow up in a normal happy environment. The certain specific need of the problem child for natural love and affection are lacking is usually the cause for the situation which has developed and it is by finding this for him and at the same time offering an opportunity for self-expression that re-adjustment is accomplished.

It is generally a feeling of inferiority, along with persistent brow-beating which has caused the child to ally itself with all sorts of undesirable activities. Before being placed in a foster home the personal back-ground and training are studied intimately; even the child's intelligent quotient is taken as it has been found unsatisfactory to place a child of low mentality for adoption in a home where the general intelligence is high and vice versa. The Society has no free homes since to place the child in a home without paying any remuneration to the family would lead to the exploitation of the child. "Although the amount paid is not sufficient to install the profit motive ...by paying control the situation and can take the child whenever the circumstances warrant," explained the speaker.

"Our educational program gives adequate academic and vocational guidance which leads to the ultimate placing of the child in a suitable position." Children from one week to 21 years of age may come under the jurisdiction of the Social Worker.

"One of the advantages of the foster home," Mr. Alt continued, "rests in the fact that when the child is eventually left to face the world he requires none of the further readjustment which is required by the child who has spent years in an institution." The contribution of the foster mother is the core of the entire plan, the prime qualification for her that she has made a 'good job' with her own children.

In closing the speaker called attention to the fact that considerable work of prevention could be done in the community by giving a lift to down and out families—when the father is out of work there is a certain amount of tension in the home—it is helping the family in the beginning which offsets the difficulties which may arise in the future.

N. Alex. McColl moved the vote of thanks to the speaker, following which President Charlie Davidson reminded the members of the Carnival on Tuesday night and expressed the hope that all members were prepared to give their fullest co-operation. Guests at Monday's luncheon were Messrs. Alec Young of Cobourg, Ric. Richards of Cain, Pa.; Ray Connor, Jack Heard, Albert Hazel and Wilbert Kingston of town.

School Forgotten To Spanish Boys

Sons in Spain are not having an easy job while their fathers are at the front fighting the Spanish insurgents. In the upper photograph are boys, who would be learning their three R's, being pressed into service as road-makers. Part of their job is to repair the ravages of high explosive shells on the highways. Below, the adult males, many of them fathers, are shown on their way to the front. Reports from the Madrid front indicate neither the loyalists nor the rebels have gained serious advantages during the past week, though reports from northern Spain reveal loyalist forces have defeated insurgent Moors in the Albarracin sector.

the long-time average yield per acre is as follows, with the condition of June 30, 1937, and July 31, 1936 in brackets: Spring wheat, 25 (79, 56); spring rye, 40 (48,49); peas, 87 (97, 70); beans, 91 (91, 84) buckwheat, 94 (96, 80); mixed grains, 96 (97, 97); flaxseed, 28 (44, 45); corn, for husking, 89 (87, 82); potatoes, 92 (94, 81); turnips, etc., 97 (98, 81); hay and clover, 92 (90, 94); fodder corn, 93 ((92, 79); sugar beets, 93 (92, 75); pasture, 91 (96, 82).

For the Prairie Provinces, the condition of the principal grain crops on the same dates is as follows: Three Provinces—Wheat, 35 (51, 45); oats, 40 (60, 43); barley, 56 (76, 50); spring rye, 37 (47, 45) flaxseed, 25 (43, 44). Manitoba—Wheat, 90 (102, 61); oats, 84 (98, 52); barley, 84 (98, 55); spring rye, 84 (98, 61); flaxseed, 87 (94, 60). Saskatchewan—Wheat, 14 (34, 45); oats, 17 (45, 41); barley, 22 (56, 49); spring rye, 21 (37, 45); flaxseed, 9 (30, 43). Alberta—Wheat 51 (63, 40); oats, 54 (65, 41); barley, 37 (68, 45); spring rye, 45 (46, 45); flaxseeds, 48 (49, 34).

The total yield of fall wheat in Canada in 1937 is now estimated at 17,248,000 bushels from 646,600 acres, a yield per acre of 26.7 bushels, as compared with 12,478,000 bushels from 509,300 acres, a yield per acre of 24.5 bushels, in 1936.

Fall Rye Better

Fall rye in Canada is estimated to have yielded 4,216,000 bushels from 683,800 acres, as compared with 3,042,900 bushels from 497,300 acres in 1936 yields per acre of 6.3 and 6.7 bushels, respectively.

The first cutting of alfalfa yielded 1,520,900 tons from 811,400 acres, a yield per acre of 1.87 tons, as compared with 1,438,600 tons from 853,600 acres, a yield per acre of 1.68 tons in 1936.

The report furnished estimates of the areas sown to the principal grain crops as shown by the annual June survey for the Prairie Provinces. As compared with 1936, the area under wheat is practically unchanged, showing an increase of 17,000 acres or 0.3 per cent. The wheat area is placed at 24,300,000 acres compared with 24,523,000 acres in 1936.

The area under oats this year of 8,579,000 acres is 74,300 acres or 0.9 per cent. higher than last year. The barley area is estimated at 3,582,300 acres, a decrease of 157,800 acres or 4.2 per cent. Rye, at 868,200 acres, is up 41 per cent. while flaxseed, at 293,300 acres, is down 31 per cent.

TIME CLOCK FOR NIGHT POLICEMAN AT CAMPBELLFORD

Council Decides to Buy Clock From Walter Henson For $20.00.

CENOTAPH CARETAKER.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10.— The purchase of the time clock for the use of the night policeman was finally consumated at the meeting of the Town Council on Monday when a letter from Walter Henson was read indicating that he had a clock with six keys which he would sell to the town for the sum of $20.00. This matter was cleared up when a motion made by Councillor MacMillan to purchase the clock was passed and a further motion authorizing that the placing of the keys be left to the discretion of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Earl Haig who was formerly employed by the town as street cleaner addressed the Council stating that the Council had discriminated against him unfairly when they had deducted from his salary a certain portion to repay for his hospitalization during a recent illness. He explained that he could see no reason why he should be expected to pay when other employees of the town were not compelled to do so.

Councillor O'Sullivan reported that no action would be taken regarding the request for the lowering of the crossing at the corner of Canrobert and Grand Road as made by Roy Bell.

Cenotaph Caretaker.

It was indicated by Councillor Kelly that he had hired Thos. Saunders as caretaker for the Cenotaph and he suggested that some tools namely a rake, hoe and spade be purchased to facilitate this work. On motion the purchase of these articles was authorized by the Council along with the purchase of 75 feet of garden hose.

J. Lewis Hay, Relief Officer told the Council that 24 men from town had been engaged on the work which was being done on Highway 30 and that 26 men from town were working for the Bell Telephone Company in the work of changing over their lines. On motion of Councillors Kelly and O'Sullivan the projected work of building a sidewalk on the south side of Napier street was authorized.

A motion to repair and replace the fence between the town dump and the property owned by J. Kelleher was moved by Deputy Reeve Calver and seconded by Councillor P. H. MacMillan. Carried. Councillor Kelly indicated that he had been requested by certain of the merchants on Front street to have the garbage collection in this area extended to twice a week. It was the feeling of the Council that the cost of any extra service should be borne by the merchants so affected and not by the tax-payers and no action was taken on the matter.

A motion was passed authorizing the removal of all barricades on the south side of the parking lot which would in any way affect either Thos. Rowe or H. Carr from gaining access to their property through the lot. The provision was inserted however that the lot should not be used to store any implements, wagons or other articles belonging to either of the two parties. Following the presentation of a by-law by Deputy-Reeve Calver to license barbers and hair dressers the fee being $1 per annum, the pay sheet was passed and the Council adjourned.

These Names Make News

BENNETT

Premier of Canada and leader of the Dominion Liberal party, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, was an important figuer at the Imperial conference held in London following the coronation. Mr. King, with whom Premier Mitchell Hepburn, of Ontario, disagreed concerning the C.I.O.'s entry into Canada, announced at the time the Ottawa government would have a hands-off policy.

KING

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Dominion Conservative leader, has been rumored as retiring the leadership of the party. Mr. Bennett, however, has refused to confirm or deny the rumor. Ill health, which caused him to consult a physician while in London for the coronation is said the likely cause for his possible retirement.

PETERBORO PLANTS THREE CORNWALL

On behalf of his company, he offered to make retroactive any order that might be made to the day on which the Cornwall employees resume work. Premier Hepburn accepted Mr. Tolmie's offer. A similar undertaking would be necessary on the part of Dominion Woollens.

The mayors of both cities and chairmen of the strikers committees were asked to co-operate by urging the strikers to return to their jobs and Premier Hepburn said he hoped "the difficulties of the past weeks" could be cleared and a stop put to "the economic waste that has been caused."

The Cornwall strike was called July 20, night workers being followed in the walkout by the day shift, about 1,700 employees in three mills —Dundas, Stormont and Canada—being affected. They demanded recognition of the United Textile Workers of America union and general pay increases of 20 per cent and better working conditions.

The Peterborough strike was called originally in the Auburn plant with some 300 workers walking out late last June to be followed a week later by a similar number of workers in the Bonner-Worth unit. Their demands are similar to those of the Cornwall strikers.

TWO CAPTURED OSHAWA HOLDUP

Pair of Suspects Are Picked Up in Raid on Toronto's Chinatown.

TORONTO, Aug. 10. — Eighteen hours after an Oshawa railway station operator was held up at gunpoint, two suspects were arrested in a Chinatown beverage room on Saturday night, and yesterday charged with robbery while armed.

Accompanied by Investigator Benjamin Anderson of the C.N.R., Sergeant of Detectives John Hicks and Detective John Nimmo searched through Toronto's Chinese section and picked up Edward Hughes, 21, of Bowmore Road, and Leo Farlett, 25, of Jarvis Street.

Yesterday the pair was identified in a line-up at Police Headquarters by Eccles Joynt, C.N.R. station operator who was held up, and William Brewster who saw the bandits prior to the stickup.

A third man, said to be colored, is being sought. A woman caught while visiting one of the suspect's rooms is being held on a vagrancy charge. The arrested men were drinking beer with two women companions when the detectives broke up the party.

The hold-up took place at 5.30 a.m. on Saturday. Two men threatened Joynt with revolvers, now in possession of the police and then stole $55 in cash out of the till.

Telephone and telegraph wires were ripped out and the operator warned not to raise an alarm until the thugs had a chance to escape. The colored man being sought is said to have been the look-out man.

The pair were returned to Oshawa last night in the custody of Detective Flintoff, and later lodged in the Whitby Jail.

In a vault 80 feet below ground at the base of the great pyramid at Cholulu, in Puebla State of Mexico, excavators have found treasure consisting of ingots, old coins and idols worth several hundred thousand dollars.

Germany Protests Expelling Writers

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(AP).—Germany protested formally to Great Britain to-day against the expulsion of three Nazo newspapermen.

The three, Werner Von Crome of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, and the younger writers Franz Otto Wrede and Wold Dietrich Langen, working for a news agency which reports news and opinions of Germans abroad, were ordered to leave England by the Home Office last week-end. There was no explanation of the order.

Dr. E. Woerman, Charge D'Affaires of the German Embassy, made the protest to-day at the Foreign Office. It was described as couched in "restrained terms."

The protest followed conferences of German diplomats at Renfrew, Scotland, where German Ambassador Joachim Von Ribbentrop is on holiday.

CHURCH PICNIC IS HELD AT LOON LAKE

St. Stephen's Church, Apsley, Holds Picnic at Phil Tanner's Cottage.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

APSLEY, Aug. 10. — St. Stephens Church picnic was held on Thursday at Phil Tanner's cottage on Loon Lake, and favored with delightful weather and a good-sized crowd of members and tourists was a decided success. The whole afternoon was occupied in running off a novelty program of sports, comprising races and competitions of various sorts. Other attractions were a refreshment booth in charge of Mesdames Ayotte Sr. and Jr., and fish pond operated by Merle Ayotte. A sale of work stall in charge of Miss Josie Tanner was also freely patronized. Supper was served under the trees on the shore of the lake. Mrs. O. Montgomery and Mrs. Ernest Tanner and assistants being busy in this department. The Rev. F. C. McMullin and Ernest Tanner had charge of the sports. The thanks of the committee are extended to all those who worked so hard and cheerfully to make the picnic the pleasurable event it was.

Rev. C. A. G. Swence conducted the services at All Saints' Church, Peterborough on Sunday, and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, Sherbrooke Street, over the week-end.

40 DROWN.

MARACAIBO, Venezuela, Aug. 10 (A.P.). — Between 40 and 50 native oil workers were reported lost today after their excursion boat, returning from a holiday week-end, foundered.

The boat, the Ana Cecilia, had about 200 oil field workers aboard.

THE DIONNE QUINS GIVE YOU THEIR "BEAUTY SECRET"

"When we were tiny babies, Dr. Dafoe bathed us only with Olive Oil. Later, when we were ready for soap and water baths, he chose the soap made from the most soothing ingredients."

"Dr. Dafoe chose Palmolive, made with gentle Olive Oil. We're glad he did, for we've never had any complexion trouble. In fact, everyone says we have unusually soft, smooth skin."

"Doesn't it just stand to reason, that if Palmolive is safest for our tender skin, it must be best for yours too? Well anyway, our advice is, only Palmolive, the soap made with Olive Oil."

PALMOLIVE WILL KEEP YOUR COMPLEXION YOUNG! Does your skin seem dry, lifeless . . . slightly coarse-looking? Even girls in their twenties have this condition. It is called "Middle-Age" Skin! Beauty experts say, "Use Palmolive Soap regularly." For Palmolive is made from a blend of real beauty ingredients, soothing Olive and Palm oils. That's why Palmolive's gentle, lather keeps your complexion soft, smooth, young!

WHY DR. DAFOE CHOSE PALMOLIVE

Because the Quins were born prematurely their skin has always required very special care. Dr. Dafoe's own statement:

"For some time after their birth, the Dionne Quintuplets were bathed with Olive Oil. When the time arrived for soap and water baths, we chose Palmolive Soap exclusively for bathing these famous babies."

Textile Probe Will Be Started Immediately

Strike Heads Made No Effort To Convey To the General Body Promise Of Premier Hepburn

Rank and File Not Aware of Premier's Promise Gordon Charges.

GORDON IS THROUGH.

Charges that no effort whatever was made by strike leaders to convey to the general textile strike body here the promise telephoned to Peterborough by Premier Mitchell Hepburn that minimum wage rates would be established here immediately, were levelled by G. N. Gordon, K.C., to-day.

"The rank and file of the strikers would have been glad to go back to work this morning if they had known of the Premier's undertaking, but these leaders do not want the strike settled," Mr. Gordon declared. "I'm through with them. All bills on hand will be paid, but I do not intend to continue further with the relief committee."

First intimation that Premier Hepburn had decided on action which would affect the Peterborough strike came to the city by telegram from Mr. Gordon. During the afternoon he had been in conference with the Premier, J. F. Marsh, Deputy-Minister of Labor, and E. J. Young, chairman of the Industry and Labor Board. He wired his office to advise the strikers' committee that he had obtained a promise from the Prime Minister that a minimum wage scale would be effected for local textile workers as quickly as possible, probably retroactive to the date of their return to work.

At 4.45 o'clock in the afternoon, Premier Hepburn telephoned Mayor Macdonald, stating the offer to the strikers which had been agreed on during the meeting with Mr. Gordon and asking the Mayor to assure the strikers that they would lose nothing by going back to work in the morning. The Premier confirmed this with the following telegram to former-Alderman Fred Tuggey, chairman of the defunct Workers' Relief Committee:

"R. O. Tolmie, Canadian Cottons, requests Industry and Labor Board to investigate textile industry in Ontario with the view to issuing minimum wage order and offers to make provisions for order retroactive to date of resumption of work. We are at this moment asking Dominion Woollens of Peterborough to make same offer to its employees and to the Board. The investigation will start immediately. We respectfully urge employees to return to work pending such investigation, having in mind the retroactive nature of proposed agreement with company officials. M. F. Hepburn."

Mayor Macdonald states he tried immediately to get in touch with Mike English, strike chairman, verbally. Failing that, he composed the following letter and shortly delivered it to the strike leader personally.

"At 4.45 p.m. this afternoon the Hon. M. F. Hepburn, Prime Minister of Ontario, telephoned to me by long distance from the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, and discussed with me important matters relative to the settlement of the strike.

"At the Prime Minister's request to co-operate in laying his message before the strikers, I am therefore at the earliest possible moment giving you his message so that you in turn may place it before the strikers.

"Hon. Mr. Hepburn stated that if the strikers of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds' plants at Peterborough return to work at the mills to-morrow morning, he gives them his assurance that the Ontario Industrial and Labour Board will immediately take up the matters at issue in the strike, and make an early decision which will be binding to the textile industry of the Province.

"The Prime Minister informed me that this same assurance has been made to the strikers at Cornwall, and they were accepting this proposal.

"I gave the Prime Minister your name and it may be that he has been in direct communication with you since he wished to do so.

"Permit me in the best interests of the strikers, to urge upon you to accept this assurance of action by the Prime Minister and to use your influence in advising the strikers to return to work."

Developments then followed in quick succession throughout the evening. Mr. Gordon called Elmer Hickey and Edith Prizzelle, two members of the strike executive, to his home and summoned also Mr. Tuggey. There he told them Premier Hepburn had promised the minimum wage would be put into effect "as soon as the Board could call a meeting and do it." The two strikers promised him they would communicate that information to the general strike body for a decision and report back to him, he stated. He said they did not report back to him at any time during the evening.

About the same time, Mayor Macdonald was conferring with Strike Chairman Mike English and J. L. Cohen, legal advisor to the strikers, impressing on them the Premier's offer and advising them to lead their strikers back to work in the morning. English told him at that time that the matter could not be presented to the general strike body before the morrow and refused to do anything about it, the Mayor said. Mayor Macdonald reported he pointed out to the leaders that they could contact almost all Dominion Woollens employees in the hours before the plant opening if they so wished.

Another conversation between Mayor Macdonald and Premier Hepburn by long distance telephone occurred at 9 o'clock in the evening and the Mayor immediately reported it to English in a second letter. The letter in part:

"In his conversation with me, the Prime Minister again stated with emphasis that he assured the strikers that the Ontario Industry and Labor Board would study immediately the textile situation and decisions would be reached and rules made which would benefit all those engaged in the industry.

"Hon. Mr. Hepburn said that he desired the strikers to return to work tomorrow and assured me that they would certainly not be the losers by so doing. He assured me that the strikers could depend upon the Government's fairness."

Hastily, the meeting of strike leaders which was to decide on the course to be taken by the entire strike body was convened in the Hotel Champlain. It included Jacob L. Cohen, Organizer Alex. Welch, Nora Adams, Oshawa's women's organizer; Mike English, Elmer Hickey, Edith Prazelle, and Alex. Townsley.

It was reported authoritatively, that the meeting immediately agreed to ignore the news from Toronto and to repudiate Mr. Gordon as a friend of the strike cause. Mike English telephoned Premier Hepburn, telling him the strike organization could not be convened until the morrow. English later said the Premier agreed this was reasonable, but said it was up to local authorities to handle the matter of holding the plant opening in abeyance.

At that point, evening developments ended, strike leaders claiming it was the duty of the company to keep the mills closed until the whole matter could be discussed and Mayor Macdonald claiming it was up to the strikers to allow those who wished to go to work to go unmolested.

"This morning Mr. Tuggey and I were at the Bonner-Worth before 8 o'clock, and, in talking with some of the strikers and their friends, found that the strikers did not know that the Minimum Wage Act had been definitely promised," Mr. Gordon declared. "We both agreed that the committee which decided upon the continuation of the strike last night was not in any sense representative of the employees of the Bonner-Worth and Auburn mills and that the information was never communicated to the employees by Mr. Cohen or any other members of the committee."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, August 11

According to the lunar transits bearing rule on the affairs of this day, there should be a fair measure of progress, success and satisfaction. This applies to employment, business and finance, although the outstanding factor seems to be the association with persons of prestige and standing.

Those whose birthday it is will find themselves confronted by a year in which their personal popularity and social talents may be considered an asset. Contacts with important personages should be cultivated as opportunities for advancing the position and increasing the possibilities in business, employment and social importance.

A child born on this day may be well endowed with cultural and social talents and may lean towards exploiting these in high life or in business catering to such.

NORTH MONAGHAN RESIDENTS WANT NO MORE SHACKS

Western Avenue Residents Request Building Restriction in Their Section.

COUNCIL MEETS.

Residents of Western Avenue and the section nearby petitioned North Monaghan Council to impose building restrictions that would prevent the erection of any more shacks. They also requested the Council and the local Board of Health to close those places which are not fit for human habitation. This matter was left over for further consideration.

A petition was presented from residents of Lock Street and vicinity protesting against night disturbances in that neighborhood, including unnecessary noises made by cars and radios, contrary to a township by-law. No action was taken in regard to the petition, because, it was stated, North Monaghan has no policeman to enforce law and order.

Walter Lackie made application for the position of township constable. His letter was filed.

A resolution was passed that the clerk write and ask Mr. Sears, Provincial Highway Engineer at Port Hope, to have No. 7 Highway graded in front of May's School, so that a sidewalk or pathway may be constructed without further delay; also that he be requested to have a culvert placed across the road near the intersection of Webber Avenue and No. 7 Highway, for the purpose of letting the surface water away from Mr. Butler's property.

The following accounts were passed: Relief account, $53.48; miscellaneous, $76.76; City of Peterborough, sewer connections, $272; County of Peterborough, balance due 1936 High School rate, $890.62; printing and advertising, $13.48; grants re Foley estate, $17.50; road accounts, $180.22; salaries, $15.

A special meeting of the Council will be held on Tuesday, September 7 to strike the tax rate and for general business.

STONEY LAKE RUNS AMOK IN STURGEON

Lindsay Boys' Band Sponsoring Cruise Plays While Steering Repairs Made.

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 10—(CP)—Two hundred passengers, enjoying a moonlight excursion on the steamer Stoney Lake, received a thrill last night when in crossing Sturgeon Lake en route to Fenelon Falls, the rudder chain broke releasing the steamer from control.

The momentum of the ship carried it into heavy weeds where it lashed and churned about an hour while temporary repairs were made to the ships rudder control.

The Lindsay Boys' Band played numerous lively airs during the interval to revive the spirits of passengers nervously inclined. The excursion was sponsored by the band.

The boat wended its way up the Scugog River to Lindsay at 2 a.m. to the strains of "We Won't be Home Until Morning."

M.O.H. Urges All Parents To Keep Close Watch For Infantile Paralysis

While there are no cases of infantile paralysis in Peterborough or vicinity, Dr. G. Murray Fraser, medical officer of health, points to outbreaks of the disease in other parts of the province and urges that at first signs of illness of any member of the family a physician should be consulted.

"There are no cases of infantile paralysis in Peterborough or vicinity. There have been numerous cases reported in Toronto during the past few weeks, and as the disease is spread through contact with known or abortive cases or carriers, it is possible it may reach Peterborough at any time," the M.O.H. said.

However he advises, "There is no need for alarm. No cases have occurred to date in Peterborough. But a doctor should be called early in case of illness, no matter how mild."

What was usually considered as a mild digestive upset in a child might easily be the onset of infantile paralysis. Early signs are: Neck stiffness, headache, lower back pain, prostration, vomiting.

"There is no known method of preventing the disease outside of isolating the patient and placing all contact under quarantine and a sick child should be kept by himself until seen by his physician," the medical officer counsels.

CLOCK MAKERS ENJOY OUTING

500 Employees and Children of Westclox Take Boats to Wallace's Point.

35 GALLONS OF ICE CREAM.

Five hundred employes from the Western Clock Company held their second annual outing on Saturday afternoon when the steamer Stoney Lake was chartered for a cruise down the Otonabee River to Wallace Point where an extensive sports program was run off and a dance held in the evening.

The company was host to the employes' children who devoured 35 gallons of ice cream, a case of oranges and all the soft drinks and lollipops which they wanted free. No fare was made for the children on the boat trip.

Two Companies Agree New Wage Schedules Will Be Retroactive

Premier Expresses Hope Strikers Will Return to Their Jobs.

AWAIT BOARD'S VERDICT.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—The Ontario Industry and Labor Board will start immediately its investigation of wages in the textile industry with the object of fixing a schedule of minimum wages. The board's inquiry will be conducted with the agreement and co-operation of both Canadian Cottons Ltd. and Dominion Woollens Ltd., Premier Mitchell Hepburn announced.

Representatives of both companies have agreed that when the board finally fixes minimum wage schedules they will be made retroactive to the time striking employee of the two mills in Cornwall and Peterborough return to work. The Premier expressed the hope that as soon as word of this arrangement reached the strikers they would agree to return to their jobs pending the findings of the Industry and Labor Board.

The Canadian Cottons Company agreed last night after Mr. Hepburn announced the inquiry that any order of the board should be made retroactive and today, at a meeting with the Premier, H. Barrett of the Dominion Woollens Ltd., gave the same undertaking. Expressing regret at today's occurrence in Peterborough the Premier declared that if it was found necessary the present force of 20 Provincial constables there would be augmented.

Mayor George Macdonald was in telephone conversation with Premier Hepburn at noon today and reported the conversation in the following letter addressed to the strikers this afternoon:

"I was again in conversation with Hon M. F. Hepburn, Prime Minister of Ontario, over the long distance telephone at noon today relative to the strike.

"The Prime Minister stated that Mr. Henry Barrett, managing director of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd., conferred with him at the Parliament Buildings this morning and agreed completely with the Prime Minister's decision to have the Ontario Industry and Labor Board immediately study the textile industry of the Province and decisions would be reached and rules made which would benefit all those engaged in the industry.

"The Prime Minister stated that the regulations which will be laid down regarding wages will be made retroactive to today. He gave his assurance as head of the government of this definite action, and asked me to so inform the strikers.

"Again permit me to request you to return to your jobs, since your problems, on the assurance of the Prime Minister, are to be settled by immediate action of the Ontario Industry and Labor Board."

CARBERRY, Man., Aug. 10.—(CP)—Hail driven by high wind swept an area 10 miles long and four wide south of this town 100 miles west of Winnipeg last night, causing crop damage estimated at more than 50 per cent.

The Rambling REPORTERS

TWO LIVES GONE.

The life of a big, bright yellow tomcat that resides on the farmstead of E. Garbutt, near Warsaw, appears to be shortening itself by pieces. The car arrived at this hospitable home (which shelters three other members of the feline tribe), minus one foot (thought to have been caught in a trap at some time, as the animal is a fine mouser). Recently, while lying concealed in what must have been a deep sleep in a pile of hay, the cat had its tail cut completely off, in mowing operations. The man who did the deed was surprised to see a lamenting yellow pussy rapidly disappearing to another refuge, minus its caudal appendage.—C.L.M.

STARTING EARLY.

He is a four-year-old who has become enchanted by running water. So, he departed from home yesterday morning at ten o'clock and did not return until the pangs of hunger at two o'clock forced him to abandon the creek in which he played with two other small boys. In the meantime, anxious parents and relatives were scouring the town, and the local constabulary was keeping a watchful eye out for the sight of a blithe, little dark-haired lad hoping for the best. His mother, who at one time was ready to administer corporal punishment to the runaway, abandoned this plan when she saw him, and hugged him hard. "He looked pretty good to me when he finally got home," she said.—C.L.M.

WILL DO DUTY AT "EX."

The local detachment of the St. John Ambulance Brigade will be located in a tent near the eastern entrance to the Exhibition Grounds during the period of the annual Industrial Exhibition, it is announced. Cases arising from accident or sudden illness will be given attention at the tent. Divisional Superintendent L. E. Tomkins is requesting a full turnout of ambulance men at the weekly practice on Wednesday night in order that a satisfactory roster might be selected for duty during the Exhibition.

Oshawa Lacrossers Break Auburn Gang's Win Streak

Woollens Beaten 16-14 Before Rabid Crowd in Motor City Stadium.

PLENTY OF ACTION.

Auburns lost their first group C.O.L.A. game of the season last night when they were nosed out, 16-14, by the Local 222 team in Oshawa before a large and rabid crowd of fans. It was a hectic see-saw battle with plenty of rough stuff dished up. The losers were minus four regulars, but put up a great battle from start to finish. It was their first loss in 13 scheduled starts.

The score was 4-2 for the homesters in the first quarter, 8-7 for them at half-time and 12 to 10 going into the final frame. Twice in the fourth stanza, Auburns tied it up but the 22-ers won out in the last few minutes of play. Red Creighton, Pete King and Buster Whitton were outstanding for the losers, while DeGray, Barron, Daniels, Bovin and Leroy were best for the victors.

Cooke scored early in the first but Cadd soon evened it up. Whyte got the next and then DeGray. King noticed one on Dundas pass out Daniels got it back before the whistle. Miller drew a penalty in the second for holding and Bovin scored. King tallied later on Miller's assist and then Dundas got one. Barron drew Red out to sink one, and then Sanders and Dundas drew majors for lighting. Daniels broke away to score but later Dundas passed to Whitton for a nice counter. Whitton shoved one over to King for another and later Loucks counted on E. Creighton's assist to tie it at 7-all. Red Creighton was going great, but getting a panning from the fans. Cooper put Oshawa one up near the close of the half.

Hectic Third Heat.

Bovin scored on Leroy's pass to open the hectic third heat. A fight nearly broke out once, but peace was restored. Daniels and Leroy ran in quick goals, and then Bovin was gated for tripping. Whitton took G. Creighton's pass to score. Leroy and Dundas mixed it, and the former drew two minutes and the latter five. King tallied on Whitton's assist and E. Creighton and Sanders were gated for roughing it. Whitton scored again but Cooke evened it on Daniels' pass. Bovin cut down E. Creighton and Red Creighton and Bovin clashed in a fight, the latter being chased for seven minutes. King tallied early in the fourth and Cadd took Whitton's pass to score. Daniels countered from Barron and Whitton scored from G. Creighton. DeGray and Dundas clashed and drew majors. Dallin got a penalty for something or other, and Barron got two goals, one on DeGray's pass. Bovin got another and then Whitton's wound up the scoring.

The teams:

Auburns: Goal, R. Creighton; defence, Miller and G. Creighton; centre, Whitton; wings, Loucks and Cadd; rover, Dallin; alternates: King, Dundas, E. Creighton, Sloan, Pammett, Anderson.

Oshawa: Goal, Clarke; defence, DeGray and Sanders; centre, Cooke; wings, Barron and Oke; rover, Daniels; alternates: Whyte, Armour, Cooper, Bovin, Campbell, Armitage, Leroy.

Referee: B. Leighton of Toronto.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

PLAYING FROM 7 o'clock until midnight in a slight drizzle of rain, thirty-two pairs of bowlers competed in the fourth local twilight doubles tournament. With so many away on holidays, threatening weather, heat, etc. it was a good turnout and the best part of it all was that hardly any of the prize winners are repeaters.

The winners:

First—Jim Cullen and R. Hutchinson (kit bags).

Second—L. Loftus and G. Fee (kit bags).

Third—R. Dyer and W. Cathcart (bowl cases).

Fourth—J. Braund and T. McCauley (pairs of socks).

Fifth — Dr. Allen and A. Fair (pairs of pyjamas).

WE HAVE a few important announcements to make:

(1)—All entries for the Globe doubles, and the Central Ontario rink playoffs close on Saturday night,—each entry must be in writing and accompanied with the fee.

(2)—Club singles, Saturday night is also the last night for playing the games left in the 64th round. We understand all those who do not reach the 32nd round by that date will be crossed off . . . And just as a last reminder, don't forget the open mixed tournament tomorrow (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. Up-to-date we have very few entries.

Rotary Entertains Cobourg Wednesday

Cobourg Juniors play the local Rotarians here tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at six o'clock in Riverside Park in the second game of the Lakeshore Junior Baseball League playoffs. First one ended in a win for Rotary in Cobourg, and third if necessary will be staged Friday, perhaps on neutral grounds. The winner meets Belleville in the first round of the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns. This contest here tomorrow ought to be a bangup ball game and deserves a big crowd of fans. Rotary have been after a junior baseball title for several seasons and have lined up a strong contender this year.

Herb Ralph expects to start Roy Armour on the mound for the locals with Bob Todd in reserve. He will field his strongest team in an effort to knock off the Lakeshore lads in two straight. Their first playoff clash, last Friday night, saw the Rotarians stage an eight-inning rally to cop the decision after a swell scrap. Hard hitting and good pitching gave them the win. These teams appear well-matched and turn in some smart ball, a number of senior prospects being on both lineups. It promises to be a nifty playoff number.

SEYMOUR WINS GLOVER TROPHY

Menie Tallies 5 Runs in Seventh For Gallant Comeback But Rally Falls.

FINAL SCORE 12-11.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10. — Seymour West won the Glover Cup from Menie on Saturday evening in one of the most closely contested games of the season by a score of 12 to 11. Both teams were out to win, and although the errors were in evidence as usual, their number was cut considerably below the preceding games of the series. Barney Eagleson pitched for the losers, and it is said that Monday's game ended his 26th year as an amateur ball player. He pitched an excellent game, though the Seymour team brought in five runs in the second which, according to some, conceded them the game. Cliff Anderson, who pitched for Seymour West, held the strikes down until the seventh inning, when he had eight strikes and a home run against him, which nearly cost the game for his team.

How They Scored.

It was Mac Atkinson, third baseman for the Seymour team, who saved the day when he came to bat at the end of the seventh with the score tied and two men out and three on bases, he hit a triple which brought in Maycock for the winning run which gave the Seymour team the cup. In the first inning Menie scored twice, with Hutcheon and Jeff making the plate, while the second inning was scoreless. Scottie Mackenzie made a home run, the only score for the Seymour boys in the first, while the second period stood out with the lead being stretched by four, with Anderson, Hooper, McCulloch, Mackenzie and Atkinson scoring. The third inning saw Oddie come in to bring Menie's score up to three, while Seymour's score for the inning was a blank. Bill Craighead hit a homer in the fourth and brought in Wallace for two runs. Seymour stretched their lead in the last half of the inning by two with Atkinson, McCook, S. Mackenzie and Maycock coming in, while in the fifth and sixth only Maycock was able to reach the home plate when Atkinson made a sacrifice hit. Menie went into the seventh with a lead of four to overcome and ran up five to put them on top when Lindsay Anderson connected with an easy one, scoring a home run, when Oddie and Chadwick were on bases. Eagleson and Wallace also scored to make up their two remaining runs of the game.

The score by innings:

Menie	201 201 5—11
Seymour West	150 410 1—12

The teams:

Menie—Hutcheon cf, Eagleson p, B. Jeff c, Oddie ss, T. Chadwick lf, L. Anderson 2b, Wallace rf, Craighead lf, Smith 3b.

Seymour West—Atkinson 3b, E. Maycock 2b, S. Mackenzie 1b, E. Wilcox c, Cliff Anderson p, N. Hooper ss, McCulloch cf, Maycock lf, A. Mackenzie rf.

Referees: V. Farrell and E. Craighead.

Dizzing Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

JUNIOR baseball playoffs come to town tomorrow eve at six in Riverside when Herb Ralph's local Rotarians and the Cobourg crew tangle for Lakeshore Loop honors. 'Tis the second tilt, Rotary having won the first on foreign terrain. They hope to make it two in a row and get set to tackle Belleville in O.B.A.A. playdowns. These teams tomorrow should put on a bangup ball game as there is plenty of class in both lineups. Rey Armour will probably pitch for the locals. All season, the Cobourgites have been making it uncomfortable for the Rotarians and we hope to gosh the Ralph playoff jinx doesn't start to work at this time. Herb has had good teams in playoffs for years but has had no luck but bad. However, he figures this squad will really go to town. The game rates a good crowd of rooters.

OSHAWA writers says: "The Cobourg club invited themselves into the Peterborough girls' league, asking permission to play there and now, because the loop officials insist on running their own league, the Cobourg manager is hollering. A week ago they had a free-for-all at Cobourg. That is not uncommon there in ladies' softball. Hotheaded fans are the cause but the management has never done much to discourage it. We know that one gentleman with the team thinks it's a good thing to have a few scraps—then the crowds and gate receipts get bigger. The Peterborough officials must be given credit for refusing to allow one club to have things their own way. Cobourg should get justice but nothing more."

* * * * * * *

HE PROCEEDS thusly: "Since we have seen but one game this year we do not know just what brand of umping Cobourg gets from the Peterborough umpires. But our experience in two Provincial playoff series was that the calling done by the Peterborough umps was as fair and accurate as even the most critical opposing team could wish. Better quit squawking, Ernie. Maybe you're not getting things your own way and maybe you're even getting the raw edge but even so, unless you spend your time polishing up the Combines for the playoffs and quit giving the girls the idea that they are victims of unfair dealing, you'll suddenly find yourself on the short end of the score—just as in other years. And it will not be the fault of your players."

TWO softball tilts are on the tapis tonight. At the Bowl at seven bells—weather permitting, of course—Keene and Westclox girls clash in the first of their sectional finals. It is two out of three, next game being Thursday here and third, if necessary, at the Bowl on Friday. Winner of this secondhalf playoff series will meet Cobourg for the league championship. And the ultimate winner enters the P.W.S.U. playdowns 'gainst Oshawa. At Central tonight at seven—if the O's are on time—Young Petes play Omemee in a round-robin series game. It is a replay of their previous draw number. Both games are important, as the squads are really playing for keeps now in these playoffs, and both struggles should bring out the customers in goodly numbers.

AUBURNS lost their first C.O.L.A. game in 13 starts last night in Oshawa by a 16-14 score. A game bristling with hard feelings and several tidy fights—Ira Dundas apparently being in on most of 'em. The locals were minus the services of Don Crowe, Mick Magee, Ned Vitarelli and Rowan Chute. Though weakened, they made it a great battle and claim they got a tough passage from the referee. However, those things happen and, had the squad been at full strength, the officiating would not have bothered the boys much. They all played well with Buster Whitton, Red Creighton and Pete King turning in a whale of a showing. Barron, DeGray, Daniels, Bovin and Leroy all showed up well for the winners. Bovin cut down E. Creighton and got himself punched in the nose by brother Red, and then drew a lengthy penalty.

YESSIR, these gutted-stick rivals will dish up a torrid group playoff serial within a couple of weeks. Auburns ought to take 'em but one never knows. The Motor City 222-ers have improved muchly and they sure battle all the way. There is no love lost between these outfits, mes amis. The Auburns' billed game with Belleville in Wellington on Wednesday has been postponed since the Wellington arena is not available. So the locals will hold a practise tomorrow eve at seven instead of the tilt. Magee is away on holidays and Vitarelli is working nights this week. Chute is on the injured list; dunno about Crowe. And on Friday, the Flying Rovers of Belleville tackle the Auburns here to wind up the latter team's home schedule. Won't be long till the playoffs commence.

* * * * * * *

THE PETES have a ball game in Napanee tomorrow and it is a mighty important fixture. A win for the locals will cinch 'em that coveted third-place playoff berth, while a loss will shove 'em back into a last-place tie with the Gibbards. Which would probably mean they'd be jockeyed out of the playoffs during the final few games of the schedule. Manager Collins is making efforts to have Russ Kitchen get off work and start on the Petes' mound, probably against Pointer. If the locals are at full strength and play heads-up ball, they'll bring home the bacon tomorrow in the gloaming. Oshawa GM-men go to Kingston on Wednesday.

UP AT Central yester eve, Motorists copped an 8-4 nod over Westclox men softballers to even the series to declare an O.A.S.A. team at one game each. It is a four-in-seven serious, next tussle being at Central Thursday night. The Barrett boys batted out Ted Naish in the sixth last e'en and also clouted Parsons fairly hard. Strickland went the route for the winners and, though the Baptie bunch bingled him freely, he had good support. A swell scrap with heaps of hot arguments. Fans shouldn't miss their next melee. Tomorrow p.m. sees Young Petes play Westclox here in a round-robin series setto. The Young Petes open their O.A.S.A. junior playdowns 'gainst Belleville here on Aug. 18th—which is one week from tomorrow.

HITHER and yawn: Oshawa lacrossers are due to play in Norwood on Friday, and the locals go to Norwood on the 17th....The Motor City mob nearly tore the roof off last eve during the hectic fray between Auburns and the homesters....How come the 222-ers have no certificates—is it their fault or that of the O.A.L.A.?....All kinds of good pucksters are trying to locate here for next winter, but there is a limited transfer clause in the O.H.A....Foley, Jubenville and Bennett had three hits apiece for the GM-men; and Scrutton and Paczkowski led Kingston in their recent ball game...."Oshawa had better bring in some Provincial cops when they play lacrosse here again," a local gent said after last night's rough joust, "after the way we were treated there"....C.O.B.L. schedule closes on Saturday, but what about those Napanee-Kingston postponed tilts?....Men's softball as'tis played here is no game to participate in if you are a sensitive soul—the insults from rival players being enough to curl the shingles of your grandpaw's barn!

KAWARTHAS OUST PORT HOPE TEAM

Quakers Win Last Match of Season and Cinch Place in Circuit.

Players from the Port Hope Tennis Club were eliminated from a playoff berth in the Kawartha District Tennis League, when they dropped a postponed match to Peterborough Quakers here on Saturday afternoon by a 6-2 score. Before the match the teams were tied for second place, and the standing now is: Peterborough Kawarthas 24, Peterborough Quakers 21, and Port Hope 19.

Port Hope captured their two points on Saturday by winning a section of the men's doubels, and the ladies' doubles. In the latter event, Misses Adeline and Eleanor Armstrong won with ease and it is interesting to note that they have not lost a league match this season.

The results were as follow:—

Men's Singles.—E. Harvey, Port Hope, lost to D. McPherson, Peterborough, 8-3, 6-1.

Ladies' Singles.—Miss Dorothy Davidson, Port Hope, lost to Miss D. Weese, Peterborough, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

Men's Doubles.—Jack Hossack and E. M. Wynn, Port Hope, defeated O. Nicholls and E. Vincent, Peterborough, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5. L. Marsh and D. Millson, Port Hope, lost to M. Clark and K. Gadd, Peterborough, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Ladies' Doubles.—Misses E. and A. Armstrong, Port Hope, defeated A. Dixon and L. Elliott, Peterborough, 6-1, 6-0.

Mixed Doubles.—Miss Ola Fox and B. Edward, Port Hope, lost to Miss E. Kirp and C. Sullivan, Peterborough, 6-2, 6-4.

J. Richardson Tosses Great Ball to Give Elgin 6-2 Win in Over Outlaws.

HASTINGS SOFTBALL.

HASTINGS, August 10. — Elgin defeaed "Dit" Clapper's Outlaws 6 to 2 last night (Monday) in a local Softball League game.

There was no scoring til the fifth innings when each team scored twice. Elgin added 2 in the sixth and 2 in the eighth to take the closely contested game.

Elgin scored 2 in the fifth on 3 hits in a row. They scored 2 more in the sixth on a hit, a walk and an error and their final 2 came in the eighth on 2 errors and Fleming's triple.

The 2 Outlaws' runs were scored in the fifth on 4 singles in a row.

The pitching of J. Richardson, on the mound for Elgin, was the standout of the game. He fed them a few drop which they managed to touch for 8 widely scattered hits. He fanned 1 and walked 1.

McKee for the Outlaws allowed 9 hits, bunched in the fifth, sixth and eighth innings. He struck out 7 and walked 3.

The win brings Elgin to within 1 game of the Outlaws in second place. The teams:

Outlaws—Radford cf, Stickles 3b, Bonda c, McKee p, Clapper 1b, McCoy, lf; L. Scriver, 2b; R. Scriver, rf, and Puffer ss.

Elgin—J. Preston c, J. Richardson p, Scott 1b; E. Preston 2b; C. Richardson 3b, R. Richardson ss, Fleming lf, Kelly cf, Metcalfe rf.

Chicago Fans Fear New 'Home' Fence

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Chicago Cubs began their "big push" today toward a strangle hold on the National League pennant.

Six games in front of the second-place New York Giants, the Bruins opened a three-game series with Pittsburg, to be followed by four games against the lowly Cincinnati Reds.

Although the Cubs aren't yet talking "pennant," the feeling is rife in their clubhouse that when they set forth next Sunday night on a long road trip, the bunting will practically be "in the bag."

With nothing to do but wait for the New York Yankees, however, that new and shortened left field fence in the Cub's park has many fans worried for there are fears that Joe Dimaggio and Co. may find that new wall just to their linking. The new fence, behind which will be additional bleacher seats, is 23 feet shorter and eight feet lower than the old wall. It has been responsible for 14 "bargain homers" in 24 games.

CONGRESS ROMANCE-

Few Bachelors Left in House of Representatives in Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10— (AP).—The campus of a co-ed college doesn't have any edge on the United States' Congress when it comes to providing background for romance.

A check-up on members who married while in office showed to-day that few bachelors are left in the House of Representatives and Senate.

Law-makers marry Presidents' daughters, waitresses, models, debutantes, nurses—and daughters of fellow Congressmen.

At least half a dozen married their secretaries. A few have raided offices of other members.

Motorists Win Playoff Over Clockmakers, 8-4

Come From Behind in Late Innings to Cop Nod and Even Series.

A BITTER BATTLE.

Motorists took an 8-4 win over Westclox last night at Central to even up the men's softball playoffs to declare and O.A.S.A. playdown team, each side having taken one in the four-in-seven series. Last night's fray, before a big crowd of fans, was a bitterly-fought affair with plenty of arguments between the rival squads.

Overcoming a 4-0 lead the Motorists won out in the last half of a classy contest. They got two runs in the fifth and three in the sixth to cop a margin, making it safe then with three markes in the eighth. The game wound up in semi-darkness. Naish was driven from the Westclox slab in the sixth after being nicked for nine hits and four walks up till then, as he fanned one. Parsons took over and finished by allowing four hits and one walk, while striking out two. Strickland went the distance for the winners, allowing 11 hits and five walks as he fanned four. The pitchers had good support.

Leads Hitters

Price, who was hit in the eye by a ball and had to retire in the fifth had two hits for Motorists in two appearances. Smith had a homer and two singles. Long had a triple and single, Strickland a triple and Weir a double. For Westclox, Cursie led with three singles in five, and Starr had two for five. A Curry-to-Long-to-Gainey double play was a fielding feature, with both sides showing a lot of nice defensive work. The teams:

Westclox: P. Calladine, c; Starr, ss; Playford, cf; Kearns, lf; O'Leary, 2b; Ellis, 1b; Currie, rf; Stanger, 3b; Naish, p; Parsons, p.

Motorists: Dorrington, 3b; Crary, cf; Price, rf; Montgomery, rf; Smith, 1b; Long, 2b; Gainey, ss; Strickland, p; Weir, lf; Walsh, c.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

VANCOUVER MAN TOPS MARKSMEN FOR MACDOUGALL

Corp. P. M. Gibault Wins First Day Match With Double Possible.

DOMINION EVENT.

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.)—An arduous day of shooting greeted Canada's best marksmen when they strolled to the shooting mounds today at the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle association. Three matches were down for decision.

The rich bankers' event, carrying more than $1,000 prize money, was fired first. Conditions called for 10 shots at 300 and 600 yards. Last year Sergt. G. E. Gray of Montreal, Lieut. James Boa of Montreal, and Major E. Lisle of Ottawa tied for first place with 99 points of a possible 100. In a shoot off Lieut. Boa won and received the Patterson Cup.

Following the Bankers, the Walker event was scheduled and then the Harold L. Borden Memorial, a rapid fire affair.

Wins Macdougall Cup.

Lying on soggy ground yesterday, result of a heavy shower, Corp. P. M. Gibault of Vancouver won the Macdougall match with a double possible. He popped 10 shots into the bull's eye at 500 yards and duplicated the effort at 200.

A quartette finished with 99. They were: Corp. H. D. Whitehead of Toronto, P. A. Pavey of the Australian Bisley team, Sergt. N. L. Beckett of Hamilton, and Capt. D. MacRae of Montreal.

Corp. Whitehead appeared headed for a double possible, but he went wide with his eighth shot at 200 yards, and scored an inner.

Routcliffe's Filly Wins At Connaught

OTTAWA, Aug 10 (CP).—Mrs. A. Routcliffe's filly, Blue Gum, stepped the fastest six furlongs of the Connaught Park race meeting to win the Seignory $400 purse, feature event on yesterday's program. Blue Gum's time was 1:14.

Ridden by jockey Albert Harris, the filly went to the front in the first few yards, held her lead and won by two length from Chanchit. Sugar Jar was third. The favorite, Colored Artist, was sixth.

Third choice in the betting, Blue Gum paid $10.10 to win, $6.90 to place and $5.00 to show.

Ex-Champ Laces Farr's Gloves

We do not know if Tommy Farr's ancestors (away back) ever rode to battle in tin suits, followed by a squire bearing their arms and spare tin-plating, but it's a cinch that none of them ever had his gauntlet's buckled on by an ex-champ. Tommy has come a long way in the fight game and as he trains to meet Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship, finds Jim Braddock, who lost his world's boxing crown to the dusky dynamiter, lacing on his gloves. Jim visited the challenger's camp at Long Beach, N.J., to give him some pointers about the champ's style.

Vancouver Fighter Confident of Win

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (C.P.). — Gordon Wallace, Vancouver's former Canadian welterweight champion, and Tommy Bland of Toronto expressed confidence to-day in their ability to knock each other out when they meet in Maple Leaf Stadium here to-night.

Wallace, outpointed recently in a title match with Frankie Genovese of Toronto, present titleholders, ruled a 7 to 5 favorite in the betting. Both fighters said they were in excellent condition for the outdoor bout, billed for 12 rounds.

In the semi-final match, George Pace, Cleveland, meets Frankie Marin of Montreal. The bout is schduled to go eight rounds.

GREYHOUND AFTER NEW MILE RECORD

America's Premier Trotter Will Assault Former Mark of Peter Manning.

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Greyhound, the big five-year-old gelding, who has been America's premier trotter since he burst into fame as a two-year-old, will bid for further glory today when he assaults the mile record of 1:56¾ set by the legendary Peter Manning in 1922.

The son of Guy Abbey out of Elizabeth by Peter the Great will be running in a familiar atmosphere. The track will be the Good Time track, the scene Goshen and the crowd, the combination of shirt-sleeved farmers that has cheered him in a score of other efforts.

For a day at least Greyhound will divert the crowd's attention from Wednesday's 12th running of the Hambletonian stakes, main event of the week of Grand Circuit racing, at Goshen. As a three-year-old Greyhound won the Hambletonian with Sep Palin as his driver.

Greyhound will be paced by a running horse in today's attempt. The silver gelding cost his owner, E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., only $900 when he bought him in 1933 from Henry Knight. He won seven races and 14 heats as a two-year-old to bring in $5,392.36 in purses.

As a three-year-old he trotted his 2:00 mile, won the Hambletonian and Champion Stallion Stakes, earned $26,712.62 for the Lucky Baker and established himself as one of the greatest trotters in the history of the sport.

TORONTO PROVES GOOD 'MUDDERS'

Bots Nekola Spaces Eight Hits For 7-2 Victory Over Giants.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Aug. 10.—Rain, in the fourth inning, here yesterday almost upset the applecart for the Toronto Maple Leafs, but it ceased after a playing lapse of 47 minutes, and the Howley men went on to record a 7-to-2 victory in the opening game of their three-game set with the Jersey City Giants.

For a time it appeared as if the four-run advantage the Leafs had gained at Lea Mangum's expense in the opening inning of the contest would be washed out. Rain started so fall in the third inning, but it wasn't until after the Jersey's completed their turn at bat in the fourth that Umpire Lou Jorda deemed it necessary to halt play.

The rainstorm fairly heavy while it lasted, let up for about 30 minutes, but another quarter hour passed before the infield was put in shape for use.

Mangum payed the way for the setback he suffered when he passed Madura in the initial inning. Gensenbein followed with a sacrifice. Then Oliver singled, putting Madura on third, and Mangum passed Petoskey to fill the bases. After Connormsky had fouled to Weintraub, Ross lined a double to right centre, and all three Leafs on the basis crossed the plate. When Walsh tripled down right-field foul line the fourth Toronto run of the inning scored, and Mangum departed.

Famous Seabiscuit Needs One More Win

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—(AP)—C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit, winner of the Massachusetts Handicap despite an impost of 130 pounds, needs to capture only one more rich stake to enter the select circle of the United States turf's $300,000 winners.

During three years of racing, Seabiscuit has won $182,535. The only horse in training that has larger earnings is A. A. Baroni's Top Row, with $213,450.

Other winners of large amounts still in training are William Dupont, Jr.'s, Rosemont, $168,750; Fred Alger, Jr.'s, Azucar, $159,725, and Samuel Riddle's, War Admiral, $150,420.

SYRACUSE GAINS ONE FULL GAME ON THE ROYALS

But Newark Dampens Race By Keeping Margin of 25 Full Games.

REDWINGS LOSE 6-0.

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (C.P.)—The "ready-made" pitching staff loaned to Syracuse Chiefs by Cincinnati Reds may yet pitch the Syracusans into second place, in the futile International Baseball League race.

Johnny Vandermeer shut out Rochester Red Wings 6-0 for the Chiefs last night and the club gained a full game on the second-place Montreal Royals. All this would be pretty exciting were it not for the fact that Newark Bears, in walloping the Royals 11-1, kept their league lead at 25 full games.

Vandermeer On Top.

Vandermeer struck out seven Wings and walked only three, all in the eighth inning. It was one of his best efforts of the season. The Chiefs, who had been scoreless for 20 innings prior to the game, helped him out by scoring three runs in the fifth and as many more in the sixth.

Still pounding the ball around their bandbox ball park, Baltimore Orioles slammed out a 12-3 verdict over Buffalo Bisons. Smoky Joe Martin hit his fourth homer in two days. Ab Wright added No. 51. Les Powers also hit for the circuit in the game.

The Bears' victory was a model of efficiency. With Joe Beggs hurling four-hit ball the Newarkers ganged Lauri Myllykangas and Jim Pattison for eight runs in the third, an inning featured by Joe Gordon's home run with three on base.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES
By Alex Morrison

Number 59

After playing in the Open at Detroit, my brother Fred came on to New York for a visit. We played over several courses in the metropolitan area. Among other sound points about his game I noticed an excellent putting line-up. It is so good and works so well that I am recommending it to all of my pupils.

It is quite simple. Just stand with your arms close to your body and your right elbow snug against your right leg. Let it rest on the upper part of the leg and make it a point to keep it there as you take the clubhead back from the ball. By so doing you simply bend the wrists to make the backswing and then let both hands and the club follow right along the line to the hole as you swing forward. In this way the clubhead is kept in the line of play at all times.

The main fault in most putting strokes is to be found in the arc followed by the clubhead. With arms away from the body and the hands rolling first one way and then the other it is almost impossible to keep it in the right groove.

Let me repeat, keep the right elbow resting on the right leg during the backswing and then follow through toward the hole with both hands and the club in the forward swing.

RECOVERED 61 BODIES

FREDERICTON—(CP)—During the last 50 years Charles Fleet, Fredericton, veteran river man, has recovered 61 bodies from the St. John River, Miramichi River and Grand Lake. The grim, unselfish service without reward "just seemed to come to me," says Fleet, who is 65.

RESCUED FROM BEAR

FISHER BRANCH, Man.—(CP).—Julien LeTessier and his daughter, Therese, sought to frighten off a brown bear by setting fire to a straw-hat, but Julien's lighter wouldn't work. Their cries brought other berry-pickers to the rescue, and Bruin was frightened off.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. William Devlin of Ennismore announce the engagement of their only daughter Loretta Mary, to Leo Edward Murphy, son of Mrs. Annie Murphy and the late John Murphy, 57 Park Hill Road. Wedding to take place the early part of September.

DIED

EDGAR, Mrs. Thomas.—At Nicholls Hospital, Saturday, August 7, Mrs. Thomas Edgar (nee Martha Brown). Funeral was held on Tuesday, August 10, from home of her brother, David Brown, Lot 30, Concession 5, Dummer, at 2.30 (D.S.T.).

IN MEMORIAM

WELLS.—In loving memory of Mr. William T. Wells, who passed away four years ago to-day.

His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the Better Land,
Never to part again.

—Ever remembered by Mrs. William T. Wells and Family, Prince Street.

FORSYTHE.—In loving memory of Douglas Forsythe, who passed away August 10, 1936.

Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.

—Ever remembered by Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

BROWN.—In loving memory of my dear Husband, W. F. Brown, 191 Dublin Street, who passed away seven years ago, August 10, 1930.

Never a day but I need you,
Never an hour but I see
The wonderful depth of your loving,
And what it has meant to me.
Never a day but I'm learning
How precious you were and how true,
And how much of God went in making
The heart of a husband like you.

—Sadly missed and always remembered by his Wife, Emma, and Son, Lynn.

CHAPMAN.—In fond memory of our dear Father, Henry Chapman, who passed away August 10, 1933.

And while he sleeps in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

—Sadly missed by Wife and Family.

WELLS.—In fond remembrance of a dear friend, William T. Wells, who departed this life August 10, 1933.

We do not forget you, nor do we intend,
We think of you often, and will to the end;
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Cairns and Family.

TOURISTS POURING TO LINDSAY AREA

Resort Owners Plan Big Additions to Their Establishments Next Year.

LINDSAY, August 10.—The influx of tourists to the different lake resorts has, to date, reached a new peak, according to statements from the proprietors of the different retreats. Although the summer is nearly spent, the tourists keep pouring in with the result that many of the lake resorts have been unable to provide accommodation. "It looks very much as if I will have to add big extensions next summer," said the manager of a well-known resort to The Examiner to-day. "My resort could take care of three times the number registered at present if I had the accommodation." Reports of similar nature have been received from practically all the leading resorts, and it looks as if carpenters will have a busy time next spring.

P. C. Cox, bandmaster of the Queen's Own Rangers' Band, Toronto, has been engaged as bandmaster of the local Boys' Band. He comes to Lindsay highly recommended as a versatile musician.

A pioneer resident of this section was borne to the grave in Lindsay on the week-end in the person of the late Patrick Murphy. The deceased, who was in his 89th year, was born in Ops Townahip and retired from farming about 28 years ago. He was a well-known member of St. Mary's Church, and is survived by three sons, five daughters, and one brother.

Mrs. A. Spinks of Nestleton, while leaving the Ladies' Aid meeting in the United Church on the week-end, fell down the cement steps, sustaining serious body bruises and a bad shaking up. Her condition was such that she required medical attention as well as the services of a nurse when removed to her home.

After killing a leopard with a scythe near Nagpur, India a peasant was found unconscious not far from the body of the beast.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to be a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. Mary, working late, is accused of copying a design in Castle's shop and is dismissed by Francine Long, his head buyer.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 4

Mary Barrett stood her ground silently until she could control the trembling that shook her as the accusation "spy" penetrated. Stubbornly she clung to the sleeve of the gown that Francine Long was trying to pull away from her.

It was a rather ridiculous scene; the two women pulling at the cloth as though they were children struggling over a toy. Except that it wasn't ridiculous because the issue was too great.

At last Mary relinquished it and her head came up proudly. She said, "But I . . ."

"You're fired! We'll send you your money . . ."

"Who's fired? And for what reason?" Tony Castle asked from the door.

Mary didn't move. Francine whirled toward the door.

"Tony, this should teach you a lesson! Fortunately I caught this girl making a copy of the Boucher gown," Francine's voice answered coldly.

"I was making a pattern to study the cut of the sleeve," Mary said with as much dignity as she could command. "That's all."

She unbottoned her smock, slipped her arms out of it, placed it neatly over the back of a chair and, with her head up, marched past Tony and Mrs. Long.

She went into the locker room and put on her hat, picked up her gloves and pocketbook.

She gave no backward, regretful glance to the empty workroom that had become the center of her world as she marched proudly, and angrily past it and out the passageway to the employes' entrance.

Tony Castle was waiting for her there.

"Hotheaded, aren't you?" he said, falling into step with her.

She didn't answer.

When she made to swing off in her direction he blocked her path, taking her arm. "Temperamental?"

Still she didn't answer; she couldn't. Realization of the enormity of her failure was beginning to cool off her quick anger.

Tony's roadster stood at the curb. The pressure of his hand on her arm propelled her towards it. "Get in," he commanded. "You need some cool air and fatherly advice. Both of which you'll get."

She got in.

Tony began to talk pleasantly as the car swung into Fifth avenue and he turned into Central park. The proportions of Mary's ego diminished as he talked and she wished that she could tell him what she could not—that she was thoroughly penitent. For Tony said nice things to her, not the harsh ones she had expected. He said nice things about understanding her ambition, about her will to succeed and his faith in her. Then he pointed out in a kindly way that, while Francine had been cruel and hasty, she acted on a right impule. It was her loyalty to the shop and quite a natural conclusion for her to form. Mary must forget it, he said.

"You don't understand," Mary said. "I just can't go back."

"Quitting? The first blow swamps you?"

Her eyes pleaded with him but she couldn't say what she meant to say. "How can I?" she asked in a small voice.

He smiled. "I knew you weren't a quitter!"

Mary felt then that no matter what happened to her, it would be all right.

"I'll tell you how you can come back: I'm going to offer you another job. It won't be designing but it will be in a spot where you can learn a lot of things you ought to know about what the public responds to. Our advertising artist and layout woman is leaving to go to an agency job and I need an artist. You've got precisely the style I want. Will you do it?"

Mary sat humbled, silent, happy. All she could do was to smile gratefully and nod her head.

"Good! Before I finish with this fatherly advice, I want to tell you something you should remember. You are young and untried and impulsive. You do not use your head in a crisis. You're all mixed up and ruled by your emotions which are never, even at best, dependable in any woman. You jump to conclusions without trying to see the other fellow's point of view. Watch that impulsiveness of yours, my dear child, otherwise it will get you into trouble."

"I'll try," she said humbly.

If only she had remembered, the course of her life and happiness would have been different.

Back on Fifth avenue, she told him to turn east.

"It's one of these houses, isn't it?" he asked a few minutes later. They had turned into East Fifty-fifth street near the river.

"The last one."

Tony got out and opened the door for her. Getting out, Mary wrestled with a social problem: Was it correct to ask one's employer in?

They stood there for a few minutes. From a hundred miles away fanciful spring brought some fragrant perfume of the country to a crowded city street. On a street corner, a hurdy-gurdy ground out "The Blue Danube Waltz."

A street urchin misdirected a mumbledy peg. It struck Tony Castle on his immaculately-clad ankle, and was followed by the urchin himself recovering his toy. It happened so quickly—this small hurricane—that Mary and Tony found themselves laughing.

Mary said, "I'm going to make myself some coffee. Would you like to join me?"

"I'd like to." He really would too. Mary knew that at once.

Her apartment—one room, kitchenette and bath—was small, simple and inexpensive, but it had charm. There were good prints on the walls and books worth reading on the shelves that flanked the infinitesimal hearth. There was an alabaster bowl filled with lilacs on the low table beside the lounge that was her bed by night. There were two large, comfortable chairs, a secretary desk and the raised platform on which her drawing board rested.

Busy with percolator, tray and cups in her kitchenette, Mary saw Tony out of the corner of her eye as he studied the sketches on her drawing board. She sighed because this was not the time to ask him how he liked them.

He was still bent over them, a frown between his fine eyes, when she came back with the tray. She put it down on the low table and went to where he was standing. There was a mute question in her eyes.

He regarded her solemnly. Then he swept the array of water colors with a dismissing gesture.

"No like?"

"Of course," he said. "But, you know . . . I have a feeling that you have strength and strength requires oils. You ought to work in oils."

Mary wasn't thinking of him as her employer then. She was reading a longing in his voice. He was a fellow artist. Frustrated, thwarted by something she didn't know. Boldly she said, "It's you who ought to!"

When he didn't answer other than to shrug his shoulders, she added: "How do you think you can run away from a pull like that?"

He sighed and turned her fingers back. "That pull was part of yesterday."

As though it were terribly important, Mary said, "Yesterday? But what about the endless tomorrows? What happened yesterday that could be as important as what happens tomorrow? Don't you want to paint?"

Tony said, "I'll see that you get some oils. May I bring them over to you?"

April trailed her gossamer veils into that room then and laid them against Mary Barrett's eyes.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S COUSIN

(By Howard R. Garis)

"Bing!"

"Ouch!"

The first noise was when something hit Uncle Wiggily on his pink, twinkling nose.

The second noise was when he cried out and asked:

"Who did that?"

"Oh, if you please, Unkie Wig," said Baby Bunty, "excuse me. I didn't mean to do it."

"I am quite sure you didn't," agreed the rabbit gentleman. "But what did you hit my nose with?" asked Mr. Longears as he rubbed it.

"I was practicing shooting more of the little white stones through my dandelion stem," said the orphan rabbit. "I thought I'd better practice 'cause I didn't do so well yesterday when we fought the Fox and Bob Cat at the music party."

"Well, we drove the Bad Chaps away," chuckled Mr. Longears. "But were you using my pink nose as a target to practice on?"

"Oh, no, Unkie Wig," said Baby Bunty. "I was shooting at a leaf over your head. But I guess I didn't aim straight."

"There is no 'guessing' about it, Bunty," laughed Mr. Longears. "You didn't aim at all straight. I wish you would blow stones through a dandelion stem somewhere else."

"I will," said the orphan rabbit. "I just came here to tell you that Fluffy is coming to visit at your camp."

"Who is Fluffy?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh," said Bunty with a laugh, "Fluffy is a white poodle dog cousin to Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow. They told me he was coming today. He's a very funny dog, is Fluffy. He has so much hair on him Jackie says he looks like part of a rug waltzing along."

"Fluffy must be a jolly little chap," said Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I shall be glad to have him visit my camp. Now you hop along, Baby Bunty and practice shooting some other place."

"I will," promised the orphan rabbit, and when she was gone Uncle Wiggily went to sleep on a bench beneath a tree not far from his camping tent where he was spending the Summer.

It was still and quiet in the camping woods near Blue Lake. Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears had gone to gather berries. The animal children were playing and Uncle Wiggily was alone.

All of a sudden he was awakened by feeling something tickle his pink nose. He looked up suddenly thinking Baby Bunty was teasing him but he saw the Wolf standing in front of the bench.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bad Chap, "I thought I'd wake you up before I nibbled you so I tickled your nose. Ha! Ha! Ha!"

Uncle Wiggily didn't laugh. He looked sadly at the Wolf, who said: "Why don't you sit on that soft white cushion?"

"What soft, white cushion?" asked Mr. Longears in surprise.

"There beside you," said the Wolf, pointing. "Well, I'll sit on it while I nibble you." Uncle Wiggily saw on the bench beside him what, at first, seemed to be a fuzzy white cushion. But when the Wolf was about to sit on it that cushion suddenly jumped up with a growl.

"Don't you call me a cushion!" barked Fluffy the white poodle, for he it was. "I came here to visit Uncle Wiggily. I curled up on the bench beside him to wait for him to wake up. Burr-r-r-r!" Me a cushion? The idea! Just for that I'll bite you!" So Fluffy bit the Wolf who ran away howling and my goodness! How Uncle Wiggily laughed.

So if the jelly doesn't slide off the slice of bread and try to make a home run. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's crab apples.

AFTER FISH MARKET.

TOKYO.—Japan to-day instituted a five-year plan for the control and extension of Japanese fisheries on a world-wide basis, including all of the Island Empire's marine products organizations.

The plan provides that fisheries trade commission be sent to Canada, the United States, Great Britain, Germany, South America and South Africa to develop foreign markets.

Modern homes are being condemned in England as being too small.

MANNERS EXPERT STRONGLY URGES ROAD COURTESY

Mrs. Emily Post Says Lack of It Often Ends in Manslaughter.

GIVES LIST OF DON'TS.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Emily Post, foremost authority in America on manners, has finally directed her attention to the manners of motorists and courtesy on the highways.

In the latest edition of her famous volume "Etiquette," Mrs. Post has included a chapter on "Manners For Motorists," and her findings and comments closely parallel those emphasized by the "Try Courtesy" campaign being conducted by the Ontario Highways Department.

Mrs. Post addresses her remarks not to "really great drivers or very good ones, who are fully aware of their own expertness, but to the tens of thousands who in ever-increasing numbers swarm out upon the streets and highways to have their lives saved time and again (though they don't know it) by the experts who step in between the Grim Reaper and the bad driver.

Why Not More Accidents.

"And if we seriously think of the power," says Mrs. Post, "in all of these machines running loose on the highways and realize that no examination in driving courtesy is required of one applying for a license, the wonder is not that there are accidents, but that there are so few."

The type of driver, writes Mrs. Post, who ought to be given a "nice long time to think it over in jail" is the one who, when the road is crowded, pulls out of a solid line of cars to "jockey" or steal his way forward.

Makes Frantic Effort.

"Finding himself in sudden danger of a head-oh collision, he makes a frantic effort to push his way back into the line he has left — possibly forcing some one off the side of the road, or at least marring fenders. Or perhaps the newspapers carry one more story of a fatal motor crash — caused by the bad manners of a driver who shoves to get ahead, or tries to beat the lights, or crowds another off the road, never considering anybody's rights but his own."

In contrast to the dangerous speeding driver, Mrs. Post next examines what she terms the "annoying snail" type of driver — "long known by other unflattering sobriquets because of his insistence upon crawling along in the centre of the road.

"Behind him horns can blow and another car nose up to the left of him. He does not budge an inch. Or if he does, beware of his pet trick of swerving a little to the right and then back to the centre of the road, or suddenly increasing his speed to prevent the car behind from passing."

Although practically all cars are now equipped with stop-lights, she points out, drivers should remember that the light does not go on until the brakes are applied; therefore a hand signal should be given the moment the driver knows he intends to apply the brakes.

Mrs. Post includes a list of driving "don'ts" for city and country motoring:

Only Annoying.

Don't blow your horn unnecessarily in a traffic line when it can do no good and is merely annoying to others.

Don't rush traffic lights or disregard "stop" signs—remember discourtesy to pedestrians can easily turn out to be manslaughter.

Don't turn around and call an obstinate driver names after you finally pass him. It really doesn't teach him anything or do you any good—and may easily end in an accident.

Don't almost run over some one who is trying to signal a bus or street-car. A little courtesy requires only a few seconds of time, and may easily prevent a serious accident or fatality.

WESTWOOD

Friends of Mrs. Hugh Cameron, who underwent a serious operation recently, will be pleased to know she is recuperating at her home.

Miss Ruby Horwood of Toronto is holidaying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dickson.

The members of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society held their August meeting on Wednesday afternoon in Wesley Hall with a fair attendance. The devotional period was conducted by the president, Mrs. E. W. Sargent, assisted by Miss Jessie Davidson, Mrs. J. Clysdale and Miss Mary Cameron.

A letter of appreciation, for a basket of fruit, from a sick member was read. After a business discussion, Mrs. J. Sargent gave a reading, "By My Window at Twilight" and Mesdames D. Brackenridge and E. Sargent rendered a vocal duet. Two interesting chapters of the study book were read, after which a hymn and prayer by Mrs. John Hope brought the meeting to a close.

MILLBROOK

JUNIOR SOCIETY IS HOSTESS TO W.M.S.

Three Quilts Are Completed For the Sale by the Millbrook Society.

MILLBROOK, Aug. 10. — The Junior W.M.S. of Grace Presbyterian church was hostess to the Senior Society on Friday afternoon, in the church parlors, when the layette, including also dolls, and doll clothing, and other dainty articles, which represented the girls' work for the past year, and which is their contribution toward the annual bale, was on display.

The members of the senior society, with some help from the juniors, completed three quilts for the bale which this year is shipped to Peterborough, where it will be re-packed with others sent to the same point, and then go on to the chosen points on the mission fields.

Much interest was shown in the articles, attractively laid out on a long table and catching the attention once guests entered the door. During the quilting, piano solos were contributed by Miss Mary Eakins, and at five o'clock the juniors served tea, when a social hour was enjoyed. Those assisting with the service were the president, Miss Ada Peers, the leader, Miss Agnes Johnston, the Misses Mary Eakins, Laureen Handley, Helen Ellsworth and Ruth Thorndyke.

An offering was received following the tea, and the quilts were much admired, each of the three being different in design, and coloring: one being blue and gold; another mauve and white; with the third gold, mauve and green; they were the product of the juniors' clever fingers and will find a place in the bale.

The senior Auxiliary decided not to hold its regular meeting until September, but will gather at the church on August 18 for a quilting when the juniors' contribution will again be on display.

Weiner Roast Held On East Emily Farm

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ORANGE CORNERS, Aug. 10. — The local softball squad sponsored an enjoyable weiner roast following a friendly game with Central Smith boys on Friday evening, the score being 8-5 in favor of the latter and played on the local diamond on the farm of Walter Magee. Jack Mitchell and Walter Magee took over the duties of umpiring and the teams were:

Orange Corners — G. Fee, c; M. Fee, p; N. McBain, 1b; L. McConnell, 2b; L. Fraley, 3b; S. McCall, ss; J. Latchford, lf; F. Eggleston, cf; N. McConnell, rf.

Central Smith — N. Bell, p; D. Paul, c; F. Irwin, 1b; S. Darling, 2b; D. Ackerman, 3b; J. Moore, ss; Westlake, rf; D. Moore, cf; K. Pife, lf.

After everyone had filled up on weiners, round and square dancing was enjoyed on Mr. Magee's lawn for a time. On behalf of the ball team, Norman McBain moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Magee and Miss Mildred for their kindness in loaning their spacious grounds for the evening. Proceeds of the entertainment amounted to about twenty dollars.

Miss Marguerite Roche has returned home from Toronto, having completed her six weeks at the Summer School classes at the Jarvis Street Collegiate.

BELIEVES CANADA COULD HAVE SAVED EDWARD'S THRONE

Rev. Jardine Takes Rap at Toronto, Americans and Canadians in General.

IN DETROIT LECTURE.

DETROIT, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Canada could have "saved the throne" for Edward VIII, according to Rev. Robert Jardine, clergyman who married the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

Mr. Jardine, now lecturing in the United States, coupled this pronouncement with a statement that cancellation of his proposed Toronto lecture didn't surprise him because he understood Toronto is "a stuffy little city of very dull people."

Mr. Jardine proferred his definition of the word "cad," his application of which to the Archbishop of Canterbury caused the Toronto cancellation.

He said: "A cad is a man who forgets he is a gentleman. It is a term used only in highest society and not understood by the middle and lower class, so I would not expect Canadians and Americans to be familiar with it."

"When Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin sounded out the reaction of British Dominion premiers on the possibility of having the then Mrs. Simpson as queen, Canada could have saved the throne for King Edward," Mr. Jardine said. He contended Great Britain is so concerned over "Americanization" of Canada that the government would have bowed had Prime Minister Mackenzie King cabled a Dominion acceptance of Mrs. Simpson as queen.

"Tide of public opinion was fast flowing against the king-breakers at that time and a word from Canada would have won the day for Edward. Baldwin would have disregarded the Archbishop of Canterbury and turned a deaf ear to the money-pesta who hated the king's free and easy democratic spirit and his concern over distress in the Welsh coal fields."

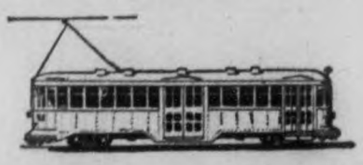
STRANGE BUTTERFLIES!



Are the Brewers sincere?

Overheard in a street car

1st Passenger: Do you think the brewers are sincere in this propaganda for temperance?

2nd Passenger: I don't see why not. Look at the facts. The professional prohibitionists claim to represent temperance in this province. For them it is just as wicked to drink a glass of beer as to make a beast of oneself. The brewers want to point out that true temperance consists in being able to distinguish between the two.

1st Passenger: Just the same, the brewers are not in business for their health!

2nd Passenger: Oh, granted! Neither are the butchers, the bakers, the candy makers, the tobacconists!

1st Passenger: But surely there is a difference. Beer—if it is taken in excess—is not so good.

2nd Passenger: And that is true of all the other trades I mentioned ::: as Health Commissioner Lt. Colonel Francis E. Fronzak testified before a United States Senate committee, more people die from over eating than from over drinking!

1st Passenger: And you believe that the brewers are sincerely opposed to drunkenness.

2nd Passenger: Absolutely! Aren't they urging the temperance people to get back to their real jobs of temperance education! The real temperance job is to show people—and especially young people—that it is not drink itself that is wicked, but the way drink is used!

1st Passenger: In other words, the problem is the drinker, not the drink, eh?

This advertisement is inserted by the Brewing Industry in the interest of a better public understanding of certain aspects of the problems of temperance and local option.

PEACEFUL ENTRY MADE INTO TEXTILE PLANTS

Cornwall and Quebec Strikers Take Case To Ottawa

Ask Federal Probe Oppose Provincial As Firm Proposes

Leaders Consider Standardization of Collective Labor Agreement Demands.

Mr. Laverty said there was no change in the strike situation at the Cornwall plant of Canadian Cottons, Ltd. The strikers still favor a federal investigation by a board of conciliation as suggested by Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, while the company prefers an investigation by the Ontario Labor and Industries Board.

After conferring with W. M. Dickson, deputy minister of labor, Mr. Charpentier and other members of a delegation from 10,000 striking employees of the Dominion Textile Company decided to lay certain proposals before Hon. J. C. Elliott, Acting Minister of Labor, and Hon. Ernest Lapoint, Minister of Justice.

Combined Pressure?

Charpentier said he and Laverty would explore possibility of combined pressure against the companies, standardization of collective labor agreement demands, and co-ordinated dealing with the Federal Government.

Meanwhile, smokeless chimneys told of inactivity in Quebec's nine Dominion Textile Company and subsidiary plants. A lull was reported in violence that yesterday brought police reserves to the Montreal St. Henri plant, but heavy cordons of officers kept guard over streets leading to the mill as authorities feared trouble might break anew.

In yesterday's disturbances a foreman and a clerk with a crippled foot were assaulted by a gang company officials charged comprised "bruisers and bouncers" brought in by strikers to prevent shipments from the plant. Police intervention was needed to restore order.

PLANE INSPECTION SAID "TOO LOOSE"

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (C.P.).—Government regulations for yearly inspection of aircraft were "too loose," Coroner Dr. J. P. F. Williams said last night after a verdict had been returned that Ray J. Lynch, killed in an airplane crash on July 24 met accidental death.

"I suggest you add a rider to this verdict," Dr. Williams said after receiving the jury's report. "I see you have not done so. The rider I had in mind had to do with the yearly inspection given airplanes by the Government.

"Evidence given here has shown that Government inspectors do not inspect the airplanes, but take certificates from engineers at the field as to the airworthiness of the craft.

"I should think the Government should inspect the airplanes themselves and also check up on the qualifications of the engineers who have charge of the airplanes. The present regulations of the Government are entirely too loose," he said.

BRITAIN PLANNING EXPEL MORE NAZIS

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(AP).—Great Britain was reported to-day by the Daily Herald to be considering expulsion of more Nazis in addition to three German correspondents already ordered to leav the country.

The three newspapermen were expelled, The Herald said, because they headed a Nazi organization that worked under control of the German Foreign Office. Daily information was sent to Berlin, the paper asserted of social and political activities of friends of Germans living in England.

Two of the German correspondents, Franz Otto Wrede and Wolf Dietrich Langen, were employes of a German news agency specializing in news of Germans abroad. They have already left London. The third, Werner Von Grome, correspondent of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, planned to leave by this week-end.

"It is understood," the Herald said, 'that the principal count against Langen was that he intimated his fellow countrymen to use them as informers."

An estimated 500 Nazis were said to be operating in Great Britain where some 30,000 Germans, including refugees, are resident.

The three correspondents were refused permission to stay in England by the Home Office, which would not renew the labor permits necessary for foreigners to work in England. The Herald asserted they had established their Nazi group with headquarters in the Bayswater district of London.

FINDS 90 YEAR BEAR TRAP

GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 11—(CP)—A relic of the days when bears roamed the district, an ancient home-made bear trap has been found. The trap, iron-jawed and strongly-sprung, is probably 90 years old.

Bolt Strikes Tree Kills Four Sisters

Creedmoor, N.C., Aug. 11 (UP).

FOUR sisters working in a tobacco field on their father's farm here were killed by lightning late yesterday.

The girls, daughters of Edgar Hesler, were: Marice, 25-year-old school teacher, spending the summer at her parents' home; Vivian, student at a business school in Raleigh, also home for vacation; Mary, 16; and Edith, 14.

The sisters were "stringing tobacco" beneath a tree when the bolt struck, about 4 p.m. Their father, an uncle and a neighbor working near by were uninjured.

EXPECT HEPBURN START ELECTION FIGHT THURSDAY

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (CP).—Expected announcement of the date for the Ontario Provincial election when Premier Hepburn addresses his own Elgin constituents Thursday will start one of the province's hardest election fights.

Liberals will contest all but one of the 90 constituencies while Conservatives are expected to enter the ballot battle in all the ridings. C.C.F. candidates, who contested 50 ridings in the 1934 election, will enter more this year, Provincial headquarters said.

First nomination meetings for the Liberal Party will be held Thursday. Premier Hepburn has announced he will again contest his home constituency, while at Windsor David A. Croll, former Minister of Welfare-Labor in Mr. Hepburn's Cabinet, and present Legislature member for Windsor - Walkerville, seeks renomination.

Conservatives have about 15 candidates already nominated with more conventions scheduled for this month. C.C.F. candidates have been nominated in several ridings and more conventions will be held shortly, headquarters said.

Oliver Is Unopposed.

Farquhar Oliver, only United Farmers of Ontario member of the Legislature, is also the only non-Liberal who will not be opposed. Harry Johnson, organizer of the Ontario Liberal Party, said today. Mr. Oliver and Samuel Lawrence (C.C.F., Hamilton East) were the only non-Liberals unopposed by Liberals in the 1934 election.

The Windsor and St. Thomas meetings tomorrow night are the first nomination meetings by Liberals, but others are planned for this week and next. Premier Hepburn will address the Oakville picnic Saturday, for Thomas Blakelock, M.L.A. for Halton, and will address the Kent County Liberal gathering at Rondeau Park Friday. He has several engagements to address Liberal nomination meetings next week. No speaking engagements are announced yet for Liberal Cabinet Ministers.

Conservatives have seven conventions set for August with party stalwarts as chief speakers. Hon. J. Earl Lawson, M.P., will address two meetings, the first at Cornwall August 11, for the Stormount convention, and the second August 20 at Picton, when he speaks at the Prince Edward-Lennox meeting.

Hon. W. A. Gordon, former Federal Cabinet Minister, will speak at Burn's Falls, August 16, and the Farmers' Hogs Bringing More Than They Have Since 1930

Fewer On Market Than Year Ago—Price Triples Low of '33.

TORONTO, Aug. 11. — (CP).—Farmers are receiving higher prices on the Toronto market for prime hogs than at any time in seven years, a comparison of livestock figures showed to-day.

Last week Ontario farmers received more money for selling fewer hogs on this market than they received for the same week a year ago.

For the week ending Aug. 5 farmers sold Toronto packers 50,091 hogs at an average price of $10.84 a hundred pounds. During the corresponding week a year ago they sold 57,646 hogs at an average price of $9.60.

The increase in hog prices is due partly to the hog scarcity caused in United States by drought and corn shortage there last year, and partly to the partial failure of the grain crop in Ontario last year resulting in higher feed prices last winter.

Prime hogs sold to-day on Toronto markets at $11.25 a hundred pounds, a price more than $2 lower than the average for Feb. 1936 of $13.75. But to-day's price is almost exactly three times the all-time low averaged during the depression.

Soviet Polar Camp Drifts Off 176 Miles

Soviet North Pole Camp (By wireless to Moscow, Aug. 11 (CP).

SOVIET Russia's polar campers found today that their ice floe had sailed a zig zag course of 176 miles since May under the influence of wind, the ocean current, and the rotation of the earth.

The moving floe on which they are camped has drifted steadily downward from the Pole in the general direction of Iceland.

With the temperature hovering at 28.4 degrees Fahrenheit, a light snow fell from overcast skies.

DOCK WORKERS RETURN.

OWE NSOUND, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—Dock workers returned to work unloading sugar at 40 cents an hour to-day on the condition that two leaders in their two-hour strike for 50 cents an hour be discharged.

The 50 men had been working for an hour unloading the sugar from the steamer Saskatoon for an Owen Sound dealer when they struck for a higher rate. Several men continued working although jeered by others, but there was no violence.

After the two leaders were discharged, the men returned to work.

His Smile Went a Long Way

Bernard Glaum spectator of the clash between police and strikers at Bonner-Worth Mill nurses a head injury he alleges was caused by a police baton. Norman Haigh, striking textile worker has no visible injury but he claims he also was struck in the melee. The smile worn by Constable Jack Deannard in the centre picture, was credited with having gone a long way in maintaining order as workers left the Bonner plant Tuesday evening to run the gauntlet of jeering pickets. Alice Moore, is pictured holding the remnants of a tear gas bomb that was fired by police at McDonnel and Park streets last evening to disperse the large crowd that had gathered, and Bertha Livingstone is seen looking at it with apparent disapproval. REBEL ARTILLERY SHELLS OWN CITY TO QUELL REVOLT

MADRID, Aug. 11—(AP).—Spanish Government sources reported today General Fronco's artillery had shelled his own city of Segovia to put down a revolt in the insurgent ranks. The rebellion was said to be spreading throughout insurgent territory.

Government observation posts reported a brisk conflict was going on in the city 43 miles northwest of Madrid. The crackle of machine-gun and rifle fire within Segovia, the observers reported could be heard plainly from the nearby government lines. Insurgent artillery batteries were said to have opened fire on their own stronghold from Quita Pesares.

Reports from far to the south said that revolt was widespread in the neighborhood of the city of Granada and that Franco's troops, rebelling against his regime, had used rifles and machine guns in an attack on the city.

Then, these reports said, the revolting insurgents attacked the position held by their former comrades in the vicinity.

Italian Officers Slain.

The Valencia Defence Ministry said three Italian officers had been slain in street fighting between Spanish insurgents and their volunteer foreign allies at Malaga on the southern coast.

Thirty Spanish officers were said to have been arrested as a result of Twenty Jap Warcraft Crowd Shanghai Harbor

Plane Carriers Lie Outside While Marines Strengthen Garrison.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11 — (AP), — Japan choked Shanghai's Whangpoo River with a score of war ships, scattered others to the mouth of the Yangtze and sent between 500 and 1,000 bluejackets into this city in the newest Sino-Japanese crisis to-night.

Two aircraft carriers, said unconfirmed reports, were waiting beyond the Woosung Forts, which lie at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze.

Japanese naval authorities said events that were brought to a head by the Hungjao airport slaying of a Japanese naval commander and his driver "mean that Japan's navy in China must be increased!"

Foreign port authorities tallied 20 Japanese men o'war—16 destroyers and five light cruisers—jammed along the Shanghai waterfront.

The Japanese were tight-lipped about the report that the airplane carriers, with their broods of warbirds tucked safely aboard, were also somewhere off Woosung.

They acknowledged the Japanese garrison here had been reinforced by 500 bluejackets from the new ships. Other sources said these totalled 1,000.

The ships which arrived at Shanghai today were said to have steamed under forced draft at a speed of 35 knots from the Japanese naval base on Kyushu Island, one of the main islands of Japan.

Driver Is Killed Car Hits Truck

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP).—Frank Bates, 21, of St. Thomas, was fatally injured early today when the car he was driving collided with a truck on No. 4 highway at Scottsville. He died while being taken to Victoria Hospital, London.

The Bates car crashed with a truck driven by Norman Morningstar of London. In the truck with the driver was the owner, Isaac Fieldstone of London.

The Bates machine was badly damaged in the crash. Taken from the wreckage, the driver was placed in a car and brought to London by D. S. Henry of Port Stanley and Floyd Adair of R. R. 4, London. However he died before they arrived at the hospital.

Chief Clears Jail To Even Up Law

Lubbock, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP).

POLICE Chief H. L. Johnston—he probably won't be after Thursday—opened wide the jail doors today and seven prisoners booked for drunkenness went free.

The Chief, ordered to resign by Thursday after a recent clash with city officials, said "class legislation and enforcement" had prompted local prosecutors.

"If some can be turned out of jail, then others can," he declared. "I know—I have the key."

DRIVER GETS BAIL IN FATAL SMASH

COBOURG, Aug. 11 (CP).—William Travis Churchill, Sr., of Forest, was granted bail of $2,000 when he appeared in police court yesterday before Magistrate O. A. Langley on a charge of manslaughter.

Churchill, it was alleged, was driver of a car which collided with one driven by L. D. Carton of Huntley Village, Missouri, August 7.

The accident occurred near Grafton, and Churchill's six-year-old son, William died in Cobourg Hospital following the accident.

Carton testified the first sign of the approaching accident was when an oncoming car turned out of the traffic line and met his car head-on. He believed that the car turned out to pass a vehicle. Mrs. Carton was cut in the head and was taken to the hospital, he said.

Steven Janne, riding in the wagon which Churchill passed, said he saw Churchill's car coming from behind and the other car some distance ahead. He observed Churchill's car turn out from behind and then the crash occurred right beside the wagon.

Margaret Behan, also in the wagon, expressed the opinion Churchill was driving too quickly to stop. She testified she was afraid Churchill was going to hit the wagon, then he swung out and struck the oncoming car.

Provincial Constable F. Blucher told of going to the accident after the boy had been taken to the hospital. Churchill admitted driving one of the cars, he said.

Blond Eve Hides 20 Days Ship's Hold Heat 130, Vain Sea Trip After Hubby

Houston, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP).

BLOND and buxom Mrs. Esther Worman, who endured 20 days of 130-degrees heat in a ship's hold to find her missing husband, stood but a poor chance today of taking him back to England with her.

Chief Immigration Inspector L. D. Grossman sent her to Galveston to be deported for lack of proper papers. Her husband had not been heard from.

Mrs. Worman, meanwhile, had nothing but kind words for Capt. J. C. Smith of the steamer Hybert, who "loaned me a pair of pants."

Capt. Smith came to the rescue when fire in the Hybert's hold routed Mrs. Worman from her hideaway. With her came another stowaway, Abram Kiper a Belgian who slipped aboard at Antwerp. Neither was clothed.

The 28-year-old Englishwoman explained they divorced because of the heat.

NANKOW AFLAME AS BATTLE RAGES JAPS IN RETREAT

TOKYO, Aug. 11 (AP).—Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported tonight that a major engagement had broken out between Chinese and Japanese troops at Nankow Pass, 30 miles northwest of Peiping. The Chinese city of Nankow was said to be in flames.

The city, near the great wall of China, is the gateway from the North China Province of Hopen to the Mongolian Province of Chahar.

Both Chinese and Japanese troops had been reported massing in the area after Japanese drove Chinese forces out of Peiping.

Dispatches today said the Japanese encountered troops of the Central Chinese Army along the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway, which runs through Nankow. It was the first report that units of the central army had participated in a major engagement, although central army forces have moved northward since the first Chinese-Japanese clash.

(Chinese reports at Peiping said the Japanese army was being defeated at Nankow Pass. Japanese reinforcements were said to be moving from Peiping to Nankow).

Slaying of a Japanese naval officer and seaman at Shanghai was considered as having gravely compromised whatever slender chance of peace remained between Japan and China.

Japanese officials maintained they were anxious to settle the Shanghai clash through diplomatic channels, lest it be the last step leading to a formally declared war and jeopardize their conquest of North China.

Toronto Paralysis Under Censorship

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (C.P.).— Censorship was clamped down to-day by Dr. Gordon P. Jackson, Medical Officer of Health, on figures showing the number stricken by infantile paralysis. Action was taken after six deaths were caused by the disease which struck 35 last week alone, a total three more than suffered the disease throughout 1936.

N. J. MILL OWNERS APPROVE STRIKE AS POSSIBLE AID

PATERSON, N.J., Aug. 11.—(AP).—Accelerating overtures between the C.I.O. and mill owners for settlement of the silk strike over a far-flung section of the United State were hailed to-day by union spokesmen as indication that the stoppage, now in its third day, would accomplish the union's goal of a nation-wide working standard for the industry.

Representatives of both the large and small mill owners in the New Jersey textile area, who have expressed approval of the strike in the hope it would standardize working conditions and remove advantages they said competitors in other areas held over them, made concerted moves toward treating for the union.

Isolated settlements and negotiations were reported in Pennsylvania, where the bik of the strikers were out.

Officials of the textile worykers organizing committee of the C.I.O. estimated 46,000 of the 50,000 workers in the industry were out, about 40,000 of them in Pennsylvania and 6,000 in New Jersey's Passiac Valley textile area.

The C.I.O. was charged with "terroristic" tactics in New Jersey and Pennsylvania and warned by Walter Neale, treasurer of the Duplan Corporation and spokesman for 10 manufacturers, that Pennsylvania might lose its silk industry because of the unit's activities.

Cholera Epidemic Kills 59 In Day

HONG KONG, Aug. 11 (AP).—A cholera epidemic raging in Canton and on Hainan Island, southwest of Canton, spread to Hong Kong, resulting today in 59 deaths within the past 24 hours.

Thousands of fearful residents flocked to innoculation centres for free treatment against the dread plague.

The entire British army and naval forces based here received innoculations.

Mechanical Mole To Conserve Soil

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP).—Engineering experts at the United States Agricultural Department announced with pride today they have perfected a "mechanical mole."

The machine, they said, will imitate on a large scale the pesky little underground animals that ruin the front lawn and gold greens by pushing up ridges of grass and soil. The soil conservation service is using it to keep rich fertile land on hills from washing away.

Picketers Disperse Half Hour Before Mill Scheduled to Open.

There was no recurrence of violence as over 200 workers filed into Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills under police protection this morning.

More than one-third of the workers are back in the two mills of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, it was learned from official sources.

D. G. H. Melton, manager of the Bonner-Worth plant stated 145 employees showed up this morning as compared with 109 employees who worked yesterday.

H. Leybourne, comptroller at Auburn Mill, said that 105 employees were back at his plant, which was 28 in excess of the number who worked on Tuesday.

To avert scenes of wild disorder witnessed the previdis day at Bonner-Worth plant as Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, threw open their two mills after a six-weeks shut-down, the force of city and provincial police adopted other tactics.

At the Bonner Mill where the major trouble was experienced earlier, police concentrated their main attention today. Chief Constable Samuel Newhall with a detachment of police guarded the McDonnel and Park streets intersection refusing entry to the west section of McDonnel street to all and sundry who had no immediate business there.

Notwithstanding this precaution there was a dense crowd of strikers and spectators gathered about the main entrance of the mill, while first thing this morning strikers maintained a picket.

Pickets Dispersed.

Shortly before seven-thirty a.m. pickets were ordered to disperse as a squad of Provincials swinging their riot sticks advanced up the roadway.

Subsequently Elmer Hickey, organizer of the Bonner-Worth girls, who ordered pickets to disperse, addressed a group of strikers. He told them they had the sympathy of the people of Peterborough, announced that Frank Millard, C.I.O. organizer, was coming here from Oshawa, and declared steps would be taken to restore the picket line which had been denied strikers by the police.

It was a half-hour or more before the eight o'clock whistle blew at the factory that workers started to file into the mill. They straggled in in small groups under a barrage of invective from their fellow-employees on the strike lines.

Strikers maintained a continuous round of jeering and booing and there were numerous cries of "scab, scab," until the last of the workers had entered the plant around eight o'clock.

Better Feeling Evident.

Notwithstanding, there was some evidence of a better feeling between strikers and police and some of the girls actually fraternized with the khaki-uniformed officers whom they had earlier dubbed as "Hepburn's Hussars."

Harry Shear, a striking employee from the Auburn Mill and an old Imperial soldier, was prominent on the Bonner-Worth strike front. He wore an armband inscribed with the word "Police," and marched up and down the line of ehrieking, excited girls demanding order.

At the Auburn plant around 75 employees went in under police protection, and while there was a picket line of about fifty strikers, little or no demonstration of any kind was staged. Observers counted 115 who entered the Bonner-Worth Mill, which was some increase over the number who resumed work the day before.

Minor Clash.

When workers left the Bonner-Worth Mill at five o'clock on Tuesday evening, police used a tear gas

HARMONY DINNER MINUS ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (A.P.).—Pledges of party harmony echoed among Democrats of the U.S. Senate to-day, but the voice of President Roosevelt was missing from the chorus.

The President, because of "pressure of other things," did not attend the "harmony" dinner held last night by the Democratic Senators, recently split over legislative issues.

He paid tribute to the honor guest —Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the New Majority Leader—in a note.

Publicly there was no comment on the President's failure to attend or to make a general appeal for party harmony in his message. Some of those who fought his Court Bill, however, speculated privately about its possible significance.

KIRBY, CROSS C. A. CAMPBELL FOR CABINET?

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—With an early general election an established certainty, Premier Hepburn is reported to be quietly canvassing the field of prospective Liberal candidates for the material with which—provided he is returned to power—he will reinforce his Cabinet immediately after the smoke of the ballot battle has cleared away.

Although he refuse to discuss the situation, it is learned in reliable quarters that at least three new men —one inside the present Legislature, and the other two without—are already definitely slated for portfolios in any re-arrangement of the Government that may ensue. They are:

Harold J. Kirby, M.L.A., Toronto-Eglinton, and chief whip of the Liberal Party in Ontario; Eric W. Cross, K.C., Chairman of the Ontario Municipal Board; Colin A. Campbell, M.P., Frontenac-Addington, prominent minin engineer and consultant.

Constituencies Selected.

All three are said to have Mr. Hepburn's blessing, and arrangements are now being made to effect the resignation of the latter two — Mr. Cross from his Board chairmanship, and Mr. Campbell, from the House of Commons—with the least possible delay and inconvenience. Mr. Cross is expected to contest the Norfolk-Haldimand constituency. It is now held by R. S. Colter, who will step down in the former's favor. An Eastern Ontario constituency will be carefully selected for Mr. Campbell, because the Prime Minister is said to want him as his next Minister of Mines. Mr. Kirby, of course, will run again in Eglinton.

In the event of the Government's re-election, a new speaker will be appointed to succeed Hon. Norman O. Hipel. That honor may fall in the event of his election, to Daniel W. Lang, K.C., who made a splendid run against former Conservative Highway Minister Leopold Macaulay, in South York, in 1934, and will be out again this fall as a second-time Liberal standard-bearer.

Premier Hepburn had announced the date of the election. He predicted a "great victory" for the Conservative party in Elgin.

"I see signs of victory in this crowd," the party leader said. "I see signs of victory in the fine candidate you have chosen. He is the kind of man who does not look upon politics as a racket." Mr. Rowe suggested to election campaigners that they stick to such provincial issues as highways, education, social service, Hydro and health.

"We have endured at Queen's Park a government that has alarmed the right-thinking people of this province,' he said. '...Now we are not going to be sidetracked from that record by issues over which the province has no jurisdiction."

Premier Hepburn's handling of agriculture was criticized by Mr. Rowe who charged that grants had been reduced $300,000 a year. 'I have definite plans to recognize agriculture of this province in its true position," he said.

It was also announced progress cups for Military District No. 3, covering the year, were awarded to Prince of Wales' Own Regiment, Kingston, and the Durham Regiment.

When Pickets And Police Clashed At Bonner-Worth

Screaming girl pickets and police officers clashed at Bonner-Worth mill as officers cleared a path into the plant of the Dominion Woollens and Textiles Ltd., to allow non-striking employees to enter the plant. Premier Hepburn had informed the 750 textile strikers the new Ontario Industry and Labor Board would start a thorough investigation of their grievances following their return to work.

Woman Teacher Goes On Trial Charged Incompetent, Cruel

Citizens Flock to School Room Bringing Lunches For the Hearing.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Aug. 11—(AP). — Farmers' wives packed lunches to-day and prepared to go with their families to the little one-room school at Kirby, where Mrs. Laura Elma Morris, country "school marm" for eleven years, was to defend herself against charges of incompetency and cruelty.

With the School Board of Whiteley Township grouped about the teacher's desk in the places ordinarily taken for graduation and spelling bees, witnesses and spectators will crown behind the children' desks for another in the series of hearings on a dismissal action of the board. A pupil's accusation at an earlier hearing that Mrs. Morris taught evolution was discounted yesterday by Jesse Shultz, Chairman of the School Board, who said:

"Even if Mrs. Morris did teach evolution, I don't consider that would constitute a violation of the teaching code. Certainly Mrs. Morris is not charged with teaching evolution, and the board has simply concerned itself with complaints of cruelty and incompetence."

Mrs. Morris, graduate of Waynesburg College, mother of two children, and descendant of a pioneer Greene County family, will take the stand for the first time. She denied through counsel that she taught evolution, after Gene Jones, sixth grader, testified "Mrs. Morris was always telling us we descended from monkeys. His older brother, Jack, said the teacher used a bat and poker to whip upils. These charges also were denied by J. Ernest Isherwood, attorney for Mrs. Morris.

In order to get seats at the hearings, the farm families came early with box lunches, which were eaten from the desk tops.

its cargo to the huge seaplanes at Lisbon. The entire run, scheduled eventually to link Frankfort-on-Main with New York, is expected to take about 30 hours.

Germany is the third national to make experimental North Atlantic flights in the race to inaugurate regular service by next spring.

Already the United States Pan American Airways and the British Imperial Airways have completed two round trips each on the northern route.

A further bid is planned by the French "Air France Trans-Atlantique" in dispatching a six-engined flying boat along the Lisbon-Azores route to New York sometime this summer.

OBITUARY

MARGARET MULHERN,

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 11. — The funera of the late Margaret Mulhern took place on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock from James Lamey's residence on the Warkworth Road to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, where a Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Father Costello. Miss Munhern was a resident of Toronto and was in the habit of visiting her only surviving sister, Mrs. James Lamey, Sr., every summer. During her visit this summer, she was stricken with a heart attack, from which she suffered about three weeks. Interment was made in the R.C. Cemetery here.

GERMAN SEAPLANE HOPS OFF TO OPEN ATLANTIC SERVICE

LUBECK, Germany, Aug. 11. — (AP)—The German seaplane Nordmeer took off for Lisbon at 7:50 a.m. (2:50 a.m. E.D.T.) today on the first leg of her maiden voyage to New York, surveying a route for future transatlantic air service linking Germany and North America.

The 16-ton flying ship roared into the air from this Baltic seaport and headed southwest for the flight to Portugal, considered the most dangerous section of the journey because it is overland.

Flight Captain Joachim Blankenburg said he expected to make the first leg in about 13 hours.

From Lisbon, the Nordmeer is scheduled to flying to the Azores where the catapult ship Schwabenland is standing by to refuel and launch the plane for the 2,300 mile final hop to New York. The flight is the first of eight trips scheduled this year across the Atlantic for the Nordmeer and her sister-ship, Nordwin, making Germany's opening bid for transatlantic passenger and freight service.

Few Officials On Hand.

Only a handful of Lufthansa officials and army, navy and aviation officers were on hand to witness the takeoff, but the populace of Luebeck cheered and waved handkerchiefs as the huge ship roared over the town.

In addition to the crew of four, a German newspaperman was aboard the Nordmeer, which carried a limited number of spare motor parts but no mail.

The plane, like its stateship, is driven by four 600-horse-power Diesel engines with a cruising speed of 160 miles an hour, a top speed of 200 miles an hour and a cruising radius of more than 3,500 miles.

The planes are considered the sturdiest ever constructed in Germany and in addition to electric heating, each has a metal bed for the crew to sleep in shifts.

On future flights a land plane will cover the European leg, transferring

London "Saved" As Defence Planes Fight Off 172 Raiding Bombers

London, August 11 (AP)

DESPITE the death of two airmen, officials announced today that London had successfully demonstrated her power to resist a mass air raid.

The two men were killed when their plane crashed near the city during last night's manoeuvres.

Officials said 95 per cent of the raiders were spotted and the bombers were "attacked" by fighting planes before they reached their targets.

One hundred and 72 bombing planes flew in from the west to attack London. Two hundred and 25 combat ships roared off to meet them. The manoeuvres were the greatest of the kind in the history of the city.

GENUINE CONTROL IN SALE OF LIQUORS IS ROWE'S PLEDGE

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 11—(CP)—Re-establishment of a system of liquor control in Ontario, rather than a continuance of a "policy without control" will be undertaken by the Conservative party if elected in the forthcoming provincial election. A declaration to this effect was made by Hon. Earl Rowe, party leader, at the Elgin constituency nominating convention here last night. Named as candidate to oppose Premier Hepburn, was Norman R. Martin, 47-year-old North Yarmouth dairy farmer.

Mr. Hepburn will be formally nominated Thursday.

Mr. Rowe declared that under his liquor policy, "all mushroom dives and children's saloons" would be closed. "The vicious patronage system whereby a man must be a supporter of Government to obtain a license," would be done away with and closing regulations would be strictly enforced.

Patronage To Go

Patronage in the Civil Service would also be stopped and appointments would be made on efficiency, "rather than for blind allegiance to any party."

Contending Premier Hepburn was using labor troubles in the province as "a smoke screen," the Conservative leader, with reference to the Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization, said:

"It is the duty of a Government to maintain order. But never before has the right of free association been challenged. Do not let those seeking to draw a red herring across the trail confuse you on the true issues."

Under his slogan, "A Square Deal for the Masses," he continued:

"I expected Mr. Hepburn will have $10 for his campaign fund for every dollar I have. I know there are rumblings from the money barons that Hepburn will not be short of campaign funds. But I warn Mr. Hepburn there is not one law for the rich and another for the poor."

The party manifesto, Mr. Rowe told the audience in the Castno at Pinafore Park, would be issued after

Ugly Scenes In Peterborough

There were ugly scenes in Peterborough on Tuesday, scenes of violence and hate as disorder broke out in the six-weeks-old textile strike and the one predominant thought today seems to be that the whole shocking affair might have been avoided.

The riot of Tuesday morning followed a day on which it seemed that substantial progress had been made to a speedy settlement of the trouble. From Premier Hepburn had come the definite assurance that an immediate investigation into the whole textile situation would be instituted with a view to establishing a minimum wage for men and that when this had been arrived at it would be made retroactive to the day upon which strikers returned to work. That was a vitally important message, changing the strike picture considerably and it was communicated to members of the strike committee who were urged to notify the striking employees of the two plants.

The Examiner's information is that the committee upon its own responsibility decided not to pass the information of the Government decision along to the rank and file of the strikers organization. Instead they were allowed to go ahead with their plans for mass picketing of the two strike-bound mills and the result was that when the police-escorted employees who wanted to go back to work reached the scene the resisting picketers were for the most part entirely ignorant of the fact that the Government had decided upon a policy that offered hopes of a speedy and satisfactory ending of the strike. Most people will feel that in keeping that information away from those who were vitally concerned in it the leaders responsible were chiefly to blame for the trouble that occurred on Tuesday morning.

There is this to be remembered, and it cannot be too strongly emphasized because it would seem that a great many persons are misinformed on this point, that the laws of Canada permit persons who are dissatisfied with wages or working conditions to go on strike in an effort to bring about a betterment and it permits them to peacefully picket a plant and to endeavor to persuade workers from going in. But further than that the law does not go. It does not allow strikers to prevent other people who want to work from doing so. The same law that gives one man the right to strike gives another the right to keep on working if that is his wish. When attempts are made to interfere with workers who are exercising a privilege that the law of the country gives them constituted authority is being challenged and the only answer to such a challenge, unless mob rule is to be given full sway, is what happened here on Tuesday. The outbreak of such trouble was inevitable when the thing got to the point where the police escorting the men and women who had elected to return to work found their way opposed by massed pickets. At one plant where the leaders recognized the seriousness of the situation and offered no physical resistance to the passage of the workers there was no disturbance; at the other, and it is most unfortunate that it should have been young girls upon whom the task of trying to prevent the entrance of the returning workers was thrust, opposition was offered and the police had to act.

The conclusion is unavoidable that the strikers have been betrayed by doubtful leadership in two regards; in the first place they should have been told of Premier Hepburn's offer before Tuesday's riot had a chance to develop and they should have been informed that to offer physical opposition to workers who desired to return to their jobs was to put themselves outside the pale of the law.

Settling Farmers' Debts

The Farmers Creditors Arrangement Act has been under fire in so many quarters in Canada from time to time that it is interesting to learn something about how Uncle Sam has been endeavoring to deal with the same problem and what results have been accomplished. Ever since the depression started this matter of adjusting farmer debts has been to the fore and the United States made that duty one of the activities of the Resettlement administration. Under its supervision voluntary adjustment committees function as mediators in effecting arrangements between debtors and creditors, which, besides enabling the farmer to retain their land look also to their ultimate rehabilitation while at the same time being fair to creditors.

Figures released by the United States Department of Agriculture show that in the last 22 months these voluntary committees succeeded in bringing debtors and creditors in accord in 59,530 cases. The negotiations covered debts totalling $195,000,000 which were adjusted downward approximately $49,000,000. Provision for payment of back taxes is a definite part of the arrangements and this brought into local government treasuries a total of $3,500,000.

Saving nearly 60,000 farmers from the loss of their land and at the same time satisfying the creditors—for it must be remembered that contrary to the Canadian act these American committees have no power to enforce their recommendations—is a worth-while achievement from any aspect. Our own legislation which aims at the same results also seeks to arrive at a settlement voluntarily but when that fails authority is given to force new terms for the debtor and that has always been one of the chief sources of complaint against the measure.

A Julius Caesar Special

Do not think for a moment that ice cream is an invention of this continent. It is true that we have brought this delicacy to a high state of perfection, that it is through restless ingenuity that we found the banana split, the chocolate marshmallow sundae with whipped cream, the Sweetheart's Delight, but as for its genesis it goes all the way back to the Persians, Romans, Egyptians and Greeks.

How do we know this? Well, we must take the word of Joseph Forte who read a paper on the subject: "Ice Cream Through the Ages," at a meeting of the Belfast Rotary Club in Ireland. Slaves, he said, were the ancient icemen and they brought snow down from the caverns in the mountains to be used during warm weather. This snow was touched up with the juice of fresh fruits to make cool and refreshing drinks.

Even as far back as 333 B.C. (how Rotarian Forte arrived at that date is conjectural,) Alexander the Great was an advocate of ice cream, and had supplies of it on his campaign. The Ptolemys, too, were slasies in that respect and consumed large portions of it at their banquets. Quintus Maximus left a recipe for very excellent ice cream, although he might have called it another name, and Julius Caesar, hardy veteran that he was, was not above dropping into the shop of Pontius Pontifex on the Via Appian for a generous helping of the icy stuff.

Just to keep the historical chain going, Marco Polo found ice cream in China as recently as 1245 A.D. and not long thereafter, possibly about 1537, the delicacy was introduced into France, which straightway coined the word "volia" and struck off a medal in honor of the event.

Here Is Something New

Frank Miller of Calgary, showing an initiative that should remove him out of the ranks of those who require aid from the public treasury, has started suit in the courts to obtain assistance from the City of Calgary which has refused him relief.

That is a novel move but off hand we would say that it has not a chance to succeed in the courts for the simple reason that there is no legal obligation on the part of any municipality to provide relief or charity for those who are in need of aid. The moral duty of taking care of such people of course exists but that is a difficult thing upon which to obtain a court verdict. No municipal government worthy of the name would see indigents suffer for want of food and shelter and they as a rule provide those necessities so long as the municipal treasury will stand the strain but they are not compelled to do so through any law that stands on the statute books and that is where we imagine Mr. Miller will fall down when his case appears before the courts.

The whys and the wherefores of this particular incident have not been made clear and we do not know just why this litigant has been refused assistance by the municipality but it is reasonably certain that he has little chance of succeeding in forcing the Calgary authorities to do what they have refused to do voluntarily. It is not as well understood as it should be that the law of the land nowhere says that municipal corporations must provide relief for any one. They do so as a matter of course but they are not compelled to under the law as it stands in this country, which rather cramps any attempt to secure action through the medium of the courts.

As In The Days Of Moses

Many farmers labored Saturday evening until night came, gathering sheaves of grain stooked in the fields, working against time and the probabilities of belated rain on Sunday. Hauling the grain to the shelter of barns when it was fully dried and matured might have seemed to materialists an emergency of uncertain weather warranting the resumption of work the next morning. Some industries with possibly less excuse might find justification for comparable work on the seventh day of the week. The harvest is the final stage of all the farmer's year of planning and plowing and seeding, and it is of vital importance to him in his final reckoning that his fodder and grain should be stored in the barn in its due time. Delay is occasionally disastrous, but even so, farmers apparently put their trust in Providence, especially when Saturday night overtakes them in the incompletion of essential work.

They might find precedent for work on the Sabbath in the biblical example of the ox that fell into a pit requiring immediate release, a hypothetical exigency it is true, but an illustration of excusable Sunday work that might salve an elastic conscience. Evidently farmers are more mindful of the record of God's gift of manna which His people were instructed to gather only on six days of the week. That lesson from the days of Moses closes with the words "So the people rested on the seventh day." They were a primitive agricultural people, and even in the receiving of a miraculous gift from God they learned that work was to be suspended on the Lord's Day. Respect for that injunction has remained with the industry of agriculture through all the centuries, and it could have been seen in actual effect in the cessation of the harvest no longer ago than last Sunday. Some work is unavoidable, the tending of livestock, and the milking of cattle, but in the labor of the field and the orchard farmers obey the command to observe Sunday as a day of rest. There may be exceptions, but they are not seen in this country, and certainly not in this district.

WALK SOFTLY

There is so much of beauty in this world
That we should walk with humble, reverent feet,
With eyes wide open to the lovely view
Of woods' enchanted aisles, and flowers sweet.
Sunrise and moonrise,—glory of the seas,
The everlasting magic of the stars,
The beauty of the hills, and fields, and trees,
All wonders that the rosy dawn unbars.

This eager earth with garments green and bright
Is radiantly adorned like to a bride;
To comprehend so exquisite a world
We should tread humbly,—not with careless pride.

COFFEE stall keeper Arthur Lines works behind his mobile stall on the breast of Wrotham Hill 11 miles from Maidstone in England every day without a collar and tie. Late on a Monday afternoon he was painting a sign on the stall when he heard brakes screech. He looked up to see two cars wobbling out of a head-on collision. One of the cars swayed and stopped in front of his stall. A woman got out and asked him. May I sit down in there?" pointing to a field. As she tried to squeeze through a half-open gate stallkeeper Lines said "I will help with the basket" he held out his hands to grasp a basket containing six-months-old Princess Alexandra daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Kent. The Duchess was taking her son and daughter to Bloody Point House, Shingleend Sandwich Bay, for their summer seaside holiday when the accident happened. The Duchess and her children were not injured but they had to sit in a field while another car was obtained for them.

When the extent of the Boy Scout movement is grasped it is difficult to realize that as late as 1907 scouts were not heard of. Three years later there were 128,000 of them. This year the scouts numbered 1,000,000 and there are 700,000 girl guides. It was the personality of General Baden Powell that built up the movement. He put everything he had into it. He even wrote articles for the papers and gave the money he got from them to Scout work. The extent of the movement today can be credited almost entirely to the initial impetus that it was given by Baden Powell's enthusiasm.

It may not be generally known that with their adoption of baseball and other western pastimes the Japanese have taken up mountain climbing—a sport made to order for their traditional code of self abnegation and courage. The highest mountain in Japan is Mount Fuji, 12,395 feet, the sacred extinct volcano south of Tokyo, known the world over for its conical grace and scalloped mantle of snow. This mighty hill however offers little incentive for Alpine explorers for pilgrims have for centuries ascended its smooth if formidable slopes. The Japanese adventure seekers, with the inevitable Englishmen among them find the thrills they want in the northern part of the main island—the Northern, Middle and Southern Japanese Alps. These—particularly the first, which boasts the country's highest peaks after Fujiyama—vie with Switzerland's as goals for the tourist and climber.

The Problem of Pyorrhea.

NORMAL teeth squat firmly in the jaw's bony niches. Sheathing their roots is a protective tissue—the peridental membrane—which tighten the tooth-in-socket fit and serve as a small scale shock absorber. These jacket-like cushions must be well fed; they demand their share of the body's food resources. Lack of tissue nourishment may lead to infection—pyorrhea for instance. In this disease germs attack the peridental tissues, pus forms and the gums become inflamed; then the bacteria slither down and begin to eat into jawbone sockets. Badly loosened teeth may drop out as a late-stage result. Three years ago Prof. Albert Szent-Gyorgi of the University of Szeged injected pyorrhea-stricken fellow Hungarians with scurvey-preventing Vitamin C. The shots he reported brought favorable reactions. Last week two Harvard Dental School instructors Dr. Paul Boyle and David Weisberger echoed the professor's observations, and commenting on their investigations the Harvard Dental Record says that "Vitamin C treatment for pyorrhea can be adopted with safety."

The Davis Cup of which so much has been heard lately in tennis circles is really a punch bowl and not a cup. It was donated in 1900 by Dwight F. Davis, a Harvard undergraduate and is the symbol of world supremacy in amateur tennis. By 1923 space for necessary inscriptions was exhausted and a tray was purchased in New York. Later England added an ebony base—and now there's room enough for winners names through 1960. All told the three-piece trophy cost some $2,000.

When the 44-day sitdown strike of General Motors employees formally ended with the peace pact of February 11, some 200 wildcat strikes have taken place since according to company officials Alfred P. Sloan Jr. in his report released recently said that there were only two working days from February 11 during the second quarter without interruptions of some form or another. As a result of this factor, as well as the higher costs of materials the company netted only $66,731,100 in the three months ended June 30 compared with $88,108,373 for the corresponding period last year.

General Stores Do Better

Country Buying Centres Show Considerable Gain for June.

(From the Brockville Recorder and Times.)

SALES made in country general stores ought to be an excellent barometer of rural economic conditions and it is, therefore, interesting to have the Bureau of Statistics report that the retail sales of 580 such stores scattered across Canada showed an increase of almost nine per cent. in dollar volume for the month of June, 1937, as compared with the same period last year. Moreover, this increase is in continuation of earlier gains of eight per cent. for May, nine per cent. for April and 14 per cent. for March compared with the corresponding months of 1936.

Quebec continues to report the best improvement with a gain of 15 per cent, over June last year, followed by British Columbia with 14.6 per cent. and the Maritime Provinces with eight per cent. An increase of 10 per cent. for Eastern Ontario was modified by smaller gains of seven per cent. for Ontario North and four per cent. for Ontario West, resulting in a gain of seven per cent. for the province as a whole. Country general store sales in Manitoba were up seven per cent. and Saskatchewan reported five per cent. more business than in June a year ago, gains ranging from one per cent. for the southern districts to eight per cent. for more northern parts being recorded. Aggregate sales for 106 stores in Alberta were two per cent. and in Southern Alberta, one per cent.

When farmers receive better prices for their products and have more money at their disposal, the country general stores are amongst the first institutions to feel the effect of this improvement since they continue to cater to the needs of surrounding residents notwithstanding the inroads made upon their trade by the arrival of better roads leading to larger shopping centres.

It is undeniable, we think, that better times have reached the farms of the Dominion as well as the towns and cities and these better times are being translated into a larger amount of business done in the general stores. The latter can, however, stand much more business than they are currently handling, for they have passed through very lean years and, moreover, most of them have a great deal of credit on their books.

Must Think Like A Fish

When You Do It Will Be Easier Catching Them.

(From the Ontario Fish and Game Bulletin.)

HAVE you ever wondered why certain fishermen of your acquaintance could apparently get fish almost any time they cared to try, while you have probably spent hours or even days on the same grounds with little or no success? You have no doubt put it down to fisherman's luck and let it go at that.

There is a deeper reason, however. Fishing success is the result of "thinking like a fish," where fish are concerned, only; in a general knowledge of the habits of the species you are interested in, and in regulating your tactics to meet the conditions which reason and knowledge lead you to believe exist at the moment.

To think like a fish is merely to anticipate what a fish would be likely to do under certain everyday conditions. For example, during the heat of the day we poor humans would not deliberately remain out in a blazing sun if shade were available, but if we did the result would leave us tired, inert and lacking in any ambition to unduly exert ourselves.

The same thing applies to fish. Bass are not to be found during the heat of the day in shallow water exposed to the rays of the sun, and if for any reason they are, they are too inert to trouble with the most tempting bait you can dangle before them. If you were a fish where would you be under such circumstances? You would unquestionably be in the coolest shadiest spot you could find, conserving your energy until conditions generally became less trying! That's exactly what the bass and other game fish are doing.

During excessive heat, therefore, do your fishing in the deep pools where the water is reasonably cool, in the rapids where the constant change and action keeps it cool and active, or in the shade of an overhanging bank, a submerged tree or sunken log. Normal conditions, and this means a reasonable temperature, are just as essential to fish life as to human beings.

Relieving Western Cattle

Movement of Live Stock East Should Be of Assistance.

(From the Brockville Recorder and Times.)

WITH regard to emergency assistance being provided in the drought area of the Prairie Provinces by the Dominion Government through the Department of Agriculture, there are several policies in operation dealing specifically with livestock, namely, the feeder-freight, the movement of livestock to feeding areas, the movement of equipment, the feed and fodder, and the cattle market policies.

Under the feeder-freight policy the Dominion Government undertakes to refund half the freight costs on cattle purchased at country points in prescribed drought areas and shipped to country points outside these areas in any province of the Dominion, provided the purchaser will retain the cattle for a period of at least three months. Applicants from Eastern Canada or British Columbia who wish to go to the drought area personally to select the cattle or lambs which they decide to purchase with the assistance of the feeder-freight policy are also allowed the advantage of the feeder-purchase policy in respect to payment of their one-way railway fare, including expenses.

Concerning the movement of livestock to feeding areas, the Dominion Government, in agreement with the Provincial Government concerned, undertakes to pay all of the net freight cost on horses, cattle, and sheep, shipped under provincial certificate to suitable feeding areas and returned, in any of the Prairie Provinces and in British Columbia, such shipments to be made before December 31, 1937.

Respecting the movement of equipment policy, the Dominion Government under agreement with the Provincial Government concerned undertakes to pay the net cost of freight on equipment that may be transported to areas where feed is available by those who desire to provide feed supplies for themselves.

The feed and fodder policy covers payment for feed and fodder, together with the net cost of freight thereon, supplied by the Provincial Government concerned to municipalities and individuals who are not in a position to pay for it themselves. The prices paid for such feed are subject to agreement between the Dominion and the province. Feed and fodder are graded by Dominion representatives, and supplies are limited to such amounts as are necessary to maintain the minimum stock required for family needs.

The cattle market policy envisions a plan by which cattle may be assembled and classified at shipping points or at grazing reserves, and marketed either for feeding purposes or for slaughter. This is intended to serve drought-area farmers who have small numbers of cattle and consequently are at a disadvantage in marketing.

FASTEST OF ALL.

(Pathfinder)

THE "fastest creature" looks like a honey bee. Its nose is blunt, its body tapering. Its lines not unlike those of a speed plane. When it flies, it is a blurred streak in the sky.

Related to the bottfly, its entomological name is cephenemyia, and it won headlines recently at Rochester, N. Y., where excited scientists put it on display at the University of Rochester museum. About a half inch long and exceedingly rare in insect collections, it was described as the "fastest living creature," capable of attaining a speed of 800 miles an hour.

CHILD BRIDES.

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

WE are accustomed to raise our hands in something approaching holy horror when we read of child brides in different parts of the United States. But the annual report for 1936 of the Registrar-General for Ontario just to hand shows that the exceptionally youthful wife is by no means a rarity in this part of the world.

This report shows that in the year 1936 there were no fewer than 111 girls under the age of 18 who contracted matrimony in Ontario. Four of these were married to boys under 18 years of age and two of them were united with men of 38 years of age.

There were 393 brides of the age of 16, 775 of the age of 17 and 2,179 of the age of 18.

To the Editor

DR. YOUNG'S SERMON

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Reading the report in your paper of the learned sermon preached by the Rev. E. W. Young of St. Andrew's, I noticed two omissions from the old belief, viz.: any reference to an inspired Bible and to the Saviour as the sole source of salvation, though much reference to a "church." I would like to ask Dr. Young what his views are upon the inspiration of the Bible, where does he get his authority for the statements he makes. Manifestly statements made without authority cannot have due weight. It is because of this fact that we would ask him to enlighten us upon that point. It is vital upon that fact his "church" stands or falls.

DEATH THE PENALTY.

(Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel)

DEATH is the supreme penalty for fast driving. Crippled for life is next; heavy hospital bills and extreme mental suffering for the injury one has caused others, come in order.

When all such punishments are openly defied by hundreds of men and women daily, what more can the state do by way of effective punishment? It seems obvious that prevention rather than penalty is to be sought. We do not have adequate driving instruction on the one hand or tests of ability on the other.

Because most persons dislike personal restrictions legislators have been loath to adopt policies resembling those upon the railways, calling for careful training and the regular observance of strict rules.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

(From a Letter in the Toronto Globe and Mail)

IN fundamental astronomical and periodic computation it coherently appears that inconsistent economic repercussions, embracing an international magnitude, are deeply ingrained in a cumbersome sequence, as a cogent result of impending international wheat crop deterioration, as the economic barometer will engulf a medley of vicissitudes, heralding further rust propagation and acutely aggravated by the admissible possibility of a dual fungus connoting black and red rust menace.

"Sagacious economic discernment appears to warrant a curtailment of available superb quality wheat supplies, to unwittingly overwhelm the fragile wheat counterpoise during September."

THE OLDEST RACE

(Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph)

GENERAL Smuts has begun agitation in the parliament at Capetown, South Africa, to obtain a home for the oldest race, the African Bushmen of the Kalahari Desert, who recently appealed to the government. They inhabited not only South Africa, but South Europe 25,000 years ago. General Smuts promised to allow them to hunt deer in the game preserve but the park authorities announce that arrests would be made if such a program was carried out. The little brown men and women eat enough at one sitting to last them five days and they stay up all night dancing when there is a full moon. Their average height is 4 feet 8 inches. They soon grow wizened from the hard life they lead but are a merry people.

FEWER GOVERNMENTS.

(Victoria Colonist)

IF there are ever to be a series of balanced budgets in the Dominion—Federal, Provincial and municipal—the initial step is to reduce very substantially the cost of overhead. That could be done without affecting the welfare of the people. With modern means of transportation and communication, the problem of government in the Dominion is much easier than it was half a century ago. The revision of the British North American Act needed is of a nature that will reduce the number of governments. When such revision is being considered it seems logical that the interests of the taxpayers should be paramount and not the interests of those who desire to control and extend their political powers.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

A sudden buying boom in late trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day shot widely-fluctuating wheat future nearly seven cents above opening low points.

Values closed 2⅝ to 3¼ cents higher than yesterday's finish. October $1.30⅝, December $1.27⅞ and May $1.29⅝ to ⅝.

After the initial liquidation flurry induced by weakness of Liverpool prices and the United States Government crop report indicating increased production of winter wheat futures steadily rose from three-cent low points.

In late trading prices fluctuated four cents above Tuesday's final prices. The late skyrocketing prices was attributed to good buying from all sources and short covering.

WATER TOO HOT FOR COD.

BAY BULLS, Nfld., Aug. 11.—(CP Cable)—Residents of this fishing centre 30 miles south of St. John's had an explanation to-day on the death of cod close to shore this season.

A sea temperature reading at 10 fathoms showed 60 degrees, whereas the cod prefer water that is between 37 and 45 degrees. All along the east coast of the Avalon Peninsula, from Cape Race to Cape St. Francis, the inshore fishermen have been

BRITAIN ADOPTING PENSION SYSTEM FOR ARMY FORCES

By I. NORMAN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 11—(CP Cable).—The Government announced to-day it had decided to strengthen the British army by making it more attractive for the working man.

Changes announced by War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha modify the system of army service to enable men with the colors or on reserve to adopt the army as a career and qualify for pension after 21 years service.

Soldiers about to complete their first term with the colors will be allowed to extend their service and Sections A and B of the Reservists will be allowed to rejoin the colors. Both classes of men on completion of 12 years service will be eligible to re-engage to complete 21 years and thereby qualify for pension.

The practice now is to enlist for seven years with the colors and five on reserve. It is only in exceptional circumstances that a private soldier is allowed to extend his color service to qualify for pension. At present reservists are allow to rejoin the colors only in few exceptional cases.

The experiment is expected to have two plain advantages: The first to show the extent to which soldiers are desirous of availing themselves of the opportunity of adopting the army as a career; the second to increase the number of soldiers serving with the colors.

The Conditions.

Serving soldiers accepting the offer will extend their color service on the usual terms; reservists will rejoin at the rate of pay and the rank in force at the time of their transfer to the army reserve. Married men over 26 will be paid the married allowance and will be eligible for a place on the married quarters roll but will not have a claim for priority over existing applications for vacancies.

Rejoining reservists also will receive on their discharge from the colors at the end of 21 years a pension appropriate to the length of their color service or receive the same privileges of continuing service after 21 years as other soldiers.

The scheme will be operated experimentally for a limited period of time.

Faced with the task of finding 47,200 men to fill gaps in the ranks before the end of the year, as well as replacing 27,000 men due to retire, the new War Minister was thought likely to announce a one-shilling increase in daily pay for the ordinary soldier.

Hore-Belisha already has made several concessions in the interest of a more attractive army life. Soldiers now have four meals a day instead of three. Baracks have ben improved. Irritating pay stoppages to pay for upkeep on uniforms and equipment have ben abolished.

C.I.O. In Civil Service Is News To Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP).—Civil Service organizations in Ottawa have no knowledge of attempts by the C.I.O. to organize government employees.

Premier Hepburn stated last night in Toronto the committee for industrial organization was "trying to get in" the Ontario Civil Service.

"We have no knowledge of the C.I.O. attempting organization of civil servants," said V. C. Phelan, president of the Civil Service Federation. "If a start had been made, I'm sure we would have heard about it. It is possible that an organizer may have approached an individual civil servant, but I doubt if any headway has been made."

Officers of other organizations in the Civil Service also denied knowledge of C.I.O. activity.

BROSE THE SECRET SCOTTISH GIANTS

"You get a cupful of pinhead oatmeal—good sized oatmeal—and put into it a lump of butter about as big as a walnut, with pepper, salt and some water—not boiling though it may be hot—and stir it up. You will have the finest meal you could wish for, with a cup of good fresh milk. If you take that three times a day you will never be hungry, and you will be in splendid health."

Nourishing, too.

"I remember that in Argyll," Macquisten told fellow members of the House of Commons, "there was a father and 10 sons who were the most magnificent specimens of humanity one could imagine. The old man complained to his laird about the state of the road leading to his farm and said his cart had sunk in it up to the axles.

"The laird, who was accustomed to the quarter deck, said: 'It must have been damned bad,' and the old man's reply was 'Yes admiral, it was so bad that when I took out the horse I could hardly pull the cart out myself.'

"Men like that were bred on oatmeal brose—not boiled oatmeal or scalded oatmeal, because if you boil oatmeal or even put boiling water on it you kill the meal and it has no nourishment. These men had the real brose, and they had herrings and potatoes and good fresh milk such as you cannot buy in our town today, and they were giants."

FARMERS' HOGS BRINGING MORE

age of $3.76 a hundred pounds in January, 1933.

Must be Fed Grain

Unlike cattle which can be turned out to pasture, hogs must be raised on grain, and the high grain prices caused last winter by Ontario's light crop yield led farmers to curtail breeding of hogs. The November, December and January 'crop' of pigs was much lighter in consequence.

Added to this as a factor in the increased price of hogs here is the acute scarcity of hogs in United States.

Although fewer hogs were sold here last week, cattle receipts were higher. The market cleared 11,000 head last week compared with 6,300 a year ago.

Half of last week's receipts were cattle brought from Western Canada drought areas for fattening.

A certain percentage of cattle brought from the west is being slaughtered, and this has affected prices a certain amount, but the most of it is stocker cattle for further feeding, livestock officials said.

CHAPEL ON WHEELS.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—(CP).—Chinese in Shensi province of Central Western China will rub their eyes when they behold Rev. Christopher Sullivans chapel on wheels. It is a trailer combining Catholic chapel and mission house and will be the first trailer-chapel of any religious faith in China, Father Sullivan believes.

Dust Now So Bad On Picton Street One Citizen Wants Buggies Back

PICTON, Aug. 11.—Miniature dust storms swoop along Picton's main street as traffic moves along the thoroughfare to the annoyance of merchants, housewives and shoppers.

Several days ago a layer of oil was applied and the road covered with fine gravel. At the time, this appeared to be an ideal covering for the macadam surface of Main St. Since it has dried, a fine dust sweeps up in clouds from beneath the tires of each car and truck that passes.

The dust has penetrated into every business place along the street, as well as through the residences in the vicinity. Merchants are kept busy with dust cloths in a vain endeavor to stop the menace from settling on merchandise, and many have had to keep the entrances to their stores closed.

The water wagon went up and down the street yesterday morning and for a brief spell the dust was laid, but a scorching sun soon caused it to fly again.

"If we're going back to the gay 90's and dirt roads, then let's do it right and confine the traffic to horse and buggy, and keep cars off the street," remarked one provoked citizen.

EXPECT HEPBURN START ELECTION FIGHT THURSDAY

next day 'Hon. R. D. Morand will speak at North Bay for Nipissing-Sturgeon Falls convention.

Leopold Macaulay, former Ontario Cabinet member, will address the Huron-Bruce convention at Wingham August 19.

Mr. Rowe has not yet decided what riding to contest in the forthcoming election. At present he is Federal member for Dufferin-Simcoe.

First C.C.F. Candidate

Alderman John Walter, Kitchener, has been selected as C.C.F. candidate in Waterloo North. Mr. Walter is the first C.C.F. candidate chosen for the coming election.

The C. C. F. plans nomination meetings this month in St. Catharines, Sault Ste. Marie, Peterborough and in Toronto ridings, Herbert Orliffe, Provincial secretary for the party, said. John Mitchell, Hamilton, Provincial president, is making an organization tour of Northern Ontario en route home from the party's national convention at Winnipeg last month.

"Lack of finances has delayed organization work," said Secretary Orliffe. "Earl Rowe has said the Conservatives have only $1 for every $10 the Liberals have in their election fund, but we have only one cent for every dollar in the Conservatives' election fund."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

A sudden buying boom in late trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day shot widely-fluctuating wheat future nearly seven cents above opening low points.

Values closed 3¾ to 3¼ cents higher than yesterday's finish. October $1.30⅜. December $1.27⅞ and May $1.29⅝ to ⅝.

After the initial liquidation flurry induced by weakness of Liverpool prices and the United States Government crop report indicating increased production of winter wheat, futures steadily rose from three-cent low points.

In late trading prices fluctuated four cents above Tuesday's final prices. The late skyrocketing prices was attributed to good buying from all sources and short covering.

WATER TOO HOT FOR COD.

BAY BULLS, Nfld., Aug. 11.—(CP Cable)—Residents of this fishing centre 30 miles south of St. John's had an explanation to-day on the death of cod close to shore this season.

A sea temperature reading at 10 fathoms showed 60 degrees, whereas the cod prefer water that is between 37 and 45 degrees. All along the east coast of the Avalon Peninsula, from Cape Race to Cape St. Francis, the inshore fishermen have been

By L. NORMAN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 11—(CP Cable).—The Government announced to-day it had decided to strengthen the British army by making it more attractive for the working man.

Changes announced by War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha modify the system of army service to enable men with the colors or on reserve to adopt the army as a career and qualify for pension after 21 years service.

Soldiers about to complete their first term with the colors will be allowed to extend their service and Sections A and B of the Reservists will be allowed to rejoin the colors. Both classes of men on completion of 12 years service will be eligible to re-engage to complete 21 years and thereby qualify for pension.

The practice now is to enlist for seven years with the colors and five on reserve. It is only in exceptional circumstances that a private soldier is allowed to extend his color service to qualify for pension. At present reservists are allow to rejoin the colors only in few exceptional cases.

The experiment is expected to have two plain advantages: The first to show the extent to which soldiers are desirous of availing themselves of the opportunity of adopting the army as a career: the second to increase the number of soldiers serving with the colors.

The Conditions.

Serving soldiers accepting the offer will extend their color service on the usual terms; reservists will rejoin at the rate of pay and the rank in force at the time of their transfer to the army reserve. Married men over 26 will be paid the married allowance and will be eligible for a place on the married quarters roll but will not have a claim for priority over existing applications for vacancies.

Rejoining reservists also will receive on their discharge from the colors at the end of 21 years a pension appropriate to the length of their color service or receive the same privileges of continuing service after 21 years as other soldiers.

The scheme will be operated experimentally for a limited period of time.

Faced with the task of finding 47,200 men to fill gaps in the ranks before the end of the year, as well as replacing 27,000 men due to retire, the new War Minister was thought likely to announce a one-shilling increase in daily pay for the ordinary soldier.

Hore-Belisha already has made several concessions in the interest of a more attractive army life. Soldiers now have four meals a day instead of three. Baracks have been improved. Irritating pay stoppages to pay for upkeep on uniforms and equipment, have ben abolished.

C.I.O. In Civil Service Is News To Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP).—Civil Service organizations in Ottawa have no knowledge of attempts by the C.I.O. to organize government employees.

Premier Hepburn stated last night in Toronto the committee for industrial organization was "trying to get in" the Ontario Civil Service.

"We have no knowledge of the C.I.O. attempting organization of civil servants," said V. C. Phelan, president of the Civil Service Federation. "If a start had been made, I'm sure we would have heard about it. It is possible that an organizer may have approached an individual civil servant, but I doubt if any headway has been made."

Officers of other organizations in the Civil Service also denied knowledge of C.I.O. activity.

BROSE THE SECRET SCOTTISH GIANTS

"You get a cupful of pinhead oatmeal—good sized oatmeal—and put into it a lump of butter about as big as a walnut, with pepper, salt and some water—not boiling though it may be hot—and stir it up. You will have the finest meal you could wish for, with a cup of good fresh milk. If you take that three times a day you will never be hungry, and you will be in splendid health."

Nourishing, too.

"I remember that in Argyll," Macquisten told fellow members of the House of Commons, "there was a father and 10 sons who were the most magnificent specimens of humanity one could imagine. The old man complained to his laird about the state of the road leading to his farm and said his cart had sunk in it up to the axles.

"The laird, who was accustomed to the quarter deck, said: 'It must have been damned bad,' and the old man's reply was 'Yes admiral, it was so bad that when I took out the horse I could hardly pull the cart out myself.'

"Men like that were bred on oatmeal brose—not boiled oatmeal or scalded oatmeal, because if you boil oatmeal or even put boiling water on it you kill the meal and it has no nourishment. These men had the real brose, and they had herrings and potatoes and good fresh milk such as you cannot buy in our town today, and they were giants."

FARMERS' HOGS BRINGING MORE

age of $2.76 a hundred pounds in January, 1933.

Must be Fed Grain

Unlike cattle which can be turned out to pasture, hogs must be raised on grain, and the high grain prices caused last winter by Ontario's light crop yield led farmers to curtail breeding of hogs. The November, December and January 'crop' of pigs was much lighter in consequence.

Added to this as a factor in the increased price of hogs here is the acute scarcity of hogs in United States.

Although fewer hogs were sold here last week, cattle receipts were higher. The market cleared 11,000 head last week compared with 6,300 a year ago.

Half of last week's receipts were cattle brought from Western Canada drought areas for fattening.

A certain percentage of cattle brought from the west is being slaughtered, and this has affected prices a certain amount, but the most of it is stocker cattle for further feeding, livestock officials said.

Dust Now So Bad On Picton Street One Citizen Wants Buggies Back

PICTON, Aug. 11.—Miniature dust storms swoop along Picton's main street as traffic moves along the thoroughfare to the annoyance of merchants, housewives and shoppers.

Several days ago a layer of oil was applied and the road covered with fine gravel. At the time, this appeared to be an ideal covering for the macadam surface of Main St. Since it has dried, a fine dust sweeps up in clouds from beneath the tires of each car and truck that passes.

The dust has penetrated into every business place along the street, as well as through the residences in the vicinity. Merchants are kept busy with dust cloths in a vain endeavor to stop the menace from settling on merchandise, and many have had to keep the entrances to their stores closed.

The water wagon went up and down the street yesterday morning and for a brief spell the dust was laid, but a scorching sun soon caused it to fly again.

"If we're going back to the gay 90's and dirt roads, then let's do it right and confine the traffic to horse and buggy, and keep cars off the street," remarked one provoked citizen.

EXPECT HEPBURN START ELECTION FIGHT THURSDAY

next day 'Hon. R. D. Morand will speak at North Bay for Nipissing-Sturgeon Falls convention.

Leopold Macaulay, former Ontario Cabinet member, will address the Huron-Bruce convention at Wingham August 19.

Mr. Rowe has not yet decided what riding to contest in the forthcoming election. At present he is Federal member for Dufferin-Simcoe.

First C.C.F. Candidate

Alderman John Walter, Kitchener, has been selected as C.C.F. candidate in Waterloo North. Mr. Walter is the first C.C.F. candidate chosen for the coming election.

The C. C. F. plans nomination meetings this month in St. Catharines, Sault Ste. Marie, Peterborough and in Toronto ridings, Herbert Orliffe, Provincial secretary for the party, said. John Mitchell, Hamilton, Provincial president, is making an organization tour of Northern Ontario en route home from the party's national convention at Winnipeg last month.

"Lack of finances has delayed organization work," said Secretary Orliffe. "Earl Rowe has said the Conservatives have only $1 for every $10 the Liberals have in their election fund, but we have only one cent for every dollar in the Conservatives' election fund."

Found guilty of five murders, Andries Stephanus du Plessis, aged 21, and the youngest European sentenced to death in South Africa, was hanged in Pretoria.

Small Boy Entertains His Friends

Keith Schweir celebrated his sixth birthday on Monday by entertaining a number of his young friends at a jolly party held at Riverside Park. A program of games and music was entered into with zest, and then supper was served at a long table centered by a birthday cake prettily iced and concealing several coin favors. The small host received many pretty gifts from his guests: Connie and Edwin McGlean, Vincent Dineen, Sammy and Jim Woodcock, George Young, Max Ketcheson, Joan and June Schweir.

Miss Doyle Receives Many Gifts

Miss Catherine ('Kay') Doyle, a bride-to-be of Thursday, has been guest of honor at several affairs given by her friends prior to her wedding. Miss Norah Killen and Miss Irene O'Brien were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the former's home on Dublin Street. Miss Helen Ross entertained at her home on Stewart Street, when Miss Doyle was presented with a china bridge set in the "Springtime" pattern. Miss Geraldine Collins was hostess to the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, at her home on Stewart Street, in honor of Miss Doyle whose choir associates gave her a large mirror reflector and silver rose bowl. And the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Peter's Cathedral presented the bride-elect with a lovely pearl rosary.

Tenth Anniversary is Celebrated

The tenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. King, Jr., of 117 Robinson Street, was celebrated happily by a surprize gathering of friends and relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard of Ross Street.

On arrival, the honored guests were greeted by showers of confetti. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and streamers, and a pretty cluster of silver bells was suspended over the table, on which the numeral "ten" was outlined in silver.

An unusual feature of the entertainment was the hunt by Mr. and Mrs. King throughout the rooms for many gifts in linen hidden earlier by the guests. An evening of singing, dancing and amusing games was enjoyed by all, and, during the evening, Billie King presented his parents with a bridal bouquet, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Fowlie. Dainty buffet refreshments were served, and the entertainment closed with an appropriate sing song, a vote of thanks to the hosts, and expressions of good-will to Mr. and Mrs. King.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William King, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Fowlie, Mr. and Mrs. John King, Mr. and Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. H. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson and Billie, son of Mr. and Mrs. King.

Sykes—McGee

NORWOOD, Aug. 11. — The wedding of Josephine McGee, daughter of Mrs. McGee and the late Samuel McGee, and Dr. J. F. Sykes, was quietly solemnized in Belleville United Church on Saturday, August 7, at 4 p.m. Rev. Arthur Gardner, cousin of the bride, officiated. The bride looked pretty, attired in a travelling suit of navy sheer with applique and matching accessories. She wore a beautifully engraved gold locket, the gift of the groom. Her corsage, worn at the neckline, was of American Beauty roses. Miss Helen McGee, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, frocked in dubenney sheer with white accessories and wearing a corsage of Talisman roses. George Howell of Alberton supported the groom.

Following the ceremony the wedding dinner was served to the bridal party at the Quinte Hotel, Belleville. Later the happy couple left on a motor trip to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces and the State of Maine. On their return they will reside in Lansing, Michigan.

Loucks—Richardson

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 11. — "Sunholme, the summer home of Dr and Mrs. H. O. Richardson, at Healey Falls, was the setting for the pretty summer wedding of their only daughter, Enid Aileen, when she became the bride of Arthur Kent Loucks, the only son of Mrs. Loucks and the late James A. Loucks of Campbellford.

Rev. Harold B. Neale was the officiating minister and Miss Gwen. McCarty, Toronto, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride, unattended, was given in marriage by her father and wore an imported model made on princess lines of pale peach Chantilly lace, with Juliet cap of pink rosebuds. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and cornflowers. Following the marriage a reception was held, the bride's mother receiving in a green and white flowered gown of silk marquisette and wearing a corsage of cream roses and cornflowers. The groom's mother, in an ensemble of black and white sheer, wore a corsage bouquet of cream roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Loucks left on a trip to Muskoka and Quebec, the bride wearing for travelling a suit of coral boucle with contrasting accessories of brown.

Simplicity Is Bridal Keynote

By LISBETH

Because he believes that simplicity should be the keynote of every bridal outfit, Edward Stevenson, who designs fashions for the moving picture stars to wear in their pictures, created this wedding costume of exceptional charm for Harriet Hilliard to wear in a recent picture.

The gown is of white mousseline, sweeping in an unbroken line from shoulder to floor, with a yoke made entirely of tiny crystals and pearl beads. Pearls and crystals form the tiny skull cap Harriet wears, and are scattered over her tulle veil. This dress, Mr. Stevenson avers, is eminently suited to a bride of Harriet's type.

Irregular Hemlines

Irregular hemlines were used in a wedding party shown in a show in Dallas, Tex., to open the Pan-American exposition. The bride's gown was in ivory satin with lace flounce. She wore a mantilla also in lace. The bridesmaids were in gold taffeta dresses with hemlines that were uneven, forming points.

The maid of honor's dress combined net and taffeta in graduated tiers, and she wore a black mantilla. If an autumn bride wishes to go in for originality and picturesqueness, this may give her some ideas.

Style Whimsies

The newest evening skirts are short at front, long behind.

✧ ✧ ✧

Lightweight woollens for daytime and sparkling fashions for evening seems to be the order of the autumn season.

Silk dresses for afternoon wear are often given a touch of formality by embroidery, jet sequins banding the hems, and jeweled belts.

—Harriet Hilliard.

We Noticed

...that a new idea in table-fixing is a crescent-shaped salad plate that fits snugly around the side of your dinner plate, saves space on your table, and allows a salad to accompany the main course without getting the meat soaked in puddles of salad dressing, as it does when you serve salad on the dinner plate. These half-moon plates will come in china and glass, when more of the manufacturers get round to the job of producing them...

...that, while men may laugh at women's apparel and make fun of their hats, there is nothing funnier under the sun than a man who departs from the conventional masculine attire...like the gentleman we saw recently wearing white shorts above an expanse of very skinny leg...

Emilie Holds Up Quints "Appearances"

This little girl has had people the world over worried about her health. Of course you recognize tiny Emilie Dionne, the quint who has been confined to the hospital because she became ill with the heat. Now Dr. Dafoe has announced cancellation of the two regular "personal appearances" of the famed five girls. No reason has been given for the cancellation, but reliable sources give the reason as slight colds. Emilie doesn't seem to be worried about anything in this photograph, does she?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Be fearful only of thyself, and stand in awe of none more than thine own conscience. There is a Cato in every man; a severe censor of his manners. And he who reverences this judge will seldom do anything he need repent of."

FULLER.

Dear Friends:

Did you ever think of yourself as your own judge? One whom you must please in all essential if you are to have peace of mind? Not just in a selfish manner of getting your own way, but the you, you must live with day in and day out.

And there is a growing distaste for concience, a wish to discredit it, to make it out as an old wives' tale, a thing not to be considered. But don't fool yourself, it's there alright.

What causes regret and remorse? No one but you and the other fellow may know you HAVE any cause for either feeling, no one saw you doing what is now occupying your thoughts and making you cringe inside yourself. So it must be you judging your own actions.

It has been said that people fear more than anything else being found out in doing certain things. Maybe so. Maybe they do not want anyone pointing the finger of scorn at them, and that keeps them on the straight and narrow path.

But I think it is "the wee sma' voice" which speaks to them in the darkness and makes them say "never again." Not what others think of them, but what they think of themselves, the feeling of being soiled, of lowering themselves one way or the other, and the resolve that they will get back to where they were in their own estimation.

So many times in my work as a psychologist, I am asked if I do not think it is alright for people to seek their happiness where they will, and many times love is brought in, but on analysis it is not love they are talking about, but desire.

Now, I do not set myself up to be a judge of other people's morals. Nothing like that. I know humanity is frail, that there is a craving in everyone to be loved and wanted. But—if in taking that love you are hurting another, if you are stealing what really belongs to another, do not be surprised if, (no matter how you try to still the voice of conscience) it comes back to torture you.

You have to have a reverence for your own self. You have to look at yourself without loathing what you see, and no matter how weak you may be, if you really search for help, God will send it somehow. None of us are strong in everything, there is not a single one of us that does not run to God sometime in our lives and cry as the lepers used to do, "unclean unclean."

But we do not need to stay that way, we need not stifle our conscience until it seldom speaks, for then we are like a machine with no brakes. Trying to find out what life is all about, will only give you a headache.

What really concerns us most is living so that we can live with ourselves, with an inner peace and a liking for what we see when we look inward. Not a "holier than thou" feeling, thinking we are better than most, for then we only fool ourselves and are an abomination to God.

Besides when you get thinking like that, you are only tempting the devil to do his worst with you, and are likely to fall farther than those you are turning your nose up at. Anyone who has any experience at all has a decent humility, an awareness of how easily they might fall at any moment, so they are constantly on guard at the enemy from within.

So, don't wait for others to reverence you, but live so that you reverence yourself. Let your concience be your guide. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Last-Minute Appeal Described As "Coaxing Of Employees"

Decision To Open Mills Made Before Hepburn Made Offer Strike Leader English Says

Strikers Claim No Weavers Have Resumed Work at Auburn.

Figures issued by officials of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, claiming that a total of 250 employees returned to work in the two mills this morning, were flatly contradicted by the Strike Committee. It was claimed by company officials that 145 resumed work at Bonner-Worth Mill and 105 at Auburn.

Michael English, chairman of the Strike Committee, out on bail on a charge of obstructing workers in connection with trouble when plants were opened up Tuesday morning, maintained that a large percentage of those who went into both plants this morning under police protection were office workers and members of the maintenance staffs.

Actually, members of the committee claimed, there were fewer strikers returned to work to-day than on the day previous. They said no weavers had resumed work at the Auburn plant.

The Auburn management said the looms were running.

The committee called a general meeting of strikers for three o'clock this afternoon in Paragon Hall and a mass meeting on the Market Square for seven o'clock p.m.

A statement issued to the press by English was as follows:

"The first intimation I had of a message from Premier Hepburn was when Mayor Macdonald called me about six p.m. (Monday) with regard to such a message which he later delivered. Subsequently that evening I again approached the Mayor stating that it would be impossible to place this message before the strikers and do so with justice to them, and to the contents of the message. The message gave a promise that was an ambiguous one which could not be determined in a few moments. I got in conversation with Premier Hepburn and he agreed with me it would be impossible to place his message intelligently before the strikers. In view of the appeal from Premier Hepburn, to return to work, and the fact that the noon mail on Monday carried an invitation to all strikers to return to work, with the promise of "adequate protection for those so desiring, it was evident that the company and the authorities must have been conversing and planning for the re-opening of the mills. Such being the case, it is very unfair to strikers and the Strike Committee, that they should be presented with a last-minute appeal in the possibility of coaxing them back to work and preventing incidents which occurred Tuesday morning.

Such incidents were not of our own making. The absurdity of the situation should be obvious to all, to think that in a matter of five or six hours we could work out all the details involved in Premier Hepburn's message, and call together seven hundred widely-separated employees and place the matter intelligently before them. It should also be evident that it was impossible to present this message on Tuesday, as some of us were confined to goal most of the day, making it impossible to call meetings."

Is Still Held

ALEX WELCH

U.T.W. organizer was still in custody at noon today on two charges in connection with the disturbance at Bonner-Worth Mill. Others of the fifteen arrested, who were also held were Gordon Dundas, a striker, and Clifford Hutchinson a non-striker and former employee of Dominion Woollens. Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., said while J. L. Cohen representing workers as labor legal advisor had discussed the question of bail for Welch no formal application had been made up to noon. The Crown Attorney said he was prepared to allow Welch bail in the sum of $5,000 with property security. In the case of Dundas he said bail had been set at $1,000 but had not been posted, while no application for bail had been launched in connection with the charge against Hutchinson.

G. Rendren, three months' telephone account, $6.75; Wages—P. Morin, $29.50; C. Birch, $54.60; H. Arthurs, $30.20. Total $1,875.36.

TOURISTS TURNING TO OLDER DIONNES

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—While the quintuplets recovered today from slight colds, the older children of Oliva and Elzire Dionne drew the attention of hundreds of tourists.

Daniel, Rose and Ernest played around their father's souvenir booth across from Dafoe hospital yesterday. Today they were joined by Therese and Pauline. The tourists flocked to watch them while across the street behind heavy screening the quints remained hidden from their gaze.

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, physician to the Quints, said in a statement at least four of the babies would be able to be seen Friday but until then the visitors were just out of luck.

"The quintuplets, ill since the first of the week with slight colds, continue to show progress toward recovery," Dr. Dafoe's statement said. "If they continue to improve and their temperatures remain normal it is expected that the morning and afternoon showings will be resumed Friday with at least four of the girls in the playground.

"Due to their nervous condition their resting periods both in the nursery and outside have been extended and it is expected that in the next 24 hours they will approach their normal state."

Local Advice Ignored By Strikers Preferred Welch Gordon Charges

"Day by day and week by week I advised the employees of the Auburn and Bonner-Worth that they had no right to forcibly prevent employees from going to work or coming out," Hon. G. N. Gordon said today. "In fact, in some cases I had shown what the law was, but the young crowd, apparently, had as much confidence in Alex Welch, the C.I.O. leader, and Mr. Cohen, his lawyer in Toronto, that local advice and opinion had little effect on the young element.

"The more matured and experienced workers generally accepted the advice, but the hot-headed crowd of pulling girls and young men, apparently, could not be restrained with the fact that Peterborough has got more bad advertising in the last twenty-four hours than it has had in the last twenty-five years.

"The effect of this uproar and disorder can have no other effect than keeping manufacturing concerns away from the City, because of their objection to C.I.O. tactics, and these young men and young women, who might have obtained positions in new factories, will require, probably, to remain in textile employment, because they did not obey the law and were guilty of disorderly conduct.

Labor Board Has Failed Rowe Claims

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 11. — The "bombing by tear gas" and the "clubbing" of strikers in the labor riot at Peterborough on Tuesday was a "clear-cut indication" that the Hepburn Government's newly created Labor and Industry Board had failed in its duties, Hon. Earl Rowe, Provincial Conservative Leader, claimed here tonight in an interview.

Premier Hepburn's Government, he declared, was "entirely lacking in a knowledge of industrial conditions," and was "hopelessly floundering to get by a general election."

The Conservative leader was interviewed just prior to his speech at the Elgin Conservative Nominating Convention in Pinafore Park here.

"It is regrettable that labor differences in Peterborough have been allowed to develop to such an extent as that reported in the press," Mr. Rowe said.

"Law and order must be maintained; this is only the common obligation of any party in power.

"However, the tear-gas bombs and batons used against our women and children are at least a clear-cut indication of the failure on the part of the Government's Labor and Industry Board.

"To call now for a commission of investigation into the textile industry to review conditions that have been twice investigated in order to search for a cause is indeed an admission that the present Government is entirely lacking in a knowledge of industrial conditions and is hopelessly floundering to get by a general election.

"This problem far transcends party politics," Mr. Rowe said.

LETTER EXCHANGE AN ITALIAN RUSE

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(CP-Havas)—The Daily Herald, Labor party organ, today denounced the recent exchange of friendly letters by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Mussolini as a "Fascist manoeuvre to obtain recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia."

Italian Ambassador Dino Grandi, the diplomatic editor of the Herald said, began by delivering to the Prime Minister a personal letter "or greetings to a brother of Sir Austen from a friend of Sir Austen."

(The late Sir Austen Chamberlain, half-brother of the Prime Minister, was considered friendly to Italy during his term as foreign secretary).

In these circumstances, Chamberlain was forced to reply, whereupon Italian Foreign Minister Ciano announced "A most important exchange of letters," adding the path was open to settlement of the problem of Ethiopia, the newspaper said.

Ciano then started rumors in Rome that Foreign Secretary Eden would visit the Italian capital, and that the Italian ambassador would go to Scotland to confer with British statesmen, the Herald continued.

At this point, it continued, the foreign office, embarrassed, poured cold water on the rumors, saying negotiations might better be conducted in Rome after the vacation of Ambassador Sir Eric Drummond.

Rome immediately announced that negotiations would open in September, the Herald said.

SLIP IN JUDGMENT.

TORONTO, August 11 — (CP).—Failure of Ray Lynch to use "necessary precaution" in landing his airplane near Barker Field, north of Toronto, July 24, caused the 24-year-old Toronto pilot's death, a coroner's jury decided here last night. The verdict concluded the death was accidental.

Leonard Tripp, licensed pilot, who witnessed the accident, said Lynch had made an "error in judgment" in not gliding at an angle which would have maintained the flying speed of the airplane.

The Rambling REPORTERS

ALICE IN WONDERLAND.

Said the Princess to the Striker, "Are you going to move on?" "No," replied the striker, "I have a right to see these men". "Lock him up", (well, no, the princess would likely have said); "Off with his head".

COVERS STRIKE FRONT.

Tom Wilson, ace Toronto newspaper photographer, made himself right at home in the dark room of a local photographic studio yesterday afternoon. He developed his own negatives—a whole batch of them—of strike scenes snapped at Park and McDonnel Streets, where another gas bomb was released by police shortly after five o'clock. A member of the studio staff who assisted by rocking a tray of hypo back and forth to hasten the fixing of negatives, remarked with reference to the operation he was performing, "I believe in agitation." "I hope you don't mean strike agitation," Wilson replied with a cheery sense of humor.

THREE IS A CROWD

He was a sedate little dog trotting obediently along at the end of a leash held by a dignified gentleman. The only thing that detracted from this spectacle of calm and dignified obedience was the attendance of two other dogs following at a safe distance, unnoticed by the owner of the aforesaid sedate little dog, which kept encouraging his freer friends by mild backward glances from time to time.—C.L.M.

Workers Taken Through Jeering Crowd

Stormy scenes such as the above were witnessed Tuesday morning and afternoon on the local strike front. This photo was made shortly after five o'clock yesterday at Park and McDonnel streets as workers trooped from the Bonner-Worth Mill through a jeering throng of strikers. Spectators not directly concerned with the textile dispute got mixed up with police as they arrived to await developments. (B.N.S. Photo.)

Strikers' Relief Committee Plans To Cease Functioning

Recommend Monies on Hand Be Used in Cases of Sickness in Families of Employees.

Chairman P. T. Tuggey and G. N. Gordon, the Secretary of the Textile Workers' Relief Committee told the Examiner today that they propose to recommend to the Committee that the monies in hand be used for taking care of the cases of sickness and other cases of unednourished children among the employees of the Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills and they did not intend to recommend to the Committee that ablebodied young men and young women be given any assistance where they could work.

Chairman Tuggey said there would be printed in the Examiner in a short time a list of all contributors and a statement of all monies received in detail, with a statement of monies paid out and all monies paid out have been paid by cheque and the balance of the monies in hand it is expected will be used as suggested. Both Mr. Tuggey and Mr. Gordon warned the public against giving canned fruit and money to people canvassing from door to door because they did not have any authority from this Committee and this Committee is the only committee representative of the citizens and the employees of the two mills.

No credentials have been given to any one for money, food or clothing and so far as the Chairman and Secretary know none of this money or goods collected were handed into to the depot or none of the Committee received the monies collected expect the monies that were collected on Saturday by the taggers.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 12

A rather lively and enterprising day is the augurfy based on the predominant planetary operations. This activity may have to do with the personal factors of life, the pursuit of pleasure of matters calculated to enhance the social or fashionable importance. Friendship figures, proving profitable, although probably calling for certain extravagances or unusual expenditures. There may be small worries or deception but, generally, affairs flourish.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a flourishing year, with many progressive and expansive influences combining to make a prosperous and pleasant year. Important friendships figure in preferments and favors, probably of financial importance. However, these may call for unusual expenditures and some extravagance.

A child born on this day may be prone to a life of show, fashion and pleasure, and may attain distinction in such avenues because of its social graces, good nature, kindliness and charming personality.

GHOST OF A SPIDER.

SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 11.—(CP).—Mrs. Henry H. Karpicke thought she was seeing the ghost of a spider when she came across an insect with a perfectly white body about half an inch long and legs an inch and a half long resembling glass tubes. She put the spider in a jar and is looking for someone who can identify it.

Strike Battle Souvenirs

The cylindrical object in the picture is the cannister of the tear gas bomb that was used by police outside the main gateway of the Bonner-Worth plant as Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited threw open their mills on Tuesday morning. Alongside of it is the handle of a riot stick that was probably broken over some luckless strikers head. (B.N.S. Photo.)

HAMILTON CADET IS HIGH SCORER IN IMPERIAL CUP

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Aug. 11 (C.P.).—Cadet George Christopher, 18-year-old Hamilton Central Collegiate Institute shooting ace, was the proudest Cadet to-day at the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

He was winner of the Imperial Cadet Cup, awarded to the Cadet making the highest aggregate to score in the Tyro, Macdougall, and Bankers matches. The youth compiled 203 points to win the cup for the second year in a row.

In the long history of the D.R.A. only one other person has ever won the cup twice. Lieut. G. E. Matchett of Hamilton did the trick when he was a member of the H.C.C.I. in the late 20's.

Ottawa Cameron Highlanders won the Walker Cup, awarded to the team making the highest score in the Walker match. The Highlanders' team compiled 260 points, two more than the Saint John Fusiliers.

Captures Borden Cup.

The Royal Grenadiers of Toronto, team of four, captured the Borden Challenge Cup with 139 points. The cup was awarded to the team making the highest score in the Borden match, a rapid fire affair over 300 yards. The Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver were second with 138.

The Victoria Rifles of Canada Challenge Trophy was won by Saint John Fusiliers' team of four with 491 points. The Royal Canadian Air Force was second with 489, two more than the Hamilton Central Collegiate Institute.

The Kirkpatrick Cup, given the team of four making the highest aggregate score in the Macdougall, Walker and Bankers matches, was won by the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto.

OBITUARY

MRS. FRANK BURNS

The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital this morning of Evelyn Annie Lush widow of Frank Burns, after a month's illness. Mrs. Burns whose home address was at 283 Hunter street west passed away in her 43rd year. A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lush she was born in Peterborough and had spent her entire lifetime here. She was a member of St. John's Church. Surviving are two sons Conway and Marland and a brother Harry Lush, all of this city. The funeral is to be held on Friday at 2 o'clock p.m. from Belleghem's Funeral Home with interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

NOBLE JONES.

There passed away in the General Hospital at Chilliwack, B.C., Noble Jones, an old Cavan Township boy. Mr. Jones died on Saturday as the result of a stroke he suffered on August 1. His wife predecessed him in December, 1936, and since that time he has been living alone at his home in Sardis, B.C. He leaves five brothers: George, Elly, Elmour, Rev. W. W. and J. Hilliard. The funeral was held on Monday in Chilliwack.

ERNEST NELSON.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 11. — Mrs. William Frankish of Douro received word on Tuesday of the death of her nephew, Ernest Nelson, son of Mrs. J. K. Nelson and the late Mr. Nelson of Carberry.

Deceased, who was in his twenty-second year, died at 8 p.m. on August 9. He had been in poor health for some time, and was attending Normal School in Manitoba when poor health forced him to give up his studies.

Mr. Nelson is survived by his mother, who before her marriage was Jane Tedford of this district, a sister of Mrs. William Frankish. One sister, Bertha and one brother Clarence also survive.

Bonner-Worth Mill Wins First In Horticultural Competition

Winners Are Announced in Annual Lawn and Garden Competition.

The Bonner-Worth mill of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds was the winner of a first prize for factory grounds in the annual lawn and garden competition of the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

The city's gas plant, the Canadian Legion and Queen Mary hospital were other winners. An increased number of entries this season indicated a broader interest in this activity of the Society. Exhibits were of high order, and great credit is due to those citizens who have devoted the necessary time and work to promote this praiseworthy community effort.

In class B for gardens 40 feet and over first prize goes to Mrs. Plunkett of Keene for a particularly fine garden, well laid out with a large variety of flowers, and a fine showing of urns, boxes and pots filled with geraniums, giant petunias, and other flowers, at every window and door way.

Second prize in this class went to Mrs. E. T. McEwan, Manning avenue with a good all around garden and very nice display of urns and window boxes. A feature of this exhibit was the very fine lawn of almost pure grass. Third prize, Mr. C. S. Browne, Benson avenue, a very worthy exhibit with a particularly good lawn. In this class the garden of Mr. D. G. H. Melton, Monaghan Road was a notable entry but as its main attraction is a sunken rock garden which would be at its best in spring, it had not the floral display of the winners. A lily pool with tropical lillies in bloom and a walnut tree with clusters of nuts were notable features. Also in this class were several very fine white delphiniums in the garden of Mrs. C. S. Thompson, McDonnel street.

Class C Under 40 Feet

First in this class goes to Mr. T. Forbes, Rogers stret for a beautifully laid out garden with a great variety of flowers and some novelties, one of which Nemophila Insignis was very effective in a border. Second prize, Mr. B. Lucas, Reid street. This garden had not the variety of the first prize winner but the most perfect lawn of any exhibit.

Class D

Working Men's Garden

First, Mr. T. Matthews, Lakefield. A fine garden in perfect shape and great variety. Here the art of successive planting is a feature.

Second prize, Mr. H. Turner, Douglas avenue. A close runner up but not so large a variety as the previous one.

Third prize, F. Dainton, 180 Auburn street. A well planted garden, nicely laid out and well cultivated.

Class I

Rock Gardens

First prize, Mr. G. Benton, 782 Water street. A beautiful little garden where the most is made of a limited space. A pool and a very fine variety of rock and alpine plants make up a very pleasing ensemble.

Second prize, W. G. Cook, Lock street. Another fine entry with some notable accessories. Models of deer, gnomes and elves give quite a woodland appearance and a crystal globe adds to the effectiveness of the whole.

Class E

The Bonner-Worth Mills was the only entry in this class and made a very fine showing with its well kept lawns and background of creeper covered buildings.

Class F

The city gas plant was the only entry in this class. This well known beauty spot on Hunter street was in its usual fine condition, the perennial border well kept and the lawns in first class condition.

Class H

In this class the Isolation Hospital heads the list with a magnificent border of shrubs and herbaceous perennials. The grounds are well kept and a noticable feature is the splendid cedar hedge.

Second prize, Legion Hall. These grounds were in very good shape particularly the lawn which showed up fresh and green at a rather trying time.

The thanks of the society were expressed to Frank Biddle, William Turnbull and David Jordan the three judges who gave much of their valuable time without remuneration in the judging of the contest.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By an Examiner Reporter.

TO OPEN FLOWER SHOW.

The flower show of the Horticultural Society will be opened Friday evening at 8 o'clock by John F. Clarke of Toronto, provincial lecturer in horticulture for the Department of Agriculture.

QUINTUPLET CABBAGE.

In the vegetable kingdom old mother nature has duplicated the Callandar quints. George Morency, Gladstone avenue gardener has a single cabbage stalk that has sprouted five heads.

SPECIAL FLORAL MENTION.

For his fine display of petunias Archie McDonald of the Fire Department is hereby awarded special mention. His flowers are a brilliant display at the northwest corner of Rubidge and Dalhousie streets.

TEMPORARY DELAY.

Completion of the riprap embankment of Little Lake on Crescent street has been suspended for a day or two waiting for a supply of stone from the city's pit to finish the work which will then be carried on by the Little Lake cemetery board some distance along the cemetery front.

RACES AT EXHIBITION.

Six trotting races are included in the program for the last three days of the Peterborough Exhibition. Thursday's feature event with be a 2.14 trot and also 2.29 class. Friday 2.24 and 2.18 classes, and Saturday 2.20 trot and free-for-all. The purses are $200 for each race.

OBTAIN CERTIFICATES

Certifcates have been granted to Sgt. R. F. Rae and Gnr. G. W. Kemp of the 4th Field Battery and to Ptes. F. E. Britnell, I. J. Charlton, L. G. Harvie, L. T. Hele, B. G. Johnston, B. Leggett, M.P. Madden, M. J. McGill and J. Mose of the Prince of Wales Rangers, Military headquarters at Kingston announces today.

POLICE COURT DESERTED.

By direct contrast with the scene of the previous morning when the public benches were crowded as strikers were arraigned on charges of obstruction and assault, magistrate's court was virtually deserted this morning as a few traffic cases were heard. The usual habituees of the public bench had deserted presumably in the belief they could find more excitement on the strike front.

HOLIDAY WITH PAY.

Although the plant is humming with sustained activity, Johnson Motors Company is going to knock off for a week's holidays with pay for all hands from August 29 until Labor Day. A skeleton crew will remain around the factory to take care of any emergency calls and orders, and to look after the place, but otherwise the staff is going to put in a week's fishing or something like that.

LIGHTNING STRIKES JANETVILLE HOME

(Examiner Correspondence.)

JANETVILLE, Aug 11.—During the severe electrical storm on Sunday lightening struck the home of Lawrence Wright entering via the radio which was burning as well as the wall around it when Mr. Wright and his daughter arrived home from church. The house was filled with smoke and for a time they could not find the seat of the fire but after much hurry and excitement were successful in extinguishing the blaze. The Hydro transformer opposite their home was also burned out and the community was without power the remainder of the day until the Hydro Co. arrived to make reparation.

Jolson, Keeler, Marx "Shaved" By Bottle

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—(AP).—Police jailed Theodore Watts, 26, early to-day on suspicion of throwing an empty liquor bottle that endangered Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler, formerly of Halifax, and slightly cut Chico Marx when it was splintered against the Olympic auditorium boxing ring.

The bottle crashed over the heads of ringsiders in the seventh round of the main event, between old George Godfrey, negro heavyweight of Leiperville, Pa., and Hank Hankinson, Akron, O.

Referee Max Baer stopped the fight while officers searched the balcony.

Refreshed by the two-minute rest, Hankinson then made short work of Godfrey.

BROWN BOMBER HAS VERY BEST SPAR PARTNERS

POMPTON LAKES, N.J.—Working on the theory that inefficient sparing partners are more of a handicap than a help, Joe Louis's managers have surrounded the world champion with a group of highly capable ringmen to help him prepare here for his bout with Tommy Farr, British title-holder, at the Yankee Stadium on August 26.

"It is by far the best crowd of boxers Joe ever had in his boxing career," says Jack Blackburn, the champion's mentor, "and I am quite certain that no fighter ever had such a group to put him in condition."

This view is not confined to Blackburn alone. Managers, boxers and experienced ring followers who have visited the Louis camp here subscribe to the same belief. After each of his workouts, to date, the type of sparring partners formed the chief point of discussion among the ring veterans.

May Make Joe Look Bad.

"Joe is likely to look bad in some of his workouts," comments John Rosborough, one of the champion's managers. "But we want him in the best possible shape for the bout with Farr. Weak sparring partners would make him look marvellous in his training, but they couldn't begin to put him in such condition as these boxers will."

The five whom Blackburn hopes to keep working with the champion until the Farr bout are Marty Gallagher, rough and rugged Washington heavyweight, who is to provide Joe with plenty of mauling to get him in shape for a bruising bout; Pal Silvers, veteran Brooklynite, who provides speed and enough ring knowledge to keep the champion alert at all times; Roy Lazer, 202-pounder from Paterson, who once trained with Farr; Tiger Hairstone, Pittsburg negro, who carries a snappy left jab, a hard right hand punch and plenty of speed, and, finally, George Nicholson, rugged negro boxer, who is a sharpshooter as well as a mixer.

The manufacturers of golf equipment frequently come out with something to add to the players' comfort. The latest addition to the list of accessories is a pair of rubbers as good as any golf shoes. They can be worn over you regular street shoes. They have hob nails or regular golf spikes in the soles to prevent slipping. The cost is nominal.

I think that every player should carry a pair of them in his kit. All of the travelling pros have them and use them to good advantage. Some are made to look like regular shoes, others like ordinary rubbers. When you stop to realize that a golfer can be no better than his feet, such an item becomes a necessity. The pros cannot go very far with wet feet, or if their feet were slipping around on wet ground. I can well understand their almost universal use of this new accessory.

The rubbers are not heavy as one might suspect. I've worn them many times instead of my regular shoes, particularly when it looked as though it might rain before we finished our round. It is a small investment that will pay big dividends. By all means ask your pro to get them for you if he doesn't stock them.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

THERE is a junior baseball playoff tonight at Riverside if the weather is reasonable, between Cobourg and the local Rotarians at six bells. It is the second game of the two-in-three Lakeshore League playoffs, Rotary having won the first. They hope to make it two in a row but may run into a snag here. Ralph's Rotarians have a lot of class when they're going right and may make a real splash in the O.B.A.A. junior playdown puddle if they hurdle the Lakeshore lads. Chances are they would meet a Belleville team next, and don't look now but we suspect the Quinte tribe may be one piloted by our old pal, Umpire Woodley! He and the writer get along just like feuding mountaineers, and we anticipate lots of fun if it is the Woodley crew vs. Rotarians in the playdowns. The tilt tonight rates a big crowd as it promises to be a nifty ball game.

DOWN in Napanee today, the Petes were scheduled to tackle the Gibbards in a game that is decidedly "croocial" with a capital "K"—yessir. A win for the Gerowmen will tie 'em with the Petes in the playoffs. We don't know at this writing if Kitchen made the trip or not but, if so, he will draw the hurling assignment, while the Collins' crowd will probably be facing the portside slants of Lefty Pointer. The tussle should be tighter than a Tia Juana barfly on Christmas Eve, with no mercy asked or given. Les Burton will not be playing—being off on vacash—and Whatley (the handy man of the club) is likely to do his stuff in left field.

OSHAWA GM-men are in Kingston today—if rain holds off—and we look for a Motor City victory. We may be wrong but we have a hunch that Joe Daley is aiming at the second-place slot and not worrying if Oshawa cops the top rung. Second place means the Ponies will have an extra gate or two in the semi-finals against Napanee or the Petes—either of whom Joe thinks his club can lick handily. Meantime, Oshawa would be idle for over a week. It stands to reason the Ponies would sooner keep in trim with a semi-final playoff—not forgetting the extra dough, either—provided they can win out and meet Oshawa then in finals. The only sticker is: What if the Ponies were knocked off in these semi-finals? 'Twould be downright funny.

SOFTBALL games tonight and tomorrow are: Wednesday—Young Petes vs. Westclox at Central; Thursday—Westclox and Motorists in a playoff game a Central; and Keene and Westclox gals in a playoff number at the Bowl. These games are hotcha numbers now and well worth seeing, folks.

* * * * * *

WESTCLOX GALS copped the first of their second-half playoff games from Keene hers last e'en, 24 to 10—a scandalous score. Hits on the part of the Clockmakers were freer than strike talk about town yesterday, as they bingled the offerings of Bea McDowell to beck and gone. M. Snowden pitched fair ball for the winners and had better backing than did her mound rival. But 'twas the potent Westclox bats that did the real damage to Ivan Fletcher's feminine team. Included in the two dozen money clouts were homers by M. Allison, M. Selkirk and M. Hawthorne, and triples by D. Merrett, A Sturgeon and M. Allison. Barb Blade hit four singles and a double. Keene outfielders looked shell-shocked along about the sixth canto. Next tilt in this serial is tomorrow eve at the Bowl.

SCRIBE CAMPBELL of the Oshawa 222-ers is tickled naturally with his team's 16-14 win over Auburns a few nights back. Says the locals tied up the count about five times but were outpointed at the close. "King and Whitton," says Campbell, "were easily outstanding for their team, Miller, Cadd and Dallin played strong games defensively and the fiery Red Creighton drew attention of the referee with his rough checking and charging Oshawa players in the corners. E. Creighton gave Bovin plenty of stick but when Bovin retaliated he didn't fool much. Brother Red left his goal but he ran his nose into the end of a stick and then others stepped in and stopped the fracas. The game was rough and rugged with several Oshawa players, other than DeGray's injury, coming out with marks of the battle, cuts requiring stitches, etc." The playoffs between these teams ought to be hot.

BILL TURNBULL has been re-appointed coach of the Orfuns and the scrappy William should again whip the local gridders into a fighting unit this autumn. He is checking the half dozen or so newcomers on their records, gents like Long, Jakaffy, Loucks, Begley and others. A chalk talk and get-together of the players will be held Thursday night at 7.30 in the "Y" and every player interested is urged to attend. Raffle tickets will be available this week and go on sale at once. Jack Bennett has been named assistant to Secretary Jim Morley and will attend to equipment and ground arrangements. First grid group meeting will be held in Cobourg the first week of September.

THEY are trying to talk up rugby in Belleville, suggesting a Belleville-R.C.A.F. combine, to keep the game going there this fall. Seems the club dropped quite a few shekels last semester and require half a grand—which is 500 simoleons—to get under way this time. There are a number of first-rate footballers in the Quinte town and half a dozen or so stars of the pigskin sport at the Airport. And Billy Hughes, famed grid mentor from Western Canda, available as a coach. The Quinte columnist says other clubs in the group will be bolstered plenty and state Orfuns have added Campbell and others from Lindsay. Not Campbell, pal, just Loucks and Begley—both of whom should help. He figures Cobourg will be stronger, too, and may have Chuck Peck, star pass-taker and propeller of Queen's. The mammoth Peck would make the Lakeshore lads mighty contenders.

DESE, dem and dose: Just heard that tonight's men's softball tilt is off, as the Westclox-Motorists' playoffs must be hurried and the Alarm Boys may have to play three times yet this week.... Onemee pasted the Young Petes badly in their round-robin meeting last p.m. here....Jim Dorris had word today from Les Burton, in Hamilton, that he would meet the team in Napanee today if the game was to be played—a fine team spirit, eh?....Belleville Collegiate may not affiliate in rugby with the C.O.S.S.A. this year, claiming too much dough for any honors attained....Oshawa writer gives the late Charlie Lloyd a nice boost as "the keenest baseball fan Peterborough ever had"....Lacrosse games this Friday—Oshawa at Norwood, and Belleville vs. Auburns here....Lot of local tennis dope in tonight.... It is raining in Napanee today and they just phoned to announce that the ball game is called off; dunno when it will be played....Armour cut his finger the other day, so Ralph's Rotarians will start either Todd or Condon on the mound tonight, if the junior joust is played here....Guess we'll get a guest columnist to do the guessing here henceforth; who wants to try it? Or maybe we'll guess again.

Park Avenue and Plain Folk Mingle For 12th Running of Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 11.—(AP).—Park Avenue, Broadway and just plain folks, some 40,000 strong, moved in on this little horse-loving community to-day with the 12th Hambletonian as the magnet.

Twelve of the finest three-year-old trotters the sport could assemble have been named for the race, richest of light-harness horse stakes with a value of close to $40,000.

The field will parade to the post at 3.00 p.m. E.D.T. for the first of the two heat in three heats.

The race figured to be a three-horse affair, involving Desota, owned by Paul Bowser, Boston wrestling impresario; Schnapps, seeking a second Hambletonian victory for the Winston-Salem, N.C., tobacco magnate, W. N. Reynolds; and Twilight Song, pride of Bill Strang's Desota, a $7,500 investment as a yearling, jumped into the spotlight about a month ago after Schnapps and Twilight Song had dominated the 1936 two-year-old situation and carried off early honors on the Grand Circuit. He won one heat of the National Stakes at Old Orchard Beach, Maine, in 2:02¼, took an overnight event at the same track and then whipped his two chief rivals in the American Stakes, a week ago at Agawam, Mass.

As the result, Desota was installed the 3-2 favorite with Schnapps and Twilight Song held at 3-1 and 9-2 respectively.

Sales of anesthetic lenses of methylmethacrylate, the artificial transparent gum, are mounting rapidly in England.

Mike At Top Of Big-Time Now

Capping his colorful career as "Czar of Boxing" Mike Jacobs reads congratulatory telegrams after it was officially announced that he had taken over control of Madison Square Garden and the Garden's Long Island bowl in New York. Jacobs, who once sat in the garden offices as Tex Rickard's assistant, has often been referred as the brains behind the famous promoter's "Million dollar gates." In moving into the "house that Tex built," by way of leases for 1937-8-9, Mike gained a virtual monopoly of big-time boxing.

'Red' Ruffus 'Ruffing Up' The American League Race

Yanks' Hurling Ace Has Won Fifteen and Lost Three This Season.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Rufus the Red, the eight-toed man from Nokomis, Ill., is Ruffing up the American League again.

The record book reads: Won 16, lost 3, but that tells only half the story about the wide-shouldered red-head, who seems to be carrying the New York Yankees to another pennant. Carrying them on the strength of his stout right arm, which streaks a fast ball across the plate; carrying them with his heart that is as stout as the man who hires him—Colonel Jake Ruppert.

No other pitcher in the American League, as this is written, has won 1[illegible] games. Only one other man in the big leagues has done it. That's right, Hubbell.

The real story about Red Ruffing is that he reported almost a month late this season—the most stubborn hold-out in the major leagues. No Florida sunshine had soaked the stiffness out of his arm; no trainer had watched over him as a mother watches over her first-born; there had been no jaunts around the field in the afternoon to prepare his legs for the long, hard months ahead. All he had when he reported was a glove and a prayer. He still has the glove—and he doesn't need the prayer any more.

Any other pitcher would have needed a month to get into condition. A week after Ruffing reported, he pitched. He won. He's been doing itever since.

Worked In Mines

Years ago Red was working in an Illinois mine. It was hard, brusing work, but Ruffing was big for his age, and was getting along fine. Getting along fine, that is until one day there was an accident. A few hours later, in a hospital, they told him he had lost two toes off one foot.

Few persons would have thought about going in for an athletic career after that—but few people, either, would have pitched a ball game a week after reporting in a cold, rainy spring.

Red started by playing semi-pro ball. He played every day, too, for in addition to being a pitcher, he can hit. Many a time, when the ball game is on the fire, Joe McCarthy will beckon to the big redhead and send him up there as a pinch hitter. He wins ball games in both boxes—the pitcher's and the batter's.

Do the two missing toes handicap Red? He says no. He had almost forgotten about them, in fact, until last fall. It was the day before the first game of the World Series between the Yankees and the Giants.

Bannockburn Falls To Marmora Outfit

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Aug. 11. — By the close decision of 10-9, Marmora softball team defeated Bannockburn on the local Fair Grounds on Tuesday. The game was one of the speediest seen here in years, nine innings being played in about seventy-five minutes. John Fox pitched throughout for the winners, while Lloyd Davis, who started for the Northerners, was replaced by James Hunter in the fourth, James Sandford for the losers, secured a home run. Frank Burns, second baseman for Marmora, pulled off a sensational catch in the ninth which retired the side and halted a scoring spree.

The teams:

Bannockburn — L. Davis, p, ss; C. Goodchild, 2b; J. Hanson, cf; A. Shaw, c; G. Wiley, 3b; J. Sandford, rf; J. Trotter, 1b; I. Hunter, cf, p; L. Sandford, lf.

Marmora — A. Nobes, 3b; F. Hamilton, 1b; J. Fox, p's; T. Smith, c; O. Cronkwright, rf; E. Gray, lf; D. Phillips, cf; Frank Burns, 2b; Fred Burns, ss.

Score by innings:

Bannockburn	211 300 011— 9
Marmora	000 221 206—10

ENGLISH CRICKET SQUAD TRIUMPHS WINNIPEG MATCH

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11 (CP).—The touring M.C.C. team was scheduled to meet a Winnipeg St. George eleven again today in the concluding match of its stay in the Manitoba city. In a close match yesterday the English cricketers defeated St. George by three wickets.

The victory was the second for the tourists since the opening game of the series, which will take them to the Pacific coast. At Waterloo, Ont., they had a margin of four wickets over Western Ontario.

More than 1,000 saw the English team triumph in the first match ever played in Western Canada by a representative M.C.C. side.

Bowlers were on top throughout the day. Both teams were forced to sit on the spilce," so keen was the attack on a drying wicket. Captain G. C. Newman decided to put the home team in first, and his tactics were successful as the Canadians were dismissed for a meagre 81.

But when the M.C.C. went in after lunch runs were just as hard to get, and seven wickets had fallen before the winning hits were made. The Englishmen finished their innings for 124.

Honors for the match went to D. W. A. Forbes, the Eton bowler, and C. J. Bligh of the St. George team. Forbes dismissed six Winnipeg players for 31, and the young Manitoban took five for 53.

The youthful Winnipeg team included seven men who learned their cricket in Canada.

Corp. A. Greenwood Wins Bankers Match

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—Corp. A. H. Greenwood of Vancouver, Tuesday won the rich Bankers Match at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association. The triumph was the second major match to go to the coast. Monday Corp. P. M. Gibault of Vancouver won the MacDougall Match.

None of the 450-odd sharpshooters was able to put 20 regulation shots into the bull's-eye over 300 and 600 yards. Greenwood outguessed a shimmering mirage and seemed not to feel the heat as he posted 98 of a possible 100. He carded a possible 50 and 300 yards, but dropped his second and 10th shots at 600 into the inner circle. Victory gave him top prize money, the Patterson Cup and miniature.

Series Of Events Announced For City Tennis Tournament

Top Reinsman

BEN WHITE

In the 11 years that the $40,000 Hambletonian stake for trotters has been raced at Goshen, N.Y., only one man has won twice—63-year-old Ben White. White may make it three times this year, as he has two candidates in the race. They are Twilight Song, which he trains, and Schnapps, which has beaten Twilight Song once this year. White is expected to drive Schnapps, with Sep Palin in the buggy behind Twilight Song.

Games Open Thursday With First Round Over Before End of Week.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the city tennis tournament, held last evening, (Tuesday) it was decided to hold the following events: Ladies' and men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles. Junior events and ladies' doubles will not be held this year due to an insufficient number of entries.

Play will commence Thursday and it is hoped that all first round matches will be completed by the first of the week.

Entry fee of 50c an event or 3 for $1.25 must be paid when first round matches are played. Players are asked to co-operate by supplying balls for their matches in the early rounds and also by being on time.

The following is the draw in the various events for Thursday and Friday.

Rip Collins Suffers Broken Ankle As Chicago Loses 6-5

Slugging First-Sacker Hurt Sliding to Plate—Laid Up For Month.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(CP)— An accident may have accomplished what the combined efforts of seven major league clubs couldn't bring about—endanger Chicago Cubs' hold on first place in the National Baseball League.

Today, it's true enough, the Bruins still are six games up on the Giants. But, as they resume their series with the Pirates, they do so in the knowledge that, for the next month—to within a few weeks of the season's end—they will have to struggle along without the services of Jim (the Ripper) Collins, fancy-fielding run-producing first baseman who was such a valuable factor in their climb to the top.

Like the Yankees, the Cubs have managed to bounce back from previous injuries and illnesses. Tex Carleton, Larry French, Billy Herman, Gabby Hartnett, even Manager Charley Grimm—they are just a few of the north siders who have been incapacitated at one time or another this season.

Fractures Ankle.

But it will take a lot of bouncing to make up for the loss of Collins. There are harder hitters in the senior circuit than the Ripper. When the first baseman, a bone in his right ankle fractured as the result of a desperate but futile slide for home, was carried to the dressing room at Wrigley Field yesterday, he had a batting average of .278. The batting average, though, doesn't tell the whole story. It fails to show that Collins with fifth in the league in driving in runs, that he clouted 15 homers, that his defensive work had been just what Dr. Grimm ordered when he got the Ripper from the Cardinals last winter in a deal that also involved Lonnie Warneke and Roy Parmelee.

With the last third of the campaign in sight—the Cubs' 6-5 defeat by the Pirates yesterday was their 100th game, and Collins had been in every one—the first base portfolio now must be entrusted to Phil Cavaretta, part-time outfielder whose fielding average in 1936, when he placed in 115 games at first base, put him in seventh place among the regular incumbents.

While the Cubs were bowing to the Pirates and Al Todd's four-run homer, Boston Bees kept them from losing any ground to the Giants. Danny McFayden, veteran Boston right-hander, put an effective six-hit damper on the Terrymen that stopped them, 6-1, and gave them a record of one un-earned run in their last two starts.

Warneke Handcuffs 3-2

Meanwhile Cardinal Warneke moved a victory ahead of teammate Dizzy Dean by hand-cuffing the Reds, 3-2, with six hits for his 13th triumph, and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies, 7-3, to inch a step further away from the National League cellar.

In the American League the Senators went off on a scoring spree that produced victories over the Athletics by 15-7 and 8-6 and brought them within a game of fifth place. The White Sox moved into third, half a game and one percentage point ahead of the Reds by nosing out Mickey Cochrane's crew, 6-4.

The Yanks and Red Sox, in Boston, and the Browns and Indians, in Cleveland, were rained out.

Legless Swimmer Plans Long Swim

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 11.—(UP) — Charles Zimmy, 44-year-old legless endurance swimmer, is training for a non-stop swim from Albany to New York.

He expects to take from six to ten days for the 150-mile trip, eating and sleeping in the water. Zimmy lost his legs when he was 9 years old.

After the Hudson attempt, Zimmy said he would tackle the 120-mile expanse of ocean from Key West, Fla., to Havana, Cuba.

GREYHOUND FAILS TO TOUCH RECORD

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 11.—Twelve finely-tuned three-year-old trotters went through their paces Tuesday in preparation for today's renewal of The Hambletonian and then faded into the background while Greyhound, the wonder-horse of the decade, failed by a narrow margin to smash a 15-year-old world record.

Driven by Sep Palin, Indianapolis veteran, Greyhound, himself winner of the 1935 Hambletonian, trotted the last half mile in 57 seconds but needed 1:04¼ to go the first half, after going the first quarter mile in 30¼ seconds.

Earlier in the season, over Goshen's half-mile track, he hung up a mark of 1:59¾ for twice around the oval after trotting a mile in competition in 1:57¼ last year.

Powell Out After Beaning

Jake Powell, New York Yankee outfielder and batting star of the 1936 world series, had to be taken to a hospital after being strick on the left ear by a pitched ball in the fourth inning of a game with the Chicago White Sox. This accident reduces the Yank's outfield to an absolute minimum. Shown here are the players grouped around Powell after the accident.

Westclox Win Verdict Girls' Tilt, Score 24-10

Westclox girls took the first game of the sectional playoff series, 24 to 10, over Keene last night at the Bowl before a fair-sized crowd. The series is best two out of three, the winner to meet Cobourg in the finals. Next game will be Thursday evening at the Bowl and third, if necessary, there on Friday. Last night's game was a slugfest all the way with Westclox hitting the ball hard and often and showing better fielding than their rivals.

Marg Snowden twirled fair ball for the winners, keeping a dozen hits scattered but for two frames. Her support mostly was good. She fanned one and walked one. B. McDowell on the Keene slab was bingled hard all the way, no less than 24 safeties being reached from her delivery. She struck out one and walked one, and had poor support from the other Keenesters.

Heavy Hitting

Barb Blade led the hitters with four singles and a double in six. M. Allison homered, tripled and had two singles. M. Selkirk hit a homer and double and M. Hawthorne a homer and single. A. Sturgeon came through with a triple and three singles, and D. Merrett got a triple. For Keene, D. Darling hit three singles, and M. Belle and Irene Short got triples. Neat fielding displays were shown by M. Allison, M. Ferguson and H. Nelson. The teams:

Keene: H. Nelson, ss; M. Belle, 2b; D. Cocks, c; B. McDowell, p; Irene Short, 1b; D. Darling, rf; M. Miller, lf; I. Short, 3b; T. Mills, cf.

Westclox—I. Favy, c; M. Ferguson, ss; M. Allison, 2b; M. Hawthorne, 3b; D. Merrett, lf; B. Blade, 1b; A. Sturgeon, cf; M. Selkirk, rf; M. Snowden, p.

Fenway Ball Park At Boston Puzzle To DiMaggio's Willow

Joe Has Only Hit One Homer In Eight Games With Yawkey's Hirelings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. — (CP). — There's an explosion due in Boston any day now and, if the citizens of the Hub—especially those in and about Fenway Park—haven't taken the proper precautions, then it's all their own fault.

Opening a three day, four-game stand there this afternoon with his fellow N. York Yankees was Joseph Dimaggio, the stylish San Francisco crab fisherman who also is the major league's most stylish home run producer.

That in itself is not so startling. Everybody knows about Dimaggio, both as a crab fisherman and a home run producer. More surprising is the fact that Fenway Park—home of the Boston Red Sox—is the only American League ball lot in which Dimaggio has not yet touched off one of his four-base specialties.

Just One Homer

In eight games with Tom Yawkey's highpriced hirelings, Joe has hit just one homer, and that was at Yankee Stadium off Rube Walberg, the same Rube Walberg who gave up four of the 60 four-baggers on which Babe Ruth rods to his record 16 years ago.

There's no immediately apparent reason why the slugging sophmore shouldn't be able to connect in Boston or against the Sox. The Yanks themselves have taken six out of eight games from Boston, but possibly Joe has been waiting for that good old psychological moment.

The Red Sox climbing through a home stand against the west boosted themselves from fourth place to second and in the process displaced the White Sox as runners-up. And it's an oft-proved fact—ask Jimmy Dykes—that the champions are toughest when they stack up against the team unfortunate enough to be trailing most closely—9½ games, in this case—behind them.

Besides needing to catch up on that Boston pitching, Jolting Joe needs to catch up 'ith his home run production. He hasn't delivered for exactly a week. On this date 10 years ago, Ruth clouted No. 36 in his 109th game, Joe, for the 98 games, including two ties, which the Yanks have played, has 32.

Intra-Sectional Series.

With inter-sectional competition out of the way for the moment, both leagues today opened on intra-sectional series. In the American League, besides the Yanks and Boston, Washington was at home to the Athletics and, in the western division Chicago was at Detroit and St. Louis at Cleveland.

In the National League the Cubs, six games in front, opened against the Pirates at Chicago. Of their three western rivals, the Bucs have been toughest for the Bruins, having a record of six victories and five defeats. The Cardinals, meanwhile, took on the Reds, the Giants returned home to take on the Bees and the Dodgers, dropping dangerously close to the cellar, visited the last-place Phillies.

CYCLIST SETS RECORD

MANCHESTER, England— (CP) —S. H. Ferris set a record for an unpaced cycle run from Land's End to John O'Groats of two days, six hours and 33 minutes, beating the record held by Hubert Opperman, Australian.

Sports Spice

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (A.P.). — Tops in compliments was served up by Joe Louis.... When Jimmy Braddock visited Joe's camp the other day Louis greeted him: "Hello, champ."....Pretty neat, eh?....If the Jints buy Bucky Walters from the Phils this winter, don't forget you read it here in August....Boy, is it warm in this man's town.

Old Babe Ruth still is hollering his head off about his putting.... Note to Mickey Cochrane: Smiler Sagonish, the six-foot one-inch Indian pitcher from Wallaceburg, Ont., you are going to try out next spring, has a reach six inches longer than his height (according to reports).... What great long arms you have, grandpa....

Mike Jacobs arises at six a.m., rain or shine, and often has his attorney, Sol Strauss, meet him by seven a.m.....Which simply slays Mr. Strauss, who likes to have his coffee in bed two hours later....'n Mickey Owen of the Cardinals is beginning to make good on some of the nice things they said about him last spring....Extra: Here's a guy who can stop Joe Medwick....Orville Jorgens of the Phils gives Joe a base on balls, then generally catches him napping off the bag.

Rogers Hornsby may make a business trip to Cleveland soon....Cincinnati Reds of 1869, who won the first pennant in organized ball, had a payroll of only $9,300....The team was undefeated from March 16 to November 15....George Wright, the shortstop, was top salaried man with $1,400 for the season.

Yesterday's Stars

(By the Associated Press.)

Danny MacFayden and Tony Cuccinello, Bees— Former held Giants to six hits in 6-1 triumph; latter clouted homer and two singles drove in four runs.

Clint Brown, White Sox—Pitched no-hit ball in relief role and fanned three to check Tigers 6-4.

Johnny Mize and Ducky Medwick, Cardinals — Combined to bat in three runs with two out for 3-2 victory over Reds.

Monte Weaver and Al Simmons, Senators— Weaver bagged double and scored two runs besides pitching team to 13-7 triumph in first game; latter drove in three runs with double and single in 8-6 nightcap win.

Lloyd Waner, Pirates — His second double of afternoon brought in run that topped Cubs 8-5.

Jack Winsett, Dodgers — Two singles, both with bases loaded, drove home four runs in 7-3 shellacking of Phillies.

HUSTLING BIRDS ONLY MINOR CLUB TO STOP NEWARK

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—(CP)—The meteoric rise of Baltimore Orioles to playoff contention is heightening interest in the International League chiefly because the Orioles are looked on now as the only team capable of giving Newark a battle in the post-season series.

With the Bears 25 games in front of the field and busily piling up what may be the greatest lead a pennant winning team ever held, the return of the Orioles to the form that was expected of them in the pre-season figuring, has given the loop new interest. The experts figure that if anyone can stop the Bears from making a runaway of the playoffs as they have of the pennant race, the slugging Birds are the team to do it.

The Orioles, hustling every inch of the way, have won 10 of their last 12 games and have shot up from seventh place to sixth, only 2½ games behind the fourth-place Buffalo Bisons with whom they split a doubleheader last night by identical scores of 4-3. They are virtually tied with the fifth-place Toronto Leafs.

Rotary Has Game Lead in Playoffs

Cobourg and the local Rotarians meet here tonight (Wednesday) at six o'clock in Riverside Park in the second game of the Lakeshore Junior Baseball League playoffs. The first one was staged in Cobourg last Friday and the Peterborough juniors rallied in the eighth frame to pull out to win. If a third game is necessary in this series, it will likely be held Friday—possibly on a neutral diamond if the teams cannot agree on the grounds. The winner will meet Belleville next in the first round of the O. B. A. A. junior playdowns, while the losing team in this Lakeshore Loop series will be eliminated from further competition.

A good-sized crowd of fans is expected to see the junior battle here tonight as the youngsters are well-matched and play a neat brand of baseball. There are several coming seniors on both teams and their contests so far this season have all been close and interesting. Manager Herb Ralph of the Rotary gang will probably start Roy Armour on the home mound with Todd held in reserve. He will field his strongest squad and hopes to end the series tonight.

LINDSAY HYDRO RATES REDUCED

LINDSAY, August 11.—As a result of an investigation into the operating conditions of the local Hydro system during the past year, the Hydro Electric Commission has determined an interim rate of $34.50 per horse power per year for power supplied the municipality during the year commencing August 1, 1937. This means a reduction of four dollars per horse power per year—a reduction of approximately $7,200.

A convention of the Liberal Conservatives is to be held at Beaverton in a few days to nominate a candidate to contest the riding of Muskoka-North Ontario in the forthcoming Provincial election. Mason Horner, a young Cannington lawyer, will be the choice of the party.

Magistrate Gee, Lindsay, who is presiding at court sessions in Ontario county, sentenced W. J. Meagher of Toronto, arrested near Sunderland, to twenty days in jail for driving a car while intoxicated. The accused tried to elude a policeman, the latter having to travel over seventy miles an hour before arresting his man.

Mr. Stanley Oliver, of Dunsford, suffered a double bereavement this week. His mother, Mrs. Steen Oliver, of Lindsay, passed away as a result of injuries received in an auto accident on the Toronto Highway in July, and Tuesday morning his daughter, Virginia Margaret, 4 years, died in the Ross Hospital, following an attack of appendicitis.

Shoots Her Hubby Quarrel Over Son

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP).—Mrs. Ruth Werlein, 36, shot and killed her husband, George, 46, she said today. He questioned the paternity of their nine months old son, David.

Julius J. Gebhardt, the woman's brother, was a member of the police squad which placed the woman under arrest. He found Werlein dead when he entered the family's home last night in response to a call.

Shirley Hall, Mrs. Werlein's nine-year old daughter by a previous marriage, witnessed the shooting. She told police her mother shot after her stepfather knocked Mrs. Werlein down and taunted her about the infant.

SEES U. S. PATTERN FOR WORLD PEACE

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP).—Development of the United States indicates the way by which world peace may be assured, Rev. Leyton Richards, Birmingham, England, told the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics at Geneva aPrk to-day.

"The League of Nations exists as a practical political expedient which, if loyally supported by the signatory nations, could do for the world what the Congress and the Supreme Court of the United States do for the American Union," he said.

Organization of the world on a federal basis would mean International law in place of wars, he contended. An International army to enforce decisions might possibly be the next phase in the evolution of International relationships.

"It is to be observed, however that the Supreme Court of the United States has never one needed to invoke armed force in order to make it decisions effective, and there is ever reason to believe that world opinion—possibly backed by economic pressure or collective neutrality—would be an entirely adequate sanction in the hands of a world court," said Dr. Richards.

Lake a Patent Medicine Man.

Chancellor Hitler of Germany yesterday was likened to the patent medicine man with a cure for everything as Dr. Hans Simons, New York, an anti-Nazi exiled by his foes, gave the third part of his address on "The present outlook in Europe."

Hitler's attraction for the German masses is that he has a solution for everything, said Dr. Simons. Comparing Hitler and Mussolini, the speaker thought the Italian dictator had the better mind.

"A reading of Hitler's book in the German text, would convince any intelligent man that here is a really deeply confused mind," he said. "It is a terrible thing that such enormous influence has been entrusted to a man who simply can't think. All Hitler's intellectual sources are second-hand whereas Mussolini, a former Socialist, really did study Marx in the original and has a greater mind."

THE PUP YELPED.

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 11—(AP).—R. O. Canaday, Hastings attorney, spent a sleepless night and then investigated the reason for persistent yelping by his dog. He found the point of a needle sticking out of the animal's neck.

In the pup's throat he discovered a length of thread still attached to the needle. The rest was easy. He pulled on the threat and out came the needle.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to be a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. Mary working late, is accused of copying a design in Castle's shop and is dismissed by Francine Long, his head buyer. Tony comes to Mary's rescue with a job in his advertising department.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 5.

There were roses—the lush, red velvety roses, garden grown under a June sun—in the alabaster bowl where the lilacs had lingered. Their softly dropping petals made no sound in the quiet room. Only the faint rub of a finger on canvas, the incredibly gentle swish of a brush disturbed the inner silence.

"Come here, Mary, and tell me what you think of this blue."

Mary stretched, bending her head back to unloosen the muscles grown taut with holding her pose. She slipped a coppery shawl from her shoulders and crossed the room. She stood at Tony Castle's shoulder, peering at the canvas. She tilted her head and wrinkled her brow with the concentration of her critical attitude as she studied the unfinished portrait.

Then she shook her head dubiously. "I think it's too bright, Tony. It needs a little more gray. You see over here"—her fingers drew near a corner of the canvas and retreated—"you have the fading light and this blue is not consistent. But it is coming along splendidly!"

"You really think so?" His voice was boyish, anxious, pleased.

"I really think so," she answered solemnly.

He patted her hand and put away his brush. "Then, that is all for today. It's Sunday and our holiday. The country calls, Hebe! . . . Tired?"

Mary laughed. "Not a bit! You seem to forget that I was brought up in a sterner school than this. That workroom training hasn't worn off in these two months." Then, with some yearning and no small intensity, she added, "Oh, Tony, do you think you'll ever give me a chance to design clothes for you? I've been working on something that I think you'll . . ."

"No business today, young lady," he said firmly. "You have woman's work to do. How about that lunch you insisted on getting ready?"

Mary swallowed a sigh. "It's all ready, Tony. Fried chicken, bacon sandwiches and potato salad in baby cartons. Suppose you take the hamper down to the car while I change my frock?"

"What's the matter with that one?"

"Idiot! No wonder you think an American can't design clothes for Americans! I guess one couldn't if he thought a girl was properly arrayed for cross country walking and picnicking in this!" She gave him the box and held the door for him.

Taking off the long white chiffon gown in which Tony was painting her, Mary was unhappy for a moment. Unhappy because there seemed no way that she could get him to take her ambition seriously. He simply would not let her talk about designing. He was quite sure, she was quite sure, that she was satisfied to be an advertising artist. Well, she thought reasonably, she couldn't hope to mount Olympus in five months. Was it only five months that she had known Tony?

Tony could sit in the car for a few minutes and read the newspaper. She stepped into the shower and sang above it.

She couldn't keep from singing. The blood that flowed through her heart carried its song all through her. There were no words to that song. She was afraid to try and translate it into words. She was falling in love with Tony and Tony was falling in love with her, but she couldn't say it to herself because Tony hadn't yet told her that he loved her.

It had begun that April night when Tony told her that he was going to bring some oils to her.

And so the two of them began to paint. Tony to teach her and so to begin again for himself.

Spring evenings. Sundays. Then Saturdays when the shop was closed. Long silent sessions broken by bits of conversation and the continuity that exists between people who are quietly content with each other. So they had come a long way to knowing each other and what each liked.

Tony had sent her a huge box of white flowers—daisies and camellias and lilacs and freezia all beautifully mixed up—because she said she loved them.

One night she roasted a duck with slices of orange because he said he liked it that way.

Together they'd sat in the intimate darkness of a little cinema to watch the foreign movies.

And then the night they both discovered they preferred Tschaikowsky's symphonies to all others. They'd learned that up in a quiet dell in Connecticut where a local symphonic orchestra was giving an all-Tschaikowsky program.

They sat on a hillside under the stars and were closer to them—and to each other than either of them had ever been before.

That night Tony kissed her.

When they had come back to Mary's place for a cool drink, Mary talked about the music that filled her. Standing so before him, he saw the sweetness in her mouth, the supplication in her slender figure so close to his.

Neither of them expected it—or could have prevented it. He drew her to him gently, and gently kissed her. His kiss was neither hard nor long but its imprint was on her heart to stay forever after.

They drew apart after that but the memory enfolded her tenderly. The touch of his lips, cool and gentle against her own, brought the warm blood to her heart then and in years to come. Her fingers were forever to remember their touch on the smooth broadcloth of his dinner jacket.

When he had gone and she knelt by the window, staring at the night sky with wide, wondering eyes, she sank in the sweetness of this new thing that had come to her. So deeply lost was she, that she forgot to remember that he had murmured, "I'm sorry, dear."

So lost in her own happiness was she that she didn't know her silence had told Tony a lie. He had needed her to tell him that she cared for him. After that, he was afraid of his feeling for her. Afraid to let himself love her. He had to be sure of her and her feeling for him. One other woman had almost destroyed him.

There was also the difference in their ages. Tony was 37; Mary was 24. He was afraid that she didn't know her own mind. She was so young.

Of these things Mary knew nothing.

She thought: Tony is not a schoolboy. He is a man of the world and I'm only a child to him. I must not be impulsive. I must not let him feel that I have lost my head because he kissed me. I mustn't make him afraid of me, afraid that I will cling to him.

But then her heart sang again, telling her that he loved her. She was serene in the belief that he would tell her so.

NEW ZEP SERVICE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (CP). — Revival next year of Germany's transatlantic Zeppelin passenger service was predicted to-day by Captain Max Pruss, commander of the airship Hindenburg, which crashed at Lakehurst, N.J., three months ago with a loss of 36 lives. Captain Pruss said the new Zeppelins, now under construction, would be buoyed by non-inflammable hellium gas.

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

60,000 ON STRIKE PASSAIC TEXTILES

PATERSON, N.J., Aug 11.—(AP)—The C.I.O. went after a negotiated peace in Passaic Valley textile mills to-day, claiming its day-old general strike already had won "the fullest support and confidence of the workers."

The union estimated 60,000 workers were away from their jobs in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

Many employers here were either openely co-operating with the union or remaining passive toward the strike, expressing the hope that it would lead to establishment of a single standard of wages, hours and working conditions for the entire United States textile industry.

Spokesmen expressed a willingness to negotiate with the union, once the C.I.O.'s strength in the mills had been established.

The union demands 10 to 20 per cent wage increases, $18 weekly minimum for weavers, $15 minimum for auxiliary help, 40-hour, five-day week, seniority rights among employees, and recognition of the C.I.O.'s Textile Workers' Organizing Committee as sole collective bargaining agent.

The walkout, which started yesterday morning, was peaceful here, but minor disorders, including two stabbing affrays, occurred in Pennsylvania where 40,000 workers were estimated by union leaders to be on strike.

Peru has no serious labor disturbances.

LAW NOT ENFORCED.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 11 (C.P.). — Charges the minimum wage law as pertaining to men was not properly enforced in Kitchener were made at a meeting of the City Council last night and resulted in the passing of a resolution petitioning the Ontario Minister of Labor to enact additional legislation to bring about the proper enforcement of the Act.

Alderman Joseph Meinzinger declared he knew of one man who has been working for the past three years for an hourly wage of 15 cents.

JURY NAMES HUSBAND.

ORANGEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP).—A coroner's jury late last night found Mrs. Annie Lesuk and her infant child died from head blows "at the hands of one we believe to be Ephraim Lesuk," husband of the dead woman. Lesuk faces charges of murder and is to appear in court Friday.

The jury decided Mrs. Lesuk died of blows on the head from a sharp instrument and the infant from "a blow or blows on the head." Their bodies were found in the Mulmer Township farmhouse, north of here, July 23. Lesuk was arrested the same day.

TWINS' BIRTHDAY

FOREST HILLS, P.E.I.—(CP).—As has been their custom for many years, Neil MacKinnon of Thorburn, N.S., and Daniel MacKinnon of this place, twins, celebrated their birthday together on the old homestead here. They are 90 years old.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CRAB APPLES.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, dear!"

The rabbit gentleman had been hopping through the woods looking for an adventure. Fancy that! As if he hadn't enough already. But he was very tired and rather nonplussed not to say peeved at what the Bad Chaps had been trying to do to him of late.

So he said again:

"Oh, dear!"

Then he sat down on a bit of soft moss that was like a cushion. Sitting on this green, mossy cushion caused Uncle Wiggily to think of Fluffy, the poodle dog cousin of Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, upon whom the Wolf had so nearly sat. So Mr. Longears laughed and leaned back against a tree at the bottom of which grew the moss.

"Oh, thank you, ever so much," whispered a voice.

"Eh? What's that?" asked Uncle Wiggily suddenly and he leaned away from the tree out of the branches of which the voice had come.

"Oh, please don't go away," went on the voice. "No one ever before has been so kind as to sit in my shade and lean back against me. I thank you."

"Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, I'm just a crab," was the answer.

"Don't tell me you are a jolly pinching, blue clawed crab from the seashore!" exclaimed Mr. Longears.

"No, I am just the crab apple tree you are leaning against to rest your back," went on the voice. "No one ever comes near me. I am so lonesome. Thank you for being kind to me."

"But I don't understand," said Uncle Wiggily. "You seem to be like any other tree. You have a bark but no bite. Ha! Ha!"

Uncle Wiggily couldn't help laughing at his own joke, poor as it was. The tree rustled its branches.

"No one likes me," went on the tree, "because I am so gnarled and crooked. I am not like other trees. That's why I have such sour apples, I suppose. Boys never come to me to get my apples. If by chance one does, he makes such queer, funny faces, after taking a bite, that even the grasshoppers laugh. No, I am a crabbed, sour old tree and I am surprised that you bother to sit down and rest against me."

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I am not as fussy as all that. Your shade is better that that of most trees for your branches and leaves are close together. And your apples are beautiful."

"Yes, they look beautiful. Really not a bad color—yellow and red," whispered the crab apple tree. "But all they are good for is to be made into jelly. No one would think of eating one of my apples out of hand, as they would an apple from another tree. So I am very lonesome and I thank you for having leaned against me."

"Oh, that's all right," said Mr. Longears. "You are really a beautiful tree. Crab apple jelly is very good. It is true your apples, eaten raw, may pucker up the face but—"

All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily was silent. Well he might be for along came sneaking the Weasel, one of the Bad Chaps.

"Oh, joy!" snickered the Weasel. "A hasenpfeffer lunch!"

Uncle Wiggily shivered. So did the crab tree and down fell a lot of apples. One hit the Weasel on his head.

"Ho! Ho!" he cried. "So the dessert comes first!" He started to eat one of the sour crab apples. But at once he puckered up his face and his mouth became very small and tears came into his eyes. He sneezed and yelled:

"Oh, vinegar and lemon juice! Now I couldn't bite the head of a pin!" Then Uncle Wiggily hopped safely away. He thanked the crab apple tree for saving him.

And if the coffee pot will stop making funny faces at the gas stove, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's breakfast.

NAZI-CONTROLLED WRITER REFUSED BY LONDON TIMES

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP). — The Times announced today there "could be no question" of accepting the "dictation" of the German Government by replacing its expelled Berlin correspondent with one "more amenable."

The German Government yesterday ordered Norman Ebbutt, widely-quoted Berlin correspondent of the Times for about 15 years, to leave Germany within two weeks in retaliation for the expulsion of three German correspondents from Great Britain.

The Times was informed by the British Foreign Office that the German Government wanted its correspondent in Berlin to be a man "who will pay less attention to work considered here as trivialities and more attention to what is wanted."

An official of the Times commented:

"We are not going to send a man to Berlin at dictation of the Nazis. Unless the Germans suffer an attack of sense within the next few days and keep Ebbutt we shall leave the Berlin post vacant.

"The case is very understandable. The Germans want the case of their men reconsidered by Britain—which it won't be."

Will Not Repace Ebbutt.

Editorially, The Times said today: "If they (the German Government) should really decide to take such a step there could be no question, of course, of replacing Mr. Ebbutt by a more amenable correspondent.

"It would merely confirm in their opinion those people in this and other countries who consider Nazi standards do not accord with the usual courtesies of civilized international life and would be a serious setback to those working for the improvement of Anglo-German relations."

An authoritative source indicated the retaliatory German action and a German protest to the British Government would not alter the refusal of the Home Office to renew the labor permits of the three German correspondents. Two of them have already left England.

Werner von Crome, correspondent of the Berlin Lokalanzieger and the remaining member of the trio, said he expected to leave London at the end of the week.

"The matter is in the hands of my Government," he said. "I am not making any approach to the Foreign Office."

The British Government offered no explanation of the refusal to renew the labor permits necessary for foreigners to work in England, but the Evening Standard editorially raised the question of espionage as a reason for the expulsion.

"If the men have been guilty of espionage," th paper said in asking an official explanation, "it is better that the public should be told so than that the present atmosphere of uneasy speculation should exist. Wide publicity is being given to theories of an alarming character."

'Song Bird' Spends Holiday In North

You ought to recognize the smiling face under the war bonnet at LEFT. It is that of Kate Smith, the songbird who makes oodles of Wampum on the radio. She is pictured in full tribal regalia with Chief Two Youngmen (he must be the two other fellows we're always hearing about) during her vacation at Banff, Alta.

Swims For Help To Save Friends

The formula for romance according to the movies is "Boy meets girl . . . boy rescues girl . . . boy marries girl," but in the case of Marjorie Murray and Arnold McCloat, the script must now be revised to read "Girl rescues boy." Marjorie is the heroine who swam four miles through a raging sea in the dark to bring aid to Arnold and two other persons after heavy seas had wrecked their motorboat off Far Rockaway, Long Island. Looking little the worse for their experience, the heroine and her fiance are shown in Miss Murray's home.

VILLAGE COUNCIL STRIKES TAX RATE AUGUST SESSION

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 11.—A postponed meeting of the village council was held on Monday night with Reeve Fairman in the chair and all councillors present.

Reeve Fairman, on behalf of the citizens of Hastings, moved a vote of deepest sympathy to J. M. Baker, the village clerk, and his family in their recent bereavement in the death of Mrs. Baker. A letter was acknowledged from the Baker family thanking them for the floral tribute and words of sympathy.

Correspondence was read from the files from the Department of Highways, re bylaw 778 governing the stop signs and also from J. J. Turner and Sons re Union Jack.

Miss D. Parker appealed to the council for a street light to be placed in front of their greenhouse. It was moved by Stevenson and seconded by Lynch that the council recommend to the Hydro Commission that a street light be placed in front of Parker's greenhouse.

R. W. Montgomery, the tax collector, reported to the council that $860.69 was still outstanding and that he thought $100 would be collected within the next month. He was urged to keep after the ones who were behind and those who promised to pay by a certain date. It was moved by Kelly and seconded by Dodd that the collector's time be extended until the next council meeting on Sept. 3.

Reeve Fairman announced that he had sold one of the lots on Homewood Ave. for $150. The buyer, it is understood, will build a cottage on the property.

Tax Struck

The tax rate for the village was struck as follows: Village and general 10 mills; county, 13 mills; debentures, 10 mills; street lighting, 4½ mills; relief 1½ mills; public school 9½ mills, separate school, 11 mills. A public school supporter will pay 48½ mills and a separate school supporter 50 mills. These figures will be less 1 mill by Provincial subsidy. It was moved by Lynch and seconded by Stevenson that they be the tax rate for 1937.

James Convey asked the council to repair a cement walk leading into his house on Victoria street, that, he claims was damaged by water coming in off the streets through improper drainage. It was moved by Dodd and seconded by Lynch that the council meet at 11.30 Tuesday morning on Victoria street to have a look at Mr. Convey's walk.

Reeve Fairman announced to the council that they will receive a credit of $159 on their 1936 street lighting and that the credit will exceed last month's Hydro account. He also pointed out that the 10 per cent rebate that the domestic users of Hydro will receive on their August bill will also be credited in cash to those who have moved away or changed their location.

Street Dance Permitted

Reeve Fairman, on behalf of the softball club, asked permission for the use of Front street from Bridge to Victoria streets for the street dance on August 11. It was moved by Kelly and seconded by Dodd, that they be granted permission from 6 o'clock till 3 a.m. for the dance.

It was moved by Kelly and seconded by Lynch that J. E. Taylor be granted permission to run a water pipe underground across Front street and in front of his property.

It was moved by Kelly and seconded by Lynch that the council wave all claims to lot 57, owned by T. J. Cowley.

H. Dodd brought the attention of the council to not having enough signs in the village to guide the tourists to the different towns. Reeve Fairman said he had received two anonymous letters on the matter but had discarded them because no names were signed.

The total relief bill for last month was $69.12. Moved by Kelly and seconded by Stevenson that the relief accounts be checked in the usual manner and if found correct to be paid.

A $1 tax and a $3 inspection fee was levied on the milk peddlers.

Accounts Approved

The following accounts were read and passed:

W. Wellman, salary, $1,800; W. Boyle, salary, $8.33; Geo. DEMONSTRATION IS GIVEN GARDEN CLUB

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAVAN, Aug. 11. — On Monday afternoon the East Durham Senior Girls' Home Garden and Canning Club met at the home of Mrs. E. G. Snider, where Miss Greta Pollard, home economics coach, gave an interesting canning demonstration.

The meeting was well attended, fourteen of the eighteen members being present. These included: Margaret Grey, Garden Hill, president; Audrey Hill, Cavan, vice-president; Marian Belch, Millbrook, secretary; Jessie Armstrong, Fraserville, leader; Verna Gardiner, Omemee, assistant leader; Phyllis Larmer, Dorothy Smith, Betty Carveth, Millbrook; June Shields and Annie Graham, Ida; Mildred Jones, Omemee; Jean Trumpour, Cavan; Gwenyth Staples, Fraserville; and Anna Snowden, Port Hope. There were also several visitors.

Miss Pollard began her demonstration by showing the class a steam pressure canner and telling them of its value. She explained that while ordinary canning is practicable for many vegetables, it is not for non-acids such as peas, beans, and corn. The reason is that the enzymes which must be killed in order to preserve the fruit are not injured at 212 degrees Fahr., the ordinary temperature of boiling water. They are, however, at 240 degrees Fahr., which th steam pressure canner alone reaches. But these canners are not practical for many people. Even the smallest are expensive. However, one community found that by buying a large canner and taking it from home to home they obtained the benefits without too much expense. The alternative is: Can tomatoes and store the other vegetables.

Miss Pollard stressed the importance of clean jars, sound rubbers and gem rings. Leaving the pressure canner, Miss Pollard discussed the length of time required to cook vegetables so as to retain the food value and color. Cabbage need only be cooked 6 minutes; spinach, without water, 3 minutes.

The meeting till then held indoors, adjourned to the verandah where plans for the next meeting to be held in Millbrook Town Hall on Friday, August 27, at 2 p.m., and for Achievement Day, were discussed.

Miss Pollard also referred to the important items in the club work, advising the girls to read and benefit by the literature distributed at a previous meeting. The meeting broke up after the coach expressed to Mrs. Snider their appreciation of her hospitality.

Miss Mary Armstrong, nurse-in-training at Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, spent Friday afternoon at her home in Cavan.

HITCH-HIKING PERMITS.

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 11—(AP).—Kansas University boys are generally pretty low on funds, three of them wrote Governor Walter Huxman, so why couldn't he issue special licenses permitting students to hitch-hike to and from their homes?

Kansas' new traffic code forbids hitch-hiking.

Attorney-General Clarence Beck said he was sorry but it was up to the Legislature to revise the law, neither he nor the Governor could do anything about it.

Sailor Hangs Self Over Another's Wife

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP-Havas). — A midshipman's love for a married woman he had seen but once was disclosed today in evidence at a coroner's inquest into the death of Peter L. G. S. Sitwell, found hanged Friday on board the battleship Ramillies.

"Death by misadventure" was the coroner's verdict.

It was testified Sitwell had been strongly attracted to a married woman he met in Scotland. Although he never saw her again, he corresponded with her.

Officers gave evidence that the young midshipman, who had a strong leaning for literature, and among whose papers numerous poems were found, had qualities which would have assured him a brilliant future in the navy.

A close friend, midshipman F. H. Layte, said on one occasion he found Sitwell trying to suspend himself by a chain. "I am exercising," he said Sitwell told him when he expressed surprise.

"He told me of a love affair," Layte said, "but I got the impression it was a passing fancy."

Sitwell was a son of Wing Commander William George Sitwell.

MONTREAL POLICE STONED IN STRIKE

MONTREAL, Aug. 11—(CP). — Police braved a barrage of stones early to-day to rescue a crippled Dominion Textile Company clerk being beaten by pickets on duty at the company's strike-bound Merchants' Plant in St. Henri Ward.

As disorders which broke out yesterday were renewed, one alleged striker was arrested after Alexander Laurent, 30, the clerk, and three policemen were injured.

The outbreak was precipitated when Laurent drove up in his automobile to enter plant grounds. Swarming upon the car the crowd took it by storm, causing the driver to lose control and crash into the high wooden gates.

With the damaged car jammed between broken palings of the gate, Laurent was hauled from the car and set upon by members of the crowd. Police officers on duty near the gates rushed to his aid in the face of a shower of stones in which three of their members were injured.

Laurent and the injured officers were taken to company offices and treated there for their wounds.

Laurent was engaged in working on salary due company employees, to receive two weeks' wages this afternoon for time put in before the strike was called a little more than a week ago.

Meanwhile leaders of the close to 10,000 strikers prepared to confer with Prime Minister King and two of his Ministers at Ottawa on Wednesday, according to Alfred Charpentier, general president of the Catholic Syndicates.

NAZIS BLUNDERS SCORED IN PRESS

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP Cable). — The News-Chronicle, commenting to-day on the expulsion of three German newspaper correspondents, declared "the regularity with which the Nazis can be counted on to do the clumsy thing is almost incredible."

Declaring foreign correspondents in London can write the "most violent abuse of Great Britain with impunity," the newspaper adds:

"The German Government decides it must have reprisals. Presumably it cannot find a British correspondent in Berlin misbehaving, so it decides to expell a correspondent whose only crime is criticism of the Nazis. That is mistake No. 1.

"But it makes it worse by picking the distinguished correspondent of The Times. It would be hypocrisy on our part to pretend The Times does not occupy a peculiar position in the British press. To expel a Times correspondent amounts almost to a diplomatic incident. That is mistake No. 2.

"The Times represents a section of opinion almost as favorable to an understanding with Germany as any in Great Britain. That opinion is now alienated. That is mistake No. 3.

"Finally, the request to replace the correspondent with someone more in sympathy with the Nazi government makes it impossible for any self-respecting newspaper to replace an expelled correspondent. The net effect of the incident is to carry one long step further the process of disgusting British opinion with Nazi tactics."

JAP DETACHMENT SAID WIPED OUT

PEIPING, Aug. 11 (AP).—Chinese sources reported today a Japanese army detachment had been wiped out by Chinese defenders of the great wall pass at Nankow, 30 miles northeast of here.

The battle was being fought in the vicinity of Nankow with the reinforced Chinese divisions effectively defending their positions below the centuries-old wall from the advance of the Japanese army seeking to bring Chahar Province under its domination.

Destruction of the Japanese unit was said to have taken place west of Nankow. Nankow is just north of the Hopen Province border on the highly-important military railroad from Peiping through Chahar to the provincial capital at Kalgan.

Northeastern Hopen Province has been brought under complete Japanese domination in the month-old undeclared war between China and Japan for control of the North China area.

Chinese dispatches for the last two days have reported the Japanese army was preparing for a northward thrust from Peiping to Chahar and Suiyuan Provinces.

The main body of the 5,000 Japanese troops said to be moving against Nankow Pass was thought to be from the Peiping area. At least 1,000 men, however, were marching toward Nankow through Kupeikow, a great wall pass to the east, from Jehol.

An additional brigade of 3,000 men, commanded by Major-General T. Kawabe, was stationed in Peiping.

The total Japanese strength in North China was estimated by foreign observers to be about 40,000 or 45,000.

More than 60 per cent. of the automobile accidents in England occur on straight roads with good slight lines in fair weather, says the British Minister of Transport.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?
THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.
Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.
No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.
For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three periods of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."
Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and be "Smiling Through."

Canadian Liner Crashes Freighter In Fog Off Boston

23 Officers, Men, Saved Off Dane By Duchess Boat

Cargo Vessel Founders—Atholl and 900 Passengers Escape Lightly.

HALIFAX, Aug. 12 (CP). — The Danish steamer Maine sank in latiture 41.37 north, longitude 66.90 west, the steamship Duchess of Atholl reported today.

In a message picked up by east coast signal service's Camperdown station, the Canadian Pacific liner said the Maine had gone down, but that her entire crew of 23 officers and men were safe aboard the steamship.

The two ships had collided in a fog off Boston last night, and a long gash had been opened up on the side of the freighter. Her crew were taken aboard the Atholl, but later returned to their ship, only to be taken off again when it became evident she was doomed.

"S.S. Maine sank, latitude 41.37 north, 66.50 west. Crew all aboard the Duchess of Atholl. Duchess of Atholl proceeding on way," read the message.

The Halifax ocean-going tug Foundation Franklin was on her way to the two vessels when the Maine went down.

The vessels collided early today in fog and rain. The liner had about 900 passengers aboard, none of whom were injured. A passenger aboard the Atholl reported the Maine had a 40-foot hole in its side about 40 feet back of port bow.

The Duchess of Atholl left New York last Tuesday on a cruise to Quebec and Montreal, and was due in Halifax this afternoon.

PRESTON PLANT SHUT BY DISPUTE

PRESTON, Ont., Aug. 12.—(CP)—Strike of 140 Savage Shoe Company employees here—a walkout in which wages were not involved—went into its second day today with conciliation conferences scheduled.

At a meeting of strikers last night, Joseph Carrir, Toronto organizer for the Shoe Workers Union, was delegated to meet company officials today concerning the workers' grievances. These centre around the dismissal of an employee for alleged incompetency. The strikers, half of whom are women, charge discrimination was shown against the man.

The plant itself remained idle, padlocked by the company. Pickets were established late yesterday. Carrir, after last night's meeting, said he believed the walkout would be settled without incident.

PRISONER DETAILS SLAYING OF COTE

MONTREAL, Aug. 12 (CP). — A coroner's jury decided that Lionel Gauthier and Exelaphat Benoit were criminally responsible for the slaying of Hyacinthe Cote, wealthy real estate owner, whose body was found in a lonely spot outside the city July 24.

Pale and shaken, Gauthier recounted at inquest how he and Benoit had driven Cote to his death July 20. Cote's body was found four days later by a berry-picker in a field at St. Laurent, about seven miles north of here.

Benoit, painted by Gauthier as the actual slayer, did not attend proceedings. He remained a prisoner in a cell at Provincial police headquarters, while Gauthier narrated full details of the slaying of Cote, with robbery as the motive.

Gauthier told of persuading Cote into the death car. He said Benoit had approached Cote in the latter's office and persuaded the relator to go on an inspection of some wood. The automobile had been rented for the occasion.

Gauthier said he had driven the car, Cote sitting in the front seat and Benoit being alone in the rear. When the automobile reached the outskirts of the city, Gauthier said, Cote was struck on the head by Benoit, carrying a heavy stick for the purpose.

Then Cote was dragged from the automobile, robbed and strangled. The body was placed in a ditch and a pile of rocks were used to cover it up.

Over Two Million Pair Shoes Made, June

Ottawa, Aug. 12 (CP).

CANADA'S leather footwear production in June amounted to 2,226,962 pairs, an increase of 504,880 pairs over the same month last year, a Bureau of Statistics report said here today. Footwear for women accounted for 46 per cent of the output, for men 31 per cent, and the remainder for children.

For six months ending June 30 leather footwear production was 12,483,211 pairs, or an average of 2,080,535 pairs a month. In the same period of 1936 production was 11,042,084 pairs, with a monthly average of 1,840,347.

PREMIER HEPBURN INVITES MAYOR FOR CONFERENCE

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).— The conference called for Monday by Premier Hepburn between leaders in the Peterborough and Cornwall strikes at Queens Park, will try to arrive at some settlement satisfactory to both parties in the disputes, but will have no bearing on the investigation to determine a minimum wage for the industry, Hon. Harry C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary, said to-day.

"The investigation will take place whether or not strike leaders agree to it," he said. "It will try to set a fair minimum wage for the industry and will be held even if the strikes continue."

Mayor Macdonald received this morning the following telegram from Premier Hepburn:

"Most anxious to assist in strike settlement and would respectfully urge you would attend conference in my office, Toronto, Monday, 11 a.m."

To an Examiner representative Mayor Macdonald said he had accepted the Premier's invitation in the earnest desire to co-operate in any effort that would bring about a settlement of the strike in terms that would be agreeable to all parties.

Commenting on a news despatch to a Toronto evening paper which suggested that he had insisted on the men going back to work Tuesday morning and had otherwise imposed undue haste in the incidents of Monday evening and Tuesday morning, Mayor Macdonald said: "Apart from the conversations I had with representatives of the strikers Monday evening, which need not be mentioned in this connection, I think it is only fair to myself to say that I was not insisting on the men returning to work at once. I told representatives of the strikers Monday night and also the group assembled at the Auburn plant Tuesday morning that I had a definite assurance from Premier Hepburn that if the employees returned to work their grievance would be considered as soon as possible by the Industrial Board, and any wage recommendation made by that Board would be retroactive to the time the employees returned. I also said the company had announced that they were opening their gates, and my appeal was that any persons desiring to go into work be permitted to do so according to their right.

STRIKERS WILL SEND DELEGATE TO CONFERENCE

A new hope for strike settlement was raised today when the strike committee voted to accept the invitation of Premier Hepburn for a conference at Queen's Park next Monday, at a meeting this morning. The committee planned to place its decision before the general strike membership for approval at a meeting which had been called for this afternoon.

The Prime Minister's invitation was communicated to Mike English, strike chairman, yesterday. A similar invitation was sent to strike leaders at Cornwall and has been accepted. It is understood the Premier's object of the conference is to inquire into the possibility of arranging for strikers on the two fronts to return to their work pending the promised institution of a minimum wage scale.

"We are not refusing any opportunity for negotiation," English said this morning, commenting on the invitation.

Picket Lines Are Out.

Police relaxed their discipline somewhat to allow pickets full run of the roadway in front of the Bonner-Worth plant as the opening whistle sounded at 7 o'clock this morning, but kept the sidewalk clear for use of non-striking workers. Charges had been raised the previous day that the police were denying strikers their legal right to picket when they barred the entire western section of the street.

The majority of workers made their way westerly along the McDonnel street sidewalk and into the plant before seven o'clock in accordance with revised instructions given them by the management. Under the watchful eyes of more than 20 Provincial and local police, a body of fifty pickets, mostly girls, circulated along the roadway as close to the sidewalk as they dared approach, screaming "Scab" and varied other epithets at the passing workers.

Further workers trickled into the plant between 7 and 7.30 o'clock but no serious threat of violence occurred. With a healthy respect for the long maple clubs carried by the police, the girls fell back obediently as the police acted to keep the sidewalk clear. During the hour, several hundred spectators stopped to view the scene but the intense local interest aroused by Tuesday morning's episode appeared to have waned.

A picket line of about fifty strikers at the Auburn plant offered no demonstration as workers entered the mill at 7 o'clock. Only a few scattered cries of "Scab!" were heard as the men moved in the laneways and passed through the main gate. A small body of police was on guard.

The management of the Bonner-Wodth mills claimed between 145 and 150 workers entered the plant to-day. Strikers claimed not more than 108, including the bosses, entered.

Soviet Flier Hops Via Pole–New York

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sigismund Levanefsky, the Soviet Union's most famous flier, took off today for a trans-Polar flight to New York.

Unlike two previous, successful Russian flights to North America over the roof of the world, this will not aim for the Pacific Coast and will not be non-stop.

Levanefsky and five members of his crew took off in a 4-motored plane at 6.13 p.m. (11.13 a.m. E.S.T.) with stops scheduled at Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Alta., and — possibly—Chicago. They intend to use the sub stratosphere.

"Coronation Baby" Is Honored

Mary Georgina Elizabeth, 2-months old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Morley James, Adaline street, so named in honor of the King and Queen on whose Coronation Day she was born, nestles in the arms of her mother blissfully unconscious of the honor being shown her. The baby was presented with a silver loving cup by Mayor George A. Macdonald on behalf of the city and with some other more practical gifts.

Nose Twisted, Arm Turned Then Arrested By Police Innocent Bystander Says

Later Released and Told to Keep Away From the Bonner-Worth.

Stating he was th husband of a local girl and the father of a 3-weeks-old daughter, George E. Whipp, 467 Downie street, protested to The Examiner to-day against alleged mistreatment he received at the hands of provincial police during a disturbance Tuesday afternoon that developed at Park and McDonnel streets.

Claiming he had only been an innocent bystander of trouble that arose as workers left the Bonner-Worth plant of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, Whipp asserted he had been roughly manhandled by provincials and had suffered the indignity of having his arm turned and his nose brutally twisted, in addition to being taken into custody prior to being released with a warning not to go near the scene again.

Gave Bicycle a Kick.

A resident of Peterborough for the past three years and an employee of a local firm of decorators, Whipp said he cycled up to the intersection from his residence after hearing a commotion there. "My wheel was parked at the curb on the south-west corner of the crossing and I had started to roll a cigarette when a provincial officer ordered me to move back. I was complying with his demand and had picked up my cycle when the officer kicked it out of my hand. Its a brand new forty-two dollar machine and I don't let anyone do that with it. I told the constable to leave my machine alone and at that another provincial officer grabbed me from behind. He caught me by the throat and marched me to the middle of the road with my arm turned up at the back of me.

Best Pigs' Tails Curl To The Left

Trenton, N.J., Aug. 12 (AP).

THE New Jersey Department of Agriculture was stumped on the point of whether pigs' tails curve right or left.

The deperatment consulted veterinarians and a judge of porcine prize-winning at county fairs.

Came the consensus, after weeks of research: Pigs' tails usually curve to the left though sometimes to the right; but they must curl; a straight-tailed pig could win no prize.

A girl's curiosity aroused the thirst for knowledge.

STETSON HEADS SLUGGED IN HOTEL

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 12. — (CP)—A report received heer today said men armed with lead pipes, black jacks and similar weapons broke into the dining room of a hotel at Marieville, Que., while a number of supervisors of the John B. Stetson Company (Canada) Limited, of Brockville, were eating breakfast and that in the ensuing melee several were injured.

Ernest Smith, a supervisor, was reported to have suffered a broken collarbone, and Allan Langstaff, a clerk, an eye injury. The men are at Marieville supervising the execution of fall orders for the company in a hat factory, a strike having been in progress at the works here for almost seven weeks.

Name Sen. Black U.S Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt named Senator Hugo Black, of Alabama, to the United States Supreme Court today, but his immediate confirmation was blocked by Senators Burke (D., Neb.) and Johnson (R. Calif.).

The wiry Alabaman was named by Mr. Roosevelt to succeed Willis Vandevanter, retired, in unusual secrecy. It was listed among other nominations but was not made public at the White House as is the custom.

The nomination immediately created a tremendous stir in the Senate.

Both Satisfied After One Kiss

WASKESIU LAKE, Sask., Aug. 12. —(CP)—Summer camps are notorious as romantic background, but a comely French girl visiting at this resort, 50 miles northwest of Prince Albert, is content to let her latest "boy friend" drop after just one kiss.

While her horrified hostess watched, a bear padded up to the girl as she was taking an afternoon nap, circled her cot several times, and quite unemotionally kissed her, then galloped away into the brush.

New York Tenement Tumbles 19 Bodies Found, More Hunted

Walls Undermined by Storm—Four Fight For Life in Hospital.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Nineteen bodies crowded the Seaview morgue on Staten Island today, victims of a tenement collapse during a violent thunderstorm, and rescuers plumbed the wreckage in search of additional dead.

Two water-soaked bodies were taken from the wreckage of three frame dwellings shortly after 7 a.m., and Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine expressed the belief three persons still were missing. Four injured, including a policeman-rescuer, were in a hospital.

The buildings, cellars flooded and their foundations apparently undermined by heavy rainfall, collapsed at the height of a storm which swept the metropolitan area last night and killed four others by lightning and drowning.

All but one of the victims of the building collapse, Adam Malicki, perished in the tumbling ruins as the floors caved beneath them without warning. Malicki, one of four critically injured, died a few hours later in Staten Island Hospital where the three survivors fought to keep life in bodies broken and bruised by falling timbers.

The dead: Melvin L. Decker, 35; Mrs. Virginia Budnick, 28; her son, Joseph, 2; and two daughters, Helen, 6, and Virginia, 4; Frances Gaston, 16; Joseph Carol, 18; Peter Fernandes, 37; Mary Hurley, 36; Patricia Hurley, 2; Adam Malicki, 26, and Bessie Malicki 26, his bride of a month; Mary Peterson, 44, and her son, Louis, 6; Tony Pierpelski, 32; John

Seek To Restore Supply Of Water

SASKATOON, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Alarming low levels in Pike Lake, near the Saskatchewan River, north of Saskatoon, has prompted the Saskatoon Board of Trade to ask for Federal surveys to restore the water supply.

The lake has dropped 16 inches since the spring breakup and is four feet under the 1935 level. Plans to build a drainage ditch from the Saskatchewan River a few miles distant were proposed pending the outcome of the appeal.

$34,000 For Cache Found In B.C. Bush Puts Posse After Gang Hunted Year

Prince George, B.C., Aug 12 (CP).

A POSSE today followed a trail through the wild country near Fort Nelson, B.C., 250 miles north of here, pursuing two men who may be connected with the $34,000 fur robbery at the Hudson's Bay post at Fort Nelson, July 12, 1936.

The trail was one of campfires and fresh footprints, left by two men when they fled after an Indian discovered most of the furs cached under a tarpaulin on a river bank near the post Sunday.

Led by game warden J. S. Clark, a posse surrounded the cache and waited until nightfall for the men to return and continue removing the furs.

When the suspects gave no sign of returning, game warden Clark laughed the manhunt which soon picked up the fresh tracks and the ashes of recent campfires. Two canoes were found stolen from Fort Nelson.

5 KILLED, 7 HURT IN TWO SMASHES ON ONTARIO ROADS

HAMILTON, Aug. 12.—(CP). — Two elderly women and a man were killed and three other women are in a Welland hospital in critical condition as a result of a traffic collision to-day on No. 20 highway near Bismarck, involving cars from Orangeville, Ont., and Buffalo.

The dead:

Alice Austin, nurse of Orangeville.

An unidentified woman companion.

A Mr. Tortiglia, Buffalo, whose wife Nancy is in Welland hospital.

Emily Legge and Martha Logan, both of Orangeville, are also in hospital. None of those surviving the accident could be questioned, police said.

The tragedy occured on a dry pavement as the two cars proceeded in opposite directions about five miles east of Orangeville.

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident. The crash of the cars was heard by John Belcot and Glenn Disher, youths at a service station about 400 feet from the scene, and they turned to see one car hurtling into the ditch.

Mrs. Tortiglia, driving the Buffalo car, was injured internally and suffered two broken legs. Her husband, at her side, had been killed almost instantly.

Four elderly women in the car from Orangeville were proceeding eastward with Mr. Austin driving.

Idaho Farmer Watches Land Sink Away In Muffled Roars

One Five-Acre Tract Drops 200 Feet—Giant Cracks Open Everywhere.

BUHL, Idaho, Aug. 12 (U.P.). — A strange underground disturbance last night was swallowing up rich corn and wheat lands near here with earth-shaking rumblings and spurts of volcanic dust.

Land which once had been rolling fields was sinking away into canyon-like depressions more than 200 feet deep. Geologists believed that great air bubbles under the surface might be making their way upward through the doomed land.

Alarmed farmers of this region hastened to harvest left the eerie sinking movement spread to their fields. Principal destruction centered on the 180-acre farm of H. A. Robertson.

One five-acre tract already had dropped downward some 200 feet below surrounding fields, and was being torn by ever-widening cracks. Adjacent to it another field was being ripped by similar cracks, which quickly opened from one-inch apertures to great chasms.

One crack extended to within 400 feet of Robertson's home. Curious persons who gathered to watch the phenomenon were forced to remain at a safe distance, after a photo-

Egyptian Runs Amok Five Deaths Follow

Glasgow, Scotland, Aug. 12 (UP).

FIVE persons were killed and a sixth was critically wounded last night when an Egyptian student, Upsindari Biswas, ran amok.

Biswas wounded his wife with a revolver as she stood in the doorway of their home, and killed a taxi driver who intervened. Then, while police pursued him, he ran upstairs and killed his father-in-law, sister-in-law and his own child.

He killed himself before police could reach him.

His wife was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

FOREIGN TROOPS BRACE FOR WORST, WAR IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ranks of Japanese bluejackets moved into battle position in Shanghai to face Chinese regulars tonight and the garrisons of Great Britain and three other nations braced themselves "for the worst."

A "peace" conference intended to ease the crisis in the panic-stricken city ended in failure.

Backed by 21 warships at Shanhai's wharves, Japanese naval forces estimated to number between 5,000 and 8,000, moved into the same position they occupied during 1932's Chinese-Japanese hostilities.

They deployed along the fringe of the Japanese portion of the international settlement and roads extending northward.

Chinese central government troops streaming into the city answered to no authority but the army. Civilian authorities would not try to stop them.

The situation needed only a spark to touch off an explosion.

2000 Marines Drill

Japanese marines, reinforced by 2,000 bluejackets sent down the Yangtze from Hankow and from Japan proper aboard the warships which arrived yesterday, were drilling in the Japanese area and on the wharves.

Foreign residents outside the foreign settlement fled to safety within the settlement after warnings issued by the various consuls. Hundreds of them, however, were out off by the suddenness of the Chinese advance. This was said to be led by the 87th and 88th Nanking divisions.

The commander of the militarized Chinese police "peace preservation corps" warned foreigners to stay within the concessions and keep out of the areas "where Chinese armed forces are active."

Police forces of both the foreign settlement and the French concession were placed on uninterrupted emergency duty and special civilian volunteer corps was notified to hold itself in readiness.

There were unconfirmed reports that Japanese had landed troops at the small village of Liuho, on the Yangtze, a few miles northwest of Shanghai. It was from this obscure village that the Japanese in 1932 struck the famous 19th Chinese route army in the rear and drove

SIGNED WITH RELUCTANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP). — President Roosevelt said to-day he had signed "with much reluctance" the $132,732,000 Interior Department Supply Bill which provides for reclamation, education and many other activities.

Roosevelt objected particularly to a $10,000,000 increase in the Vocational Education Fund.

Starving Hoppers Turn To Thistles

Regina, Aug 12 (CP).

SASKATCHEWAN farmers today turned to the weeds and Russian thistles that began growing in the drought area after recent rains for feed for live stock but find that grasshoppers and other insects are beating them, reports said today. In addition grasshoppers are riddling clothing articles whenever hung outside to dry during washdays.

Other Industries in the City Being Organized Millard Reports.

Indications that Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn's proposal that strikers resume work at Auburn and Bonner-Worth Mills of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, pending establishment of the minimum wage scale, had been turned down at an earlier closed meeting of strikers was given by Michael English, chairman of the Strike Committee, last evening.

Speaking before a huge throng of strikers and citizens who overflowed the Market Square, Mr. English asserted the strikers were not prepared to go back to work until they had a signed agreement from the company which guaranteed wage increases.

Charles Millard, president of Oshawa Local 222 of the Automobile Workers Union of America, as chief speaker strongly protested the action of local authorities, which he contended, had resulted in the disturbance at the Bonner-Worth Mill.

Blames Mayor and Chief

He specifically blamed Mayor George A. Macdonald and Chief Constable Samuel Newhall with having been responsible for ordering in "Hepburn's Military Police."

The speaker declared the disorder had focussed the attention of the whole of organized labor in the province on the local strike situation and he predicted that within a few days there would be a conference of the representatives of various labor organizations to protest the treatment strikers had been subjected to at the hands of local and provincial police here.

He urged the citizens of Peterborough to make a similar protest reminding them that the police are the paid servants of the people. The speaker maintained that police were exceeding their authority in trying to prevent strikers from peaceful picketing and in closing certain section of the roadway to pedestrians and vehicles as had been done in the Bonner-Worth sector.

Alleges False Arrest

Mr. Millard further alleged that Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer, had been wrongfully arrested, and he levelled criticism at Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., whom he declared had not only demanded exhorbitant bail in the sum of $5,000 for Welch's release, but had refused to accept bondsmen that had been offered.

His address included an urgent appeal to the people of Peterborough for financial and other support to assist the workers in their fight for a living wage.

The textile dispute now entering into its seventh week, he said, was the beginning of a big move to unionize the whole industry in Peterborough. Reminding his listeners he had told them some weeks previously that he intended to or-

ALEX WELCH OUT ON $5,000 BAIL

Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer was released from custody on bail of $5,000 this afternoon.

Gordon Dundas, striking employee of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited was also given his freedom on bail in the sum of $1,000.

Bail bonds were posted before Justice of the Peace Gordon Puffer, the bondsman being Thomas McMurray, president of the local Trades and Labor Council who was approved by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., as a responsible local property owner.

The two accused, who are charged with thirteen others on various counts of obstruction and assault to which all have entered pleas of not guilty, were the last to be released.

Asked this morning to comment on statements made at a strikers rally in which Charles Millard, president of Oshawa Local 222 of the A.W.U.A. levelled criticism at the "local crown attorney" declaring he had demanded not only exhorbitant bail for Welch's release, but had refused to accept bondsmen that had been offered, Crown Attorney McElderry made reply.

Until this morning, he said, he had been approached only by three persons in connection with bail for Welch. He had discussed the matter of bail with J. L. Cohen, labor legal adviser and had expressed a willingness to accept bail in the sum of $5,000 subject to a bondsmah acceptable to the Crown, and had received applications to go bail from a man named Dimsdale and also from Dirk Ruskin. Both applications were refused on the ground that

W. L. M. KING ASKS ABERHART ASSIST TEST ACTS, COURT

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King has communicated a request to Premier William Aberhart of Alberta for co-operation in testing in the courts the newest Alberta Social Credit legislation.

(When word reached him at Bonnyville, Alta., Mr. Aberhart said he would call a special meeting of the Alberta Cabinet to consider the request. He did not indicate when the meeting would be held. In the meantime, he would make no comment).

For the first time Prime Minister King yesterday broke the silence he and other members of the Cabinet have maintained on the Alberta situation since the new legislation was introduced and passed in the Legislature at Edmonton last week.

He announced he had sent Mr. Aberhart a telegram saying Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, was considering three Alberta acts, including one which would require all bank managers and bank employees to obtain licenses from the Alberta Government.

What King Wants to Know

Before laying the question before the cabinet Mr. King wanted to know if Mr. Aberhart would facilitate a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada to test validity of the three measures and whether the Alberta government would undertake to refrain from enforcing the new laws pending a judicial determination.

In the normal course of events the Supreme Court of Canada will not be in session before October but Mr. King said an effort would be made to secure an early hearing should Mr. Abertart fall in with his suggestion.

He declined to discuss alternatives in the event Mr. Aberthart should object to the proposed reference or refuse to co-operate and insist on enforcing the new legislation at once. That would be no bar to the reference however, as the Dominion Government has power to refer any important question, any federal or provincial statute to the court for an opinion on law at any time. The three Alberta acts referred to in Mr. King's telegram are the act to require bank managers and bank employees to obtain licenses, the act to prevent bank employees from bringing actions in Alberta courts if they fail to obtain licenses and the act to prohibit the testing of any Alberta statute in the courts of Alberta without consent of the Alberta government.

The reference to the Supreme Court would be to determin whether the Alberta legislature under the constitution had power to enact the three measures. The one requiring bank employees to take out licenses is designed to give the Alberta government through the Social Credit board control over banking in Alberta.

The constitution, that is the British North America Act vests control over banks and banking, currency and credit in the national parliament.

The new Alberta act stipulates that senior bank officials in applying for licenses submit the names of two persons who with members of the Social Credit board would form a local five-man board with control over the policies of the licensed bank officials.

GEORGE S. HENRY HINTED TO RETIRE

EAST YORK, Aug. 12.—Word is being eagerly awaited by East York Conservative leaders as to whether Hon. George S. Henry will accept the party nomination for the coming election. A statement made by Mr. Henry during a tour of Western Canada some time ago, when he is said to have referred to the next session of the House as his last, coupled with his silence last week at the riding picnic, gave strong rise during the last few days to the belief that he would not be a candidate.

Approached last night, the former Premier refused to discuss the matter.

It was definitely learned however, that in the event of Mr. Henry deciding to announce his retirement, Hollis E. Beckett, formerly Deputy-Reeve of Scarboro', and now its municipal solicitor, would be a candidate for the nomination. For many years he served as a member of the Township Council, the York County Council, and was Secretary of the York County Old Age Pensions Board. The name of John A. Leslie, also a former Deputy-Reeve of Scarboro', and at present a member of the Scarboro' Utilities Commission, is being mentioned also.

Up to the present neither party has summoned a nominating convention, but it is learned that two prominent Liberals are under consideration. The name of Lionel Conacher has been freely mentioned by prominent Liberals, while that of Harry Sanders, who was defeated at the last election, is also advanced.

Indians Stage Snapshot Strike

Puzzled camera enthusiasts found it next to impossible to get a good shot of the local Redmen, and even papooses proved camera shy, ducking their heads into their containers.

Later it developed that this apparent fear of the "evil eye" could be overcome for the small sum of 25 cents.

LABOUR SHORTAGE NOW THREATENING MINING DISTRICT

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 12.—Development of Northern Ontario's mineral and forest resources has reached the point where a labor shortage now threatens. Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn yesterday told the Aldborough Old Boys' Association at their annual reunion in Memorial Park in New Glasgow.

A prominent member of Elgin Conservative Party paid tribute to the Liberal Premier at the opening of reunion meeting. He was Douglas Macdiarmid, one of the nominees at the Conservative nominating convention in St. Thomas Tuesday night. Mr. Macdiarmid is a son of the late Hon. F. G. Macdiarmid, former Minister of Public Works and Highways.

Tireless Energy.

"Through his tireless energy and ability he led the Ontario Liberal Party to victory in 1934, and since then he has shown us the great burden a Prime Minister is called upon to bear," said the Conservative. "Mr. Hepburn has been very kind to this riding, particularly in relation to highway matters and other services of public benefit."

The meeting was not political in character. Mr. Hepburn briefly reviewed some of the record of his Government, and said:

"I think the greatest achievement of this Government has to do with the development of mines and forests.

"There is hardly an unemployed man in the North today. In fact, as Minister of Labor, I received a report only a few days ago that there is a scarcity of labor in the North.

"His Government, he revealed, has collected some $40,000,000 in succession duties since taking office in 1934.

"Three years ago, when the present Administration took office, unemployment relief was costing this Province $22,000,000, with the contributions from the municipalities and the Federal Government bringing the total to $37,000,000.

Balanced Budget.

"Despite this burden, we undertook to balance the Budget, and we

Muffled Roar Heard.

Each time a new crack opened there was a muffled boom like the setting off of dynamite. The earth shook, and clouds of dust shot upward on bubbles of escaping subterranean air.

Robertson believed that his fields, located near the old Salmon River canyon, will sink until they form a half mile long gully, possibly as deep as the canyon. For the past three years there has been a slow cracking of the surface in the affected fields.

Several times he diverted the course of a private irrigation canal to prevent loss of water into the cracks. It wasn't until two weeks ago that the sinking movement became noticeable.

Attempts to measure the depth of the cracks have been unsuccessful. One 200-foot rope was dropped in a large opening without reaching the bottom of the dust-filled crater.

A photographer was almost trapped when the earth began to shake at one chasm. As he fled, the ground upon which he had stopped a moment before dropped away into the hole.

The old Salmon River's usually clear water was mud filled and occasional puffs of dust burst its surface. Geologists said the entire country around Buhl and the Twin Falls area was honeycombed with subterranean caverns which resulted from an incomplete volcanic formation thousands of years ago.

Japanese Forces Suffer Casualties In Advance

While Japanese troops have succeeded in forcing their way into northern China at Peiping and Tientsin, their conquest has not been without some casualties. The charred skeleton of a Japanese military truck in the upper LEFT photograph marks the spot of where a force of Japanese soldiers was ambushed and wiped out by the Chinese near the Yungting Men Gate at Peiping The ambush took place within sight of the city walls and was one of the minor skirmishes that preceded taking over of the city by Japanese invaders. The photograph at the lower LEFT was also taken at Peiping and may be chalked up to the credit of the Chinese who resisted the Japanese drive. This artillery truck, loaded with repair equipment, smashed into a tree when its driver pulled his steel helmet over his eyes to protect them against Chinese rifle fire. A Japanese tank towed the wreck away next day. At the lower RIGHT are Japanese bluejackets searching a rickshaw at Shanghai after one Japanese bluejacket had been reported kidnapped by a group of Chinese. The missing sailor was not expected to be found under the rickshaw seat, but the effect on the Chinese at the city was planned to be impressive.

WORLD ZIONISTS VOTE TO NEGOTIATE ON PALESTINE CASE

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (A.P.). — The World Zionist Congress voted yesterday to negotiate with Great Britain on the Royal Commission's recommendations for the partition of Palestine. The vote was 264 to 158.

The vote does not authorize the executive officers of the World Zionists to say "yes" or "no" to the Royal Commission report, but they may explore its possibilities and ascertain the exact terms of the proposal to partition the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab states.

Solomon Kaplansky of Palestine presented the majority resolution favoring negotiations with Great Britain, and added a supplementary resolution stating the Congress "rejects the conclusion of the Royal Commission that national aspirations of the Jewish and Arab peoples in Palestine are irreconcilable."

The resolution attributed past trouble in Palestine to uncertainty as to the policy of the mandatory Power.

"The Congress reaffirms is previous declarations expressing the readiness of the Jewish people to reach a peaceful settlement with the Arabs in Palestine, based on a free development of both races with mutual recognition of their respective rights," the resolution stated.

Wise Leads Opposition.

Opposition to negotiations was led by Rabbi Stephen Wise, formerly of Toronto and now of New York who, acting as "President of the Zionist Organization of America," presented a minority resolution declaring irrevocable opposition to any partition in the Holy Land. The majority of the United States delegation voted against Wise, however.

Many of the 462 voting delegates were so moved they wept before the vote. Others applauded one of their number from Palestine who arose to tell them, in a shaking voice:

"Thousands of years of Jewish history are being crowded into this brief vote. Remember your duty."

In the voting, delegates who favored the majority report, which was adopted, responded with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet, "Aleph"; those backing the minority motion, opposing any partition of Palestine, answered with the second letter, "Beth."

DOCK WORKERS RETURN.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Aug. 12 — (CP).—Dock workers returned to work unloading sugar at 40 cents an hour to-day on the condition that two leaders in their two-hour strike for 50 cents an hour be discharged.

The 50 men had ben working for an hour unloading the sugar from the steamer Saskatoon for an Owen Sound dealer when they struck for a higher rate. Several men continued working although jeered by others, but there was no violence.

After the two leaders were discharged the men returned to work.

Think Cote Slain For Only $11 Loot

MONTREAL, Aug. 12—(CP). — Provincial police investigators claimed today to have reconstructed completely events which led to the slaying last month in a lonely spot outside the city of Hyacinthe Cote, wealthy real estate owner.

Taken into custody shortly after discovery of Cote's body in a field at St. Laurent, about seven miles north of here, Exepalphat Benoit and Lionel Gauther, will appear as material witnesses today at coroner's inquest.

Police claim their investigations established Cote was murdered July 20, four days before his body was found by a berry-picker in a ditch under a pile of stones. The slaying, they said, netted the killers only $11.

FIND BOY SLAIN LEFT TO BUZZARDS

BELZONI, Miss, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Authorities took precautions to protect H. E. Barnett, a cotton tenant farmer, from an angry crowd of neighbors last night after he had been indicted on a charge of murdering his 11-year-old son, Jordan, and exposing the body to buzzards.

Barnett, barefooted and his toil-seamed face beaded with sweat, was led into the Humphrey County Grand Jury room and indicted on three charges—bigamy, assault and battery on a child, and first-degree murder.

The crowd muttered angrily at Barnett. The country folk said he always had been harsh to his two children. He had followed the buzzards to the body of his son after neighbors had threatened to search for the missing youth. The body was badly mutilated.

Before the Grand Jury took action, Granny Richards had reported seeing buzzards flying over the Barnett farm on Aug. 2, three days after Jordan disappeared.

"I went to Barnett's on Tuesday morning and told them if they did not find the boy within an hour I would follow the buzzards to where he was," she said.

Within an hour Barnett led officers to the decapitated and partly decomposed body.

RUSSIA ADVANCES DEVELOPMENT IN SIBERIAN ARCTIC

LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP)—Russian flights across the North Pole to North America are the most spectacular but by no means the ultimate in Russia's development of the Arctic. Navigation, industrialization, agriculture and aviation are all parts of a comprehensive development plan for the Russian Arctic with which considerable progress has already been made.

H. P. Smolka, Austrian journalist, who visited Siberia, in an address to the Royal Institute of International Affairs at Chatham House here, outlined the steps the Russians are taking.

"We usually think of the polar regions as a very inhospitable part of the world, as a desert of snow and ice, a waste where nothing can grow, and where men, except for a few explorers who risk their lives for the benefit of science, cannot live," he said.

"This conception is quite wrong. What I saw when I visited the Siberian Arctic last summer was entirely different. I found towns, theatres and factories, and they work not only in the summer but all the year round. I found ports by the mouths of the large rivers, air-bases and air-lines operating regularly between settlements which lie very far from one another. I found cinemas, vegetable gardens, flowers and agricultural plantations."

There were many reasons why Russia spends so much money and energy on developing the northern regions, Mr. Smolka said. Russians believed the treasures of Siberia could only be made accessible to the world by sea transport. Siberia is a geographical freak—probably one of the richest regions of the world in metals and timber, with plenty of land that could be brought under the plough.

"It is impossible though to link the many centres of industry which the Russians are building all over Siberia by railways alone," he continued. The rivers of Siberia, which make excellent means of communication, all flow into the Arctic Ocean, which is ice-bound more than eight months of the year.

Organizes Navigation.

"The scheme of developing the Arctic on which the Russian government has embarked is based upon organizing navigation on these rivers; they are building ports near the estuaries where raw materials can be turned into industrial products and during the three months of the year when it is possible by help of ice-breakers to bring ships from the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans to the Siberian coast they are shipping these goods off to other ports of Russia, to Europe and America."

All industrial activities in the Russian Arctic and the settlement of Europeans in these areas naturally is dependent on provision of fresh food. "In Igarka," said Smolka, "I saw tomatoes growing in hothouses, and cabbages and potatoes, even wheat, growing in the open air. The Arctic sun shines 24 hours a day for two and a half months on end, so that the growth of the leaves, which depends on the amount of sunshine, is not arrested overnight."

Airplanes were essential to link the centres of life and to transport passengers, but they were also needed to guide ice-breakers through the Arctic Ocean and to assist in surveying forest land, territory very difficult to penetrate on foot.

"The Russians believe that in the future the Arctic will become one of the main highways of the world's air traffic," said Mr. Smolka. "All the most important centres lie in the northern hemisphere: New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow, Tokyo, Peiping, Shanghai. Communication between these cities is definitely shorter when made over the top of the world than around the waist of the globe." European and Far Eastern centres of industry could also be linked by the new Arctic shipping route he thought.

Nazi Sympathizers Guard Hall

Crowds of labor unionists and sympathizers picketed German-American hall in Kenosha, Wisconsin, as 800 members of the German-American Volksbund met in what opponents termed the first Nazi demonstration in the Middle West. The group which observed German day met behind closed doors. Photo shows Nazi sympathizers in uniform guarding the entrance to the German-American hall.

STUDENTS TRY STRIKE.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12 (AP). — Students of law, medicine, economy, commerce and the plastic arts at University of Mexico went on strike today and immediately took possession of the University building. They allowed no one to enter or leave.

The students called the strike against their respective faculties for alleged partiality in the election of the board of directors for the student body.

CALDWELL ADMITS GUILT, 3 COUNTS

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 12.—(CP)—Electing trial without a jury, Stanley Caldwell, 22-year-old clothes presser of Tilbury, and formerly of Chatham, Wednesday pleaded guilty in county court to three serious charges arising out of an alleged attack on Miss Jeanne Terry, supervisor of music in rural schools, in her car on a lonely road near Tilbury June 15. Judge McFadden reserved sentences until Sept. 3.

Most serious charge read to the defendant by Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, K.C., alleged that, while armed, he did "assault one Jeanne Terry with a blackjack with intent to commit robbery, namely steal a motor vehicle." The second was a charge of attempting to commit suicide, and the third alleged "assault of a female and thereby cause actual bodily harm."

Miss Terry is recovering from a fractured skull, suffered when she was struck by a gas pipe, allegedly wielded by the defendant as he sought to take possession of her car in which she was giving him a ride.

Caldwell was said to have asked permission to accompany Miss Terry on a trip to a rural school, intimating that he had to make a business call.

On a lonely road, he is alleged to have slugged her with the gas pipe which he had concealed in his top coat. The girl struggled with her assailant and almost ditched the car. Her screams were heard by two farm workers, who chased Caldwell when he finally fled from the car.

Before he was captured he swallowed chloroform which he had taken with him in a small bottle. He was in the hospital several days as a result of the effects of the drug.

Lover Coaxed To Rumania, Jilted Ties Up Sweetie's Bank Account

Montreal, August 12 (CP)

ROMEO had his troubles in courting Juliet, but they were nothing compared to the woes of Elie Staesen, who loved and lost.

Elie took his intended wife, Eleanora Dominica Zdroubou, to Bukowina, Rumania, for the marriage ceremony at her request he claims. Now he asks $420.14 from his near-wife for expenses entailed by the journey.

Along with the action to recover cost of the trip, Elie has tied up his former sweetie's bank account here with a seizure until the merits of the case are decided.

Counsel of the woman who nearly became Mrs. Staesen moved yesterday in Superior Court to have the seizure before judgment set aside. Hearing in that connection will take place later.

In the main action, Elie says he courted Miss Zdroubou for three or four years and finally she agreed to marry him, but stipulated the ceremony take place in Rumania.

Elie says he conceded the point and paid the costs of the trip, only to be met some time after arrival with a refusal by his fiancee to go through with the marriage. Still in his bachelor state, he was forced to return to Montreal, while Miss Zdroubou remained in Rumania.

LAKEFIELD

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Moore of Lakefield, spent several days last week in Whitby and Toronto.

Miss Helen Porter left on Tuesday for Stoney Lake, wher she will spend a few days at Camp Ingleslane.

Misses Lelia, Verna and Doris Burgess returned last week from a motor trip to the United States.

Miss Jean Tanner of Lakefield, is spending a few days at Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Millage's cottage at Kawartha Park.

WOOL RESEARCH IS UNDERTAKEN

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Aug. 12—(CP). The International Wool Secretariat, formed by Australian, New Zealand and South African wool interests with headquarters at London, England, moved to-day to determine how science could be applied more effectively to wool manufacture.

Dr Clumes Ross, member of the Secretariat, speaking here recently, said some of the tasks confronting them were the improvement of textile manufacturing processes; the co-ordination of wool research work in London; the removal of commercial disadvantages, and the advancement of European trade.

GLACIERS MELTING.

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 12 (AP). — Norwegian glaciers melted, it was so hot today.

A huge section of the base of Hardanger glacier disintegrated under the intense heat and fell off into Demme Lake.

The splash created a tidal wave 160 feet high, which washed away 12 houses, destroyed nearby crops and filled fields with large boulders.

No casualties were reported, however.

The Strike Goes On

The decision of the majority of the striking textile workers to ignore Premier Hepburn's offer of an investigation into the textile industry with a view to establishing a minimum wage for the male workers therein, and to carry on with the strike will be regretted by most citizens. The Premier's promise was clear cut and decisive and it contained the most important clause that when the minimum wage has been set it would be made retroactive to the day upon which the strikers returned to their jobs.

The Examiner believes that even among those who most ardently espouse the cause of the workers in the two plants and feel that they are entitled to a new deal in the matter of wages there will be keen disappointment that an offer that seemed to promise to improve the conditions of the strikers has been so emphatically rejected. The fact that prominent men who were working tooth and nail in support of the successful termination of the strike have not hesitated to condemn the turning down of the offer as a mistake should be enough to convince the striking employees that their action has not been wise or in their own interest. The promise of a minimum wage, especially when it is accompanied by a definite pledge that workers will share in the full benefit of the new rate from the present time on, as soon as proper investigation has made it possible to establish that rate, appeals to most folk as a reasonable way out of the present undesirable situation. It may be said of course that the offer would have been more attractive if Mr. Hepburn had announced that a temporary minimum wage would be set immediately, subject to re-adjustment upon investigation but the Premier has chosen to word his offer differently and in the long run the strikers stand to benefit materially from it, especially those in the lower wage brackets who are most in need.

However the workers have chosen to disregard the Hepburn program, to which by the way the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds have assented, and the strike goes on, with its loss of spending power, its scant rations for the unfortunate men and women who are involved and with the ever-present danger of a repetition of the scenes of violence and disorder that have shocked the community during the last few days.

A Great Canadian

Peterborough had an opportunity for a short time on Wednesday to welcome a great Canadian in the person of Sir. Edward Beatty, head of the Canadian Pacific Railway. We used the phrase "a great Canadian" advisedly for the city's guest of yesterday is exactly that. Not merely because he is the executive head of the world's greatest transportation system, advertising Canada all over the world, and has made a most excellent job of it, although that in itself would be enough to earn a man the right to be called great. Sir. Edward has proven his greatness in other ways and in other directions. He has been a pillar of strength to the University of McGill, his enthusiasm and interest have helped materially in the development of the Scout movement in Canada and he has supplied leadership and wise counsel to other public activities that have meant much to this country. The C.P.R. president of course is entitled to the description "great" on another count because of the fact that he has long ranked as one of Canada's most eligible bachelor's—a distinction he has jointly shared with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Rt Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of His Majesty's most loyal opposition—and one that it is to be imagined has been maintained with difficulty in the case of one possessing so many obvious advantages. Peterborough is glad such a distinguished Canadian dropped in upon us—even if his stay here was necessarily short. The welcome is ever on the mat in his case.

This Fast Age

The emancipation of women throughout the world has been one of the better things that have arisen from the swift-changing universe that we call our own. In the East as well as in the West there has been a steadily-increasing demand for equal rights, and in the countries where women were nothing but a drudge who were forced to remain in the privacy of a harem or in their living quarters, new legislation has taken away the veil that has shrouded them for centuries. They can now move about with all security and they are no longer the slaves of intolerant man.

But they are paying their price for their anxiety to do man's work in the world. They are, in the opinion of Dr. William H. Robey, of the Harvard Medical School shortening their lives because of their strenuous occupations. Where in the past, they occupied themselves with duties of the household, where, in a certain sense, they were protected and led quieter lives, they have now entered into the business, professional and political world, and, as a result, are falling prey to the results of these strenuous activities. The new freedom, said Dr. Robey, has removed many of the restrictions and inhibitions which formerly existed, and there is the possibility that a hundred years hence the comparative age expectancy may show a different ratio.

But you can't tell that to some women.

Picketing Cemeteries

Grave-diggers have to live, just the same as everybody else and it may be that in many cases they are poorly paid and feel the urge to use collective bargaining for the purpose of attaining better conditions. At the same time a cemetery seems to be a place that should be kept free of labor wars, especially when they take the form the recent walkout of cemetery workers in Kansas City assumed. There the grave-diggers organized themselves into a union and declared a strike, refusing to bury ten bodies that were awaiting interment. Then they proceeded to clap a picket on all cemetery gates, demanding a recognition of their union and refusing friends and relatives of the dead the consolation of seeing that their loved ones were buried with proper reverence.

As to the merits of their demands for more wages, we have no information upon which to form an opinion but we have no hesitation in saying that when they apply aggressive C. I. O. methods to the burial of the dead and invade what should be hallowed ground with their picketing nonsense, they are going about their job of bettering their wage conditions in the wrong way. Bereaved folk should be spared the additional sorrow of having the funeral of their relatives marred by picket lines at cemetery gates and labor attempts to interfere with the preparation of graves. There is something so ghoulish about that kind of thing that turns public sympathy away from the strikers and causes the merit of their demands to be buried under a sense of resentment at the callousness of the whole proceedings.

The Truth Is Best

We cannot see eye to eye with the decision of the Toronto health authorities that no more figures dealing with the number of existing cases of infantile paralysis are to be given out. That is the surest way to create what the authorities are most anxious to avoid, that is a panic among citizens over the rapid development of the disease in the Queen City. The true figures may be alarming, it is admitted, but they are not nearly as disturbing as the total conjured up by the imagination of the public once the figures are kept under cover.

Nothing travels faster than rumor and the best way, of course, to start a rumor going is to keep the truth about anything concealed. Immediately some one makes a wild guess and launches it on its way and in a short time the original rumor has been widened and deepened and lengthened. It is safe to say that now a censorship has been clamped on the Toronto infantile paralysis figures exaggerated stories about the number of cases and the death rate will soon be frightening nervous parents and children who are old enough to realize the seriousness of the scourge. The very withholding of the customary statistics tends toward that result because at once people say "The figures must be terrible or they would give them out" and at once the imaginative start to name their death totals and pass them along to others who add a few more before they in their turn proceed to give wider circulation to statistics that are mere figments of the imagination. The truth may be bad but it is to be preferred to the lies that take its place.

They're Needed Everywhere

There was a little story from Windsor the other day that calls for a word or two. It was to the effect that since the Border City opened its summer program of playgrounds activities its juvenile delinquency has dropped 23 per cent. ground facilities mean that the youngground facilities mean that the youngsters are taken out of undesirable environment, and are given an opportunity to play in safety away from the hazards of the open street, and a chance to work off the gang spirit that leads to crime, if not properly directed, in the excitement and exuberance of group and team games.

Every community is the better off for an ample supply of properly equipped and controlled recreation areas and it has always been a matter of regret that circumstances made it necessary to abandon, for the time being at least, the supervised playgrounds that formerly were a source of enjoyment to Peterborough children. Operated first by the playground association and afterward by the Board of Education the play areas served a most useful purpose and it is to be hoped that it may be possible to reestablish this playground work in the near future.

While it is true that the wading pool at King Edward Park, the health camp at Jackson Park and the camp for boys at Clear Lake help to take up some of the slack of summertime idleness in the case of children who would not otherwise have much of a summer holiday the fact remains that there are hundreds of other youngsters to whom supervised playgrounds would be a godsend during the long vacation month.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

Their names grow dim upon the granite cross
We lifted to our victory and loss
When blessed peace was signed.
The number dwindles that can ne'er forget,
Where mothers, lovers store their likeness yet
In ageing heart and mind.

A score set out the enemy to brave;
Five saw again the home they'd fought to save—
No more than only five;
Now fewer, fewer do the jam jars lie
That lift a bloom and keep the memory
Of native sons alive.

Foundered and lost within the old, red swamp,
Not theirs the after-glory and the pomp
And laurel wreaths of fame.
They died with life frustrate and promise sped
To join the legions of the nameless dead
Lost in a battle's name.

For only battles shine on dusty scrolls
When Time his all-forgetting vapour rolls
To blot a field forlorn.
The myriad men who built each pyramid
With individual agonies are hid
Behind a word outworn.

MRS. Josie Bishop a widow with four grown children has struck luck. Twenty years ago she moved to California's Mojave desert from New Mexico arriving there with a can of beans and a loaf of bread but no butter. She owns a patch of mining territory 27 miles north of Mojave, and has established her claim in the face of litigation. Now it looks as if her troubles were over. Recent news stories make it appear that Mrs. Bishop owns an extremely rich deposit of radiumbearing ore—one of the richest in proportion of radium to the ton ever discovered. A rich radium deposit is one which yields 99 to 120 milligrams (.00315 to .0042 ounces) nearly pure radium bromide salt per ton of concentrated ore (50 tons of raw ore.) A San Diego mining engineer and chemist has assayed Mrs. Bishop's ore as 130 milligrams of radium per ton. The present price of radium is $25 per milligram, $25,000 per gram and $700,000 per ounce.

In four projection rooms in New York a small group of school teachers, pencils poised over marking blanks in their laps sat watching the antics of Mickey Mouse, an erupting volcano, travelogues, and Bobby Jones measuring a fairway. Part of an ambitious project that has been going on since May and will continue until September they have seen and judged some 1,500 motion pictures and expect to see several hundred more. What they expect to accomplish is the first complete report on the educational possibilities of the commercial cinema.

After the great war was over the British government sold some 800,000 army horses and mules to Belgium and the animals were put to work in mines, and harnessed to produce—wagons and canal barges. So many stories of ill-treatment for these horses have been reported that Britain's Our Dumb Friends' League has started a campaign to rescue from the continent the survivors. There is little difficulty in tracing them because each bears an identifiable army mark. Whenever the League finds a British warhorse and has enough money on hand he is bought for $100, taken to the League's stables in [illegible], put to grass for the first time in 18 years and later sent to Britian to be pensioned off in some country paddock. Already some 25 out of an estimated 600 survivors throughout France and Belgium have been rescued. Many of the 25 were blind, many carried scars of the battlefield, all were in miserable shape. Long-starved, the horses had to be prevented from disastrous overeating and were kept down to a daily seven pounds of hay and a weekly gallon of beer.

A Valuable Pickerel.

As a circulation booster a Chicago newspaper thought up a novel idea. Into a string of lakes in Northern Illinois and Wisconsin, the paper put 1,000 fine fish, tagged for identification and offered prizes from $1 up for their capture. The biggest prizes were $500 and $200 for two pickerel which were named Oscar and Fanny. Sporting-goods stores put up additional prizes, raising the reward for Oscar to $1,330.90 and for Fanny to $820.90. The lakes theretofore comparatively quiet, retreats, swarmed with so many visitors trying to catch the prize fish that the scene resembled a regatta. About fifty of the smaller-prize fish were caught first and then John D. Mueller, a Bell Telephone Company employee landed Oscar which netted him well over $1,300. Fanny at the last writing was still at large.

A Missouri Funeral.

WHEN I die I want you to place my body in the office of the Mercury. Start the press and keep it running. Show the mourners the new linotype. And have a negro chorus sing the Rock of Ages." These were the instructions of Thomas Vaughin Bodine, gun-toting editor of the Paris Missouri Mercury. When he died a little later from an intestinal disease at the age of 67 his body lay in state from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. alongside the desk where he had worked for half a century. Instructions were carried out to the letter. The new linotype machine purchased to celebrate the Mercury's 100th anniversary three months hence was Editor Bodine's great joy. He had started to use it to write his memoirs.

The House that He Built

An American Finds Beauty In An Ontario Lake.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

IN another column on this page today there is reproduced an article written by Dr. Ellis, about his Summer place in the Rideau Lakes.

Dr. Ellis picked for himself three acres of wooded land with a lake frontage, with rocks and gullies and fine trees, and in his mind's eye saw what might be made of it. Now he has a place about which he writes with pride and to which he turns every Summer for peace, for quietness, for relief from the strain of city life.

He built to his ideal of what such a house should be, he saw constructed the road that links him with the world—it is his own dwelling place as no house, no matter how fine, could be his own if another had designed it and watched it grow up.

That, we think, largely is the joy of the Summer cottage, whether modest or pretentious—the thorough satisfaction that comes from building one's own place, watching an idea transform itself into something of practical form. The desire to own even a small bit of land is all but universal. Coupled with it is the ambition to build the perfect house. It is an ambition the more readily attained, for obvious reasons, within the elastic demands and costs of a Summer home, and this fact largely explains the popularity of our annual migrations.

Dr. Ellis is but one of thousands of United States citizens who have recognized more quickly than our own people the unsurpassed charm of our lakes and rivers, the possibilities of securing seclusion—isolation. If that is what one wants—at small cost and at a convenient distance from the cities. In the Gatineau, in the Rideau Lakes, in Muskoka, in the Kawartha Lakes area, in a thousand other delightful spots they are able to realize their ideals—as Dr. Ellis has done.

Higher Prices Rule Again

They Seem To Be Inseparable From Return of Good Times.

(From the Galt Reporter.)

INCREASE in the cost of living is a situation that begins to cause concern yet it seems inseparable from the return of better times.

Several of the big automobile concerns have just announced a substantial raise in the prices of their cars and this process is proceeding rapidly in all categories of manufacturing.

If the price-raising were always justified by the economic facts, there could not be serious objection but there is suspicion that the irresponsible elements in the commercial and industrial fabric are inclined to take advantage of a trend and to unduly elevate prices where the circumstances do not warrant such procedure.

Unfortunately it has been impossible so far to evolve a plan whereby the prices of commodities could be regulated to conform with normal earning capacity. If that were possible, existence would be more comfortable for a large percentage of the population that finds it difficult to purchase the necessities of life, no matter how low in price these may be.

There is still in the minds of the population the situation that existed for several years prior to 1929. Then all the commodities such as food, clothing, shelter and entertainment were at high prices and the condition was described as prosperity. That did not ensure that there was absence of privation and poverty but the great majority of workers had jobs and everyone seemed to be getting by even if they were doing so by mortgaging the future. The subsequent events are also impressed on the minds of this generation. Everything seemed to come to a stop toward the end of 1929 and for half a dozen years we endured a period of economic distress in which prices dropped to decidedly low levels. But even at these depressed prices the goods were not available to a considerable percentage of the population who were without jobs and had no resources.

It will be too bad if our future of the next decade is just a repetition of the process that has been referred to. If so, people will dread a high-price period if it is going to be merely the prelude to a worse depression than that from which we are emerging.

The Problem of Rust

Not Only Harms the Grain Makes Cutting Unpleasant.

(By Rusticus, in the Stratford Beacon-Herald.)

WHAT of those exceptional grain yield reports we usually hear about at this time of year? True, threshing is not yet being carried on on most farms, but then many yields of good wheat have gone through the threshing mill, and those bumper crops should be reported.

A month ago the outlook was excellent. We wrote something at that time about a real harvest being in prospect—and we pointed out, too, that much could happen between that time and the actual harvest. That something to a large extent has happened. Rust and a mild degree of drought have changed the picture considerably and the drought is unbroken and becoming rather serious.

The very farmers who, in former years, were talking of their 40 and 45 bushels of wheat per acre are this year reporting yields ranging as low as 20 bushels and much wheat is reported to be of inferior quality. "A farmer, in commenting on crop reports, accused the press and everybody who "writes for the papers" of hiding these facts.

It was his contention that the publication of big yield reports helped to depress market prices, and that reports of poor yields were purposely suppressed in order that prices might be kept down.

The fact is that the farmer who threshes 45 or 50 bushels of wheat an acre of land is very likely to be telling his neighbors and the press about it, but when his crop doesn't average half that he is likely to keep more quiet about it. It makes a great deal more pleasant news item when the story concerns good crops than when rust and shrunken grain are the subject. Right well do we know that we found it more pleasant to report an excellent outlook a month ago than to report that some of our crop hopes have become blighted today.

To what extent the spring grains have been damaged, if any, we do not know. That the yield is not likely to be up to the promise of a month ago is a certainty. Moreover, we have been sticking too close to the farm to know whether the crop conditions are better somewhere else or not, though a farmer from Essex County told us that wheat yielding thirty bushels down there was rare and the farmer with a decent sample was lucky. He also reported some yields as low as seven bushels per acre. So it does seem as though the wheat crop has suffered quite a blow.

What is this rust? If you go out to some farm where threshing is going on you will see plenty of the red dust flying about. The ancients called it the work of the God Robigus who punished a wicked people by sending a blight upon their grain. Later on it was supposed that damp, hot weather would cause the grain to rust, but science has a different story. They tell us that rust on grain is not, as was once supposed, something much the same as rust on iron, but a tiny organism that fastens onto the stalk and feeds on the plant. Hence the sap that should produce the kernel goes to feed the parasite.

Unfortunately the fungus not only harms the grain but a reddish dust makes cutting, stooking and threshing unpleasant.

Next week the oat harvest will be in full swing and bare fields tell of approaching fall. As I write, the skies are overcast and roots, potatoes, corn and pastures may get some much needed moisture.

The picture may not be quite as bright as it was a month ago, but there is still every likelihood of a generous harvest, and a nice hot election fight right after to help us forget the many hours of hard work required in storing that harvest away.

Glass Underwear.

(Montreal Star)

UNDERWEAR, blankets, and wool can now be made from glass. The process of manufacture is a close secret, but this much is known. Steam is applied to molten glass and turns it into a snow-white, fluffy mass which can be drawn into fine threads of great strength.

Each thread is 1-30th the diameter of a human hair and is drawn at the rate of 360,000 feet per minute, or 3,000 miles an hour—faster than a high velocity rifle bullet! If the quantity of glass in an ordinary pint milk bottle were subjected to this process, it would more than lap the world at the equator.

HOPE AND COURAGE.

(Calgary Herald)

IN the days before the war many thousands of Ontario farmers emigrated to the West to make their fortunes, and many of them achieved their ambition. Others were not so fortunate, but in spite of the hazards of drouth, hail and rust, few of them returned to farm in the East. The rewards are large in the West for the farmer when a good year arrives, and it is this expectation that keeps the agriculturist buoyed up even in years of lean revenues and weather vicissitudes.

The West is a land with men of optimism and undaunted courage in adversity, and it is a part of Canada that has contributed vastly to the Dominion's prosperity and national wealth.

WEDDING RINGS.

(Victoria Colonist)

JUNE being the month of weddings, it is interesting to note that half the world's brides are said to be married with wedding rings made in Birmingham, where some of the firms in the trade have been in existence since the eighteenth century. A hundred years ago wedding rings were made narrow as they are today, and gradually they became wider, until fifty years later no ring was acceptable unless it was broad and heavy. The pendulum has swung back again to the present fashion for abnormally narrow and light rings, although there is a tendency to revert to heavier rings.

STREAMLINED PIGS.

(Brandon Sun)

STREAMLINED pigs will soon be the ideal of the agricultural show judge, according to "Canada's Weekly," published in London. The reason why the roly-poly, lardy porkers are on their way out is that housewives are using less and less lard each year as chemists perfect the processes of making vegetable cooking oils. Consequently, there is less and less market for the fatty-type pig. Perhaps we shall enjoy our breakfast bacon all the more, if there is a little more lean meat in it.

A Favorite Dish.

(Brandon Sun)

CANADIANS who visit Europe, especially the British Isles or France, are amazed to see the rows and rows of rabbits hanging up in the meat shops ready for sale and to find that rabbit meat is a favorite dish. Indeed, hare soup is a most highly regarded delicacy. It is not so in this country and the chief reason appears to be that in the late fall and early winter, when meat should be at its best, the rabbits are feeding on the bark of trees and shrubs, especially cedar, with the result that the meat has an unpleasant taste. Before the snow covers the ground is the time to get rabbit.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Scarcity of offerings in late trade on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today resulted in wheat future partially recovering earlier losses. Final quotations were ⅝ to 1⅛ cents lower, October at $1.29⅝. December $1.26½ to ⅞, and May $1.28⅝.

Erratic price movement featured the dull session. Buying by Continental interests and spasmodic outside support at other times kept prices bounding about within a four-cent range, below and above yesterday's close.

Terrier Befriends Orphan Kittens And Adopts Them

When Trixie, bull terrier owned by Mrs. Victoria Costanzo, of Flushing, Queens, N.Y., chased a cat across the site of New York's World's fair, she became the foster mother of four kittens. For the cat was crushed to death when a crane dropped a load of earth into her path. Trixie carried the kittens home. And, as this photo attests, she seems well pleased with her new family.

ALEX WELCH OUT ON $5,000 BAIL

Dinsdale and Rufkin had not satisfactory property qualifications, the Crown Attorney said.

Mr. McElderry intimated to the press in the early interview today that he had an appointment with Mr. McMurray at 12.30 o'clock and he believed if Mr. McMurray was prepared to offer security he would be accepted as a bondsman.

Following his meeting with Mr. McMurray, the Crown Attorney announced the application had been accepted and that Welch and Dundas both would be granted bail before a justice of the peace around 3 o'clock. No conditions were attached to the bond, he revealed.

He branded the assertion made by Mr. Millard that the amount of bail demanded for Welch's release was exhorbitant as ridiculous, and declared, "The amount was set by the magistrate. There was nothing unusual about the amount. It has often been demanded in other circumstances of a similar nature where an accused person is not a local resident".

BONARLAW

We are very glad to report Mr. Charles Nobes returned to his home here on Friday, having spent the past few weeks at the sanitarium. His condition is favorable. He will be confined to his bed for a few weeks. His friends will be glad to know he is not suffering from tuberculosis, but a heart condition. We all wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Earl Mumsby of Sudbury, is spending a week at his home on the 9th Line.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stiles visited at Mr. George Shortt's at Centenary on Sunday.

Misses Edna and Vera Heagle, of Toronto, are spending two weeks' vacation with their mother, Mrs. Ernest Brown.

Miss Marjorie McKeown returned to her home this week, having spent the past few weeks at Guelph O.A.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Matthews of Hamilton, is visiting at Mr. Simon Matthew's.

Miss Isobel Beckett of Wellman's Corners, spent last week, a guest of Miss Marion McKeown.

STRIKERS WILL SEND DELEGATE

claim with names, the Auburn management said 113 workers were in to-day. Strike pickets asserted that no more than 40 workers, including bosses were in the plant this morning. They claimed production was impractical with suc ha staff.

At the Bonner-Worth plant, pickets and spectators scanned a list of those who had reported for work posted by the strike leadership on the bulletin board close by the picket tent.

Queried again on the attitude of the strikers, Mike English re-stated it to-day in the following words: "We are insisting on a signed agreement with the company that the concessions previously agreed upon will be put into effect and a signed agreement concerning wages. Further than that I cannot say at present."

E. J. Young, chairman of the Industry and Labor Board, who will be in charge of the investigation into textile wages which Premier Hepburn promised, stated to the press in Toronto yesterday that no progress had been made in arbitration with the Peterborough strikers.

"We are waiting word from union leaders that they will accept the proposed wage probe," he declared. "When we have received word, I and technical advisers and accountants from Queen's Park will go down there and hold hearings. We will summon both workers and owners and conduct a thorough investigation into the wages paid, working conditions, and examine the company's books as well. The hearings, of course, will be open to the public."

Strike committee officials said today that the committee would consider laying charges against police for allegedly unwarranted violence Tuesday morning and Tuesday afternoon on the Bonner-Worth scene. No definite action in the matter had been taken to noon to-day. It had been rumored that private citizens, not connected with the strike were contemplating laying charges, but the rumors were not substantiated.

In the absence of Premier Hepburn, Hon. Harry C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary and spokesman in the Premier's absence, announced yesterday no reports had been received concerning complaints against the police. Provincial Police Inspector Killing stated that any charges made will be investigated.

The strike committee meeting in the Trades and Labor Hall this morning authorized the placing of subscription lists around this city in places accessible to all citizens. They announced that all subscriptions will be welcomed and advised that cheques should be made out to the order of the strike secretary-treasurer.

Alex. Steven and Hugh Pollard, two members of the Textile Workers' Relief Committee which G. N. Gordon, K.C., sponsored, told The Examiner this afternoon they planned to demand the resignation of Mr. Gordon, secretary of the committee, and Fred Tuggey, chairman.

"We are going to try and keep the committee going and we will still welcome all contributions of food and cash," Steven said.

"Everything we get will be applied solely to relief."

They said the staging of further tag days will be considered.

"Old Babe" Famous Circus Elephant Falls Dying, After 9 Years On Feet

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP).

OLD BABE, the zoo's ancient elephant, is dying—and her best friend, director William M. Mann, is in far-off Sumatra.

"We all hope," said acting director Ernest Walker today, "that she lives until he gets back. They had quite an affection for one another."

Age and weight—keepers say she's between 80 and 100 years old and tips the scales at 8,500 pounds—caught up with her Sunday and she sagged to the floor of the pachyderm house, perhaps never to rise again.

Babe spent most of her life with American circuses. Keepers figure she has plodded up more main streets than any animal in the world.

She owes her last lush years to Dr. Mann, who talked her last employer into retiring her three years ago to his guardianship.

Apparently aware she could not rise if she ever lay down, Babe had been on her feet for the last nine years. This time she tripped over the doorsill of her pen.

Short Harvester For Midget Crop

YORKTON, Sask., Aug. 12—(CP).—While drought has reduced surviving crops to a length of stem almost impossible to harvest with ordinary machinery, the problem did not phase August Pepple, a farmer in this area 125 miles north-east of Regina.

Going to work on his binder, he doubled the number of slots, allowing a quicker cut. He removed the knotter and sheap carrier, and substituted a home-made three-sided tin box opening against the carrier.

The entire apparatus tilts downward at the back and the bottom is on a spring hinge so that when a certain quantity of grain piles into the box, it is released and dumped on the ground in a pile instead of a sheaf, with a minimum of waste.

PREMIER HEPBURN INVITES MAYOR FOR CONFERENCE

offer received from Premier Hepburn, I said they could confer as they wished and if they decided to go back to work any wage increase enjoined by the Industrial Board would also apply to them retroactively from the day they took up work again.

At the meeting Tuesday morning at Auburn I was given a splendid hearing, and it may be relevant that as far as I could judge all the employees were Peterborough men. At the Bonner-Worth plant I met Mr. Welch, the organizer, and told him what I wished to communicate to the strikers. Mr. Welch could easily have cleared a way to the steps where I intended to speak, but he made no real effort to do so. Possibly it is significant that it was where Mr. Welch was present that the only trouble occurred.

"I wish to say that any statement that I tried to force employees back to work is untrue. The words I used left it entirely up to the strikers to decide if they wanted to go back. My purpose was to explain the Premier's promise and to appeal to all strikers to let anyone into either plant who wished to report for work."

Carroll—Doyle

A very pretty wedding was solemnized quietly at nine o'clock this (Thursday) morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Catherine Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle of Charlotte street, and Francis M. Carroll of Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Young of Young's Point, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. C. J. Carroll, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white duchess satin, fashioned on princess lines with a slight train. The net yoke, with a pearl clip at the neckline, was trimmed at the back with satin-covered buttons, and the long sleeves, puffed at the shoulders, extended to points over the fingers.

A veil of white tulle was caught in cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride wore slippers of white satin and grosgrain silk and short white lace gloves and carried a bouquet of pale creamy-pink Joanna Hill roses, white sweet peas and gysophilia, showered with narrow white ribbons.

The bridesmaid, Miss Bessie Hayes of Keene, cousin of the bridegroom, was frocked in aquamarine blue lace, with a long-sleeved short jacket trimmed with lace-covered buttons, a wide white hat of lace straw, banded by aquamarine blue chiffon, white slippers and gloves, and a Colonial nosegay of white roses and sweet peas.

Richard Doyle, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Vincent Hayes of Keene, cousin of the bridegroom, and Herbert Masterson, brother-in-law of the bride. The wedding music was played by Miss Veronica Scollard, A.T.C.M., and Miss Geraldine Collins sang during the progress of the Nuptial Mass.

Following the ceremony, a reception and a dainty breakfast, attended by thirty guests, was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, where the bride's table was done with roses, sweet peas and ivory candles. Assisting in receiving with the bridal party were Mrs. Doyle, gowned in black lace and satin, with a black hat, and Mrs. Carroll, wearing black sheer and a black hat trimmed with white flowers. Both wore shoulderettes of sweet peas and roses.

Mr. Carroll and his bride left later for a motor and boat trip to Sarnia and Sault Ste. Marie, the latter travelling in pale blue sheen, with a large white hat of stitched taffeta and white accessories. On their return, they will live at Hastings, where the bridegroom has been appointed as principal of the Separate School.

Whibbs—McManus

St. Joseph's Church in Douro was the scene of a very pretty wedding at half-past eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, August 11th, when Mary Dorothy McManus, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. McManus of Douro became the bride of Francis Augustine Whibbs, youngest son of Augustus Whibbs and the late Mrs. Whibbs, of Indian River.

The Nuptial Mass and ceremony were solemnized by the Rev. E. A. Welsh. The altar was decorated with pink and white gladioli and sword fern.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of ivory duchess satin made on princess lines, with a Queen Anne collar and a row of tiny self-covered buttons trimming the back from neck to waistline. The shirred V-neckline was finished by a tiny seed pearl clip. She wore a turban made of small white velvet flowers, with a shoulder veil, white kid gloves and shoes, and carried a bouquet of light pink Briarcliff roses and gypsophila.

Miss Loretta Cavanagh, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, wearing pink net over taffeta, with rows of taffeta trimming the skirt and the sleeves of the short bolero jacket. She wore a pink taffeta halo hat and matching accessories, and carried pink Briarcliff roses, blue cornflowers and gypsophila.

Michael McManus, brother of the bride, was best man. The bridegroom and his attendant wore boutonnieres of white roses and fern.

During the progress of the Mass, the choir sang under direction of Miss Mary Quinlan, who also sang an "Ave Maria."

After the ceremony, a reception attended by about fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, where decorations were carried out with pink and white streamers and bells. Later in the afternoon, Mr. Whibbs and his bride left by motor for Buffalo, N.Y., the latter travelling in a three-piece ensemble of may wine dotted swiss muslin, with white lapels on the cape. Her hat, shoes and purse were all in wine shades. On their return, they will live at Indian River.

The gift of the bridegroom to his bride was a chest of silver in Burgundy design, to the bridesmaid a pearl rosary, and to the best man a sterling silver cigarette lighter.

Courtice—Dunford

MILLBROOK, Aug 12.—A very pretty midsummer wedding was solemnized in King Street United Church, Oshawa, on Saturday at three o'clock, when Helena Beatrice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dunford, who was born and brought up at Millbrook, became the bride of John Ross Courtice, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Courtice, of Brockville, the Rev. A. M. Irwin, of Whitby, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, and the wedding music was played by Mr. C. J. Taylor. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length frock of ivory lace over taffeta, made with short train, and hip length jacket with Peter Pan collar, fastened down the front with tiny covered buttons and loops. The sleeves in leg-o-mutton style, extended over the fingers and had tiny buttons to the elbow, and her veil, a family heirloom, was of silk embroidered net, and worn Madonna style, caught with pearls and flowing into a train. Her shoes were of ivory crepe, and she carried a shower bouquet of creme roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. R. Gossett-Jackson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, her dress being of ivory taffeta, with veil arranged as a Madonna halo in shoulder length, and her bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Norma Dunford, younger sister of the bride, was her bridesmaid, wearing turquoise blue taffeta, made with long full skirt and short train, jacket with Peter Pan collar and short puffed sleeves, fastening down the front with small buttons and loops. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Jean Hamilton, also wore blue taffeta, floor length and cut on Princess lines, with matching small bonnet, and bouquet of daffodil yellow blossoms and baby's breath. The flower-girl was Mary Jane Hamilton.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Arthur Courtice, and the ushers were Mr. R. Gossett-Jackson, and Mr. M. Latimer. During the signing of the register Mrs. Grant Berry sang "Because." Following the ceremony a reception was held in the ball-room of the Hotel Genosha, where the guests were received by the bride's parents, assisted by Mrs. D. Courtice, of Brockville, Mrs. Dunford wore coral pink lace over taffeta, and Mrs. Courtice black silk marquisette over taffeta, slip, large black hat, and corsage of pink roses.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Courtice left on a trip to Manitoulin Island, and on their return will reside on Buckingham Avenue, Oshawa.

Re-Organization Of Club

Barnardo Home boys of the city and surrounding district re-organized their club on Wednesday evening, at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. West of 132 Perry street. Officials for the year were appointed: Frank Degan, president (acclamation); William Driver, vice president; J. Beane, secretary-treasurer; Jack West, chaplain.

The president stressed the point that many Dr. Barnardo's Home boys in the city and district have not yet joined the organization, and hoped that, no matter what position in life may be held, they will make an effort to join up.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served and a vote of thanks was accorded Mr. and Mrs. West. The next meeting is to be held on September 8th at the home of R. Glover, 238½ Simcoe street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Parsons and family have returned from their log cabin at Loon Lake. Mrs. Parsons' sister, Mrs. Donaldson of Ottawa, was with them, also a group of their grandchildren; Lahring Langley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Langley of Lakefield, and three small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blackwell, Elizabeth, Jessie and Gwyneth, whose tiny brother arrived during the little girls' holiday with their grandparents.

Little Girl Trians for Good Grooming

Mitzi Green
Well-groomed young lady

By GLADYS GLAD
"America's Most Famous Beauty"

IN SPAIN, I am told, girls are taught the art of hairdressing when they are five. oNt only are they taught to care for their own locks, but also how to treat and dress hair in general.

Miss Mitzi Green of stage fame, is an example of the results that accrue from youthful training. Mitzi, you know, is quite the young lady now.

She was trained, for instance, to give her hair a vigorous brushing every day. She was made to realize the value of daily toothbrushings. She learned to keep her nails clean, and to use a good hand brush to scrub her paddies. In short, she learned the rudiments of perfect grooming.

If you're a little girl and want to grow up to be beautiful, there's a very simple routine that you should follow. When you rise in the morning, hie yourself to the bathroom and brush your teeth. Put the dentifice on your brush and scrub your teeth up and down. Brush them until the circulation in your gums has been thoroughly aroused, then use a good mouth wash.

Scrub Face Well.

After this, scrub your face well with bland soap and tepid water, rinse all the soap from your skin and then dash lots of cold water over and dry with a coarse towel.

When your face has been properly cleansed, use a well-lathered hand brush for scrubbing your knuckles and fingertips. Rinse the hands well and push back the cuticle when drying them. If the cuticle is stubborn, use an orange stick for pushing it gently back, and then clean the nail tips.

The next step is the combing of your hair. The brushing may be left for the evening. Run the comb through your hair several times, letting the teeth touch and massage your scalp. Then arrange your tresses neatly. This completes the morning toilette.

Before retiring at night, turn on your bath water. Then, while the tub is filling, give your hair at least 100 strokes with a good hair brush. Use an upward and outward stroke for the brushing. This will polish your hair, and promote its health and loveliness. After the brushing, lather your washcloth and give your face, neck and ears a thorough cleansing. Then rinse away all the soap, and again dash cold water over your skin before drying it.

Step into your bath of warm water next, and relax. Put a dash of bath salts into the water, if you wish your skin to smell fragrant. Then, with a well-lathered bath brunesh, scrub your entire body. Finish the bath by rinsing with tepid water. If you have a shower, by all means use this method of rinsing. Let the water spray over your shoulders, chest and back. It will remove every trace of soap from your skin and will refresh. Brush your teeth and to bed.

We Noticed

...that skirts are going higher and higher. It seems that the fashion authorities say they started something last year, when they shot them up an inch or two, which they can't stop now. Must be a sign of returning prosperity, because skirts went down with a definite soft bang in the depression era. It's a little hard on the possessors of bow legs and otherwise unattractive pedal extremities. A census of feminine legs revealed recently that ninety per cent. of women are slightly knock-kneed. And it seems that brunettes are all included in this class...

...those lovely rainbow blankets in the shop windows. Color gets in everywhere, doesn't it? Wonder if we would have rainbow-hued dreams if we bought a flock of theze pretty things...

AT THE CAPITOL
"Under the Red Robe"

Conrad Veidt, that vital German actor who had such a success in the marvellous picture, "Congress Dances", and in "Rome Express" is the central figure in this tale, which takes one back to the long, long ago, when beautiful ladies lived in beleagured castles, when men fought and died to avenge a fancied slight to their honor, when political intrigue ruled the fair land of France.

Annabelle, exotic heroine of "Wings of the Morning", superimposes her effective impersonation as the lady of the castle, lovely, suspicious, and finally, loving. Veidt is the strong man who gains access to the stronghold as a spy, so that he may take the Duke back to Paris to pay the penalty of his plotting. The lady Marguerite and the brave Gil de Berault hold the stage in a fascinating picture of medieval times. These two, at least, have accents that chime in with the setting of the story. It is a flaring, swaggering, vivid production of the 'high theatre' type.—C.L.M.

Appearing suddenly on the surface amongst a large crowd of bathers near Ballyhely, Irish Free State, a porpoise tried to play with them, but they fled in panic.

One Hot Dish Is Advised

(By MRS. MARY MORTON.)

Menu Hint.

Royal Ham and Corn Scallop
Creamed Potatoes
Molded Pineapple, Carrot and Cucumber Salad
Cottage Cheese Pie
Tea or Coffee.

Regardless of the warmth of the weather, physicians advise us to include one hot dish in our dinner menus once a day. I have named two, but the menu could be simplified by serving potato salad in the place of creamed potatoes. I recommend creamed potatoes because the potatoes can be cooked in the morning if desired, and allowed to get cool before creaming.

TO-DAY'S RECIPES.

Royal Ham and Corn Scallop. — One cup of diced baked ham, one cup fresh or canned corn, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, one cup milk, one tablespoon grated onion, one-fourth tablespoon paprika. Place corn and diced ham in a greased casserole dish. Season with a little onion juice. Make a white sauce with the other ingredients and pour this over the ham and corn. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) until heated through and done, about thirty minutes. Substitute canned, dried or fresh lima beans for the corn, and you have another good combination with ham. The dried limas will need to be soaked and cooked first. Also, it is necessary to pre-cook the fresh ones in a small amount of water for ten minutes.

Cottage Cheese Pie. — One and one-third cups (one can) sweetened condensed milk, one cup water, one cup cottage cheese, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three eggs, one-half cup raisins, grating of nutmeg, unbaked deep pie crust (nine inches). Thoroughly blend together sweetened condensed milk, water, cottage cheese, salt, slightly beaten eggs and raisins. Pour into deep pie tin lined with unbaked pie crust. Sprinkle with nutmeg and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes, or until filling is set.

Mountain Bear Given The Air

CALGARY, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Stewards on a transcontinental train that passed through here recently are firm in their conviction that while passengers may like Rocky Mountain wildlife—they prefer it at a distance.

One of the crew told how a huge brown bear ambled down a crowded station platform at Golden, B.C., but tourists forgot their "leg stretching" and dived for pullman coaches. The animal took no notice and soon disappeared behind the train.

Woman Condemns Jail System

By LILIAN CAMPBELL.

The County Jail system in the United States is costly and inefficient and should be abolished, is the contention of Nina Kinsella, executive assistant to the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, at Washington, D.C.

Quoting from an address Miss Kinsella gave before the National Conference of Social Work:

"Over three thousand small county units, each jealous of its powers, and with few exceptions indifferent with regard to its responsibilities, are entrusted with the care and custody of the largest number of offenders taken into custody in the country.

"No two county jails are organized under the same plan. There are just as many systems as there are jails; in fact, most of them lack any semblance of a system."

The officials of these jails change positions frequently, and many of them frankly admit that they know nothing about running such institutions. "It is futile to imagine that hundreds of untrained persons in these small district units will ever accomplish successfully the task that has been imposed upon them," Miss Kinsella states.

One of the greatest evils of the jail is the fee system, which assures the sheriff a per diem for every prisoner held in his jail, the speaker asserted.

Facts and Fancies

PLAIN CUSTARD VARIATIONS.

Coffee — Use one cup strong coffee for one cup milk.

Chocolate—Melt one ounce chocolate or use two tablespoons cocoa and add to hot milk.

Caramel — Caramelize one-fourth cup sugar and add two teaspoons to each custard cup before pouring in custard.

Maple — Substitute maple for white sugar or use one-half cup maple syrup.

Cocoanut—Use three tablespoons sugar and one-third cup cocoanut or more.

Nut — Flavor with almond and add one-third cup chopped nuts or more.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN.

In this world where there is so much sorrow, and so much unnecessary grief, of fret and worry, how grateful we should be that God sends along here and there, a natural heart-singer, who, by his very carriage and spontaneous actions, calms, cheers and helps his fellows. God bless the good-natured, for they bless everybody else.—O. S. Marden.

Dear Friends:

Don't you love a good-natured person? How your spirits lift and the ready laugh comes to your lips when you meet up with them. How short the day when you are in their company, how the miles go past unnoticed when they are with you on a journey, and how God-blessed you feel to have known one like that.

So many of us seem to have been born with a worrying sort of a disposition, a crooked way of looking at life. How we torture ourselves and those about us because we will dwell on all the evils that have befallen us.

I have been telling you of my vacation with my sisters, whom I had not seen for twenty-five years. Each of us were afraid to take the journey, for fear of peril on the road, yet my daughter and I went and no evil befell us.

All our friends were praying for us, and so we went off feeling we were in God's hands, with never a care, in fact I was humming or singing most all the way. We believed God would hear both their prayers and ours, so we felt secure in Him, and were good-natured because of that very security.

She was the driver, so I deferred to her in that matter. I was the elder so she deferred to me in other things. Never a cross word from either, we took what the day brought of pleasure in the trip, and of tiredness at the end of the day, each accepting our own load, she in the care of driving, and I in keeping her amused.

And why couldn't we be like that all the time? You and me and the rest of us? Why do we have to hurt one another by ugly speech and black looks, just because we may not feel up to the mark, or because some little thing has gone wrong?

Would you like to be classed as a bad-natured old thing, or would you rather people said of you "she is the soul of good-nature"? And if we were not so conscious of ourselves, many of us would be far better natured than we are.

Someone once said it was not possible to learn to be good-natured, but I think it could be trained into a child, don't you? If they could be sure of their parents' love for them, if scowls and bad temper were not shown so much, it might be possible.

And yet, one sees sometimes an infant who sets up a yowling at every little discomfort, while another will never give a whimper. So maybe our good or bad nature is born with us, and is just one more thing to overcome.

Yet I think it would pay good dividends if we could train ourselves to be as sunny as possible. Not the pollyanna kind of good-nature, smiling in season and out, for that is only an aggravation to us.

One woman asked me what I would do if my husband sang in the bath-tub, and I said I would probably go to the door and join in, for oh how I love a cheery person, especially in the morning when I am just beginning to get the kinks out of my spine. (But you would never know if you met me that I even had a spine).

So let us be as good natured as we can, not taking everything so seriously. Let us laugh before the tears come.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Slender Lines Are Now Tops

The real problem of the winter season will be whether to choose your dance and dine frocks in the new short-skirted, peasant mode, or in long, slim lines.

Of course your age and figure will have something to do with your choice. If you are stout, whether you be young as a dewy morning, or elderly, you naturally won't have a short, wide-skirted frock made for you under any circumstances. "Contrariwise," as Tweedledee said.

On the other hand, it makes little difference what your age, if you are slim, you can wear the long, slim lines given this dress sketched. In fact, if you are a bit overweight, it will make you look slimmer.

Long Tight Sleeve

A new note in dinner gowns shown in a Paris collection is the long, tight sleeve. Chanel has such a gown in her collection, a slender black crepe cut as low as possible front and back, having the edge whipped over with fabric bias, while long, tight sleeves are laced with similar biases up the outer side.

Molyneux, the English captain with a smart Paris dressmaking establishment, is another designer who puts the stamp of his approval on slim lines. Princesse sheaths, slightly gathered across the hips and front, flat panel at back, are his preference for the dinner type of dress.

INCREASE SHOWN IN TOWN RECEIPTS AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12.—The financial statement of the Water and Light Commission as given by Chairman J. O. Benor at the Commission's monthly meeting indicated that receipts to the end of July 1937 amounted to $15,297.41 for light and power and water works accounts were $3,012.30, making a total of $18,409.71 which was a considerable increase over the same period in 1936.

The report of the manager of the Commission, P. C. Denyes, was given to the commissioners. Mr. Denyes indicated that he had with the assistance of H. N. Carr, M.L.A., secured an interview with Dr. Bert Faulkner on July 8 in regard to the letter addressed to the town council by Dr. Barry of the Medical Health Department regarding the town water supply.

The Minister stated that it was not the intention of the Department to force the town to build a reservoir or spend any money unnecessarily, but that under the present operating conditions some means should be provided whereby in case of trouble it would not be necessary to shoot raw water into the mains.

"We explained the financial conditions of the town," continued Mr. Denyes, "and said that our intentions were to build a reservoir or make such adequate protection as would take care of the conditions he had outlined as soon as financial conditions would warrant."

It was finally agreed that a weekly sample of the town water supply should be sent to the Department for analysis and if this proved satisfactory no further action would be taken. "We have sent in three samples up to the present time and reports have been received on two showing a rating of A1," concluded Mr. Denyes' report.

Following the passing of the accounts the meeting was adjourned.

LINDSAY.

YEAR'S SENTENCE FOR TRUCK DRIVER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, August 12.—Magistrate Campbell of Port Hope, who presided at Wednesday's session of the police court, sentenced Charles Hopkins of Toronto to one year in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph, on the charge of theft. The accused, who had been working for James Walker of Toronto, who has a fleet of trucks on the construction work on the Lindsay-Peterborough Highway, stole one of them, which was later found in a damaged condition in a garage at Dunbarton. Walker was willing to take Hopkins back to work if given suspended sentence, but Acting Crown Attorney Fulton objected—The record of the accused, he pointed out, was not a good one; besides, on his own admission, he drove the truck on the highway in an intoxicated condition endangering the lives of people.

Thieves entered the C.N.R. station at Woodville at an early hour Wednesday morning and made off with a 500-lb. safe, containing only a few dollars. Entry was made to the building by smashing the glass in an outside door. The ticket window was next forced in. A car was also stolen at Cannington; it is believed that the thieves used it to make a getaway.

The new schedule of prices in the barbering business under the Industrial Standards Act became effective in Lindsay on Tuesday. All the local tonsorial artists in town save one have signified their intention of living up to the schedule. He is a former resident of Peterborough and, according to his own statement, he will adhere to the old schedule and test the validity of the new legislation.

Over two inches of rainfall was recorded locally during the past 24 hours. The local Agricultural Representative fears that the moisture and heat would cause sprouting of the grain, thus ruining it for market was well as for germination next year.

At 4.30 o'clock Wednesday morning the police raided an apartment on Kent street and arrested Ken Pollock and Thomas Bryans, who will face a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Several cases of beer were also seized, and there were a number of men drinking on the premises. Bryans, it is alleged, has a record and made a break for liberty with the notorious "Red" Ryan a few years ago. Other charges, it is stated, will be preferred against them.

Millbrook Continuation School Pupils Honor Principal Who Is Leaving

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Aug. 12.—A very pleasant social gathering was held in the Waverly Club-rooms on Monday evening, in honor of Miss C. M. Duncanson, B.A., who was for three years principal of the local Continuation School, and who has recently sent in her resignation to accept the position of assistant principal of the High School at Hawkesbury, Ontario, not far from Ottawa.

Pupils and ex-pupils were among the guests, numbering between seventy-five and one hundred, and the highlight of the evening was the presentation of a handsome aeropak to the retiring principal, who was centrally seated. Hugh Williams reading the appreciative address, and the gift being offered by Betty Doxsee.

Following the singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow," Miss Duncanson expressed her gratitude in a few well-chosen words, regret at parting from her pupils here, and appreciation of the harmonious and kindly relationship which had existed between teacher and pupils, both educationally and socially, together with sincere good wishes for their future success and that of the school, being featured in her remarks.

Dancing, for which music at the piano was supplied by Bill Edworthy, and the service of a dainty lunch by the committee in charge, completed a most enjoyable occasion. The committee included Bernice Smith, Marjorie McDowell, Jack Arundel and Ken Kidd.

BEATTY'S TRAIN HALTS, HAVELOCK

HAVELOCK, Aug. 12.—Representatives of the C.P.R. employees, the village and industries were assembled yesterday afternoon as a reception committee to welcome Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railways, and the other members of his party, as they stopped in Havelock, for ten minutes, en route to Toronto. Accompanying him on his official train were: H. G. Humphrey, vice-pres. and general manager of the Eastern Lines; Norman McMillan, general superintendent of the Trenton division; W. C. Beck, superintendent of the Trenton division; George Stevens, of the steamship department.

Reeve Ernest Seeney, was introduced to Sir Edward, by Mr. H. W. Roche, local station agent, who then introduced the remainder of the committee, which included Dr. A. S. Thompson, Dr. G. H. Gardiner, Councillors Everard Chiles and W. J. McBurney; H. L. Scott, superintendent of the Ontario Rock Quarry, J. Bell of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Ltd., at Cordova, E. J. Leeson, and C.P.R. pensioner John Howe and John Harvey.

Short addresses of welcome were extended Sir Edward Beatty by Reeve Seeney and Dr. Thompson, to which Sir Edward replied in terms of appreciation.

The train, in charge of Conductor J. Tobin of Montreal and Engineer J. Boylin, arrived here at 1.30 p.m. and left at 1.40 p.m., making their next stop in Peterborough.

Mr. T. P. Lancaster, M.L.A. and Mr. Rork Ferguson, M.P., were unavoidably absent, but sent their regrets and requested the committee to express a word of welcome to the visitors on their behalf.

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work."—Mrs. Herman Futrell (address on request).

Tests prove that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London.

TORONTO PASTOR AT ANNIVERSARY CARMEL CHURCH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Aug. 12. — Notwithstanding clouds, rain and electric storm, both anniversary services at Carmel Church on Sunday, August 8, were well attended. Rev. Mr. Scovell officiated at both services, and as ever was much appreciated.

The morning Scripture lesson was Genesis, chapter 12, and the text from Ps. 122, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go up to the House of the Lord." The speaker stressed joy in obeying God's commands, willingness to do as God commands, and to learn his commands.

The choir gave two numbers, a song of praise in which Mr. Johnston Blakely sang the baritone obligato, and a quartette by Mrs. Arthur Payne, Mrs. James Hawthorne, Mr. Johnston Blakely, and David Miller, Mrs. Hawthorne taking the obligato.

Evening Service.

In the evening the hymns were "We Love Thy Place, O God," "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee." The Warsaw choir gave "Praise the Lord, Oh Jerusalem," with Mrs. Judd, a guest from Toronto, in the obligato.

The Scripture lesson was Ezekiel 3. Here Mr. Scovell spoke strongly of Christian sympathy. He gave a history of the Jewish race during their captivity, how they had fallen into idolatory. Ezekiel was grieved and annoyed, but God taught him the lesson to know and understand, then he could sympathize.

To help others we must know and understand conditions of others and not judge from ourselves. When Christ said, "Let him that no sin cast the first stone"—all went away when on earth Christ understood circumstances and gave lessons we should strive to understand.

Peace conferences aim to understand. The lesson to all was to not to judge too harshly, for we are not in the same conditions as others, be it in the nation, community or home. At all times, to help as Christ did.

Tommy Perkins sang "The Stranger from Galilee."

C.I.O. Is Retackling Ford Situation

DETROIT, Aug. 12 (AP).—Members of the United Automobile Workers of America, carrying maps showing boundary between public and private property, awaited the "zero hour" today to renew their attempt to distribute literature outside the main plant of the Ford Motor Company.

State police and Wayne County sheriff's and prosecutor's offices arranged to have "observers" on hand. The actual policing of the area rested with the city of Dearborn, where the industrial unit is located.

The public officials acted in the hope of averting a repetition of the violence May 26 in which a score of U.A.W.A. members were injured while distributing leaflets to workers changing shifts at the factory.

Cuba Decator

Tackling a new, but by no means hopeless task, Mrs. Irene Bruyn Robbins, widow of Warren Delano Robbins, former U.S. Minister to Canada, leaves soon for Cuba to begin redecorating the American embassies and legations in conformity with a new state department policy.

YOUTH INJURED HASTINGS CRASH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 12. — Harold Richardson, about 16 years of age received cuts about the face and arms when he was thrown through the windshield of a car driven by Leo Cleary in a collision with a car driven by Gordon Killenbeck at the C.N.R. crossing in the village Wednesday at 12.30 p.m. Cleary had just crossed the railroad tracks when he collided with Killenbeck who was driving the opposite direction, and had attempted to make a left turn when Cleary's car struck the rear of Killenbeck's car and threw Harold Richardson about ten feet, after going through the wind-shield.

Richardson was rushed to Dr. Campbells office in a dazed condition. His injuries were pronounced as being apparently not serious although his face required several bandages and he was in a dazed state for two hours after. The other occupants of the car received bruises and abrasions but were not attended by the doctor.

Cleary's car was towed to Wellman's garage as the front was quite badly crushed in. W. Wellman said that the damage would amount to $50.00 and that he believed Killenbeck's car to be a total wreck as the rear mechanism had been torn loose from the engine. Both cars were said to be travelling at a fair rate of speed.

Mr. Morrow of Roseneath, who had stopped his truck to view the accident, nearly had one himself shortly after. He was cranking the truck when it suddenly lurched forward in gear and was finally stopped with one wheel resting over the edge of the bridge. He had to move fast to avoid being hit and then stop the truck before it would crash through the bridge railing into the river.

Schools No Place For Propaganda

TORONTO, Aug. 12—(CP)—The situation might arise that demands be made to use Canadian schools for political propaganda as in certain European countries, Dr. Duncan McArthur, Ontario Deputy Minister of Education, warned the Canadian Teachers' Federation at a dinner here last night.

"It is not the function of the school to indoctrinate theory or ism whatsoever, however, one might agree," he told delegates to the Teachers' Convention.

"The school will have discharged its responsibility when it trains boys and girls to think clearly, accurately and consistently, and sends them out with an unquenchable thirst for truth and stimulates their curiosity in regard to the life about them."

CANADIAN NURSE EAGERLY AWAITS ARCTIC SOJOURN

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 12. (CP).—Miss Gwendolyn Keary, petite 24-year-old registered nurse, is getting a thrill these hot days out of assembling a wardrobe suitable for four years' stay on the rim of the Artic Circle. She is attached to the staff of St. Luke's Hospital at Pangnirtung, Baffin Land, and will leave shortly.

Miss Keary is buying woollen ski suits, heavy raincoats and leather jackets, flanelette pyjamas, woollen bed sox and jackets, woollen stockings, heavy knitted scarves and numerous other woollen articles which she will take when she leaves Niagara Falls in August on the first lap of her six-weeks journey by rail rail boat.

Light clothing can be worn during the three summer months at her new post and Miss Keary is including some cotton and silk dresses and cotton and silk stockings.

There are 16 white people in the tiny Arctic colony, including the doctor and his wife, the Anglican rector and his wife and child, the factor and his wife and child, a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman and two other nurses. The hospital was started in 1931 and has eight beds. Miss Keary is taking equipment for another six beds and material for a sun parlor to treat tuberculosis sufferers. The institution is fully equipped with X-ray and other modern appliances and an average of five patients daily are treated.

One of the first tasks confronting Miss Keary when she reaches Baffin Land sometime in September is a study of the Eskimo language. This is characterized by the power of expressing in one word a whole sentence in which are embodied a number of ideas that in other languages require separate words. A word can be composed in the Eskimo tongue which expresses with perfect clarity what would require perhaps 20 words in English.

Loves Mission Work

Asked about her plans when her four years in Baffin Land expire, Miss Keary told the Niagara Falls Review "I don't care where I work as long as I am doing missionary work of some sort. Ever since I was a child attending Sunday School I have been interested in missions."

Miss Keary explained she was advised to leave collegiate before completing her education and worked for some years in order to enter St. Josephs Hospital at Hamilton, where she completed training as a nurse in 1936. "I have grasped at ever opportunity that came my way, she added, "because I don't believe in waiting for something better to come along."

Miss Keary will send some of her baggage in advance on the "Nascopie," Hudson's Bay icebreaker, which she will join at Churchill late in August, taking with her two more trunks and a couple of suitcases. She is not overlooking the Eskimos and her luggage will include a quantity of gingham prints, bright wools, braids and the like to be used as gifts for the Eskimos in exchange for sewing for the medical and missionary workers.

On duty in the hospital, Miss Keary will wear a navy blue cotton uniform with white collar and cuffs and regulation cap. She will don a navy silk uniform for travelling and wear a white dress on special occasions. Friends of Miss Keary have showered her with gifts during the past few weeks and all have taken the precaution to select articles that will be of real use during her long Arctic stay.

The only contact between the northern outpost and the civilized world is the "Nascopie," which calls once a year with supplies and mail for the Hudson Bay post, the hospital and the little white colony.

High-Priced Wife

For her 11-day marriage to Philip J. Davidson, this former University of Kentucky student, Dorothy Moore Davidson, of Pittsburgh, has received a $200,000 divorce settlement. Davidson is heir to a fortune estimated at a million.

BABY DEAL DOCTOR READY FOR 'MUSIC'

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP).—Dr. John A. Rose declared he was ready to "face the music" for his participation in the Horst baby case.

The physician, accused of failing to report the birth of Donald Horst, 2½-year-old leading figure in the case, appeared voluntarily before city prosecutor Michael Rosina yesterday.

Dr. Rose was the attending physician when Donald was born to Miss Lydia Nelson and her common law husband, John Regan. The physician said he arranged that the child be given to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst the day of his birth after the mother said she did not want the infant.

Accused of signing a birth certificate listing Donald as the offspring of Mrs. Horst, Dr. Rose said it was "the humanitarian thing to do, and if I must be censured I'm ready to face the music."

The Horsts, from whom the child was taken a week ago, have been awarded temporary custody of the child pending a hearing on their petition to adopt him.

CANTOR TRIES OUT POLITICAL MOVIE

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12—(AP).—Pop-eyed Eddie Cantor is risking his popularity today on Will Rogers' famous theory that opposing politicians have the same kind of funny bone.

Cantor is making a new Deal comedy, the first movie to josh U.S. politcs since Rogers' heyday.

Cantor plays a Roosevelitian character, Al Babson, of the year 1937, who dreams himself back to the Bagdad of 900 A.D., where he is hailed as Ali Baba.

Bagdad, strangely enough, is suffering a depression. Consequently Ali Baba Cantor tackles it by becoming the Sultan's "brain trust."

He suggests a public works program. Bridges are built, some of them in the desert where no river runs. Roads are constructed. Some of these connect with no town.

Works progress administration signs dot Bagdad. There is a W.P.A. project for Harlem girls, in which they teach truckin' and the Suzy Q. Another W.P.A. project is a filling station for camels, where they are given 30 gallons of water apiece. The starving populace finds itself on relief.

Happiness and contentment—also prosperity—descend upon the empire but not upon the Sultan or Ali Baba Cantor.

They become rival candidates in a presidential election. When the returns are counted only two of the Bagdad district give their votes to the Sultan. Strangely enough the districts are "Maina" and "Vermontak."

NO RETURNING UNTIL INCREASE IN WAGES GIVEN

ganize industry here, Mr. Millard stated, that movement had gone steadily forward. He believed the Mayor would be surprised when he learned of the number of De Laval employees who are already signed up.

English in Chair

In opening the meeting, Mr. English as chairman announced that J. L. Cohen, reputed labor legal representative, who was to have spoken had been called away at the last minute and could not be present. He presented to the audience Mr. Millard and also Thomas McMurray, president of the local Trades and Labor Council, but counselled speakers not to occupy too much time because of Chief Newhall's "curfew edict" that demanded the meeting terminate at nine o'clock.

Throughout the meeting, which was brought to a conclusion sharp at the time appointed by the Chief, no less than seventeen local and provincial police patrolled the fringes of the crowd.

Mr. Millard prefaced his address with the remark that he felt qualified to address the meeting because the workers in Oshawa had faced a similar situation. He said he had closely followed the Peterborough situation and had been pleased to note the generous response of the people of this city to the appeal for assistance by strikers.

Whole Fabric at Stake

The speaker maintained that the fight of workers generally for improved working conditions and higher remuneration was no longer the responsibility of the few, but was a responsibility that must be shared collectively. The whole economic fabric was at stake, he said.

Referring to his four years of army service overseas, Mr. Millard said he found he had been deluded in believing he was fighting over there for freedom and democracy. He had returned to civil life to find that instead of a regimental number he received an industrial number, and answered to a factory whistle instead of rising to a bugle call. While this country is not Germany or Italy it might as well be, Mr. Millard exclaimed, with ironic reference to "police guards when we don't "no police guards when we dont work."

Places Blame

Claiming that "Hepburn's Military Police" (the provincials) could not have been brought into the city without the instigation of local civic authorities, Mr. Millard declared that responsibility for the disorder that resulted lay on the shoulders of Mayor George Macdonald and Chief Constable Samuel Newhall.

"At Oshawa," he said, "we ran the same kind of a strike and yet it was not necessary for Hepburn to send down any of his military police. I say in all kindness that your good Mayor was deluded and misguided in his judgment and I say to you that he was also responsible for the disorder that resulted, together with the Chief of Police. It is quite true to say they both acted in their capacity as elected officers, but there was no necessity for police to lay hands on defenceless little girls."

"These disruptions have occurred and are over, but I want to state plainly the police have no right to prohibit peaceful picketing in this country. Police of this city are paid by the taxpayers and yet they are denying taxpayers the right to walk certain streets of this city or to perform picket duty."

Picketing Lawful

"So long," he said, "as pickets walk in order they are allowed on the streets of any city. This whole matter has been brought to the attention of your Mayor but he said he was not responsible. If he is not responsible, the responsibility must rest with the police department and it is a fact that the Mayor is Chief Magistrate of the City."

Mr. Millard said the strike had been virtually won for the strikers by the action of the police because the disorder had focussed wide attention to the plight of the workers here. There would be a mass meeting of all labor organizations in the province within a few days, the speaker stated, to protest the action of police in dealing with the local strike situation.

"The police of this city and the provincials as well might just as well take their batons and throw them in the Atlantic as try and stop the forward march of the labor movement in this country. We believe conditions are not right and we feel they should be put right. That is our constitutional right," he said.

Irresistible Power

Declaring, "We must put this movement across so that we can speak with collective power," he asserted, "that power is something that cannot be stopped even by police batons."

Reverting to the action of local authorities, which he maintained had precipitated trouble here, Mr. Millard said it was plain that there had been conferences between employers of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. and government and local authorities. Otherwise he reasoned, how could the notices informing employees the mills would be reopened have coincided so nicely with the coming of the provincial police.

Speaking of the need of industrial organization in Peterborough and promising that it was going ahead steadily, the speaker said it would probably surprise the mayor and the rest of the city to learn that the De Laval employees have largely signed up under the U.A.W.A. "If the Mayor has hysterics over the present strike situation he will have delirium tremens when he learns how many are signed up at the De Laval. I had news from the employees of that factory tonight which gladdened my heart and we are all ready to go to town."

Lacked a Leader

Stressing the need of assistance for the strikers in their fight, Mr. Millard was sorry the citizen's committee set up to handle relief money for the strikers had been none too successful. He believed it to be due to lack of initiative and leadership on the part of the Hon. G. N. Gordon, he said.

Believing the people of Peterborough are willing and ready to stand by the strikers, Mr. Millard urged, "Peterborough is the focal point of a great Labor upheaval and we have certain rights to maintain and uphold." He urged his listeners to do two things. To protest the action of the municipal authorities —"and I don't care if you have to get a new Chief of Police; do it anyway," he said in parenthesis "and back up strikers in their cause."

De Laval Organizes

Asked by someone in the crowd where a protest might be lodged, Mr. Millard told them to make use of the press and to remember also that there was a provincial election coming along. "The boys at the De Laval are showing their protest by joining up in a labor union and an organizer is soon to come to the C.G.E. plant."

"We are going to make Peterborough a trade union city," he asserted. He thought that before the movement was through even the police would be glad to join the civic employees union in order to hold their jobs.

Discussing the matter of strikers and others arrested in connection with disturbances at the Bonner-Worth plant, the speaker declared, "Welch never incited you to riot. I have heard him on numerous occasions urger strikers to be law-abiding. I understand he escorted the Mayor through the picket line and yet in face of these facts he is held on remand. He was placed in the hoosegow by the Chief of Police and now they are demanding $5,000 bail for his release. We have tried all day to find a bondsman. We have placed several names before the local crown attorney and he said they were not responsible persons. I protest that the bail demanded is too large; that Welch was wrongfully arrested and that the Crown Attorney had no right to refuse to accept the bail bond offered."

"I want you people to protest publicly through the press and if The Examiner won't print it don't buy the paper. The Examiner depends on circulation and you control that circulation," he declared.

HOW TO OVERCOME PILES AND RECTAL SORENESS

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store, or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

N. YORK TENEMENT FALLS IN STORM

Stokes, 72; Patrolman Joseph J. McBreen; Marie Silva, 25, and Mary Louise, 40.

Mrs. Marie Coral, 26, serious internal injuries; Louis Peterson, 42, whose wife and son were killed, fractured ribs and internal injuries; and James Mitchell, 72, fractured ribs and possible skull fracture.

Police could not ascertain how many were in the homes at the time they collapsed.

Officer Dies a Hero

Patrolman McBreen, first rescuer on the scene, died a hero. He entered the second building a few moments after the first had collapsed about 11 o'clock last night. As he disappeared from view the walls creaked ominously, then toppled, burying more victims. Rescuers found McBreen's body hours later, his arm around the body of a child.

The flimsy frame structures, linked to a third 2-storey building, had been rented at one time as a factory and then converted into a six-family tenement.

Rescue work was halted briefly when the third segment suddenly collapsed early this morning, adding more debris to be cleared away. Police previously had ordered all tenants from the building.

The tenement, about 50 years old, stood on a steep hillside in the New Brighton community on Staten Island. Firemen said torrents of water rushing down the slope battered and weakened the buildings' foundation.

Firelines were stretched to keep back thousands of Staten Island residents attracted to the scene. Flashlights cast weird shadows as tight-lipped rescuers dug feverishly at the ruins with pick-axes. Except for the wail of relatives, kept back by police, the crowd greeted in dead silence the appearance of each crushed body. Trapped with no chance of escape, most of the victims apparently had been killed instantly.

did it, without imposing any new taxes upon the people. We found new sources of revenue. We have collected in succession duties alone about $40,000,000."

Through the efforts of his Government, and by co-operation with the Federal Government, the Premier continued, mining taxation had been stabilized. That stabilization had proved a boon to the investing public and to the development of industry.

Leaving aside governmental matters, the Premier urged his listeners to work and live in the interests of peace and harmony on this continent.

"On the Plains of Abraham stands one of the most unique monuments in the world," said Premier Hepburn.

"It is a monument to the victor and the vanquished—to the courageous General Wolfe and the valiant General Montcalm. That monument symbolizes the spirit of compromise, of co-operation and co-ordination that has motivated the people of Canada for centuries. Contrast that monument, and the spirit for which it stands, with the situation in Europe today, where nations are making ready for another war more horrible than any wars that have occurred. Contrast it with the situation in Spain where war in all its terrible aspects is taking place, and the slaughter of innocent children and women continues.

Challenge Of Europe.

"At the Canadian National Exhibition opening last year, I told the representatives of other nations that they should take back with them the spirit that is to be found on this continent," the Premier continued. "I asked them why they couldn't settle their differences as we have been able to settle ours, and not be preparing, almost continuously, for war. We're not like Europe, always arming to fight other nations. We're living in peace and harmony, and we can and should continue to live in peace and harmony. It is a challenge to every farmer who is here today, whether he lives on main highways or the back concessions, to make this Province the best place in the world to live in, and an example for the other nations of the world. By doing that we can honor the heritage that has been left to us."

CHINESE POURING

Guard From the Rear.

Regular army units of the Chinese Central Government at Nanking were reported to have been sent from the Capital into strong positions just a few miles west of Shanghai to thwart any Japanese attack against the city.

Consuls-General of Great Britain and United States warned all the nationals in the Shanghai area to flee into the International settlement for safety.

Foreigners to the north of Shanghai in the centre of the present danger zone of Sino-Japanese hostilities were cut off from the city. Foreign women and children were caught within the barricades of Kiang-Wan village on the northern outskirts.

Far to the north-east a major battle was being fought in the undeclared war between China and Japan. Japanese troops attacked at dawn with artillery and warplanes, seeking to drive the 89th Chinese division out of the fortified positions it is defending at strategic Nankow pass in the Great Wall 40 miles north-west of Peiping.

With movement of Central Chinese Government troops into the Shanghai area, the situation has taken a very grave turn and Shanghai is seemingly doomed to become a theatre of war.

Foreign observers expressed fear Shanghai would see a repetition of the undeclared war of 1932 between China and Japan in which hundreds of thousands of persons were slain and hundreds of millions of dollars of property damage was done.

Four additional Japanese destroyers were reported by the harbor office to have dropped anchor in the Whangpoo river as reinforcements for the first battle fleet which arrived yesterday with battalions of marines for shore duty.

24 Warships on Hand.

According to foreign estimates 24 Japanese warships are swinging at anchor either off Shanghai proper or under the guns of the Woosung forts at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze Rivers north of here.

The Chinese reports declared that the Central Army units were rushed by rail from Nanking to bolster the Chinese authority which the Japanese naval movements has threatened.

There are no Japanese army units here at present. The normal garrison of several thousand marines, however, has been reinforced by 1,000 marines from Hankow, up the Yangtze, and between 500 and 1,000 more bluejackets who came with the first fleet.

Arrival of regular army troops from Japan was considered imminent if the Chinese continue to display their present determined attitude here.

The Chinese population was in full flight, choking the roadways and fighting for places on all outgoing vessels. The fear-stricken Chinese from Chapei and the other areas, most heavily bombed by the Japanese planes during the 1932 war, were fleeting into the International Settlement and the French Concession.

Additional thousands, streamed through the French Concession to the open country south of the city, while still other thousands of more wealthy Chinese were evacuating by ship. The waterfront from which coastal ships sail was jammed with men, women and children seeking passage. At least 100 persons sought each available spot aboard.

Those lucky enough to find space loaded the vessels until they were almost in danger of sinking. The decks were solid with masses of Chinese.

The China National Aviation Corporation suspended service to Tsingtao, port of Shantung Province.

Canoemanship Demonstrated By The Wallace Point Club Best Exhibition In Years

Annual Regatta Held in Otonabee River Opposite Summer Resort.

A spectacular demonstration of expert canoemanship featured the Wallace Point Canoe Club's regatta on the Otonabee River opposite Cardwell's popular summer resort above the first bridge Wednesday afternoon. This interlude was virtually a complete program in itself, ranging from such acrobatics as head and hand stands to a practical exhibition of how to avoid accidents in canoeing and also what to do if an upset occurs.

Jack Deyell showed how to flip a canoe so that it would ship a minimum quantity of water. He also filled a canoe with water and then demonstrated how to empty it. Bill Taylor and Herb Cardwell contributed a canoe "leap frog" number in which one canoe passes over the gunwales of the other. They also did single head stands in their light craft, and Taylor, Deyell and Cardwell did a circus stunt in three parts, double head stand, hand stand and gunwale walk.

In another display described as a canoe roll Mr. and Mrs. Herb Cardwell presented an easy method of emptying a canoe of water when one of two canoes has capsized. In this smart performance they turned one canoe upside down over the other.

Bill Deyell and Doug Mortimer did a stunt of double-decking on a canoe.

Senior members demonstrated the two most common causes of accidents in canoeing, one in the overloading of the boat, and the other changing places. They also went through the routine procedure that is taught the Club members for use in the event of an accident.

A mere outline of Club's program fails to convey an adequate idea of the experience they have acquired in handling a canoe. This skill is accentuated by their showmanship, and altogether they have developed a performance that should be a hit at any regatta.

The results of the races were as follows:

Boys' tandem canoe—1, Henry Perrin and Walter Loucks; 2, Bill Deyell and Don. Eason; 3, Chum Gillespie and Ken Cox.

Men's single canoe — 1, Ward Wright; 2, Karl Baadsvik; 3, Ab Chase.

Pie plate canoe fours—1, Henry Perrin, Ward Wright, Geo. Thompson, Ab Chase; 2, Ralph Loucks, Bill Deyell, Doug Mortimer, Ed Reeves; 3, Pat Perrin, Mrs. Sellaby, Bill Howitt, Ken Wyatt.

Ladies' single canoe—1, Mrs. Sellaby, Hiawatha; 2, Pat Perrin, Toronto; 3, Doreen Deyell, Wallace Point.

Novelty crab race — 1, Ralph Loucks; 2, Bill Deyell; 3, Julian Wade.

Men's tandem canoe—1, Ab Chase and Geo. Thompson; 2, Ralph Loucks and Ed Reeves; 3, Ward Wright and Karl Baabsvik.

Boys' swim, 14 years and under—1, Jim Joiner; 2, James Brown; 3, Chum Gillespie.

Ladies' tandem canoe—1, Marg Perrin and Doreen Deyell; 2, Pat Perrin and Mrs. Sellaby; 3, Irene Thompson and Lois Lewis.

Men's swim—1, W. Wright; 2, J. Joiner; 3, Will Joiner.

Boys' single canoe—1, Bill Deyell; 2, Henry Perrin; 3, Harry Darling.

Men's canoe fours — 1, Ralph Loucks, Doug Mortimer, Bill Deyell and Ed Reeves; 2, Ward Wright, Henry Perrin, Ab Chase, Geo. Thompson; 3, Max Stewart, Neil Braithwaite, Ken Savigny, Bill Stewart.

Ladies' swim—1, Mrs. Hoey; 2, Lois Levens; 3, Doreen Deyell.

Paper bag race—1, R. Loucks; 2, Ed Reeves; 3, Ab Chase.

Mixed double gunwale—1, Doreen and Bill Deyell; 2, Pat Perrin and Bill Taylor; 3, Mrs. Sellaby and Ralph Loucks.

Novelty hydroplane — 1, Ward Wright and Ralph Loucks; 2, Max Stewart and Neil Braithwaite; 3, George Thompson and Ab Chase.

Men's single canoe, 60 yrs. and over—1, Jack Smoke, Alderville; 2, Bill Berry, Wallace Point.

Mixed tandem canoe—1, Pat Perrin and Bill Taylor; 2, Mrs. Sellaby and Ralph Loucks; 3, Irene Thompson and Ab Chase.

Run fifty, swim fifty and paddle fifty yards—1, Wardie Wright; 2, Julian Wade; 3, Doug Mortimer.

Tug O'War, two to a canoe—1, Karl Baadsvick and Earl Carl; 2, Ralph Loucks and Wardie Wright.

Beginners' single canoe, (a) race—1, Jim Forbes; 2, Lynn Head; 3, Harry Darling.

(b) race—1, Clarke Darling; 2, Craig Eason; 3, Jim Deyell.

In the mixed four the first and third boats were only two lengths apart, and some of the finishes were even closer than that.

The afternoon's officials were — Starters, Jack Deyell and Herb Cardwell; judges, Rev. T. Gault, Cliff Wood, Hector McLeod; Announcer, Henry Perrin of Toronto and Bewdley; clerk of the course Herb Cardwell; recorder, Mrs. H. McLeod.

NOSE TWISTED ARM TURNED

He also tried to twist the nose off my face."

Menzies Came To His Aid

Declaring that he had been able to break from the hold and turn around to face the officer, Whipp alleged, he then grabbed me by the throat and started choking me. I did not strike the officer, Constable Menzies of the local police ran over and requested the provincial to let me go. Menzies had to break the officers hold or he would have choked me."

Whipp said one of the newspapers published a "swell picture" of the officer with both hands on his throat. He added he was placed in the police car and taken to "police headquarters." "When we reached there I still had my cigarette paper in my hand which indicates I didnt do much fighting, and I completed rolling a cigarette while talking to Chief Constable Newhall."

The young man declared that at the police station the provincial officer told him, "You were taken into custody for behaving in a disorderly manner on the street and for attempting to strike a police officer."

Whipp said Chief Newhalls comment after hearing both sides of the matter was, "The officers story is different rom yours."

"I agreed it was and asked him, what are you going to do about it," Whipp said. He declared that the Chief of Police replied with the warning that I had better get going and that if I was found in the vicinity of the Bonner-Worth plant again I would be picked up and a charged would be preferred against me.

He said he asked the provincial police where his wheel was and was told to "go and look for it." He declared he found the wheel practically undamaged some time later. It had been picked up by friends.

Decoration Service Is Held at Manvers

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MANVERS, Aug. 12—On Sunday, Aug. 8, the annual decoration service was held in the Fallis Cemetery. Although it had rained in the morning and threatened thunderstorms in the afternoon a good crowd gathered early in the afternoon and decorated the graves with all colors of summer flowers, which added greatly to the appearance of the cemetery. The special music for the day was provided by the Salvation Army Band from Lindsay, other numbers on the program including a cornet duet by two little boys in the band, also several numbers by the quartette from Lindsay. A short address by George Jackson, member of the band. The main address for the day was given by Rev. Ridding, pastor of the church. Visitors were present from Peterboro, Lindsay, Mount Pleasant, Millbrook, Janetville, Port Perry, Toronto, and many other villages in the surrounding country.

BUCKSAW CONTEST HAS BEEN SET FOR EXHIBITION WEEK

Up in the woods of Haliburton Tom Walling, worlds champion bucksawer, is wining up work-outs for the defense of title here Thursday and Friday mornings of Exhibition week.

His training camp is in the woods where he has been working, and in a letter to the Examiner he announced that he is fit and ready for the question.

Under a Haliburton date line of August 10 he writes:

"Bucksaw Editor—How are things looming up for the second world's championship bucksaw contest?

Please send me all particulars as to dates, time and place, also value of the prizes.

I am in fine shape and all ready to take on these young fellows.

Yours truly,
THOS. WALLING,
World's Champion Bucksawer

The Examiner has arranged the details for the contest which will be held on Simcoe street, with the permission of the city council, Thursday and Friday mornings of next week. Aspirants for the Walling title will saw through six inch square maple logs which are being trimmed by the Scott Lumber Company. Uniformity of size is obtained by changing from the round to square logs, putting all the men on even terms.

The Examiner's beautiful new silver trophy goes to the title winner with a $50 cash prize. The man who finishes second gets $20 in cash, and the third $10. Other valuable prizes are being contributed by Peterborough merchants. First choice of these supplementary awards goes to the winner, and the others will make their selections in the order in which they finish.

Complete details of the world's championship tourney are announced elsewhere in this edition, and will be amplified during the coming week.

OMEMEE

Mr. Roy Faulkner and nephew, Garnet Faulkner, motored to Sutton Tuesday.

Misses Beverley and Barbara Hughes were week-end guests of Miss Irene Faulkner.

Messrs. Ross Widess, Ross Rutherford and Miss Ruth Jones have returned from Kingston, where they attended Summer School.

Miss Jessie Lamb, accompanied by Miss Plant of Hastings, left for a 10-day motor trip to Smooth Rock Falls in New Ontario.

POLITICAL COLOR BEING INSERTED IN STRIKE COPY

After overhearing three or four Toronto press photographers talking the other evening in a local hotel about their pictures of the "Peterborough strike, a traveller told The Examiner yesterday that it was a rather enlightening experience.

"Coloring the strike news seems to be a first consideration with the Toronto papers, he said. "At least, that was my impression of the remarks of the camera men. They were apparently exchanging photographs. One man would say, "That's no good to me; you can have it if you wan't it." And another said, "They won't use that, so there is no use of me sending it in." It was quite a friendly session even if the men did represent three papers, and the impression I got was that the news going to The Globe and Mail must tend to show anything that would be anti-C.I.O.: The Star, on the other hand leans pro-C.I.O. and therefore against the police and provincial authorities; and The Telegram, I take it is something like The Globe and Mail, opposed to C.I.O. stuff.

The impression I got from hearing these men was that the "Peterborstrike" is being treated as propaganda by the Toronto papers, playing up any bit of news that supports their respective attitudes. Apparently strike stuff is now more or less a political issue, and I would say from hearing those chaps that the public, reading that kind of stuff, is going to be misled as to real facts if they can't separate the "color" in both stories and pictures from the truth. One paper evidently wants news to be treated in a way that will support its editorial bias; and an opposition paper wants the other angle played up."

OBITUARY

MRS. ANDREW FINNIE

Sarah Porter, widow of the late Andrew Finnie, 369 Mark street died at Nicholls Hospital on Wednesday. Her death followed on a brief illness in her 72nd year. Born at Bailieboro she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Porter and had resided in this district during her entire lifetime. Predeceased by her husband in February of last year, she leaves a son George Finnie, Bailieboro, and a daughter at home, also a brother J. A. Porter of Lakefield and a sister, Mrs. Martha Wood in the United States. A private service at the residence at 11 o'clock will precede a service in Knox United Church at 3 o'clock p.m. Friday. The Rev. A. H. McConnachie will officiate and interment will be made at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. PATRICK ENGLISH

The death occurred at the family residence, 187 Stewart street on Wednesday of Catherine Murphy, widow of the late Patrick English, at the age of 72 years. She passed away following a lengthy illness.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy she was born in County Cork, Ireland, but had been a resident of Peterborough and Norwood for a great number of years being held in wide respect throughout the district.

She was a member of the Altar Society of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Predeceased by her husband nine years ago she leaves three sons, Edward of Peterborough and Joseph and Frank both of Rochester, N.Y., two daughters, Mrs. Charles McMullen of Stella, Ont. and Annie at home, and four sisters and a brother. Mrs. Patrick Heffernan, Norwood; Mrs. D. Weirs, Toronto; Mrs. Coughlin, Ellen Murphy and John Murphy and John Murphy in Ireland.

The funeral is to take place on Friday morning with a celebration of Requiem Mass at St. Peter's Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Interment at St. Paul's Cemetery, Norwood.

MRS. LOUIS LAVASSEUR.

Word has been received here of the death at Montreal this morning of Mrs. Margaret Lavasseur, widow of the late Louis Lavasseur, formerly of Peterborough. She is survived by her mother and two sisters in Pennsylvania and by four daughters, Sylvia of Montreal and Mrs. Harry Fraser, Mrs. Frank Grisdale and Mrs. Art. White, all of Peterborough. The body will arrive on Friday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock to rest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fraser, 472 Park street north pending the funeral on Saturday morning. There is to be a celebration of Requiem Mass at Sacred Heart Church at nine o'clock followed by interment at St. Peter's Cemetery.

WILLIAM R. MURDUFF

William R. Murduff, the beloved husband of Harriet Smith, 409 Wolfe street, died suddenly at Nicholls Hospital to-day in his 67th year. Born at Foxboro he was a son of the late Silvester Murduff and Minerva Norton. A former employee of the C.O.E. he lived in Peterborough 17 years, and formerly resided at Lakefield. Besides his wife he leaves a daughter, Mrs. William Hunt and four sons, Elwood, Stuart, Clare and Harold all of Peterborough. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. W. ODonnell, Peterborough, and Mrs. F. Sweeting and Mrs. Margaret Sweeting, both of Smith Township. He was a member of Knox United Church. The funeral is to be held on Saturday, with services at the late residence at 2 p.m. conducted by the Rev. Mr. Cralk, pastor of St. James. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Sixty English Boys Will Visit Canada

LONDON, Aug. 12—(CP-Havas)—Sixty boys from 28 public schools will leave England tomorrow and Saturday for a tour of Canadian scenic, historic and industrial centres.

The first section will sail from Liverpool tomorrow for Quebec. The remainder will embark at Southampton Saturday. The main purpose of the tour is to give the boys a comprehensive picture of Dominion life.

After their tour is completed, the boys will spend a week in boys' camps. One group will go to a camp in the Kawartha Lakes district of Ontario, and the other to Camp Wemisinque in the Laurentian mountains.

Provinces Interdependent Disaster In One Affects Rest Sir Edward Beatty Declares

President of C. P. R. Meets Business Men and Industrialists of Peterboro.

Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, visited Peterborough on Wednesday afternoon on a coast-to-coast tour of inspection of the great transportation system he directs. His projected itinerary, the eastern section of which has already been completed, is taking Sir Edward into every province of the Dominion on a personal survey of Canada, meeting the leaders of industry and other business men in quest of facts and general information relating to the condition of the country and the further promotion of its present progress of recovery.

Accompanying the president of the C.P.R. was a group of executives of the company, including L. B. Unwin, H. J. Humphrey and George Stephen, vice-presidents; A. Walker, general freight agent; and N. McMillan, general superintendent.

The official party arrived in the city about three o'clock in the afternoon, remaining an hour. At the Peterborough Club they were introduced to the managers of nearly all the city's industries, bankers, merchants, some representatives of the professions, and the members of the City Council. It was a pleasantly informal gathering, and Sir Edward Beatty's affability struck an immediate note of friendly interest, creating an atmosphere that was congenial to the object Sir Edward sought in his desire to meet as many as possible of this city's men of affairs. And with him it was a case of give and take, for in acknowledging Mayor Macdonald's welcome he briefly outlined the extent of industrial recovery throughout Canada as he has seen it and as otherwise it is reflected in the daily reports he receives from all parts of the country.

The only blur in the national picture of expanding prosperity, he said, was the drought stricken area of Saskatchewan and Alberta, for whose unfortunate farmers Sir Edward advocated generous assistance from the Federal Government.

Sir Edward said he had recently returned from the Maritime Provinces, and after a survey of Ontario he will go through the West to Victoria.

"The purpose of this trip of inspection is to find out what is taking place in all parts of Canada and to hear what business men can tell us that will advance recovery in this country, he stated. "Industry as a whole is better than it has been for the last six years. The weak spot in agriculture is the drought area in Saskatchewan and Alberta. If that represents one-quarter of the country, the other three-quarters is prosperous or becoming so.

"I know you are interested not only in Peterborough and Ontario, but also in the other parts of Canada. The Maritime Provinces are as prosperous as they have ever been. Quebec and Manitoba are both in good shape, and prosperity is being restored to British Columbia very rapidly."

The provinces are interdependent, Sir Edward continued. A great disaster in one affects all the others. The drought will cost the country a great deal of money.

"The first duty of the Federal Government is to see that the men who have suffered are taken care of, that those who have lost so much from the drought have the ordinary supplies they need and that they be treated generously. I shall not venture an estimate of the wheat crop. From the reports that come to my desk every day it seems that the estimates are changing, and that they are much brighter than were expected in the first shock of the seriousness of the drought in Saskatchewan and Alberta. We are all taking a more hopeful view of the West, although it will probably experience a slim time during the coming winter."

Recent rains in Saskatchewan after the damage had been done to the crops at least proved that it could rain there. In some sections of late rain has been almost a daily occurrence and is having a wonderful effect on the outlook for feed supplies, with some late improvement of the grain crop. As a result, confidence has been largely restored. Westerners are usually a "next year" people and they are now looking forward with new hope to what they expect next year to bring them.

"The indications are that we needn't worry unduly. We have to face problems from time to time, but I have faith in the sanity of the Canadian people. I believe that as a people we show in times of stress those qualities we admire so much in the people of Great Britain, and that we also possess that strain which shows up best in times of crisis. In quite a marked degree that has also been shown by the people of the United States in meeting recent acute problems. That same characteristic of Anglo-Saxon people everywhere shows best when the strain is greatest."

Sir Edward referred to the "recent awkward situation" that had been overcome by the steadiness and good sense of the people of Great Britain. That spirit had also been severely tried during the last six years with a consequent heavy toll of human life that has not been fully realized. Men in the stage of life between fifty and sixty have been collapsing, unconscious of the strain which the condition of the times imposed on them.

"I am not a prophet of doom," Sir Edward concluded. "I am conscious of the things that have to be done, and I am also conscious of what has already been accomplished."

A DAY OF major events, with planets of first importance ruling and wielding memorable influences on the business as well as private life, is forecast. While there is a disruptive influence, with angles of subtlety or duplicity, yet there is much to be expected in increasing the finances and advancing the position.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a pleasant, prosperous and progressive year, with important activities in the business, domestic, social and romantic life. Friendly advice seems to loom large in suggesting or supporting speculative ventures which should prosper with precaution and vigilance against rivalry, betrayal or sutlety. There may be an anxiety or unsettling condition to cope with wisely.

HASTINGS.

HAS CLOSE CALL FALL OFF BRIDGE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 12.— Last night about 8.30 William West had a narrow escape when he fell a distance of 22 feet in the darkness of the C.N.R. railway bridge one mile west of Hastings to the water below.

By good fortune he lit on an opening only eight feet wide between the pier and a pileof rocks. Mr. Westhouse, night watchman at the bridge had just swung the span for a boat and was in the process of swing it back into place when the C.N.R. passenger train came along going east. The semaphore stopped it. The bridge in place of stopping at the proper position had swung past and ran off the half-mile track. The watchman phoned Mr. West in the village who hurried up the track to help him replace the bridge. The headlights of the standing train blinded him and not noticing the opening he fell in.

Mr. Westhouse put a ladder down and Mr. West clambered out after swimming a few minutes.

16 BREAKS, 5 YEARS.

YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Brittle-boned Phyllis Jean Grommesch, 6, is back in the hospital.

When her 3-year-old brother fell across her legs, breaking both of them, it was her 16th fracture in five years. She was still recovering from a right ankle fracture and only two months before had broken her left leg in another place.

CITIZEN'S RELIEF COMMITTEE STILL FUNCTIONING

WHEREAS Mr. G. H. Gordon and Mr. Tugger have retired from the Citizens' Relief Committee, we wish to assure the Public that the CITIZENS' RELIEF COMMITTEE will CONTINUE TO FUNCTION, carrying through their purpose of Collecting Relief for Striking Men and Women.

We are sorry that Mr. Gordon and Mr. Tugger could not see eye to eye with us, and attempted to step out of their role, and tried to take over the functions of the elected Strike Committee, which, of course, the Strikers will not agree with. Recent developments have aroused public opinion to a high pitch of indignation, and many requests have come to our attention with offers of help. Therefore, we are convinced that the action taken by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Tugger is certainly not expressive of the true public opinion in this community.

The statement they made about using the balance of the Fund for sickness was unnecessary, for Dr. Herbert Young has already guaranteed all Medical Attention to the Strikers Free, for the duration of the Strike.

These men took charge from the start of the Citizens' Committee and elected themselves to these important posts. They then proceeded to do everything in their power to ruin our cause and turn support away from us. We are still functioning, and await your support. Please leave Donations of Food and Money and any other Donations that you can make at the Relief Committee Rooms, corner of Bethune and Charlotte. Don't Delay—Our Cause is Tough.

Secretaries of the Relief Committee.

OFFICIAL RULES

The 1937 World's Championship Bucksaw Contest will be held in Peterborough on THURSDAY, AUGUST 19 AND FRIDAY, AUGUST 20, at 8.30 a.m. (D.S.T.) of each day and will be conducted under the following Official Rules:

1. No Entry Fee is required.
2. Contest is open to all—Contestants may enter from any County or Province in the Dominion, from any State in the Union or Country in the World.
3. What is generally known as "the old fashioned Buck Saw" will be the official saw used in this particular contest. This means that saws known as "Swede Saws" will not be recognized.
4. Buck Saws will be furnished by contestants.
5. Contestants may enter for either day. No Contestant, however, may enter for both days.
6. Saw horses will be supplied and will be approximately 22 inches wide, over-all measurement.
7. Wood will be supplied. Each stick will be hard maple—6 inches SQUARE and four feet long.
8. Each Contestant will be required to saw through three cuts in one stick. Each stick will be marked to indicate lengths of approximately 12 inches. No cuts may be less than 10 inches or more than 14 inches. This enables a Contestant to avoid having to cut through a knot.
9. The Contest will be held on a substantial platform erected in the middle of Simcoe street, between George and Water streets. This platform will be 5 feet high, 12 feet wide and 20 feet long.
10. Three Contestants will compete simultaneously, but each Contestant will buck against time. Three efficient stop watch timers will be appointed—one for each Contestant. Cuts will be graded by the Judge "A", "B" and "C." Grade "B" shall carry a penalty of 10 seconds and Grade "C" a penalty of 20 seconds.
11. Each round with three Contestants will be started by the appointed judge who will use a pistol for a starting signal.
12. The two Contestants who complete their three cuts in the shortest time will be eligible to challenge Thomas Walling, present World Champion. At the end of the Contest these three shall compete simultaneously. The winner will be declared Buck Saw Champion of the World.
13. The Champion will hold the Silver Cup until the 1938 Contest and will be presented with $50.00 in Cash. First runner-up will be presented with $25.00 in Cash and second runner-up with $10.00 in Cash.
14. Through the co-operation of Peterborough merchants many other valuable prizes are also being offered. The Champion shall have first choice of these prizes. Runners-up shall have their choice of remaining prizes according to the order in which they finish.
15. Each Contestant will be given a Free Ticket to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

The World's Champion and the leading three Contestants on Thursday and the three leading Contestants on Friday will be offered contracts to appear before the Grand Stand at The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition on Friday evening.

16. All who desire to compete are urgently requested to sign the Official Entry Form and have it delivered to The Examiner office as early as possible.
17. Contestants must present themselves to the Contest Editor at The Peterborough Examiner, Hunter and Water streets, before 8.30 a.m. (D.S.T.) on the day on which they are to compete.
18. All Contestants must agree to abide by the decision of the Judge.
19. No admission will be charged for spectators. Everybody welcome.

2 KILLED, 3 HURT HILLTOP SMASH EAST, GANANOQUE

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP).—Injured in a head-on automobile collision, A. E. Wilson, 48, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Wilson, both of Kars, Ont., died in hospital here early today. Three others, including Mrs. Wilson's two-year-old son, were injured in the crash.

Young Joseph Wilson's condition was considered critical. He suffered severe internal injuries. Compound skull fractures caused the death of both Wilson and his daughter-in-law, while Mrs. Guy McLennan, Lancaster, Ont., and Miss Christina Featherstopaugh, Montreal, occupants of the other car, were also hurt.

Mrs. McLennan received severe lacerations, while Miss Featherstonaugh received a fractured left knee and head injuries. They are in hospital here, their condition not regarded as serious.

The automobiles met at the top of a slight rise on No. 2 highway, 4½ miles east of Gananoque. Police said Wilson swung out to pass another car when the other automobile, said to have been driven by Miss Featherstonaugh, came over the brow of the hill.

Wilson was said to have applied his brakes, but a rain-wet pavement caused his machine to skid and the cars crashed. The Wilson car was hurled about 20 feet against a fence and all three occupants were catapulted into the ditch.

AN ANGEL TUMBLES.

ATLANTA, Aug. 12—(AP). — An angel fell out of heaven last night and lost a tooth, dented her harp, and crumpled a wing.

The angel, Louise Taylor, was playing in "Heaven Bound," a musical religious drama.

Angel Taylor fell from a cloud 20 feet above the stage. After hospital treatment of facial bruises, she prepared to return to her celestial post for to-nights performance.

Following heavy rains in Australia, Lake Eyre, in the center of the country and often dry, is stretching 200 miles, with game abundant along its shores.

Department Heads Appointed For Fair

(Special to Examiner).

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12.—Reporting on the work of foal and calf clubs, A. H. Martin, district agricultural representative, told officers and directors of the Seymour Agricultural Society that a large number of entries had been received. At the meeting, which was a prelude to the Fall Fair to be held in Campbellford on September 28 and 29, superintendents of the various departments were appointed as follows: Heavy horses, V. Irwin; light horses, E. Irwin; beef cattle and hogs, Frank Lee; sheep, John Locke; Holstein cattle, W. S. Milne; Ayrshire, Jersey and Guernsey cattle, E. A. McCook; poultry, W. J. Abernethy; apiary, grain, seeds and vegetables, R. McCulloch and J. A. Murray; domestic science, home baking, etc., Mrs. R. McCulloch and Mrs. E. A. McCook; domestic needlecraft, Mrs. John Locke and Mrs. S. L. O'Hara; flowers, C. W. Palliser.

The prize-money for trials of speed was set at $230, and the price of tickets to school children will remain at five cents, the same as last year.

HISTORIC CHEQUE GONE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP). — Federal officials admitted with embarrassment to-day that someone apparently has misplaced the historic cheque with which the United States bought Alaska.

The mystery developed when the Alaskan delegate, Anthony Dimond, asked Congress to authorize the cheques transfer to Juneau for exhibition.

"Apparently," he snorted, "it's gone."

FIFTY BODIES STORED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12 (A.P.). — Fifty bodies have been placed in receiving vaults here since grave diggers struck last Thursday. Undertakers said there was vault space enough to last four weeks more.

GIVES GRANT TO BLIND.

LONDON.—Lord Nuffield, industrialist-philanthropist, to-day donated £35,000 ($174,359) to aid in caring for the blind. This new donation brought the total of his philanthropic gifts to more than £8,000,000.

He Hardly Appreciates Being Arrested

This clash occurred when strikers attempted to stop workers returning from the Bonner-Worth plant. Police fired a tear gas bomb to disperse the crowd. In the upper photograph, a striker is shown being grabbed by the police during the height of the trouble. The striker, unidentified, apparently resents the police action. The lower photograph shows non-striking workers leaving the plant under police guard. Strikers and sympathizers thronged the street to boo and jeer at the workers.

THREE TO HANDLE SOCIAL CREDIT

EDMONTON, Aug. 12. —(CP)— Two British economists and G. L. MacLachlan, chairman of the Social Credit board of Alberta, today took over, as a temporary commission, the complete administration of Social Credit in the province.

Mr. MacLachlan, M.L.A. for Coronation, announced yesterday the appointment of himself, G. F. Powell and L. D. Byrne, Social Credit experts sent to Alberta by Major C. H. Douglas, to act as a temporary commission pending appointment of a permanent commission.

The board chairman said the commissioners had accepted their appointments on condition they are to be "honorary, temporary and without remuneration."

Power for the Social Credit board to appoint a temporary commission was given by amendment to the Social Credit Act at the recent legislative session, giving the temporary commission all duties and power of a permanent body.

These administrative duties would involve the new Banking Act to license and control bankers, concerning which Prime Minister Mackenzie King sent a telegram to Premier Aberhart yesterday, requesting that the province facilitate a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada regarding validity of the act.

For assaulting William Shakespeare, a fellow boarder, Henry Joseph Holmes, was sentenced to a months hard labor in Dublin, Irish Free State.

Hastings Youth Nabs Tire Thief After Fast 10-Mile Chase In Truck

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 12. — Harry Fowlds, a local youth, chased a motorist for ten miles on Wednesday morning about 8.30 in an effort to regain a tire that the motorist had picked up outside Patterson's garage on Bridge Street.

Fowlds had brought the tire from his home to be repaired and had placed it outside the garage as it was not open at that hour. He crossed the street and was in conversation with John Condon when Mr. Condon drew his attention to a car that had stopped and picked up a tire in front of the garage. Realizing it was the same tire he had placed there a few moments before, Fowlds ran to his truck, after ascertaining the road the motorist had taken, and took up chase. The chase ended at the English Church hill, just outside Roseneath, when he overtook the motorist and stopped him by driving in front of the car.

The tire was found in the back seat covered by rugs. The motorist claimed he had picked the tire up with the intention of taking it into Cobourg and advertising for its owner. W. Wellman, village constable, said there would be a charge laid against the motorist.

REVENGE AS A PIE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 12—(AP).—Desk Lieutenant Clarence J. Shear captured but couldn't arrest the culprit who stole his glasses.

"Blackey," a crow, flew off with them. Shear found the bird full of bucksnot some time later, nursed him back to health.

Now the policeman has plans for revenge.

"Ever hear of crow pie?" he asked.

DAUGHTER IS BORN.

HORSHAM, Sussex, Aug 12 (CP-Cable).—A daughter was born today to Mrs. Raymond Massey, wife of the Canadian actor-producer, at Rosing farm, their home near here.

Both the child and her mother—known on the stage as Adrianne Allen—were reported as doing well. It was the Masseys' second child, the other being a boy. The Toronto actor also had a son by a previous marriage.

TWEED PREPARES OLD HOME WEEK

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 12. — Sponsored by the business men and citizens of Tweed, an Old Home Week will be held in Tweed in 1938, commencing on Thursday, June 30, and continuing until Tuesday, July 5. At an enthusiastic meeting held at the Council Chambers on Tuesday night, tentative plans were laid, officers and committees elected, and the program discussed.

Lord Tweedsmuir will be invited to open the event his title being taken from the district of the River Tweed in the south of Scotland, as was the name of this village.

Motorcycle races, a regatta to include speedboat racing, modern and old-time lacrosse games, a calithumpian parade, baseball and softball, street dances, band concerts, special church services, and old-time parades to the various village schools have been suggested as features of the entertainment to be provided for visitors.

The list of officers is as follows:

Hon. chairman, Dr. P. T. Bowlby.
Chairman, Reeve W. H. Sayers.
Vice-chairman, Joseph Rashotte.
Honorary Committee — C. A. Cameron, M.P., Dr. H. E. Welsh, M.P.P., Robert Woods, Reeve Huntingdon Township, George Jordan, Reeve Hungerford Township, James A. Moore, Reeve of Elzevir, and C. H. LeBarge, Ottawa.

MINER IS DROWNED.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Aug. 12—(CP).—Herman Weiss, 28-year-old Lake Shore miner, drowned last night about in the Belanche river, near Larder Lake. Ian Robertson, his companion, attempted a rescue but was nearly drowned himself.

Provincial Constable McLellan of Larder Lake, directed a search today to recover the body.

CLOTHES ON BALI.

WINDSOR, Ont. Aug. 12.—(CP).—Clothes have disrupted the glamor of Bali, romantic island off the east coast of Java, believes Baron Maximillian Daum, Dutch nobleman, native of Batavia, Java, who is visiting this district.

The Balinese have made the fatal mistake of imitating those who come to see them and native girls, whose uncovered physical perfection resulted in the islands world-wide fame, has taken to wearing clothes.

Pro Hockeyists Defeat Hastings All-Stars 8-2

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 12. — The Maple Leaf hockey team were the main attraction at the softball tournament staged on the community park yesterday afternoon while an estimated crowd of 1,200 looked on. They emerged victorious when they defeated an all-star team from Hastings, Norwood, Havelock, and Keene by 8 to 2.

In the tournament which was originally intended to decide a team to play the Leafs, Hastings took a 9 to 5 decision from Norwood, while Havelock took a 13-innings thriller from Keene by a 9 to 8 count. This 13-inning Marathon left no time for a play-off between Havelock and Hastings, so it was decided to pick an all-star team from the four teams to field against the Maple Leafs.

Leafs Start Bad.

The Leaf puckists ran into a two-run deficit in the first inning when the All-Stars got to Gordie Drillon for 2 hits and aided by Eddie Convey's error they scored 2.

The Leafs regained this in the second when Drillon tripled, Hap Watson singled, and Chris Speyer doubled. They added 4 more in the third when Art Jackson and Dit Clapper walked, followed by singles by Eddie Convey, Jack Shill, and Harvey Jackson. After Jimmy Fowler had walked, Chuck Conacher sent him home with a terrific triple in the fourth to score another Leafs run. The final run of the game was scored in the fifth on a walk to Rolly Roulston, Hap Watson's single and Gordie Drillon's double.

Chris Speyer of the New York Americans aided the Leafs as he acted in the capacity of manager, Rolly Roulston of the Detroit Red Wings and Eddie Convey from the Syracuse Stars, with Dit Clapper, Hastings boy on the Boston Bruins, rounded out a great softball team of pro hockey players.

Much credit must be given Dit Clapper, and Nys Dwan of Toronto, who were responsible for the Leafs being present. The teams:

Score by innings:

All-Stars	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2
Maple Leafs	0	2	4	1	x	—	—	—	—	—	8

Umpires — Wellman, Hastings, at plate; Hogan, Hastings, and Copp, Havelock, on bases.

CLOSE CONTESTS JUNIOR REGATTA AT CHEMONG PARK

Forty events were run off in the Chemong Park Junior Regatta held yesterday afternoon and evening at Chemong Lake. Eight cups were competed for by the young aquatic performers, four in girls events and four for boys. Betty Petterson and Craig Sommerville won the 16-and-under championships. In the 14-and-under, Irene Forsythe and Bob Jopling were the winners. Gordon Matthews and Betty Boyle took the 12-and-under titles. The 10-and-under saw Frank Sommerville win the boys trophy, and three tied for the girls, Agnes Strickland, Dorothy Ballard and Joyce Dewart.

In several events, seniors competed to round out the big program, one that saw excellent competition —as in other years—and drew a big crowd of spectators. Swimming, paddling, and novelty races were included in the last. Following are the results with firsts and seconds named in each event:

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Has Joe Louis got a bum left hand? . . . Press agents in his camp scream "no," but here's what a responsible New Jersey newspaperman writes: "Saw Joe Louis the other night . . . his left hand is swollen . . . Trainer Jack Blackburn says it is sore from too much tape . . . but it looks bruised and a little cut to me." . . . Write your own ticket . . . The current series between the Yanks and the pepped-up Boston Red Sox is considered so important, President Will Harridge has rushed four umpires to Beantown . . . About the first time that many have worked there since the Braves spurted into the 1914 world's series.

Broadway columns report young Jack Slocum (of the sports writing Slocums), and Babe Ruth's stepdaughter, Julia, have it bad . . . Mickey Cochrane says Joe DiMaggio hits a baseball just like a top-notch golfer gwats a golf ball. . . . Is Rogers Hornsby making a business trip to Cleveland soon? . . . Barney Ross probably will top the fight card Mike Jacobs is putting on in Miami next winter.

Since he gave "Man Mountain" Dean a broken leg in Los Angeles, Sandor Szabo, Hungarian wrestler, has been in such demand he can't take a vacation . . . There may be more truth than poetry in that story (quickly denied all around) that Bill Terry will move into the Giants' front office next year and draw down the highest salary in the majors—$42,500 . . . St. Louis Cardinals, who have the most elaborate farm system in baseball, buy uniforms in lots of 500.

Quinte Lacrossers Play Auburns Here

O.L.A. standing to date:

Team	P.	W.	L.	T.P.
Auburns	13	12	1	3
Oshawa	14	10	4	2
Belleville	13	7	6	3
Norwood	14	4	10	2

Belleville's Flying Rovers tangle with Auburns here tomorrow (Friday) night at nine, under the lights, in the George St. arena. It will be the Auburns' final home game, as the schedule winds up in another week and the teams go into the semi-final and final group playoff series.

The locals expect to wind up their home season with a win over the Rovers. Another good-sized crowd will probably be on hand to see the struggle, and plenty of action should be dished up. Several of the Auburns will be absent from the lineup and this may result in a close contest. Auburns have lost but one game during their schedule this summer.

Golf Notes

PETERBOROUGH GOLF CLUB

The G.L.G.U. day was limited to one contest, the approaching from a bunker was the only contest played before the downpour, and after prolonged playoff, Mrs. C. B. Westbrooke beat Mrs. J. H. Vernor for the Spoon. During the rain the golfers showed their prowess at bridge, three tables were formed and Mrs. J. F. Hall won the bridge prize.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP

Men's 2nd Round

R. Abbott beat T. Holyman 3 up 1 to play.

H. T. Bradburn beat A. Elliott 3 up 2 to play.

S. Payne beat O. A. Degraw 2 up and 1 to play.

Dr. J. C. Green beat T. T. Gentles 4 up and 3 to play.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

FORWARD passes will be tossed about verbally tonight in the "Y" at 7.30 or so when the Orfuns have a chalk talk and general gabfest. All grid prospects in town are invited. This summer warmth won't last much longer and then the rugby huskies will be out there diving around on the frozen terrain, and meantime they must get organized. Outdoor drills will commence on Aug. 23rd, and the group schedule will open ere September does a fadeout. Officers of the Orfuns are busy these days on raffle ducats for a bunch of big prizes. Much of the money raised in this way will go toward equipment. Your gridiron gladiator is armoured up like a knight of old when nights were cold—yowza. Takes plenty of padding here and there and sturdy helmets to stave off injury in this roughest of all games. So the locals will go into the wars ready to battle without fear of busted limbs and such.

* * * * * * *

COACH Bill Turnbull is buzzing around lining up prospective players to get an idea of the strength of his squad. Some 20 of the good 1936 outfit will be on hand again trying to earn places on the lineup. And about 10 or 12 others—some of 'em downright good, too. Maybe half a dozen of the classy P.C.I. team of last year will be in there scrapping for berths and some five or six more. Ken Long, who played O.R.F.U. halfback in Dundas and Joe Jakafby, inside and middle in Hamilton—both ballsters here this summer. Ken Bartle, inside and middle of Brantford in school and O.R.F.U.; also Loucks and Begley of Lindsay last season, halfback and lineman in that order A guy named Hayne who played inside for Sarnia intermediates; and a couple of gridders who blew in some time ago from Western Canada. Yeah, the early-season prospects point to a smart football machine in 1937 here.

* * * * * * *

TOO BAD the Lindsay Rotarians folded in football this year. We figure we had some "unfinished business" with 'em from 1936, but it will now remain unfinished. Lack of work for the players caused 'em to give up the ghost, some of the better players packing up their socks and toothbrushes and seeking other locations. Two of whom picked Peterborough. Cobourg will likely be back stronger than in '36, and we suppose the Blue Devils of Oshawa will get organized ere long, too. Baseball playoffs always slow 'em up at the start. The Belleville R.C.A.F. combine is mooted but nothing at all definite yet. We hope a good Central Ontario grouping is lined up, and we hope every club is stronger than garlic on a humid evening!

* * * * * * *

BELLEVILLE Flying Rovers play our Auburns here in a C.O.L.A. contest tomorrow e'en at nine. It will be the locals' final home lacrosse match before the playoffs commence. Auburns have a couple tilts out of town yet which will be played if they affect the standing. Dunno if Joe Gould and the other star gutted-stick swingers of Belleville and Trenton will trek here or not tomorrow but, if they do, it should be a tidy tussle. Anyway, lots of action is assured the fans as the lacrossers wind up their season and square around for the money serials. Most of the Auburns will be on deck for this number but a couple may be absent. Auburns have lost but one group game all season—in Oshawa a few nights ago—and they expect to cop another nod here tomorrow.

IN SOFTBALL tonight, weather permitting, Keene and Westclox gals tangle at seven in the Bowl in the second of their two-in-three sectional playoffs. Westclox won the first handily. At seven in Central Motorists meet Westclox men in the third of their four-in-seven serial to declare an O.A.S.A. playdown team. Each team has one win to date. Both scraps should be good and rate a big following of fandom. The evenings are shortening up now and softball contests should be started right on time.

* * * * * * *

STANDINGS in the Southend Softball League are listed tonight. This large loop—which has a good southend fan following—has seen lots of keen action all season. Tonight at the Brinton field, DeLaval and Hawks tangle in a sudden-death game to decide the third-place playoff berth in the second half. Other playoff spots are set now and the big series will commence right shortly. Tonight's winner meets Cogs in two-out-of-three, starting Monday. Cogs were third in the first half—that's why, Leafs were second in both so will get a bye into semi-finals. DeLaval and Keene led the parade in each half. McMartin and Ashmore will umpire playoffs. Shine and Elliott are the twirlers tonight and it ought to be a neat duel. Lot of fun the other night when a game was awarded to Keene over Hawks when one of the latter players was ordered off by ye umps and refused to go.

* * * * * * *

HERB RALPH'S Rotarians won the Junior Lakeshore Ball Loop title last night here with a 9-6 win over Cobourg, their second straight in the playoffs. Condon lost his control on the local mound in the fourth and Gee Clark took over in a nice relief role, also fielding well. And the Rotary boys hit the apple in timely style—Petes please note—to earn the nod. Their fielding was somewhat sloppy in spots—Petes please don't note—but they pulled through okay. Cobourg put up a good fight and will be back next season with the loss of but one player. Congrats to the Rotarians and to Ralph. The team probably meets Belleville now in junior O.B.A.A. playdowns.

IT RAINED in Napanee and Kingston yesterday so the Petes and the GM-men didn't play their C.O.B.L. fixtures in those towns. Haven't heard when they will be played. Manager Fred Collins said last night: "We are in no hurry to play Napanee now in that postponed game. Let them play their two postponed games with Kingston first—it's our turn to do some jockeying in the schedule now." Yeah, what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the goose's husband, and the Gibbards and Ponies can now roll up their sleeves and clean up that unfinished business of theirs. This Saturday sees Kingston come here and Napanee play in Oshawa.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

FOR THE SECOND time within two weeks rinks from Port Hope have been successful in lifting both of our trophies and walking away with major prizes in our open mixed tournaments. Two weeks ago, W. Peacock, Port Hope, won the Ovaltine cup and then yesterday (Wednesday) H. Rosevear from the Lakeshore town, duplicated his clubmate's effort by capturing the C.D.S. trophy, and on both winning rinks, T. Flood was the centre man.

DELAYING THE start for over an hour and a half on account of the condition of the greens, the second and last open mixed tournament of the season got underway. Eighteen rinks from Bobcaygeon, Norwood, Havelock, Cobourg, Port Hope and Peterborough made an even draw...The greens were not at the best owing to the heavy rains of the last couple of days, but notwithstanding all that, the bowling was well above the average.

ODD RAMBLINGS—Bobcaygeon, only a new club at the bowling game, did very well and will be welcome again any time...We were glad to see Doug. Brennan of Havelock come along with a rink, they'll do it next time...Probably the best played game of the series was the McIlmoyle-Freeman affair in the second round, with Charlie McCarthy coming out on top...There were no less than 12 Mr. and Mrs. combinations playing in the tournament yesterday...The president, W. J. Oke, officiated at the presentation of the prizes, and did it in his usual capable manner.

THE WINNERS

First: Port Hope—Miss M. Lawrence, T. Flood, Mrs. R. Clarke, H. Rosevear (skip). (C.D.S. trophy—ladies, set table linen, gentlemen leather bowl cases).

Second: Cobourg—Mrs. C. Keith, Mrs. J. Watson, J. Watson, C. Keith (skip). (Ladies, set of table linen; gentlemen, kit bag).

Third: Peterborough — Mrs. T. Doughty, T. Doughty, Mrs. W. Jeffries., W. Jeffries (skip). Ladies, table linen; gentlemen, sweaters).

Fourth: Peterborough—Mrs. D. Cameron, G. Sorenson, Mrs. J. Kingsbury, G. Soulby (skip). (Ladies table linen; gentlemen, sweaters).

Fifth: Peterborough—Mrs. H. Martin, J. T. Braund, Mrs. R. Hendry, R. Hendry (skip). (Ladies, table linen; gentlemen, pyjamas).

TOMORROW (FRIDAY) we will hold our men's weekly tournament and we don't intend to give away the secret, but the committee is intending to try out a new system of counting. We advise all interested to come out and see for yourself just what it is all about...We had a few pairs over at Cannington on Wednesday afternoon and evening for the open doubles. Louis Loftus and Cec. Williamson each received pyrex baking dishes for high with two wins, and in the consolation of the same event Dr. Allen and Peter Black received shirts...There were 32 entries.

Grattan Axworthy Of Simcoe Captures Canadian Trot Race

W. J. Booth Entry Defeats Peter Chilcoot in Two of Three Heats.

NEW HAMBURG, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Twelve thousand spectators, setting what is probably an all-time Canadian record for a harness horse meet at a half-mile track, turned out yesterday to watch Grattan Axworthy win the $1,500 Canadian Pacing Derby, richest event of its kind in Canada for seasoned pacers.

Grattan Axworthy, owned by W. J. Booth, Simcoe, defeated Hon. Earl Rowe's Peter Chilcoot in two of the three heats to capture the event and the silver trophy donated by J. Cook, London.

The Booth entry came through with stretch drives to beat the Ontario Conservative Leader's horse at the wire. Peter Chilcoot redeemed himself somewhat in capturing the third heat.

Fastest time was 2.08 flat, made by Grattan Axworthy in the second heat over a track which was not fast after rains of the previous day. He travelled the first heat in 2:08¾. Peter Chilcoot took the third reel in 2:10.

xWin play-of bertha. De Laval and Hawks to play sudden death game for 3rd place in 2nd half tonight.

By defeating the De Lavad Monday the Leafs finished second in the second half, as they did in the first. De Laval held the winners close for six heats, 3-2 being the count, but Maples suddenly broke loose to break up a pitching duel between Abbott and Cavanagh, winning 10-7. In Thursday's game, Keene and Hawks were tied at 6-all when it terminated in the ninth when Busby of the Hawks was banished for protesting too strenuously an umpire's decision. He refused to leave the field and the umpire awarded the game to Keene. The latter had to come from behind in the eight to sew it up behind McCarthy's fine flinging in a relief role, as Hayes was batted out in the sixth. Elliott for the Hawks also hurled nice ball but hadnt good support. Calladine and Hayes led their teams at bat.

Kawartha Players Win Tennis Series

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12.—The Kawartha Tennis Club of Peterborough took five of the six events staged in a friendly tournament held on the local courts here on Monday. The only event which went to the credit of the local club was the second men's doubles in which Harry Free and Jim Heptonstall defeated R. Mahood and D. Hall in a tough battle which ended 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. J. Donaldson and Roy Tanter of Peterborough defeated Ken Kingston and W. Kingston, 6-4, 6-1. A. Dryman and W. Lind won from Paul O'Sullivan and Bob Linton, 6-3, 6-2. In the ladies' doubles E. Ferris and V. Couch of town were defeated by B. Pammett and H. Jackson, 6-1, 6-2.

D. Emery and M. Jones of Peterborough defeated Dick Ramsden and M. Collins in the mixed doubles, the score being 6-1, 6-3. In the second mixed doubles, J. Meir and R. Townsend were downed by L. Shields and M. Benson, 12-10, 6-4.

Rotary Ballsters Win Lakeshore Loop Title

Local Juniors Take 9-6 Nod Over Cobourg Here in Playoff Tussle.

The local Rotarians took a 9-6 victory over Cobourg here last night to win the Lakeshore Junior Baseball League championship in two straight games. They had won the first playoff tilt on Cobourg's diamond and will now advance into the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns. A fair-sized crowd of fans saw an interesting junior joust last evening in Riverside Park, with the locals having too much punch for their rivals.

Timely hitting, coupled with some good relief flinging, gave Herb Ralph's gang the win. They spotted Cobourg an early lead but came on in the last half with hard clouting to gain a safe lead. The losers kept battling all the way and were never badly outclassed. They saw one pitcher head for the showers and kept pecking away at the offerings of another.

Has Wild Streak

Lefty Condon started for Rotary and looked good for three frames. But he hit a wild streak in the fourth and gave way to Gee Clark. The latter twirled steady ball the rest of the route and gave his rivals no earned runs. The home pitchers had wobbly support for the most part, a total of seven miscues being counted against the winners. Bateman went the distance on the losers' slab and was effective but for two innings when Rotarians bunched enough hits to win the game. His support was fair.

Thorburn led the victors at bat with a double and three singles in five times. Kelly was right behind with a double and two singles in four. The latter drove in three runs with his timely two-bagger in the fifth to give the locals a lead. Bateman and King got two safeties each for the losers and Campbell clouted a two-base blow. The all-around fielding of Giardino, some nice defensive work by King and a neat pickup by Maher at third, were fielding features of the contest.

The box score:

Cobourg:	AB	R	H	PO	A	E

Builds New Track

With the voted approval of Broward county in his pocket, Joseph M. Smoot (ABOVE) president of the newly-formed Hollywood Jockey club, is now free to go ahead with his plans for the new racing plant, to cost $1,300,000, which he hopes to have in operation in Miami, Fla., by January, 1938. Smoot founded the Miami Jockey Club, which began its operation at what now is Hialeah Park. The new track will be 12 miles north of Miami.

WALLACE WINS CLOSE DECISION

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (C.P.) — Gordon Wallace of Vancouver may get another chance to recapture the Canadian welterweight title he lost to Frankie Genovese of Toronto last spring. On the basis of a split decision win over Tony Bland, Toronto, in 12 rounds here last night the coast fighter will likely be rematched with the champion.

More than 10,000, Toronto's largest fight crowd in years, watched the open-air fight, refereed by James J. Braddock, former world heavyweight champion. Both Bland and Wallace weighted in at 146¼, four ounces under the welter limit and they made an even fight of it until Wallace's great closing rally which earned him the decision.

A Powerful Right.

Best blow the Westerner showed was a ready right that bothered Bland all the way. Braddock was busy breaking clinches in the opening rounds. Bland scored heavily at the close range slugging, but in the fourth Wallace started to ward him off with hard rights, then punished Bland severely with crashing right-hand punches to the body.

Wallace forced the pace in the last two rounds, driving Bland about the ring to gain a decisive margin. He solved the Toronto boy's right-hand attack by shooting across a hard right cross every time Bland tried it.

Frankie Martin of Montreal, former Canadian bantamweight champion, was knocked out in the semi-final bout by Georgie Pace, Cleveland. Pace floored Martin for a five-count in the first round, and Martin went down for good in the sixth round of their eight-round bout. Martin weighted 122¾ and Pace 119¾.

Curls Up On Way Over Bar

Some girls like to "curl up with a good book," but Miss Dorothy Orham likes to do her curling up while she's clearing the bar during her high jump specialty. She is shown here during a workout at Mitcham, Eng., for the international sports meets in Berlin, Germany, and Brussels, Belgium. She is a member of the British women's team.

Yanks Widen American League With Double Win Over Boston

DiMaggio-Gehrig Hit Homers as New Yorkers Run Streak to 10.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (C.P.). — The Society for the Perpetuation of the Yankees as American League champions ("Jake" Ruppert, pres.) is on the way toward proving again that the sky is the limit so far as its long-range firing is concerned.

With charter members Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio as chief "dishers-outers" of the daily dose of pitchers' poison, the swat squad has just about demolished what little race there was for this year's pennant, and is sharpending up its sights for another major operation on baseball's record books.

They handed a dose of knockout drops to their latest challenge from second-place by trampling the Boston Red Sox 8-5 and 10-4 in both ends of a double bill yesterday, with a crowd of 36,127 witnessing the exception, and thereby waltzed away to an 11½-game lead over the pack—a lead that puts them as good as "in" unless there's a wholesale epidemic of broken bones or an earthquake or two.

No 1935 Record.

With that done, they looked over the field to-day and found that their 1936 record of 182 homers for a season, which was supposed to be pretty close to a limit a year ago, would be somewhat of a cinch to wipe out, and that they have a fair chance to preserve for Yankee posterity new marks for won-lost standings and for the margin by which they can nail the pennant to their mast.

Dynamiter Dimaggio drove his 33rd round-tripper into the stands in yesterday's 14-inning opener and Gehrig greeted Buck Newsom with his 28th in the seven-inning nightcap.

This pair of payoff wallops boosted the Yankee season total to 130 in the 96 official games to date. With 56 games still ahead and 53 homers needed for a record, there seems little chance that the old mark will be on hand when they finish their batting this season.

Cubs Stretch Lead.

The National League lead, currently in possession of the Chicago Cubs, also underwent a "stretching" yesterday. The Cubs took advantage of the idleness of the second-place Giants to pound the Pirates 5-1 behind Clay Bryant's five-hit fingling and boost their pace-making margin to 6½ games.

The Cleveland Indians, with Bob Feller pitching a seven-hitter and fanning six in the opener, whipped the St. Louis Browns 5-2 and 7-2 in a twin bill. The Senators just lasted to take a 5-4 decision from the Athletics. Si Johnson twirled the Cardinals to a 3-2 win over the Reds.

The White Sox and Tigers in the American League, and the Giants, Bees, Dodgers, and Phillies in the National were rained out.

FOUR CIRCUITS BALTIMORE WINS OVER THE BISONS

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (C.P.). — The stolid fans of Baltimore are beginning to wake up.

Reason? Baltimore Orioles, laughed at and ribbed during the early weeks of the season, have at last started to go and as the curtain went down on their double victory over the Buffalo Bisons last night, the Birds were a half-game out of the first division.

As they beat Bisons, 8-7 and 4-2, the Flock's stock continued to climb and victory-hungry fans began to realise that the team's current form gives every indication of a playoff berth.

As usual home runs figured prominently in the Oriole's attack. Lea Powers, Ab Wright, and Buck Crouse hit for the circuit in the opener to help the Birds make up a seven-run deficit and win.

Harry Matuzak held the Bisons to three hits in the seven-inning nightcap. Wimpy Wilburn, Bird shortstop, contributed a four-bagger for the winners, bringing the total to four.

Only other action in the League occurred at Syracuse where the Chiefs and the faltering Red Wings split two games 5-4, 11-10. Chiefs won the opener 5-4 behind the ancient Fred Fussell, who allowed 12 hits but hurled well in the pinches.

The Wings used four hurlers and the Chiefs three in the nightcap which was featured by heavy sticking.

A night double-header between Montreal and the Bears was rained out at Newark and an afternoon double bill between Toronto and Jersey City at Jersey City was also postponed because of rain.

ENGLISH TEAM EASY WINNERS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12—(CP).—The touring M.C.C. eleven were scheduled to meet a Regina team today in their third match in Western Canada. Yesterday the English team scored its second straight victory over Winnipeg St. George's Cricket Club, winning by a margin of nine wickets.

After dismissing the St. George team for 46 runs, the tourists compiled the runs required for victory with only one wicket down and then completed the innings for a total of 139.

Free hitting featured the English innings. Although thick grass in the outfield kept down the rate of scoring somewhat, a crowd of 1,000 was thrilled by the strong-arm methods employed. A. G. Powell, young Essex wicket-keeper, and G. M. Ford both drove the ball out of the ground for sixes.

H. J. Enthoven found the tricky wicket to his liking and took four Canadian wickets for seven runs, A. P. Singleton coming a close second with three for six. For the home team C. J. Bligh bagged five for 71.

A Crack Shot

When the governor-general gold medal matches take place, marksmen from all over Canada will meet with stiff opposition from Mrs. Dow, of Saint John, N.B., a crack shot with a rifle. At the Province of Quebec Rifle Association shoot, she finished only three points behind her husband who won an important match at the meet. She is seen here with a revolver in her hand.

Carnegie Endman Gets Invitation

HAMILTON, N.Y., Aug. 12. — (UP).—Maurice Patt, 190-pound Carnegie Tech end, has accepted an invitation to play with the Eastern all-star college football team against the New York Football Giants at the Polo Grounds Sept. 8, Andy Kerr, coach of Colgate University and of the all-stars, announced to-day.

Camberwell, England, has just scrapped its 1913 dress rules for bathers, and men will be permitted to wear trunks and women two-piece suits.

Schmeling Denies Getting Any Offer

BERLIN, Aug. 12. — (AP). — Max Schmeling, German heavyweight and conqueror of Joe Louis, left to-day to embark on the steamship Bremen for the United States and the Louis-Tommy Farr bout.

Schmeling denied he had accepted a fight with the winner. "I haven't even received an offer," he said. He added he would like another shot at the heavyweight title held by Louis.

IN MEMORIAM

EDWARDS.—In loving memory of our darling Daughter, Priscilla Mae, who passed away, August 12, 1930.

She has gone across the river
To the shores forever green,
And we long to see her dear face
But the river flows between.

Some day some time,
Our eyes shall see
The face we loved so well;
Some day we'll clasp her loving hand
And never say farewell.

—Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.

BARNES.—In loving memory of William Henry Barnes, who died Aug. 11, 1933.

Peacefully sleeping,
Resting at last.
His weary trials and troubles are past.

In silence he suffered,
In patience he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

—Lovingly remembered by his Wife and Daughters, Eliza, Edith and Clara.
Also Grandsons and Nephews, Allan and Leonard Barnes and Bertie Cookman, drowned August 16, 1926.

July generally finds the good starters in a slump. By good starters I mean those players who do much better than they expected at the beginning of the season. They start out with all the improvement that invariably comes only after the proper practice, yet they have had little or no practice.

Yes, it is possible to make a better score without practice or instructions. This is one of the main attractions in golf. It is also one of the big obstacles to success.

Improvement that comes about more or less accidentally seldom lasts, but the average player is optimistic enough to think that it will. About this time of the season he learns the truth of the matter. However, it is never too late to make the right start or put your game on a sound basis. If you are among those suffering from a mid-season slump, by all means go to your pro without further delay.

Lacking the help of a pro you can do much to improve your game through the right kind of practice. At least, do something to help yourself and to bring about the corrections in your game that should have been made at the start of the season. Do it now. Don't let any slump interfere with your enjoyment of the game.

Next: Avoid Changing Grip

LINES ARE DRAWN IN N.Y. MAYORALTY

NEW YORK, Aug 12 (AP).—Battle lines were formally drawn in New York city's precedent-smashing mayoralty campaign yesterday as intra-party conflict spread in both Republican and Democratic camps.

Voters in the Republican primary Sept. 16 faced the unique task of choosing between three oddly-assorted mayoralty candidates—a fusionist mayor seeking re-election, a Tammany-endorsed Democrat and a standard-brand Republican.

Democratic leaders were poles apart over the pro-and-con New Deal sympathies of former State Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah Titus Mahoney and United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, a critic of the Roosevelt administration.

Senator Copeland, believed the first Tammany candidate ever to enter both major party primaries, had as opponents in the Republican pre-primary campaign fusionist Mayor Fiorello Laguardia and Charles Sumner Bond, former Republican congressman.

In contrast to the tumult and shouting in Democratic and Republican circles, Norman Thomas was the only candidate advanced by a minority party as the deadline for filing petitions passed Tuesday.

Mayor Laguardia, who was entered by G. O. P. friends, remained the doubtful element in the Republican race. A possibility existed the Mayor would withdraw from the Republican primary and campaign solely as the candidate of fusionist groups and the American Labor party.

SPENDS $122,700 AT SARATOGA.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 12 (AP).—If every bidder at the Saratoga yearling sales was like Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, life would be sweet for the auctioneers for breeders of thoroughbred yearlings.

Mrs. Mars has spent $122,700 at the sales thus far, adding $60,300 to her total last night when she purchased seven yearlings. She now has bought 15 youngsters at this year's sales.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to be a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. Mary, working late, is accused of copying a design in Castle's shop and is dismissed by Francine Long, his head buyer. Tony comes to Mary's rescue with a job in his advertising department. Tony begins to see Mary frequently. Before long their friendship ripens into love.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 6.

The telephone buzzed angrily. Mary reached for it and smudged charcoal on the front of a white linen blouse that had been crisp and clean an hour before. She pushed the damp curls out of her eyes and picked up the instrument.

"Hello . . . yes, this is Miss Barrett . . . oh, I'm sorry. You see we decided to hold the sale at the last minute . . . yes, the copy will be sent over immediately . . . you're sure the sketch is okay? . . . fine. I'll let you know what we're running Saturday . . . no, I'll have to speak to Mr. Castle about it."

She hung up, wiped her sticky hands on a smock that was too hot to wear and went back to the problem of sketching a short ermine jacket when the temperature hovered around a hundred in the shade.

The door at the back of her hot-box studio immediately beyond the workroom opened. Kay Ericson, Castle's secretary, popped her head in.

She collapsed on a chair covered with proofs. Mopping her forehead with her handkerchief, she let off steam:

"Phew! You don't mind if I try to cool off, do you?"

"Not at all," Mary answered pleasantly, "if you give me the secret."

"You may think it's hot here but you ought to be in the boss' office," Kay retorted. "Between the temperature and his temper . . ."

"Temper?" Mary asked mildly. Tony had the reputation among his employees of being "sweet."

"Maybe you'd call it agitation. Can't say I blame him. Henry Gordon just sent over a play for him to costume,—she waved a blue-covered manuscript in the air—"and Francine would take this time to have appendicitis. He's called out every good designer in New York and no luck. Most of them are in Paris for the openings."

A bell began to tinkle distantly in Mary's agile mind. Quite casually she nodded toward the blue covered manuscript. "Is that the play?"

"It is! And I've got to type six copies of the darn thing. Isn't that just my luck when Herb wanted to take me out to Westchester tonight? How I'll ever . . ."

"I can type it for you," Mary said as if it were nothing more than a nice gesture. "As soon as I finish this sketch I'm through. That sales copy takes a lot of work off my hands today. I'm a pretty good typist." Then she added:

"Oh, Kay, please let me do it! You don't how much I've got to know about that play!"

"Honest? What a brick you are! By the way, Liane Weston is the actress to be customed."

Liane Weston—tall slim, ashen blond. New York's favorite light comedienne. Typing the play, memorizing every situation, every nuance, the very genre of it as it came from the playwright's mind, Mary kept a clear picture of the actress in mind.

That night while the city wilted under heat that drove its dwellers to the parks in search of vain sleep, Mary Barrett twisted her silken ankles about the stool before her drawing board. Above her a cruelly hot light blazed and at her side was pitcher after pitcher of iced coffee.

Across the courtyard, Mrs. Gallagher reached sleepily for the alarm clock, shut it off and shook her husband into wakefulness.

"Get up, Mike. It's 8 o'clock and time you wiz gettin' me breakfast tray." That was Mrs. Gallagher's little morning joke. Then she got up and cooked sausages and pancakes, put them on the table and lowered herself into a place opposite her ruddy-faced mate. She looked out the window across the courtyard and stirred her coffee.

"Will you be lookin'?" She waved her spoon to the window where a light still blazed across the way. "That poor little thing is still workin.' All night, too. Ah, it's glad I am, Mike, you're a prosperous cop. I'd hate to be havin' a c'reer like that."

It was only 8 when Mary entered the Castle shop that morning. She didn't go directly to her studio; she stopped at Tony's desk and laid the contents of her portfolio there. Then she went out to a long-shoreman's breakfast of sausage and pancakes.

"What's the matter with all of you? Wasn't any one of you aware of what was going on here yesterday? Somebody must know where these came from! Am I supposed to believe in Santa Claus?"

The angry, excited voice was Tony's. Mary paused in the passageway and hugged herself silently. Then she knocked at his door and opened it.

"Perhaps Mary knows where these came from. They aren't even signed. Some nit-wit . . ."

She looked at the sketches. "Oh," she said casually, "they're mine."

"You . . . you mean these are your originals?" Incredulous.

She nodded.

When the others had gone, she picked up the sketches one by one. The first showed a saffron gown weighted with sable. A gown that was both sophisticated and young. A gown to be worn by a woman who knew the world but not how to cope with it. A gown for Liane Weston to wear as Marguerita.

"You like them, Tony." She said it: she didn't ask.

"Mary!" That was all he said but she saw that doubt had clouded his eyes.

"Well," she said tonelessly, "you don't think so much of them now that you know I did them?"

"Yes," he answered, "I congratulate you on your talent but . . ."

Mary waited with a stone dropping into her.

". . . you see this is only the first step. This is the inspiration but the execution is another matter. Only an experienced designer could execute them in fabric."

He saw the deep hurt in her face and sorrowed for her. "But wait . . . Francine will be back in another week. She can superintend it."

So Francine would have the credit! Tony had told her that she was too impulsive. She counted to 20 under her breath and said generously, "Of course, she can! In the meantime, I've learned more than you know. Can't I cut the first patterns? That would make it a bit easier for Mrs. Long."

He looked at her gratefully. "Good girl!" he said. "You know, we'll have to get Liane's—Miss Weston's—aproval?"

"Oh, Tony, she said, her words tumbling out of the excitement in her as she picked up the second sketch, the one of the black gown. "A minute ago you said this one was like the exclamation point of a tragedy. Please tell Miss Weston about it. Tell her what it is supposed to do. It's for a woman who has grown up too late and realizes it. The only person who sees her as she is, is her lover and he is lost to her. That's why it has to be an exclamation point."

Tony watched the lights in Mary's eyes.

"It's the gown that shows her as only he sees her. It has to be subtle and simple so that the audience can see the same thing. She emerges from it as she really is!"

"I'll tell her," he said softly and pinched color into her white cheek.

"But don't burn yourself up this way, darling. It's only a gown."

Only a gown . . .

COMMODITY COSTS RISE IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Aug. 11—(CP). — Cost of living in the United Kingdom has risen 3 per cent. since the start of the year on the basis of the 1936 index, according to the Ministry of Labor. Cost of food alone has advanced about 10 per cent., with increases in several commodities posted during recent weeks.

Housewives all over the country are feeling the pinch in paying extra for such necessities as flour, bread, butter, potatoes, beef, vegetable, and fruit. Clothing, rent, fuel, and household furnishings also have risen proportionately.

A four-pound loaf of bread now sells for 19 cents, compared with 16 cents a year ago, flour is up six cents for a seven-pound bag, butter is up four cents, cheese three, beef two cents a pound, and mutton three cents a pound higher. Increased demand for margarine, much cheaper than butter, has been reported.

A pair of single woollen blankets, sold for $4.25 last February, now cost $6.85. Cotton and linen goods have increased over the whole range by 5 to 15 per cent. There is an average increase in the cost of floor carpets of about 30 per cent., while certain metal articles have advanced as much as 50 per cent.

Cost of building materials has soared so high that a working-class house now costs approximately $150 more than eight months ago.

Merchants warn that present increases are but forerunners of what is to come. They report manufacturers have already announced advances of anywhere from 5 to 20 per cent. on all future orders.

Increases in metals and wool are directly attributed to stimulated demand due to rearmament. All the great Powers are tapping available markets for metal for naval construction, munitions, tanks, airplanes, while the wool is needed for military uniforms.

A glance at the prices of metal explains these increases. Tin, which was quoted around $900 a ton last July, now is selling close to $1,300, and spelter, $77 a ton a year ago, sells at about $110 to-day.

B.C. Marketing Act Will Be Enforced

VICTORIA, Aug. 12 (CP). — The British Columbia Government planned to-day to enforce provisions of the province's Natural Products Marketing Act pending final settlement of the dispute over the legislation found valid yesterday by B. C. Court of Appeal.

The Court quashed two injunctions granted by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson of the British Columbia Supreme Court against the British Columbia Coast Vegetable Marketing Board and the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board.

Mr. Justice Manson had granted the injunctions on grounds the 1934 Provincial Act — and subsequent amendments—were ultra vires the Legislature.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BREAKFAST

Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, hopped over to where Uncle Wiggily was starting to stand on his head in the hammock.

"Mr. Longears, I beg of you! What in the world are you doing?" asked Nurse Jane in surprise.

"Why, I am trying to stand on my head in the hammock," said the rabbit gentleman. "But I think it can't be done," he added with a laugh as he fell overboard. "I have been trying all afternoon but I can't do it. Do you want to try, Nurse Jane?" he asked as he picked himself up.

"Thank you, no," squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I came out to ask what you would like for breakfast tomorrow morning."

"Oh, thank you, I shall not want any breakfast," said Mr. Longears twinkling his pink nose to shake off a little dirt that stuck on it when he fell out of the hammock.

"No breakfast?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Thank you, none that you or my wife need bother about," said the rabbit gentleman. "I am going to get up early to go adventuring," went on Uncle Wiggily. "I shall be up before sunrise and I can get my own breakfast."

"It will be no bother for me to get up early and see that you have something to eat," said Nurse Jane. "It would be a pleasure."

"I wouldn't think of troubling you," said Mr. Longears. "I can easily get my own breakfast."

"Well, all right, Wiggy," said his wife when she heard about this. "But if you get up early and make your own breakfast, please don't go whamming around the kitchen like a June Bug on vacation and waking us all up. You know the least sound wakes the children in this

"Quiet, my dear!"

camping tent. Do be quiet, please."

"I shall," promised Mr. Longears. "You won't hear a sound. And it will be a pleasure to me to get my own breakfast and know I'm not bothering any of you or waking you so early."

"I hope you have a nice adventure," said Mrs. Longears.

"So do I," said Nurse Jane who, truth to tell, was glad she didn't have to arise early to get breakfast for Mr. Longears.

Uncle Wiggily awakened very early. It was almost dark when he crawled from his cot in the camping tent and went to the adjoining tent which was the kitchen, with an oil gas stove and everything.

"I'll just make myself some carrot coffee, fry a bit of egg plant and take a few slices of cabbage bread," said Mr. Longears. He began fumbling around in the kitchen tent.

"Ah, this must be the coffee!" thought he, opening a can. The cover stuck. Uncle Wiggily tapped it with the bread knife to get it off. It came off suddenly with a clatter and bang and Uncle Wiggily cried:

"Ker choo! Ker choo! Ker choo!" He had opened the pepper can in mistake for coffee. In fear and trembling he waited. No sounds.

"I guess I didn't awaken them," thought the rabbit. "Ah, here is the coffee." He smelled it carefully to make sure. It was. He reached up to lift down the coffee pot. It slipped, fell, and Oh, what a clatter bang it made!

"Help! Help!" cried Mrs. Longears from the sleeping tent. "The Bad Chaps are here!"

"Quiet, my dear!" called Uncle Wiggily. "It's only the coffee pot. I dropped it!" But it was too late. All the little bunnies were awakened by the noise. So was Nurse Jane, and she got breakfast.

So this teaches us one never knows what will happen. And if the tennis ball will make a hole in the net so the sardine can go swimming with the golf club. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Jamboree.

OFFICIALS FORGET.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Aug. 12.—(CP).—Ontario government officials have apparently become mixed up as to how "wet" this Essex county town is. Ballot papers to be used in the Sept. 17 vote on the beer question were received this week. They read:

"Are you in favor of the continuance of the sale of beverages under the provisions of the Liquor Control Act?"

Leamington has been 'dry' for 27 years.

KING AND QUEEN MAKE FREQUENT THEATRE VISITS

LONDON, Aug. 12—(CP). — The King and Queen have been slipping out to the theatre with increasing frequency, quietly and without fanfare. Sometimes they entered their box unnoticed until the end of the first act.

Queen Mary, too, the nervous strain of December passed, is getting to stage and screen plays more often. Recently she attended the comedy "French Without Tears", which is not without the retort risque.

In the same week their Majesties made a return visit to the Ballet Russe and went to the play, "London After Dark," accompanied by the Princess Royal and Lord Harewood.

Housman's piquant reflections of Queen Victoria—"Victoria Regina"—are attracting noteworthy interest now that the play has been approved by the Lord Chamberlain. The Duke and Duchess of Kent, the Princess Royal and Prince Arthur of Connaught are members of the royal family who have attended thus far. The London version is only slightly altered from that given in New York by Helen Hayes. Pamela Stanley plays the title role.

The old plea for a national theatre in London broke out again and this time it has been rewarded. The committee seeking to establish a national Shakespeare Theatre lacked a site, but recently found a bay-window shaped area in South Kensington owned by the government. The government was selling in the open market and the committee's offer at first was not high enough. But the government announced acceptance of the National Theatre Committee's offer of $375,000, when the higher tender previously reported did not mature.

The committee proposes to build a theatre seating 1,250. Before the government's announcement was made the fact that a higher offer was likely to be accepted raised no end of a row. It was recalled with some heat that in 1899 the government enthusiastically voted $4,000,000 to build the Victoria and Albert Museum yet the present government, rich enough to spend $7,500,000,000 on arms, would not promise to sacrifice a possible loss of $25,000 in selling the site to the national committee.

Sir Phillip Sassoon had briefly dismissed questioners in the House of Commons by saying he did not think the government could do otherwise than accept the highest tender.

Rebuffed Two Years Ago.

The committee's history includes a rebuff by the Conservative government in 1926 which "found itself unable to place a site at the disposal of the committee"—and a year later Winston Churchill as Chancellor of the Exchequer declared the government did not feel inclined to aid the project.

Most spectacular event on the present playbill is "St. Moritz"— a revue staged on ice at the coliseum. Expert skaters, attractive chorus girls and tolerably good music combine to lift this stunt by Max Rivers and Stanley Bell above the run-of-the-board efforts.

The Office of Works is having the two color films of the Coronation preserved in the National Film Library. Neither is a complete record of the event but the two combined do not miss much. Other films in the library include a section of Queen Victoria's funeral, the Coronation, silver jubilee and funeral of George V.

London County Council plans much wider use of films in schools for the education of children.

Flame-Thrower Gives Hint Of Possible Future Wars

A preview of what is in store for enemies of Italy in a possible future war is this searing flame thrower with which most all of Italy's newest army tanks are equipped. The flame throwers are not new, having been used by Italy during the conquest of Ethiopia. This photograph was taken at Sicily, Italy, during preparations for Italy's great war manoeuvres to be held on the island. The weapon serves a two-fold purpose, providing a smoke screen that hides the advancing tanks and literally consuming everything that stands in its path.

TENDERS RECEIVED FOR OMEMEE RINK

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, Aug. 12. — The Village Council meeting was held on August 4 in the Council Chamber, with Reeve Moncrief, Councillors Parker, Fee, White, and Bent present.

Tenders were opened for erection of a skating rink. Following tenders were received: From Metallic Roofing Company, Eastern Steel Company, G. E. Thompson, S. P. Mills, N. R. Faulkner, N. O. Hipel, and W. C. Price.

Considerable time was spent in discussing the tenders. It was decided to consider the tenders further, and meet on August 9 to finally decide.

Stop Reckless Driving!

If you drive recklessly and have not made up your mind to stop it, you are going to find yourself in serious trouble — soon! The Department of Highways is determined to put reckless drivers off the road and keep them off. If you need your car in business, stop and think for a minute what would happen if you had your driving license cancelled. You might lose your job. But what is your job compared to the death, crippling, or injuring of a good citizen!

Reckless drivers are criminals going along our highways breaking laws, maiming and killing defenseless people. Our laws are adequate and fair. Obey them and you will keep out of trouble; break them and take the consequences.

You cannot say you have not been warned. Stop speeding! Stop cutting in! Stop passing on hills. Stop taking chances of any kind. If you must drive slower than the average traffic, keep well to the right side of the highway or use the side roads. Do not block other traffic.

ONTARIO MOTORISTS WILL CO-OPERATE to put reckless drivers where they belong. Here is what to do. When you see a motorist driving in a manner dangerous to the public, take his number, make a careful note of the actual time and place and when you reach your destination write to the Motor Vehicles Branch, Department of Highways, Toronto, giving full details. We do not invite reports of minor infringements of the traffic laws; you are requested to use sound judgment. We will deal adequately with offenders.

UNEMPLOYED LEADER PLACED UNDER ARREST

Election 'In Short Time' Hepburn Announces

October 19 Hinted Stand Against C.I.O. To Be Main Plank

Renominated in Elgin — Will Retire if Defeated There Says Premier.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 13. — (CP)—Exact date of a Provincial election remained a mystery today, but the people of Ontario had the word of Premier Mitchell Hepburn it would be held "in a short time." They also had the Premier's statement that his stand against the C.I.O. would be a foremost issue in the forthcoming battle.

Nominated for re-election in his own Elgin riding, the Premier was acclaimed by 2,000 Western Ontario Liberals in convention at Pinafore Park here last night. With only Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Mines, absent, the Ontario Cabinet supported the Liberal leader on the platform.

New Issues, said Mr. Hepburn, had arisen that made an early election desirable. One of these was "a lawless Lewis invation such as is now putting a hand in Ontario workmen's pay envelopes." He referred to John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, as "that international millionaire," part of whose "annual income of $36,000,000 comes from Canada."

Cuts At Rowe.

Referring to Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader, Premier Hepburn said Ontario would "in a short time" be given the opportunity of going to the polls "to choose between one who had balanced the budget and one who had never had an idea." He did not amplify his election announcement.

(The Toronto Globe and Mail in its report of the address, however, said that although Mr. Hepburn did not name the actual date of the election, "it is learned on excellent authority," October 19 is the "latest and possibly the likeliest." The paper added that the Ontario Cabinet was said to be considering three dates).

Mr. Hepburn declared that personal defeat in his own riding, even though the Province as a whole returned a Liberal government, would bring about his retirement. He would, he said, retire to his Yarmouth Township farm should the people of Elgin repudiate him at the polls.

Fight Against Power Heads

Besides the C.I.O. issue, the Liberal Leader reiterated his stand against the "Montreal power barons" and defended Hydro contract cancellations. He also stood by the inquiries made by the Succession Duties Department, which he claimed had put $28,000,000 in two years into the Provincial Treasury.

Repeated challenges by Conservative Leader Rowe on these major issues had led him to review his previously-announced decision that his Government would not go to the country until after another session of the present Legislature, Mr. Hepburn said.

The people would therefore be given an early opportunity to speak on these matters.

Yesterday was also the Premier's 41st birthday and he and Mrs. Hepburn were honored by presentations on behalf of Mr. Hepburn's constitu-

CALL PROVINCIALS INTO BROCKVILLE

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 13 (C.P.). — Ontario Provincial Police under Inspector Cousans of Perth were concentrated here to-day, presumably in connection with the seven-weeks-old strike at the plant of the John B. Stetson (Canada), Limited. A force of several officers were gathered from different sections of Eastern Ontario.

Inspector Cousans and Sergeant Storey conferred with members of the Police Commission. No statement was immediately forthcoming.

Strikers are reported to have visited Prescott last night and distributed handbills. The women's hat division of the hat plant is being moved to a factory building in Prescott.

'Dead' For 15 Hours Plays Hostess

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 13—(CP C. le).—Mrs. Charlotte Jones, 90-year-old resident of this West Indian city, played hostess to crowds of awed Jamaicans to-day, apparently in the best of health after being "dead" for 15 hours.

Kingston medical authorities still were unable to advance an explanation of what happened to the negress pronounced dead Wednesday, but who rose from her coffin 15 hours later in good spirits and good health.

Watchers in the room in which the "corpse" had been placed, surrounded by ice in its coffin, fled screaming from the room about midnight when the aged lady sat upright in her coffin and began singing hymns.

SEN. BLACK APPROVED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP).—A Senate judiciary sub-committee swiftly approved today the nomination of Senator Black (D., Ala.) to the U.S. Supreme Court.

35-Foot Snake Creeps Around Brantford

Brantford, Aug. 13 (CP).

"DAISY," a 35-foot python, escaped from the Conklin Shows at Agricultural Park and roamed about at large today for some time before she was recaptured and returned to captivity.

"Daisy's" absence was not immediately noticed. She found a comfortable grassy spot and stretched herself at ease until would-be captors arrived, when she coiled herself in readiness. Every one maintained a respectful distance and "Daisy" was content to let matters rest, but her keeper arrived and subdued her.

STRIKES SPREAD CLOSING 2 MORE QUEBEC PLANTS

MONTREAL, Aug. 14. — (CP) — Strike trouble spread through Quebec today as the major walkout, that of 10,000 workers from nine plants of Dominion Textile Company, remained deadlocked.

National Catholic Syndicates' most important demand for a collective labor agreement with employers drew 125 workers from Acton Vale Silk Mills in the eastern townships, adding to 65 in idleness at the Holetite Rubber Company in Drummondville and more than 1,200 steelworkers at Sorel.

At Sherbrooke a police squad was called today to restore order at the Paton Manufacturing plant here when members of rival unions clashed outside the gates.

About 40 picketers, members of the L'Union Ouvrier Textile, were unsuccessful in an attempt to prevent a group of National Catholic Syndicate Workers from entering the plant. A few nose bleeds were suffered before order was attained on arrival of police.

L'Union Ouvrier Textile withdrew 45 weavers from the plant yesterday, charging "favoritism" was shown to members of the National Catholic Syndicate.

No new peace developments were reported in the Dominion Textile walkout, now in its 12th day. Violence flared briefly once more, five office employees of the Montreal St. Henri plant being stoned by a group of strikers. Otherwise developments were confined to statements from G. Blair Gordon, company managing director, and Labor Minister Tremblay whose peace negotiations collapsed earlier in the week.

May Move Plant

Gordon said the company's plant at Drummondville, which employs 600 men and women, might be moved elsewhere because strikers controlled all movement through a roadside barricade leading to the mill. He named no contemplated site, though pointed out that most of the mill's tire cord production is marketed in Ontario.

From Quebec, Tremblay released a statement in which he assured the idle workers they will receive "the justice the Government has promised them." The minister's statement—"to rectify the facts in the case"—said the strike had been turned into a "political affair," that he had shown no favor to the company and he would always be a defender of the workers.

At Acton Vale, the striking employees of the silk plant stoned a loaded van leaving the plant shortly after they began their walkout yes-

Hoo-doo Scoffers Smash Mirror Spill Salt On Friday, 13

Forced to Elect New President as Old One Tires of Finding Superstitions to Flout.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 13. — Thirteen hoo-doo smashing members of the Anti-Superstition Society met in the wee hours before dawn to-day, spilled salt, walked under ladders, raised umbrellas and emerged to chorus:

It's the bunk."

Unsuccessful in finding a haunted house for the traditional Friday the 13th session, they gathered in the office of Grand Smasher Edward McKee, who started things off by breaking a mirror.

The omen-defying feats preceded the election of a new Grand Smasher, for McKee had grown weary of thinking up new superstitions to flout.

Although the charter group of 13 has increased to 26 since the first meeting in an abandoned house four years ago, only 13 attended today to select Karl Sailer, Ohio County Assessor, as their leader.

To Henry Fong, a druggist, fell the important job of keeper of the black cat, the club's mascot and veteran of all meetings. Weird doings of the society will be recorded from now on by Court Reporter William Zimmerman, keeper of the black book).

Coastal Sea Monster Baffles Captors

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Aug. 13. (CP Cable).

THIS little Notre Dame Bay fishing village has a sea-serpent all its own—and had the carcass to prove it.

After a two-day battle with guns, harpoons and lances, victorious fishermen brought the monster ashore today. It was thirty-five feet long and had a girth of twenty-five feet, and with a tail nine feet across, it had flippers but no fins. Nobody there has been able to identify it yet.

ELBO WAS FINE.

WASHINGTON, Aug 13 (AP).—Tobias Elbo is a clerk in the Philippine commissioner's office.

Commissioner Paredes is recovering from an injured right arm.

Yesterday a friend telephoned to inquire about the commissioner's elbow.

Mr. Elbo answered "I'm feeling fine."

Paredes remarked with a smile that Elbo is his right-hand man.

BATTLE RAGES NORTH SUBURB OF SHANGHAI

(By Morris J. Harris.)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (AP).—An artillery duel between Chinese and Japanese batteries in the vicinity of Kiangwan, a few miles north of this city of 3,500,000 people, indicated today that major hostilities had broken out.

Huge clouds of smoke poured skyward from the thickly-populated villages in the northern suburbs as though countless fires had been started by the shelling.

It was not known whether all foreign residents of the area, caught by the rapid concentration of the Chinese troops, had been evacuated from the battle zone.

The Kiangwan area was cut off to all but military traffic, which was clogging the roads to the north. The sound of firing was loud in Shanghai.

The United States Asiatic fleet was ordered into action to protect Americans as Japanese marines clashed with the vanguard of an advancing Chinese army on the edge of the international settlement.

The Nanking Government moved in no uncertain terms to protect the capital from attack by the Japanese fleet anchored in the Lower Yangtze and Wangpoo Rivers. It closed the Yangtze to navigation below Chinkiang, 130 miles up river from Shanghai. Nanking is 40 miles farther up the river.

The great stream was blockaded 100 miles above the Woosung forts and mined. The huge modern guns of the fort in that area were stripped for action.

Fighting in Chapei Area

Hostilities broke out in mid-morning in the northeastern quarter of the settlement near Hongkew Park where the Japanese landing party, reinforced to some 7,000 Marines, has established its headquarters.

The firing quickly spread to the Chapei Chinese sector to the west, where some of the heaviest fighting of the 1932 Shanghai War between China and Japan occurred. The intermittent firing seemed to be heaviest in the two northern sectors.

Japanese sentries were heavily reinforced and the streets of the area were swarming with Japanese Marines with fixed bayonets.

The whole situation seemingly was growing more intense by the hour despite an apparent effort by both sides to exercise restraint and keep the undeclared war from developing into widespread hostilities in this great port.

The commander of the Japanese forces which were landed from the warships in the Whangpoo River charged the Chinese had precipitated the conflict by opening fire with a machine-gun on his Marines, who were constructing a barricade.

The Japanese returned the fire, silencing the long machine-gun that started the attack. Chinese snipers, however, took up positions on roof tops and behind shutters of neighboring houses and began to pepper the Japanese work detachments.

The Japanese commander ordered out patrols and a house-to-house search was started to drive out the Chinese blue shirts. Desultory fighting was continuing with the Chinese using rifles and machine-guns.

Within the Chapei sector the Japanese claimed they had clashed with the vanguard of the central government troops which have been pouring into the area since yesterday. Fighting was said to be heaviest in the vicinty of the Japanese cemetery which the marines were attempting to guard.

Blame Japs for Start

The Chinese Mayor of Greater Shanghai, O. K. Yui, charged Japanese marines had suddenly rushed the Chinese lines in Chapei in violation of the pledge given the consular body by the Japanese consul-general yesterday that the Japanese would

IS RELEASED ON BAIL

Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer (Right) is seen as he emerged from the police station Thursday afternoon with J. L. Cohen, labor legal adviser, following his release on $5,000 bail on two charges in connection with grave disturbance at Bonner-Worth Mill. In a writ issued at Osgoode Hall today Welch is claiming damages of $20,000 against Chief of Police Samuel Newhall. Damages are claimed for alleged false arrest and forcible imprisonment. TORY CHIEFS FIRE OPENER DEFENDING RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

TORONTO, Aug. 13.— (CP) —The campaign committee of the Ontario Conservative party today issued a statement on the party's attitude toward Labor, following the speech of Premier Mitchell Hepburn at St. Thomas last night regarded as the opening gun in a provincial election campaign.

"The Liberal-Conservative party believes that Labor should receive a fair share of the fruits of industry and is entitled to organize in order to improve the lot of the worker in regard to wages, hours, security in old age and all other conditions of industrial life," said the statement. "The party's sympathetic attitude towards labor is evidenced by the social legislation on our statute books."

The statement declared the party stands for the right of employees to bargain collectively through their own representatives chosen without dictation, coercion or intimidation.

One of the principal points in Premier Hepburn's speech was a fresh denunciation of the invasion of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Edmonton Ready For Soviet Plane

EDMONTON, Aug. 13 (CP).—Acting on instructions from the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., received by telephone last night, Captain James Bell, airport manager here rushed preparations for the landing of the Soviet fliers at Edmonton, expected about midnight tonight.

Ten tons of gasoline awaited the Russian plane carrying the six Soviet airmen under command of Sigismund Levanevsky. Scheduled to arrive here from Fairbanks Alaska, the aviators plan to remain only long enough for refueling for flight to Seattle and Oakland, Calif.

Gravel Pit Yields Human Skeleton

A GRAVEL PIT was recently opened on the farm of Gus Bolin, Lot 7, Con. 9 Olonabee, and recent heavy rains caused a cavein that exposed a human skeleton that was covered with two flat stones, showing that the body was interred centuries ago. While the bones were scattered by the cave-in it was yet possible to estimate the size of the whole frame.

Most interesting was the discovery at the same time of seven shell beads carefully pierced but unstrung.

Some years ago David Boyle, curator of the Ontario Museum found a similar string of beads in a mound on Big Sugar Island.

HETT CUTS U. OF T. OFF CANCER 'CURE'

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—(CP)—Dr. J. E. Hett of Kitchener, whose name was struck off the roll of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons because of his claim to discovery of a cancer specific, said today he had altered a will whereby his formula would go to the University of Toronto at his death.

In a letter to the college, he said he had changed his will because of his name's removal from the roll. He had appealed his disbarment to the Ontario court of appeal, which upheld the action of the college. Dr. Hett said he had refused to disclose his formula because the time was premature, and he still hopes for a competent and unprejudiced investigation of his formula.

At the time of his appeal, Chief Justice N. W. Rowell suggested an independent committee to investigate the properties of Dr. Hett's formula. The latter's communication today was in reply to a letter from the college which stated that if he was prepared to disclose the secret, as suggested by the chief justice, an application for his reinstatement would be favorably considered.

Actual First-Hand Count To Settle Proper Curl For Pigs' Tails

Washington, Aug 13 (AP).

THE swine division of the United States agriculture department is going to conduct a pig-tail survey to get a first hand answer to a perplexing question.

"It's really the only way," said John H. Zeller, government swine expert, today, "to determine whether more pig tails curl to the left than to the right."

The tail issue came to the front when Fred W. Jackson, New Jersey agriculture department man, announced to a waiting world that the trend in pig tails is to the left.

"That may or may not be," explained Zeller; "we were asked the same question two years ago and we found a 50-50 situation. However, we just counted a few."

The curl of a pig's tail, he explained, hasn't much to do with a pig's personality—just so it curls.

"But," he said, "if you run across a pig with a straight or drooping tail that's a danger signal. You've probably got a sick pig there."

The curl of the tail, experts think, is an inherited characteristic, not an acquired one. A pig is born a righty or a lefty and he dies or goes to market that way.

PERMITS LOST BY 22 DRIVERS BY REPORT IDEA

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Driving permits of 22 motorists were suspended for various periods up to two years and 54 complaints recorded on drivers' operating cards in the first day's work on the Ontario Highways Department Motor Vehicles Branch after its request for citizens to report traffic violations to the Department.

Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Highways Minister, said individual operating records were kept for every licensed driver in Ontario. The records indicated 225,000 drivers had been convicted of traffic violations or had been the object of complains.

JAPS RUSH EXTRA MEN, SHIPS, PLANES TO SHANGHAI WAR

TOKYO, Aug. 13 (A.P.). — The Japanese government was understood to have ordered additional warships, troops and planes to the Shanghai war zone at the urgent request of the Japanese naval commander in China waters.

The action was understood to have followed a special Cabinet meeting at which emergency measure were decided on to deal with the situation at Shanghai, where fighting broke out this morning between Chinese and Japanese marines.

After the Cabinet meeting the Chief Secretary announced the Government had decided to take all measures necessary to protect Japanese lives and interests in Shanghai. There was no further amplification of the Cabinet's action.

The reported kidnapping of a Japanese gendarme and an interpreter by Chinese in Shanghai, following the slaying of a Japanese naval officer and seaman earlier in the week, made the Japanese indignant.

Call From Admiral.

The request for reinforcements was received from Vice-Admiral Kyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese third fleet in Chinese waters, at almost the same moment first dispatches arrived telling of the outbreak of hostilities in the northern sector of Shanghai's International settlement.

The Japanese news agency reported that Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was considering reconvocation of parliament to seek further war funds.

The rapid-fire developments across the China sea caused the army and navy to decide to handle the Shanghai situation in summary fashion. Vice-Admiral Hiroyasu Fushimi, chief of the naval general staff, went to the Imperial palace to lay the matter before Emperor Hirohito.

The Emperor considered the situation so grave that he abandoned plans for a summer vacation and decided to remain in Tokyo where he could keep in close touch with the situation.

News of the more critical situation in China and the stiffening attitude of the Chinese Central Government caused stocks to tumble on the Toyko exchange. All issues dropped from one to three points.

A "TOBACCO" CRAB.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Former Governor John G. Richards said he saw a tobacco-chewing crab at the beach.

Richards said someone threw the crab a pet, a burning cigar stub. The crab beat out the fire, ate part of the cigar and dragged the remainder to its hole.

False Statements At Strike Rally Warrant Alleges

Women's Contrariness Fine Trading Asset

Montreal, Aug. 13 (CP).

THE female of the species probably would do well in the stock market.

Dunchan MacKinnon, Toronto economic survey expert, must think so, anyway, because he told a survey club here today the trait of "contrariness" found mostly in women was a valuable asset to the stock market trader, enabling him to do the opposite to the ever erring mass of investors.

Harvey Murphy Placed Under Arrest as He Prepared to Leave City.

Arrest of Harvey Murphy of Toronto, president of the Ontario Federation on Unemployment, for allegedly false statements made at the strike rally on the Market Square last night, demand by strikers for a Provincial investigation of the police violence on Tuesday, and announcement of a second writ for damages from police for false arrest and assault were strike developments of to-day.
